Tyson Opens College On 'Responsibility' Note

Hopes For A Closer Faculty-Student Relationship; Urges Support Of Church Drive As Aid To Berg

The 102nd academic year at Muhlenberg was officially opened last Monday by President Levering Tyson. The President addressed the entire freshman class and members of the upper classes on subjects pertinent to the college and college life.

Closer Relationship

President Tyson expresses his desire to establish very early in this academic year clearly marked lines of communication between faculty and staff on one hand and the students on the other. "Communication between different levels of society is becoming increasingly difficult today," the President said, "in spite of the fact that the engines of communication have been developed in spectacular fashion." This difficulty can be overcome by each party if each party is willing to evaluate each others' problems constructively, and with an open mind. The President emphasized the role of student government in solving the difficulty.

Student Responsibility

The President then turned to the topic of student responsibility. Speaking of the student Union Bldg. project the President said, "To the best of my knowledge for the first time in our history the students themselves have been given the direct responsibility for the operation of a building. I can not overemphasize the importance which is attached to this experiment. The degree to which the undergraduates demonstrate their interest in and competence for the acceptance of responsibility for the care of such a unit will determine in a large measure the opportunity they will have later to share more widely in further responsibility." ## Testing Center Sets Exam Date

The Medical College Admission Test, prerequisite for application to most medical schools, will be given at 'Berg on Saturday, Oct. 22, 1949.

Mr. Frounfelker, of 'Berg's testing center stresses that men planning to take the test must file application with the Testing Center, Princeton, N. J., by Oct. 8, 1949, or forfeit the privilege of taking it on Oct. 22.

According to Mr. Frounfelker, all pre-medical, pre-dental, pre-veterinary, and pre-pharmacy students may secure application blanks in his office, second floor of the Ad Building. (Continued on Page Five)

Soph-Frosh Battles Begin As Tribunal Schedules Tug-of-War

Muhlenberg's new freshmen, the class of 1953, will undergo their first trial-by-fire of the school year on Monday, October 3, when they oppose the sophomores in the annual Tug-of-War. This traditional battle is the first of the four contests scheduled between the two classes, and will be held at Cedar Beach along the creek at 4:30 p.m.

A point system to be devised by the Freshmen Tribunal will determine whether or not Frosh regulations be enforced until Thanksgiving or stop on Hallowe'en. The three other contests will be a Flag Rush, a Football game and a Push-ball game.

Robert Scheipe, head of the Tribunal, will meet with the Tribunal every Monday night to try cases. Judges include Fritz Hanneman, Bob Morris, Jim Loucks, Bob Loucks, Pete Popko, Joe Musto, Joe Schwartz, Chuck Schmidt and Ted Drack.

Colonel Sidney F. Mashbir, author of "I Was an American Spy," will speak in the October 6 assembly.

War-time Spy In First Assembly

Colonel Mashbir Tells Of Pacific Adventures

Featuring a member of the American Intelligence Department, Colonel Sidney F. Mashbir, the first assembly program of the college year has been scheduled for Thursday, October 6, at 11:00 a.m. in the Science auditorium.

Colonel Mashbir was instrumental in building up the organization in the Pacific area which advanced the entire MacArthur campaign from Port Moresby to Tokyo. Decorated with the Distinguished Service Medal and many others, he was cited in this war for the heroic job of his special service "providing a constant flow of vital enemy intelligence, influencing significantly the battle strategy of the Pacific theatre."

According to Irv Fry, chairman of the Assembly programs, Colonel Mashbir's program of spy activity of the Americans and inside information on the Intelligence Department behind the Japanese lines should not be missed.

Newly Formed Faculty Senate Holds Meeting

Koehler, Stenger, Lloyd, Reed And Wilbur Elected To Group

New to the Muhlenberg campus is the indoctrination of the Faculty Senate which was authorized by the Board of Trustees last spring but did not have the opportunity to meet until today. The Faculty Senate has as its purposes the formation and maintenance of academic policy and procedure.

The Senate is composed of the President of the College, all full professors, the Deans of Faculty and Freshman, the Librarian, and the Registrar. Along with these men, five members of the faculty are elected into the group.

At Tuesday's meeting the five men elected into the Senate were associate professor Truman Koehler, and instructors Thomas Lloyd, John Reed, Harold Stenger, and William Wilbur.

The Faculty Committee opened the new semester with a meeting held in the West Hall Auditorium. (Continued on Page Six)

MCA Lists Program; Plans Frosh Retreat

Topic For October Will Be "Courtship And Marriage"

The Muhlenberg Christian Association has announced a tentative schedule of activities for the Fall semester.

A Freshman Retreat will be held at the Allentown Boys' Club Camp on Oct. 7-8-9.

The M.C.A. monthly program topic for October will be "Christian Courtship and Marriage." The speaker and the date of the meeting will be announced shortly.

According to Paul Frick, M.C.A. President, Freshman Fellowship Clubs will also be organized.

On Wednesday evening, September 21, M.C.A. officers led the Indoctrination Ceremony before the General Muhlenberg statue on the front campus. M.C.A. also sponsored the Pep Rally held in the Science Auditorium Friday night, Sept. 22, for the Scranton-Muhlenberg football game. The Song Service held Sunday night in West Hall Auditorium was also under the direction of the M.C.A.

Council Donates Gift To Free University

As a gesture of friendship, the Student Council has set aside $100 for "The World's Youngest University," the Free University of Berlin, according to former councilman Ray Boomhower.

Last year the Student Council made this motion and delegated Boomhower, then a senior, to handle the gift.

The council will present the gift in any form the University may choose to receive it, said Mr. Boomhower. Communication has been sent to Dr. Edwin Redslob, Rector, offering it in German marks, food or book parcels through CARE, or in a supply of coffee. A supply of coffee would, according to correspondence received by Boomhower, be very happily received by the needy Berlin students.

The Free University is one of three universities in Berlin. It was inaugurated in December, 1948, and thus is the youngest university in the world. It is located in the American sector of the city.

Berg Philosophy Prof. Accepts Educational Post In Germany

German Government Invites Dr. Richter To U. Of Bonn; Also Named To Nat'l. Lutheran Council Recovery Post

(Exclusive to the WEEKLY)

President Tyson today announced the appointment of Dr. Werner Richter, Professor of Philosophy at Muhlenberg since 1948, as visiting professor to the University of Bonn, Bonn Germany.

In conjunction with this appointment, the National Lutheran Council has authorized Dr. Richter to aid in the reconstruction of church and social life in which the Council is interested. The N.L.C. sponsors the formation of social academies in Germany which are institutions of the church and deal with the problem of social reconstruction. The invitation to the German University post came to Dr. Richter from the German Government.

Former Undersecretary

Formerly he was a professor of philosophy at the University of Berlin and also held the post of Undersecretary in the Ministry of Education during the time of the German Republic under Bismarck. As a scholar, he has received his doctorate in philosophy from the University of Berlin in 1912; doctorate in theology from the University of Koenigsberg in 1923; doctorate in law from the University of Kiel in 1927.

It is the opinion of Dr. E. T. Horn, chairman of the Religion and Philosophy department, that, "It (the college) has no right to interfere with his appointment to the University of Bonn. The College feels it a privilege and an honor to release him."

"Feather in Cap"

Socially, Dr. Richter will fit in well since he personally knows men in the new German government of the Western Zone who respect his confidence and his fine ability both as an American citizen and as a former German national.

Dr. Tyson remarked "It is a feather in our caps. I feel especially proud and honored that the governments of America, Britain, and Germany have called upon Muhlenberg to release a scholar and a friend, Dr. Richter."

Sharing the academic spotlight with her husband, Mrs. Ursula Richter, from the Gymnasium Leipzig, will reassume her position as music instructor at Muhlenberg. She also, in the past, was the director of the Elmhurst School of Music during which time (Continued on Page Six)

William Lybrand, president of the Student Council, addressed the new freshman class on Friday morning, September 23, in the Science auditorium. Introduction to the various campus leaders were made.

1137 Students Fill College To Resume New Academic Year

271 In Freshman Class; Faculty And Curriculum Increased To Accomodate New Enrollment

1137 students filled classrooms on Tuesday morning, September 27, to resume studies for another year. Approximately 271 of this number are members of the new freshman class, twenty-five are transfers, thirteen are former students, and seventeen are special and post-graduate students.

Endeavoring to improve the college curriculum, many extra courses are being offered. There have also been eight new additions to the faculty.

Bengt S. Liljeroot and John Growich are new instructors in the Biology department. Liljeroot received his A.B. from Uppsala College in 1948. Currently working on his master's degree, he served as a medical technician in the Swedish Medical Corps, and served as an instructor at Lehigh University before coming to 'Berg. Growich received his B.S. from Muhlenberg and his M.S. from Lehigh University.

Stuart Jenness will fill the vacancy in the Geology department. Jenness received his A.B. from Queens College, his B.S. from Queens University, in Ontario, and has completed his work and thesis for his M.S. He formerly taught at Minnesota University.

Mrs. Werner Richter will join Professor Harold K. Marks as a member of the Department of Music. She will teach Music Appreciation.

The Reverend Conrad Raker, superintendent of the Good Shepherd Home in Allentown, has been appointed to the position of an instructor in sociology.

Added to the coaching staff and Athletic department were Howard (Continued on Page Six)

Union Hall Undergoes Change; More Improvements Promised

by Luther O. Buchert

A renovation and redecoration program of the campus and campus buildings has been under way for the past several months and will continue, according to John McAuley, superintendent of buildings and grounds. Improvements include the complete redecoration of the first floor of the student union building, repairs to the exterior and interior rear walls of the chapel, refurbishing of the West Hall recreation room, refurbishing of the walls and ceilings of West Hall, ordering of a new powerhouse boiler, resurfacing of campus driveways, and the seeding of the college lawns.

New Lunch Counter

Swinging doors separate the lounge from the snack bar and college book store. A new lunch counter with seating accommodations has been installed on one side of the room. The book store, consisting of two selling counters and two glass show cases, comprises the entire other wall. The second floor of this building will no longer be used for class rooms, but be devoted to club rooms and offices for students' activities and organizations.

The rear wall of the chancel of the college chapel has also been repaired during the summer. The exterior wall has been waterproofed and the interior wall replastered. The surface of the interior wall had been damaged by water seepage from outside.

Several new leather chairs and davenport have been purchased and new drapes have been placed at the windows of West Hall recreation room. Several of the (Continued on Page Six)

Booster Rally For Duke Game

With an enlarged squad of five men, the cheerleaders have made plans for a pep rally tomorrow night, Friday, September 30, at 7:00 p.m. at the east exit of the Commons. New cheers are to be introduced and refreshments served.

Sights set for the Lehigh bonfire and the homecoming pajama parade, the squad has made arrangements for a pep rally prior to every home game and a special team-send-off before every away-game.

The Band, under the directorship of Ray Houston, will be on hand for the rallies and if possible will play for all games. The drum majorettes will continue to head the band.

Since the end of the war, an attempt has been made to acquire new and better songs and cheers. Contributions should be made to the WEEKLY office or to any member of the cheerleading squad.

Mister Student Builds His Dream House

On top of all the welcome and well-wishing directed toward the new group of fledgling college men on Muhlenberg campus at the beginning of this promising semester, the school itself has brought forth a singularly different greeting for the entire body of 'Berg personnel. The sparkling, dressed-up look of the remodeled Union Building lounge and canteen should not have failed to impress any who ever before had the questionable pleasure of meeting friends and trying to relax there.

To the freshmen this refurbishing may seem to be just another of the ordinary stock maintenance projects undertaken at every college during a summer vacation. We can only tell them to ask anyone who was here before this fall for a brief run-down on former conditions. It would be best not to recall them here. Suffice it to say that the results—remarkable as they are—speak volumes for themselves. We appreciate these improvements, and we think the administration should receive high praise for its efforts.

Still another aspect of this addition to 'Berg's appearance and tradition arises, however. The Union Building never commanded much respect because its facilities were inadequate. It is a very different situation that the Muhlenberg family is faced with now. We have a lounge, bookstore, and snack shop that no one needs feel ashamed of. Large sums of money have been invested by the college Student Council, and the owner of the lunch counter to give us a pleasant, wholesome atmosphere for our spare moments.

With this in mind it hardly seems necessary to mention the desirability, in fact the need, for gentlemanly conduct in these surroundings. Indeed, the largest majority of men would feel the demand for such deportment immediately upon entering the lounge just as they would feel when stepping into the other buildings on campus. This reminder will only crystallize that feeling for them.

But for the others—the isolated cases, who might not have noted the change or who might not care though they have noticed—we want to make it clear that we are proud of the new floors, furniture, and fixtures in our Student Union. Let's make a concerted effort to justify the expenditures required for their installation and to prevent any misuse of them.

MULE KICKS

To the Editors of the WEEKLY:

Just how much strength does our Student Council carry? Over the protest of a written petition of those students living in East Hall last Spring, and the backing of their petition unanimously by the Student Council, the other members of the administration found it to their liking to move the new fraternity into East Hall. Can it be ascertained as to who took the responsibility of granting this magnanimous gesture, and to what consideration Student Council's position on the subject received?

If this should become a precedent, what is to prevent other groups or colonies from forming, and petitioning the college for their own hall? East Hall has always been considered as the dorm for upper classmen, not as a sanctuary for some organization to move into until they can build their own house. It is not that additional fraternities aren't welcomed on campus, but it is the method in which they are accepted and cuddled in the colony stage.

I feel that it is the administration's duty to give the student body the facts and reasons for causing their decision to be such, and to publicize what side they will take on future actions of this nature.

Signed:

A Disgruntled Student

To the Editors of the WEEKLY:

So classes start again, and so does the requirement of attending Chapel twice a week. It is probably a toss-up as to who worries the most about this necessity, Dean Mercer or the student who is behind in his chapel attendance. Perhaps, if the programs at Chapel weren't so cut and dry, this constant headache could be removed. Especially this year, with only Doctors Hepner, Horn and

Berg's Eye Views —

"What Freshman Custom Do You Dislike The Most?"

Robert Long: "Do I have to pick a special one. I don't like any of them and would like to see them all eliminated."

Al Ran: "It's hard to say on the spur of the moment. I guess I dislike wearing the tie most of all. I never have looked good in a bow tie."

James Willwerth: "None of them seem too bad except memorizing the Freshman pledge. Somebody must have had a nightmare when he dreamed that one up."

Bernard Bowman: "Wearing the button on your coat or shirt. My clothes will be full of holes in no time. What's more, it's a dead give-away when some upper-classman wants to know my name."

Lou Drumm: "Rolling up my pants. I don't like cold ankles and besides my legs aren't very pretty anyway, and ironing out wrinkles will keep me pretty busy."

Joe Gower: "The Freshman pledge must definitely head the list. Remembering it is worse than learning physics formulas for stringent professors."

The Judge And Jury Officially Welcome The Class Of 1953

Warden's Son Reigns Supreme Over 300 New Prisoners Sentenced To Weeks Of Harsh Regulations

Members of the Governing Tribunal who will attempt to make Frosh feel misery of traditional customs.

Freshman take heed! Make careful note of the faces pictured above, for these are the men who will rule your fate for the next two months. Strict enforcement of all rules is the pledge of this year's tribunal. "Absolutely no mercy will be shown to any offenders" declared tribunal chairman, Bob Scheipe. When interviewed, he and his cohorts were perfecting some new and horrible methods of punishment for any unlucky Frosh caught breaking the rules.

Chic Cap Proper

This year the correctly dressed Frosh will be wearing a smart gray hat in place of the traditional dink. As usual, his pants must be worn a daring ten inches above the ankles and his Adam's Apple must always be suitably draped in a black bow-tie. However, this year a suit or sport coat has been taken off the required apparel list.

Of course no self respecting Frosh would be caught without an abundant supply of pipe cleaners and matches for the use of the upperclassmen.

Oath Mandatory

A freshman pledge designed to acquaint the freshmen with the history of Muhlenberg has been added to the required reading list for this year. This pledge must be recited whenever a frosh enters the main door of the "Ad" Building and passes the Muhlenberg Mural. The pledge reads as follows:

"Dearlly Beloved, you are now assembled before me for the purpose of absorbing some information concerning the tradition of our noble institution, Muhlenberg College. In the days of yore while our venerable patriarch, General Muhlenberg, son of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg, was engaged in his usual Sunday bit of oratory in a little chapel at Woodstock, Va., he preached a withering sermon in behalf of our own American Revolution. His famous display of rhetoric was ended with these words, "There is a time to pray and a time to fight"—simultaneous to these words General Muhlenberg threw off his robe (at this point freshmen must throw off coat, sweater, etc.), displayed an officer's uniform, and boldly declared, "This is the time to fight"—Here endeth the sermon for the day."

Deliverance Feasible

Freshmen can expect relief from the tribunal rule after Halloween if they can win three out of four of the annual contests from the Sophs. But if they fail in this attempt they must suffer until Thanksgiving.

Wanted—Strictly Alive!

Could You Be Reading What You Might Have Written? Look Below

The Muhlenberg WEEKLY needs men. If you have been warned by your best friends of journalistic talent, join the ranks of those collegiate characters who sweat printers' ink and tears once a week for the glory of fair Muhlenberg. This is more than an invitation; it is a golden opportunity.

The chance to fill an immediate berth on your school sheet is great at this time. Recent graduation has depleted the membership of the WEEKLY that there are many vacancies on all staffs. In addition to graduation, new departments which have just been created are sadly in need of personnel. Even the editorial positions will soon be vacant and men will have to be groomed to fill these spots.

All Fields Open

Whatever bent your talent may take, the WEEKLY can use you. In the business and advertising fields, the managers are employing all devices in order to entice Freshmen and Sophomores into their grasp. They are so eager to train eligible prospects in the ways of high finance that they have resorted to wearing ties and shaving.

The copy editor sits behind his desk daily with a fresh supply of copy pencils which he promises to distribute free of charge to any Freshman or Sophomore who is willing to exhibit his grammatical prowess on the copy of the reporters.

Photographers Desired

The WEEKLY's chief lensman has threatened to turn to marijuana unless some Freshman shutterbugs and cartoonists volunteer to utilize the school's photographic and drawing facilities.

While the editors of the news staff prepare to greet all prospective reporters, with a handshake and the rules of good reporting; the sports and feature editors haunt the campus trying to cajole likely prospects into their clutches.

What rewards await the recruits on the WEEKLY? They may look forward to learning more about the newspaper game than they believed existed. The chance to prove their versatility and literary ability awaits them. The recruit can look forward, not only to knowing his school from inside to outside and what makes it tick, but also to knowing intimately the student and faculty leaders who make the news. The recruit can be sure that his colleagues on the WEEKLY are the top men in school and great guys to know.

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

Editors willing, we will be here, same spot, all year. We hope you take advantage of the fact that this column is yours: to read, and to contribute to. The little brown box in front of the WEEKLY office is yours to use to the best of health. Our policy is the same as last year. We print, gossip, news, anecdotes and general trivia. As always, items appearing hereabouts may be merely vicious and false, but if by chance they turn out to be true, original or even amusing, remember YOU READ IT HERE!

Attention football team: Paul Beke, Rosemark barber, (at a private interview with this reporter) disclosed that: if you, the varsity, defeat the following five teams: Duquesne, Lafayette, Youngstown, Delaware, and Lehigh, he personally will throw a beer party for you at his home at the completion of the season. Let's hold him to it, guys, it's beer, and it's from Beke and it's FREE.

We wonder if Red Dietz, 'Berg lineman, is trying to impress the new frosh. He has installed, of all things, venetian blinds on the three windows of his east hall chamber. Man, when you're a star around here, you really get to a live a lush-life!

A strictly practical Pre-theo this summer found himself obliged to remain in a small hotel because of a landslide on the railway, caused by a deluge of heavy rain which was still falling. The potential friar turned to the waitress with: "This certainly looks like the flood."

"The what?"

"The flood. You've read about the flood and the ark landing on Mt. Ararat, surely?"

"Mister," she returned firmly, "I haven't seen a paper in 3 days."

Mutual reciprocity arrangements: Cupid dealt a punishing blow to the Keim household this summer. It seems that Roy found himself a squaw and his sister Mae is being squired regularly by SPE's George Reid. Alumnus Pete Wychoff tied the nuptial knot with Audrey David, former Crestian. Paul Sittler nabbed a dream by the name of Jean Rothermel from Susquehanna. Helen Leiby, former aide de camp of Nurse Kistler, is now one Mrs. Follweiler. She has been replaced, incidentally, by pert Jean Minner of Catasauqua. All we could find out about the latter is that she's old enough to vote, but, on to the sick bay men, she's still single.

Currently tearing up the rug at the Lambda Chi Alpha house is Alpha, the fraternity's new mascot. He is one of the cutest little canines we have seen in a long time.

Music Critique of the week: A B- plus for "Jealous Heart" by Al Morgan. Out of the sea of mediocrity of cowboy tunes, emerges this disc on the London label. Al Morgan is little more than a whispering Carmen Lombardo, but so far no other cutting of this tune has matched the British product. The back-ground music is London Record's usual very best.

Sparked by the new band director, Ray Huston and a host of fresh frosh virtuosos, our band made it's initial appearance at the Scranton brawl Saturday night. It looks from here like the best band ever, good luck Ray!

At an Allentown Fair sanctum sanctorum last week, Jim Loucks, Arch Kennedy, Tom Lewis and Ed Rothfeld were befriended by a self confessed ex con of 20 years experience in some of our nation's best dungeons. Roscoe, the con, and two of his cohorts confided to them that during his sojourns at the sundry jails, he had read scientific literature instead of the customary girlie books, and he came up with the location of a hitherto untouched million dollar Arizona gold mine.

To make a long story short, Roscoe told them that the seven people present were the only ones that he had let in on the secret and that he would magnanimously cut the boys in on the scheme. The boys of course would only have to supply a little time and of course the shekels, that was fair wasn't it? Evidently they didn't think it was favorable enough and they very rudely sneaked out the lavatory window. The four are still slinking furtively about the campus expecting a flying shiv between the shoulders from the vengeful Roscoe. Wasn't there a subtler way to say no, men?

CHEST X-RAYS

All Freshmen, all transfer students, and all Seniors are requested to report for X-rays September 30th between the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon, or 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.

The X-ray Unit will be located in a Trailer South of the Power House, and North, Midway between the Library. Thomas H. Weaver, Jr., M.D.

U. S. Navy Makes College Training Program Known

The Navy announced recently that the fourth nation-wide competitive examination for its College Training Program has been scheduled for December 3, 1949, and will be open to high school seniors or graduates within the age requirements. Successful candidates will be given a four-year college education at government expense and will be commissioned as officers of the Navy or Marine Corps upon graduation.

2000 Students Expected
The program is open to male citizens of the United States between the ages of 17 and 21, and quotas have been assigned to each state and territory on the basis of its high school population. Those who are successful in passing the aptitude test will be interviewed and given physical examinations; then, if they are found in all respects qualified, their names will be submitted to state and territorial Selection Committees composed of prominent citizens and naval officers. The Navy expects to enter about 2,000 students into the program commencing with the fall term of college, 1950.

To Receive $50 A Month
The students selected by these competitive examinations will be assigned to the 52 Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps units which are located in various universities and colleges in the United States. If accepted by the college, they will be appointed Midshipmen, U.S.N.R., and will have their tuition, books, and normal fees paid for by the Government. In addition they will receive pay at the rate of $50.00 a month for the four-year period. Upon graduation they may be commissioned as officers in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and required to serve on active duty for two years. At the end of this time they may apply for retention in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps, or transfer to the Reserve and return to civilian life.

Dean Mercer in Charge
Applications are available at high schools, colleges, Offices of Naval Officer Procurement, and Navy Recruiting Stations. Dean Sherwood R. Mercer, who is acting as the Navy's local civilian representative, will be pleased to provide specific information about the program, including the time and place of the competitive examination, the method of making application and the specific age and scholastic qualifications.

The first Student Council dance of the year will be held at Castle Garden on October 8 following the Lafayette game. Admission by activities card.

G.R.E. Board Sets Dates For Test

Tests of the Graduate Record Examination, required of applicants for admission to a number of graduate schools, will be administered at examination centers throughout the country four times in the coming year. Educational Testing Service has announced. During 1948-1949 nearly 15,000 students took the GRE in partial fulfillment of admission requirements of graduate schools which prescribed it.

This fall candidates may take the GRE on Friday and Saturday, October 28 and 29; in 1950, the dates are February 3 and 4, May 5 and 6, and August 4 and 5.

The GRE tests offered in these nationwide programs include a test of general scholastic ability, tests of general achievement in six broad fields of undergraduate study, and advanced level tests of achievement in various subjects.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information, which provides details of registration and administration, as well as sample questions, may be obtained from advisers or directly from Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N. J., or Box 2416, Terminal Annex, Los Angeles 54, California. A completed application must reach the ETS office at least two weeks before the date of the administration for which the candidate is applying.

Student Wives Club Underway

Preparations for the initial meeting of the Mar-Kay Club next Tuesday, October 4, were made at the home of Mrs. Paul Freed. Those in attendance were Mrs. George Sutton, Mrs. Joseph Cannon, Mrs. William Hausman, Mrs. Murray Stahl, and Mrs. Freed. The Mar-Kay Club is the students' wives organization on campus. It was organized in 1947 when veterans and their wives joined the Muhlenberg community.

The activities of the Mar-Kay Club are many and varied. They have presented during the past three years, a barn dance, a hobo dance, several white elephant sales, numerous outings and picnics, a box lunch party and other interesting and unusual events.

Many of the wives who have children and are unable to attend many of the events provided by the college have found a haven in the Mar-Kay Club. They are able to meet other wives, exchange chatter and associate with the members of the Muhlenberg College and family.

Meetings of the Mar-Kay Club are held on the first and third Tuesdays of every month. The first Tuesday is devoted to business while the third Tuesday is set aside for either a lecture or a social program.

Officers of the club are elected every semester and may only serve two semesters in succession. This will give everyone in the club ample opportunity to become one of its officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Benfer are advisers to the group. They have, on many occasions, given aid to the club, which otherwise would have been an impossibility.

Book Store Sets Rules

The Muhlenberg College Student Supply Store carries all text books, supplementary books, and supplies needed for your class work; also school pennants, jewelry, T-Shirts, sweat shirts, shaving equipment, tooth paste, soap, cigarettes, tobacco, pipes, novelties, etc.

To be able to serve you as efficiently as possible, we ask your cooperation in observing a few necessary rules.

1—Please do not ask for credit. Only qualified veterans have charge accounts.

2—Checks cannot be cashed except in payment for purchases.

3—Books may be exchanged only during the first two weeks of the semester if courses have been changed. However, NO books will be accepted if they have been marked or soiled in any way.

4—Please pick up all required text books during the first two weeks of the semester. If for any reason you cannot get a book you need within that time, ask to have it reserved. Otherwise, it will be returned to the publisher with other surplus books.

5—Supplementary books not regularly carried in stock may be ordered. One dollar deposit is requested on all such orders.

6—Any book on special order must be accepted by the student so ordering. This also applies to text book orders which you may be asked to sign in class. If you do not accept such an order, disciplinary action will be taken.

7—Report any defective or damaged book to the book store immediately. A perfect copy will be secured for you.

9 A.M. to 12 P.M.; 1 P.M. to 4 P.M.

Monday through Friday

For the first few weeks the store will be open Saturday morning.

Med-School Tests To Be Offered

The Medical College Admission Test, required of candidates by a number of leading medical colleges throughout the country, will be given twice in the coming year, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the test in cooperation with the Association of American Medical Colleges.

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, October 22, 1949, or on Monday, January 16, 1950, at administrations to be held at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the country. Since many medical colleges begin selecting their freshman classes in the fall preceding their entrance, ETS says that candidates for admission to next year's classes will probably be advised to take the Oct. tests.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information, which gives details of registration and administration, as well as sample questions, are available from premedical advisers or direct from Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N. J. Completed applications must reach the ETS office by October 8 and January 22, respectively, for the October 22 and January 16 administrations.

Mules To Meet Strong Duquesne Eleven

Scranton Conquers Berg In Baughman Debut, 12-7

Howie Baughman's debut as Muhlenberg's head football coach was spoiled as the Scranton Royals scored on a pass play in the last three minutes to give them a 12-7 victory over the Muhlenberg 1949 football edition which was unveiled to the public last Saturday night in the Allentown High stadium.

OVER... THE LINE

by Chuck Morgan

The Mules looked only fair as they lost to Scranton last Saturday in the AHS Stadium.

Big Russ Strait had the cast removed from his leg and should be ready to go for the Lafayette game.

Hal Roveda also had the cast removed from his thumb and will probably be ready for action in Saturday's game with Duquesne.

The basketball coaching job has been filled by a man who has a great reputation in the court game Bennie Borgman. The Mules are supposed to start practice around November 1st.

The biggest complaint heard on campus the first day of school was, "Why $2.25 for students' dates and wives?"

Looks as if the Engineers over at Lehigh are going in for football material in a big way—over a hundred reported for Freshmen football out of a freshmen class of 700. Looks like some good years ahead.

This Duquesne outfit that comes here Saturday plays a terrific schedule. They lost to Wake Forest 22-7 in their opener and they must still face Alabama, Holy Cross, Villanova, Clemson, and Georgia.

Of the 26 letter men on Lafayette's squad this season 18 will be graduated in June.

Lafayette and Duquesne, like 'Berg, sport new head football coaches this season.

Bartley Pass Decides

The two teams battled each other on even terms through most of the game with the Mules holding a slim 7-6 lead until Bill Bartley uncorked a 26 yard pass to right end Pat Garramone in the final minutes of play. The extra point attempt failed again and Scranton led 12-7. The Mules tried in desperation to get back in the game with pass plays but the clock ran out—when they were deep in Scranton territory.

The Mules got off to a good start when Dick Reimer recovered a Royal fumble on the Scranton 39. With the Mules in possession, Geo. England, Mule quarterback, heaved a pass to Bill Jackson who caught the ball on his fingertips at about the ten yard line, threw a scare into the crowd as the ball flew into the air, and lost his balance; however, Jackson managed to straighten up and recover the ball as he raced into the end zone. Sisto Averno booted the extra point and the Mules held a 7-0 advantage.

Pass Interceptions Stymie Mules

Two threats by the home team were stymied in the first half when Scranton backs managed to intercept passes. Mondati and Romanowski pulled down Mule passes deep in Scranton territory. The half ended with the score board reading Muhlenberg 7, Scranton 0.

Scranton looked like a new club as they took the field in the third quarter. The Royal attack was led by Newman, Mondati, and Orsini. These three alternated in bringing the ball from their own 45 to the Mule two, where Mondati smashed across the Scranton first six-pointer. The attempted point was no good and the Mules were still in front 7-6.

Royals Make Last Quarter Stand
In the final stanza, Latzko recovered Mondati's fumble on the visitors' 32 but the 'Bergmen

New Berg Mentor

The man to place the "boff" on the gridiron, head coach Howie Baughman.

Baughman Carries Notable Record Into College Ranks

With the departure of Schwartzwalder and Co. to Syracuse last April, the Muhlenberg coaching situation was a complete turmoil. The Spring semester of college came to a close in June and students headed for their respective homes wondering if a coach was ever going to be named. Finally the announcement was made by Mr. Lawson on June 25. The new coach was to be Howard Baughman, who had been an outstanding high school coach in Ohio and who came to Muhlenberg with the highest recommendations of Paul Brown, head coach of the professional Cleveland Browns and formerly an outstanding coach at Ohio's Massillon High.

Ashtabula High Star

Howie was graduated from Ashtabula High School in Ohio where he starred in football, basketball and track. He captained both the football and basketball teams in his senior year and was named as end on the All-Lake Shore League football team and was also honored by being selected on the All-League basketball team.

After graduation, Howie moved on to Kent State University in Ohio where he played football, basketball and baseball. He played both end and quarterback on the Kent football team. He was graduated from Kent in 1938 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Education. He also has his Master's Degree in Physical Education from Western Reserve University.

His coaching career began at Bremen High, Ohio, where he was head football and basketball mentor. His teams won fourteen and lost four in his two year reign. His basketball team had a record of 28 wins out of 33 games and was runner-up for State championships two years.

Impressive at Painsville

He moved to Painsville where he became head football coach in 1940. He had an overall record of 25 wins, six losses, and four ties in his four years at Painsville. Baughman's 1941 team went undefeated and was crowned Lake Shore League Champions. While

Seek Initial Victory Of Campaign Saturday

by Ken Mastron

This Saturday night will witness the initial appearance of the Red and Blue of Duquesne University against the Muhlenberg Mules. The Dukes, coached by twenty nine year old Phil Ahwesh, former Duquesne star who is serving his first year as a college coach, will bring a strong squad to Allentown. The team is well rested after a week's layoff following their 22 to 7 defeat by a powerful Wake Forest team.

Leopards Bow 26-14 To Tigers; Lehigh Wallops Dips 53-0

While the Mule game of the week captures the greatest interest of its followers, the college scoreboard recorded several interesting notes regarding future opponents of Howie Baughman's Fighting Mulemen.

Lafayette College, whom the Mules tackle on the Easton gridiron next week, met with defeat at the hands of the powerful Princeton, 26-14. The Leopards, under head coach Maurice "Clipper" Smith put up formidable opposition against a team which could be one of the strongest in the East. The driving of Gordon Flemming coupled with the passing of Frank Downing should keep the Mules very busy next Saturday.

Lehigh University, which looked impressive in the latter part of last year, fields another strong eleven this season with a flock of lettermen returning. Their lopsided

Why Not Put It In Print...

Don't gripe to your buddies or whisper about the choice item of news. Let the Muhlenberg WEEKLY tell the world. If you have a gripe or compliment, suggestion or inspiration, submit it to the MULE KICKS column.

If you have been looking through a keyhole and have seen anything printable, let the WEEKLY put it in YOUR NAME IT.

If you have been smitten by a literary or artistic idea, develop it and submit it to the WEEKLY.

If you wish to sell, buy, or have lost or found anything, the WEEKLY will put it in print.

All material submitted to the paper can be deposited in a special box outside the office of the WEEKLY, located on the second floor of Union Hall. All submitted material must be accompanied by writer's signature which will be withheld upon request.

Wanted: Alive!

deavors, the WEEKLY recruit can look forward to seeing his by-line on articles that he has written. Someone must take the blame. He will be on the "in" on the newspaper conventions and dinner-dances, his assignments will take him to enjoyed places. His social life will have a higher octane rating. Most of all, he will be a part of an organization which has a reputation for "doing."

Get in a going organization while you're young enough to stand the pace.

While the WEEKLY especially caters to the Freshmen and Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors are never tossed out of the newspaper office if they have special talent that the WEEKLY can use. If you have the urge, come up to the WEEKLY office and let the scribes tell you if you have the talent.

The WEEKLY office is located on the second floor of the Student Union Building and can readily be identified by an open door, an appearance of having been lived in, and a prevailing carnival spirit (except on deadline days).

If you are the bashful type or cannot find a staff member on hand, drop a card with your name, college address, and staff preference into the box outside the WEEKLY office.

This is the time to stop reading the WEEKLY and start writing it.

Center Sets Exams

The test, which is given twice annually at testing centers throughout the country, should be taken by men contemplating graduate school next fall. Most medical schools require that their applicants take the exam and have the score filed when applying.

There are three parts to the test, according to the Bulletin; they determine the student's general scholastic ability, his social understanding, and his aptitude in the pre-medical sciences.

Stine to conduct services; not that they aren't good men, but they'll be burdened with their normal classes without handling nine chapel programs between themselves.

To alleviate this condition, I would like to suggest the following changes:

1. Let's return to the old practice of inviting the Heads of departments to give the address, once a week, as was done during 1946-47.

2. Let's have the College Choir, an organization whose appearance on campus has been sadly neglected, give a program once a week, without a follow up five minute sermon.

3. Let's have a complete program of organ music—if not by Dr. Marks, by someone from off the campus.

4. And let's invite guest clergymen to appear at various times.

If these changes could be made, the whole attitude of attending chapel, to many a drudgery, will take on a different meaning.

WMUH To Tackle Afternoon 'Casts

A meeting will be called in the near future to plan the first few weeks of operation for WMUH. An attempt will be made to carry through some plans made last year, concerning the partitioning of our present studio into several smaller rooms more suitable for broadcasting. A certain amount of equipment, repair, and maintenance must be undertaken immediately.

As soon as it is practical, a series of shake-down broadcasts will be run. It is hoped that we will be able to present afternoon broadcasts as well as the usual evening programs. A poll will be run in the WEEKLY in an attempt to find out at what time in the afternoon we could expect a large student audience.

couldn't advance, so they kicked. Later Al Rubbert intercepted a pass at midfield and returned it to the Scranton 30. Rubbert hit Vern Miller with two passes that took the ball to the Scranton 16. The Mules picked up another first down as they advanced to the four where the up-staters held.

After this goal-line stand, Mondani ran the ball to the 28. Two completed passes put the ball on the Cardinal and Gray 26. This set the stage for Bartley's heave to Garramone and the six points that were the winning margin.

The game ended a few minutes later as the Mule eleven tried in desperation to score on pass plays.

Baughman Leads Mules

at Painsville, Howie became head basketball coach in 1942. His basketball team went undefeated in 18 games in 1944 and won the League crown the only two years he coached them.

Baughman moved in 1944 to Cleveland Heights where he became head football coach. His team lost four games his first year at Cleveland Heights but managed to lose only three games in his next four years. Howie's five year total at Cleveland was an amazing 38 wins and 7 losses.

Twelfth Season Coaching

Howie's debut as Muhlenberg's head man in football marked the beginning of his twelfth season as a football coach. Although Scranton marred his first appearance as a college coach, Howie's eleven year record of 77 wins, 17 losses and 4 ties is good indication that with a little more depth in material Baughman will be the man to put Muhlenberg football teams back among the best small teams in the country.

Baughman is married and has two girls, Betty, eight, and Patricia, six. The Baughmans reside at 226 S. 16th St.

Two Ohio Assistants

Baughman has selected as his assistants, two fellow Ohioans, Cardinal and Triplett. Ernie Fellows has been advanced from Freshman coach to Varsity end coach.

NOTICE TO ALL STUDENTS!

All students must secure the official registration book in the Registrar's Office on October 3, 1949. Fill it out in ink and indicate the TIME of your classes in the space provided. 'Berg Gets Funds

A second matter closely related to student responsibility covered by the president concerned the United Lutheran Church campaign to raise $6,000,000 for its colleges and seminaries. Muhlenberg will be the recipient of $780,000 provided the campaign is successful. "This money," said the President, "is vital to the continuation of a high degree of education among the church colleges. The church colleges must therefore demonstrate their importance in the role of a provider of education." The President went on to say, "There are various ways in which demonstrations can be made by Faculty, Staff, Trustees, Alumni, and Students alike. During the year these will be called to your attention. I hope and believe you will respond. I might say, however, that it is my personal belief that the best demonstration we as a College can make to the Church or to any one else is the normal conduct of the regular program of each and every one of us in accordance with the basic idealism of this College."

JUNIOR CLASS GRANTED UNLIMITED CUTS

Sansone Band Sparks Initial Council Dance

Castle Garden Site Of Saturday Night Dance; Admission To Informal Hop By Activities Card

Opening the 'Berg social season this Saturday night, October 8, at Castle Garden, the Student Council presents Pete Sansone and his "cafe society" orchestra. Dancing will be from 9 until 12. Admission to the dance will be by activities card.

Playing for the first time for the Muhlenberg community, Sansone is known for his smooth dance music. He and his combination have been featured at Rehoboth Beach, Delaware, and at Ocean City, Maryland during the past summer. Featured vocalist with Sansone is Gaye Dixon.

Sansone Plays Saxophone

Sansone, who plays the saxophone himself, and his musicians play a "pretty nice brand of dance music," according to Lou Colombo, Student Councilman in charge of dance arrangements. Castle Garden, in Dorney Park, was chosen as the site for the dance because of its size and ability to accommodate the usual large crowd, said Colombo.

Other Dances Listed

Chaperones for this non-formal dance on the evening of the Lafayette-Muhlenberg football game will be Dean and Mrs. Harry A. Benfer, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Jenness, and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Koehler.

Future dances listed by the Student Council are the Soph-Frosh Hop on November 4; the Senior Ball, sometime in December; and the Junior Prom in early spring. Several sport dances have also been scheduled for this semester.

New Cheers Set For Pep Rally

The Muhlenberg cheerleaders and band will combine efforts this Friday night, October 7, at 7:00 p.m. in the Science auditorium to stir up pep and enthusiasm for the Muhlenberg-Lafayette game on Saturday.

Together with new cheers, a twirling display by the Cedar Crest drum majorettes, and a talk by a former 'Berg football star the pep rally promises to be a lively one according to Herm Michels, Student Council representative in charge of the rally.

Students And Faculty Lauded For WSSF Fund Contributions

A total of $1,093.06 was the amount officially contributed by Muhlenberg College last spring to the World Student Service Fund. In the words of W. J. Kitchen, Executive Secretary of W.S.S.F., "You have the real gratitude, not only of the Sponsors and the Staff of W.S.S.F., but of a great company of students whom you have served and for whom you have provided help by your gift."

Campaign in February

For eight days in February of this year a campaign was carried on at Muhlenberg to raise funds for student aid all over the world. Together, students and faculty raised over a thousand dollars. The drive was headed by David J. Hoh and sponsored by the M. C. A., the Inter-Fraternity Council, the Student Council, and the WEEKLY. The drive was one which offered aid to university people in all parts of the world regardless of race, color, or creed.

Other Causes Present

In Mr. Kitchen's letter he states, "Such a contribution as you have generously made is doubly appreciated in these days when you are surrounded, as we all are, with a great number of 'good causes' seeking support. As you considered this contribution among others you were enabled to make, I hope you had the spiritual satisfaction of taking part in a task which is essentially a spiritual one."

Letters Received

"W.S.S.F. cannot rebuild, itself, the tragically devastated campuses and homes of hundreds of thousands of students. But it is affirmatively and significantly helping to reconstruct their morale and integrity and hope. Your part in that help shares in the appreciation expressed in hundreds of letters W.S.S.F. receives from students overseas."

Council Seeks Seats On Many College Boards

Asks Posts On Committees Affecting Student Body

The Student Council announced Monday that it had recommended to the Board of Trustees that students be allowed representation on those Board committees which are of particular import and interest to the Student Body. The Board received the request at its spring meeting and placed it on the agenda for the meeting scheduled in December at which time ways and means of implementing this representation also will be discussed.

Student representation on policy making committees within the college community has been looked upon by leading student governments among colleges and universities across the country as a most desirable privilege. It is felt that if students were represented on those committees which are of vital concern to the welfare of the student body, it would present an invaluable aid to the governing bodies in carrying out their functions.

M & D Selects Fall Production

Group Meets To Weigh Club Plans And Policy

Selected by Mask and Dagger for their fall production, Laburnum Grove by J. B. Priestly will move into try-outs stages next Monday night, October 10, under the direction of Andrew H. Erskine. Tryouts will begin at 7:45 p.m. in the Science auditorium. The play selected is a mystery and will star three females and six males.

On Monday evening, October 3, at 7:30, the Mask and Dagger Club held the first meeting of the new semester. Under the leadership of Murray Stahl, newly-elected president, the club organized its plans and policies for the school term to come.

The issue of prime importance to the club at that time, was the selection of a play for fall.

Frosh Weekend To Feature Former Prof

Rev. Hoh To Lead Discourse At Allentown Boys Club

A freshmen retreat, sponsored by the M. C. A. and to be held at the Allentown Boys Club will be led by the Reverend Mr. Philip Hoh, former member of the department of Religion and Philosophy at Muhlenberg. The retreat will be held from Friday, October 7 until Sunday, October 9.

The purpose of the program is to aid the freshmen in adjusting themselves to college campus life according to Paul Frick, chairman in charge of the retreat.

Transportation will be provided and all those interested should contact Frick at the A.T.O. House or meet in the Chapel at 4:30 p.m. on Friday.

New Frosh Musicians Bolster College Band

The Muhlenberg College Band, having appeared at the first two football games of the season and now boasting twenty new freshman musicians, plans to be on hand for all of the remaining gridiron contests, according to band president Milt Snyder.

Jack Lauer has been appointed the new drum major, and it is reported that four drum majorettes will be chosen in the near future from among the numerous Cedar Crest applicants. Snyder also states that Student Council has provided the band with a new set of standards and colors.

The band will attend the Lafayette game this Saturday, where it will present marching formations during half-time of the game.

Ray Houston, band leader, announces that a concert band will be organized immediately after the football season, and he urges that any interested student who can play a concert instrument should contact one of the band officers at his earliest convenience. The band rehearses on Tuesdays at 4:30 and on Thursdays at 5:00.

Senate Gives Students Vote Of Confidence With New Plan

The newly elected Faculty Senate on Tuesday, October 4, voted to extend the privilege of unlimited cuts to members of the Junior Class in good standing. Upon release of this news, Dean Mercer stated that the Faculty Senate considers this step as "a gesture on the part of the faculty amounting to a vote of confidence in the student body."

Frosh Reach End Of The Line

Frosh take it on the chin as Sophs treat them to a cold bath in Cedar Creek.

Sophs Victors In First Contest; Beat Frosh In Tug-of-War Duel

Freshmen Lose Cedar Beach Fray As Sophomores Win Yearly Rope Pull For First Time Since War

For the first time since the war, the Sophomore class emerged victorious in the annual Soph-Frosh tug-of-war at Cedar Creek, Monday, October 3. Dragging the Frosh into the water on two out of the three pulls, gave the Sophs the victory and a 20 point lead in the new point system.

With approximately 300 Cedar Crest and 'Berg students watching the tug-of-war, the Sophs got the jump on the first year men and pulled them into the creek on the first and final tug.

William "Bull" Ritter, was the judge of the battle across the creek and legally declared the Sophomores as victors.

Miss Katherine Kistler declared that six casualties reported to the dispensary on Tuesday. No one's injuries were serious according to Dr. T. H. Weaver.

Bob Scheipe, Freshman Tribunal president, has announced a new point system to decide the winner in the Soph-Frosh battles. Under this system the Tug-of-War and Push Ball game will be worth 20 points each and the Flag Rush and Football game 30 points each. The side which wins over 50 points will be declared winner. However, in case of a tie the freshmen will automatically lose.

Mr. Scheipe also wishes to clear up any misunderstanding on regulations which might have been caused by a slight error in the M-Book. Regulations will end on Thanksgiving if the Freshmen are victorious but will continue until Christmas if they lose. The remaining contests will be held as follows: Football game, Oct. 17, at 4:30 p.m., Flag Rush, Nov. 2, at 4:30 p.m. The date for the Push Ball game will be announced.

According to the Tribunal President there were over a hundred offenders of Freshman regulations. Meeting every week, the judges of upper classmen try the many cases. Punishments are administered according to the degree of insubordination.

Scheipe stated that regulations will be strictly enforced and any offenders should be reported to any of the tribunal members. This is the only way the Tribunal can operate with efficiency.

'Berg Student Wins State N.S.A. Position

Levitsky One Of Seven On Penna. Executive Committee

Leon Levitsky, recently elected N.S.A. Vice President for Domestic Affairs in Penna.

Leon Levitsky was elected vice president of domestic affairs of the Pennsylvania Region of the United States National Student Association at its convention in Philadelphia last June. In this position he will be one of the seven officers on the NSA executive committee for Pennsylvania, which represents twenty-six colleges and almost 54,000 students.

In his capacity as vice president of domestic affairs Mr. Levitsky has charge of a speaker's bureau, a guidance bureau and a committee on student government. The speaker's bureau is attempting to get speakers to speak in high schools and colleges on racial prejudice and other topics of current interest. The function of the guidance bureau is to provide an instructional period for the freshmen.

According to the Senate, a junior in good standing is a student who fulfills six major requirements. The first of these is that the number of the student's quality points be at least equal to the number of semester hours attributed to him.

All Subjects Completed

Secondly, no unsatisfied subject failures may be recorded against the student. The third stipulation is that the student may have no incomplete subjects on his record.

Fourthly, the student's chapel attendance must be satisfactory. Fifth, the student may not be on probation on any one of his major subjects. Lastly, any instructor shall have the right to report to the Dean of Faculty the name of any student who fails to maintain a good standing in his course work. Such a student will lose his unlimited cut privilege until his class standing again becomes satisfactory.

Regular Cuts Considered

During the session when unlimited cuts for juniors was approved, the Faculty Senate also accepted the recommendations of a special committee appointed to consider the regulations in regard to class cuts. The accepted policy, as formulated by this committee, contains five primary rules which are:

1. No class absence is allowed on days of an announced quiz or examination.
2. As provided by the regulations concerning seniors and juniors, the students in these classes will be allowed unlimited cuts.
3. For the freshman and sophomore classes and all other students, no credit will be granted for a course unless the student is present at 80 per cent of the total number of class meetings per semester, unless the excess absences are incurred by reason of official college activity.
4. The last class in a course before, and the first class after a vacation must be attended unless the student is excused in advance by the Dean.
5. Any student who is late for a class shall be marked absent unless specifically excused by the instructor.

A complete list of juniors in good standing will be forwarded to all faculty members as soon as it is compiled.

Dean Executes Chapel Change

Dean Sherwood R. Mercer announced that the Faculty Senate, in compliance with student request, has changed the Freshman chapel period from 11 o'clock a.m. Wednesdays to 11:30 a.m. on Tuesdays, effective next Tuesday, October 11. This will allow the upper classmen an extra chapel period.

Under the present system, upper classmen can attend chapel on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday or Friday only.

In addition, the freshman hygiene period will henceforth meet on Thursday at 12 o'clock instead of at the present meeting time.

The special Wednesday Freshman chapel service was started this semester to provide an instructional period for the freshmen.

Let's Be Co-Curricular Not Extra-Curricular

Definition — Key Collector: an individual who supposedly indicates sufficient interest in the activities of one or many campus organizations to the extent that he is granted membership but who shows no marked intentions thereafter of helping to further the principles and projects of that club.

There is a perennial problem in almost all college societies, associations, and clubs concerning this type of student. It has become a problem because the matter of discernment has fallen to the groups themselves rather than to the persons joining the groups. A reversal of the sensible procedure is evident, and the fault would seem to lie in the fact that the emphasis on activities other than studies has been wrongly placed.

Muhlenberg's student organizations have traditionally tried to base their appeal on the idea that they maintain a co-curricular status instead of an extra-curricular one. That is, they constantly strive to attract men whose academic interests coincide with or parallel those of the respective groups. For instance, the WEEKLY, which probably includes the most widely diversified body where fields of concentration are considered, holds its predominant attraction for English and business majors. No doubt men from other departments could do a capable job, but students in these specialties are found to produce the best because of the community of interest between their courses and their other activities.

Admittedly, there have been examples in the past of students belonging to organizations with which they have had little connection academically and making their marks in those groups because of enthusiasm alone. But such instances are the frequent exceptions that justify the rule. It is only reasonable to assume that the fellow who chooses his outside interests from the standpoint of his own curriculum will benefit himself to a much higher degree and will help to bring the projects of his carefully selected clubs to more successful ends.

Any student who is planning to become a part of some group on campus must give the question of which one serious thought in order to arrive at the wisest possible conclusion. His final decision should be predicated on his whole-hearted willingness to work and to give unstintingly of his time. Freshmen ought to be especially wary of the wrong choices and too many of them. Remember, the man who knows his abilities and his limitations will be the greater asset to any organization, and he can never be accused of key collecting.

The Sad Story Of A Tired Jackass; Lack Of Kick May Mean Loss Of Job

Campus Mule Professor Tests Judy's Knowledge; Decrees Faithful Mascot Too Old For College

Judy, our gridiron mascot, grazes contentedly between halves in the Allentown High School stadium.

by Hank Northington

The Muhlenberg mule is much too old! The pigskin mascot, so familiar to all football crowds during the past couple years, has not completed entrance requirements to a new school for hybrids set upon the campus by a versatile student.

Size Important

Richard E. Bader, a youthful redhead from Quakertown, Pa., had agreed to try to teach the old girl tricks, but, says Dick, "She is much too old. What this campus needs is a young mule (or donkey) — one of the smaller types; so we could march her indoors to where her display of tricks would really be effective."

Here's hoping we get one of those youngsters, because Dick is well qualified to educate it. He has always been around horses and mules and has had excellent experience and training from Western roping down to bagfuls of circus tricks.

Increase in Punch

Should the purchase of a new mule materialize; should it act favorably to the hands of its trainers, it would most assuredly add incomparable color and spirit to the fall sport.

Imagine the Cardinal and Gray, in a brilliant pass play, getting cheers from the people and heehaw's from the four-legged cross. Picture it lying down when the opposition is thrown for a loss. See it under the goal post after the T.D., counting out the score with emphatic paws.

Kicks to Tune

Should things go wrong with the eleven on the field, visualize it praying for a goal line stand. See it kick from the hind quarters to the strains of "The Kick of the Muhlenberg Mule."

With a young mule to work with, these loom as more than probabilities. Dick even has a wild horse to his credit. Is a stubborn mule any worse?

The proper authorities willing, a Muhlenberg mule will go to school! Then we would have more than human beings on the campus; we'd have a mule-in-'berg.

New Boss Of Berg Maintenance

Student Comfort And Campus Beauty Are Main Object Of New Administrator Of Buildings And Grounds

Mr. John McAuley, our new Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.

The Student Union Building has not looked the same since Mr. John McAuley assumed the position as superintendent of buildings and grounds at 'Berg.

Mr. McAuley came here from North Carolina. He studied for his A.B. at Erskine College, Due West, South Carolina. While he attended Erskine College Mr. McAuley battled the depression by carrying newspapers every morning and afternoon.

Forced To Leave College

As a pre-law student, he, like so many college students of that era, decided that the depression had scored a deficit upon his fate. He left college and obtained a position as superintendent of buildings and grounds for a Charlotte N. C. hospital. He has worked in this profession ever since. "I was too young for World War I and too old for the last war," Mr. McAuley explains; "I spent the war years as superintendent of buildings and grounds at Queens College." From Queens College he came to Muhlenberg.

Mr. McAuley likes the friendly Muhlenberg atmosphere. He thinks he will enjoy his work here, since he finds college work extremely interesting. He currently has plans to renovate East Hall next summer. In addition, he would like to redecorate West Hall, to remove the unsightly telephone and power cables, and to recondition the power plant.

Dog Fancier

The McAuleys will be devoting most of their leisure time to training pure bred collies for dog shows. They are proud of the championship collie which they own and intend to develop more champions. In the future Mr. McAuley plans to raise some beef cattle on his farm.

Mr. McAuley, of Southern, Scotch descent, admits he is unaccustomed to our Pennsylvania Dutch country, but he is certain that he will be able to answer the question, "Wie gehts?" with a definite "Gut!"

From Where I Sit—

Definition Of Liberal Education And Its Design For Modern Life

In the rush and excitement of the opening days of college all of us have been occupied with the details of getting down to the business of the Fall Term. Classes have met and studies are underway, the faculty has had its first meeting, the four classes are arranging their programs, the fraternities and other groups have started, the physical education and the intercollegiate athletic programs are functioning, chapel and Sunday church services have begun. Here we are, then, 1100 students and about 100 faculty and staff working and living together in a way of life to which we have dedicated ourselves — some, the students, for a shorter period, others, the faculty, for longer. The business to which we are all turning our best efforts is that of liberal education.

The early concept of a liberal education was that of a program of studies for free men, that is, men who were free because, due to one circumstance or another, they did not have to work for a living. This meant, of course, that during the period from the Renaissance until recent times the idea of training a mind as a free mind was limited in its practical application to the wealthy.

Happily this is no longer true. Nevertheless, we must be aware of the danger that men who must make their own way in the world are in many instances putting such a heavy vocational emphasis on their studies that they cannot be said to be receiving a liberal education and certainly they are in grave danger of losing their intellectual, spiritual and political freedom. This is a source of grave concern to me and I would urge that as we begin a new year of work together we rededicate ourselves to the idea of a liberal education as an experience of human growth and development designed to make men free and dedicated to the conviction that things of the spirit have first priority on men's minds. Our individual lives and the life of our society can never be free, if we base our thinking and planning on material things.

Muhlenberg College is an independent liberal arts college for men. Men — real men — who seek a liberal arts education with us will find it here, but those who do so must be prepared for hard work and must have guts enough to dare to be free men.

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

It's proud we are to announce the merger of two B.M.O.C.'s. Scisto Averno and Dale Whiteman have purchased a bucket of bolts. Their automobile, and we use the term loosely, is a pine green Plymouth convertible. It is usually billeted on 23rd street, and readily recognized by the khaki shroud that is draped over its top (?). Whattamatta fellas, ashamed of it?

One of our rival houses of education boasts an English prof, who is constantly annoyed by clock watching students. Last week, however, he fixed 'em. He covered the clock with cardboard on which he lettered: "TIME WILL PASS. WILL YOU?"

Splices and Near Mrs.: In this space last week, SPE's George Reed was engaged to Mae Kehm. Now look what happened . . . they were married last Saturday! Belated congrats to John Rollo, Paul Tudger and Don Downer who all took squaws unto themselves this summer. Bon Voyage to "Eep" Paulson who will bite the dust very soon. Rumor has it that Mr. Gebert will soon lose his sec, Vivian, to Bill Hepburn. It's glad we are to see that the two Moyers, Barbara and Ducky, (no relation) are still that way about each other. There goes the cutest Crest-Berg exchange we've seen yet. Seen around: Betty Kratz and Jack Dowman. Howie Smith and Elaine.

Overheard: Two tender frosh at the Commons.

"Yes, my father told me all about the birds and the bees at an early age. It had a great effect on my life."

"How was that?"

"Until I was 21 all I went out with was woodpeckers."

Diminutive "Mighty Mite" Wesco stoops to conquer. It seems that no one can catch him at football practice. They tell us it's like trying to corner a greased whippet.

Laffynition of the week: Diaper: 'Eternal triangle'.

Frosh Vet Glenn Kramer and other of his vet colleagues are cursing the day they were born. Stringent frosh regs exclude none but vets over 21. Glenn has a paltry three weeks to go, and some of the others have like short number of days before they officially become men. A miss is as good as a mile.

Disc of the Week: An "A-Minus" for "You're Breaking My Heart," by Ralph Flanagan, arranger for the late Glenn Miller. For those who liked the Miller style, Flanagan's format resembles Glenn's more than does the much touted Tex Beneke. The flip side is a treat too. It is enhanced by Harry Prime, a refreshingly new throat. This platter, incidentally, marks the return of the 46 cent Bluebird record. Good news for collectors' empty pocketbooks.

There should be more art majors on campus. Some bizarre color combinations have emerged from the current epidemic of room painting. Joe Coplon's South Hall room is a noxious green bordered by tattle tale grey. The Bill Todd pigeonhole is a passionate pink. Marty Strausfogel's domicile is a screaming Chartreuse & Brown.

Special to YOU NAME IT: Hollywood, California: FLASH! a movie company here was forced to abandon its project to film a Biblical tale which required 3000 asses and 3000 oxen. Reason: It seems that scouts couldn't locate 3000 oxen in America.

Yep, Bill Marsh had it all fixed up at Moravian. He and Joe Menegus even took the TROLLEY to pick up their dates. Alas and alack, when they arrived, they found no women. Undaunted, they sat on the front steps in wait for them. We know Joe left because we saw him at the game Saturday. Marsh is probably still sitting there.

Have you compared the picture of the White House on an old series $20 bill with the one on the new series? The trees and shrubs have grown up and are much taller in the new one, and yet the porch has a balcony. (No we don't have two 20 dollar bills, just knew a man who did.)

Pete Gorgone, Band, Football team, cider, many students and Herm Michaels and George Wall combined, last Friday, to make one of the most spirited pep rallies the old quadrangle has witnessed in many a moon. Win or lose there should be more pre-game festivities of the same high calibre.

STUDENT LETTER BOXES

The Mail Room keys will not be available for distribution this week because of erroneous manufacturing on the part of the Locksmith. They will be distributed as soon as the corrections are made.

OUCH!

Last issue of the WEEKLY said Dr. Werner Richter served under the Bismarck regime. [It should have read the Hindenberg regime. With due apologies, the WEEKLY did not intend to make Dr. Richter 91 years old.

Rank's Epic "Columbus" Starts Local Run Wed.

Midway Theatre Shows Lauded English Film For Regular Admission Prices

The Midway Theater is resuming again this year its program of presenting outstanding film achievements, designed especially for this area's college students. Last year "Henry V", "The Mikado" and "Hamlet" were presented. The first presentation this year is one of the year's major film productions, the dramatic story painted in the rich, broad strokes of Technicolor, and it will open at the Midway Theatre on Wednesday, October 12, when Universal-International will present J. Arthur Rank's "Christopher Columbus," starring Frederic March in the title role, at no increase in admission prices.

Dream Materializes

Production of "Christopher Columbus," brought to fruition a dream of Production Chief Sydney Box who regards the events leading up to the discovery of the New World as one of the five most dramatic stories in history, the others being the life of Christ, Adam and Eve, Anthony and Cleopatra and Lord Nelson.

As "Christopher Columbus," Frederic March adds another role to a career that already includes two Academy Awards. The heart-breaking story of the persistent Genoese explorer who pleaded valiantly for years with high and low alike to help prove his belief that the world was not flat and his ingenious shackling in chains after his history-making discovery, is poignantly portrayed by March.

Hamlet Returns

The Midway Theatre announces also that they are bringing back the three-time Academy Award winner of 1949, Laurence Olivier's "Hamlet", in the very near future at greatly reduced prices than the film is playing now in New York City.

Verein Seeks New Members

"Der Deutsche Verein" held its first meeting of the current term at 8:00 p.m. last Monday evening, October 3, in the West Hall reception room. With thirteen members present, President Sanders appointed the various committees and distributed printed copies of the Verein's Constitution. Business discussed included admission of new members, the appointment of an assistant to the treasurer, Dr. Pfeuger, and a tentative program for the coming year. Refreshments were served.

"Der Deutsche Verein" has received throughout the summer numerous invitations from other colleges, universities, and societies to participate in their Goethe Feiern (Goethe Celebrations.) These invitations included one from Haverford College for October 12, one from the Philadelphia German-American Society, on October 26, and one for the big celebration in the Academy of Music in Philadelphia.

All students interested in becoming members of "Der Deutsche Verein" are urged to give their name and college address to any member of the Muhlenberg College German Department. Invitations to prospective members will be sent out shortly.

Weekly Rates Honorable Mention Award

The Muhlenberg Weekly
Muhlenberg College
Allentown, Pennsylvania
Gentlemen:

It pleases me very much to inform you that your excellent treatment of the subject of Holiday safe driving has been awarded honorable mention by judges of the 1948 College Newspaper Contest on Safe Driving.

Congratulations to you for the excellent way in which you handled the job of selling safety to your readers and for your splendid co-operation in this campaign to reduce the holiday accident toll. I am enclosing your certificate of editorial excellence and a list of cash prize and honorable mention award winners.

As sponsors of this contest, we are grateful for the fine support received from college publications throughout the nation. The ingenious manner in which these publications presented the safety story and their resourcefulness in obtaining original material gave a fresh approach to the entire campaign.

I am looking forward to an even greater number of participants in this year's contest and an equally impressive entry from your college publication.

Sincerely,

JAMES S. KEMPER, Chairman

MCA Plays Host At Co-ed Picnic

The rose-gardens will be the site for the Cedar Crest-Muhlenberg picnic on Monday, October 10, at 4:30 p.m. The affair is being sponsored by the M.C.A. and the Cedar Crest C.S.A. Refreshments will be supplied by the two groups.

The Cedar Crest frosh-soph tug-of-war will be held prior to the picnic.

On the M.C.A. committee planning the affair are Joe Ronco, Ed Trainer, Bud Watson, Dick Ettinger and Frank Lambert. Harriet Hague and Anna Deppen head the Cedar Crest committee.

Law School Test Offered Here Oct. 13

The Law School Admission Test will be administered by the Educational Testing Service on Saturday, November 12. The closing date for receipt of applications will be November 2. The examination fee is $10.

Educational Testing Service will establish a center if the appropriate officer of a college requests it, upon his representation that he expects at least TEN students in attendance at his institution to register for the test. Since his request must reach the Princeton Office of the Educational Testing Service at least four weeks before the scheduled date of the administration of the test, it is urged that all students wishing to take the test report to the Testing Bureau in Room 213 of the Ad Building as soon as possible. Otherwise they will have to take the test at the nearest Examination Center which is at Lehigh University, Bethlehem.

Philosophy Fraternity Features V. President On Thursday, Oct. 13

Dr. Robert C. Horn, Muhlenberg's Vice President, will speak on the subject of Socrates at the first meeting tonight, at 8 o'clock, of the philosophy fraternity, Alpha Kappa Alpha. The meeting will take place at the home of Dr. Russell Stine, 2116 Allen Street.

This first meeting, bringing forth Dr. Horn as Head of the Classics Department, will inaugurate AKA's policy this year of a program devoted mainly to talks by Muhlenberg's Department Heads speaking on their respective subjects in relation to the field of philosophy.

According to Tom Cole, President of AKA, these guest speakers are expected to be a great drawing power for AKA's meetings this year. Meetings in the past have been noted for sheer pleasure as well as intellectual fireworks.

Dr. Horn was graduated from Muhlenberg in 1900 and returned to teach on the faculty in 1904. He has served as dean of the College, acting president, and is at present writing a history of Muhlenberg.

Mules Tangle With Lafayette In Leopard Lair

Duquesne Edges Berg 14-6; Mules Lack Scoring Punch

by Ken Mastron

The Cardinal and Gray of Muhlenberg College lost their second game in as many starts to a highly favored Duquesne eleven 14-6. Coach Baughman's boys completely outplayed the visitors from Pittsburgh, but lacked a scoring punch which would have turned defeat into victory. In losing, the 'Berg men compiled seventeen first downs which were good for a net total of 296 yards while holding the victors to six first downs and 138 yards.

OVER... THE LINE

by Chuck Morgan

This year's recipient of the Muhlenberg WEEKLY "most valuable" player award will be chosen by a vote of the working press and radio men covering each of the Muhlenberg games. Also asked to participate in the selection will be the head coach and captain of the opposing team.

It is believed by the WEEKLY that this poll will actually reveal the "most valuable" and not the "most popular." Good luck to all the players in their bid for the trophy. The votes are starting to roll in.

The Mule eleven sports an 0-2 record so far but actually it should read 2-0. The Mules looked much improved against the Duquesne team, but they lacked scoring punch when they got inside the twenty yard line.

* Another poor crowd at the Duquesne game Saturday night. Wonder if it's the Steel Strike?? or could it be the $2.25?

Barring a tie in Saturday's encounter at Easton, the winner will post its first triumph of the season, since Lafayette also lost its first two starts.

Jackson, Kreutzberg Spark Mules
With the exception of the last play of the period, the entire first quarter was played in Duquesne territory. After receiving the kick-off and running it back to their own 41 the Mules, sparked by Jackson and Kreutzberg, carried the ball down to the Duquesne 18 where, hampered by a fifteen yard penalty, their attack stalled and they were forced to kick. Later in the period they drove down to the 22 where it was fourth down and two, but the Dukes stopped the drive and took over. The remainder of the quarter was played in Duquesne territory except for the last play, following a Duquesne interception, on which a completed pass put the visitors on 'Berg's 41.

Statue of Liberty Clicks
The second period witnessed all the scoring for the visitors. On the third play Ralph Longmore took a hand off from the quarterback on the old Statue of Liberty play and raced around left end for 39 yards and the game's first score. The conversion was good and Duquesne led 7-0. Following the ensuing kickoff 'Berg moved up to their own 34, but fumbled and the Dukes took over on the Cardinal and Gray 30. The Jackson (91) gaining yardage on an end run against Duquesne last Saturday. Other 'Berg players are Miller (34) and Crider (17).

Lafayette Tickets

Mr. George Lawson has announced that reserved seat tickets for the Lafayette game, Saturday October 8, regularly selling at $2.55, may be picked up at the Athletic office at the price of $1.30 plus the Student Activity Card. The student, however, must pay $2.55 for a guest in the reserved section. These tickets must be purchased before Friday, October 7 at 4 p.m.

Mr. Lawson emphasizes that tickets purchased at the gate will be on a flat rate of $2.55 for reserved seats and $1.40 general admission and might not be tickets in the reserved Muhlenberg section.

Don Albert Captains Cross-Country Team

The fall semester not only brings with it football season, but also the opening of cross country. Coached by Muhlenberg's own Ernie Fellows, the team's outlook this year is fairly bright despite the loss of Bill Brown and Bill Summer who were the leaders of last year's team. However, the vacancies will be filled by Floyd Schupp and Dick Acker, who were star performers on last year's Freshman squad. Both Schupp and Acker placed in the running of the freshman cross country championship. The rest of the team will be rounded out by Capt. Don Albert, Hank Folkman, Ed Lembeck, Ralph Lichtenwalner, Ed

Both Elevens Winless As They Gird For Battle

by Bob Godnick

Howie Baughman's Muhlenberg Mules will attempt, for the third consecutive week, to gain their initial victory of 1949 against the Lafayette Leopards on Saturday afternoon at the Leopards' den in Easton. The Maroon, who had been tabbed by many as one of the potential powers of the east in pre-season forecasts, has also found tough sledding in its first two encounters, folding before Princeton, 26-14, and Syracuse, 20-13. Kick-off time is scheduled for 2:15 p.m.

Leopards Lose At Syracuse; Gettysb'g Tops W. Maryland

Muhlenberg's future football opponents looked impressive last weekend with two exceptions. They were Lafayette, who lost a tight one, 20-13, to Syracuse, and Albright, who lost to Lincoln, 14-12.

Fleming Stars

The Leopards, the Mules' next opponent, drew first blood when Gordon Fleming smashed over from the one yard line. The conversion was missed and the Leopards led 6-0. Syracuse fought back to score in the second period and converted to lead 7-6 at the half.

In the third quarter, Syracuse took advantage of a blocked kick to post its second touchdown. Again they converted. Lafayette roared back for 61 yards and a touchdown with Fleming lugging the pigskin across the final white stripe. Durstein made good his try for the extra point.

Leopards Suffer Second Defeat

Syracuse pushed across its final six-pointer in the fourth period to make the final score read 20-13 in favor of Syracuse. This was the second straight defeat for the Leopards in two contests. In their opener, they lost to Princeton, 26-14.

Mule Offense Strictly Mid-field
'Berg has looked far from impressive in falling before Scranton and Duquesne on successive Saturdays. Their offensive has been strictly a mid-field affair which seemingly closed tighter than a snail's shell once it got within the scent of a score. The Mules' impressive statistics in the Duquesne game were gained primarily by offensive thrusts between the two twenty yard markers. 'Berg's line, which is manned by mostly veteran performers has not proved as strong as had been hoped. The deficiency seems to stem from the use of a two platoon system set up by Baughman, which sees some of the old Mule stalwarts catching pine needles for half the game, while less experienced men try to hold the fort for the other half. A team with the depth of Notre Dame will find this system to their advantage, but a small squad with limited material just can't use it with results.

Strait May Return To Lineup

The Mules' offensive will stem largely from the chucking of George England and the speed and drive of half-back Bill Jackson. Al Rubbert, injured in last week's game with Duquesne, is expected to be ready for action, while Russ Strait, huge veteran full-back is still doubtful.

The Leopards, coached by Clipper Smith, a former Notre Dame great, will employ the two platoon system against the Mules. The Maroon mentor will bank heavily on the passing of Frank Downing and the hard driving of Gordon Fleming to thwart the Mules. Dave Showell and Jay Barclay complete the starting offensive backfield. The actual starting line-up will depend however on whether the Leps kick or receive.

BEAT LAFAYETTE

To us "Old Grads" the only games that count are the Lafayette and Lehigh games. Win or lose against Scranton, Duquesne, or Podunk U., it's all the same with us. Beating Lafayette and Lehigh is a MUST. It all dates back many years ago when those colleges rode the crest of football victories. Brother, they kicked us around and plenty, and then looked down their noses at us until the following year. Don't get us "Old Grads" started as it will fill a page, BUT, get out there and back your team against Lafayette. Your team is overdue to click. To the team we say: Remember that a Muhlenberg man is a better man than a Lafayette man — Get out there Saturday and prove it. Run that score right off the scoreboard.

Albert Captains Cross-Country

Edinger, Bill Straus, Don Markley, and Clarence Moore. Coach Fellows believes that he has the nucleus of a fine team, however his one problem may be lack of depth.

The schedule will be practically the same as last year, except that Franklin and Marshall has been replaced by St. Josephs of Philadelphia. Only one meet has been scheduled at home, at which time the Mules will entertain Lafayette College. The rest of the schedule will run as follows: Albright at Reading, Oct. 14; Haverford and Gettysburg at Gettysburg, Oct. 28; St. Josephs at Philadelphia, Nov. 2; Lehigh at Bethlehem, Nov. 5. Smarting under five straight losses from last season, the team will be out to avenge the defeats and prove to their coach that they have what it takes.

M.A.S.C.C. Here for Third Year
Because of the fine running course, the efficiency of the officials, and the hospitality of Muhlenberg College, the teams that competed in the M.A.S.C.C. meet last year decided to hold the meet again this year at Muhlenberg on November 11. In the future, this may become an annual event for Muhlenberg since this is the third consecutive year that the meet has been held here.

The coach strongly encourages all men interested in cross country, especially freshmen, to come out and participate. He advises all spring track men, regardless of their competing event, to use cross country as a means of conditioning for the on-coming season.

Under the leadership of Coach Fellows and Capt. Don Albert, the team should develop well and be a leading contender for the M.A.S.C.C. title this year.

Over The Line

Looks like a big, husky Freshman team that Lou Cardinal is whipping into shape for their opening engagement October 21 with the Frosh from Lafayette. The squad looks capable of making future years bright for all Mule rooters.

The Mule soccer team opens their season tomorrow with LaSalle at home. Don't be surprised if the Cardinal and Gray "kick" their way to an undefeated season.

Fifty Frosh Report For Pigskin Practice

The call for Freshman football went out last week and was answered by close to fifty Freshmen, one of the largest squads in the history of Muhlenberg. Fifteen of these men came to 'Berg from Ohio with the hopes of playing ball under their former high school coaches.

Keen Competition for All Positions

Louis Cardinal, our new Freshman coach, said that with the great wealth of material and the enthusiasm shown by the boys in their early practice sessions, all positions will remain open until they meet their first opponent, Lafayette, which will be a home game on October 21.

The coach held from giving any predictions on the coming season, but he believes that he has enough good material that will shape up in time to give the Freshman team a successful year. Of course, he readily points out that the opposition, such as Lehigh with over a hundred men reporting for Freshman ball, will be no pushover for his 'Berg men.

Ritter's I-M League Opens

For the twenty-fourth consecutive year, Muhlenberg College will sponsor a program of intra-mural athletics. This year's activities will begin with the opening of the touch football league on October 17.

All groups interested should present a list of their team members to the Physical Director's office by Monday, October 12. At least ten men must be listed in order to be recognized as an entry.

Since Intra-murals are intended for those who do not participate on school teams, candidates for Varsity and Freshman squads may not play on any intra-mural team in that sport.

After touch football the program continues with basketball, volleyball, softball, and track. A trophy will be presented to the winner of each individual sport, and a larger one will be awarded the team scoring the over-all high number of points. Points are scored as follows: win, 10 points; loss, 5 points; forfeit, 15 points deducted.

A schedule will appear on the bulletin board in the Physical Education office.

Returning Lettermen Bolster Soccer Team

With the return of nine men from last year's starting line-up, soccer Coach "Chili" Altemose is looking forward to one of his best seasons since coming to Muhlenberg.

Perhaps an indication of what is to come will be evident this Friday afternoon at 2:30 when Muhlenberg opens its season on the home field against LaSalle.

Although halfbacks Don Boyer and Paul Schroy were lost through graduation, Coach Altemose will have a strong team built around halfback Charlie Campbell. At the forward posts will be Amelio, Coplin, Rollo, Batten, Dorward and Finkelstein; the halfback positions are held by Campbell, Kolberes, Funk, and Offner; Shegina and Lum are at fullback, and Etchman will be back as goal tender. Of the above men, only Funk is new to the teachings of Coach Altemose.

To supplement this array of talent Coach Altemose has some fine material in Eichner and Werle who are showing good progress in their first year out for varsity competition.

Duquesne Edges Berg; Mules Lack Punch

Dukes then put on their best offensive show of the evening and moved down to the 'Berg 8 where a pass from Talahousky to Duchess was good for the second score. The kick was good and 'Berg trailed 14-0. The remainder of the half was played in Duquesne territory. 'Berg lost a wonderful scoring opportunity when Jackson, who played fine ball all evening, dropped a pass from England in the end zone.

The third period saw 'Berg run up three consecutive first downs, but another fumble and Duquesne recovery stymied their advance. Following a pass interception by Alex Schreiber, 'Berg marched down to the Dukes' 14 where a fourth down pass was incomplete, giving Duquesne the ball. The period ended with the Mules moving deep into Duquesne territory.

Tolosky Races 63 Yards for TD
In the final period, 'Berg continued to move and were on the visitors four-yard line with a first down, but again they failed to score and the Dukes took over and ran the ball out of trouble.

With three minutes left in the game, England passed to Tolosky, on a screen pass play and 'Old Man' Tolosky raced 63 yards for 'Berg's only score. Averno's attempt at conversion was blocked.

The student government council, which is located at Albright College, is charged with the duty of formulating plans for more effective student government.

Mr. Levitsky recently attended the NSA National Student Congress at the University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois. This congress brought together 650 delegates, representing more than a million students enrolled in 150 American colleges and universities. In informal round table discussions, committee meeting and plenary sessions, the delegates developed policies and plans concerning the major student problems in the coming year. Communism and education, the Student Bill of Rights, federal aid to education, international student relations, and the role of the student in education and in public affairs were some of the topics considered.

Marvin Berger has been appointed by Student Council as chairman of the NSA committee at Muhlenberg this year. Dave Long and Leon Levitsky will serve with him on this committee. According to Mr. Berger the primary desire of the committee is "to make each student realize that he is a member of NSA and can best express his opinions nationally through his NSA representatives."

production. The play-selection committee, composed of Paul Freed, Martin Weisman, Murray Stahl, William France, Warren Burns, and Jim Mulqueen, had been at work throughout the summer. After reading and judging a large number of plays, the committee selected several highly recommended plays and submitted them to the club.

The factors to be considered in selecting a play are numerous. The limited stage, scenery, and lighting facilities of the Campus Little Theatre have to be considered. Equally important is the consideration of the tastes of the college audience. Mask and Dagger, in opening a new dramatic season, is considering all these factors in the attempt to select the right play.

New Faces Dominate In M & D Production

Group Picks Nine For Cast Of Laburnam Grove; Curtain Rises Nov. 17 On The Mystery-Comedy

The cast for the Mask and Dagger production, Laburnam Grove, to be presented November 17, 18, and 19, was selected at tryouts in the Science Auditorium Monday night.

The cast is composed of seven newcomers and two veterans in Muhlenberg dramatic circles. Guenter Jansen will play the leading role of Radfern, the quiet respectable English gentleman; Norma Lewis will play Mrs. Radfern Stack, of Scotland yard, will be portrayed by Joe Bailey.

Romantic Element In Plot

Jerry Albert and Eleanor Stahl, as Harold and Elsie Radfern, will create the romantic element in the plot. Mr. Fletten, the greenhouse companion of Radfern, will be played by David Jentsch.

Bernard and Lucy Baxley, the clinging relatives of Mrs. Radfern, will be portrayed by Warren Burns and Jean Cannon. Paul Sittler will play the part of the local police sergeant.

At Monday night's meeting, approximately forty interested girls and fellows were enlisted in the various phases of production. Committees have been appointed to handle publicity, tickets, scenery, make-up, programs, and properties. Cast and committee have been rapidly organized and set in motion because of the short time until the production dates.

Well Known Author

Laburnam Grove is a three-act mystery-comedy by J. B. Priestley, English playwright also known for the plays, Dangerous Corner and An Inspector Calls.

The plot centers around Radfern, a supposedly dull, respectable English businessman of the upper-middle class who lives a quiet life puttering in his greenhouse and supporting his idle in-laws, the Baxleys. A startling revelation disrupts the whole household and throws the members into a situation, both mysterious and humorous which creates suspense until the final curtain.

Prexy Visits West Point

West Point Military Academy is at present being inspected by a committee headed by President Levering Tyson. As chairman of a committee of the Commission on Institutions of Higher Learning of the Middle Atlantic States Association, Dr. Tyson left for the Academy on Tuesday morning, October 11.

Dr. Tyson is president of the Middle Atlantic States Association this year.

Council Seeks Adjustment In Ticket Prices

Athletic Committee Agrees To Review Ducat Situation

A recommendation that will allow students to have one female guest at every home football game, for only $1.30 admission price is on the agenda for the regular meeting of the Athletic Council, October 24. William Lybrand, president of the Student Council will present the proposal on behalf of the student body.

According to the Athletic office, there has been no change of policy within the Athletic department. A misunderstanding on the part of the officials in charge of admissions at the stadium, has caused confusion among students according to the department.

At present a student-guest is admitted to the student section for $2.25; Reserved section for $2.25; and general admission for $1.30.

It was felt by the Council that the student-guest admission price was too high, and that efforts should be made to effect a reduction, said Lybrand.

Gerberding Speaks At Pre-Theo Meeting

Bi-Monthly Club Session Presents Board Secretary

Dr. Richard H. Gerberding, Executive Secretary of the Board of American Missions for the United Lutheran Church in America, addressed the Pretheological Club of Muhlenberg College at its first meeting of the year in the Recreation Room of West Hall on Monday, October 10th. Dr. Gerberding spoke on the Pretheological Student and Home Missions.

Paul Howells, the president of the club welcomed the new as well as the old members at this meeting. He also introduced the executive committee and the chairmen of the various other committees. Each reported their plans for the coming year. Dr. Edward T. Horn, Chaplain of the College, also welcomed the group.

Dr. Gerberding was ordained into the Lutheran Ministry in 1915 and has been working with missions since 1917. He was a field missionary in Minnesota for six years and field superintendent in the Northwest Synod for 21 years. Dr. Gerberding has held his present position since the first of the current year.

Earl Gabriel, president of the fire damaged Phi Epsilon Pi Fraternity house, reported on Tuesday after a meeting with insurance company representatives that the $10,000 dollars damage incurred by the fire last week was fully covered by insurance.

The fire, which was caused by a short circuit between the second and third floors, burned out completely the third floor front of the house, and caused considerable damage on the second floor. The damage to the house was to the extent of $10,000.

Students Burned Out

At the present time all of the members of the house have been forced to take rooms elsewhere in town. Two students, Sigmund Levin and Jerry Kaplan, found themselves with only the shirts on their backs. Levin lost $1,200 of personal property in the fire, and Kaplan $500. Among the property destroyed was a gold tooth, two watches, radios, clothes, and books. The total personal property damage was $1,700.

Rushing Dates Set By I.F.C.

Rushing for freshmen will begin on Saturday, November 12, and last until December 14, according to James Bensinger, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council. At the meeting of the I.F.C. on Monday, October 10, at the Phi Kappa Tau house, the plan to adopt a European war baby, and the program for closer fraternity relationships were discussed.

All rushing rules and regulations will be maintained as they existed last year. The silent period, now being enforced, will be lifted on Saturday morning, November 12. Rushing will then be officially opened.

It was decided not to approve the plan of adopting a European war baby as proposed last year by the Council. Instead of sending money to Europe, it was proposed that the Council donate it to the Boys Club or the Good Shepherd Home in Allentown.

The exchanging of dinner guests between each fraternity on the campus was given final approval. Every Thursday night, each fraternity will send two of its members to another house for the evening meal and in return receive two guests at its own house.

Council Offers Code For 'Student Center'

Seeks To Avoid Regulation In Operation Of Building

The name of the Union Building has been officially changed to the Student Center by Student Council. Council also announced a new set of rules to go with the new name.

According to Bill Lybrand Student Council feels that the men of Muhlenberg College are mature enough to take care of the new Student Lounge without being burdened with a mass of rules and regulations; but that a few are necessary for the general conduct and smooth running of the Center. It has been decided that the following shall apply, until such time that necessity will make others necessary:

1. No food is to be taken from the Snack Bar into the Lounge, or lunches eaten there.
2. Organizations that would like to use the Lounge for recreational purposes—dances or meeting—must first seek clearance and approval from Council, to prevent conflicting engagements.
3. Any organization on campus that would like to use Student Council Room may do so, after approval by Council.
4. Posters placed in Lounge, are to be put on the Bulletin Boards, not on the walls.

It has also been decided to turn over the following rooms of the Student Center to the named organizations in answer to the petitions received by Council. M-Club will have room #4, M.C.A. room #3, and Cardinal Key and the Pre-Theo Club will jointly share room #1.

All of the Student Center is now a student project of cooperation and working together, all that is required now is just a little time in which to permit the Buildings and Grounds department to finish the necessary changes and make it the most attractive building on campus.

Frat Seeking Quarters; Lauds School's Kindness Holds Council Move Fair

Reflecting student body opinion, Student Council announced that it has recommended to the college that A section, East Hall, now occupied by Phi Sigma Kappa, be used for general student use in the Fall Term, 1950. In its letter of recommendation to the College, Council suggested the resolutions passed by the 1948-49 Council last May, that dormitory space in East Hall shall not be allocated to any specific organization but rather that it be reserved for general student body use; that as an alternative plan, space in the temporary dorm units be allocated for organizational use when requested.

Considered a Privilege

Student Council gave as its reasoning that Muhlenberg students have traditionally looked upon residence in East Hall as a particular privilege for upper-class men to which some honor and sentiment has been attached. Bill Lybrand, president of the Student Council, stated that Council further feels that student body morale is impaired by the allocation of a group of East Hall rooms to any specific organization and that an undesirable precedent has been set.

Two recommendations forwarded to the College by this year's Council were: that the tenure of the organization now occupying A section, East Hall not be renewed at the end of the present year, but that the hall be opened for general upperclassmen use in the fall term 1950, and Council feels that the student body is amenable to the alternative plan, that Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity be asked to redouble its efforts in finding a home off campus during the college year of 1949-50.

Council is Justified

Phi Sigma Kappa feels the Council is justified in its actions. As soon as the initiations are over, work will be done by the existing committee on housing for the fraternity, according to Mick Fulmer, vice president of P.S.K.

Phi Sigma Kappa chose East Hall in preference to any of the temporary dormitories because rental fees for the temporary dorms would have been too high, since Phi Sigma Kappa would have had to rent the entire dorm. They could not have utilized the abundant space available.

Kindness Appreciated

Phi Sig appreciates the opportunity given them by the college to be unified in East Hall, a unity which is vitally necessary to a newly organized fraternity, and they feel the entire matter is being handled fairly and squarely.

Artists Name Mohn To Jury

Will Judge Paintings For Lehigh Exhibit

Mr. Earle R. Mohn of the 'Berg English Department, has accepted the invitation of the Lehigh Art Alliance to serve on a jury for the selection of the paintings for the Fall Exhibit of its artistic members.

The Alliance will hold the exhibition at Lehigh University beginning on October 30. Mr. Garth Howland, head of the University's Art Department will direct the show and be official host for the display.

Mr. Mohn was selected because of his interest and his own abilities in the progressive arts, stated Kenneth Bogert, vice president in charge of the exhibition in a recent letter. "He should make an excellent member of the jury," Bogert said.

Mohn has been a member of the 'Berg faculty since 1947 and is faculty adviser of the Arcade, student literary publication.

Cheerleaders And Band Put Pep In Rallies

by Bennett I. Fisher

At the Duquesne football game, Saturday, October 1, Muhlenberg students got their first look at the new and improved cheerleading squad. Pep rallies were scheduled and practices were held. It was to be this squad of six men, who were to draw cheers for the 'Berg team for the '49 season.

This Friday night in the Science auditorium, a booster rally for the Albright game will be held.

Heading the squad this year is Lew Wence from Palmyra, N. J. Lew is a senior and has been on the squad for four years. New comers from the junior class are Luther Buchert from Shillington, and David Jones from Easton. The freshmen class boast three members from their ranks as cheerleaders: Bill Froebel from Swarthmore, Ed Martin from Long Island, and John Ziegler from Lancaster.

Can We As Freecutters Use The System Wisely?

The announcement by Dean Mercer last week that the Faculty Senate had approved a policy of unlimited cuts for juniors carried with it many implications. From the faculty viewpoint, as the Dean pointed out, it was "a vote of confidence." Decisions on policies of this nature are made by a responsible group only after due consideration of all influences acting upon the decision. For this reason, we would like to extend to the Faculty a "vote of appreciation" on behalf of the Student Body for the granting of this privilege.

But the vote of confidence implied more. It meant that last year's seniors had been willing to abide by their own code of self-discipline, and that the responsible way they handled their privilege of unlimited cuts was a determining factor of the Faculty Senate's decision this year to extend the privilege to juniors. This immediately presents a challenge to this year's Junior and Senior classes to act in the same mature manner—and it is a challenge we feel they will willingly meet.

The decision also augurs well for the future. It means that a spirit is being built up within the College community that students reaching their junior year at Muhlenberg College are men in every sense of the word, and are expected to bear the responsibility of their own actions. This spirit is also reflected by the added responsibilities granted our student government as it matures more and more.

It is up to each individual student to do his share to foster this spirit by conducting himself in a manner that reflects good reasoning at all times. We are all dependent one on the other in this area—in addition to future student bodies being dependent on us as an example. We feel we can do it; let's prove it to ourselves. W.A.L.

PARKING PROBLEMS

Allentown, Penna.
October 10, 1949

Mr. John R. McAuley
Supt. Bldgs. and Grounds
Muhlenberg College
Allentown, Penna.
Dear Sir:

We, the families in the Muhlenberg Housing Area, received a notice from your office last week. This notice, among other things, stated that parking on the STREETS and LAWNS in the housing area would not be permitted. Today, October 10th, many of us received warning tickets for violating the above order.

Question Reason For Order

It is with the above said facts in mind that we are writing you this letter. We are not of the opinion that rules and regulations should be broken. However, due to the fact that we are tenants as well as students, we think that we are entitled to question the reason for such an order. We also feel that it is our duty as well as our privilege to inform you of some pertinent facts in order to substantiate the view we have taken.

Condition of Streets

Our view, as you no doubt have surmised, is directly opposite from yours. We shall, as briefly as possible, attempt to show you why.

First let us consider the matter of streets. The streets are nothing but dirt with a little crushed stone here and there. In rainy weather they are purely and simply mud holes. Would you or your wife like to walk a half block to a block in the mud to get your car? Some of the students wives work in business establishments in Allentown. We are certain these wives will not appreciate muddy shoes before they arrive at work.

The second item to consider is the matter of lawns. Do you know that the lawns, where there are lawns, were planted by the families and at the families expense. The school, so far as we know, has not contributed one cent to beautify the area. The little grass and few flowers that one is able to see, appear because of the efforts and money of those of us who wish more than a back alley appearance.

Possible Solutions

What can and what should be done about this matter? We do not profess to know all the answers, all we would like to know is why we can not park in front of our homes if we pull far enough off the street to allow thru traffic. Are we doing wrong to park on the lawn that we planted and paid (Continued on Page Three)

A Vote Of Thanks To Those Who Have Saved The Union

Early morning in the newly decorated Student Center.

Student Council Completes Renovation Scheme By Re-Naming The Building "Student Center"

by Moe Fry

Any further description of the new Student Center Building would be redundant; it speaks for itself. However, before we become too accustomed to what we now have, let us look backward and see how these changes were accomplished, and then penetrate the future in anticipation of further developments.

Money Allocated

It is to the Student Council that a great deal of the credit should be given. Last year's group formulated the idea of improving the building, and laid the ground work for the changes; their endeavors were passed on to Bill Lybrand and the present Council, who brought the plans to fruition. During summer school, a committee of Council, together with Mr. MacGregor, the Treasurer, and Mr. McAuley, who had only recently arrived on campus to take over the Buildings and Grounds position, met with the representatives of the Board of Trustees to allocate the funds set aside—$7500.00 was given by the Board, and $1,000.00 came from Council. Several meetings were held, at which time blue prints, diagrams, material and construction were discussed. Then in July, with all in accord, work was contracted.

Grateful For Video

Scotty Wood was also a member of this planning committee, but he should be singled out for the remarkable job he did in setting up the Snack bar. Scotty moved in his own Snack-bar, stools and tables, in an endeavor to provide better eating facilities for the students, meeting all expenses himself. And above all, he should be thanked for installing his own television set, especially for this week, for our benefit. So watch for the new hours that the Snack bar will be open, the new service and meals that are planned.

Nor should we forget Mr. MacGregor and Mr. McAuley, who together handled the mass of financial and paper work that contracting and supervision of any construction job entails. It is easy for one group to lay the plans, but endless work is incurred in carrying such to completion.

And for the future—more changes are contemplated. The billiard tables in Liberty and North Halls are to be moved upstairs in the Student Center Building, completely renovated, with new cue sticks and balls, where all students may use them in their free time. Another room will be fixed up for commuting students, with lockers installed for their use; the upstairs rest room is to be changed into a Ladies Lounge, and the remaining rooms are to be turned over to various organizations on campus.

Care Is A Keynote

Here is a building of which we can be proud, one in which we can entertain our families and friends, and one that is a welcomed addition to the campus. But now that we have all this new furniture and equipment, let us show the College and the Board of Trustees that we can be responsible and trustworthy enough to handle these things with care and consideration. By proving ourselves now, we can insure ourselves of greater benefits later.

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

Burns succumbs: Warren Burns pinned Miss Kistler last week. She held his fraternity pin for five minutes while he went in for his X-ray. To quote Burns: "She was crushed when I asked for it back. Yes, we've been seeing quite a lot of each other lately. Of course," Burns continued, under pressure, "the fact that I almost have pneumonia doesn't enter into it a bit." (Columnist's note: Not much.)

Musical Miscarriage of the week! All right, all right, we give up! We've heard it so often it's driving us underground. A "C-Plus" for "I Can Dream, Can't I" by the "Tough Tonsiled Trio" (The Andrews Sisters to the musically unwashed). Fortunately, Maxene and Laverne took off on their broom sticks for parts unknown for most of the platter leaving only orchestra leader Gordon Jenkins holding the bag (Patty). However, the resulting effect is a 3 letter improvement over their usual "hay-seed hanky pank."

Bill Schell made good use of his long arms last week. For those who haven't seen it, the following is written on a sign that Bill thrust far forward into Gorgone's window display: "ASIA'S NUMBER 1 FOOTBALL HERO. ALL PHILLIPINO HALF-BACK." (In the middle is pasted a very virile picture of Larry Luongo.) "The Lung" has been trying to reach the sign for days, for confectionary purposes, but thanks to Schell's adept placing of the gem, he must be content to groan at it from the outside. So near and yet so far.

Henry Wickstrom of "Beat Lafayette and get Monday off," fame is having a birthday. The event is veiled in heavy secrecy, and employees speculate as to the number of candles in hushed tones: What's your guess? Tear off the head of the nearest History prof, and send it, along with your guess in fifty words or fewer, to this column. The best guesser will receive two 50 yard tickets to the Muhlenberg-Philadelphia Eagles classic.

Misters and Misses: Bud Bacharach is letting the luscious brunette with a '49 Chevy that he met at the fair take him out occasionally. Dick Becker and June Fortney will head for Niagara shortly. Bill Lybrand and Jack Wallace have confined their operations to N. Y. women lately, it says here. Chip Borrell adorns his newly required automobile with Dotty Rossar stashed in the front seat. SEEN AROUND: Gerry Scanlon and a N. Y. nurse. Al Rubbert, Misto Dietz and Harry Glickman with 8 WOMEN! Bob Lane and Judy. C. Q. McWilliams and Phyllis Hudson. Shelley Myerson and Karen doing a terrific Rumba.

Daffynition: Platonic Friendship—The brief interval between the introduction and the first kiss.

Too much homework? Al Tunie's buddies found him fast asleep on the you know what at 0200 A.M. recently. A 2-inch firecracker placed on the wash basin soon woke him up (along with the rest of East Hall).

Scoop of the week: At a private interview with Ray "Rabbit" Boomhower, it was disclosed that he magnanimously plans to leave the field open for the lead in the next Mask and Dagger production. In his words, "I think I'll retire and give the younger boys a chance." Here's your chance Thespians—now that Boomhower is out of the running, you should have it easy.

Seen on the Alumnae Page of a Sophomore's Matriculation book: After "Plans for the future:" "MARRIAGE, 3 KIDS AND 5,000,000 BUCKS." What an optimist. 3 KIDS AND MARRIAGE HE SAYS!

Lou Colombo, Student Council dance wheel, tasted success in his first offering at Castle Garden last Saturday. Pete Sansone played lots of old timers. Haps Benfer was among the notables, and Leo Martini dragged his woman through "Again" at Jitterbug tempo, all making for good entertainment.

The grapevine offers that Glen Bowersox and Earl Mohn have moved into East Hall. They have moved "fatherly faculty representatives." Tucking homesick kiddies in maybe?

Dick Lucia's number just wasn't up this weekend. He spied some "candy" on the living room table, tasted it, and spit it out in disgust. It wasn't until he reamed the woman of the house out for her poor choice of goodies that he learned that those candy canes were none other than ROACH POISON.

A married Vet at one of our neighboring educational institutions, who goes for the cup that cheers somewhat too much, tells the story about the time he was finally cornered by his wife in a bar, where he was dreamily contemplating a slug of rye. Being in a genial mood, he offered her a sip, but when she took it she gagged and spluttered, finally coming out with: "How can you ever drink that horrible stuff?"

"Shee", he retorted, "and all the while you thought I was having a good time!"

Dorm Scavengers Again Pull Big Raid On Furniture Hoards

Come Back Motto: The Early Birds Get The Worms As Well As The Chairs And Desks

by Bill Palmer

The first few weeks of the new fall term are invariably a confusing, but amusing, time for all concerned.

It starts, of course, with the boys who are on-the-ball jumping the gun and showing up at college several days early. The rooms of these "wiseheimers" (to quote Phil Harris) end up in glorious fashion. Regular searching tours are conducted through East Hall, and the result of these little escapades usually bears fruit. A nice double desk is found here, an easy chair there. One or two tours like this and these early birds have a comfortable setup in their rooms—a home away from home. The poor honest guy who arrives at college on the day officially designated is out of luck, but definitely. He can consider himself mighty fortunate if he can dig up a bed and a chair. His old desk is gone, and in its place is a little two-by-four table. But it is too late; he just has to make the best of it. Ah yes! Amusing for some, confusing for others.

Confusion Prevails

Then, too, the first two weeks of classes present many laughs and problems. Most of the boys spend their first days tearing around campus wondering what courses to drop, what to take instead, and at what time, etc. Getting courses lined up that will not prove too difficult is the object of all this concern. Bull sessions are a constant sight everywhere. Many decisions are made in these get-togethers. But convincing the advisers is the most formidable obstacle. However, after a great deal of pleading and reasoning, the student usually emerges with a triumphant smile, indicating that things are finally under control.

Shave Late Birds

Then there are always wise guys that finally pull in a week or so after classes have started. But they are too smooth to step into trouble; they know all the ins and outs, and invariably end up in better shape than anyone else. It takes all kinds of people to make a world, you know.

Come-back time is over for another year, but when September rolls around again next year, the old routine will again run its course.

"The Four Muhlenbergs" Among Creative Murals Adorning Main Lobby In Ad Bldg.

Class Of 1914 Commissioned Former Art Professor To Commemorate Religious History In Wall Paintings

by Tom Cole

Arthur J. Schneider, Mural Creator.

The colorful murals flanking the north and south entrances to the new Administration Building are obviously not lost to the many who pass through every day. The murals are a stunning contribution to the excellence of the new building. Sensitive distortions of human form combined with technical aspects brought over from the cubist and abstract painters of the late 19th and 20th Centuries distinguish these new murals. Arthur J. Schneider, recently of 'Berg's Art Department, is the creator of the murals.

Varied Expenses

Mr. Schneider was commissioned to do the murals by the Class of 1914 when it met to mark the 35th anniversary of its graduation over the commencement season. Behind Mr. Schneider's art are many years of study and practical application. He has done murals for New York University, the Post Exchange of the Atlanta Ordnance Depot, several Newark schools, and in two schools in Tlaxcala, (Continued on Page Six)

Mar Kay Calls For Wives To Attend The Next Meeting

Dr. Spelt Speaks On Topic of Child Psychology As First In Series Of Lectures By Dept. Heads

The Mar-Kay club invites all students' wives, members of the club as well as non-members of Mar-Kay, to attend their next meeting to be held on Tuesday, October 18 at 8 p.m. in the West Hall Reception Room.

Dr. Spelt Lectures

The next gathering will initiate the club's new series of social meetings. It is planned that this year these meetings will be conducted as lectures by the various heads of the several departments on campus. To begin with, Dr. David Spelt, Head of the Department of Psychology, will lecture on the topic, "Child Psychology". In addition to the lecture, Dr. Spelt intends to show films and then lead a discussion period on the proposed topic.

According to Mrs. Freed, "the reason for these lecture series is that the wives feel it is one way to get closer to the men under whom their husbands are studying, and to get a clearer understanding of the subjects their husbands are studying."

Refreshments Served

After the lecture and discussion period, refreshments will be served. Pauline Ortwein, Marge Bashore, and Audrey Gaugler compose the committee responsible for the refreshments.

At the meeting held on October 4, new members were initiated into the club; they are: Louise Wurst, Pauline Ortwein, Olga Yuhasz, Audrey Gaugler, Louise Kohl, Pat Gernent, Ann Diehl, Irma Blöse, Emily Santos, Lorraine Willman, Norma Lewis, and Violet Schmitt.

Scouts Visit 'Berg' Campus

This Saturday, October 15, will mark the fourth annual Boy Scout Pilgrimage to the campus of Muhlenberg. This pilgrimage includes all troops sponsored by the Brotherhood of the Lutheran Ministerium. The college host will be Mr. Glen Bowersox, assisted by the Cardinal Key Society.

Cardinal Key this year is under the presidency of Martin Weismann.

Bowersox is a member of the Chemistry department.

The annual event was organized to bring the members of the Boy Scouts to the 'Berg campus in order to acquaint them with the Muhlenberg tradition. Mr. Bowersox stated that the day will begin with registration at 3:00 p.m. in the new Student Center. A devotional service in the chapel, the showing of films in the Science auditorium, and a meal in the college commons will follow in the afternoon. The Scouts will then go to the Albright-Muhlenberg football game in the Allentown High School stadium where a block of seats has been reserved.

Men Appointed To Dormitory Councils

ATTENTION ALL DORMITORY RESIDENTS

Student Council announced today that Dorm Councils have been set up in all dormitories.

Dorm Councils are charged with seeing that the dormitory regulations as set down in "M" Book are strictly enforced. Power to handle all infractions of dorm regs is delegated to Dorm Council with privilege of review by Student Council in disciplinary cases.

Dorm Council also is authorized to receive suggestions from resident students concerning any area of interest to dorm residents and make recommendations to Student Council as it sees fit. Dorm Council chairman for present semester is Herman Michaels.

Tours Listed By Marks' Men

Trips to Hazleton and Mauch Chunk, and five other tours of Lutheran Churches in the area have been scheduled by the 'Berg Chapel Choir for this semester according to Choir manager Paul Howells. With new freshmen members, the Choir now numbers over fifty members.

During the first practice, Dr. Harold K. Marks, director, reported the many trips to be taken; the first a Reformation Day trip on October 30.

Physics Club Hear Atom Talk

Speaking on the topic, "Applications of Atomic Energy," Prof. Willard Spatz of Lehigh University addressed the first meeting of the Physics Club of Lehigh Valley. The initial meeting of the 1949-50 season was held in Pardee Hall on the campus of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., last evening at 8:00 p.m.

Before the lecture a dinner was served the members of the organization at the Lafayette Faculty Club at McCartney and Clinton.

In addition to the regular members of the club, a number of interested non-members attended, in response to an invitation extended by the club to all interested persons.

Chapel Programs

Perhaps one of the best sermons presented on Character was given on Tuesday morning, by Dr. Hepner at Chapel. But—a very significant BUT, Dr. Hepner failed to answer the question he started his address with; namely, in answer to the statement that chapel programs are too cut and dry. If the good Doctor had reference to a letter that appeared earlier this semester by this writer, he misunderstood the text. We are not seeking a pyrotechnical display of oratory, but simply variety. Lest we forget, the college community is not composed of 1100 plus Lutherans, but a variety of religious groups, who should be taken into consideration when the Chapel program is set up. This is a changing world, and we are here for a liberal education; can our Chapel programs then face this challenge?

Signed:

A Liberal

Mules Set For Albright Lions On Saturday

Leopards Stop Berg 35-21; England Tosses 3 Mule TD's

The Lafayette Leopards, sparked by the brilliant running of Gordon Fleming and passing of Frank Downing, defeated the Muhlenberg Mules by a 35-21 score last Saturday in Easton. This game was the first Lafayette win for the 1949 season as they had dropped their first two games to Princeton and Syracuse. The Cardinal and Grey of Muhlenberg have yet to win a ball game in three starts.

OVER... THE LINE

by Chuck Morgan

Those Mule gridders look better in every game and barring injuries they will get tougher as the season progresses.

Everyone is waiting with keen interest the first Freshman football game with Lafayette, October 21. There are enough good boys in the squad to make next year's varsity have some depth in material.

Bennie Borgmann got a look at his basketball team last night. Bennie will have the team out practicing in earnest November 1.

Down at Long Island, the school newspaper is wondering who is going to lead their 1949-50 basketball squad. The players they list are: Sherman White, Eddie Gard, Dolph Bigos and Herb Scherer.

Now that the World Series is over there probably will be no shouts and yells coming from the basement of West Hall. Many students were bargaining for front row "counter" seats at Scotty Wood's "bar" during the Series.

Berg Booters Ready For Temple Contest

The first game of Muhlenberg College's Soccer season was postponed last Friday due to inclement weather conditions. The scheduled game with LaSalle College of Philadelphia will be played at a future date. As it appears now the Lehigh and Rutgers tussles are the "musts" on the schedule if Muhlenberg College is to win the Middle Atlantic title, it last won in 1946.

The booters are eagerly looking forward to the Temple University game on Saturday, October 15, on the local soccer field. Temple has one of the best teams in the East and many 'Bergsters still remember the '47 game when the locals

Two New Coaches Vie Under Stadium Lights

Albright College will invade Allentown this Saturday night for its traditional gridiron battle with the Muhlenberg Mules. It will be the 28th meeting between the two colleges since 1902 with 'Berg holding a sixteen to nine edge. The Lions have not beaten the Cardinal and Grey since 1941, and will be seeking revenge. Last year the Mules triumphed by a 13 to 0 game score.

Albright Wins, 33-6; Lehigh Drops First To Rutgers, 40-27

While Muhlenberg was suffering its third straight loss of the season, its future opponents were giving warning that there will be no breathers this year.

Albright, this week's opposition, invaded Bethlehem Friday night and served notice that they will be out to avenge last year's defeat at the hands of the Mules. Although Albright lost their first two games, they looked impressive in rolling up a 33-6 score against Moravian, a team that had extended Scranton before bowing in defeat.

Speaker Sparks G-burg

Gettysburg, led by a 142 pound halfback who can run like a scared jack-rabbit, had little trouble in defeating Drexel by a score of 21-0. Little Dwight Speaker turned in some beautiful runs including two of 80 and 52 yards that carried him into paydirt.

One of the week's biggest upsets took place at Lewisburg where two future 'Berg rivals tangled. The highly touted Blue Hens of Delaware, who handed the Mules one of their set-backs last year, lost to the Bisons of Bucknell by a 13-6 score. Bucknell, led by quarterback Tom Dean, opened the scoring in the first period when he passed to McKibbin in the end zone. The try for the extra point

The visitors from Reading have won one and lost two this year, defeating Moravian 33-6, last Friday night. Previously West Chester State Teacher's College and Lincoln University had up-ended the Red and White warriors 46-6, and 14-12, respectively.

Gulian First Year Man

Eddie Gulian, who is in his first year as head coach at Albright, will use the two-platoon system, substituting entire elevens whenever the ball changes possession.

The Lions have a light backfield, but have two scat-backs, Whrota and Krouse, who can really go. Running the T-formation is Harnly, a fair passer and an excellent kicker. At the full-back slot is Czunto, who makes up for what he lacks in size with his spirit.

Pedota, Bird, Line Standouts

Along the two forward walls are several standout players with Pedota, an end, the bulwark of the defensive unit, and Bird, a tackle, the star of the offensive line. Of the two line units the offensive is slightly heavier than the defensive.

As a whole, the team is not too heavy, but this handicap is overcome by indomitable spirit and grit.

The Lions have been improving rapidly with each game, and if their victory over Moravian, a much beefier team, is any criterion, they promise to give the Mules quite a scrap.

Coach Howie Baughman's men, after three straight setbacks, will be hungry for a victory, and hope to hit the old comeback trail when the opening whistle blows on Saturday night.

Student Council announces that there will be a barn dance in the Student Center after the pajama parade Friday, October 21.

Triplett, New Grid Front Man

Tom Triplett, varsity line coach who hails from Ironton, Ohio.

Ironton Native To Build Lines Of Steel

by Frank Rex

Muhlenberg's new builder of forward walls is blond, sharp-featured Tom Triplett, an ex-Army Air Corps Major, who hails from the Buck-eye State of Ohio. When Howard Baughman was named head football coach by the Muhlenberg Athletic Committee, one of his first moves was to select this likeable and capable Ohioan for one of his assistants.

Native of Ironton

Tom Triplett's home town in Ohio is Ironton. Making Ironton High's football team at the guard position was one of his first athletic achievements. He also played guard on Ironton High's basketball team.

Named to All-Southern Team

After graduating from high school, Tom matriculated at Western Kentucky where he played football, but not basketball, leaving the court game to the rangier denizens of Kentucky. However, he did more than hold his own on the gridiron, and in 1938 was named on the All-Southern eleven at the guard position. He was graduated with a B.S. degree from Western Kentucky in 1939 and later did graduate work at the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Triplett's first coaching job was at his hometown high school, Ironton, where he led his teams through three successful seasons in '39, '40, and '41, prior to going into the Air Corps. After the war he was not good, and when Delaware scored in the second period on a 20-yard run through center by O'Toole, and then made good on the conversion to lead at the half, it looked bad for the Bisons. However, the Dad's Day crowd was in for a thrill in the final half when another Dean pass, this time to Ostendarp, connected for the second Bison touchdown. Delaware fought back, but the Bison forward wall proved to be too much as they twice held the Hens on the 10 and the 6.

Lehigh Loses First

Although Lehigh suffered their first loss of the season after easily winning their first two games, they gave indication that they will be a hard team to beat. The 40-27 setback that powerful Rutgers handed them, only shows that although Lehigh was outclassed, they have a team that is fighting all the way. Lehigh jumped off to an early 14-0 lead only to have Rutgers come back to pile up 40 points before the Engineers could score again. In the final quarter Lehigh, led by Dick Gabriel, came back to score another 13 points. In Gabriel, Lehigh has one of the fastest break-away runners in the East. It was Gabriel who was constantly running through the 'Berg line for long gains last year.

Over The Line

This week the hat goes off to "Scotty" Wood for his fine gesture of putting a television set in the Student Center.

Bobby Mirth, former 'Berg line star, playing professional football with the Richmond Rebels in the American Pro-League.

Two former leaders of Muhlenberg basketball are to be honored within the next two weeks. They are "Doggie" Julian and Harry Donovan. Julian will be honored on October 23, when his Boston Celtics tangle with the Philadelphia Warriors. On October 26, Harry, who plays with the New York Knickerbockers, will have his night when the Knicks also play the Warriors.

almost upset the Cherry and White.

Coach Altemos has not named a starting lineup, but Campbell, Amelio, Shegina, Kaelber, Batten, Lum, Rollo, Eichner, Doll, and Funk are almost certain to be in the starting lineup while Offner, Finkelstein, Dorward, Johnson, Drach, Coplin, and Serbus should see plenty of action. Etchman and Hausman are capable goaltenders battling for a starting berth.

During the past week, two games involving four 'Berg opponents were played, Lehigh and Rutgers battled to a 1-1 deadlock, indicating that they both are strong.

Sig Eps, Sinners Win I-M Starts

Intra-Mural touch football got off to an early start at 'Berg with one six team league, composed of the first entries, opening its schedule last Monday afternoon, October 10.

The games saw the "Sinners" conquer Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity while the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity took the measure of the "Flying Dutchmen" on Tuesday by a 25-0 score. The other two teams in the league are the Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Tau Omega fraternities.

League number two will begin to operate as soon as the full quota of entries is met. Several teams have already been entered into the contest.

"Bull" Ritter is looking forward to a good Intra-Mural competition in all sports. Schedules and standings are posted on the bulletin board in the Physical Education office located in West Hall gymnasium.

The winners of a game receive ten points while losers get five, with forfeits resulting in loss of fifteen points. The high point scorer is awarded the league trophy.

Leopards Down Mules, 35 - 21; England Pitches Berg Touchdowns

the first play from scrimmage, Fleming galloped 50 yards for the Leopards' second touchdown. The kick was good and 'Berg tailed 14-0. Another Cardinal and Grey fumble gave Lafayette the ball on 'Berg's fifteen, but a pass interception in the end zone by Hal Roveda gave 'Berg the ball on the twenty. Another penalty moved 'Berg back to their fifteen, but England passed to Jackson who took it on the forty and raced the remaining 60 yards for 'Berg's first score. The play covered 85 yards. Averno's attempt was good, making the score 14-7. On the second play after the kickoff Fleming sped around left end, and with excellent blocking went 68 yards for Lafayette's third score. Durstein's kick made it 21-7.

The early minutes of the third period witnessed a kicking duel with the ball remaining between the twenties. Half way through the period Lafayette began to move into 'Berg territory. Their drive carried them down to the six where with five and a half minutes left in the period, Downing completed a pass to McCall in the end zone for another Leopard score.

Averno Recovery Sets Up Score

On the third play of the final period Filepus drove over from the two for the fifth Maroon touchdown. The kick was good, making the score 35-7 in favor of Lafayette. A Lafayette fumble on 'Berg's twenty-six, which was recovered by Averno, set up 'Berg's second score. England completed a pass to Miller in the end zone for a T.D. Averno's kick was good and the score read 35-14. 'Berg drove from their own fifteen into Lafayette territory where England completed to Latsko on the thirty and he went the rest of the way for the final score of the game. Averno kicked the extra point, making the score read, Lafayette 35, Muhlenberg 21.

Berg Murals

Mexico.

Themes Apropos

The murals were completed over the summer vacation. Mr. Schneider's themes are: west wall of South entrance depicts Martin Luther holding his original translation of the Bible, to his left the people to whom he brought it, and in the background the door of Wittenberg upon which appear his Ninety-five Theses. The door is superimposed on Wartburg.

East wall of south entrance depicts the four Muhlenberg brothers in various poses common to them in history. These need no interpretation. The background combines patterns of the American flag (with its original 13 stars), the first buildings of Muhlenberg College, the tower of the present Administration Building, and the gable end of the Gideon F. Egner Memorial Chapel.

Resemblance Noted

The east wall contains the last mural, an unusually well executed composition depicting the fusion of the good things of the earth (of the Creation), students of the college, and religion. The mural itself represents the force of education in bringing together these diverse matters. The design, almost like a wheel, is planned so that all things tend toward one center—the hub. Here Mr. Schneider has captured an intellectual argument in an abstracted image.

The murals were officially dedicated at ceremonies held in the Chapel and in the lobby of the Administration Building, Sunday, September 25.

ATTENTION JUNIORS

The first meeting of the Junior Class will be held Thursday, October 20, at 11:00 a.m. in Room 105 of the Science Building.

Oops!—Edward Shellenberger, a stalwart A.T.O. man, emerged from the house the other day and walked around the front end of his dashing, '49 Buick. Since an antique auto was steaming down the same side of the street, Ed waited in front of his car only to have the driver of said antique stop and offer him a lift.

Intellectual Corner—Recently someone blew a fuse in one section of East Hall, and to the dismay of the students in that section, the Pistol-Packing Janitor did not know where the fuse box was located.

We hear that Dr. Alfred Borneman, in his Labor Relations class, queried an Art major as to whether he was taking the L.R. course for "snap" quality points. "Oh, no! I know better than that", came the prompt reply.

Plan To Rebuild Soon

Gabriel also said that he expected reconstruction to start very soon and that the house would be ready for re-occupancy by the end of the Christmas vacation. Members of the fraternity also wish to add a third floor fire escape to the building, but are not sure that they will be able to finance a fire escape at the present time.

Faces Tough Task

Muhlenberg's new line coach faces the tough task of trying to mold an impregnable wall out of a relatively small amount of available manpower. Quality but not quantity keynotes the material that Triplett will have to integrate into a line which, although outweighed and outnumbered by most of its opponents, will not be outmaneuvered, outsmarted, or outfought.

Welcome Mat Out For Freshman Parents Day

President Tyson, College Band, Choir Take Part; Program Includes Campus Tree Planting Fete

The tenth annual tree planting ceremony, an address by President Tyson, the first showing of the college choir and a brief concert by the college band will highlight the annual Freshmen Parents Day program, Saturday.

Under the guiding hand of Dean of Freshmen "Haps" Benfer, this program will range from registration from 10 to 11 a.m. to the renewal of gridiron battles between the Muhlenberg Mules and the Bullets of Gettysburg College at 8 p.m.

Tyson To Speak

Chaplain Horn will be in charge of Chapel Service. A welcoming address by President Tyson will highlight the service, which will also present the 1949 edition of the college choir for the first time.

The tree planting ceremony, a tradition that is celebrating its tenth anniversary, will take place in the vicinity of West Hall. President Tyson will receive the tree from a committee representing the members of the Freshman Class on behalf of the college and it will be planted as a living memorial to the men of '53.

Open Forum In Auditorium

The 2:30 meeting of parents in the Science auditorium will be in the nature of an open forum. Selections by the college band will open the program, followed by the introduction of the college officials. The parents then will be given the opportunity to ask questions and discuss any problems concerning the college.

The tea in the foyer at West Hall will end the campus activities at 4 p.m. At 8 p.m. the Freshman Class and their parents will sit in a special section to watch the annual clash between the once defeated Gettysburg eleven and the victory hungry Mules who will be

Piano Virtuoso Stars On Next Stage Program

Young Artist Brings Ability, Background To Assembly

Piano virtuoso Franz Bodfers will be the featured star of the next assembly program, to be given Thursday, Oct. 27, in the Science auditorium at 11 a.m. Mr. Bodfers, who has just recently returned from intensive training abroad, is well known for his interpretations of the masterpieces.

He is especially skilled, it is reported, in giving a new and fresh interpretation to the standard works. In his musicianship "can be discerned a powerful independence of thinking and in the freedom of his outlook from a close adherence to rigid of outworn modes of interpretation can be recognized his directness of penetration to the original thoughts and feelings of the composer." According to notices, Bodfers' pianistic delivery has a continuity of musical line and clarity of form.

Mr. Bodfers has studied in Italy and Paris as well as with some of America's "best musical advice and assistance."

Dr. Meyer Gives Closing Talk Of Goethe Week

Dr. Heinrich Meyer, assistant professor of German at Muhlenberg since 1947 and international expert on Goethe, will give the important closing lecture of the Goethe Bicentennial celebration at the University of Pennsylvania on Friday evening, October 21. Dr. Meyer's lecture, to be delivered in English, is entitled "Goethe's Ethics and Religion." The address will be given at 8:00 p.m. in the University Museum Auditorium, 34th and Spruce streets, Philadelphia.

Dr. Meyer, in recent weeks, has had another honor conferred upon him. He will be listed as an "Internationally known Goethe scholar" in Who Knows—and What, a new work published as a highly selective companion volume to Who's Who. It was also revealed that Dr. Meyer is one of the four living persons that have read and studied all known Goethe material.

Long Is First Choice For The Senior Ball

Class Also Nominates Men For Faculty Adviser Post

At a meeting held in the Science auditorium on Wednesday morning, October 12, the Class of 1950 selected Johnny Long and his nationally famous orchestra as first choice to play for its Senior Ball.

The Senior Ball, always a big event on the 'Berg social calendar, will be held on Friday evening, December 9, at Castle Garden, in Dorney Park. Lou Colombo is in charge of all dance arrangements and should announce the various committees shortly.

Besides selecting an orchestra for the Ball, the Senior Class drew up a list of nominations for its class adviser. Under a new administrative order, it is required that each class have an adviser, who is selected by Dean Mercer from a list of nominees drawn up by the respective classes. Those nominated by the seniors are: Doctors Victor Johnson and Russel Smart, and Messrs. William Green, Charles Mowry, Harold Stenger, and Kenneth Webb.

Student Body Weighs New Campus Issues

Plans for a swimming team, new improvements in the Student Center and the possibility of an honor system at 'Berg, were among the items of new business discussed at the first student body meeting of the year Thursday, October 13.

The motion to ask the Athletic Committee of the College to start a swimming team was tabled until a report could be made on student interest in the project. Dick Baxter was appointed to make this report to Council.

Honor System Discussed

Bill Lybrand, President of Council, reported that plans are under way for the installation of a ladies room in the Student Center. Plans for the eventual adoption of an honor system at 'Berg are still in the discussion stage between Council and the Administration.

Mr. Lybrand stressed the fact that much responsibility had been placed on the individual student in the running of the Student Center and the free cut system.

Frosh March In Pajama Parade As City Gives Final Approval

Mayor Hock And City Officials At First Reluctant; Then Grant Permission, But Outline Rules Of Conduct

by Bob Long

Reversing an initial reluctance to grant 'Berg students the right to hold a Pajama Parade, Mayor Hock and city officials Saturday morning approved observance of the annual affair. However, the mayor and city officials emphatically enumerated a set of conditions which all participants are expected to obey.

The parade, therefore, will be held as scheduled on Friday, Oct. 21, and will form at the A.T.O. House, at 7 p.m. The line of march will follow Chew St. to 17th, South on 17th to Hamilton Street, and east on Hamilton to Center Square. After the pep rally in the square the frosh will use the same route to return to the school where a barn dance will be held in the Student Center.

Lehigh Bonfire Possible

At a conference with Mayor Hock, chief-of-police Christine, Dean Benfer, and William Lybrand it was disclosed that the city officials were reluctant to allow Muhlenberg to carry on this tradition in view of the heavy damage done to the city last year. However, the city authorities agreed to continue the tradition this year in hopes that the situation will be properly conducted. If not, this tradition will cease they reported. Conditional permission was also granted to hold a bonfire before the Lehigh game; that condition being that the pajama parade is properly handled.

Conditions To Be Observed

The agreements reached by the city officials and the college representation are:

1. If the parade is unsuccessful in maintaining order, permission will not be granted for the parade in future years.

Pajamas will again fill center square this year when gayly clad Frosh scamper for the highest seat on the monument.

Barn Dance And Pep Rally Climax Frosh "P. J." Night

Girls And Cider, Speeches And Cheers Highlight Night Program Dedicated To Beating Gettysburg

The pajama parade will be climaxed this year with a pep rally in the Center Square and a barn dance in the Student Center. A guest speaker from town in addition to Jack Crider and one of the football coaches will deliver the speeches of the evening accompanied by music from the band and cheers by the cheerleaders.

Immediately after the pep rally a roll call of freshmen will be taken and the freshmen will march back to campus under the guide of the Freshman Tribunal.

According to Marvin Berger, who is making the arrangements, a hundred girls have been invited to attend the barn dance that begins as soon as the freshmen arrive back on the campus. Lou Colombo, Student Council chairman, of the dance, has announced that a regular hill-billy band has been secured complete with a dance caller. Refreshments will be served. Dr. Raub of the Science department will be the chaperone for the affair.

Mind Medicine Pre-Med Topic

"Psycho-Somatic Medicine in the General Practice" will be the topic of Dr. Harold Everett, Northampton physician, when he addresses the Pre-Medical Society Wednesday, October 26, in the Science Building.

According to Dr. Everett, a 'Berg graduate, his talk will deal with "the effect of the mind upon the organs and functions of the body."

Holding the rank of Captain in an Army Medical Corps unit attached to the Ninth Army, Dr. Everett won the Bronze Star, "for meritorious service in action" in Europe during the last war. He is a fellow of the American Medical Association and a member of the Lehigh County Medical Society.

After graduating from Temple University Medical School in 1939, he served his internship in Allentown, and at present is practicing in Northampton.

President Richard Rosamilia announces that all eligible applicants for membership in the Pre-Med Society will be accepted at this meeting, and urges all regular members to attend. Eligibility requirements have been posted on the bulletin board, 3rd floor of the Science Building, for the benefit of new men.

Vets Meet McAuley; Discuss Grievances

Seek To Correct Prevailing 'Uncomfortable' Conditions

Twenty-three married veterans, representing the thirty-seven families living in the Veterans' Housing area met with Mr. John B. McAuley, Supt. of Buildings and Grounds on October 13 to discuss the many problems which have been confronting them relative to the general conditions of their apartments and surrounding area. The veterans claim that the conditions prevailing are hazardous and extremely uncomfortable.

Harmony Noted

The meeting demonstrated the willingness of both veterans and Administration to discuss problems in an earnest, harmonious and orderly fashion. Mr. McAuley pointed out that the Administration is fully aware of its responsibilities as to coping with whatever problems its students are confronted, but the Administration sometimes find themselves against a stone wall—such as lack of funds.

Safety Angle Stressed

The ex-GI's asked that traffic warning signs, particularly in regard to speed, be placed along the roads in their area for motorists to observe. They also asked for an inspection of the wiring in their homes as a precaution against fire.

Veterans stated that the roads and walks in their area, which is west of South Hall, should be covered with a hard surface, for it serves as a distributor of dust, dirt, and mud.

They also suggested to Mr. McAuley that the College should landscape the land surrounding their homes, not fashionably, but attractively, to at least present a good appearance and approach to their homes.

Mr. McAuley has promised to bring all of the facts to the attention of the proper authorities for their consideration and possible action.

Posts Open In Cardinal Key

The Cardinal Key Society announced this week that there are three vacancies in its membership. One of these is available for a senior and the other two for sophomores. All candidates who are interested in becoming members in the organization are invited to attend a meeting on Wednesday, October 26, in the West Hall reception room. A future announcement will be aimed for freshman candidates.

The Cardinal Key Society is the service society of Muhlenberg whose members voluntarily serve at many college functions.

PROS AND CONS—Chapel battle of words goes into fourth round. This week the pros match "a Liberal" against the cons "cut and dried". Blow by blow account in Mule Kicks column, page two.

Let's Keep Our Hands In Our Pajama Pockets

The citizens and merchants of Allentown are accustomed to associate our Pajama Parade with vandalism and unmanly behavior. Only reluctantly did the city fathers this year grant permission for the traditional event. This season's mass town debut resolves itself into a probationary event.

If the student body, invading center Square Friday night, maintains its spirits within the bounds of clean fun and gentlemanly behavior, both the local citizenry and government will see fit to permit and condone other traditional events, such as the Lehigh game bonfire. The town will also continue to sponsor and participate in campus activities.

An exhibition of rowdiness and peurile antics will not only alienate the townspeople but seriously hamper the college administration's current program of basing campus regulations and academic freedom on the student's personal responsibility.

Every 'Bergman on Friday night, has within his power the means to influence a decision—"are Muhlenberg students to be treated as college men or high school boys?"

Each participant of the Pajama Parade represents the college. Mature gentleman or juvenile Halloween prankster, the course followed will determine his future treatment. Besides "beat Gettysburg," the keynote should be "consideration and responsibility."

STUDENT BODY METINGS

Dear Editor,

Let me preface this grievance by saying that it is not aimed at any particular class or individual. This morning I went to the Student Body meeting, and, to my dismay, I found a small sprinkling of men. This is not right because the very men that were absent are the ones who continually "bitch" that the Student Council does not do anything to make life happier for the Muhlenberg undergraduate. If some of these "bitchers" would come to the meeting, for which time is allotted, they would see that the Student Council is doing more than making investigations and assigning committees.

Let's try to get better attendance at these meetings and show the Student Activities President and the members of the governing body that we are up to date with its activities and behind them one hundred per-cent.

CHAPEL PROGRAMS

To "A liberal" who is concerned about "Chapel Programs":

I too am a "liberal," a liberal Lutheran pastor, an Alumnus of Muhlenberg, a sometime teacher of religion to young men. My friends tell me I am about as "liberal" as I can get and remain Lutheran.

I am glad you expect much of College Chapel and are critical in a positive way. I wonder, however, whether you have forgotten or mis-read the Muhlenberg-text, or whether it was never read to you. In a modern version (my own translation)—it reads like this:

"I am Muhlenberg College. I was conceived and brought forth and am still nurtured by Christians whose interpretation of the gospel is that of the Lutheran Church. I am meant to be a place where some young men may be prepared for full-time Christian service and where all others who come may receive a liberal Christian education, as the Church which fosters me understands mature Christianity."

No Middle Course

"I am ready to receive people of all sorts of religious persuasion, if they desire to come to me. I do not compel them to believe as I do in order to come or to go forth from me. But the central purpose of my existence is to give to them the Christian witness as I have come, under God, to understand it. They must never expect me to water down or compromise my witness because they do not share it."

"In my classes I stand ready to explain and reason and discuss and philosophize. But when I call men to worship in chapel, I must be faithful to my fundamental convictions: I must be positive, conscientious, consistent, for I am worshipping God."

Spiritual Lack

When you—"liberal student" friend criticize that which is for you "cut and dried," I assume you mean that which is lifeless from a spiritual point of view. If so, you

Girls That Don't Have To Do Homework Yet Both Are Experienced Homemakers

It Could Happen Only At Berg--Two Single Girls Spend Evenings Alone Enjoying Musical Recordings

Miss Jean Minner, College Nurse and Miss Normalee Crowe, Library Secretary.

by Dick Dorfman

Do you like your women in trim five foot two inch packages with brown hair, flashing brown eyes, and a sparkling personality? Who doesn't? As extra added attraction, do you like to see them interested in a home and cooking? You say they don't make that type anymore? Mister, you've been talking to the wrong people. You owe it to yourself to take a long look at the latest addition to the Library—a modern lass cut from an old-fashioned pattern.

Exacting Secretary

Through the courtesy of Avella, Pennsylvania, (about 35 miles south of Pittsburgh) the Muhlenberg campus is now graced with the presence of Normalee Crowe. Lee, as she is more intimately known, came to the Lehigh Valley about a year ago and settled at the home of her sister and brother-in-law in Allentown. A year at Allentown High School studying business courses brought Lee to graduation and after graduation came the job at Muhlenberg. That Muhlenberg gained a loyal, industrious, conscientious worker was amply proved to us when we found Lee hard at work, even though her boss was not present for the day.

When asked about the boy friend, Lee said that she didn't have a "steady," but she would be interested if she could find the right man. She expressed a doubt that there were many men who would be interested in a "home girl." We chased her around the room a few times to let her know that we were interested. Lee said she likes to dance and is very fond of popular music. She mentioned the score from the musical "South Pacific" as being her current favorite. We broke into a fast soft shoe routine to show that we had similar interest.

Time Needed

What does Lee think of Muhlenberg men? She blushed prettily when we asked her that one, but she answered that she didn't feel that she had been here long enough to form any definite opinions. She did add, however, that so far the fellows she has met here have been very pleasant and have made her feel right at home. What are her plans for the future? Since her hobby is cooking, it shouldn't be too hard to guess, but for the immediate future Lee in-

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

Coincidence maybe: Rapid Harry Kreutzberg's photo appeared in a local paper this week. One hour after the bundle of papers was delivered to the Rosemark, there wasn't one to be had. My, we have rabid fans, haven't we Harry? (Never you mind, Harry, keep playing like you did Saturday, and I'll help you collect pictures!)

The following was contributed by Guenter Jansen: "Famous Last Words": Before the tryouts, Guenter Jansen, newcomer to "Mask and Dagger" and star of the forthcoming Laburnum Grove was heard to say, "It's all fixed. Even though I'm good at the tryouts, I won't even get a one-line part."

Guenter was last seen eating his words between a copy of the script and a package of Andy Erskine's tobacco.

On the social side: John D'Elissio pinned Marge Russo. Ozzie Snyder took Mary Southey out of circulation. Ugly rumor has it that Don Malone, frosh transfer football potential stole Dick McGee's girl. Tsk, tsk. Bob McCready, the cad, recently accepted a monogrammed beer mug from one of his many female admirers. Reconciliation of the week: Bobbie Beam and Pete Popko. (Good luck on the second try you two.) Seen around: Dave Einen and 'Copper' Schussler.

Pedagogic pranks and patter: For some reason, Andy Erskine's Journalism class didn't get started on time that day. 2:20, 2:25 and then 2:30 glared the clock on the wall . . . Mr. Erskine was still talking, and students were beginning to squirm. At 2:35, unable to restrain itself further, a meek voice piped up the back of the room, "Mr. Erskine, sir, may I please go to my 2:30 class?" Subtle like a ton of bricks.

Last week, Doc. Smart was explaining to his Organic Chemistry class, how electrons revolve around their orbits. "Chances are," he said, "about one to twenty of finding electrons, for instance, at THIS position." As he pointed, approximately 20 pounds of plaster cascaded down the ceiling, landing about 3 feet from him. Restrain your gesture somewhat Doctor, we're still paying for the Ad Building you know.

Tidbits: Muhlenberg frosh won the Cedar Crest Tug-of-War last week. Wally Lum bangs heads with the best of them on the soccer field and never gets hurt. But when he was putting an armchair in his room the other day, he sprained his ankle, and broke a blood vessel. Cheerleader John Ziegler finally got himself a pair of pants that fit. The last pair ripped right where it hurts. ATO has a coin-box phone. SH. We're trying to save money. Peaches Pechilli is scouting for J. Birney Crum. Orchids to Phi Sigma Kappa for a long hard fight. It reaps a just harvest tomorrow night when Lehigh officially installs them as a full fledged fraternity.

Leo Martini is still grubbing cigarettes. He claims that this is because he has given up smoking (his own).

Daffynition: Secret: something you tell one person at a time.

From Where I Sit Requisites A Boon Not Burden With Open-minded Approach

More often than I like, I hear from Muhlenberg men the comment, "Just wait until I finish the required courses and then I will show you what I can do." The attitude characterized by this statement, if held by enough men, can be fatal to the idea of a liberal education, as well as to the idea that a Muhlenberg man has not only the capacity but also the desire to reach into the reservoir of intellectual, moral and spiritual power which lies in liberal studies.

In my recent comment that many men were selling their birthright of liberal studies for vocational preparation, I hinted at this problem. Central to the idea of a required curriculum such as we have at Muhlenberg is the concept that before a man may be said to have had a Muhlenberg education he must have had those intellectual experiences, which will enable him to understand and to appreciate himself, his society, his relationship to that society and his relationship to God.

Liberated Mind for Liberal Education Necessary

The moment, however, he takes the position that the so-called "required courses" are simply exercises to be gotten out of the way with a minimum of effort, then he has denied the very idea which his presence at Muhlenberg assumes. He then becomes a degree seeker and loses his status as a freshman using a free mind to achieve the full development of his unique personality. I consider this denial to be a betrayal fraught with terrible consequences.

There has been much said and written recently about general education. There are in most of the discussions two presuppositions which need examination. One is that emphasis is placed on formal school curricula to such a degree as to give schools and colleges the idea that they are responsible for all education and that when the individual leaves school his education ceases, and the other is that what may seem to be generalization in a curriculum results in generalization in the individual subjected to it.

With both of these concepts I disagree, if for no other reason than they deny what they propose to defend and foster namely, the free growth of the individual. I do believe there are a number of ways to this objective. I subscribed to and find most effective the Muhlenberg way. The student cannot have experience with all knowledge. The nature of the individual and the laws of learning place definite limitations on the extent of educational experience within a given time.

Proper Outlook On Required Subjects Advisable

We at Muhlenberg believe that the basic studies which the faculty has selected and which we pursue together will, if properly approached, enable a man to gain knowledge which will help him grow; to acquire techniques of gaining further knowledge which will help him to continue to grow when formal methods of study are no longer needed and to evaluate his experience in the light of the experience of men who have lived before him, who live with him and who will live with him in the future. We believe that the man who works hard at these objectives toward which Muhlenberg is trying to help him will have the means of generalizing within himself and thereby will be a better man and citizen.

We are not dealing with things. Rather are we concerned with the spirit. Muhlenberg men who sell themselves short on liberalizing required studies are in the wrong college. The men who treat their required studies as degree requirements are rejecting the fundamental concepts upon which our college is founded. Furthermore, I find it difficult to understand how a man can approach his work in his major specialization with a liberal view, if he has had a meager liberalizing experience. May I urge you therefore to get the utmost from your intellectual experience at Muhlenberg and may I remind you that to get you must give.

Berg's Eye Views —

"Would You Favor a Student Evaluation of Courses and Professors Here at Muhlenberg?"

Paul Tudder: Yes; evaluation of courses by students would not only help them, but also the profs. By this system a prof could find his weaknesses and his student's and correct them.

Bud Bacharach: Yes; most profs should appreciate student viewpoint on their classes. It would help them plan better lectures and make classes better all-around.

Charley Rimmel: "I don't think we should. Too much personal feeling would enter the picture. It wouldn't be evaluation of the professor as a man, but as a teacher."

Abe Aslanides: Through experience it isn't necessary. Evaluation takes place automatically due to the smallness of my classes. It tends to bring more intimacy between prof and student.

Bill Eccles: I believe that this would be good because it would give the student more understanding of the courses and the prof when he is not in class."

Don Klenk: "Definitely; it would be to the advantage of the students and profs in that it would give them better understanding of each other. Both would have to keep on the ball."

MULE KICKS...

have my complete sympathy. When I come to worship God, I too want to worship a living God, near at hand and contemporary. I know how dull and remote, in manner and vocabulary we preachers can be. Mea Culpa!

"Variety" of "programs" is, however, not the answer. There is no assurance that many preachers and speakers will be any more spiritually vital and pertinent than few. The result is very often only superficial lack of continuity, i.e., "hash." I well remember a chaplain who averaged 80% of the services in our chapel—and who was seldom dry or disconnected.

Your chief error, if I understand you aright, is the notion that chapel is to provide "programs".

That it never was intended to do—and I hope it never will. "Chapel" is worship. Its forms (the Lutheran Church is liturgical) and hymns and meditations are all intended to be material which the students can use to worship God together. Chapel services deserve to be planned and criticized by that standard and that alone. By your own admission the "sermon on character" which drew forth your second letter was a good sermon.

Staff Cut

I hope you and many other men of Muhlenberg will be sufficiently interested in this matter to keep pressing for the best possible chapel services. From where I sit the weakness which you discern is due to the fact that the department of religion has been so drastically cut and crippled. There is no chaplain who can give full-time service to the task of planning a unified, thoughtful, pertinent series of spiritually vital chapel services. I would be reluctant to blame Dr. Horn or Dr. Stine or Dr. Hepner.

But I would not be reluctant to blame!

Sympathetically,

Matching the abnormally long lines forming in the reference room is the steady stream of traffic heading toward the dispensary. Dr. Weaber is not running a special on cold shots and whirlpool treatments this week. Nor has he augmented his supply of ancient magazines. Since not everyone has a cold, there has to be another cause for the queue. The reason's name, we found is Jean Minner.

Allentown General Alumna

Even though Jean was very busy running around sticking thermometers in mouths and adjusting heat lamps, we were able to stop her long enough to find that she hails from Catasauqua, Pennsylvania, and that she was graduated from Catasauqua High School in 1946. The School of Nursing at Allentown General Hospital was the next stop, and she spent about three years there, a large portion of the time being spent working in the isolation ward. After leaving Allentown General, Jean came to Muhlenberg.

Jean said she spends her off-duty hours reading and listening to records. She is partial to historical novels particularly and classical music. She seemed genuinely pleased with our offer to let her borrow "The History of Civilization" but wasn't interested in our collection of Spike Jones records. She said she likes Mendelssohn better. Since we couldn't recall anyone by that name playing with Spike Jones or Dizzy Gillespie, we changed the subject. She also mentioned that she likes to go to New York to see plays, particularly musical comedies.

Dr. Weaber announced today that the results of the X-ray examination for T.B. have been received. There are no students in the freshman or sen-

Mules Battle G-Burg In Homecoming Contest

England, Kreutzberg Spark Win Over Albright, 21-7

by Don Klenk

After three successive defeats, the Cardinal and Grey eleven hit the winner column for the first time this season by defeating Albright, 21-7. The game was all Muhlenberg with the exception of the last minutes of the fourth period.

Borgman Views Hoop Prospects

Benny Borgman, new Mule basketball coach, who will lead the Cardinal and Grey through one of the College's toughest schedules during the 1949-50 cage season, was favorably impressed with the available material during the first varsity practice session on October 12. Coach Borgman was aware of the Mules' lack of height, and stressed that it must be offset by speed, which would require every squad member to be in good physical condition.

Hoop Squad Led by McGee

Sixteen men, led by captain Dick McGee, reported. They were told that after three weeks of outdoor practice the squad would move into Rockne Hall on October 31 to begin indoor practice in preparation for the opening of the hoop season on December 1 against Fordham University. Bill Baker, Leo Martini, Marv Jaffe, Eddie Willenbecker, Bob Lonergan, and Tom Olson were the other members of last year's varsity squad who answered the initial call. Al Saemmer, who was occupied with a late laboratory period, and Al Rubbert and Bill Jackson, who are members of the Mule football squad, will also be available for play this year, but could not report to the introductory practice.

England and Kreutzberg Star
With George England's passing, 14 completions out of 24 attempts, and Henry Kreutzberg's running, 135 yards in 23 carries, the 'Berg offensive was hard to stop. These were not the only stars. It was a team victory.

The Mules defense held the Lions to a net gain of 42 yards rushing for the game. In the air, the Red and White gained 84 yards giving them a total net gain of 126 yards. Time and again, the brilliant punting of Harnly, who averaged 50 yards per kick, got the visitors from Reading out of a hole; but the home team was not to be denied.

In the first period neither team could score. The Mules started their first touchdown drive in the final seconds of the first quarter when Roveda returned a kick five yards to Muhlenberg's 37 yard line. Kreutzberg carried for three just as the quarter ended.

England to Crider Pass Scores TD

On the first play of the second period, England tossed to Crider for fifteen yards and a first down on the Lions' 45. The Mules drove for two more first downs to the twenty. Kreutzberg then carried for six but here the running attack stalled and the Mules were pushed back to the Albright 18 yard line. It was fourth down when England faded back and heaved a long one into the end zone to Joe Menegus for a touchdown. Averno converted.

About six plays later, Muhlenberg started rolling again, this

Harriers Stop Albright Lions

Ernie Fellows' fast stepping harriers won their first meet of the season last Friday at Reading, when they defeated the Albright Lions, 30-24.

Capt. Don Albert was the first man to break the tape in the fast time of 19:59.5. The Mules also captured second and third places with Floyd Shupp and Dick Acker respectively. The rest of the team placed in the following position: Ed Eddinger, 11th; Mike Toscano, 12th; Hank Folkman, 13th; Clarence Moore, 14th; and Bill Strauss, 15th.

Coach Fellows is pleased with the outcome of the meet, and believes that with more runners the Mules will be a leading contender for the M.A.S.C.C. title.

Lambda Chi Victors; Cats Top Ramblers

Intra-mural football got into full swing in the past week with every team having played at least one game. Two leagues have been formed, League I composed of seven teams and League II, six.

Lambda Chi Alpha moved into a tie in League I competition with the Sinners and Sigma Phi Epsilon by beating the ATO team by a 12-0 count. The Sinners and Sigma Phi Ep had previously conquered the Phi Sigs and the Flying Dutchmen respectively.

League II opened with the Black Cats overwhelming the Ramblers by a 27-0 count and the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity battling to a 6-6 tie with the Green Hornets.

Berg Faces Problem In Speedy Speaker

by Bob Godnick

Gettysburg and Muhlenberg, two traditional rivals of Pennsylvania collegiate football, clash this Saturday evening at the Allentown Stadium in the annual homecoming game for 'Berg graduates. The largest crowd of the season thus far is expected at kickoff time, scheduled for eight o'clock.

Lehigh Stops G-burg As Gabriel Sparks Second Half Rally

by Bill Lewis

The Mules showed some of their potential power as they humbled Albright, but future opposition was giving warning that the Mules will have to unleash more of this latent power if they are to finish the season with at least an even break.

G-burg Knocked from Unbeaten Ranks

Lehigh dumped Gettysburg from the undefeated ranks with a strong second half attack as the Engineers won 33-20. Gettysburg took the lead in the first quarter when Cervino scored from the one-yard line and Fitzke added the extra point to put the Bullets ahead 7-0, but six plays later Dick Doynne scored from the one-yard line to put Lehigh back in the game. A short time later Doynne tallied again for Lehigh. However, Jones scored from the three and Fitzke kicked his second extra point to put the Bullets ahead at the half, 14-13.

Gabriel Races 95 Yards for TD

In the second half Dick Gabriel took things into his own hands to lead the Packers' rally. Standing on his own 5 yard line he took the opening kickoff and ran it back 95 yards to give Lehigh the lead. Later in the third quarter

Mule Offense Gains Momentum

The Mules, improving with each passing week, will bank its hope for victory on an offensive which is picking up momentum each game. George England's passing, which showed to such excellent advantage in the Albright game, will be ready once more for heavy duty. The running game, which was so lacking at the beginning of the campaign has begun to shape up formidably with the blossoming of sophomore Harry Kreutzberg. Along with Harry are veterans Bill Jackson and Jack Crider, who are proven performers.

Previous 'Berg-Bullet' games have been thrillers and this year promises no let down. Gettysburg enters the game with three wins in four contests, and displaying a well balanced offensive working from a T-formation. G-burg rattled off three consecutive wins over Lebanon Valley, Western Maryland and Drexel before succumbing to a strong second half offensive by Lehigh last Saturday. The Bullets seemed on their way to an upset as they led at the half, 14-13. The Engineers came on strong, however, and, paced by Dick Gabriel, stopped the Burgs, 33-20.

Dwight Speaker Bullet Star

Gettysburg's offensive centers around scat-back Dwight Speaker, shifty 145 pound speedster. A great open field runner, Speaker is not the only man to watch in the Bullet offensive. Ross Sachs, T-quarterback, is a proficient passer and polished ball handler. He will work the handoffs to Speaker, Tony Cervino and "Ditty" Jones. The last two are the other starters in the offensive backfield. Each

Key To Diamond And Grid Hopes

Lou Cardinal, New Freshman Football Coach.

Lou Cardinal Builds Future Mule Gridders

by Bob Godnick

The advent of a new threesome to the coaching staff at Muhlenberg this season brings to our campus three new personalities which all 'Berg men look to with great interest. One of these new mentors is Lou Cardinal, who is at present directing the fortunes of the Freshmen eleven.

Kent St. Football Captain

Cardinal, a graduate of Kent State University, comes to Muhlenberg after compiling an outstanding record in high school coaching in Ohio. Directing squads in baseball, basketball, track and football at one time or another, Lou is a veteran leader of all phases of sports. In his undergraduate days at Kent State, he played football and captained the team in his senior year.

His first coaching was principally in the role of basketball mentor, at North Kingsville (Ohio) High School in 1941-42. During this two year period, Cardinal's five won forty-four of fifty games played, winning one North Eastern Ohio Sectional title.

The outbreak of World War II interrupted Lou at North Kingsville and he entered the Navy in 1942, serving until 1946. During his Naval tenure, Cardinal served in the South Pacific and China.

Coached Sectional Hoop Champs

After his discharge from service, Cardinal took over the coaching reins of Wickliffe High School in suburban Cleveland. Here he

Mule Booters Bow To Temple Owls, 2-1

Muhlenberg's booters lost a hard fought 2-1 contest to a good Temple University team on the College soccer field last Saturday.

The game marked the 'Bergsters first home appearance this season. Temple fielded a team composed of two All-Americans. The local soccermen played without the services of Shegina and Amelio, who were injured in the Lehigh tussle. Jack Kaelberer put 'Berg in front with a cross shot in the first period; but Temple tied it in the second period, Barlow scoring on a goal in the third period on a 15 yard shot in front of the goal.

Pirates Rout Chilimen, 6-0

On Tuesday, the 'Berg booters lost a non-conference tilt, 6-0, to a well-balanced Seton Hall College club. The short passing game employed by the visitors was too much for the locals who were playing without the services of regulars Shegina, Campbell, and Amelio. It was a contest for three periods, but three goals in the final quarter, sewed up the contest for the Blue and White. Six men scored for the visitors, indicating a well-balanced outfit. On Friday, Muhlenberg will continue Middle Atlantic Conference play opposing Haverford College on the College soccer field.

What About Cross Country?

Although it usually takes a back seat to football as a fall sport, Cross Country should not be neglected at Muhlenberg College. Coach Ernie Fellows is working with a crew of long winded striders, to develop one of the College's best teams. However, he is handicapped to the extent that the team has been limited in manpower.

The meet with Albright was an example of what the cross country team is capable of doing; however, with more reserves the Mules would have made a much better showing than they did.

Cross Country is the one sport on the campus that does not require a high school background. Therefore, it offers an opportunity for each and every student to participate on one of the College's athletic teams. The only requirement is endurance, which is gained from regular practice.

All spring track men are advised to use cross country as a means of conditioning for the oncoming season. Coach Fellows has also mentioned, that he plans to have Muhlenberg represented in some of the major indoor meets of the season, however, this he will do only if enough men show interest in practice.

Why neglect joining this Cross Country team when we have the potential manpower available to make a good Cross Country team an outstanding one?

time from their 42 yard line. The fancy stepping of Kreutzberg and England's passing wizardry carried 'Berg to Albright's eighteen. A penalty set the Mules back to the Lions' 25 yard line after which two running plays regained four yards. On third down, England found Crider in the right flat and the Mule captain sprinted to the two for a first down. England then took the ball over on a quarterback sneak. Averno again converted, making the halftime score 14-0.

Bill Scores on End Run

Albright kicked off into the end zone where Jackson downed it for a touchback to start the second half. The ball was brought out to the 'Berg twenty yard line from where the Cardinal and Grey drove 80 yards in fourteen plays for a touchdown. Elmo Jackson climaxed the drive by skirting his right end for twelve yards into pay dirt. The talented toe of Sis-to Averno converted to give the Mules a 21-0 lead.

Lions Go Over in Last Minutes

Albright drove 95 yards for its lone tally in the dying minutes of the game. The Lions received a big break when the officials penalized 'Berg not 15, but 30 yards for unsportsman-like conduct. This gave Albright a first down on the Muhlenberg 27. A pass from Harnly to Savage was good to the fifteen yard line. On the next play, Harnly passed into the end zone where the ball was deflected off the hands of a Muhlenberg defender into the arms of James for a touchdown.

Gabriel again showed the home team his heels as he raced 60 yards to score again. Murphy recovered Scanello's fumble in the end zone to account for Lehigh's final score. Gettysburg ended the scoring of the day as Dwight Speaker scored from the one-yard line.

Delaware bounced back into the win column, after losing to Bucknell, by beating Rollins, 26-6. This was Delaware's third win in four games this season. The Blue Hens come to Allentown October 29 to provide the opposition for the Mules' last home game.

One of the newer teams on the 'Berg schedule, Youngstown, took Niagara into camp. Bob Gibson led the Youngstown attack as he scored once from the two and tossed a pass to Davanzo in the 27-7 win.

Bucknell, conqueror of Delaware, was knocked from the ranks of the undefeated when they dropped a close one to Temple. Temple was forced to score two touchdowns and an extra point in the last quarter to squeeze out a 20-19 win.

Duquesne, a team that defeated 'Berg although the Mules outplayed them, proved they were one of the better teams in the state as they took the measure of Holy Cross by 40-14. Scranton, the team that humbled the Mules in the opening game, dropped a 33-13 decision to Fordham.

Cardinal Profile

handled squads in baseball, basketball, track and football, all with successful results. In basketball, his teams were North Eastern Ohio Sectional Champs four years running. He produced runner-ups in the State finals in baseball, while in '48, his football team compiled eight straight wins in league competition, tallying 323 points in the process, an average of fourty per game.

And so in 1949, Lou Cardinal embarks on his career as a college coach. In addition to handling Freshman football, Cardinal will also serve as Varsity baseball coach.

Berg Faces

are hard drivers and shifty runners

Coach Hen Bream will probably start Gene Coder and Don Emert at ends, Marty Pavelic and Larry Antonik at tackles, and Jim Lentz and Al Reese at the guards. Buddy Kirker will start at center. All of this is based on Gettysburg receiving the kickoff. Should they receive, another forward platoon will be in there.

Mules Hold Series Edge

This contest will be the thirtieth in the series between the two schools, with the Mules holding a 15-14 advantage.

To give you a finer cigarette Lucky Strike maintains AMERICA'S FINEST CIGARETTE LABORATORY

America's largest cigarette research laboratory is your guarantee that Luckies are a finer cigarette!

YOU SEE HERE the largest and most complete laboratory of its kind operated by any cigarette manufacturer in America.

For many years Lucky Strike scientists have delved into cigarette research on an extensive scale. Out of this has grown an elaborate system of quality control. Every step in the making of Luckies—from before the tobacco is bought until the finished cigarette reaches you—comes under the laboratory's watchful eye. As you read this, a constant stream of tobacco... samples from every tobacco-growing area... is flowing into the laboratory in Richmond, Virginia. These samples are scientifically analyzed, and reports of their quality go to the men who buy at auction for the makers of Lucky Strike.

Armed with this confidential, scientific information—and their own sound judgment—these men go after finer tobacco. This fine tobacco—together with scientifically controlled manufacturing methods—is your assurance that there is no finer cigarette than Lucky Strike!

Testing tobacco. Samples from every tobacco-growing area are analyzed before and after purchase. These extensive scientific analyses, along with the expert judgment of Lucky Strike buyers, assure you that the tobacco in Luckies is fine!

Lehigh-Berg Agreement Puts Ban On Inter Campus Raiding

Representatives Of Both Student Governments Issue Code Of Conduct For Traditional Game

"In the interest of preserving the long tradition of friendly rivalry between Muhlenberg and Lehigh, and in order to prevent vandalism and pre-game campus raiding," representatives of both Lehigh and 'Berg student governments met Friday, October 21 on this campus and formulated a Resolution of mutual non-aggression.

Meeting in Student Council Room, Student Center, in an atmosphere of congeniality and co-operation, the two groups discussed preventative measures and revived past damage done by over-exuberant members of both student bodies.

The agreement, signed jointly by John Jordan, President of Arcadia, and William Lybrand, 'Berg Council President, is aimed at confining the traditional rivalry to the gridiron.

The resolution, unanimously adopted by representatives of the two student governments, is:

1. The respective student governments (Arcadia for Lehigh, and Student Council for Muhlenberg) agree to accept the responsibility for a positive program on their own campuses to prevent rowdiness and vandalism on the opponent's campus.

2. Each school paper will feature articles emphasizing the nature of this agreement. There will be an exchange of college papers between the two schools, each school supplying sufficient copies of its paper to the other to reach the main center of student housing, in this case 200 copies.

Threat Of "Regs" Extension Hangs Over Spiritless Frosh

The traditional Soph-Frosh flag rush will be held Wednesday, November 2 at 4:30 P.M. on the Soccer field. The score in the Soph-Frosh battles now stands at Sophomores 20, Freshmen 0.

According to Bob Scheipe the Freshman Class has shown such a lack of spirit that the council is considering extending the regulations until the end of the semester, instead of until Christmas. He declared that the Freshmen should "get on the ball, and get some organization and leadership." Scheipe also reported that the Council was also "considering removal of regulations on Thanksgiving if the Freshmen win the next two games," in an effort to get some life into the Freshman Class.

The Freshman Tribunal announced the rules of the game must be strictly observed. The rules are:

1. A telephone pole, approximately fifteen feet high will be used as a base. A flag, which the Freshmen will endeavor to capture, will be attached to the top of the pole.
2. No clubs, cables, or battering rams of any sort may be used in this event. All weapons of defense or offense will be subject to approval of two senior members of the Freshman Tribunal.
3. There will be a time limit of fifteen minutes in which the Freshmen must try to secure the flag. If they do not capture the flag, the Sophomores will be declared the winners.
4. Only Freshmen and Sophomores may participate.
5. All members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes may participate.

Classes Select Advisers From Faculty Lists

Stenger Wins Senior Post; Johnson And Mohn Named

According to a report issued early this week by Dean Mercer's office, the various faculty advisers for all classes except the freshman class have been selected.

Mr. Stenger has been chosen as adviser to the senior class. Dr. Victor Johnson has been appointed adviser to the present junior class (the class of '51), and Mr. Earl Mohn has been named adviser to the sophomore class (the class of '52). Letters of notification have been sent to all three men.

The freshman class, Dean Mercer declares, will elect their adviser at the end of the current school year.

Following procedure outlined by the Dean's office, these advisers will remain in that capacity for the duration of the class' stay at Muhlenberg. In other words, Mr. Stenger will serve as adviser to the senior class until next June.

Castle Garden Selected As Site For Annual Prom

Buddy Williams and his orchestra was selected by the junior class as first choice for this year's Junior Prom band at class meeting on Thursday, October 20. February 24, 1950 was selected by the class as the tentative date and Castle Garden was picked as the site of the annual affair.

Laverne Etschman was named the new vice president of the class by president Marvin E. Berger to replace the vacancy created by the transfer of Joe Grieco, to Ohio State University.

Berg Geology Dept. Holds First Forum

Dr. Lobeck Of Columbia To Speak On South Pacific

The Muhlenberg Geology Department under the supervision of Dr. Meyer will open the first Geology Forum of the year at 8:00 p.m., Friday, October 28, 1949 in the Science Auditorium.

The speaker will be Dr. A.K. Lobeck of the Columbia University Geology Department. Dr. Lobeck's topic will be "Australia, New Zealand, and Islands of the South Pacific", which he will discuss from both the geological and geographical point of view. Having just recently returned from two years of work for the New Zealand government, Dr. Lobeck is well qualified to speak about the South Pacific.

Other Colleges Invited

'Berg's Dr. Meyer and Dr. Lobeck became acquainted while working together in the Caucasus some years ago. In Dr. Meyer's opinion Dr. Lobeck is the most noted geologist ever to speak at a 'Berg Geology Forum. Geology majors from Lafayette, Lehigh, Bryn Mawr, and Franklin and Marshall have been invited to attend the forum, as well as all

Lehigh Bonfire Burns Again As City Fathers OK Tradition

Cedar Beach New Site For Revival Of Old 'Berg Custom; Frosh Parade Wins Praise From Mayor And Police Chief

by Ed Renner

City officials gave their approval this week for the reinauguration of the Lehigh Bonfire tradition. The Cedar Beach Pool will be the site of the fire and pep rally which is to start at 7:00 p.m., Thursday, November 3.

Mayor Donald V. Hock and the Chief of Police, James L. Christine, have both given the green light to the bonfire. This was due to the good behavior on the Pajama Parade participants last Friday night. Said Mayor Hock, "I was quite satisfied with the conduct of the Pajama Parade participants. They were on their own, and they not only assured this year's bonfire, but they have also made it possible for future classes to hold pajama parades and bonfires." Mayor Hock said a piece of Allentown's fire apparatus will be on hand at the bonfire as a precautionary measure.

In an interview with the Chief of Police, Chief Christine said "I cannot praise the boys too highly. I'm proud of the school, and I'm proud of the boys in the parade". Chief Christine expressed the desire that all future pajama parades be conducted in the same orderly manner as the parade last Friday night.

As has been customary, the Freshman Class will gather the wood, and stand guard over it prior to the lighting of the fire by members of the sophomore class.

The bonfire and pep rally is being sponsored by the Student Council. The Muhlenberg Band will be present, along with several speakers, who have not yet been announced. Refreshments will be served immediately after the pep rally.

M.C.A. Meeting Features Horne

On Wednesday night, October 26, Rev. Robert E. Horne of Sellersville spoke at an open forum meeting of the MCA on the topic of Christian Courtship and Marriage. ## Medieval Life In Art Display Medieval Art will be the theme of the first art exhibit of the year, sponsored by the Art department during the entire month of November in the Muhlenberg Art gallery, third floor of the Library. A collection of medieval manuscripts and "Life" magazine photographic exhibit of the medieval world will be on display.

The collection of manuscripts has been borrowed from a private collection at the University of Indiana for this showing. The "Life" exhibit contains photographs of all types of medieval works of art. A portion of this exhibit has been published in "Life Magazine," (April 7, 1947, May 26, 1947), in its series on the development of human culture.

College Bible Prof Wins Scholarship

Thompson Studies At Oslo Under The Fulbright Act

'Berg Bible Instructor, Rev. George Thompson, who is studying at the U. of Oslo under a government scholarship.

Rev. George N. Thompson, former instructor in Bible at 'Berg, flew to Oslo, Norway last week to take advantage of a government scholarship offer to study Scandinavian Theology at the University of Oslo for a year.

The grant was given to Thompson under the Fulbright Act, an Act of the U. S. Government which provides assistance for a select number of men to study abroad each year, in various fields of study.

Rev. Thompson is now on a leave of absence from the college, and nothing is known of his plans for next year. His wife is expected to join him in Oslo early in December.

Hands Across The Table Pledge Pre-Game Peace

In past years, the pre-game enthusiasm of the Muhlenberg-Lehigh students posed great problems for the administrations of both institutions. This year the keynote, established in past years will again be followed because it evoked such success. That keynote is mature student responsibility.

The campus leaders of both institutions, leading the way, have pledged themselves to the confining of traditional rivalry to the gridiron. Both the Lehigh and 'Berg student councils have further pledged themselves to the paying of reparation or the disciplining of students should one of their members become overly enthusiastic. The entire plan is founded upon the belief that this year's student body recognizes the fact that they are attending college for men and not schools for boys.

Muhlenberg men should be especially cognizant of their responsibilities, since this college has already introduced, and is still planning, many innovations founded upon this assumption. Basing conclusions upon this year's record of student good judgment, no vandalism is expected from 'Bergmen. Students realize that there is much to gain by a laudable showing. A foolish act would not only bring disciplinary action to the perpetrator, but the entire student body would suffer a fall from grace. A prescribed course is to play follow the leader, your campus leader who signed the pre-game agreement.

Latest Tid-Bits From Our Book Pantry Satisfy Craving For Non-Academic Lit

If You've Been Hitting The Fiction Lately For A Novel Escape Here Are Some Novel Suggestions

Since classes have started and examinations are scheduled for the more or less far future, the men of 'Berg will probably be searching for a way to squander all the excess time which they have on their hands. If you are searching for vicarious entertainment and are the least bit inclined toward the reading of books (other than textbooks), you may try plowing through the field of contemporary literature.

The first book you may discover is the widely-heralded novel, NINETEEN EIGHTY-FOUR, by George Orwell. For three hundred pages Mr. Orwell plays the Haps Benfer role of crystal gazer. Mr. Orwell's novel is not so much a prediction of what shall happen as it is an exposition of what could happen if a totalitarian state would govern Great Britain and America.

Periodically Watched

The scene is London, England, where the hero, Winston Smith, is a slave to his party. Smith lives in a slum section called Victory Mansions. In his shabby apartment he is constantly followed by the tele-screen. He cannot turn it off. From morning until night the tele-screen tells Smith what to do, what to say, and what to think. The Thought Police may be watching him through the tele-screen at any time. One false move—a sudden, loud knocking on the door—and he would be marched off to the dreaded Room 101 of the Ministry of Love.

Winston Smith, unlike most men of the era, still has a thread of individualism; he falls in love with Julia, a member of the Junior Anti-Sex League. The State frowns upon lovers. When the State dislikes love all lovers die.

NINETEEN EIGHTY-FOUR tells of Winston's adventures with Julia in their defiance of Big Brother, the symbol of State power. Winston and Julia enmesh themselves in a terrifying story of torture and treachery.

Meanings Twisted

Imagine yourself living in a Turnabout Utopia where history is constantly altered, where books are rewritten to obliterate undesirable truths. Such expressions as "love," "democracy," and "freedom" are twisted into an opposite meaning. Under the system of "doublethink," words like "soul," "God," and "love" would be eliminated from the language.

NINETEEN EIGHTY-FOUR is a warning of an impending danger. A number of Big Brothers already exist. The principles of "doublethink" and thought control are already existent in embryo form in the fields of advertising, politics, and religion.

Mr. Orwell's satire has been compared with the satire of Jonathan Swift. Swift, no doubt, lashes his whip of words with more force than Orwell. Mr. Orwell, however, keeps his horse in the running.

OTHER BOOKS

THE NAKED AND THE DEAD, Norman Mailer

One of those books which has been worn out from changing hands so often. The story of G.I.'s—alive, sick, obscene, and dead—on a South Pacific island. Its pages are destined to be dog-eared.

CATALINA, W. Somerset Maugham

A dramatic tale of an innocent peasant girl who was cured of lameness by a miracle. Mr. Maugham blends blackmail, cynicism, saints, and lovers into a novel of the Spanish Inquisition days.

VERSUS, Ogden Nash

This collection of poems will be a worthy addition to what Mr. Nash's publishers call "the Golden Trashery of Ogden Nashery." As one 'Berg student exclaimed, "He's so corny he's good!"

The Mystery Of Your Mind

New Set For Psych-Sleuths Brings Modern Methods Of Experimental Psychology To Muhlenberg Lab.

The Mirror Test: Dr. David Spelt and Lab Assistant Paul Freed checking eye-hand coordination. Look purty, boys.

Less than 70 years ago the University of Leipzig opened a psychological laboratory, the first of its kind in the world. In the fall of 1947, the psychology department became independent at Muhlenberg, and today, after only two years of operation, it is one of the most promising neophytes on our campus. However, there are very few who know the location of the lecture room and lab, and still less who have ever been in these rooms.

A look into the lab leaves the student much impressed. Twenty individual booths, separated by sound proof boarding and brightened by specially constructed lights make the psych lab in the Administration Building among the best designed and equipped labs at 'Berg.

Intricate Uses

The equipment too will amaze the new student. Take, for instance, the mirror drawing apparatus which is used to study habit formation, outwardly it resembles a portable television set but actually this small device investigates habits involving eye and hand coordination. Another amusing tool of study is the card sorting tray which is used for studying the effect of learning on a second habit upon retention of a similar previous habit. The student receives 150 cards and is told to deposit them quickly within the fifteen numbered boxes on the tray. The tray is then reversed and the procedure is repeated. After several trials the data is compared and is related and slightly different habits can be determined.

No Snap Courses

But what has psychology accomplished at 'Berg and what can it do for the student? So far the courses offered seem like games. However, they are difficult and serious academic adventures and should not be pursued as easy-credit courses. Over one hundred students are presently enrolled in the seven different psychological courses offered this semester. The teaching staff is composed of Dr. David K. Spelt and Dr. Elmer K. Kilmer who are aided by lab assistants Bill Lybrand and Paul Freed. The success of these professors and the influence of the study of psychology here at Muhlenberg can best be ascertained by the increase of student scores on psychological questions found in senior graduate record exams for the past two years. Psychology is a growing field and job opportunities are numerous. To quote Dr. Spelt, "Jobs are a dime a dozen for well-trained men." We can be proud that our men will be "well-trained."

1939--The Year When Things Were Happening But Not To Us

Episodes In History Of The Good Old Days Of Nickle Beers And Good Five Cent Cigars

In the taverns, shower rooms, clubs, pool rooms, and lunch counters across the nation, John Q. Public, after a discussion on current events, is turning to his companion and saying, "Yeah, history is just repeating itself. Now you take back in '39..." It's an old phrase, almost a cliché, but it's a favorite with John. Historians tell us that "history never repeats itself," and yet many of the things heard and read today have a familiar ring. "Now you take back in '39..." Have some of these things happened before? Let's go back ten years to October, 1939 and take a look.

Isolation Goal

The political situation was the same as it had been for several years. Franklin D. Roosevelt was president and was having trouble with business. A congressional committee headed by a man named Truman was busy making investigations. The big news seemed to be the conflict that had started in Europe. The American sentiment seemed to lean toward neutrality as meetings and rallies were held to "keep America out." Senator Borah was speaking for the isolationists, and condemning the government policy, and a congressman in Washington sponsored a new song titled "Let's Stay Over Here."

In Europe nations were looking at each other with suspicion and alarm as a little man with a mustache launched a new kind of war. New words like "blitzkrieg," "dive bomber," and "panzers" were coined as a terrified people turned their eyes to the sky to see the rains of death accompanied by the whine of Stukas and Messerschmitts. A horrified world saw proud Poland fall in less than four weeks. In England the people laughed and practiced blackouts, carried gas masks, and saw a man named Chamberlain take his umbrella for airplane rides.

Public Reassured

At home the armed forces assured the public that all was well by introducing a giant bomber called the "Flying Fortress" and "the best and fastest pursuit plane in the world" in the form of the P-40. A few people turned their eyes to the Far East and worried about the shadow there, and a man named Garand invented a rifle.

In business the trend was toward a rise. The United States had started to sell to Europe again, ending an embargo, and business improved. The automobile manufacturers announced their 1940 designs, which were including such new features as safety glass windows and sealed beam headlights. A new Hudson Six was selling at $670 while DeSoto was asking $845 for their deluxe model, white sidewall tires extra. Admiral Byrd was planning to take his "snow cruiser" to the South Pole, and Lucky Strike green had not yet "gone to war."

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

Ed Ferris, Arabian delegate to Muhlenberg and frosh pigskin line-man, had quite a rough time of it one night last week. It started out quite innocently. He parked his car far into the mouldy Cedar Beach area. After about an hour he tried to kick the auto over. It wouldn't oblige. By the time he put his girl on a taxi, used Mayor Hock's phone, walked all the way back to East Hall and had his car towed out, it was midnight. And prof's wonder why assignments aren't in on time.

Versatile G. Hasenauer, language instructor, grabbed himself a fat part in a Spanish play this summer while studying for his Ph.D. in Canada. He had competition from Latins from all parts of the globe. No puritain dis vun: "Oolala, those women were positively beautiful!" was his enthusiastic comment.

Sugar and Spice: It's a generally known fact that Slingin' George England isn't limiting his passes to the gridiron. Don Zippler engaged himself to a Carol Wilde. Same play for Bill Douthit and Betty Mae Reber, the grapevine claims. Jack Borden really has it for Les Jochem. He sleeps with a perfumed hanky under his pillow. (This is the same Borden whose buddies pulled back the shower curtain, one morning, to find him curled up on the floor dozing with soap in hand, and water spouting down at him full force from the faucet.) Seen around: Tex Williams and Mary Lou Schlechter.

This and That: Imagine the Soph Physics major's surprise this week when, as he bent down to quaff from one of the Sci. Buildings drinking fountains, a monstrous frog, fugitive from an experiment, leaped up at him. If Abe Aslandides keeps it up he'll make the All Greek Team for the second straight year. The advent of television to the Snack Bar has had its shortcomings. Frosh are careful not to order milkshakes when Saturday afternoon football games are being telecast, if sophomores are near. It seems that when turned on, the electric eggbeaters reek havoc with the image and sound.

Mystery Solved: They are scarcely seated before one of them nudged his roommate and demanded:

"What does that word 'asbestos' mean across the curtain."

"Quiet hammerhead," whispered his companion, "don't show your ignorance. That's Latin for 'welcome'."

And then there was the Crest girl who was so dumb she thought a buttress was a female goat.

Lookout In West Hall As Freshmen Forclose

Rec-Room Becomes Private Lounge As Commuters Trek To Stu-Center

Much credit must be given to the administration in their current move to beautify the Student Center. Above any question of a doubt this building is a blessing to the students and an asset to the college. But the comparatively small lounge, and the still smaller eating area, cannot serve the needs of all the students attending this college. The set-up, as it is now, leaves many of the commuting students out in the cold.

The majority of the day students carry their own lunch, and the room to accompany all these day students at lunch time is yet to be found. In preceding years the commuters had two places to eat—the entire Student Center lounge, and the West Hall recreation room. This year the area has been cut down to only one-half of the Student Center. The Commons was not taken into consideration by this reporter as most commuters feel that the use of the Commons should entail the purchase of food.

Space Cut

Needless to say West Hall is the freshmen's own building, but with conditions as they are now the recreation room should be opened to all students. Not only is the eating room reduced by this closure but also the only place of recreation west of the Liberty Hall pool tables is now closed to the foot-weary students.

Rumor has it that the recreation room was closed so that its recreational facilities would not tempt students away from their needed studies. This question is of no consequence to the administration but rather it is a personal affair with each student, and we are sure each student is capable of budgeting his own time.

Help Commuters

The administration must surely realize that every available lounging chair and every recreational device available at the college should be used to the fullest degree to compensate for the tired feet and tired minds of Muhlenberg's commuting students. Now is the time to come to their aid and open the West Hall recreation room.

1939—A Year To Remember

was the "Miss America" contest in Atlantic City where a nineteen-year-old brunette named Pat Donnelly won the crown. Miss Donnelly won with a 36-inch bust, a 25-inch waist, 34-inch hips, and the ability to play the bass viol.

In the world of sports a change of seasons was taking place. Baseball was making an exit as the New York Yankees beat the Cincinnati Reds in the World Series. The "unbeatable" Yankees were making plans for the next season by looking over two new rookies named Phil Rizzuto and Gerry Priddy. The football season had opened and all the experts were busy making early predictions about the All-America titles. Bill Stern went out on a limb and mentioned a backfield consisting of George Cafego, Bob Saggau, John Kimbrough, and a newcomer named Tom Harmon.

Up and Coming Stars

On Broadway the legitimate stage was anticipating a good season and was introducing some new faces. A young comedian named Eddie Bracken was climbing to stardom in "Too Many Girls." Mary Martin, who had scored a great success the season before by removing her clothes and showing a fine pair of legs while singing "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," was on her way to Hollywood. John Barrymore was satirizing himself. A new show called "DuBarry Was A Lady" opened and advertised the talents of Ethel Merman and Bert Lahr. The songs were by Cole Porter. The critics thought that a 22-year-old girl named Betty Grable, who appeared in the show, might go places.

"Oomph" Shown

In Hollywood Mickey Rooney was giving a spindly-legged Judy Garland her first kiss in "Babes In Arms," and "Gone With The Wind" was finally released after much fanfare. Ann Sheridan was busy displaying something called "oomph," and a sixteen-year-old starlet named Linda Darnell was said to have the "most perfect figure in the country."

The fashion news was brief—hair and skirts were short.

A world was looking at a big man with a big mustache and wondering what he would do next, but Joe Stalin wasn't telling them. A man named Leon Trotsky signed his own death warrant by calling the man with the mustache "a traitor."

America."

The program included works of great composers, inspired by Goethe's poetry and sung by members of university and college choral groups. Miss Elizabeth Hill, contralto, was the soloist.

The committee responsible for this celebration was composed of Harold E. Stassen, Eugene Ormandy, George McClelland, Rev. Paul J. Hoh, and John W. Nasun. The latter three men are holders of doctorate degrees from Muhlenberg.

On October 12, nine members of Der Deutsche Verein traveled to Moravian College where they witnessed a Lehigh Valley Goethe celebration. Colleges participating were Lehigh, Lafayette, Moravian for Men, and for Women, and Muhlenberg.

partment, was initiated at this time, along with 28 undergraduates. Robert B. Nemeschy, Regional Director, was present for the ceremonies.

The College Chapel was the scene of a corporate worship service Sunday at 11:00 a.m., followed by the first formal chapter meeting at which time the chapter was formally inducted as Upsilon Triton, and the chapter officers formally installed in their esoteric offices. The officers are: President, Paul Weis, Vice President, Mahlon Fulmer, Jr., Secretary, Bryce Shaw; Treasurer, James Wilbur; Sentinel, Rex Green, and Inductor, James Early.

This meeting was followed by the initiation banquet held at the Shrine Club in Allentown. The principal speaker was the National President, Herbert L. Brown. Distinguished guests of the dinner included Robert B. Nemeschy, Regional Director of Phi Sigma Kappa, President Levering Tyson, Vice President Robert C. Horn, Dean Sherwood R. Mercer and other members of the administration and faculty, Irvin Fry, representing Student Council, Martin Weissman, President of the Cardinal Key Society, James Benninger, President of the Interfraternity Council, the president of the other fraternities on the Muhlenberg campus, the ritual teams from Lehigh and Gettysburg and local Phi Sig alumni. Dr. Perry F. Kendig acted as toastmaster for the dinner.

It has been agreed further, that the minimum penalty for anyone caught doing violent or felonious damage on either campus will be payment of damages and, in the case of excess vandalism or crime, recommendation by the respective student governments for severe disciplinary action.

Those attending were: Russ Kidston, Leon Zimmerman, Dave Hoh, Marv Berger, Lou Colombo, Irvin Fry and Dean Mercer.

P. S. K. Pledges

The formal pledging of eleven men to Phi Sigma Kappa, Muhlenberg's newest fraternity, took place on Thursday, October 20, at 7:00 p.m. in the chapel lounge.

Band Lists Varied Activities, From Parades To A Festival

Accepts Bids To March In Halloween Parades, Will Participate In Band Festival Next May

Parades in neighboring cities, a spring music festival, and a concert band, are all included in a program of new activities planned by the Muhlenberg Band for the coming year.

The band and its leader Raymond Huston is having at present one of the busiest periods of the season. In addition to preparing for home football games, during which they tend to continue and enlarge the half-time spectacles, they will participate and represent the College in Halloween parades in nearby communities. This past Wednesday they participated in the Jack Frost parade in Northampton. Friday the 28th they will go to Slatington and then Monday the 31st they will represent Muhlenberg in the Halloween parade in Allentown.

Spring Festival Planned

At present the band is making plans for the future. Something entirely new for Muhlenberg is a Spring Music Festival which is being contemplated and which will include the College Band, Chapel Choir, Glee Club, and the Glee Clubs of Cedar Crest. Mr. Ray Huston will arrange the music for the participating organizations.

Two members of the band will be chosen to represent Muhlenberg in the State Collegiate Orchestra Festival which will be held in Indiana, Pennsylvania on March 29-31. Students who play orchestral instruments will be contacted at a date to be announced.

Constitution Adopted

The entire band will participate in the College Band Festival to be held in Kutztown, Pennsylvania in May of 1950. Ten representatives of the College Band will also be chosen to represent the College in the State Collegiate Band Festival, the place and time have to be designated later.

At a business meeting conducted last Friday, a constitution for the band was adopted. It was disclosed that students desiring membership in either the marching or the concert band, and who as yet are not members, should contact either Mr. Huston the director, or Milt Snyder, president. Members of the faculty are also welcome.

Bullets Wreck Homecoming As Late Drive Wins, 9-6

by Bob Godnick

The Muhlenberg Mules dropped their fourth game in five starts last Saturday evening as they bowed to the Gettysburg Bullets, 9-6, before 5,000 victory-starved fans at the Allentown stadium. Locked in a scoreless deadlock for three periods, the Bullets put together a touchdown, conversion and safety to stave off a late Mule rally which saw halfback Don Latzko carry the pigskin over from eight yards out.

Hens Win From Lafayette, 7-0 Lehigh Loses

From Easton the Blue Hens of Delaware sent warning to the Mules that they are in for a tough time this Saturday night.

Lafayette completely outplayed the Hens throughout the game, but the Hens scored the only touchdown to win 7-0. Five times in the first three quarters the Maroon penetrated deep into Delaware territory, only to have the Hens' line throw them back. Lafayette outgained Delaware 197 net yards to 33.

Samocki Scores on Pass

In the waning minutes of the third quarter, Degasperis returned a Williams punt 45 yards to the Lafayette 22. On the first play of the last quarter Schockley, a reserve quarterback, faded back and tossed a pass to Samocki on the three yard line; from there he went over. Stan Bilski kicked the extra point. This was the first time Delaware scored against Lafayette in the four times the two teams have met.

Lehigh stepped out of their class and took a 48-0 drubbing at the hands of Brown University. The large Brown team scored at will, and their powerful line held the Packer's running duo of Gabriel and Doyne in check.

Numerous Scoring Opportunities

Howie Baughman's Mules had numerous opportunities to score earlier in the contest, particularly in the first half. The Cardinal and Grey drove to the G-burg seven early in the second stanza, but missed a score when Jack Crider failed to hold the pigskin as he hit the end zone. There were several other deep penetrations by Muhlenberg, but no scores resulted.

Gettysburg also had numerous opportunities to tally. They drove to the 'Berg fifteen after Crider had fumbled the opening kickoff. Just prior to the first half intermission the Bullets drove to the nine, but 'Berg held. Again in the final period, G-burg ripped its way to the 'Berg eleven, but a fourth down field goal attempt was blocked.

Johnson, Latzko Score

Coach Hen Bream's boys finally broke the ice after three minutes had elapsed in the final period. A forty-five yard offensive thrust was capped by Ross Sach's 24 yard heave to Larry Johnson who made a sparkling catch in the end zone. Fitzkee converted to stretch the lead to 7-0.

Muhlenberg struck back quickly as Hal Roveda snared one of Sach's heaves and returned it to the Bullet 12. Strait ripped off

Mule Harriers Lose To Leopards, 23-36 Booters Chill LaSalle, 3-1

Last Tuesday Muhlenberg's Cross Country team played host to the visiting harriers of Lafayette. Once again 'Berg's lack of depth became evident as the "Leopards" won the meet by the score of 23 to 36.

Leopard's Nelbach Finishes First Lafayette's Nelbach, who only last week set a record for the Lafayette course in their meet against Swarthmore, was the first man to cross the finish line. His running time was 22:42.7, which is a new record time for the course.

Floyd Shupp, who placed third, was the first man to finish for 'Berg, followed by Capt. Don Albert and Dick Acker. Other Mules competing in the meet

On a rain drenched field, the Muhlenberg soccer men won a hard fought contest 3-1 against LaSalle College of Philadelphia. The game was played Tuesday on the local field.

Ten minutes after the opening whistle, Dick Eichner, scored for 'Berg on a shot in front of the goal. Two minutes later, LaSalle made it a new ball game as White scored on a cross.

The tie was broken after 18 minutes of the first quarter when Rollo connected for a score from about 20 yards out.

The second and third quarters found both teams unable to score due mainly to a wet turf and heavy ball. However, in the final quarter, Dick Eichner led the con-

Well Balanced Hens Sporting 4-1 Record

by Don Klenk

The Delaware Blue Hens come to Allentown this Saturday night to play the Muhlenberg Mules in the tenth renewal of a series dating back to 1910. Thus far the Mules hold a six to three edge in the rivalry, but since the war the visitors have won two out of the three games played.

Traditional Rivalry

This game has always been a crowd pleaser, and the rivalry between the two schools is nearing that of the thickest intensity. Past records usually mean nothing when the Blue and Gold square off against the Cardinal and Grey in possibly the most bruising and hard-fought contest of the season for either team. Last year the Hens defeated 'Berg by a score of twelve to nothing.

Hens Sport 4-1 Record

Delaware, coached by Bill Murray, has won four and lost one this season, their latest victory being a 7-0 upset of Lafayette. Their lone setback was administered to them by Bucknell 13-6.

Murray has installed the T-formation with a balanced line this year in place of the double-wing system of two years ago, and the modified 'double-winged T' which he used last season. This double-winged T had the quarterback standing "side-saddle" behind the center and handing the ball off to the other backs who were in their normal double-wing positions. The Hens have a large squad of four teams and use the two platoon system, substituting liberally.

Smith Operates Delaware T

In the backfield, the Hens have Charley Smith operating the T, with O'Toole, Samocki, and Paris running from the halfbacks. In the plunging position, sophomore Tom Bonuelli and co-captain Mariano Stalloni ably take care of the heavy-duty work.

OVER... THE LINE

by Chuck Morgan

The Freshman football team looked good in defeating the "Little Leopards." Several players showed signs that they "have what it takes" and should be ready for varsity competition next season. The Frosh meet another good team tomorrow as the Lehigh eleven provides the opposition.

Many of the students on campus are highly disappointed with this year's varsity football campaign and are wondering what the trouble is. Every student seems to have a different opinion which ranges from, "It's the coach's fault" to "The players aren't giving their best."

We aren't certain where the trouble lies, but the change in a coaching regime at any college is bound to show up few victories until the team becomes accustomed to the style of play the coaches desire. This also works conversely, the coaches must learn to know their available material and use it to the best advantage to fit their system.

Duquesne, Lafayette, and Albright are all sporting new coach-

Aerialist

George England, the "Plainfield Passer", whose right arm has been responsible for most Mule scores.

England Key Offense Man

by Frank Rex

Soph-Frosh touch football games are usually very spirited and hard fought games, but as a rule are not noted for unveiling too much football talent. However, every rule has its exceptions, and the exception to this rule is Muhlenberg's new passing wizard, George England.

Stars in Soph-Frosh Game

It was in the Soph-Frosh game of 1948 that George's long and accurate aeriels and his speedy and shifty running not only spelled doom for the vanquished Freshmen, but also impressed the small crowd of onlookers, which fortunately included a guy by the name of Floyd Schwartzwalder. It wasn't long before the "Maj" was pounding on the dormitory door of this same George England, and it wasn't much longer before one could see George out on the practice field in a varsity uniform.

Baughman's Ace Passer

Although George did not see much action last year under Schwartzwalder, he certainly cannot complain of lack of activity

Haverford Smears Berg Booters, 8-1

Facing a strong Haverford College eleven, the Muhlenberg booters last Friday went down to their first conference defeat 8-1.

This was the booters worst setback in four seasons of Altmore coaching.

Haverford led by All-American candidates Evans and Wood and a substitute forward, Chantlis, completely dominated play and built up a four goal lead before Paul Johnson scored for the Mules in a scrimmage in front of the goal.

Haverford sewed up the game with three goals in the fourth quarter.

Muhlenberg played without the services of Shegina and All-American candidate Campbell.

Mule Harriers Bow

were Hank Folkman, Bill Straus, Clarence Moore, and Mike Toscano.

Mules Improved

Despite the loss, the Mules showed considerable improvement over their first meet. Coach Fellows was well pleased with the high spirits shown by the team, and also the strong finish that everyone seemed to have.

On Friday, October 28, Coach Fellows' Mules will travel to the historical town of Gettysburg, where they will compete in a triangular meet with Gettysburg and Haverford. Last year, the "Bullets" won the same triangular meet, with Haverford placing second and Muhlenberg third.

Little Mules Triumph, 13-6

by Bob Lane

Two neatly - executed scoring passes, thrown by Joe Amato, made the difference Friday afternoon as the Frosh made an impressive debut, edging out the Lafayette Freshmen, 13 to 6, before a cheering crowd of 2000 spectators. In the first game of a four game schedule, the Muhlenberg Frosh lived up to all expectations, and gave a showing of some really promising material for next season's varsity.

Mules Score by Passes

Lou Cardinal's boys struck with lightning speed in the first few minutes of the first half, when Joe Amato rifled a 40 yard aerial to Joe Elliot for the first TD. It was in the final seconds of the first half when Amato and Elliott again teamed up for the second score. Paul Dombrowski place-kicked the extra point.

The Lafayette Frosh, certainly no easy mark, made several bids in the final half, but they were stopped short of paydirt when the Mules tightened their defenses.

The Mules had a strong line

Over The Line

es this season and all of them are running in the red side of the won - lost column. Duquesne sports a 2-3 record; Lafayette has beaten 'Berg and lost its other three contests. Albright has a 2-3 record, one of their losses coming at the hands of the Mules. "Maj" Schwartzwalder is also having his troubles up at Syracuse with a 2-3 record.

***

Let's string along with the coaches and the team the remainder of the season and wait and see what next year holds in store. With a freshman team of close to fifty, plus this year's returning lettermen, next year's student body should not be "victory starved."

Hens Ready

man, co-captain Jack Mills and Teddy Youngling will fill the guard slots. At center will be Murray with Keiser and Mullin at tackles. Out on the flanks it will probably be McLean and Gallagher.

The Mules will be attempting to get back into the win column.

three, and Jackson crashed through for one, whereupon Latzko delivered. Sisto Averno, who had played brilliantly throughout the evening, was wide with his placement and the Bullets led, 7-6.

Jones' Kick Sets Up Safety

Gettysburg took the kickoff and reeled off one first down before they were forced to punt. Here Ditty Jones sent the Mules back against the wall as he angled the boot out of bounds on the four yard line. Al Rubbert, quarterbacking in place of George England, faded deep into his end zone and fired a pass to Vern Miller, who was hit behind the goal line by Big Marty Pavelic. The safety brought the final tally to 9-6, as the seconds ticked away.

The play of rugged Rog Tolosky on the flank for 'Berg was one of the finest defensive performances of the year. Big Rog crashed through to break up numerous ground plays, many of which occurred at crucial points. Hal Roveda's play at defensive half was also noteworthy.

Hens Triumph

The Bisons of Bucknell bounced back from their one point loss to Temple to trounce Washington and Jefferson 62-0. This is the largest score the Bisons ever rolled up.

Duquesne held Villanova scoreless for the first half, but weakened in the second half to lose 20-0.

that Lafayette found hard to crack. Kenny Reiber, 200 pound end, along with Carlton Batt, a former Bethlehem High player, were exceptionally fast in charging downfield on fourth down kicks to spill the Leopard ball carriers before they had a chance to pick up any damaging yardage. The Mules running attack was sparked by left halfback Pete Dolly and Bill Dombroski, fullback. Tommy Pietille proved very consistent in punting the 'Bergmen out of dangerous quarters.

Taylor Stars for Leopards

The big gun for the Leopards was Taylor who did most of the running from a Notre Dame box formation and setting up plays with well executed handoffs to Harbruck and Jones. It was Taylor's pitch to Herbruck that accounted for Lafayette's only score.

Coach Lou Cardinal was well pleased with his boys' first showing, but claimed that his boys need plenty of polishing before meeting a strong Lehigh team in their next home game.

This non-conference game was the first win for the Chilmen who have been hampered most of the season by injuries at key positions. The team's record to date is one win, three losses and one tie.

On Saturday the booters will clash with one of their bitterest rivals, Lafayette, on the local field. Last year the Leopards defeated the Mules for the first time.

England Key Man

this year, for Howie Baughman has made him number one quarterback. Nor can the Cardinal and Grey fans, who go out to root home a Muhlenberg victory, complain that George isn't in there at the quarterback position deftly handing the ball off on running plays and calmly chucking those fine passes. Of the nine touchdowns that Muhlenberg has scored in their first five games, George's right arm has been responsible for six.

George, a Plainfield, New Jersey boy, is a junior, majoring in Business. He played football in high school and was also on the swimming and track teams. So he did not come to 'Berg completely "un-ried" in the art of gridiron warfare.

Most people agree that the "Plainfield Passer," with another year to go, should develop into the most proficient aerialist to wear the Muhlenberg colors since the departure of Bill Bell, if he does not already enjoy that distinction.

Classes Select Advisers

Mr. Stenger and Mr. Mohn are both members of the English department; Dr. Victor Johnson is a member of the Social Science department.

Ladies Of The Strings

The four talented members of the Kneisel String Quartet who are scheduled to appear on the Assembly Program November 10.

Quartet Of Strings On Stage Next

Kneisel String Group In Chamber Musical

The Marianne Kneisel String Quartet, who according to the N. Y. Times represent "the highest traditions of chamber music," will be the presentation at the next assembly program, November 10, 1949, at 11 a.m.

Highlight of the program, states advance publicity, will be the playing of the "Sancy Stradivarius" by Marianne Kneisel, leader of the group. This violin was reportedly made in 1713, during the period called "the golden period of Stradivarius." It derives its name "Sancy" from the French family which owned it.

Received Wide Acclaim

The Kneisel Quartet, founded by Franc Kneisel, "pioneer leader of chamber music in America," has made several transcontinental tours, and received acclaim by musical critics for its work.

Originally called the Franc Kneisel String Quartet, after its founder, the group now bears the name of its present leader, Marianne Kneisel.

The Quartet gives summer concerts at the Kneisel Hall at Bluehill, Hancock County, Maine, and for the past few years has given a number of summer concerts at

Council Issues Chapel Regs For Offenders

Student Monitors To Report All Inexcusable Standing

Designed to discourage the student practice of standing during Chapel periods a new regulation passed by Student Council is now in effect at all Chapel periods.

The Chapel monitors will keep a record of all the slips turned in by men who stand in the back of chapel while there are vacant seats available. Anyone whose name appears on this record five times will be subject to disciplinary action by Student Council.

According to Student Council President Bill Lybrand, it was felt by the Chapel monitors that the same group of men have been habitually standing during the morning services. It is at this group of consistent offenders that the new regulation is aimed.

According to Chapel authorities there are sufficient chairs in Chapel to accommodate the average attendances. Therefore, both Chapel monitors and Student Council, which is effecting the regulation, feel it is justified.

Gillespie Band Set For Soph-Frosh Hop

"Stork Strut" Theme For Friday Nite Informal Affair At Frolics Ballroom

Matt Gillespie and his orchestra will furnish the music for the annual Soph-Frosh Hop to be held next Friday, November 4, from 9:00 to 12:00 p.m., at the Frolics Ballroom, Union Boulevard, Allentown. Known this year as the "Stork Strut", the hop is given traditionally by the Sophomore and Freshman classes to start the 'Berg social year rolling.

Band leader Matt Gillespie whose music will provide the tempos for dancing at the "Stork Strut."

The Hop will be semi-formal, and gowns and corsages will be in order. Admission to the dance is free to all students, faculty, administration and staff members. It is expected that more than 300 couples will attend the Hop.

Blind Dates Arranged

To aid in introducing those freshmen who are new to Allentown, all the freshmen who wish to can get dates arranged for them with girls from Cedar Crest and the two nurses' homes. This offer was also extended to needy sophomores.

The ballroom is being decorated by freshmen under the direction of the sophomore committee. The president of the Sophomore class, James Loucks, is in charge of the arrangements for the dance.

Gillespie, who has played at Berg dances before has one of the finest dance bands in the Lehigh Valley, quoted a member of the dance committee. Last week Gillespie and his orchestra shared the spotlight with Sammy Kaye at Lehigh University during their house party weekend. His style is excellent for dancing, offering a variety of moods, commented Student Councilman Lou Colombo.

Choir, Dr. Stine Participate In Rev. Brobst Memorial Service

Station WKAP Broadcasts Program From Church; Other Lutheran Clergymen To Deliver Sermons

by Guenter Jansen

Dr. Russell W. Stine and the Muhlenberg College Choir will be among those honoring the memory of Reverend Samuel Kistler Brobst, who was instrumental in the founding of Muhlenberg College. The service will be held Sunday afternoon, November 6, at 2:30 p.m. in St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Allentown. Radio station WKAP will broadcast the service.

Other speakers will be the Reverend P. G. Beer and the Reverend F. A. Posselt, now pastor of St. Peter's Church.

Sermon On Brobst

Dr. Stine's sermon is entitled "Samuel Kistler Brobst: some scenes in his life, some gems from his pen, some fruits of his labors, and some challenges for his followers." Reverend Beer's sermon will be delivered in Pennsylvania-German and will concern itself with Reverend Brobst as secretary of the Allentown Conference of the Lutheran Church for 25 years. Pastor Posselt's sermon, to be delivered in German, is entitled "Dr. Brobst—the man and his work."

The Muhlenberg College Choir will appear under the direction of Dr. Harold K. Marks.

Dr. Levering Tyson stated that the entire Muhlenberg community has been invited to the service.

Vincent Lopez New Senior Ball Prospect

Committeemen Laying Plans For Annual Winter Affair

Lou Colombo, general chairman of the Senior Ball Committee, has announced that the contract for the services of Johnny Long has been canceled. Heading the list of further prospects for the Senior Ball is Vincent Lopez. If Lopez can be released from the Hotel Taft for this dance, he is expected to sign the contract.

Preparations for the Ball, to be held at Castle Garden on December 9, have begun with the appointing of the following committees.

The program committee, Bill Witmer, chairman; Publicity committee, Paul Frick, chairman; Decorations committee, Irvin Fry, chairman. According to the latest rumor, Chairman Colombo is negotiating for an added attraction during intermission.

Verein Forms A First Year Group

Wilmer D. Sanders, president of "Der Deutsche Verein," spoke to the newly organized group of first year German students last night in the West Hall recreation room. Mr. Sanders, recently returned from studying abroad, spoke about his adventures in Switzerland, where he spent the majority of his time.

This newly formed group of first year students, not yet eligible to join "Der Deutsche Verein," is the realization of an idea of Mr. Rudolph J. Sprenger, member of the Muhlenberg German Dept. The group will meet occasionally for a mutual enjoyment of the German language and to prepare itself for future membership in "Der Deutsche Verein." The Organization has been approved by Dr. Ralph C. Wood, acting head of the Muhlenberg German department.

Students who at the end of their freshman year have attained superior grades in German, are recommended for membership in Der Deutsche Verein at the beginning of their sophomore year.

IC Conference Elects Alloway

Leads Pa. State Area As Regional Director

At a recent meeting of the faculty-student executive committee of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government, David Alloway was chosen regional director of the Northeastern Pennsylvania region. This is the first high office in the I. C. G. to come to the Muhlenberg chapter in its three years on the 'Berg campus.

Constitution To Be Made

Alloway, the student chairman of the local chapter, will be in charge of the regional meeting of thirteen northeastern Pennsylvania colleges and junior colleges. The meeting will be held at 'Berg some time this year. At this meeting the region's policy for the state convention, to be held in Harrisburg, April 13-16, will be formulated.

The I. C. G., an honorary society for government students, conducts its yearly convention on some legislative theme. The 1950 convention will draw up a model state constitution during its four day tenure.

Forensic Debaters Plan New Activities

The Forensic Council held its first meeting of the semester on Tuesday, November 1, at 4:30 p.m. in West Hall auditorium. The Council formulated plans for the ensuing season. Mr. Erskine, adviser to the club, talked to the group about plans for "something new" in debate schedules, debate topics, and debate methods.

Activities Planned

The Council, led by President Ted Haas, Secretary Jack Phillips, and Treasurer Bill Kreiter, is attempting to further greater interest in forensic activity on campus and in the community.

The meeting was open to all members of the Forensic Council, those who participated in freshman and debate tournaments and oratorical contests, and anyone interested in forensic activities.

MCA Sponsors New Frosh Organizations

Campus Affairs Commission Fosters Fellowship Groups

The Freshman Fellowship Clubs, under the direction of the Personal and Campus Affairs Commission of the M. C. A., began their annual programs on Tuesday evening, November 1.

Approximately thirty freshmen, residents of West Hall, turned out for the first meeting. The group was divided into permanent clubs composed of ten men each, with Howard Weidemeyer, Charles Parker, and Paul Frick as the upperclassmen discussion leaders.

Joe Schwartz, commission chairman, stated that the purpose of these M.C.A.-sponsored clubs is to enable freshman, with the assistance and direction of mature upperclassmen, to better adjust themselves to the Muhlenberg way of life. This, Schwartz further stated, usually can be accomplished best through the medium of the informal bull session.

Pre-Meds Hear Dental Surgeon

Dr. Irvin V. Uhler, oral surgeon from Lancaster, Pa., will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Pre-Medical Society, Wednesday, November 9, 1949. Dr. Uhler's topic will be "Oral Surgery, a Specialty."

According to society president Richard Rosamilia, Dr. Uhler's topic will "Briefly describe the field, training required for American boards, and the place of the specialty in organized hospitals." Dr. Uhler also plans to supplement his talk with 2 x 2 Kodachrome slides of various lesions, fractures, and other conditions encountered in the practice of oral surgery.

Dr. Uhler took his pre-dental work at 'Berg, and graduated from Temple University School of Dentistry in 1937.

During the recent war he served with the Navy, and attained the rank of lieutenant senior grade. His duties carried him to several U. S. bases, and he was then assigned to the Anchor section of the Seventh Fleet in Manila.

Prior to his entrance into service in 1943 he practiced in Allentown, but is at present located in Lancaster, Pa.

Art Exhibition Begins Sunday

The Medieval World, a photographic exhibition prepared by the editors of LIFE, will be shown in the Art Department gallery, beginning this Sunday, November 6, and continuing through November 26, it was announced by Joseph Cantieni, head of the Art department.

This exhibition is made up of photographs which were published as a two-part pictorial essay in LIFE magazine and also includes many pictures that had to be omitted from the publication for lack of space.

In addition to this display of a photographic history of Medieval life, there will also be shown medieval manuscripts lent by the University of Indiana and other examples of the medieval art of writing from Muhlenberg College and many local collections.

The gallery will be open Mondays through Thursdays from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. On this Sunday afternoon, November 6, the display can be seen from 3 to 5 p.m.

M and D Men Polish Fall Production Points

by Don Markley

Rehearsals of the Mask and Dagger production Laburnum Grove, have moved into advanced stages as the performance draws near. The cast has been rehearsing three nights a week under the direction of Mr. Andrew Erskine. The set has been designed and is under construction. The stage crew expects to complete the set within a few days so as to let the cast gain greater familiarity with it.

Marty Weisman, who designed the very effective set for the last Mask and Dagger production, Golden Boy, is again in charge of building the scenery. He and his committee have devised plans for a new and distinctive scheme of setting.

Make Everyday Sunday For Chapel Behavior

For weeks we have been proclaiming advancement from a school for boys to a college for men. The results show that our endeavors are bearing fruit. We want exams without proctors; open stacks in the library; and representation at administrative meetings. We have gained many of these ideals. Our Student Council is unique throughout the area in its manifold powers. In itself it has become a challenge to student governments on many other campuses. We want a lot and we're getting everything we ask for. But, what are we giving in return?

Probably the sorest spot on student cooperation has been in Chapel conduct. In classroom we almost prostrate ourselves in our seats, while in Chapel we are too energetic to sit. If only this energy could be spent in the classroom.

For a majority Chapel has its daily contribution to their lives. To the standing minority it is a race with time. From the moment they enter the Chapel until they are dismissed their mind occupies one thought, "will I get to the door before the student body begins to file out?" Invariably they do. They have won their race by being disrespectful, both to God and their fellow students. Should they feel proud? M.E.B.

From Where I Sit

Touchstone To Success Is Against Mediocrity

In one of his essays Matthew Arnold discusses criteria by which poetry may be judged. He calls these criteria "touchstones". It seems to me we can apply the idea of "touchstones" in many ways other than in the judgment of poetry.

For example, we are reminded of such ideas as "You can judge a man by his action" or "You can judge a man by the company he keeps." One important phase of a man's education at Muhlenberg is the formation of the "touchstones" by which he judges and is judged.

As I sit at my desk week after week and talk with Muhlenberg men, I am somewhat concerned by an all too strong a willingness to accept mediocrity of performance. I hope we shall not have mediocrity become a touchstone for our college. Admittedly, not everyone can be good in all his endeavors, but this does not invalidate the idea that a man must do his very best in all his activities. He must judge his performance not by what is mediocre but by what is best. In other words, he may not be able to turn in a superior performance, but he does know a superior performance when he sees it and he judges accordingly.

Numerous Standards of Judgment for 'Bergmen

An area of work which is particularly subject to mediocre performance is writing. If you cannot express yourself clearly so that others can understand you, then you surely have not thought your ideas through yourself. If you continue to write poor letters, poor examinations and papers in whatever course, then you are slowly molding a "touchstone" of writing which cannot do other than harm to you as you continue in college and out into life. We all admire skill in pitching or in quarterbacking or in bowling or in singing and so on. These skills are developed by constant practice judged by high standards of performance. The same applies to writing. I continue to be amazed at the number of young men and women too, who go through the motions of education and, indeed, who often consider themselves educated but who by their oral and written expression reveal that by any decent standard or "touchstone" they are not educated. I do not plead here for a purist or pedantic standard. I do plead however, for a correct, forceful and virile expression which reflects good thinking and good "touchstones."

You will no doubt think of other types of "touchstones" by which we judge and are judged. How does he select and treat his female companies? Can he stand to be left alone with his own conscience and be counted on to act as he should? Incidentally, isn't this at the basis of the "open stack" problem in the library?

Let's work together as Muhlenberg men at this business of formulating good "touchstones." Let's see if we can't develop a spirit, with accompanying strong action, which will mark a man as a 'Bergman. Let's make our standards and actions so good that others will wish to judge themselves by our "touchstones."

Queens Columbus Sees Prospects Of Paydirt In Rock Piles Of Muletown

Canadian Graduate Joins Science Department Staff As New Instructor Of Geology And Mineralogy Courses

Mr. Stuart Jenness, 'Berg's new rock-chipper of the Geology Department.

On the second floor of the Science Building, amid samples of rocks and minerals, sits a newcomer to the Muhlenberg campus, Mr. Stuart Jenness. In the few short weeks that Mr. Jenness has been here at Muhlenberg he has developed a following of geology students who rate him as "tops." His genial smile, quick wit, and bewhiskered upper lip add a touch of warmth to the stone-cold atmosphere of the geology rooms. Quite young, handsome, and easy going, Mr. Jenness is a welcome addition to our faculty.

Taught at Queens

Born in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, Mr. Jenness spent most of his life there with his parents. In 1944 he entered Queens University in Kingston, Ontario. He spent four years there, graduating with a B.S. degree in geology and mineralogy; it was at Queens that he received his first teaching experience by assisting a laboratory instructor. During the summers of '47 and '48, while attending Queens, Mr. Jenness helped conduct a geological survey of Canada.

After being graduated from Queens, Mr. Jenness came to the U. S. and began his graduate work at the University of Minnesota. During the '48-'49 academic year he completed his course work and thesis for a M.S. degree. While at Minnesota, Mr. Jenness met a former 'Berg geologist, Donald Brobst, who was, at that time, taking his graduate work there. Donald talked to Mr. Jenness about Muhlenberg, and the chance meeting and subsequent discussion of these two geologists was instrumental in associating Mr. Jenness with Muhlenberg.

Future Plans

Last June Mr. Jenness took "the big step," and now he and his wife are residing in Allentown. As to plans for the future, Mr. Jenness said that he hopes to continue his graduate work whenever it is possible to do so. He also hoped that he could, in some way, help the geology majors attain the high goal which he himself is striving for: the goal of continued studies and advanced knowledge in his specialized field. Besides being a busy geologist, Mr. Jenness also has time out for several hobbies. His main hobby is any kind of music which doesn't go to any extremes. He plays the piano with some ability, but, as he states, "It's only for self-enjoyment." The other hobby, which takes up the remainder of his few leisure hours, is sports. Here again, as in music, he enjoys most phases of the hobby.

Bio-Bug House And Snake Pit Exposed By Roving Reporter

Campus Museum Contains Oddities Of Many Foreign Birds, Bees And Petrified Trees

by Moe Fry

Do you know where the buggiest place on campus is? Sorry, it's not the Psych room, but the Biology Museum, which is tucked in amongst the labs, lecture rooms, and pickling vats on the third floor of the Science Building. Of course bugs aren't the only numerous thing there, but, because of their size, and being both living and dead, they outnumber the myriad birds, with eggs to match, and other weird assortments of dead matter on exhibition.

Extraordinary Information

It would be of interest to every student to acquaint himself with this delightful place—it is crammed full of knowledge. For instance, did you know that the Erythronoea Vitis is a grape leaf hopper? No? Well, not only that, but it is a very destructive pest in the grape belt, because it sucks the leaves, causing brown spots, and, finally, a burning! Suppose "Stop the Music" called you, and you didn't know what the Psylla Pyricola is? If only you had investigated the museum, you would have known that it is a jumping pear louse. The sign says that it "attacks twigs and stems of fruit. Also causes a . . ." The remainder of this fascinating bit of information will forever be a dark mystery, being obliterated by the black border of the frame.

And the birds! Gads, what an aggregation! There is one interesting little fellow, the Apteryx Owenii, with a long bill, but fat as a gimmy; then the Mexican Jacana (Card B-1644), looking typically Mexican, and probably a member of the Roy Rogers Club, judging by the spurs it has. And lo and behold, perched in the corner, sans specs, is a Secretary bird, not as intelligent and charming as the group on campus, but plumed in the same way to attract attention.

Don't let the tray-upon-tray array of eggs fool you. Though there are specimens of the Gadwell's (of the Utah Gadwells that is), the Foolish Gullimont's, probably from the South, and the Least Bittern's eggs, there is not a chicken egg to be found. That of the Brunnick Murre would fit well in a fruit bowl; it's shaped like a pear, with rotted spots, without a stem.

Amazing Phenomena

From there on, you encounter endless wonders. If you can't tell the difference between the Squalus Skull and the Necturus Triple Injection, don't let it worry you; in fact, if you have been in a

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

All right, so the S. S. Berg DIDN'T cross the Delaware last Saturday night. It was still a game that shouldn't have been missed. The cheerleaders popped their tops as avid 16 year old female autograph collectors stood in line for their John Hancocks. Between signings, applause-leaders Wence on Martin, and Jones on Ziegler played knights on horses to keep the crowd amused as the fog steadily rolled in. The lensman taking movies of the game was crushing grapes with anger up in the pressbox. Even the versatile band did its part.

Trombonist 'Iron-lip' Lithgow led the musicians in choice hymns, dixieland, the cavalry charge, and the B. O. foghorn song. As the cloud further settled on the grid the game approached hide and seek proportions, each team proving that the hand-off was quicker than the eye. The antenna on the back of Bill Woodworth's radar apparatus snapped off and he went charging away into the sidelines throwing an innocent ten year old bystander for a two yard loss. Yep, quite a game; even the aim of the ever-present glider-heaver was affected by the mist, as was the ref's horn; it squeaked sadly when it should have squawked authoritatively.

'Berg Graduate: "You seem very interested in this stuffed eagle."

Lehigh Aeronautical Engineer: "Yes, I think his steering gear infringes on one of my patents."

Hither and Yon: No, it's not a moving van; it's Chuck Hubb's '29 Willys. When Doc Woods' Hudson broke down on campus last week, he talked to it in German, we hear. Sig Ep beat Sig Ep in football Saturday afternoon as the Delaware chapter invaded 'Berg's practice field. A shaggy brown beagle of questionable origin disrupted Mr. Meredith's History class momentarily last week. Somebody finally let the poor thing out and he went off down the hall baying as if the moon were out. Seven Beaver girls hit the campus at the house-party weekend. Rumor has it that Wally Carver took a sudden interest in pool Saturday night.

Laffynition: Professor: a man whose job it is to tell students methods of solving the problems of life which he himself has tried to avoid by becoming a professor.

TO THE CHOWLINE: Sincerest thanx for the dig-plug last week, but let's face it, WHO READS IT? Only kidding, Chum.

Hearts and flowers: Upheaval at Phi Tau as Dave Eynon runs off with Dave Jentsch's gal. A Cripple and a Tooker pinned a Tibby and a Nancy respectively. Same flame for Lou Duerr, who gave Helen Miller his Lambda Chi broach for her birthday. Dave Bayer's fraternity brothers wore black mourning bands for a day because Dave pinned Claire Sulzberger. If all went well yesterday, Roy Sturm has been engaged to Barbara Lily for a day. Seen here and there: Hank Mohling and Sally Dennis. We predict: Bill Eccles and Margie Arnst. Turtle-like Dave Reeves, however, must be playing it real cool. Fourteen dates and still no kiss!

A LANDLADY'S LAMENT

"The Muhlenberg Student is very fine, A gentleman and scholar; just look at mine. I've had them for years and no trouble at all." That's the story I've heard. I think it was tall.

So I rented my rooms to three, none the less; Jerry, Howie and Lefty—considered the best. Two weeks they are here, and damage galore. Though they're not finished yet, I can tell you some more. Their books are all scattered and sheets are all torn, Two rooms I clean daily and now I'm all worn. I could go on forever and tell you much more, But judge for yourself and please don't get sore.

Because:

Does MCA Need Change

Dear Editor:

As a Christian student attending a Christian college, I would like to suggest some changes in the activities of the Muhlenberg Christian Association. It seems to me that this organization is becoming entirely too secular and is veering from its original purpose of religious activity and the promotion of Christian teaching on the campus. As a member of the Christian faith, I look askance at some of the speakers sponsored by the MCA who have expounded worldly viewpoints, rather than preaching the Gospel.

Local Movie Offerings

VICTOR MATURE and BETTY HUTTON have a scrap-happy love affair in Paramount's comedy-with-music, "Red, Hot and Blue," which is here at the Earle Theatre.

by Edward Berdick

The beginning of next week sees two outstanding motion pictures available to the Muhlenberg community and the Allentown area residents. While Paramount's musical comedy, "Red, Hot and Blue," is running at the Earle theater, the State theater and the Midway are featuring "The Red Shoes," and "The Mozart Story," respectively.

"The Red Shoes," technicolor musical romance has been named one of the "ten best films of 1948" by the National Board of Review, the national preview group representing civic, school and religious bodies.

In continuing their policy of presenting outstanding "class" pictures designed especially for college students of this area, the

Foreign Study Exams Offered

State Dept. Schedules Dates For Grad Tests

The State Department has announced that competitive examinations for graduate study, teaching, and research in foreign schools will be given between October 15 and December 1, 1949 for the academic year 1950-51.

Grants which consist of round trip transportation, tuition, a living allowance, and a small amount for books and materials are available for 648 Americans. A comparable number of opportunities will be available for foreign nationals to come to this country.

These awards are made under the Fulbright Act, which authorizes the State Department to use certain foreign currencies and credits, acquired through the sale of surplus property, abroad for programs of educational exchange with other nations. Grants are made for one academic year only, and are renewable only in exceptional cases. Grants to foreign nationals include round trip transportation only. Expenses here in America must be met by some other source.

Persons wishing to apply should send their inquiries to the following agencies:

For Graduate Study—Dean Mercer.

For Advanced Research, University Teaching, or Teaching in American Secondary Schools Abroad—Conference Board of Associated Research Councils, 2101 Constitution Avenue N. W., Washington 25, D. C.

VA Reverses Plan To Abolish Benefits

Administration Reinstates Previous 1948 Provision

According to Mr. Frounfelker, the Veterans' Administration has rescinded a previous directive which abolished the use of G.I. benefits in several instances.

In a sweeping motion in early September, the V.A. abolished benefits to vets attending vocational schools, except those in operation prior to the enactment of the G.I. Bill, prohibiting re-entering training after having once discontinued or completed a course of instruction, and discouraged the use of part-time correspondence courses.

Following a month of confusion and strained relations between the V.A. and the leaders of congress, the field of education, and veterans' organizations, the V.A. in the first week of October brought forth a reinstatement of the previous provisions established in June of 1948.

At present a veteran must now present satisfactory reasons to the V. A. to change a course of instruction. The V.A. must know when the veteran desires to change from one approved institution to another,

Halloween Stakes Theme For Fraternity House Parties

Phi Kappa Tau, Sigma Phi Epsilon, A.T.O. Open Social Season; L.X.A. Formal, Friday

The fraternity social season was inaugurated last weekend with parties at three of the fraternity houses on the campus. Phi Kappa Tau, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Alpha Tau Omega, all had Halloween parties while Lambda Chi Alpha is planning a formal dance at the Americus Hotel on Friday, November 11.

A masquerade party on Friday night highlighted the P. K. T. weekend. The house was decorated with corn stalks, pumpkins, and a large imitation harvest moon. An informal dance was held after the Delaware football game at which fraternity members from Delaware were guests.

A touch football game Saturday afternoon with the Delaware chapter's intermural team was the main event in Sigma Phi Epsilon's social weekend. After the game approximately forty Delaware Sig Eps and their dates attended a buffet supper at the S. P. E. house. An informal dance was held after the varsity game Saturday night.

Lehigh Host To Mules At Bethlehem

Blue Hens Stop Berg, 25-13 As Stolloni And Paris Sparkle

by Bob Godnick

A combination of inept passing and kicking spelled doom for Howie Baughman and his Muhlenberg Mules last Saturday night, as Delaware University's Blue Hens capitalized on these 'Berg shortcomings to register a 25-13 victory over the Allentown eleven before 6,000 fans at the AHS stadium.

Booters Drop Leopards, 5-2

by John Rollo

The Mule soccermen won their first Middle Atlantic Conference contest last Saturday afternoon as they defeated a scrappy but outplayed Lafayette eleven 5-2 on the College soccer field. The booters were at full strength for the first time since they lost a hard-fought tussle 2-1 to Temple University.

Rollo Scores for 'Berg

In the first period both teams threatened to score, but it was not until one minute of the second period that 'Berg went ahead when Jack Rollo hooked in a long left-footer after taking a pass from Rudy Amelio. Six minutes later Dick Eichner widened the 'Berg margin with a hard smash into the nets following a short scrimmage in front of the goal. Just before the end of the first half Woglom put Lafayette back in the game when he pushed the ball past Goalie Hausman following a scrimmage in front of the goal.

Johnson Forced To Leave Game

Paul Johnson shoved one through the Lafayette goal after six minutes of play in the third period to give 'Berg a 3-1 lead. Johnson collided with the Lafayette goalie on the score and had to leave the game. In the same period Rudy Amelio, taking a fine

Delaware Strikes Early

Delaware wasted little time at the outset of the game. After the first sequence of downs, Kaplowitz of the Hens crashed through to block Don Latzko's punt on the 'Berg seven. The Mules showed some sturdy defensive work as they held on the two, but Delaware kept pressing. Jackson snared Smith's pass on the eight to put a temporary halt to the Blue Hen offensive once more, only to have Strait fumble on the 17. The 'Berg forward wall held once more, but Fred Schenk snared Rubbert's pass on the 18. Here Delaware took to the air and broke the scoring ice, Charlie Smith heaving to Mario Stalloni for a T.D. Bilski converted.

Jackson Sparks Attack

Later in the initial stanza, the Mules recovered a Delaware fumble on the Hen's 32, which resulted in tying the score. Brilliant running by Elmo Jackson was the keynote of the drive, with the speedy halfback finally toting the pigskin over from three yards out. Sisto Averno's conversion made

Haverford First In Triangular Meeting

On Friday, October 28, the historical battlefield of Gettysburg was the setting for a triangular cross country meet between Haverford, Gettysburg, and Muhlenberg. Haverford won the closely matched meet by scoring 29 points to Muhlenberg's 39 and Gettysburg's 64.

Haverford's Thomas Snipes was the first runner to complete the course. Snipes negotiated the three and one half mile course in 16:42, breaking the previous record of 17:02 set by W. Stoekhs of Gettysburg. Capt. Won Albert was the first man to finish for the Mules, gaining second spot in 16:47.

Traditional Rivals Ready For Annual Go

This Saturday afternoon an underdog Muhlenberg College eleven will cross the Lehigh River to the land of the Packers to play favored Lehigh University in one of the Lehigh Valley's traditional football classics. The Mules will be seeking revenge for a 35-21 defeat suffered last year at the hands of this same opponent. It will be the 37th meeting of the two rivals since 1907, with Lehigh holding a 23 to 13 edge.

Lehigh Stops N.Y.U. Break Mylin Jinx; Bucknell Whips Bills

Lehigh overcame the Hooks Mylin jinx Saturday as they downed N.Y.U. 21-6.

Dick Gabriel and Dick Doyné led the Packers with two long TD jaunts in the first victory a Lehigh team has scored over a Mylin coached team.

Scanella Passes Click

Gabriel ran 61 yards from scrimmage for the first Lehigh score in the opening period. In the third quarter, Lehigh's passing combination of Scanella to Morris clicked for the second touchdown. Scanella threw a 35 yard aerial to Andy Morris, who took it on the 25 and went all the way. Doyné took Ranieri's punt on his own thirty in the final period, and, aided by a key block by Joe Kuhar, went all the way for the Packer's last score. Rosen converted all the extra points. N.Y.U. scored in the final period on a pass from Quinn to Starke.

Bucknell Continues Winning Ways

Bucknell scored two touchdowns in the final period to beat Buffalo 21-7. Bucknell scored before the game was three minutes old on a pass from Hoover to McKibbin, and then made good on the conversion. Buffalo tied the game in the second quarter when Amico ran 55 yards to the 8, from where Wesser went over. The conversion was good to tie the

Coach Bill Leckonby will use a balanced-T, varying his offense with pitch-outs, line thrusts, and passing. Leckonby employs the two platoon system which is becoming more and more the rule rather than the exception.

Both offensive and defensive units are big and heavy.

Backfield Strong

In the backfield, Scannella master-minds the T and handles the passing chores. The half back positions will be filled by Gabriel and Doyné. Gabriel, one of the better backs in the East, features speed with shifty running and is hard to stop once in the open. Doyné, a much better back than he was last year, will also do most of the punting. He is especially noted for his quick-kicks which are a constant threat. Both Gabriel and Doyné are adept at returning kicks, and have gone all the way more than once this year. Rounding out this potent backfield will be Kuhar at fullback.

Numbers Leads Line

Up on the forward wall will be Morris, a good pass receiver, and LaSasso on the flanks, with Heyman and Hanes anchoring the line at the tackles. The guard slots are filled by Kluge and Arthur, while the pivot is manned by Bob Numbers, the captain of the team.

The Brown and White warriors have won four and lost two this year. The two setbacks were at the hands of Rutgers, 40-27, and Brown, 48-0, respectively.

Little Mules Whip Lehigh, 20-14

Berg Yearlings Win; Remain Undefeated

Coming from behind to roll over the Lehigh frosh, the Little Mules scored their second straight victory last Friday afternoon in defeating an inspired Lehigh yearling eleven 20-14, before 1200 fans at Muhlenberg's Field.

Mills Sparks Drive

Lou Cardinal's boys again struck with lightning speed, taking only eight plays after the opening kickoff to march 69 yards, the payoff coming on Paul Dombrowski's four-yard dart around the left side, after taking George Mills' pitchout. Mills sparked this drive, mixing three passes, two line bucks, and the pitchout in the sequence. The high mark of the drive came when Mills rifled a 27-yard aerial to Ken Reiber which carried Berg to Lehigh's 37.

Pre-Meds, 'Cats Are Contenders In I-M

by Harry Ambrose

As the Intramural touch football season moves along, the Pre-Meds have taken over first place in League II. Each team annexed its last game by one touchdown.

Ted Lithkow Scores Two TD's

Ted Lithkow's two touchdowns, the second in the final minute of play on a sleeper, provided the only tallies for the Pre-Meds in a 12-6 victory over the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. The first score came in the opening quarter on a forty yard pass play. The Phi Sigs knotted the count when they recovered a fumble deep in the enemy territory. However, the Pre-Meds snatched a win on Franzblau's pass to Lithkow who was wide open racing down the sidelines.

Black Cats Undefeated

In League II, the undefeated Black Cats continued to show the way, knocking off the tough Green Hornets by a 6-0 count. The lone touchdown came on the first play of the game when a short pass followed by two laterals clicked for sixty yards with Freddie Mazzucco sprinting the final forty yards.

Next week's schedule shows the Ramblers meeting the Easy Aces in League II competition, and the Flying Dutchmen meet the ATO's.

The Junior Engineers wrapped up their offensive in a 157-pound scatback, Pat Pilla, who pulled the two grandstand plays that gave the Lehigh Frosh its two TDs. Their first score came when Don Adams took Mills' kickoff on the eight, and on a reverse gave the ball to Pilla who galloped down the right sideline for a touchdown. Walt Trillhaase then put Lehigh in front 7-6 with a conversion.

Joe Amato Passes Set Up TD
Berg's second score came after recovering Bill Kitsos's bobble on Lehigh's 31. Joe Amato rifled two passes, one to Jimmy Thomas for eight yards, and another to Joe Elliot that wrapped up the last 23. Pete Dolly converted for the extra point.

Lehigh took the lead for the second time when Pilla took Pietilla's fourth-down punt, and getting beautiful blocking from his team, scampered 75 yards untouched for the second Lehigh touchdown. Trillhaase conversion sent the Engineers in front, 14-13. Starting on their own 32, the the entire meet was the fact that the first four men to finish bettered the original record time set by Stoekhs. Stoekhs himself managed to place third in the time of 16:50, with Floyd Shupp of 'Berg just two tenths of a second behind.

Shupp led the field for the earlier part of the race and set a terrifically fast pace, which probably accounted for the record being broken.

score. In the final period, Stec intercepted a Buffalo pass to set up the next score. Ostendarp went over on a pass, and then led another drive which climaxed when Albert went over from the one-foot line. Mason made all three conversions.

more difficult by a five yard penalty against the Mules, tied the score at 7-7.

The Blue Hens tallied twice in the second stanza with what proved to be enough to ice the contest. Don Latzko, after a poor pass from center, had his punt blocked again by the aforementioned Kaplowitz who recovered on the 'Berg two yard line. This occurred after the Mule forward wall had withstood another Delaware offensive drive, and had held on the 19. Stalloni smashed over for the tally, and Delaware led, 13-7.

Interception Leads to Score

Another interception set up the final tally of the first half. Don Carmichael, defensive halfback, took an attempted Mule pass and returned it to the 'Berg 38. A steady ground attack featured by the line smashes of Mario Stalloni, brought the ball to the five, Johnny Paris scored from that point. The tally now read 19-7.

In the third quarter, Delaware manufactured its final score. A sustained drive of 70 yards on the first sequence of downs resulted in a score with Paris cashing in once more, hitting the right side for 3 yards and a Delaware lead of 25-7.

The Mules' best offensive thrust of the evening occurred late in the third quarter, but did not produce a score. Hard driving and shifty running by Jackson, Strait and Latzko carried to the Delaware 5.

Strait Cracks Over

'Berg finally did cash in for another score late in the final period, but by that time the result was no longer in doubt. Amidst the fog and a speeding time-piece, Russ Strait cracked over from the one.

The late stages of the contest produced numerous penalties, particularly against the Hens who, all told, had 132 yards marked off against them. At one point, Delaware had third down and so many yards to go for a first down, that they couldn't even see the yard sticks----fog or no fog.

ligion and philosophy department, is professor of ethics and philosophy.

Reverend Samuel K. Brobst was a member of the Board of Trustees of Muhlenberg College, elected by the stockholders, 1867-1876. He was born November 16, 1822, and died December 23, 1876, at his home in Allentown. He received his classical training at Allentown Academy, Marshall and Washington Colleges. He studied theology privately, was licensed in 1847 by the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, and a few years later was ordained to the office of the ministry by the same body.

Founded in 1848

Muhlenberg College became the successor of the Allentown Seminary, which was founded in 1848 by the Reverend Christian R. Kessler of the Reformed Church, and of the Allentown Collegiate Institute and Military Academy, which succeeded the Seminary in 1864. The founder of the Allentown Seminary was induced to come to Allentown and engage in the work of establishing an institution of higher learning by Reverend Brobst, first pastor of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church. According to many, Dr. Brobst may be said to have been the originator of the enterprise and its most zealous supporter.

cross from Finkelstein, scored for 'Berg on a difficult head shot.

The fourth period saw both teams denting the scoring column. Dick Eichner scored his second goal of the contest, a hard driven left-footer. It was Eichner's fourth goal in the last two games. Hurlburt headed a goal through for the visitors as Coach Altemose used all his reserve power.

The booters in winning played their best game of the season. With the return of Shegina and Campbell, their defensive play was strengthened. Besides Campbell and Shegina, Hausman, Funk, Doll, and Finkelstein sparked on defense.

Frosh Trim Lehigh

Little Mules sparked by Mills moved 68 yards in four plays with the score coming from a 23-yard pass to Pete Dolly. Dolly then made the conversion.

The final half was strictly Muhlenberg. The Mules completely outcharged Lehigh, tearing their defenses into shreds.

The Chowline

We regret—that, due to circumstances beyond our control, the price of half-pints of milk will be raised one cent per bottle. Previously, the Pennsylvania Milk Control Board had authorized a one cent reduction to all schools. Now the Board has decided to exclude colleges from that group, thereby forcing us to charge the additional cent.

However, to counterbalance this situation, Ted promises to sell pints of milk for sixteen cents. There, if you buy one pint instead of the two half-pints you are accustomed to buying, the increase will not affect you.

Mr. Timberlake, in answer to a question as to how difficult an examination he is giving tomorrow, is supposed to have said, "Did you see Mr. Hollister's grades on the bulletin board? Well, I can do better than that."

If you come upon any prostrate students in the vicinity of the Commons, in all probability they just noticed the new nets dangling from the basketball rims on the outdoor courts.

Saturday afternoon the chapter, their dates, and the Delaware chapter held a barn party at Scotty Wood's barn. ### Why No Revivals

Why doesn't MCA confine its activities to purely religious functions? In the past year, the MCA has never held a prayer meeting, a highly important Christian activity. Also, it has sponsored absolutely no Bible study classes. The members of MCA have never distributed religious tracts on the campus. Other popular features of Gospel preaching, such as revival meetings and hymn sings, have been entirely overlooked. And how about some inner missionary activity among the student body?

We need more Christian work on the Muhlenberg campus. Let us hope that the MCA will soon repent its worldly ways and follow the true path of Christian evangelism. Christian student Past reviews indicate that the group, which is composed of four women, has a fine robust style.

The Los Angeles Examiner declares, "The finely balanced instruments (present) the quartet numbers with all the delicacy and charm that the music could yield."

Council Removes Frosh "Regs" At Thanksgiving

Action Taken With Full Agreement Of Tribunal; Lybrand Says Purpose of Frosh Games Achieved

According to a statement issued this week by Student Council President William Lybrand, freshman regulations will terminate on Thanksgiving, rather than Christmas, as may previously have been indicated.

Student Council, in making this decision, overruled the traditional procedure observed by the Freshman Tribunal, which normally would have enforced regulations until Christmas. However, according to Lybrand and Bob Sheipe the members of the Tribunal are in complete agreement with this move, and the ruling has been enacted with the mutual consent of both groups.

Class Spirit Shown

In the opinion of Council, the several inter-class contests held in conjunction with freshman regulations have achieved their purpose, that of creating and maintaining strong class spirit. Council therefore states that regulations have accomplished their part and will be removed.

There has been much confusion in interpretation of contest rules this year; and Student Council feels that its decision is warranted by these circumstances and is fair to all parties concerned.

Sophs Won Contests

Council concedes that the sophomores won the majority of the inter-class games, which would indicate extension of Frosh regulations. However, due to the afore-mentioned confusion in contest scoring and the fact that council feels class spirit has been instilled, regulations will end Thanksgiving.

Columbo Awaits Reply To Lopez Bid For Senior Ball

Arrangements for the Senior Ball on December 9, still remain incomplete as Student Councilman, Lou Columbo awaits news from the orchestra agent. Upon cancellation of the Johnny Long contract, Vincent Lopez and his orchestra was selected to fill the bill.

Lopez and his aggregation are presently playing nightly at the Hotel Taft in New York City and must be released by the management before a contract for 'Berg's December dance can be effected.

Verbal Agreement Broken

In an interview with Columbo, in charge of dance arrangements, it was revealed that the previous contract with Johnny Long was broken "for reasons not to be disclosed." The senior class decided on Long at their meeting several weeks ago, and a verbal agreement was reached with the agent. Before a contract could be signed, Long cancelled the engagement. ## Alcoholism Theme At MCA Meeting

Kinter Moderates Debates In West Hall Auditorium

"Alcoholism" will be the topic of discussion when the M.C.A. meets in the West Hall auditorium next Wednesday evening, November 16, at 7:30 p.m. Prominent men have been invited to attend the meeting and offer their opinions on the aspects of alcoholism, according to Joseph Schwartz, head of the personal campus affairs commission of the Muhlenberg Christian Association.

Mr. William Kinter, of the English department, will act as moderator for the panel discussion. Viewpoints of the Licensed Beverage Industries, Public Health Authorities, Alcoholics Anonymous, and total abstainers, have been included in the panel discussion.

Short talks by the leaders, followed by group discussion have been planned. The topic, a popular one, should be of interest to everyone, stated Schwartz.

Oxygen Preparation Science Club Topic

"The Manufacture of Liquid Oxygen" will be the topic of Mr. Clarence J. Schilling when he addresses the next meeting of the Science Club, on Monday, November 14, 1949. The meeting, to be held in the Science Building, will begin at 7:30 p.m.

According to Nelson W. Shearer, Secretary of the Club, the group welcomes any student interested in sciences into its membership. Anyone desiring to join the organization should contact one of its officers.

Oxygen In Industry

Mr. Schilling, who is chief engineer for Air Products Inc., Emmaus, Pa., will describe in his talk, the commercial preparation of oxygen as used in his particular line of work. He will discuss the large scale plant production of oxygen as conducted at the Emmaus plant, and outline the various uses to which the product is put, including its application in steel manufacture and its value in present-day hospital techniques.

Class Of '53 Elects Officers From Heavy Slate Of Nominees

Shortridge, Killough, Keller and Noble To Direct Newcomers During First Semester At Muhlenberg

Smiles of victory light faces of new Frosh officers. In usual order Dave Noble, Lee Shortridge, Bob Killough, and Charles Keller. They will lead the class of '53 this semester.

Freshman voting on Monday, November 7, resulted in the election of Lee Shortridge as president of the class; Bob Killough, vice-president; Charles Keller, secretary; and Dave Noble, treasurer. There was a total of 167 ballots cast: the class numbers 271.

The four men were elected from a ballot containing nine candidates for presidency, 12 for vice-presidency, 12 for the secretaryship, and 19 for the treasurer's position.

Both Played Football

Both Shortridge and Killough are from Wyndmoor, Pa., and were graduated from Springfield High School. Both played varsity football in high school and Killough was president of the senior class at Springfield defeating Shortridge in the class presidential election. Killough was a participant in the 1949 State Championship Wrestling meet held in Lancaster this year.

Shortridge is a business administration major, while Killough is a pre-theological student.

Business Majors

Keller, elected secretary, is also a business administration major, and hails from Long Island, N. Y. He was graduated from Baldwin High School, and was a varsity member of the wrestling, baseball and football teams.

From Maplewood, N. J., Noble attended the Hill prep school in Pottstown, Pa., following graduation from Columbia High School in Maplewood. Also a business administration major, he was treasurer of the Student Council, and played varsity baseball and basketball at Columbia. (Continued on Page Six)

Cole Calls For Arcade Copy

College Magazine Seeks Prose, Poetry And Art

Editor Thomas Cole announced today that the Fall 1949 ARCADE is under way. ARCADE is the campus literary-art magazine published twice a year. It presents the literary, critical, and artistic work of students, and is edited by members of the student body.

Deadline December 9

Manuscripts may be turned in to Mr. Cole direct at his campus quarters, 300 B East Hall, to members of the English department, or to the editors personally. Art work should be turned in to Mr. Cantini. Deadline for this semester's issue of ARCADE is December 9. All students are invited to submit their work for consideration.

Mr. Cole has the cooperation of an editorial board composed this year of Wallace Stefany (editor of last year's ARCADE) and Richard Dorfman. Faculty advisers are Mr. Earl Mohn of the English department, and Mr. Joseph Cantini of the Art department. (Continued on Page Three)

Spelt Leads AKA In Psychology Talk

Lincoln U. Student Group Guests At Next Meeting

At last Thursday evening's meeting of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Dr. David K. Spelt, Chairman of the college Psychology department, conducted an informal discussion on the subject Theory and Experiment in Contemporary Psychology. The points stressed by Dr. Spelt were: the progress toward a unified and sound scientific approach which psychology has made during the past thirty years or so; the wider acceptance by the other sciences of psychology as a science; and the fields of theory and experiment which the modern psychologist endeavors to probe and thus make open to knowledge.

Psychiatry Discussed

Dr. Spelt laid especial stress on the gap between the field of psychology and psychiatry, showing the former to be a logically founded science and the latter to be more in the field of practical medicine on a personal level. The meeting was attended by a small but attentive and interested group. (Continued on Page Three)

Three "Mrs." Have Feminine Leads In Mask & Dagger Effort

With tickets available, posters circulated, and rehearsals being held every night, Mask and Dagger's production of J. B. Priestly's Laburnum Grove moves into its final week of preparation. The mystery-comedy will open next Thursday night, November 17.

The cast includes three female members and six male members.

Wives Dominate

Filling the female roles in the production are Eleanor Stahl, Norma Lewis, and Jean Cannon. All are wives of Muhlenberg students.

Mrs. Stahl is from Catasauqua and is married to Murray Stahl, M & D president. He is a senior majoring in English. Although having no previous dramatic experience, Mrs. Stahl is an ardent follower of drama. Before marriage she was a physio-therapist at the Tice Clinic in Quakertown. Mr. and Mrs. Stahl have been married since 1946, have a year and a half old son, and live in Quakertown.

William Lewis' wife Norma comes from Darien, Connecticut.

Mrs. Lewis was a member of naval intelligence branch of the W.A.V.E.S. during the war. She has had stage experience at the University of Nebraska and at Moravian College for Women in Bethlehem. The Lewis' were married in 1948.

Jeanne Cannon from Bethlehem is the wife of Joseph Cannon and is employed at Bethlehem Steel Co. Her previous experience on the stage was gained in high school where she participated in several minstrel shows. The Cannons have been married for two years.

All three women are new to the 'Berg Little Theater stage as these are their first M & D parts.

Featured in the lead role is Guenter Jansen, class of '52 from Philadelphia. Supporting roles are filled by Warren Burns, Jerry Albert, Joe Bailey, David Jentsch, and Paul Sittler.

The play is being directed by Andrew H. Erskine, director of Mask and Dagger productions. Mr. Erskine is a member of the English department.

Thief Thwarted By Watchman

Local police are still searching for the fugitive who was surprised while attempting to break open a cigarette machine near Liberty Hall early Saturday morning. The thief had dragged the machine outside the dorm when he was discovered by the night watchman George Bachman. When he was detected, the thief made a dash for his car and escaped without being identified by Bachman. Bachman was also unable to give a full description of the fugitive's car.

Police On Scene Of Crime

When police arrived on the scene at approximately 4:00 a.m., they took into temporary custody several 'Berg students who were returning from the Soph-Frosh Hop. After questioning and being identified by watchman Bachman, these students were immediately released.

English Majors Rally To Gain Recognition

There has always been a certain amount of feeling among the undergraduates in the English department at Muhlenberg that there should be some sort of group organized outside the regular curriculum to bind those men together in a spirit of conviviality as well as in the ordinary study interests. The sentiment has never taken any definite direction; no feasible or attractive plan has ever been set down in the past to crystallize that feeling into a practical, beneficial body.

General talk among the English majors this year seems more in favor of such a group than at any time previous. Several reasons might be cited for it. First, the department has a much higher enrollment than any year in its history. Secondly, every other department on campus has some sort of club or fraternity connected with it which adds to the students' incentive in the field itself. A comparison with those departments leaves a feeling in the English specialist that his associates might be lacking that extra something that makes a major field sparkle. Thirdly, the staff of teachers in English is felt to be as well-rounded and comprehensive as any staff on campus—an opinion that has prevailed generally for some time, not just this year.

To further develop this idea and also to bring out any constructive criticism that will add to the overall system of the English department—not in administration but in curriculum—there will be a meeting of all the men studying in the field of English in the Science Auditorium at 11 o'clock Thursday, November 17. It is a privilege to be able to meet with one's mentors on such a basis, a privilege that not many comparable groups enjoy here or anywhere. It seems a must for the men directly affected by that meeting to attend and to bring along their suggestions and ideas for improving the spirit and the quality of the work within the field of English.

McAuley Macadamizes A Campus Improvement

Have you noticed lately how clear the paths on campus are on rainy days? No more puddles or small lakes to slosh through. No longer do they "pipe you aboard" at the Science Building. No more trails of muddy footprints from entrances to classrooms.

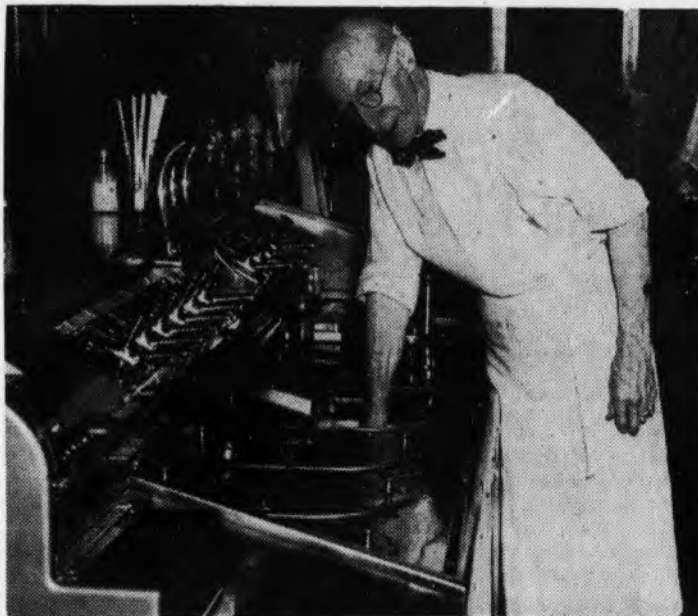

It deserves mention, we think, because an unsightly, to say nothing of a most unpleasant, situation has been rectified by the simple measure of one day's concerted effort. It shows how small inconveniences can be overcome to the end that general irritation is replaced by complete satisfaction.

Probably no letters of praise will be sent to the persons responsible for this job well done, but certainly a note of recognition and approval is in order here to let it be known that the improvement, however minor it might seem, is appreciated.

New Fizz-Wiz Of Our Campus Canteen Is Originator Of Ice Cream Sundaes

The Goopy Tale Of The "Throwover" As Told By The Ancient Yankee Patriarch Of The Student Snack Bar

"Pop" Jepsen, manager of the newly renovated campus canteen.

Slight figured, white haired, "Pop" Jepsen is fast becoming a Muhlenberg tradition. Anyone who passes through the Student Center sees him; anyone who drinks a cup of coffee there knows him. He may be in apron and bow tie, or striped suit and Hom-burg—whatever, the dress, he is there, the venerable patriarch of the Student Center!

Though his ways are fast cementing themselves with campus fountain-goers, "Pop" is a comparative newcomer to the school. He came here in September 1948 after a long and eventful career behind the marble bar.

Experience Varied

He has spent most of his life in this business. He came to Allentown to take management of the luncheonette of the American Medicine Company. When this closed, he worked with the Avondale Dairy Store here, thence to Bethlehem, as luncheonette manager of an Avondale branch there. After an episode in a Bethlehem sandwich shop, "Pop" found his way to Twenty-third and Chew.

To assume that this king of the soda fountain has had as his province only the Lehigh Valley would be erroneous. "Pop" started out with the Syndicate Trading Company in New York, opening up fountains in department stores. In fact, he was a pioneer in this field.

This in itself is an achievement, but it can hardly be called his greatest. What "Pop" is most proud of, and rightly so, is a product of his New England days. A "damn Yankee" by birth, it is there that he invented the "throwover." You've never heard of it? That's what you think. Today the "throwover" is called the sundae.

Sundae Champ

It seems that this man, who has in his day made everything in the business, started the idea of "throwovers" back in the days of the Chicago Expedition. Some Smith College girls took the idea back to college with them; they chose to call them "Smith College Ices." "Pop" followed this up, changed the name to "College Ices." The word "sundae" did not come out until Teddy Roosevelt's administration. In addition, he has won many prizes for sundae making, etc., which he has entered in the Soda Fountain Magazine.

This little man, whose narrow face is accentuated by an ever-present cigar, saw this business when it had no carbonic gas, when there were no concentrated syrups. He remembers the day when soda fountains looked like dog houses; but most of all he remembers the almost astronomical number of people he has met.

Everyone has heard of the drug-store cowboy, of the corner drug as the range on which they roam. "Pop" is the epitome of them all, and his range has known no bounds.

M & D Club In Retrospect Spotlights The Best Plays

A Decade Of Actors And Erskine Bring Much Renown To The Campus Little Theatre Stage

The Mask and Dagger Club, now an outstanding organization on the 'Berg campus, was once a very tottery structure. Organized in 1931 as an outgrowth of the Cue and Quill Club, the Mask and Dagger Club had a sporadic existence until 1935.

In 1942 Mr. Andrew Erskine became the faculty adviser for the M. and D. By 1945 Mr. Erskine had shot many of his vocal slings and arrows at unsuspecting actors and had won a reputation as a whip snapper, a bobsledder, and an administrator of outrageous English examinations.

In the fall of 1945 the Mask and Dagger presented East Lynne, a real old-time melodrama, written by Mrs. Henry Wood. East Lynne is the sad and tragic story of a woman who falls into the mental clutches of a dastardly blackguard and deserts her faithful husband. After she sees the evils of her actions, she returns to her home only to find another woman in her place. East Lynne had the audience hissing at the treacherous villain and cheering for the "good man."

Murder Drama

Once again Director Erskine whipped the Mask and Dagger cast together with his big black whiplash for the Winter production of 1946, Rope. Rope, written by Patrick Hamilton, was a subtle blending of psychology, murder and drama. The action takes place in a single room at Oxford University.

Red Carnations, by Glen Hughes, and If Men Play Cards As Women Do, by George Kauffman, were two humorous complication plays which the Mask and Dagger Club presented. "Simon," as Mr. Erskine was then being called, was even then being hampered with a lack of stage hands.

By the time the Spring production date rolled around, Mr. Erskine had over-developed the biceps in his right arm and had to switch his whip to his left hand. Nevertheless, he and the Mask and Dagger Club chose the prize-winning play, Shadow and Substance, as their next production.

The Spring production in 1947 was Shakespeare's Hamlet. Mr. Erskine worked diligently in an effort toward producing a reasonable interpretation and capable performance of the play.

In the fall of 1948, Simon Legree appeared once again in 'Berg dramatic circles. Mr. Andrew Erskine resumed his position as instructor of English and faculty

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

Sorrrree, TILT! We're so ashamed, we're going right out to hang ourselves on a roller towel. Recently there appeared in this column the inference that the Cedar Beach area was "mouldy". The Lounge Lizard informs us that there is a difference of opinion; some think it's only "muddy". Since that was the word we were after anyway, we take it back.

Let it never be said that the 'Berg football team lacks color, on the field or off; that was one surprised South Mountain rooting section last Saturday. But for diversion, the boys like hunting and beautifying the interior of East Hall. Look out, Youngstown: George England blew a rabbit up and came back with only the foot. Dick Landis bagged 14 pheasants, 21 rabbits, 10 squirrels and a grizzly bear, but he gave all the pelts to his girl. Fancy Dan Dietz started on his venetian blind kick, and Abe Aslanides and Bill decided it looked pretty good. They kept the rest of the building up till 11:30 one night, pounding spikes and screwing screws. Not satisfied, they Kem-toned the suite, perfuming the entire 2nd and 3rd floors. Incidentally, Coach Baughman (the same one that urged Pep Rally attendees to take 21 point offerer's money on the game) still isn't sure that Larry Luongo isn't Asiatic.

Pedagogic prank and patter: Popular 'Cass' Timberlake, on illustrating the economic theory that little things make big things was supposed to have held up a morsel of chalk in class and said, "See? Even dis is made up of wittle weensy dinguses."

The stork turned up with something far more exciting than mere progeny last Friday night, as Columbo et al helped him put over the Soph-Frosh Hop. EVERYBODY and his canary showed up for this one. Even Levitsky and Lockwood left their books to join in the fun. Bill Lewis, also, unchained his wife for it. The not so tender after all frosh turned up with cuties hitherto undiscovered. The pervading atmosphere was one of Mocamboism; the colored lights, the decorations, the popping of flash bulbs, and there was no frustration on the bandstand either, as frosh Willie Frustrum joined Gillespie's sax section. Yeh, millions of celebrities, it was down right refreshing. A quick gander at the tables afforded us Bob Cantra, Stan Ravitsch, Bob Killough, Jerry Hertz and even Prexy Lybrand at the ringside vunce. Let's have more of this!

At the night spot afterward:

Mule: "Who is your tight-lipped friend over there?"

Enberg: "He ain't tight-lipped. He's waiting for the janitor to come back with the spittoon."

YOU SHOULD HAVE SEEN: Soccer booters Rollo, Doll and Finkelstein trying foot and head shots at the rim, on the basketball court, Thursday. Ira Reed passing out bubble gum to be chewed and pushed into the leak in his car's gas tank. Elwood Semmel imitating Beatrice Kay Friday night. The band's big bass drum rolling out on the trolley tracks as the bus driver opened the door Saturday. Sisto Averno plaintively throbbing his "Burly" Beat on this same drum as Al Rubbert stripped for the boys. The weapons the frosh had for the flag rush: rotten tomatoes, eggs, onion juice in water-pistols, tear gas, hoses, apples, ad infinitum.

Students can be ingenious—out of class. It didn't happen here, but it happened nearby: The physics prof decided to lay down the law at the beginning of the year. There was going to be no recurrences of stragglers in his classes. He wagged his finger at them and said, "Only one lateness will be tolerated in one semester, and this one, only if you can prove by the tire marks that you were run over by a truck."

Undaunted, three scholars obtained a truck tire, rolled ink on its tread and walked it over their White Tee Shirts. The next day, shortly after class had begun, the prof opened the door for the three, bedraggled, and greasy. That flushed him. They weren't marked late.

ANNOUNCERS WANTED

There are a few vacancies left for radio announcers for the campus station. Any freshman or upper classman interested please contact or call Pete Mourad, Room 30, South Hall. Call 3-9763.

NEW SCHOOL SERVICE

Any group or activity on campus wishing to have anything announced over the "Berg's Discs and Data" program on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12:00 to 1:00 each week at Union Building, please write the announcements up legibly and slip them under the Student Council room door.

MULE KICKS

Answer to MCA Kick

Dear Editor:

The undersigned read with great interest the article: Does M.C.A. need change. We must admit and say yes!

First of all, I congratulate the christian student for coming out so boldly and let the student body know, that we have men on the campus who believe in the old time religion.

Men of Muhlenberg—let me tell you this and more to the members of the M.C.A., that when you signed yourself to this religious group, you do not belong to it heart and soul. As the name implies Christian Association.

As Christian we suppose to be followers of Christ; walking in his footsteps. Do we?

As for programs in your organization I would say and agree with the christian student, prayer meeting hymn sings and a sermon; all these would inspire you to such an extent, that even your studies would be made lighter. All in all, the time you would spend in God's presence will enrich your lives; and you could call yourself a christian. Otherwise you only give lip service. Even God, our God hates a hypocrite.

Fellow member of the M.C.A., I will help you conduct your services, lead you in prayer, discuss the word of God with you and have thus real fellowship together.

Come one, come all, and let's have a new MCA, not in name, but in deed.

Yours,

William G. Hanrid

Language Frat Meets; German Major Speaks

Phi Sigma Iota Holds First Meeting Initiates, Club Hear Shellenberger

On Thursday evening, November 3, Lambda Chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, national romance language fraternity, held its second meeting of the semester at the home of Dr. Anthony S. Corbiere, 814 N. 21st St.

At this meeting six new members were initiated into the fraternity. They were: Donald Conover '50, Ralph Creamer '51, Spyro Gellos '51, Charles Holtzman '51, Jacques Rasser '50, and Murray Stahl '50.

'Berg-Basal Student Speaks

Besides initiating this class, the chapter heard a talk on the University of Maryland's course, "Junior Year in Switzerland" by Charles Schellenberger. Mr. Schellenberger, a 'Berg student, studied in Switzerland last year under this plan.

Shellenberger, class of '50, is from Mountville, Pa., and studied abroad last year at the University of Basel. While there he was editor of the American student's newspaper. Majoring in German, he visited Germany, France and England. Accompanying him on his trip was Wilmer Sanders '50, who also took advantage of the University of Maryland's course.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Corbiere served the usual refreshments.

The next meeting of PSI will be held on December 12, when Irvin Fry will present a paper on Agrippa d'Aubrique, a French poet of the sixteenth century.

ENGLISH MAJORS

All English Department majors are required to attend a meeting on Thursday, November 17, 1949, at 11 a.m., in the West Hall Auditorium.

adviser to the Mask and Dagger Club. Mr. Erskine, who had been working for his M.A. at the University of Alabama the previous year, directed the thespians in their Fall Production of John Loves Mary, by Norman Krasna.

Commended by Audience

John Loves Mary, an outstanding Broadway comedy, revolves around the fact that John wants to marry Mary. But John has already married a foreign girl to get her to America for his friend Fred. This comedy gained the approval of everyone in the audience.

Clifford Odets' tragedy Golden Boy, was the play chosen by the Mask and Dagger Club for its Spring production this year. Golden Boy was a drama about a fighter-musician. Joe Bonaparte, a self-conscious violinist, was so eager for success that he attempted to punch his way to fame. In the production of Golden Boy a unique type of scenery was designed which depended upon the audience's imagination for the details.

Laughs and Suspense

The cast for the Mask and Dagger Club's next production, Laburnum Grove, has been chosen. The plot centers about a supposedly dull family man who works in the city during the day and putters in his greenhouse in the evening. Startling things begin to occur in this dull man's household which blend humor and mystery into an enjoyable play.

of students and faculty members.

Lincoln Students Attend

At the November 17 meeting of AKA (a week from today), Dr. Walter Fales, of Lincoln University, will talk informally on his new book Freedom and Responsibility. Dr. Fales will bring a small group of Lincoln students with him. Lincoln students have in the past proved brainy opponents at AKA debates and discussions. All students and faculty are invited to attend. The meeting place is Dr. Russell Stine's home.

Berg Mar-Kay Club Spots Floral Show

Phoebe Shop Representative Gives Arrangement Display

Horace McCready of the Phoebe Floral Shop will give a demonstration on floral arrangements at the next meeting of the Mar-Kay Club which is to be held on Tuesday, November 15, at 8:00 p.m. in the West Hall reception room.

All Muhlenberg students' wives are invited to attend.

Margaret Gigler, Mary Weber, and Evelyn Freed are on the committee for refreshments.

Newly elected officers for the Fall Semester are Grace Hausman, president; Evelyn Freed, vice-president; Betty Rollo, corresponding secretary; and Audrey Gaugler, recording secretary. Louise Wurst was appointed by the president to handle publicity.

Plans were also formulated for a tour of the College and a Christmas dance. Dates for the affairs will be announced in the future.

The club was organized in 1946 when students' wives became a part of the 'Berg community.

Meetings are held monthly in the West Hall reception room.

'Tomorrow' Will Open Annual College Short Story Contest

Prizes Amounting To $1000 Offered; Manuscripts To Be Published In 1950

Americus, Site For Lambda Chi Formal

Lambda Chi Alpha inaugurates their social season for the year with the annual fraternity Fall Formal at the Americus Hotel ballroom, Friday evening, November 11. The McClister Orchestra, well known in the Lehigh Valley, will supply the music for the evening. Among the highlights will include the selection of the Lambda Chi queen.

Saturday afternoon will find the festivities for the weekend continued at Le Vans, outside Kutztown, where an informal dinner dance will be held. Chet Warren and his band will furnish the music for this affair.

In charge of the social activities at Lambda Chi Alpha this year is Robert E. Osborne. Assisting him is a committee of three members.

The fourth annual College Writers' Short Story Contest has just been announced by TOMORROW Magazine. First prize is $500; second, $300, and third, $200. Manuscripts will be judged by the editors of TOMORROW and the editors of Creative Age Press.

The prize-winning stories will be published in the spring and summer of 1950. All other manuscripts will be considered for publication as regular contributions and paid for at TOMORROW's regular rates.

Entries should be addressed to College Contest, TOMORROW Magazine, 11 East 44th Street, New York 17, N. Y. The deadline is January 15, 1950. Manuscripts should not exceed 5000 words. Any number of manuscripts may be submitted by a single student. Each entry must be marked College Contest and bear the writer's name, his home address, and the name and address of the college he is attending. All entries must be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Outplayed Lehigh Eleven Edges Mules, 22-20

Youngstown Host To Mules On Ohio Gridiron Friday

The luckless Muhlenberg Mules take their first and only long trip away this season when they travel to Ohio to play Youngstown College on Friday night. It will be the second time the two schools have met on the gridiron. Last year in Allentown stadium, 'Berg white-washed the Penguins by a 19-0 score.

Booters Tie, 1-1 Share M.A.C. Lead

Traveling to New Brunswick, N. J. last Saturday afternoon the Mule booters engaged the Rutgers University eleven in a torrid battle that went into two extra periods with neither team able to break a 1-1 deadlock. The game was a Middle Atlantic Conference tilt, and the outcome left the two teams tied for first place in the northern division of the conference with one win, two ties, and one loss.

After a scoreless first period in which 'Berg dominated the offensive play, Rudy Amelio put the Mule soccer men in front when he headed in a corner kick. The score came after twelve minutes of play in the second quarter, and gave 'Berg a 1-0 half-time lead.

Rutgers Knots Score

Midway through the third period, Rutgers' Mohr scored on a corner kick, drilling a head shot past 'Berg goalie, Hausman. Both teams battled furiously through the fourth period and the two overtimes in an effort to produce a score, but the defense of the two clubs held. The outstanding defensive played of the game was by 'Berg's left fullback, Shegina.

This Saturday afternoon the Chilmen will play their last home game, engaging Stevens Institute of Technology of Hoboken, N. J., in an important conference contest. A win for the Mules, will assure them of at least a tie for top honors in their division.

The team from Ohio will offer tough competition for the Mules, having lost only to Canisius and Dayton this year. In their last game, Youngstown upended previously undefeated Baldwin-Wallace by a 20-14 count.

Penguins Use Short-Punt

For the first time this year, the Mules will encounter an eleven that doesn't use the T-formation, at least in some variation or another. The Penguins operate out of the short-punt formation. Youngstown has a fast, experienced, and aggressive ball club.

In the backfield, Gibson and Durina share the quarterback spot. Gibson is an excellent passer while Durina is a triple-threat, something not seen very often in this day of specialists. The chief running threat from halfback is Al Campana who also does quite a bit of punting. Another halfback, Davanzo, is noted for his pass catching. At the fullback post it will probably be Hannis.

On the ends will be Pittman and Rutecha. The former is the best pass receiver on the squad. Watson and Yahn will be at the tackle positions, with Davis and Hulea at the guard slots. Renard rounds out the line; he occupies the pivot post.

Cards Stacked Against Mules

The Cardinal and Grey, which lost a heartbreaker to Lehigh this last week, will be in there fighting again. So far this season the cards seem to be stacked against them.

Berg Host To M.A.C. Cross-Country Run

by Hank Folkman

The 23rd annual running of the Middle Atlantic States Cross Country Championship will be held this Friday on the 4½ mile course at Cedar Beach Park. This is the third consecutive year that the meet has been held here and in the future it may become an annual event for Muhlenberg.

St. Joe's 1948 Winner

Last year's winning team was St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, who have up to this time won twenty three consecutive meets. Their main power stems from Al Erbrick, Tom Schmidt and John Kelly, who have consistently captured first, second, and third places for their team. St. Joseph's

Superior Offensive Offset By Berg Fumbles

by Frank Rex

A 28 yard field goal from the Muhlenberg 18-yard stripe in the last 30 seconds of the first half provided the Lehigh Engineers with their margin of victory as they beat the Mules 22-20. Close to 10,000 fans watched these Valley rivals as they clashed in Lehigh's Taylor Stadium, Saturday afternoon.

Last-Minute Rally By Gettysburg Wins From Bisons, 34-33

by Bill Lewis

While the Mules were extending Lehigh before dropping a 22-20 decision, there was a promise of things to come from Ohio and Bucknell.

Youngstown Impressive

Youngstown, this week's opposition, played Thursday night and easily defeated Baldwin-Wallace 27-14. Youngstown has an impressive record this season.

The surprise of the year came from Gettysburg, where the Bullets defeated the Bisons of Bucknell 34-33. Ronald Fitzkee kicked the winning point after the game ended. Ross Sachs led the Bullets as he threw 24 passes and completed 16 for 311 yards. Gettysburg led 27-26 going into the final minute of play, but Jim Ostendarp plunged over from the one and Joe Mason kicked the extra point with only 40 seconds remaining to give Bucknell a 33-27 lead.

Fitzkee Point Decides

The Bullets received the kickoff and ran it out of bounds to stop the clock. Sachs passed on the next play and an interference penalty was called. On the next play, the last of the game, Sachs threw his fifth TD pass of the game as he connected with Lee

Mules' Best Game Of Season

Muhlenberg, playing its best game of the season, matched Lehigh's three touchdowns and more than held its own in every phase of the game, except one—scoring. The Cardinal and Grey gridsters racked up 14 first downs to Lehigh's 7, gained 241 yards by rushing, to Lehigh's 221, and 148 yards by passing to Lehigh's 0, amounting to 389 yards to Lehigh's 221 in total offense. But in the final analysis it was Bernie Rosen's field goal which negated all this superiority.

Trailing 22-7 mid-way in the third quarter, the Baughman-coached men did everything but kick their opponents out of the stadium in the last quarter and a half as they scored two touchdowns and were on their way to a third when the final whistle blew. It was the beautiful running of Elmo Jackson and Don Latzko and the offensive work of the Mule line, which opened gaping holes in the Lehigh forward wall for Elmo and Don to go streaking through, which highlighted this late surge.

Tolosky Blocks Punt

Roger Tolosky, Jack Crider, and George England came in for their share of glory in Muhlenberg's first half attack. Rog blocked a Doynne punt in the first quarter which gave the ball to 'Berg on the Lehigh 7. Four line smashes, however, picked up only 6 of these yards and Lehigh took over on their own 1-yard line. On second down, Collins got off a long kick for Lehigh which Roveda ran back to Lehigh's 45.

Mule Hoopsters Ready For Active Campaign Ahead

The genial new Mule basketball coach, Benny Borgmann, has been favorably impressed by the excellent showing made by the candidates for the 1949-1950 Muhlenberg cage squad. Mr. Borgmann has been stressing conditioning in the daily practice sessions and in so doing is rapidly becoming familiar with the hoop aspirants' abilities and potentialities.

Borgmann will adhere to last year's system of play wherever possible and will employ the fast break offense. However, the offensive play will be altered for each game depending upon the opponent's defense. The Mules' offensive will feature a four man weave with a moving pivot, while a tight man for man defense, with a stress on timely switching, will be used.

Veterans Impress

At the daily practice sessions held at Rockne Hall, veterans Dan Mackin, Leo Martini, Dick McGee, Al Saemmer, Bill Baker, Marv Jaffe, Ed Willenbecker, Bob Longergan, and Tom Olsen have looked good, and when their timing returns, will help make the Mules a smooth working, high scoring combination. Harry Glickman, a transfer student from West Virginia, Sam Smith, Dalton and Richard Schaadt, along with sophomores Jay Negin, Bud Cauffman, Bryce Shaw, and Cary Smith have also been impressive in the regular workouts.

Bullets Win

Snook on the 22 from where he scored. The game was over and the score tie, but Gettysburg still had their try for the extra point. It was here that Fitzkee kicked his fourth extra point that gave the Bullets the victory over the highly favored Bisons.

Scranton turned back Albright 33-6, and Lafayette dropped a 14-0 decision to Rutgers, one of its Middle Three opponents.

Mule Harriers Succumb, 22-37

Pete Murphy of Lehigh led his team to a close victory on their own 3 1/2 mile course, as the Packers defeated the Muhlenberg harriers by the score of 22-37. Murphy's winning time was 22:37.

Shupp Loses First On Fall

Floyd Shupp of Muhlenberg suffered the tragic mishap of the day. Shupp led the field for the greater part of the race and probably would have placed first with ease, except that with less than a half mile to go, he slipped and fell on the macadam road. As it was, Shupp ran valiantly to regain his lead; however, the lead was too much for him to overcome.

The Muhlenberg harriers have been hampered through the entire season by a plague of injuries on their limited number of runners. However, with no further meets before the M. A. S. C. C. championship, the team should be able to heal its wounds and be at the best for that important event.

Youngstown-Mules

For Coach Howie Baughman's staff, it will be a return to familiar territory, and there is probably nothing that he would like better than to have the Mules win this one. Maybe some unseen hand will shuffle the cards this weekend and deal out a win for Muhlenberg. Maybe.

Sig Eps Rout Phi Sigs, 37-0

Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternities each won their third straight game, and by so doing they remained in a tie for first place in League I. The Black Cats are currently in the race for the League II title.

SPE Trounces PSK

Sigma Phi Epsilon conquered Phi Sigma Kappa in very convincing style, 37-0. The Sig Eps hard charging line and fast backfield proved too strong a defensive combination for the Phi Sigs, as three of their passes were intercepted and carried for touchdowns in the first half. The victors proved they were also an offensive power, as Bob Scheipe pitched two second half touchdown passes, and scored a third one on a short end run.

Extra Point Decides

Lambda Chi Alpha downed the tough Pre-Meds in a tight 7-6 battle. A seven yard pass to Floyd DeChesser climaxed a 45 yard drive for Lambda Chi, and the all important extra point try was successful.

Nelbach Set Course Record

Jim Grosholtz of Haverford, who placed first last year has since become an alumnus of his school. His winning time for the course of 22:50 was bettered just two weeks ago by Art Nelbach of Lafayette, in the meet with Muhlenberg at Cedar Beach. Nelbach established a new record time of 22:42.7. However, this record could very easily be broken this Friday if the proper climatic conditions are present.

A closely contested running battle is expected between Al Er-buck, Tom Schmidt, and John Kelly of St. Joseph; Tom Snipes of Haverford; Art Nelbach of Lafayette and Hen Dixon of F. and M. These men have been consistent winners for their teams and are all potential possibilities for the individual honors of the meet.

Lehigh Stops Berg On Rosen Kick, 22-20

On the first play from here George England faded back and pitched a strike into the waiting arms of Jackson who took the ball on the 10 and ran to the 4. But Muhlenberg's second great chance went to naught when Lehigh's Gabriel fell on a loose ball on the 2-yard stripe on the second-down attempt.

England Dives Into End Zone

Again Lehigh kicked out and again the Mules came surging back, and this time they were not to be denied. Taking over on the Lehigh 32, they marched into pay-dirt in 5 plays. On the first play England, fading back to pass and finding none of his receivers open, wiggled loose and sped 17 yards to the Lehigh 15. Four plays later, after an interference penalty, put the ball on the Lehigh 11, England again faded back to pass and, again finding his teammates covered, ran around right end and virtually dove into the end zone for Muhlenberg's first touchdown. Averno's kick was good and the score stood 7-0.

Lehigh's first touchdown came shortly after they recovered a Mule fumble on the Muhlenberg 31. Gabriel ran to the 21, Doyne to the 14, and Morris went around left end to score standing up. Rosen's extra point kick was wide and the score was 7-6.

La Sasso Blocks Punt

A few minutes later, LaSasso broke through, and blocked a Latsko punt and Lehigh had the ball again on Muhlenberg's 31. Gabriel, Doyne and Scanella carried the ball to the 1, from where Scanella bucked over for Lehigh's second score. Rosen's kick was good and Lehigh led, 13-7.

Rosen's field goal upped the score to 16-7 as the half ended.

'Berg Fumble Sets Up TD

Another Muhlenberg fumble set up Lehigh's final score early in the third quarter. Scanella ripped off tackle for 8 yards and Lehigh led 22-7. Rosen's kick was no good.

On the first play after the ensuing kick-off, Russ Strait threw a long pass which Jackson gathered in on the Lehigh 25 and ran over untouched for Muhlenberg's second score. The play covered 67 yards. Averno's try for point was again true and the score read, Lehigh 22, Muhlenberg 14.

Mules Drive 68 Yards For TD

A poor kick by Doyne which went straight up in the air gave the Mules the ball on their own 32 as the 4th quarter got under way. Jackson and Latzko alternated in carrying the ball on beautiful off-tackle runs. Jackson culminated the 68 yard drive by plunging over from the one. Averno's kick this time was no good. Final score, Lehigh 22, Mules 20.

Muhlenberg's power will stem around Capt. Don Albert, Floyd Shupp, and Dick Acker, who were forced to carry the burden of the team for the entire season. However the rest of the team, especially Clarence Moore, has been showing considerable improvement in their last few meets and will be expected to help improve Muhlenberg's possibilities.

The teams expected to compete are as follows: St. Josephs, Swarthmore, Franklin and Marshall, Alfred, Haverford, LaSalle, Washington, Lafayette, Delaware, Gettysburg, Ursinus, and Muhlenberg. Lehigh, who placed ninth last year, has turned down the M.A.S.C.C. invitation for a dual meet with Carnegie Tech.

Muhlenberg College has been greatly honored by being host to this event for the last three years and makes it a point to offer its warmest hospitality to the visiting colleges.

The Chowline

Interesting note — We have heard this question asked several times in the Commons this year—"Why are all the doors on campus painted red?" Upon inquiring to the powers that be, we discovered the red stands for the Pentecostal zeal of the Church and also the blood of the martyrs.

We predict—that some of the "joints" about town which carry on the illegal practice of serving intoxicating beverages to minors will soon receive the same treatment incurred by one of their "brother" establishments this summer.

Coach Baughman — If you could use some fresh material for your football team, see Tony Bruno. We hear he is the "rage" of Bull Ritter's touch "football playing" gym class.

Rock-Top — When Stu Jenness asked his Geology Lab. students whether a given example of erosion was in early or late maturity and why, one of the brighter students came out with—"It is in late maturity because it is too old for early maturity."

Could be that the reason for Ken Webb's ever present smile is due to Penn's defeat by Pitt.

A free spaghetti dinner was given to a student recently in the commons when he, leaving the table to get a drink of water, returned to find the waiter scooping his dinner into the garbage container. (Those eager waiters—almost like Horn and Hardart). Adv.

one who has ever attended Chapel should know) a way of life, and as a way of life it should permeate all our activities. Now, on what reasonable grievance could you possibly hold against the M.C.A. on the basis of the nature of its activities? If you are a Christian student, you shall have none.

The M.C.A. has, sir, as its object, I believe, the integration of many facets of student thought and activity, under the sign and under the philosophy of Christ. Religious activity, sir, is but one facet of student thought and activity. It will then follow that the concepts of the M.C.A. are broader and more powerful than those which you would condone.

Your error is common. You have misinterpreted the "original purposes" of the M.C.A. I would advise, however, that you review your own thoughts and become a bit broader in your outlook and belief in Christianity.

Student Vote Decides Campus Fate Of S.D.A.

Council Throws Question Before Student Body At Special Open Forum Meeting In Auditorium

The question of recognizing the Students for Democratic Action group as a chartered campus activity will be decided by a general student body vote on Monday, December 12, according to a decision made by Student Council at their last meeting. A special assembly will be held on Thursday, December 8, at which time an open forum is planned for discussing the question of recognizing S.D.A.

Student Council made its decision to throw the question open to a student vote on supposition that the students themselves should decide the question of allowing a political action group on campus.

A Political Action Group

The S.D.A. is a political action group which states in preamble to its constitution that its aim "is to provide a medium and a program to unite liberal students on this campus in promoting action for student and general welfare, locally, nationally, and internationally."

S.D.A. first submitted its constitution to Student Council for approval at the end of the last year. Last year's council lacked time to act on it and the constitution was resubmitted at the beginning of this year.

Constitution Revised

Student Council found this constitution vaguely worded and not meeting with the usual council requirements imposed on any group wishing to be chartered.

The constitution was then revised to correct these faults and resubmitted to council.

Many members of Student

Treasurer Sets New Bill Policy

Treasurer Howard MacGregor, announced this week a change in the method of rendering term bills, effective this semester to facilitate billing.

Beginning in September, bills have been sent to the student at his local or college address. No bills have been sent to the student's parent, thus in cases where the parent pays the bill it will be necessary to forward the statement to your home.

Upon observation of this semester bill you will notice that all charges and credits are shown in detail giving you a complete picture of your account. Should there be any questions regarding these changes, do not hesitate to call at the Cashier's window for further clarification, stated the office of the treasurer.

Sociology Majors Plan First Campus Social Service Society

Formally organizing for the first time in Muhlenberg's history, the students majoring in the sociology department plan to submit their proposed constitution to Student Council and Faculty Senate for approval.

This new organization will be called the Muhlenberg Sociological Society and it is sponsored by the majors and faculty of the sociology department.

Purpose Three-Fold

The expressed purpose of the group is three-fold. The members intend to use the society as a means for the discussion of pertinent social problems and to make available data gained from the research of its members. In addition, the society intends to disseminate general sociological information to the public in the hope that other persons will take

Star Violinist

Joan Field, who is scheduled to appear at the December 1 Assembly Program, Science Auditorium.

Violin Virtuoso Entertains Here

Talented Musician Has N.Y. Recital Experience

Violinist Joan Field, next attraction on the Assembly schedule, Thursday morning, Dec. 1, 1949, brings the talents of an experienced performer to Muhlenberg stage, according to press releases.

The artist, fresh from a highly successful and well-received recital in Town Hall, New York, plays with suavity and skill; and critics list a tone of warmth and beauty as among her assets.

Miss Field's October recital in Town Hall was favorably reported by most New York music critics, who describe her as a musician of "assured technique, rhythmic vitality and stylistic security." She is a versatile young artist, capable of as varied a program as she might choose. This ability to range the composers "from Mozart to Ives" assures one in advance that each composer will receive his due, say reviews.

Her playing, in the opinion of reviewers, is musically spirited, firm and strong. It is, further, marked by complete honesty of approach and a vibrance.

Tyson Directs Middle States Holiday Confab

Dean Accompanies Prexy To Academic Convention

Dr. Levering Tyson will preside at the 63rd annual convention of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools which will be held at Chalfonte-Haddon Hall, Atlantic City, N. J., on November 25 and 26. Dean Sherwood R. Mercer will accompany Dr. Tyson to this convention.

Dr. Tyson has been president since the 1948 convention, when he was elected to the position. He is the first Muhlenberg president to be accorded this honor.

Prior to his election, he served as a member of the commission on Institutions of Higher Learning, and as vice president of the Association. He has served as a member of various inspection parties which accredit colleges.

The association, formed in 1886, is a voluntary organization designed to maintain high academic standards in colleges.

This group, headed by Dr. Tyson, recently inspected West Point Military Academy and re-approved it.

Class Picks Spivak As New Prom Choice

Juniors Get Added Council Funds For Annual Dance

At a special meeting held Tuesday at 11:00 a.m., the Junior class selected Charlie Spivak as their new first choice for the band to star at this year's Junior Prom. The class by this motion rescinded the decision of a previous meeting which had selected Buddy Williams as the prom band.

The special meeting was called by class president Marv Berger after student council voted to give the juniors additional money for their dance.

Negotiations Under Way

It was revealed by dance chairman LaVerne Etschmen that negotiations are already underway to secure the Spivak aggregation for the February 24th date of the prom.

It was announced that the Dick Stailey memorial desk has been completed and installed. Each member of the original class of '51 will sign the registration book as a tribute to their late classmate.

Ciarla Seeks Future Grads' Portrait List

Scheduling of pictures for the 1952 Ciarla, 'Berg's yearbook, is being conducted in the Student Center Lounge this week and will continue until December 15, according to Ralph Eccles, editor of the annual.

Attempts are being made to get the pictures taken early, so that they may be had by Christmas. Photographing is being handled by Berthold Studios in Allentown.

A member of the Ciarla staff will be on hand in the Lounge from nine every morning until 3:30 in the afternoon excluding Saturdays and Sundays.

This scheduling does not apply to only juniors, but to any one who expects to be graduated in 1951.

In an interview with the WEEKLY, Robert E. Osborne, editor of the 1950 Ciarla, stated that, barring unexpected difficulty, the 1950 Ciarla should be out before Christmas.

M & D Production Opens Its Little Theatre Three-Day Run

"Laburnum Grove" Curtain Raised Tonight At 8:30; Jansen, Burns & Albert Carry Leads; Erskine Directs

Muhlenberg's "first nighters" will be ushered to their seats, the house lights will dim, and the curtain will rise tonight to begin Mask and Dagger's three night run of J. B. Priestly's Laburnum Grove. The first performance of the year will open tonight in the College Little Theater at 8:30. The play is directed by Andrew H. Erskine.

Elinor Stahl and Jerry Albert shown in a sequence from the current M & D production "Laburnum Grove."

The play, a three act, mystery comedy, is about a staid, respectable English business man who spends all his time putting in the green house at his home in a London suburban community, and supporting his idle inlaws, the Baxleys. Pandemonium breaks loose upon the uncovering of several startling facts.

The play resolves into a climax full of confusion, grief, and humor, which creates suspense until the final curtain.

Experienced Actors

The male lead is taken by Guenter Jansen, who plays the part of Mr. Radfern. Jansen is a sophomore, and has had stage experience in other plays, although not M and D productions.

Norma Lewis, a veteran of drama at the University of Nebraska and Moravian College for Women, will play Mrs. Radfern.

Inspector Stack of Scotland Yard is portrayed by Joe Bailey whose stage experience dates back to his junior high school days.

Romance Present

Jerry Albert, veteran M. and D. actor; and Eleanor Stahl, wife of M. and D.'s president; taking the part of Harold and Elsie Radfern, will create the romantic element in the plot. Mr. Gletten, the greenhouse companion of Radfern, will be played by David Jentsch, also a newcomer to the 'Berg stage.

Bernard and Lucy Basley, the clinging relatives of Mrs. Radfern, will be portrayed by Warren Burns, and Jean Cannon. Mrs. Cannon, although new to 'Berg Theater-goers has had experience in several shows in Bethlehem. Burns has been a member of Mask and Dagger for three years and is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity.

Barn Dance Set 'Berg Pre-Med Sails For Cedar Crest To Study At Oxford

'Dewdrops' Make Music At Affair In Curtis Hall

The Dewdrops, will provide atmosphere and music for the annual Cedar Crest-Muhlenberg Barn Dance on Saturday night, November 19, at Curtis Hall on the Cedar Crest campus. The dance will begin at 8:00 p.m. Admission price will be $.25.

The dance, sponsored by the Cedar Crest Christian Association, and the Muhlenberg Christian Association, will be held in the lounge of the Crest dormitory.

The Dewdrops, led by Marv Dewalt, 'Berg class of '50, were heard at the dance after the Pajama Parade on the night prior to the Gettysburg game, in the Student Center Lounge.

Refreshments will be available for all attendants.

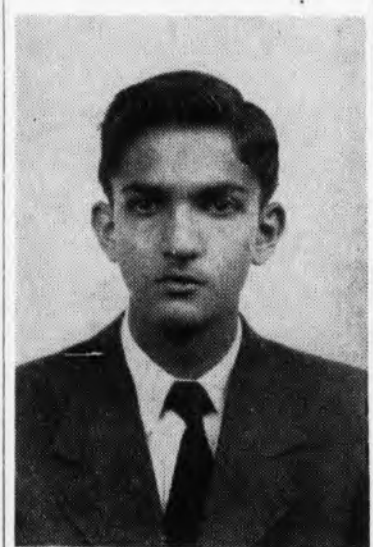

Ed Trainer, Ed Edinger, Bud Watson and Joe Ronco, composed the committee from 'Berg; Lucille Richardson headed the Cedar Crest committee.

British Guiana Native In England To Finish School

by Luther O. Buchert

Abdul Rahim Rahaman, former member of the class of '52, sailed last week aboard the Queen Elizabeth for Europe where he will continue his education at Oxford University in England.

He is a native of the village of Sheldon, in British Guiana. One of four brothers, he received his elementary education at the Sheldon High School. Rahaman attended the Naval Training School at the American naval station in British Guiana. Church affiliations led him to select 'Berg for his under-graduate studies, and he was matriculated here in 1948.

Rahim Rahaman, former 'Berg sophomore, now in England studying at Oxford University.

Planning to enter the medical profession, Rahaman assumed an accelerated study course. His plans were to be graduated from Muhlenberg, but with the devaluation of the British pound, adjustments had to be made.

Enters Oxford

Only 19 years old, he will enter Oxford and continue studying in the pre-med field. Before the opening of the semester, Rahaman will travel in Europe. His brother-in-law, also a pre-med student, is now studying in Dublin, Ireland.

While at 'Berg, "Ra," as he was known to his friends, was a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

Center Boasts Ladies Lounge

Mr. McAuley, head of the Maintenance Dept., reports that work is under way in the remodeling of the Ladies' Room in the Student Union Building. He said that the work was all part of a job that was begun last summer on the Union Building, and that when finished, the new Ladies Room was expected to be satisfactory for use when dances and parties are held in the Union. This work will complete the job of changing the run-down Union of last year into the modern comfortable Student Center.

Juice Bars

The addition of "Juice Bars" to West and East Halls should also be noted. These new machines, representing the last word in coin vending, dispense your choice of six different chilled juices at the touch of a button and drop of a coin.

Mr. McAuley also called attention to the many new lawns which have been newly sown, and expressed the hope that the students would help in making 'Berg a more beautiful place by taking proper care of the new lawns.

Faculty Votes Summer School

Summer school sessions have been scheduled for the 1950 months of June, July and August, here at 'Berg. The Faculty Senate voted at their meeting this week, for summer sessions to run from June 12 until September 1.

The notice announcing the sessions came from Dean Sherwood Mercer's office and noted that the twelve week period will be divided into two six-week sessions. Examinations will be held on July 20 and 21, and August 31 and September 1.

Courses to be offered will be announced at a later date. Registration will be during the latter part of the 1950 spring semester.

Band Battle Continues To Fill Musical Bids

Booking dance bands is getting to be a chronic problem at Muhlenberg, or so it would seem. We hear first that some band is signed to play for one of our gala engagements, and a few days later the word begins to spread that it won't be that one after all. We accept whatever reason is given for the change—usually the blame gets shifted to the band leader in question—and blithely await a new choice.

Meantime, the time slips steadily on, and still the arrangements hang in mid-air. How long can such a situation persist without causing many difficulties for other committees connected with 'Berg's big social affairs? How can dances be the sparkling, entertaining events that we all want and deserve without there being a band around which to plan them?

Both the Junior and the Senior classes have encountered the problem this semester, and it appears that all the fault does not lie with the student planning bodies. Some of the trouble surely comes from the agents with whom those students must work. However, it might be wise to look around here at home, so to speak, to be sure that we have approached the matter properly as well. With a little more certainty and concreteness in our own procedures at the beginning, these affairs might be arranged more quickly and with greater ease and precision. MWS

From Where I Sit

Words Compose Letters But Records List Facts

"Would you welcome him as a junior partner or be glad to have him as a prospective son-in-law?" That gave me pause. How shall I answer it?

This question is from a letter from the Chairman of the Committee on Admission of a medical school. I should like to share with you a paragraph of that letter of which the above is the last sentence.

The chairman agrees, that there is no question as to the young man's academic record; then he writes:

Only Best Worthy

"Our Committee on Admissions would be greatly helped if you could give us a fairly detailed statement regarding the personality, background, and general fitness of this young man. We feel that for the professions, only the finest are worthy, whether it be for medicine, religious leadership, or law. Is this young man one of the best in his class? Is he one whose future career you are willing to accept as representative of what Muhlenberg stands for? Would you welcome him as a junior partner or be glad to have him as a prospective son-in-law?"

The answers to these questions are a pretty serious matter. I believe that as fellow 'Bergmen you ought to know about this letter, no matter what vocation you may be preparing for. I get like questions about men seeking posts in many fields. We are here faced squarely with the question "what kind of a man is he?"

Tasks Well Done

A characteristic of a good man is that he does his job well. In our case this job is scholarship. There is more than just the job, however. Isn't it with this all-inclusive definition of a man that we at 'Berg are primarily concerned? I have noted over the past several years an increasing emphasis on character in inquiries we receive from professional and graduate schools and from business houses. The first screen that is ordinarily used is the record. How well has he done his job? The group that passes this phase of the inquiry, then is subjected to character and personality screening. The final test is "What kind of man is he?" and "Does he exemplify in action those tenets held basic at Muhlenberg?"

Writing honest letters of recommendation is not to be taken lightly. What are you doing about the letters that must be written about you?

SHERWOOD R. MERCER, Dean

Berg's Eye Views —

Would You Like To Have Female Cheerleaders As Well As Majorettes At M'Berg? Why?

Jack Davis: You bet! It's an attraction which would keep your mind on the cheerleaders. Guys will come to Pep Rallies just to see the girls.

Rog Fulmer: Students would try to get better acquainted with the cheers and would show more enthusiasm. They would try to attract cheerleaders attention by loud cheering.

Rodney Schlauch: Wow, and how! Students would coordinate their cheering because they'd have something to watch.

Dick Buss: 'Berg students lack ability to approach girls; would foster closer relations between 'Berg - Crest, as well as bring beauty to the football field.

Dale Dimler: Hot dogs! They would invigorate the men into cheering; fellows don't have the spirit that girls have.

Bill Eckensberger: They would give the College a feminine touch, which it needs very badly. It would put new spirit in the true meaning of student support.

Burly-Queens Retire To Comic Strips As Anatomy Students Rush Newstands

Students Get Big Charge As Vee-necked Femme Fatales Cavort In Best Suggestive Pulp Magazine Tradition

Muletown's newest lending library brings love literature to many students seeking a well-rounded education.

The American comic book is an art form whose adherents are a growing, insatiable, and oppressed group. Perhaps twenty million copies are sold each month.

Comic books are neither books nor are they comic. Most of them appear as monthly pamphlets brightly printed on cheap paper, and are concerned almost exclusively with action. Each of these comic books carries half a dozen pages of ads exhorting the small fry to learn the rumba, How to Get Along With Girls, remove ugly blackheads without cost, invest in ju-jitsu, and buy luminous ties inscribed "Kiss Me In The Dark, Baby!"

Standard Tactics

These so-called comic books are produced on assembly lines. An anonymous artist does the lettering, others the drawing, inking, and erasing. Scripts are bought from free-lance writers, a number of whom are graduates of such magazines as "Amazing Stories" and "Weird Tales."

The stories are largely concerned with the doings of the super types—a motley crew ranging from Plaster Man to Radar and International Policeman, Airboy, Crimson Avenger, and Captain Marvel. These supermen, dressed in cloaks and tights, zoom through the air righting wrong wherever it is to be found, blasting the enemies of the United States, bopping criminals over the head, and sending fiends and mad scientists to horrible deaths. And of course, no one, male or female, is able to operate effectively without a super suit.

Conventions for character delineation are strict. The heroines must be hyperthyroid types. They can be distinguished by a wasp waist and a large bosom, and legs half again as long as life. The heroine is usually a bit more shapely than the villainess, but both are voluptuous creatures. The latter are often society women, who of course wear evening clothes the whole day through. In their street clothes, both the heroine and the villainess are addicted to skin-tight red dresses and plunging necklines. Perhaps it is their uncanny resemblance to burlesque queens that gets them into so much trouble.

Strange Yells

The male villain is also carefully labelled. A hairline mustache is usually a sign of unrighteousness, and when these villains are torn apart, hurled from cliffs, or otherwise demolished, they are obliged to cry "WAAAAA" and "ARRGGHHH!"

This type of literature, if indeed it can be called literature, is anything but wholesome. And, somehow, somehow, something should be done about it. Comic books that really are comic books are entertaining and amusing. But the forms the comic books are now taking, certainly detract from the once fine reputation comic books had as a means of light reading for the younger set.

MULE KICKS

Dear Sir,

A MODEST PROPOSAL

For preventing the students of Muhlenberg College from being spiritually barren, and for making them beneficial to the high ideals of the MCA.

There are forces outside of secular intrusiveness—call them spiritual if you like—which must come into play before Muhlenberg campus is again a haven free from the turbulent influences of the outside world.

With the sincere offer of the "one" who will help conduct services, lead in prayer, and above all, discuss the Word of God, we feel that, herein, a new spirit has been resurrected for the men of Muhlenberg to witness. Remarkable is the realization that now it is possible to return to the good old days of mystical experience and evangelical renovation.

Those who have been stirred deeply can only demand action in following our call to a return to the old fashion revival meeting. Only in this way can we prevent Un-Christian activity, and, thereby, insure the rekindling of the fine, the virile, the rightful, and the American Way of Life.

Sincerely,

JAMES WILLIAMS

OKAYS PONYS

To Mule Kicks:

It has come to my attention that English translations of some of the German stories used in German classes are in circulation. All students are at liberty to use any of these translations without fear of reprisal since the final examination will consist of material the student has never seen. Any motivation, no matter what, for the student's reading a little more in English is to be commended. Since good translations of these works may be secured for a very low price, students are warned to pay no more than about twenty-five cents for them.

BROADNESS WISHED

Dear Editor:

Two weeks ago a student wrote this column expressing his dissatisfaction that MCA does not "confine its activities to purely religious functions." Probably few students would favor his proposed revival meetings but many may agree that MCA should be a "purely religious" organization. It is to this opinion that I would like to speak.

The basic philosophy of MCA is that religion concerns all of life. A Christian is not a Christian just in church or chapel, but he is at all times a Christian—whether Calling Dr. Oppenheimer: "Brother can you spare a yield," was the plaintive moan of Elmo Jackson as he fluffed up the detail at Chem. lab last week. He completed the experiment and blithely poured off the yield from the separatory funnel down the drain and kept the waste product. Tsh, Tsh, what would Markovnikov say?

Gem from the English instructor who switched from the essay type tests to the objective: "I grew very weary of marking papers with a manure fork instead of a pencil."

Shades of a blushing J. Edgar Hoover. Bob Deery was sitting with his girl in the parlor this weekend when he saw a furtive face at the window. He sprinted out of the door after it, caught it, sat on it, and called for the law. It turned out to be that of the village Peeping Tom. Then we have the unrestrained type of student (who begged to remain anonymous). The passionate little devil bit nurse Miss Minner's finger as she stuck a thermometer in his mouth.

There is a new machine on campus that, we fear, if let loose, will certainly destroy the world. It is obviously the progeny of a warped mind. It reads, "FRUIT JUICES" on it, but don't you believe it. It did everything but come out and shake hands with Tony Schiavone for a dime the other day. He bravely made his choice by pressing a button. Tony reeled back as various and sundry gears meshed noisily. A cloud of smoke reminiscent of Bikini mushroomed toward the ceiling and with a solid "THUNK" a four inch can landed at his feet. Wary by this time, Tony mustered up enough courage to timidly reach for the can. He inserted same into a glass enclosed cage and pulled a lever; the machine's own guillotine narrowly missed his hand and poked a triangular hole in the top of the can. The contraption is shackled to a post in the basement of West Hall, but don't say you weren't warned.

More than one way of bagging a bird: The football bus clipped a pheasant on the way home. Coach Triplett was grinning from ear to ear as he toted it into the Commons. "Punchy" Reeves, after an unsuccessful two day trek for the birds, bounced one off his Cadillac's bumper by way of consolation. Who plucked them, men?

When Red Dietz returned from Youngstown, he went straight to his room and found his desk piled high with rocks. Among them was a genuine tombstone with "TO MISTO FROM HIS GEOLOGY PALS" inscribed on it. Probably the same guys who taunted the tired cross country runners with cans of beer, Saturday.

What's Your Dating Quotient?

Hollywood Tintypes Cash Out As Local Coeds Hail Gentlemen Main Choice For Good Dating

From time to time there have appeared in almost all of the nationally known magazines articles by various "authorities" telling "What is Wrong with American Men." These articles usually find all sorts of faults with the poor American male, but few of them hazarded advice on how these faults could be corrected. The American male was accused of everything ranging from "Momism" to "canonizing the Little Woman." He has been told that he didn't part his hair on the right side, wear the right clothes, or read the right books, but in very few cases has he been told what the "right" thing is.

Simple Maxims

After we interviewed several girls from colleges in the vicinity it has been discovered that there are some rules which men can follow which will definitely raise their "powder room" ratings. All the girls were ready with a lot of "Don'ts," but it took some persuading to get them to reveal what they considered were a few of the most important "Do's." Most of the girls felt that the men should know what to do without being told, but they readily consented to give a few hints about what they expect from a man if it would help to cure some of the dating ills they had encountered.

Little Things Do

Strangely enough, the "Do" which headed the list wasn't "Have Money" or "Be Handsome," but "Be Courteous." It seems that, according to the women, the old Boy Scout routine holds top position. The girls want those little attentions that make them feel appreciated. Such things as holding doors open for them, lighting their cigarettes, holding their chairs as they seat themselves, and holding their coats go a long way toward increasing a man's dating prestige. These things don't require too much effort, and they certainly make a favorable impression on the ladies.

The second "Do" was a surprise coming from the same women who studying chemistry, playing ball, voting for Mayor, begetting his children, or selling shoes. If God is concerned with all of a man's life, a Christian organization should attempt to bring Christian judgments to bear in all fields of human activity. Therefore, MCA is concerned about world peace, politics, recreation, WSSF, etc. Christians need to get into the world, not out.

And, secondly, precisely because this is a Christian college, MCA is not in competition with the official religious program of the college but seeks to extend and complement it. MCA's first concern should be those fields not covered by Chapel and Bible courses.

MCA is certainly not above criticism—none know this better than those working in it. But criticism should be of how ineffective it is in reaching the entire student body, not that it tries to be loyal to the full Gospel of Our Lord.

are known for their "informal" fashions when not dating. The second "Do" was "Be Neat." The girls in almost every case hastened to explain that they didn't expect a man to wear new clothes all the time, nor did they expect that the clothing should be expensive or "tailor made." All they asked was that the men have their suits pressed regularly and have their shoes shined regularly. Baggy trousers, wrinkled coats, and dirty shoes don't help to make a favorable impression.

The third and last "Do" which the girls mentioned covered a lot of ground and was a combination of several rules brought together under one heading. The third "Do" was "Be Natural." It seems that the day of the "smoothie" and the "sharpie" is over. The girls aren't interested in "boiled down Boyers" or "brash and brassy Bogarts."

The girls had more suggestions, but they felt that if a man followed the first three rules, the rest would come naturally. They added that following these rules wouldn't hurt a man at all when he went to see a prospective employer, and a little practice now might mean a lucrative reward later. Be Nice, Be Neat, Be Natural.

Mules Close 1949 Season At Bucknell

Mules Tied By Youngstown In Tight Defensive Duel

The Muhlenberg Mules and Youngstown College fought to a 7-7 tie last Friday night at Youngstown. Both teams had scoring opportunities in the first half, but could not cash them in.

OVER... THE LINE

by Bob Godnick

The 1949 football season will be concluded this Saturday afternoon when Muhlenberg travel to Lewisburg to tackle Bucknell University. For many it will be a relief probably a big relief to the players themselves. It's been a long season when your club is in a losing one. Yet it is not too long ago that many of these players comprised an eleven that was one of the top little school teams in the nation.

The golden years of football were happy ones at 'Berg. From 1946 through 1948, the Mules ran roughshod over its opposition, running up phenomenal scores to snow its opposition under. All Muhlenberg was proud of those teams, proud of the men who helped give Muhlenberg those great years. Many of the great stars of those golden years were the backbone of the Mules of 1949.

The 1949 season has been a tough one for all of them. It must seem strange to many of the players to undergo a season like this one, remembering yet those years that once were. They gave it all they had, notwithstanding. This is the true test of greatness, to take the bumps when the sledging is rough, not only to grab the glory when success is at hand.

Youngstown threatened in the first period but were turned back by 'Berg on their ten. In the early stages of the second quarter, the Penguins marched from the Mules 47 to their 4 only to lose the ball when Davanzo fumbled, and Rubbert recovered. Later in the same period the Ohioans reached Muhlenberg's 18, but were again checked by the Mules tough defense.

Strait Fumbles on One

Starting from their own 33, the Cardinal and Grey rolled to the Youngstown five in eight plays. Here Jackson lost four and then on two successive plays, Strait banged to the one. But on fourth down Strait fumbled on the one with Davanzo recovering for the Penguins in their end-zone for a touchback to stop 'Berg's first-half scoring threat.

Midway in the third period, Bill Woodworth intercepted a Youngstown pass on the Penguins 37 and returned it ten yards to the 27. The Mules drove to the 11 from where Bill Jackson smashed through the line and out into the open to score the Mules' only TD. Sisto Averno then converted and 'Berg led 7-0.

Pass Interference Hurts Mules

Late in the fourth period, Youngstown marched 58 yards to their only score. The touchdown was setup when the officials ruled that Busch, was unable to reach Weber's pass due to Muhlenberg interference on the goal line and the Penguins were given the ball on the 'Berg one yard marker. On the next play Hannis

Phi Tau, Ramblers Win In I-M Contest Kelly Leads Hawks; Breaks MACC Record

There was little action in the Intra-Mural football league during the past week, with the top teams being idle. The Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternities are currently heading the League I pack with the Pre-Meds and the A.T.O.'s hot on their heels.

The League II race is currently paced by the Black Cats, whose scheduled scrap with Phi Epsilon Pi was postponed to December 6. The Ramblers are in second place while Phi Epsilon Pi holds down third.

Last week's League II competition saw Phi Kappa Tau conquer the hapless Easy Aces by a 9-0 count, and the Ramblers moved

Kelly Sets MAC Mark

The St. Joseph's senior covered the 4 1/2 mile course in the smart time of 22:22 to take individual honors, just a few yards over his closest challenger, Thomas Duffy, a St. Joseph's teammate. Kelly's time erased the mark of 22:46.4, set last year by Haverford's Jim Grohsoltz, who has since then graduated. Last year Kelly placed eighth in a field of eighty.

However, Swarthmore's Alden Stevenson prevented St. Joseph's from sweeping the first five places

Strong Bisons Last Foe For 17 Mules

by Don Klenk

Muhlenberg College will close its 1949 football season this Saturday by travelling to Lewisburg to play Bucknell University. It will be the 22nd meeting between the two schools with Bucknell holding a decided edge in the rivalry, winning fifteen and losing five with one game ending in a tie.

Lewisburg Eleven Downs Leopards As Albert Stars

Bucknell gained their fifth victory in seven starts this season as they won a 21-14 victory over Lafayette.

Bob Albert Stars

Bob Albert ran wild; he scored all the Bucknell touchdowns. A long pass from Jim Hoover to John Maebey set up the first Bison score. Albert, with only 3:35 of the first period zone, went off tackle for five yards and the first score. Mason converted his first of three consecutive extra points. Near the end of the period Albert took a reverse from Hoover, and circled his left end for a 25 yard touchdown jaunt.

Gordon Fleming, playing his first game as quarterback in the T formation, threw a 14 yard aerial to Dick Durstein for the first Lafayette score in the second quarter. Dick Durstein then converted his first extra point, to make the score 14-7.

Van Johnson Intercepts Leopard Pass

Albert scored the third Bison touchdown in the third period after Van Johnson intercepted a Lafayette pass and returned it 40 yards to the four. Albert took it over for what proved to be the winning touchdown. The Leopards ended the scoring for the day as Fleming passed for a T.D.

Bisons Have 5-2 Record

Despite this wide margin in the series, the Bisons have not beaten the Mules in the last three years and will be seeking revenge for these setbacks. So far, Bucknell has won five and lost two contests this year, and both losses were by only one point.

The Bisons have a fast team and play a hard game of football, featuring sharp tackling. They operate out of the T-formation with a man in motion and use a quick-opening offense.

Hoover Handles "T"

In the backfield, Hoover handles the T and is a fair passer. Ostendarp and Albert are the halfbacks and besides their running ability, both can pass. At the fullback post is Hetsko who rounds out a dangerous secondary.

Up on the offensive line are ends, Gallagher and McKibbin, tackles, Kiersarsky and Kiely, guards, Pechulis and Rucher; and center, Simon. Two outstanding defensive linemen are Davidson, a tackle, and Gruneberg, an end.

Last Game For 17 Mules

For the Cardinal and Grey, seventeen seniors or men who have used up their eligibility will play their last football game of their college careers, and these men will be out to close this season with a victory as a remembrance of their collegiate tenure and make it four in a row over the Bisons. The seventeen squad members playing their last collegiate game are: Crider, Whiteman, Bogdiewicz, Tolosky, Aslanides, Reimer, Roveda, Menegus, Miller, Dikon, Latzko, Schreiber, Shoudy, Skorinko, Strait, Schell, and Averno.

Mule Booters Tie Rutgers For M.A.C. Title

Top Stevens Tech As Rollo Goal Wins, 1-0

The Muhlenberg College Soccer Team scored a 1-0 victory over Stevens Institute of Technology last Saturday afternoon on the local field, and gained a tie with Rutgers University for first place in the northern division of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Little Mules Lose To Bullets By 13-7

Lou Cardinal's Little Mules went down to their first defeat Thursday afternoon as they succumbed to the "Miniature" Bullets of Gettysburg College 13-7 at Gettysburg.

Dombroski Scores
Muhlenberg scored first when Paul Dombroski ran into the end zone on a ten-yard sprint around left end after taking a pitch-out from LaMotta. Dolly's try for the extra point was good and the score was 7-0.

The Bullets tied the score after a poor Mule punt gave the victors the ball on the Muhlenberg 17. Berk Ward passed to Bob Hottel in the end zone for Gettysburg's first score. The extra point was good and the score stood at 7-7.

Poor Punts Hurt Mules
Another poor Muhlenberg punt and another Ward pass, this time to Dill Bignold, combined to give the Little Bullets their second touchdown and margin of victory as the final score read 13-7.

Mules Tie Youngstown

crashed over for the score and the all-important conversion was made by the accurate toe of Rutechi to tie the Mules and make the final tabulation read Muhlenberg 7, Youngstown 7.

Mules and Rutgers in Conference Tie

Rutgers defeated Lafayette 3-1 last Saturday at Easton. Both teams ended conference play with identical records of two wins, two ties, and one loss. 'Berg defeated Lafayette and Stevens, tied Lehigh and Rutgers, and lost to Haverford. Rutgers defeated Lafayette and Stevens, tied Lehigh and Muhlenberg, and lost to Swarthmore. To date a playoff game with Rutgers has not been arranged by Middle Atlantic officials, but Mr. Lawson, Assistant Director of Athletics, stated that 'Berg would participate if such a game were proposed.

The booters encountered stiff opposition from Stevens, last year's divisional champs, the winning goal being scored with only nine minutes of play remaining in the ball game. Playing on a rain soaked turf, both teams fought bitterly for seventy-nine minutes of scoreless play. Then Downey, Stevens' left fulback, missed a left-footer and the ball rolled toward the visitor's goal. Rollo, 'Berg inside left, converged upon the ball and dribbled toward the goal, while Eichner, 'Berg center forward, blocked the visitors' fulbacks in their effort to overtake Rollo.

Rollo Scores Goal
The score was made a few feet in front of the goal as Rollo faked the Steven's goalie to the right and slipped the ball into the left corner of the goal.

Harry Kreutzberg — Speedster

Soph Sparkles As Mule Back

A bright start in 1949 doubtless marks the beginning of a collegiate career which will blossom into a great future on the Muhlenberg gridiron for Harry Kreutzberg, hard charging Mule fullback. The speedy soph from Palmyra, New Jersey has been one of the brightest lights in a season which has otherwise been somewhat disappointing.

Before enrolling at Muhlenberg, Harry compiled an excellent record at Palmyra High School in both football and track. Voted the outstanding athlete in his graduating class, he was voted a place on the All-Scholastic Eleven from South Jersey, as well as being selected as the number one quarter mile runner in the same area. As a result of the latter achievement, he was selected to represent the South Jersey area in his specialty at an invitation meet at the University of Pennsylvania.

Hoopters Impress; Baughman To Coach Freshmen Quintet

At each successive practice session of the 1949-1950 Mule basketballers, Coach Benny Borgmann becomes more certain that the 'Bergmen will give a good account of themselves against the high class opposition this year's hoop schedule provides. Coach Borgmann believes that the squad's shooting has currently been especially good and he, therefore, has been stressing defensive maneuvers during the daily practice periods held on the Rockne Hall court.

No "Blueprint" Basketball

This year's aggregation will feature few set plays, since the Mules' court-wise coach does not believe in "blueprint" basketball; and consequently, a fast, exciting brand of basketball will result. To date all the varsity posts are still open and the veterans, as well as the newcomers, will have to prove themselves anew to earn starting berths.

Al Saemmer, who hurt his hand during a scrimmage, has recovered rapidly.

Over The Line

Seventeen veterans of Muhlenberg football terminate their collegiate careers Saturday. They have seen the great years and have just undergone a year of troubles. Many of the departing veterans are only a shade of the ball players they once were. They've taken physical beatings in their time yet they have kept going under the heat of battle. There was a time when we used to joke about our boys being Johnson & John's unanimous choices for all-America. They gave their all. Whether in victory or defeat, they are Muhlenberg's heroes.

It will be strange indeed without their familiar names in that starting lineup. But their playing days are nearing completion, and with them will go memories of great football.

To Captain Jack Crider, Dale Whiteman, Mike Bogdlewicz, Roy Tolosky, Dick Averno, Abe Aslanides, Dick Reimer, Hal Roveda, Joe Menegus, Vern Miller, Bob Dikon, Don Latsko, Alex Schreiber, Al Shoudy, Paul Shamko, Russ Strait and Bill Schell, all we can say is:

"Thanks guys, for a job well done. We're gonna miss all of you."

Kreutzberg Speedster

The 1948 edition of Palmyra's eleven went undefeated and captured the Burlington County and South Jersey Championships for the second consecutive year. Harry's play as fullback was one of the big reasons for the team's success.

Kreutzberg emphasized that the great change in the caliber of play from High School to college is a big one. Harry made the jump in one year, not having had the advantage in playing Freshman ball at college. He attributes his early season fumbles to the fact that the play is so much tougher, but found his faulty ball handling was improving with each added minute of collegiate play.

A humorous Hollywood produced satire on a substitute's long awaited chance to get into a ball game could doubtless have gotten a few pointers from Harry. The Mule stalwart had been on the bench throughout almost all of the opening game of the season against Scranton, when, with one minute and forty-five seconds of play remaining, Coach Baughman yelled for Kreutzberg.

Harry, all excited, jumped up, and rushed for a helmet. One foot was all tangled in the pile of headgear. Finally spotting the right head guard, he kicked over two managers and Doc Weaver in his anxiety. Into the game he went, amidst confusion and headgear all over the sideline.

The nervousness is gone now, however, and Harry certainly didn't have to wait until the final minute of the game after that. He started the following week and all subsequent weeks until a head injury sidelined him.

The injury, sustained in the Lehigh game finished Harry's play for the season.

As the Irishman sez
"it's the wearin' of the shoes."

Do you know what we saw that certain man doing in the ladies rest room on the second floor of the Student Center? Painting, of course. A few additions of paneling and pastel pink and blue paint gives the room a more lady-like appearance.

Well prepared — When you observe Richie Swavely you get the impression that a properly equipped Geology student about to depart on a field trip needs two things—a lunch containing ten sandwiches, three apples, two bananas, four pears, a bunch of celery, etc., etc., and a "horse blanket" shirt.

Wedding bells — Come Saturday night, we understand, and Ken Mastron will have joined the ranks of the "ill-fated". All kidding aside, we wish Ken and Jean the height of happiness.

It's a date — Last Monday, Dr. Stine asked the "Muhlenbergers" in his Logic Class to suggest a date for a future test. Wednesday, November 23 was unanimously agreed upon. After all, who would go home for vacation when they could supplement it with a Logic exam.

Surprise Dept. — Can you imagine the surprise Paul Freed experienced when he ordered a hamburger from "Pop" in the campus canteen and only received a roll. Must be the influence of television.

"Most Valuable" Award Goes To Jackson

Political Groups' Fate In Hands Of Students

Young Republican Club And S.D.A. Seek Charters; Special Discussion Meeting Set For December 8

by Dick Lucia

"Should we have political action groups on the Muhlenberg Campus" will be the topic for discussion at a special student body meeting to be held in the Science auditorium Thursday morning, December 8 at 11:00 a.m. The purpose of the meeting is to bring to the student body more information concerning the Students for Democratic Action and the Young Republican Club. Both of these political action groups desire to become a chartered activity on the campus. Since political action groups are without precedent at Muhlenberg a student body vote on Monday, December 12, will determine whether these groups will be chartered.

Nationwide Organization

Students for Democratic Action, one of the two political clubs under consideration in the forthcoming student body meeting and vote, looms as the big question mark on this campus in the next weeks.

The Students for Democratic Action is a young group having organized in March, 1947. At the present time there are 135 affiliated chapters at schools all over the country—at universities like Princeton, Chicago, and California; at smaller colleges like Oberlin, Berea, Ohio Wesleyan. The organization is throughout the U. S. non-partisan and aims at being a non-Communist medium for the expression of liberal ideas and concerns.

Tyson Attends Boston Confab

Dr. Levering Tyson, Muhlenberg President, will represent the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at the Convention of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Boston, Saturday, December 3.

Dr. Tyson is the retiring President of MSACSS, and was asked to attend the convention in that capacity. He has recently presided at the convention of the MSACSS held for two days at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Pre-Theos Get Missionary's View Of Experience In India

Dr. Luther Gotwald, Executive Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the U.L.C.A., presented several glimpses of missionary activities at a meeting of the Pre-Theological Club, Monday night. He directed the attention of the club members to the essential challenge and satisfaction of missionary life. Dr. Gotwald, a graduate of Gettysburg College and Seminary, punctuated his talk with episodes from his twenty-five year career as a missionary to India.

A Life of Service

Basic in the acceptance of a missionary assignment Dr. Gotwald believes to be an awareness of divine guidance, a healthy body ready to meet the tests of tropical climates, and an alert well trained mind. The useful missionary must understand the language of the people he has come to serve; he should know and respect the culture of those people. Important to the success of any missionary endeavor is the manner in

Peggy Martin and Frankie Lester, will be the vocalists for the band which brings the "natural rhythm" to Castle Garden. The Decoration Committee plans to design the bandstand to resemble an iceberg, with a snowman placed on each flank. Crepe paper icicles, appearing

Registrar Sets New Rules For Spring Term

Students Must Follow Strict Schedule When Registering

Registrar Paul J. Gebert has announced a new registration procedure for the Spring Term. Contrary to the usual procedure, there will be no trial week period at the opening of the spring term when courses may be dropped or changed. Students must follow the schedule as it is turned in. The only exception will be that of a student who receives an F in a subject in the fall term.

The registration period for the spring term (Feb.-June 1950) will be as follows:

Seniors, Dec. 5-6-7; Juniors, Dec. 8-9-10; Sophomores, Dec. 12-13; Freshmen, Dec. 14-15.

Registration material may be picked up by all classes at the registrar's office any time from December 5 on; however, registration by classes must follow the dates set above.

N.S.A. Delegation Attends Convention

Consider Various Subjects At Beaver College Meeting

A five man delegation from Muhlenberg College attended the National Students Association Eastern Sub-Regional convention held at Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pa., November 19, 1949. The group consisted of Marvin Berger, chairman, Dave Long, Leon Levitsky, Jim Loucks, and Everett Thierfelder.

Among the subjects discussed were the discontinuance of Sub-Regional conventions because of the expense involved, the repetition of discussions held at regional conventions, and the backing of political action groups on the various campuses if the individual student governments approved them.

Several ideas for projects at Muhlenberg were presented at the ### Heart Ailment Claims Berg Trustee

Dr. William A. Hausman, Jr., Chief Surgeon at Sacred Heart Hospital, and a member of the Muhlenberg College Board of Trustees, passed away Friday, November 25. Dr. Hausman had been suffering from a heart ailment for the last two years. He was 71 years of age.

Dr. Hausman received his B.S. at Muhlenberg in 1899, and the Doctor of Science degree in 1924. He attended the University of Pennsylvania Medical School.

Dr. Hausman served on the Muhlenberg College Board of Trustees for over 15 years, and served on the Trustee Executive Committee for part of that time. He was also a member of the Athletic Committee for a number of terms.

Among the survivors is a daughter, Mrs. William C. Berkmeyer, presently the president of the Muhlenberg College Women's Auxiliary.

Dr. Hausman's position on the Board will be filled at their meeting on December 13. His term would have expired in 1950.

Gets Gridiron Experts Votes As Standout Pigskin Performer

Bill Jackson, fleet Mule halfback whose standout gridiron performance earned him this year's "WEEKLY" award.

Weekly Sets Tentative Plans To Award Trophy At Fordham-Berg Game

The Muhlenberg WEEKLY has named Bill Jackson as the recipient of their 1949 most valuable football player award.

Jackson was named the "most valuable" by a WEEKLY poll of the sports writers and radio announcers who covered the Muhlenberg football games. Also participating in the voting were coaches and captains of the opposing teams.

Gets Trophy

Tentative plans call for Jackson to be presented with the WEEKLY trophy emblematic of this honor during the halftime of the Muhlenberg-Fordham basketball game, Wednesday, December 7.

Jackson scored 42 points with 7 TD's for the Mules in the past season. He had a net gain of 416 yards rushing in 109 times carried (statistics for Youngstown game not available). He was on the receiving end of 15 passes, gaining 435 yards. Bill scored three of his seven TD's as a pass receiver.

Local Athlete

Jackson is a local athlete who starred at Allentown High School prior to entering 'Berg in 1947. The big halfback, who is a Junior, is also a member of the Mule basketball team.

The poll was conducted of the sports scribes, announcers, players and coaches so that the WEEKLY could get a well-rounded authoritative opinion of men who know football. The results according to these "experts" made Jackson a heavy favorite.

Lehigh Host At Christmas Party

Valley German Groups Guests In Bethlehem

The German Club of Lehigh University will play host to other colleges of the Lehigh Valley at the annual German Christmas party on December 2, at 6:30 p.m. in the Beethoven Maennerchor, 127 Vineyard St., Bethlehem.

The party will consist of a buffet supper, entertainment, some of which is to be supplied by every participating college, and a dance.

President Wilmer D. Sanders of Muhlenberg's Der Deutsche Verein announced that tickets would be $1.00. Members of Der Deutsche Verein and students, who have recently been guests of the Verein are invited.

Last year Muhlenberg's German Club was host to the Lehigh Valley College German Clubs. Par-

Juniors Select Final Date For Class Prom

Verbal Agreement Made With Spivak Orchestra

February 24, 1950 was again set as the date for this year's Prom at a special Junior class meeting Monday, November 21. The special meeting was called by president, Marvin Berger.

A group of Juniors had requested another meeting to discuss the possibility of having the dance sometime in April instead of the February date which had been decided upon at a previous class meeting.

Bill Lybrand made Student Council's stand on the matter clear when he stated that the Council would give the Juniors priority regardless of the date decided upon. However, he also emphasized that since negotiations were already under way with

Berg Students Hear Experts At West Point College Conference

Henry Northington and Donald Reiman will represent Muhlenberg College in a four day Student Conference on United States Affairs sponsored by the United States Military Academy to be held at West Point beginning November 30. Two students from each of the fifty-two schools participating will have an opportunity to listen to expert speakers in the fields of economics, politics, national security and foreign affairs and then will air their own opinions and conclusions in round table discussions.

The speakers for the initial session will be Paul Hoffman, ECA Administrator; Grayson Kirk, Provost of Columbia University and expert on international politics; and Lt. Gen. Walter B. Smith, former ambassador to Russia. A summary of the conference will be given in the final session by Dean Rusk, Deputy Under-Secretary of State.

A New Experiment

This conference, which is a new experiment in student activities, is sponsored by the Military Academy to give the students an opportunity to take part in an orderly, informative analysis of the basic contemporary problems facing the United States and also to broaden the student's contacts with men and women from other institutions of learning. The actual methods used in the conference will parallel those used successfully on a faculty level by the Brookings Institute.

Historical Tours

Administrative details such as housing and food will be handled by cadets of the West Point Debate Council. In addition to the actual round table discussions, plans have been made for tours of the historical points and educational facilities at West Point, as well as social affairs including a banquet and formal dance on Saturday, December 3.

Other schools besides Muhlenberg College which have been invited include: Rutgers, Princeton, George Washington University, University of Virginia, and Georgetown University.

Mar-Kays Plan Yuletide Dance

A Christmas Dance and Party will be held by the Mar-Kay Club on Friday, December 2, at 8 p.m. in the lounge of the Student Center. The affair is open to all married students and their wives for a donation of 50 cents; however, this will include refreshments. There will be modern and novelty dancing to records plus an interesting and unusual program of adult games. The program committee consists of Fern Sutton, Evelyn Freed, Marie Strait, Grace Hausman and Ann Roveda.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be held Tuesday, December 6, at 8 p.m. in the reception rooms of West Hall. At that time a Christmas and novel candle demonstration will be displayed by Mrs. Henry Gerhard. All students' wives are urged to attend this meeting.

Politics On Campus Become Major Concern

A different kind of question has come to the fore at 'Berg during the past several weeks. It concerns, in its widest scope, the point of whether the formation of or the segregation into political factions is to be encouraged or even condoned in our student body. Outwardly, the issue at hand is simply the acceptance or rejection of the Students for Democratic Action as one of our campus organizations.

Problem Requires Thought

But more serious ramifications are to be met and considered than the mere approval or disapproval of another activity. The problem demands thought and requires answers to a series of questions of a successively broader nature. We immediately encounter questions as to the nature of S.D.A.: Queries as to who the people are who comprise the association, how many members there are, where the many units are located, and what interests comparable to our own these people have, seem important at first, but they barely scratch the surface. We should know, too, the purpose the group attempts to fulfill and the ways in which it tries to further its aims. Finally, since we want to be entirely objective and exhaustive in our appraisal, we should go deeper to ascertain the ideals upon which the purposes and aims, as a whole, are founded.

Final Decision by Vote

Having concluded such an examination of the various aspects of the organization, we, as individuals of discernment, may feel that we can then decide on the question of inclusion or exclusion of this group as a part of our college life. But is an objective inspection of the association, its physical structure, and its underlying principles to be our only basis for a conclusion? Can we judge wisely and surely, without any sort of analysis of the subjective relationship between us as a student body and the organization as it would affect us?

To be wholly sincere and honest with ourselves, we must admit that an analysis is fitting, even obligatory. Thus, the most significant point of the entire problem can only be reached in an answer to the question: "Is a political action group, regardless of its national affiliations and its ideological implications, a necessary, suitable, or desirable adjunct to the ample, well-rounded influence already exerted on each college student?"

Everyone at Muhlenberg will have an opportunity to join in a discussion of this matter at a student body meeting on December 8, and to voice his opinion on a ballot December 12. Our collective duty prior to that time is to ask ourselves whether our political thinking should be moulded by the persuasion of biased factions or by decisions that we make individually based on our own impartial study of political issues.

Prelude To A Senior Formal

Grunts And Groans To Join Harmony Of Shower Songbirds As Students Dress For Big Dance

by John Stadlander

About four o'clock on the Friday of the weekend dance, the Muhlenberg dormitories give indication of a forthcoming eruption. About eight o'clock the usual tranquility of student life gives way to madness. The excitement approaches the temper of the mob before the Bastille, or a group of Scotchmen chasing a stray penny down the main street of Edinburgh. The custodial staff has been kept busy for hours previous, stoking fires to provide an abundance of hot water. The showers are crowded. Another occupant is as welcome as a Yankee fan in Brooklyn. The symphony of electric razors is distracting, and space before the mirrors is at a premium. Friend stabs friend for precious time at the sink; college pals become bitter adversaries over the last drop of Wildroot.

Monkeys Too Foxy

The early stages of preparation are somehow completed, and there remains only the donning of the social toga or "Monkey-suit." The significance of such a name is quite puzzling. Friend monkey, swinging joyfully from tree to tree, is far too clever an animal to let himself be confined in such a restrictive garment.

Adjusting the trousers is comparatively simple, but oh, that shirt! Certainly the Inquisitors of Spain could conceive of no device calculated to break the human spirit as effectively as the dress shirt. On the dance floor it is a menace; a quick move might mean death by strangulation. However, with grunts and groans, a little help from a good natured pal, and a fierce struggle with an uncooperative collar button the shirt is donned.

Bow Tie Trouble

Next in the line of attention is that piece of black cloth designed to frustrate all human efforts: the bow tie. No matter what pains one takes, it manages to look awkward.

Student Contribution To The Tele-System Operator Sans Switchboard Or Phone

New Guard Post Created For Arcade Telephone Booth To Answer Calls, Check Use Of Slugs In Pay Slots

"Red" Artman, 'Berg's recently installed Call Boy, is intent on his Math homework while waiting for the Arcade Phone to jangle.

The telephone has come to Muhlenberg! This week the students living in East Hall were able to witness for the first time the new invention of Alex Bell. Although the telephone has become standard equipment at many colleges and even has reached the better dorms on our campus, the use of telephones in the East Hall area had been omitted.

The chief reason for not having telephone service was not lack of funds. The East Hall students are the richest in the vicinity. Nor was the dorm's isolated location an obstacle to the installation of the Bell system. The major fault lay in the inhabitants of the Hall.

Loud Bellows

These men were practically all ex-GI's, familiar to the Army guard system of calling out messages from one post to another. When a call was answered under the East Hall Arcade the message was relayed in a Swiss-yodeler fashion. The recipient of the call would run to the center of the East Hall quadrangle, bellow loudly the name of the man for whom the message was intended, wait ten seconds, and then try to date the caller himself. More telephone operators have married 'Berg men because of this fallacy than any other type of working girl in Allentown.

However, to correct the looseness of the communication system at East Hall the company sent Miss Bessie Plutz to the dorm to serve as an inter-hall telephone receptionist. Wow, was she an operator! After several months Miss Plutz was forced to resign when climbing the East Hall stairs became too much for her.

Still the telephone kept ringing, the yodelers calling through the dorm, and ten men named Smith pushing their way into the small booth to answer the call.

Answers Calls

Finally a remedy has been found. An East Hall student, Elmer "Red" Artman, has been named the official telephone receptionist for the dormitory. A small office has been refurnished for him in the utility room in East Hall. Each evening Sunday through Thursday "Red" will sit by the telephone from 7 to 10 p.m. answering all incoming calls. He is slated to become one of the most popular call boys at Muhlenberg. His "who did you want to speak to" will welcome all who call Allentown 3-9638. Being a math major he will be good at remembering numbers. Will a date bureau be the next modern addition to come to East Hall? How science aids the college student.

Critics Turn Thumbs-down On M & D's "Laudanum Grove"

English Mystery-Comedy Proves Too Dull For College Audience With Modern American Taste

by Tom Cole

There is nothing so dull as a dull play—even a dull play well done. When a play is not well done, the only art which can hold the audience at all is the play itself. Thus it is the play which is the thing; but in Laburnum Grove, by J. B. Priestly, there is no conscience caught or ever suspect. Yet the Mask and Dagger, an able and, in the past, exciting company, elected to present so boring and unrewarding a play this semester. Of course they should be censured for it.

Lack of Action

At his best, Priestly is a talkative, idea-istic writer. Nothing much ever happens in a Priestly play—nor does anyone usually expect action from him. But in Laburnum Grove, Mr. Priestly is not a good talker (although there is much talk), and he does not present us with an idea about which we ourselves can talk or conjecture. He does present an unimaginative group of "characters," who seem to grow from a grade school assignment on the topic "How to Write a Play"—the bare rudiments, of course.

Priestly's theme in this play is crime on the cozy scale and in the "English" manner. But we get no atmosphere of the England we expect and deserve in an English mystery-comedy. We do get flat lines, mechanical situations (with no willing suspension of disbelief on my part), and cliché devices which usually can be called on for suspense (the telephone or door bell ringing at the right time). All, alas, are tossed our way.

Unfair Odds

The settings were finely executed. But then, the cast was working against unfair odds, as was Mr. Andrew H. Erskine, who directed the play. I for one was saddened to find such excellent talent as that of Warren Burns and Jerry Albert, two veteran actors of the 'Berg stage and elsewhere, struggling against the obvious. My sympathy also went to several others who have apparent ability but had no good material to work with.

Dearth of Imagination

The settings were finely executed, as one expects of Mr. Martin Weisman, but the furnishings showed little imagination. The stage crew did its work well, and no observable hitches occurred Saturday night when I saw the play.

It is hoped, (not only by myself but by the many whose negative opinions concerning the production of Laburnum Grove this reviewer shares) that future productions will be more thoroughly considered before valuable time and effort are expended on them. The past record of Mask and Dagger proves that the ability to do good plays well exists.

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

"All good things must come to an end," we groaned wearily as we dragged ourselves back to the dorms for a well deserved rest. "School is a good place to rid oneself of that 'dragged through a keyhole' feeling from vacations," we thought. However, cold and dispassionate reasoning told us that the holiday merely gave us the change necessary to better fortify us for the current intra-faculty tong war. Like the Greeks at Thermopylae, some faculty members seem to have the motto, "They shall not pass!"

FICTION AND FACT FROM PETE'S ALMANAC: Snook, the mobile sandwich huckster committed the errand of his life the other night, while hawking his wares in South Hall. He yelled "beer", when he should have yelled "milk" and was almost knocked off his feet by the surging humanity coming up at him from all corners. Communication has been established with Bill Kulp, who left us to study at the U. of Munich, in Germany. The word is good; he claims that he is getting cultured like a pearl, but maintains he is still looking for a fraulein who will teach him colloquial German. Ernie Turtzo recently sneaked into Gorgone's and asked for an invisible hairnet. He had to be satisfied with nylon. The Lounge Lizard tells us that Tom Bolivar was seen walking around with a beer bottle at one thirty one Sunday morning. We'll spoil the story by confessing that he didn't empty it, not by himself anyway.

Unoriginalized of the week: The war has been over for some four years now, but they're still telling the story about the married vet in the housing project at 'Berg whose wife left him in the kitchen, entrusting him with the job of keeping the roast from burning. As it happens, he was an ex-destroyer gunner, and probably was never able to forget his experiences. He fell asleep in the chair and didn't come to until his wife came back and saw smoke billowing from the stove. She screamed, "FIRE!" He leaped to his feet, opened the oven, shoved the family cat inside, slammed the door, stood at attention, saluted and shouted, "Gun #2 ready to fire, sir!" (Believe that one and we'll tell you another).

IT ALL COMES OUT IN THE WASH: When the band buses got within 3 miles of Lewisburg, a strange thing happened. Occupants in one bus were startled to see the other bus pass with a pair of scarlet trousers gayly flapping in the breeze, out the window. Someone grabbed them and at Bucknell they were seen draped over the goalposts. It was a blushing George Dudack who debated whether to dash out in his undies to retrieve them or not. Women were all over the place, but his sole comment was, "Man it's cold out there!" Speaking of undies, it's true that this sign of unrestraint is in the East Wing, south side, of the library. It reads in very bold type "DRAWERS MAY BE REMOVED TEMPORARILY". We hear that Wally Stefany has incurred the wrath of art instructor Mr. Cantieni for his many absences. Careful Wally, once more and you'll have to turn in your white sneakers and beret.

MULE KICKS

Dear Mule Kicks:

Is it true that among the instructors in the Administration Building there is a race to see who can grade the toughest, instead of who can teach the best?

It has come to the attention of these writers that on one occasion instructors have passed remarks such as these: "If you think Mr. 'X's' marks are tough, wait until you get my marks back", or "these marks are too high, gentlemen, for after all, I am in stiff competition in this building with Mr. 'Y' at the other end of the hall and Mr. 'Z' down at this end".

We hear much talk around the campus both on the part of the faculty and students about instituting an honor system. Is it reasonable to assume an honor system will work when such conditions as mentioned above exist? One can hardly answer in the affirmative. Is this the fault of the students? No! For these conditions reduce the student to a state of competition, not with each other, but rather with the instructor. Under these conditions the honor system will never work.

Wherein lies the remedy? We cannot offer the final solution, but we do feel that we have the basis for an intelligent start. Closer cooperation between faculty and students, each realizing the problems of the other, would be the first step toward this end. The instructors should realize that the true end of a college education is not manifested in the transcript (with all its ramifications), but rather the development of an intelligent, broadened, and cultured individual, who is prepared to assume his responsibilities and leadership as a citizen in today's competitive world.

How We Met

My favorite tune at the moment (it's pure coincidence that I recorded it for Victor) is "Give Me Your Hand." The lyrics go, "Give me your hand. Let me be ever near." Here is a classy proposal of marriage set to music, which should help a lot of bashful swains.

PERRY COMO

"Give Me Your Hand" started me thinking about married couples in show business. I looked around and came up with a few sidelights on well known couples, how they met, and how their marriage influenced their careers.

Take Bea Wain and Andre Baruch, known to the butcher and baker as Mr. and Mrs. Baruch. They met on a Kate Smith show. Just said "hello" casually, as you do on a big program. What followed sounds like a gag to me, but Andre swears it's true. Seems he hadn't been feeling too well. As the show went on, he felt worse and worse. He hung on until the program was over, then picked a quiet corner and fainted. (So he says.) In the confusion, Bea was the only one who noticed the limp bundle of Baruch. She (to quote Andre) "rushed over with a pitcher of ice water which she poured all over my new tuxedo." Things like that take the formality out of a first meeting. Andre says he got even by marrying the girl.

Stanley and Helen Melba share one of the most unusual careers in show business. Their firm produces shows and supplies entertainment for a large hotel chain, for conventions, charitable events, society parties, and anything else which calls for top entertainment. You just call them up and say, "A few hundred intimate friends are dropping in next Saturday. Will you please put on a fashion show and send over a few jugglers, a magician and a name band?" They take it from there.

Stanley and Helen met at a party when Helen was 16, Stanley a few years older. They had a long engagement, and Helen was every bit of it when they married. At that time, Stanley was playing saxophone in Ozzie Nelson's band. He switched to a job on Wall Street, intending to be the standard model husband. But, Wall Street failed to reward him properly, and he had to take an orchestra job on the side. Finally, he organized his own band. He mixed up the books so thoroughly that Helen stepped in as bookkeeper. Now, she's a full-time partner, staging shows and helping with the management of seven orchestras.

Tex McCrary and Jinx Falkenburg met when Tex interviewed Jinx for the Daily Mirror in 1941. She was a starlet and an up-and-coming model. Tex wrote editorials and did a daily feature column for the Mirror. Their paths kept crossing during the next few years. This was remarkable, because both of them were traveling all over the world. Tex in the Air Force and Jinx with the USO. At last, Tex discovered that Jinx was about to leave the United States for Europe just as he was due back. He cabled a mutual friend in New York: "Locate Jinx. Tell her to stall. Guy who wants to marry her en route home." It worked and today—well, you know what a change marriage has made in those two careers.

While we're on the subject of early romances, I just can't resist mentioning "he-man" Mitch Ayres, our conductor on the Chesterfield Supper Club. You know, most people don't think of Mitch as a Romeo, at least not the kind of a guy who falls in love with a gal and can't eat. In 1936, Mitch met his wife, Georganna, in Hollywood while he was working on a movie at an outdoor location scene. He made cute conversation with her between the scenes, dated her a few times and then left the coast on a tour. Strangely enough, he found himself avoiding dates after that and suddenly realized that he was up to his neck in love. He married Georganna shortly afterward, that is, as soon as he could get back to the coast.

One of my favorite "how-we-met" stories comes from a versatile and distinguished show business couple, Kitty Carlisle and Moss Hart. Author-producer Hart and actress-singer Carlisle, when pressed for a story on how they met, came up with a beautifully simple one. "We can't remember," they said. "We've known each other for years."

Turning from things material to things immaterial: Chaucer and I wrote an off color story, Bawdy and lewd from the start. Mine, people say, is quite pornographic But Chaucer's is classical art,

Regional PSK Conclave Draws Local Chapter To Bethlehem

Official delegates of Muhlenberg's chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa will attend the week-end regional meeting of P.S.K.'s from Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, and New Jersey, to be held in Bethlehem, with the Lehigh chapter as the official host. The last conclave of this region was held prior to the last war.

The formal business meetings will be held in the Packard Auditorium on the Lehigh campus. A banquet will be held in the Hotel Bethlehem. An informal smoker for the local and national guests will be held at the Lehigh chapter house following the banquet.

Official delegates from 'Berg's chapter will be Paul Weiss, president of Upsilon Triton chapter, and Mr. Glen Bowersox, chapter adviser. In addition, many brothers of the chapter will also be in attendance.

National dignitaries to be present at the conclave include Herbert L. Brown, National President; Earl F. Schoening, National Secretary-Treasurer, and Robert B. Nemeschy, Regional Director.

Spotlight on Borgmann, Berg's Mr. Basketball

Rams Formidable Foe For Mules Opening Court Game

With the opening game against Fordham University less than a week away, Muhlenberg's courtmen are preparing to put the results of long practice sessions on public display for the first time. The curtain raiser against the Rams is scheduled for this coming Wednesday evening at Rockne Hall.

OVER... THE LINE

by Bob Godnick

Football is being pushed from the sports pages by basketball but before the pigskin is put in mothballs we want to congratulate Bill Jackson for being named the WEEKLY's "most valuable" football player.

The WEEKLY's annual award to the team's most valuable player went to Marty Binder last year. Marty played backfield for 'Berg and accounted for a major portion of the 48 season touchdowns.

The basketball season coming up will also see a contest for the most valuable courtman. The contest will be conducted similarly to that of football.

Tom Triplett, Freshmen basketball coach, got a look at his yearling court crew this week down at the Armory. Around twenty-eight aspiring candidates greeted the mentor.

While the football team was getting most of the headlines, Chili Altomese's soccer team completed a very successful campaign ending in a tie with Rutgers for the Northern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Coach Benny Borgmann is very satisfied with the performance of his squad in practice, in addition to a scrimmage with Rutgers. Berg's new coach has been impressed by the play of all his veterans, while his newcomers have given him some security for depth.

Two Styles Employed

Borgmann will work two types of offensives this season. One of these, the fast breaking, razzle-dazzle style, is familiar to all followers of Mule basketball. The head mentor also will adopt a slower, more deliberate style of play, built around a four man weave leading the pivot. Benny favors this style to slow down the fast breaking clubs whom the Mules will meet. The pivot man in this set-up will be veteran and captain Dick McGee. Bob Lonergan, working in the pivot for the first time this season, has impressed Borgmann with his agility, and will see frequent action.

Much concern has centered around the injury of "hard-luck" Danny Mackin, who severely bruised his hand in an automobile mishap. Although a preliminary diagnosis seemed to indicate a broken hand, x-ray disclosed no fracture. Chances are that Danny, whose drive has provided such thrills for Mule followers will probably miss the opening game.

Danny May Be Ready

"But don't be too surprised if he's in there next Wednesday night, though," reported Coach Borgmann. "Danny says he coming along fine, and wants to get in (Continued on Page Five)

Meet The New Court Mentor

The affable Benny Borgmann, who is in his first year at the helm of the Muhlenberg cage squad.

Borgmann And "Old Pete" Get Acquainted For Court Year

"Old Pete" Muhlenberg's eyes are focused upon the very likable and affable Benny Borgmann, the Mules' new court mentor and the "Man of the Hour." The sports-minded followers of the Cardinal and Grey are eagerly anticipating their school's return to the athletic heights, and they figure that Borgmann's the man to put "Old Pete" right back on top of the heap.

Benny Has Basketball Savvy

It would be difficult to find a man in the country today who has more knowledge of basketball or has played more of that game than Coach Borgmann. Benny could probably spin enough yarns about his playing days in basketball to make interesting copy for the whole of this court season and continuing on to the next.

Lifetime Spent in Sports

Benny's entire life has been spent in basketball and baseball. He has been playing pro ball since he was 18 years old. Behind him lie 27 years of playing in professional basketball, and the ironman feat of 2500 complete games in that period. That's quite a bit of basketball experience.

Kingston Colonels First Club

Borgmann began his playing career with the Kingston Colonels in the old New York State League. After playing with the Colonels, he signed up with the Paterson Crescents in the American League. Later he played with the Paterson Legionnaires which represented Kingston in the New York State League and Paterson in the American League. The winners of these two leagues played each other to decide the champs of both groups, but when the Legionnaires won the crown of both loops in the same year, which they did, they automatically became the champions. In that year they played the Brooklyn Celtics for the World Championship and won the title.

Played on Court Under Halas

Continuing on his way to fame on the hardwood boards, Borgmann joined the Fort Wayne Hoosiers for four years, a member team of the American League. Next he joined the Chicago Bruins, who were managed by George Halas, a name familiar to all football fans of today as the "pappy" of the Chicago Bears.

Benny with the Celtics

Just to prove that he wasn't going to limit his talents to a few teams, Benny also played with the immortal Brooklyn Celtics for over a year. Wearing the shamrock symbol of the Celtics at this time were such gents as Holman, Barry, Beckman, Leonard Chadwick, Laphick, and Dehnert, a veritable "Who's Who" in basketball.

Marathon Schedule

Professional basketball in Benny Borgmann's playing days was rough and tumble, unlike the NBA is today. When he was with Paterson, they played every night. There were three league games a week, the other contests were exhibitions. Once, the Crescents traveled all through the South, playing every team they could find, a marathon schedule which wouldn't even be attempted today. Considering the conditions under which the old pros played, it makes such a marathon even more remarkable. In those days, the travelling basketballers had to play the game and protect themselves from the ire of the home fans.

Six Years As Coach

Benny started coaching basketball six years ago. He began with the Paterson Crescents in the American League, staying there for two years. Then the Syracuse Nationals of the National Basketball League acquired his services for two years. Coach Borgman's last coaching assignment before he came to Muhlenberg was at a little New England college, St. Michaels, where he turned in another capable performance.

Won't Predict Season

Benny thinks the Mule hoopsters will have speed, aggressiveness, hustle, and plenty of spirit this year. He won't predict anything because sports are too uncertain, anything can happen. He worries about each game as it comes along, taking them in stride one by one. Right now Fordham is the only game to think about and Benny doesn't look worried as yet. As the Mules' new coach of basketball puts it, it's possible to lose our 23 games or win all 23. If he were a betting man, he'd bet we wouldn't lose 23. We'll string along with that bet, the basketball team, and the "Man of the Hour," Benny Borgmann.

No starting line-up has been set for next Wednesday's opener. Elmo Jackson, veteran speedster, has been out for only two scrimmages thus far, since football kept him occupied before this past week. With Mackin a doubtful starter, nothing is definite.

Borgman's one lament is a lack of one big man. But where he fears other team's height, they fear the Mules' speed, so anything can happen. But let's wait till Wednesday.

Lambda Chi Leads I-M League

With the season drawing to a close, Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity is currently showing the way in League I of the Intra-Mural football competition, while the Black Cats look like the team to beat in League II although the schedule is only half complete.

Lambda Chi insured themselves of at least a tie for the title by downing Sigma Phi Epsilon 20-14. They need only one more victory to go through an undefeated season and earn the right to meet the League II winner in the championship game. Sig Ep retained a mathematical chance to tie by nailing out the Sinners, 6-0, in a surprisingly tough battle.

League II has been idle for some weeks, and three teams still have hopes of garnering the title. They are the Black Cats, The Ramblers, and the Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity, with the undefeated Black Cats currently on top of the heap.

Large tinsel and white balloons will be scattered throughout the ballroom as an additional harmonizing effect and, if Dorney Park officials consent, a miniature artificial snowstorm will be staged by employing white confetti, to further assure the Decorations Committee of a most spectacular and entertaining Senior Ball.

This event, which will be held from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m., may be attended by any 'Berg student, upon the display of his activities card to one of the members of the Cardinal Key Society, who will be in charge of admittance.

Among these was an International House project, not restricted to foreign students, among the schools of the Lehigh Valley to be headed by Everett Thierfelder of Muhlenberg to foster closer inter-campus relations. An apology—We would like to make amends to "Richie" Swavely for injuries sustained by his delicate feelings due to a section of this column two weeks ago. Don't worry, John, we didn't tell him where we got the info.

A suggestion—This idea has been expressed to us on several occasions, so we'll pass it along to anyone who is interested—Why not focus flood-lights on the Library Building dome to draw the attention of nocturnal travelers to our campus?

Sweet and Low?—The newly organized Disk and Data show, which is a daily, noontime occurrence in the Student Center, is much to our liking. The organization boasts of a staff of more than twenty eager and progressive students. Keep 'er going, fellers.

Other Improvements—Since the Pre-theological Club and the Cardinal Key Society have been jointly allotted a classroom in the Student Center, they have been giving the room a "face lifting." A two-tone effect, similar to the one downstairs, has been applied.

Confused?—The author of one of the WEEKLY's widely read gossip columns broke into a conversation concerning the Ph factor of blood by admitting 'I know mine's positive because that's how my Washer-man turned out.' Mass hysteria broke loose.

Chapel Gets Yule-time Trim

The 'Berg Chapel sporting its annual Christmas decorations will be focal point of campus yuletide activity.

Berg-Crest Xmas Carol Service Highlights Campus Yule Fests

Christmas Spirit Invades West Hall As Freshmen Prepare For Annual Holiday Party With Santa

Extensive plans for the Christmas season at Muhlenberg including the annual 'Berg-Crest Carol Service, the Freshman Christmas Party, and the Faculty Children's Party were well underway this week. The broadcasting of Christmas Carols to the campus from the amplifying system at West Hall marks the first step in the preparations for the Yuletide season.

Seasonal atmosphere will be at its highest next Thursday afternoon when the annual Cedar Crest-Muhlenberg Christmas program is held in the Gideon F. Egner Memorial Chapel. No classes will be held after 3:50 on Thursday, December 15, in order that the services may begin promptly at 4:00 p.m.

Tyson Speaks

The service, approximately one hour in length, will consist of an address by President Levering Tyson, of 'Berg, organ offerings by Dr. Harold Marks of Muhlenberg and Jeanette Hollman of Cedar Crest, the service conducted by Dr. E. T. Horn of Muhlenberg and Dr. B. Leroy Burkhardt of Cedar Crest and selections by the Cedar Crest and Muhlenberg choirs.

Tree Lighting

Immediately following the chapel service Thursday, another unique Muhlenberg Christmas tradition, the annual tree lighting ceremony, will take place. The

Students Have Christmas Night

German Group Devotes Party To Yule Theme

An evening devoted to Christmas was the theme of a gathering of first year German students in the West Hall recreation room on Tuesday evening, December 6. The program was primarily comprised of the singing of Christmas carols under the direction of Mr. Rudolph J. Sprenger, a member of the Muhlenberg German Department and faculty sponsor of the first year group.

Slides Shown

Other entertainment included a talk by Clyde I. Fry, a senior, on "Christmas customs in Germany," and the showing of Christmas slides by Dr. Luther A. Pfeuger, also of Muhlenberg's German Department.

Varied refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Testing Office Releases Dates Of Grad Exams

Bureau Also Schedules Time Of Next Med College Exam

Monday and Tuesday, December 12 and 13, have been designated as the days for the Graduate Record Examinations according to word received from the Test Bureau. All men who have registered for these examinations will be excused from all a.m. and p.m. classes on both these days.

The battery of examination have been scheduled as follows: Session I, Monday, December 12, 1949 from 12:15 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., Room 105, Science Building. Tests to be given: Test I—Physics; Test II—Chemistry; Test III—Literature; Test IV—Fine Arts; Test V—Biological Science; and Test VI—Social Studies. Session II will be held on Tuesday, December 13, 1949, at the same hours and in the same room with the following tests given: Test VII—Verbal Factor; Test VIII—Mathematics; and the Advanced Test.

All examinees are reminded to bring a filled fountain pen to the examination sessions.

'Berg Gallery Offers Atomic Energy Theme

Presents Panels Showing Influence Of Atomic Age

The effect of the atomic age on the laymen is the theme of the current art exhibition in the art gallery. "Atomic Energy" is an art exhibit prepared by the editors of Life magazine. This exhibition will be open daily, Monday through Thursday, from 1:30 to 4:30, until December 16.

This exhibition was prepared primarily to deal with the effect of atomic energy upon the life of the layman, rather than to emphasize the scientific side of the subject.

Pioneer Scientists

The first section of "Atomic Energy" shows panels on the seven pioneer scientists who did the first work in atomic power; Hiroshima, Nagasaki and Bikini; experiments with animals; and radiation sickness and mutation. The second section deals with picture

McIntyre Band Provides Music For Annual Winter Senior Ball

First Berg Formal Of Year Features Winter Theme, Brings "Nocturnal Rythm" To Castle Garden Ballroom

Frankie Lester, vocalist, who along with Peggy Martin, will warble to Prom music.

Hal McIntyre who will provide the rhythm for dancing at Senior Ball.

Tomorrow night Nocturnal Rhythm, the first formal dance of the year, featuring the music of Hal McIntyre, will be presented by the Senior Class at the Castle Garden Ballroom from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. The ballroom will be turned into a winter scene with the bandstand designed as a huge iceberg.

Vocalists Well Known

Peggy Martin and Frankie Lester will provide the vocals for the McIntyre aggregation. Discovered by Benny Goodman and groomed by the late Glenn Miller, critics hail Hal as one of the top-notch orchestra leaders in the music world and a prominent drawing card throughout the country in regard to personal appearances. His subdued reed voicing and bright clipped brassy have constituted the typical McIntyre style since he organized his orchestra.

Bandstand Like Iceberg

The decoration committee plans to design the bandstand to resemble an iceberg, with a snowman placed on each flank. Crepe paper icicles appearing almost life-like, will be suspended from the ceiling. Large white balloons will be scattered throughout the ballroom. Moe Fry, chairman of the committee stated that everyone will be surprised by the unique decorations.

Chaperones for the affair will be President and Mrs. Tyson, Dean and Mrs. Mercer and Dean and Mrs. Benfer.

Political Action Groups State Views Involved In Student Vote

S.D.A. & Young Republicans Release Statement; Give Views On Current Campus Political Debate

Next Monday the students of Muhlenberg will be called upon to decide whether or not political action groups will be chartered on the Muhlenberg Campus. They will also vote to accept or reject the Students for Democratic Action and the Young Men's Republican Club. In the interest of furthering student comprehension of the issues involved, the following statement has been released by the Students for Democratic Action and the Young Republican Club.

The statement as released by the S.D.A. and the Young Men's Republican Club is as follows:

"The Student Body decides on Monday whether political clubs will join the roster of recognized campus activities at Muhlenberg. But what is a political club? Essentially it is a medium whereby a group of interested students can discuss political issues and on the basis of discussion enter into practical politics. Thus the main function is educational—to explore issues and stimulate political awareness through speakers, panels, and discussions. The second function is to carry conviction into such projects as support of D.P. students, civil rights, and support of candidates for political office.

Escape From Ivory Tower

But do we need political clubs at Muhlenberg? SDA and Young Republicans feel we do. How can students escape from the ivory tower of books to the real world of practical politics? The curriculum and existing organizations do not provide the means; students need organizations devoted specifically to rallying political opinion and to taking a stand on issues—to make learning practical and subject to challenge, to lead us to bring to our learning the zeal of conviction. It is our duty as citizens of a democracy to be concerned about politics."

S.D.A. Statement

The following is a separate statement released by the students for Democratic Action.

"SDA was formed in 1947 as a political home for liberal students. In two years 150 campus chapters have been formed at all sorts of colleges: church colleges, state universities, and teacher's colleges. SDA campaigned in the election of Senators Humphrey, Lehman, Paul Douglas, and F.D.R., Jr., investigated the extent of discrimination in a nation-wide campus

Science Club Hears Koehler On Math

Poses And Answers Query On Solving An Equation

Posing and then answering the question "When Is An Equation Solved?", Mr. Truman Koehler will address the Science Club at its regular monthly meeting, Monday, December 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Science building.

Mr. Koehler's discussion will be presented in a manner that all students will be able to comprehend, according to Nelson Shearer, spokesman for the club. It will also be supplemented by blackboard explanations.

The speaker, an assistant professor in the math department, is a graduate of Muhlenberg College, and has been a member of the faculty for 23 years. He received his M.A. from the University of Pennsylvania, and is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity.

Pre-Meds See Surgical Movies

Color films of two standard surgical techniques will be shown at the next meeting of the Pre-Medical Society on Wednesday, December 14, at 6:30 p.m. The group will meet in room 305 of the Science building.

President Dick Rosamilia emphasizes that the meeting time has been moved up an hour to accommodate those members who plan to attend the University of Delaware-Muhlenberg basketball game that evening.

Titles of the two films to be shown are "Pericardial Resection for Constrictive Pericarditis" and "Surgical Treatment of Hypertension." The former deals with a partial excision of the pericardium, the membranous, fibrous sac enclosing the heart. The sec-

Society Hears Parole Officer

Speaking of penology in general and specifically about the duties of his office, Mr. Paul W. Tibbetts, chief probation and parole officer of Berks County, will address the Muhlenberg Sociological Society at its meeting this evening.

The meeting will be held at the home of Rev. Conrad Raker, Superintendent of the Good Shepherd Home, Allentown. The speaker will be presented after the business meeting, which is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

President Lee Zimmerman, on behalf of the membership of the group, invites any interested student to this meeting.

Mr. Tibbetts is also the Secretary of the Pennsylvania Parole and Probation Association. Previous to assuming his duties as probation and parole officer, he was active in Y.M.C.A. work.

All students interested in becoming members of the society should contact Dr. Morris Greth.

Hypnotist Extraordinary Baffles Next Assembly

The "man who has hypnotized more than a million people," Dr. Franz J. Polgar, one of the country's leading hypnotists, will be presented at the next assembly program on Thursday, Dec. 15, at 11 a.m.

Dr. Polgar, who has been reviewed by articles and pictures in both Life and Saturday Evening Post, has performed over 1100 programs in the past three years, astounding audiences everywhere with his amazing feats of hypnotism, mental telepathy and memorization.

Hypnotizes Football Team

Hypnotist and telepathist extraordinary, his performances range from hypnotizing an entire football team, to locating an object hidden miles away by following mental directions of a volunteer from the audience.

According to publicity notices, his demonstrations of mental telepathy are uncanny, and upon people under his hypnosis, his power of suggestion is startling. At a Detroit lecture Polgar is said to have challenged the audience to hide his check for the performance, assuring them that he would locate it by following the mental directions of a volunteer. He agreed to forfeit the check if he failed. While Polgar was absent from the stage the check was hidden, but upon his return he immediately located it under a woman's hat, in four minutes, out of an audience of 2000. His mass hypnosis of a group of Franklin and Marshall students is recorded pictorially in a July issue of Life.

Came From Hungary

Polgar, who came to this country from Hungary 16 years ago, is quoted as being convinced "hypnosis has many beneficial uses in medical science;" two years ago he successfully substituted hypnosis for an anesthetic when Mrs. Polgar delivered her second child.

His feats are as varied as they are amazing, state reviews. He has located objects hidden in such out-of-the-way places as "under a man's upper plate." Working as a waiter in New York, Polgar astounded customers by predicting their orders, through the "simple expedient of reading their minds." He can describe the matter on any page of a magazine after looking through it once, and has been known to memorize the names and room numbers of all the guests in the hotels at which he stays.

Here Lie Our Manners— They Died Of Neglect

The behavior of too many 'Berg men during the student programs is a sad commentary on their manners and their good sense. Of all the segments of society, college men are most expected to be considerate and mannerly, but recent auditorium conduct seems to indicate that the gentlemanly qualities are on the wane at Muhlenberg.

Can It Be We Are Cheating Ourselves?

A large group of students entirely ignore the programs featured during the Thursday periods. These men are not availing themselves of entertainment for which they have paid and they give no thought to the care with which Student Council selected the performers. Not only are these men getting gypped, but they lessen the quality of the programs by not attending.

An even more annoying situation is presented by those students who persist in regarding the presentations as peek-shows. These men do not enter the auditorium and take a seat; they zip in and out or regard the performance from the doorway as if the artists were sidewalk performers. There are also those inconsiderate persons who stand in the halls of the Science Auditorium and distract the listening audience by the commotion they make.

Improvement In Manners Needed

The skilled artists who appear on our stage are, at the very least, entitled to professional courtesy and a congenial atmosphere in which to perform. Good manners require complete attention to the artist; good taste requires complete attendance at the programs. We have an obligation to the audience as well as to the performer. They are entitled to an uninterrupted recital.

This problem has, of late, assumed menacing proportions. It can easily become an administrative difficulty. Although, if each student considers it a duty to exert his good breeding and common sense, this annoying situation need never pass beyond the relationship of a man and his conscience. L.Z.

From Where I Sit Free Choice To Enter Good Judgment To Stay

In so many of our activities in college and out, it is the spirit in which a thing is done that determines its effectiveness. We at 'Berg are much interested in giving our undergraduates as much opportunity as is possible to develop into free, responsible men. The free cut system is one aspect of this development.

Push A Necessary Qualification

One factor in learning is motivation. Men learn not because they must but because they may. A student who treats his college career as a must is apt to short change himself because he cannot be properly motivated. Some men have difficulty in shifting from the compulsory idea of the public school system to the free idea basic to an independent liberal arts college such as 'Berg.

To a very real degree then, one's profit from college will be determined by his basic attitude. If you really want to learn then the idea of compulsion or restriction on the judgment which determines your actions becomes repugnant to you. Under the free cut system you may learn but the decision as to whether you do or do not, rests with you. This then is practice in judgment. This is a free man exercising his right to determine his own action. This is the free man determining his own destiny.

Students Must Develop Logic

Muhlenberg College represents a type of intellectual and spiritual experience. This experience because of its nature makes certain demands upon the teacher and the learner. But this liberal education—this education for free men—dies under the spirit of compulsion. You are free to choose Muhlenberg or not; once here you are free to subject yourself to the demands of the internal logic of the several curricula and courses. The free cut system was instituted that you might approach your task as a free man not as a led child or adolescent. Let us then seize this opportunity for free judgment better to develop as free men as we pursue the liberal education together. If we must constantly be led, we can not be free; if we are not free, we are hardly ready for an education designed for free men.

Editorial Gamesters Search "Literary Grab-Bag" For Final Arcade Inclosures

Winter Issue Of Semi-Annual Publication Will Bring Many New Poets And Authors To Eager Berg Readers

The Arcade Editorial board consisting of Wally Stefany, Tom Cole, and Dick Dorfman, hold a meeting in WEEKLY Office to slash and stash copy.

To those students who had anticipated giving copies of Muhlenberg's ARCADE to their friends as Christmas presents, here is bitter disappointment. Tom Cole, editor of the semi-annual art and literary magazine announced this week that the book was "coming along in fine style" but just could not be printed before the holidays.

Dearth of Snow

It was rumored that the publication date was set back in order to avoid the congestion of Christmas mailing. Another reason was thought to be the lack of snow in Pennsylvania which curtailed taking the photos required for a winter issue of the ARCADE. Editor Cole states the true reason to be the lack of good material for publication. Much material has been received but only the best creative works are being used. In order to allow more interested students to contribute, the deadline for copy has been extended until December 15, 1949. No material is to be considered after that date. Copy may be submitted to editor Tom Cole or Mr. Earl Mohn, the faculty adviser.

Novel Cover

As usual the ARCADE will contain the best in student poetry, short stories, trick photography, paintings and any other material which lends itself to the appreciation of the arts. One new feature to be instituted with this issue will be a standardized cover, of an original design, which in succeeding years will be changed only in color.

All Gifts Welcome

Many new names will join those of men who have already contributed to the magazine. A good article has been contributed by a newcomer Dick Swavely on "Being A Good Sport." Dick Dorfman, Tom Cole, Wally Stefany and Ed Burnett will be among the old writers who will contribute poetry and prose. It should be stressed, however, that any student can contribute.

East Hall Makes Switch To Male Swab & Bucket Jockeys

New Janitorial System Proves That Men Can Fare As Well As Women When Playing House

by Jim Palmer

(As told to John Hedderick and Pete Mourad)

Yes, times have changed in East Hall. Instead of the former gloomy conditions that prevailed in that ancient edifice, a new, almost cheerful atmosphere reigns. Like Hercules in the Aegaeon Stables, a crew of men have slaved unceasingly to ameliorate the wretched state of the occupants of that domain beyond the Styx.

Formerly, the remains of the midnight bacchanaliae were left as grim monuments by the feminine broomsters who were incapable of coping with the results of every day student life.

Relaxing Not Laziness

Before the change in personnel, those poor women, despondent and weary, could oftentimes be seen listening to the radio in some room while recuperating from their arduous tasks. This was taken by some to be laziness. Such, however was not the case. Despair, sheer despair was the larger factor. If the results of their efforts in mopping, waxing and sweeping seemed inefficient, it was only because the load was too great. At times these women could be seen dragging their way to work at 8 o'clock instead of the mandatory 7 o'clock. For this, some students called down curses upon their heads. A few, however, realized the hopelessness of a woman performing the labors of a Samson. At lunch hour, these poor bodies were forced to stoke themselves for two solid hours in order to prepare for the afternoon's onslaught. At 3 p.m. little change having been affected, their grueling day was over.

Much Time Saved

This year, things are quite different. At the crack of dawn (7 o'clock) a host of virtual Apollos can be observed charging through the buildings. They are able to make a round trip through the buildings in the astonishing, heretofore unheard of time of one week! Mop in hand, bucket in the other and broom in back of ear, these veritable Titans rush from room to room, appearing in a flash of water and a cloud of dust; disappearing with a swirl of air and soft, but snappy "click" of the door.

Many Changes Evident

Truly an amazing change has been wrought. As one proceeds from the nether floors to the uppermost tower chamber, the brightness and lucidness of those hallowed halls gives an impression of vigor and rejuvenation. All hail! East Hall lives again!

The Senior Ball Dance Committee announced this week that any person taking decorations from Castle Garden will be held responsible for the cost of the decorations to the professional decorator.

Prom Data

Lou Colombo, Senior Ball Dance Chairman, announces that there will be no table reservations at the Ball.

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

NOTICE: Know ye by all these present that the You Name It "Suggestion Box" is no longer at your service. We laughed, upon emptying it, when we found various and sundry pennies, orange peels, wads of wet toilet paper and other miscellaneous paraphernalia. Yeah, laughed . . . until last week when the proverbial straw broke the camel's back. We pulled out a small noose twisted out of twine. That's all brethren!

SIGN OF THE TIMES: Here is the meat of two of the many placards hung up on campus. 1. Located on the door of the new ladies' rest room in the Student Center building: "LADIES, WOULDN'T YOU LIKE TO DO SOMETHING TO PASS AWAY YOUR TIME HERE? SUBSCRIBE TO THE MUHLENBERG WEEKLY!" 2. Located on the Student Center bulletin board, over a big photograph of a tuxedo draped on a tailor's dummy: "LOOK ALIVE, RENT YOUR TUXEDO AT BURKHOLDERS."

SPEAKING OF RIGOR MORTICIANS: All those black cars on campus Monday made us think that it was surely Dec Aplington getting his frogs ready for next semester, but as it turned out, it was only some diggers having a cutting good time at their convention in the Science Building. We thought that learning how to bury one's mistakes was a dead business . . . no life . . . but it seems that much student interest was drawn to the affair. When the carving was finished, the audience was invited up to the stage for a closer look, but eager campusites got to the best places first, and the bonafide onlookers were forced to wait. It is worthy of note that "M" Berger's love of the macabre dwindled somewhat when the blood suction pump was plugged in. Its gurgling and bubbling sounded somewhat like the slurping of a hungry man eating vegetable soup . . . NOISY! All kidding aside, though, those funeral men are all RIGHT . . . don't forget they'll be the last persons on earth to let you down.

ORCHID OF THE WEEK: goes to honest 'Berg Students. Henry Wickstrom's Nickels and Dimes Finance Company lent out, last year, $4000 to Muhlenbergers; and this year, he claims, it will reach that mark again. When we cornered him up against the wall and put our hands around his throat, he confessed that, so far, he hasn't lost a penny of it! No potential Alcatrazites in our midst, it says here.

Well, what d'ya know . . . instructors are almost human, at times. Here are a few confessions, exposés, pranks, and patter that were picked up last week: ENGLISH INSTRUCTOR: "Before I was accepted here, I had to prove that I enjoyed pulling the wings off flies." ANOTHER INSTRUCTOR, upon being asked whether he liked his job: " . . . Beats working!" A CHEMISTRY INSTRUCTOR confessed tearfully: "I'm nothing but a mouse trying to become a rat!" Might have been the same chemistry instructor adhering to the temper of the times. Just before one of his "backward glances" on four months work, he constructed an honest to goodness genuine PURPLE SHAFT. It was 14 inches in length with a hooked-barb effect on one end. He fashioned it of clear glass and filled it with purple liquid and hung it up prominently on the wall for all to see. Physics: Mr. Boyer, demonstrating the thermo-couple principle, twisted two wires together, which were connected with a gauge of some kind. He pressed the wires to his hand and cheek for a reaction, but got none. You should have seen the gauge's needle do flips and flops when touched to his lips. His comment: "From now on I'm known as HOT LIPS BOYER!"

POLITICAL ACTION

Dear Editor:

On Monday, December 12, the students of this College will vote on the question of permitting political action groups on campus. In connection with this, I have two questions which cannot be answered at the present time. They are:

1. If political action groups are permitted on Campus, where will the line, if any, be drawn between desirable and undesirable groups?
2. If one or more of the less innocuous groups gains a foothold on Campus will the student body be able to revoke charters?

The questions, as phrased on the ballot, are not explicit in this regard. At other colleges trouble (including strikes) has arisen as a result of student support of some student or faculty member's political affiliations.

I have no quarrel with the stated objectives of the two groups now applying for legal status; but I am in doubt as to the possible consequences of making a legal loophole which may permit disruptive groups, or easily led individuals, from destroying the personal, friendly atmosphere that now prevails at this College.

Frosh Party

"Haps" Benfer and the Freshman Class will hold their annual Christmas Party in West Hall on Monday, December 12, 1949 at 7:00 p.m. The party, to which all freshmen are invited, will include refreshments and entertainment.

The party will start at 7:00 p.m. in the West Hall lobby with the singing of Christmas carols, accompanied by the brass quartet, the arrival of Santa Claus from the North Pole and the distribution of gifts. Refreshments will be served in the West Hall Recreation room.

Magic Show

The Frosh will then go to the West Hall Auditorium and finish the evening's fun watching a magician show. All day-students who are planning to attend should see their class officers to pay the 25 cent contribution asked of commuting students.

Inter-Frat Council Ends Rushing Period

The Fraternity Rushing season will close at 6:00 a.m. Sunday, December 10. The annual silent period will then start and continue until after the individual bids are given out by the fraternities.

Bids will be given to freshman at 4:00 p.m. on December 14 in the Science auditorium. Freshman can accept bids at this time.

Many students do not utilize fully their own democratic student government. Those that do are already politically conscious; those that do not, probably belong to the easily led body—immature, and ignorant of the workings of national, state, and local governments.

I am opposed to campus political groups in general. The man who cannot make up his own mind should not vote. He should become neither a voting machine nor a pawn for some ambitious person.

Additional Tests Announced
In addition to the Graduate Record Examination, The Test Bureau announced that the Medical College examination will be administered on Monday, January 16, 1950, while the National Teacher's Examination would be held on February 18, 1950.

All men desiring to take these examinations are reminded that the application and fees for these examinations must reach the Educational Testing Service, Post Office Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey, not later than January 2, 1950, for the Medical College examination.

Applications and Bulletins of Information on both of these examinations are available in the Test Bureau Office, Room 213, Administration Building.

The first formal initiation by Upsilon Triton of Phi Sigma Kappa was held Friday evening, December 2, in the art gallery of the Muhlenberg College library when ten men became brothers of the local chapter.

Those initiated into Upsilon Triton were as follows: Frank Everitt, Rowland Schlauch and George Whitner, Allentown; Jack Ballantine, Shamokin, Pa.; George Shoenberger, Allentown; Emil Hilbing, Wilmington, Del.; Edward Lembeck, Bristol, Pa.; Bud Newhall, Igloo, South Dakota; Chuck Schmidt, Flushing, Long Island, New York; and Charles Funk, Langhorne, Pa.

The initiation of the pledges as brothers took place with such visiting dignitaries as Herbert L. Brown, National President; Earl F. Schoening, National Secretary-Treasurer, and Robert B. Nemeschy, Regional Director, viewing the ceremony. In addition, other visiting brothers of chapters within this area were also present. Following the initiation, an informal smoker was held at the Nu chapter house at Lehigh University.

Berg Wins Court Opener Against Fordham

Temple Owls Host To Mules At Convention Hall In Phila.

This Saturday Bennie Borgmann will take his Muhlenberg Mules to Philadelphia to play the "basketball-wise" Owls of Temple University in the front part of a Convention Hall doubleheader. This will be the Mules' second game of the season and one of the major games on their 1949-50 schedule.

McGee Key To Hoop Fortunes

by Bob Godnick

A great part of the burden of this year's basketball team at Muhlenberg College will rest in the hands of the big veteran center, captain Dick McGee.

A native of Allentown, this will be the last season for Dick with the Mules. Always a proficient scorer, Dick will be used almost exclusively in the pivot this year. It is in this spot that Coach Borgmann believes he can best utilize the big boy's scoring punch. Standing 6'4", he is by no means big as far as college centers go, but Dick will still be a potent factor on rebounds.

Threat From Outside

The Allentown courtman is also the possessor of a great shot from the outside. In Bud Barker's set-up last year, Dick was nigh on to unstoppable from the left side. When shifted inside, a snappy hook shot kept the opposition in constant trouble.

McGee was a standout performer at Central Catholic High School during his inter-scholastic days. Entering C. C. in his third year, Dick had two sparkling campaigns. In 1940-41, he tallied 375 points to lead the club, and the following year, he broke the all-time scoring record at Central Catholic with a 439 point output.

Sparkles In Tourneys

Dick participated in two post season tourneys that year. In the

Frosh Quintet Opens Dec. 14

After having carefully watched the freshman squad candidates in their intra-team game played as a preliminary to the Mule-Fordham cage clash, frosh coach Tom Triplett will cut his 1949-50 aggregation to the fifteen man limit in preparation for the regular season opener. The opener is with the University of Delaware Freshmen at Rockne Hall on December 14.

Coach Triplett, who compiled an enviable record as hoop mentor at Ironton High School of Ohio during the 1946-47-48 seasons, has been drilling his squad for over two weeks and needed only to watch the team aspirants under the stress of actual game competition before finally choosing the men who will represent the Cardinals.

Rockne Hall Contest Ends In 73-56 Tally

The Cardinal and Grey of Muhlenberg College made Bennie Borgmann's coaching debut of the Mule basketballers a rousing 73 to 56 victory success over Fordham's Rams. Leading the Mule on-slaught were Marv Jaffe and Dick McGee with 19 and 15 points respectively. Moye and Carlson led the Rams with 10 points each.

OVER... THE LINE

by Charles Morgan

It looks as though the Mules are going to have their hands full for the coming season as they face some of the top quintets in the East. C.C.N.Y. showed their strength as they easily downed the Lafayette Leopards and Temple turned on their power as they trounced Vanderbilt.

L.I.U. turned in a victory over Texas A. & M., St. Joe's upset L.S.U. in a thriller as Paul Senesky starred, and Villanova, considered the top eastern squad, crushed N.Y.A.C. for its second straight win.

Down at Temple they are high in their praises of Bill Milkvy, former Palmerton High star. The Mules will battle the Templars at Convention Hall Saturday night and will try to continue their winning ways over the Owls.

The Black Cats copped the League II crown in the I-M league when they defeated the Phi Epsilon Pi team 13-6.

Hats off this week to—John Rollo for being named to the Northern Middle Atlantic All-Soccer team. George England, Red Dietz, Sisto Averno, and Dale Whiteman for being named to Albright's All-opponent team.

The initial tap was taken by Fordham, and Moye sunk the first basket of the game. The Mules tied it up on Saemmer's bucket; Breslin then canned a foul and the Rams shot back into the lead. Saemmer scored again and 'Berg led 4-3. The Mules spurted into a 13-6 lead, but Fordham fought back to tie it at 16 all.

From here the game see-sawed back and forth, the score being tied at 18, 20, and 26 all with the Rams usually chasing the Mules. From 26 all the lead switched hands four times with the Mules ahead 31-30 at the half.

The Mules started the second half full steam ahead. Jaffe sank a long one to start the Mules off on an 8-point spurt and a 39-30 lead. The Rams closed the gap to 46-40, but from here the Mules took complete control of the game and the outcome was never in doubt as the Mules poured seven straight points through the basket and 'Berg led 53-40. The Mules then made it a run-away over the Rams, the final score being Muhlenberg 73, Fordham 56.

In the pre-lim, Coach Tom Triplett got his first view of this year's Yearlings under actual game conditions in an intra-squad game preceding the Fordham-Mules clash. The final score was White 43, Red 40.

McGee Is Key Court Leader

State Catholic High Championship, Central Catholic was runner-up, while McGee was named to the All-Tourney Five. Central also participated in the Eastern States Catholic Invitation Tourney, and while his club dropped the championship game, Dick walked away with just about everything but the town of Newport, where the game was played. He broke the tournament scoring record, was named to the All-Tourney Five, and was selected as the most valuable player in the tournament.

After graduation in 1941, Dick was awarded a scholarship to Notre Dame, where he remained for one semester, before he left for the Navy. He was a member of the Freshman Basketball Team, but this half-year did not count against his eligibility, since the Irish did not play any competitive games.

Dick Enters Muhlenberg

After his discharge from the Navy in 1946, Dick enrolled at Muhlenberg. This will be his fourth year as a varsity first-stringer. He was a member of the two Middle-Atlantic Championship teams of 1946-47 and 1947-48. Dick has had a very successful career here thus far, and this should, in all probability, be his best.

Expecting to be graduated in June, 1950, McGee is majoring in Business Administration and has made no definite plans for the future.

Georgie Fedock, Dick Eckert, Joe Belinki, Ralph Althouse, and Hoey Kauterman have impressed at early season workouts and will help form the nucleus of the squad. Many other first year men have also played good ball and show enough promise to insure Muhlenberg's continued rating as a national hoop power in seasons to come.

Greeks Gear For Christmas Parties, Carol Sings Listed

The Fraternity Social season will swing into high gear this weekend with house parties planned by Sigma Phi Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Phi Kappa Tau. Alpha Tau Omega is also making plans for their annual Christmas dance on December 16 and 17.

A "Night in Hell" will be the theme for the house party given by Sigma Phi Epsilon. The front of the chapter house will be designed as a huge red devil's mouth. All party goers will be forced to enter the house through the gaping jaws of Satan's face. Costumes for the evening will be designed to go with this motif.

Christmas Card Door

A huge Christmas card will form the entrance to the Winter Snow Theme house party to be given by Phi Kappa Tau. Ski outfits will be the dress of the day and a Christmas carol sing will be one of the highlights of the evening's entertainment.

Lambda Chi Alpha will hold its House Party with the theme of a ski lodge dance, with varied entertainment, including a scavenger hunt followed by a record dance. The house will be appropriately decorated for the winter theme.

Children Entertained

Lambda Chi will again present its annual Christmas Party for Children, Saturday afternoon at 4:00 p.m., December 10 at the Chapter House. The chapter will entertain approximately twenty-five children from the Good Shepherd Home in Allentown. The party will include songs, games, and gifts for the children.

Major Norm Hays, Oklahoma A&M, '40 -Aviation Executive, U.S. Air Force!

A native of Grove, Oklahoma, Norman Hays graduated from Grove High School in 1935. The following year he entered Oklahoma A&M, where he majored in engineering; also took public speaking.

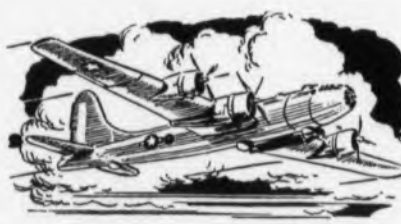

Active in national 4H Club work while in college, he helped organize its statewide activities, won a national 4H championship in Public Speaking. In 1940 he received his BS degree in engineering.

A month later he began navigator training as an Aviation Cadet. In 1941, he received his navigator's wings and a commission as Second Lieutenant... married his college sweetheart.

Sent to an RAF Navigation School in Canada, he graduated with the highest possible rating of Specialist. Norman served overseas for 18 months in the Aleutians, Italy and Saipan.

Accepting a regular commission after the war, he was assigned to development of navigation instruments; navigated the B-29 "Pacusan Dreamboat" on its famed Hawaii-Cairo non-stop flight in 1946.

Typical of college graduates who have found their place in the U. S. Air Force, Major Hays is Chief, Navigation Section, at Headquarters in Washington... with a secure career... a promising future.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider a flying career as an officer in the U. S. Air Force. You may be able to meet the high physical and moral requirements and be selected for training. If you do not complete Aviation Cadet training, you may return to civilian life or have opportunity to train for an important officer assignment in non-flying fields.

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain about these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, local recruiting station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

Civil Service Exams

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Physical Science Aid to fill positions paying from $2,200 to $3,100 in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity. The optional branches covered by this examination are chemistry, physics, metallurgy, geology, mathematics, and other branches of physical science except meteorology.

To qualify for these positions, all applicants will be required to take a written test. In addition, for positions paying $2,450 and above, they must have had from 1 to 4 years of appropriate experience in the physical sciences. For the higher grades, part of this experience must have been in a specific branch of physical science, depending upon the position for which application is made. Pertinent education may be substituted for the required experience.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from most first- and second-class post offices, from civil service regional offices, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications must be received in the Commission's Washington office not later than December 13, 1949.

Dr. Corbiere Rates Blue Book Position

It has just been announced that the name of Dr. Anthony S. Corbiere, head of the Romance Language Department, has been listed in the "International Blue Book of World Notables," a book similar to "Who's Who in the World."

According to the "Blue Book," Dr. Corbiere was born in Nice, France, in 1892. He studied at the University of Washington, Muhlenberg College, and the University of Pennsylvania. He is the author of "Juan Eugenio Hartzenbuech and the French Theatre."

Among the honorary societies with which he has affiliation are Phi Sigma Iota, national honorary romance language, for which he is historian and editor of its "News Letter"; Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity; and the Pennsylvania State Modern Language Association of whose Bulletin he is editor.

All G.I. Accounts will be closed for this term after Dec. 16th. No charges can be made after that date until the opening of the new semester on Feb. 1, 1950.

Say—As a group of students were intently watching (through the auditorium doors) the embalming process being demonstrated on the stage, a bold voice could be heard coming from the outskirts of the group. "Hey, what's going on in there? Hey, move your head so I can see." (Slight pause for a gasp of air) "Oh, my goodness." Our hero "took off" immediately.

A suggestion—This idea has been expressed to us on several occasions, so we'll pass it along to anyone who is interested—Why not focus flood-lights on the Library Building dome to draw the attention of nocturnal travelers to our campus?

Slight error—While lounging in the Student Center several days ago, we were amazed to hear the disk jockey announce that a Junior Class meeting was to be held because the class received an additional three dollar allotment.

Other Improvements—Since the Pre-theological Club and the Cardinal Key Society have been jointly allotted a classroom in the Student Center, they have been giving the room a "face lifting." A two-tone effect, similar to the one downstairs, has been applied.

Those organizations desiring to use the Lounge are asked to submit their request to Council through any of its members. If the requested time is open, it will be entered on the date book.

United Lutheran Church Opens C.H.E.Y. Drive

Rev. Dieckman Heads Five Northeastern Synods; Berg Plans To Aid In Vigorous Local Campaign

A drive to attain the largest single financial objective the United Lutheran Church has ever sought at any one time will be initiated as the new year begins. This appeal will come to be known as CHEY, the Christian Higher Education Year appeal.

The total goal of CHEY is $6,000,000. Of this amount, the Ministerium of Pennsylvania is to raise $1,152,000. This latter figure is to be broken down and distributed among the Philadelphia Seminary, Muhlenberg College, the Special Air Fund, and for the education of women.

Superiority Expected

The purpose of CHEY is expressed in the preamble to the U.L.C. plan. "The national welfare demands educational institutions independent of the state and dominated by a spiritual purpose . . . all Lutheran colleges and seminaries should be superior, with faculties of high standing, facilities adequate for effective work, and curricula sufficient to advance the whole program of the whole church."

The direction of the CHEY appeal in the five northeastern synods of the ULCA is in the hands of the Reverend Paul M. Dieckman, a Muhlenberg graduate of the class of 1929.

'Berg Choir Helps

Muhlenberg is taking a large part in the appeal, according to Dr. Tyson. The College Choir has been singing, and will continue, in communities throughout the Ministerium until April. Student speakers are now being chosen to represent 'Berg in presentations to local congregations of the Ministerium. The needs of the College are to be presented by Dr. Levering Tyson and members of the faculty at the district meetings scheduled throughout the synod between January 16 and February 15.

Biology Head Advises 'Meds'

Dr. John V. Shankweiler, head of the Biology department, has just announced that all pre-medical students should take mathematics in both their freshman and sophomore years.

The reason for this announcement is that the majority of the medical schools now require that a student present credits in Physical Chemistry for entrance. In order to take Physical Chemistry at 'Berg a student must have at least two years of mathematics.

'Berg Voters Refuse To Sanction Political Groups On Campus

by Ed Renner

On Monday, December 12, the student body decided by a vote of 307 to 207 not to recognize political action groups on the campus. This vote came as a climax to several months of discussion and campaigning. A total of 516 ballots were cast, but two of them were declared invalid by the Student Council Election Committee.

Prior to the balloting a discussion of the question was held in the Student Body meeting on Thursday December 8. The discussion was arranged so that both the affirmative and negative sides would have an equal opportunity to air their views.

Some of the arguments presented in the discussion by those against recognition of the political

Havsky Opens Assembly Year

Keyboard Master Plays For 'Berg Concert-Goers

One of the younger pianists of the world, Vladimir Havsky, will be the attraction at the assembly program to be held on Thursday morning, January 5 at 11 a.m.

Mr. Havsky was born in Sui-Fu-To, Manchuria, of Russian parents who fled from Russia during the Bolshevik revolution of 1917.

His father conducted his early musical education. However, when it was discovered that young Vladimir showed signs of musical ability, he was sent to the Shanghai Conservatory to study with Professor Boris Zahanoff, a former professor at St. Petersburg Conservatory.

During the five years Mr. Havsky spent in Shanghai, he was usually greeted by full houses at his concerts.

In 1940 he came to America where he made his debut in Richmond, Virginia as soloist with the National Symphony Orchestra under Hans Kindler.

Havsky's career was interrupted by the war during which he served

Faculty Senate Opposes Extra Vacation Day

Rejects A Council Proposal To Add Day To Xmas Recess

A Student Council petition for the addition of January 3, 1950 to the Christmas vacation period was turned down by the Faculty Senate, at its meeting on December 8.

Although the Senate at first was favorably impressed by the petition, more thorough examination of the question convinced the body that the losses incurred by such action would be greater than the gain.

The arguments forwarded by Council in favor of this request were that since January 2, 1950 is officially celebrated as New Year's Day, holiday transportation schedules would be in effect, making it difficult for some students to return to campus in time for Tuesday morning classes, and, since Muhlenberg's basketball team is playing Long Island University in Madison Square on the night of January 2, an extra day off would

Vet Adviser Reveals New GI School Right

Vets Can Stretch College Time By Recent VA Ruling

Mr. George Frounfelker, Muhlenberg's Veterans adviser, revealed this week that veterans nearing the end of their G.I. school eligibility time have little known of the right which can be of great value to them. They can repurchase their involuntary leave time.

The V. A. solicitor has ruled that such involuntary leave which is charged against the veteran entitlement may be repurchased by the veteran through repayment of the subsistence allowance.

The V. A. pays subsistence and tuition for a full semester or quarter, when a veteran student completes the major part of a semester or a quarter on G.I. eligibility. This repurchase is primarily of value to a student whose eligibility is running out near the halfway point of a semester or quarter.

He can by this move assure himself of a full semester or quarter at V. A. expense.

No special forms are required for this purpose. Interested Veterans should consult Mr. Frounfelker for further information on this subject.

Weekly Inaugurates Students' Wives' Day

New to the campus next year will be the Weekly sponsored "Wives' Day." Wives' Day will be held on the second Saturday after the Christmas vacation, January 14 at 2:00 p.m.

The group will assemble in the Science Auditorium and the "Day" will be officially opened with a welcoming address by Dr. Tyson. The head of each department on Campus will then be introduced to the group. After the introductions the Cardinal Key Society will conduct the wives on a tour through the Campus. The tour is to include a visit to all of the laboratories and administrative offices, as well as the office of each student activity. Completing the day will be a return to the Science Auditorium for a short play to be presented by the Mask and Dagger, and a tea to be held in the Student Center. The tea is to be

Cedar Crest, Muhlenberg Hold Annual Yuletide Carol Service

Tyson Offers Holiday Message To Chapel Audience; Traditional Tree-Lighting Ceremony Follows Affair

by Luther Buchert

Students, faculty and administrative staff members from Cedar Crest and Muhlenberg packed the Gideon F. Egner Memorial Chapel this afternoon at 4 p.m. for the annual Christmas Carol service. The 'Berg-Crest ceremony climaxed a week of seasonal activities on the campus.

Wilbur Holman, director of music at Cedar Crest, played the prelude to the chapel service, followed by the hymn, "Come Hither, Ye Faithful."

Lord's Prayer

After the Rev. B. LeRoy Burkhardt, Director of Religious Activities, Cedar Crest College, pronounced the invocation, a Bidding Prayer before a Christmas Carol Service (adapted from the service at King's College, Cambridge) was read responsively.

The Lord's Prayer in unison and hymn, "Come and Hear the Grand Old Story," were followed by the reading of the scripture lesson, St. Luke 2:1-17 by the Rev. Edward T. Horn, Acting Chaplain, Muhlenberg College. Two choral numbers were then presented by the Cedar Crest Choir.

Desire For Peace

A Christmas message was delivered by Levering Tyson, President of Muhlenberg College.

In his message, Dr. Tyson stated, "Today Cedar Crest and Muhlenberg colleges continue a custom of meeting together in song and story just before all of us separate for the Christmas season. As I look back over the period since 1937 when first I had the privilege of talking to the assembled students and faculties of the two colleges, I am impressed with what has happened to the world during those years, and, with the persistence of the desire for peace and good will among men. But most of all I sense the general feeling of unrest and uncertainty that exists

Dean-Mrs. Benfer Fete Frosh In West Hall Holiday Program

Entertainment Includes Impromptu Acts, Movies, Magician, And Distribution Of Gifts By Santa

"Haps" Benfer, Dean of Freshman, and Mrs. Benfer gave their annual Christmas Party for the Freshman Class on Monday, December 12, in West Hall.

The program consisted of impromptu entertainment furnished by some members of the Freshman Class. Three comedy movies and a movie entitled "The Night Before Christmas" were shown.

Mr. Whitenight, a magician, who is well known to 'Berg students, presented a one hour magic show.

Willie Restum and Chuck Keller played a sax-accordion duet. Other music was furnished by a five piece brass band. Mrs. Benfer sang "Silent Night," and George Rothlein sang "White Christmas". The entire group participated in carol singing.

Another feature of the affair was the distribution of Christmas gifts to all members of the class. Dr. Harry Reichard in the role of Santa Claus, officiated in the distribution of the presents.

Refreshments were served by the Freshman Executive Council; they consisted of ice cream, birch beer, and pretzels. Several hundred candy canes, contributed by Dean and Mrs. Benfer, were given to all in attendance.

I.C.G. Invites Student Airing Of Political Views For State Project

An invitation to the student body at large to air their political views in open forum was issued this week by the Muhlenberg Intercollegiate Conference on Government.

In a letter to the student body the I.C.G. outlined plans for hearing testimony, arguments, and discussions of a political nature. The I.C.G. will conduct these meetings, somewhat in the form of a U. S. Congressional Committee.

The purpose of the forum is to enable the 'Berg delegation of I.C.G. to formulate a series of proposed articles, sections, and clauses for possible use in a state model constitution.

The 'Berg I.C.G. together with similar organizations from sixty other colleges and universities will meet in Harrisburg as a Model State Constitutional Convention. From April 13 through April 16, 1950 they will endeavor to write a workable constitution for the use of the state.

The I.C.G. outlined seven points which it will follow in attempting to assemble the political views of the student body.

These are as follows:

1. That we shall sit in the form and fashion of a U.S. Congressional Committee and will hear testimony, arguments, papers, briefs, and discussions as they conduct such hearings on proposed bills in the U. S. Congress.

2. That any member of the student body may appear before us and present their political views and opinions.

3. That these views and opinions MUST be in line with discussion on questions that affect the State of Pennsylvania only, and attempts to go beyond this will not be permitted. (This however includes considerable latitude).

4. That any person wishing to appear and express his views may say anything he wishes to say on these subjects without fear of censure by the committee or interrup-

An Eye On The Future Of College Community

It has become apparent that Muhlenberg is striving to attain a highly respected position among the many colleges of the eastern seaboard states. How well Muhlenberg succeeds will depend upon the life-long performance of the men whom she graduates.

Fundamental to such a program are three important factors: the high quality of instruction, the high calibre of students admitted into the college, and an atmosphere of cordiality and respect between student and instructor.

Student Should Make Most of Education

It is the goal of every student who is sincere in trying to develop intellectually to seize the best in the education available to him. This means that the student must be stimulated to think, and his desire to obtain higher education must be cultivated by the instructor.

On the other hand the student must work; he cannot be "spoon fed." To establish and to maintain instruction on a high level, it is necessary that the product of the student's effort be such that the instructor is stimulated by the student. The quality of the student who is to enter Muhlenberg is dependent upon the criteria set by those men who are involved in admitting the student into the college atmosphere.

Mutual Respect and Good Will Mandatory

It follows that for the interchange of ideas, with stimulation of the student by the instructor and of the instructor by the student, the most effective atmosphere is one of respect and cordiality on both sides. The freedom to exchange ideas is not hampered but rather augmented and the strenuous process of creating such an atmosphere is more readily advanced.

If the College is to be respected among like institutions, it is time to realize what must be done and then do it.

Spirit Of Christmas Lost In Modern Way Of Celebration

Family Unity And Reverence Is Endangered By The Influx Of The "Commercialized Christmas"

by John Stadlander

Once again we approach the happy season when millions of people all over the world rest briefly beside the weary road of daily toil, and hear once more the beautiful anthem the angels sang so many years ago. Christmas is the season when a few strings of colored lights give Main Street a charm which it never quite possesses during the remainder of the year. Christmas is the day when the evergreen tree finds its way back into the cozy corner of the family living room; it is the night when little eyes feign sleep, and when little ears await anxiously the first sound of jolly old Saint Nick and his eight tiny reindeer. Christmas is the time when young hearts in love experience a new enchantment, and wish for a white blanket of snow.

Stereotyped Christmas

From the earliest recollections of childhood, Christmas is associated with candle light services, the Christmas dinner with its traditional plum pudding, and, most accessible to impressionable imaginations, Santa Claus. Santa will always be the jolly old fellow in the red suit and Santa is always linked in our minds with giving. However, in this day of ours, we are apt to pervert the meaning of giving from a desire to make some friend genuinely happy, to an opportunity to enhance our own personal reputation.

Gifts should be simple and significant. They need not be exhibits of the lavish expenditure that a depraved commercialism wants us to believe to be an essential part of Christmas giving. Gifts, as expressions of love and affection, ought to be an index to the personality, not the wealth, of the giver. Gifts should not be given with the hope of a return on an investment, a sort of balancing the books of personal friendship. With such intentions in mind, gifts lose their significance, and become payment for favors hoped for, or compensation for deeds already done.

Humble Holiday

Christmas should be celebrated with a deep sense of humility and respect. Any recognition of the mission of Christ demands such an attitude of reception. However, it is not a humility that depresses, but rather one that up-lifts and ennobles. It is a humility which fills each of us with warmth and understanding, and it is a humility through which our friends and associates are viewed in a nearer and clearer light.

Christmas is a joyous time. It invites everyone to drink deep of the well of human happiness. All it asks is the proper reverence and respect and the desire to wish one's fellow beings a sincere "Merry Christmas!" In its tranquility and beauty can still be heard a multitude of angels singing, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

True Cause Of Santa Claus Revealed To The Many Who Don't Know Full Story

Introduction Of Chimneys Force Drastic Switch In Style Of Delivery On An Ancient Gift Throwing Nick

Santa Claus as he can be found in store windows and counters all over the country.

by Jim Palmer

What do you know about the history of old Kris Kringle? If you are like most of the people in the country, you are not too well versed on this ancient tradition. If this be the case, this article merits your attention.

How old Santa Claus really is cannot be said with certainty. Once he was Odin, the Norse god who rewarded his followers with gifts, and rode through the skies of pagan Europe on his eight-footed horse, Seipner. Then when Europe was converted to Christianity and pagan spirits were looked at askance, he, like the feast he presided over, had to find another form.

Change Facile

He became St. Nicholas, who was Bishop of Myra in the fourth century and patron saint of children. The transformation was easy because in his lifetime the Bishop had loved making unexpected gifts, and was specially generous with young people. Once, by a miracle, he restored to life three schoolboys who had been murdered by an innkeeper. On another occasion, hearing that three young girls were being driven to immorality by the father's poverty, he came secretly to their home by night and dropped three bars of gold through the window. In due course he died and was canonized, and his feast day was set on December 6. The nearness of this date to Christmas, and the saint's own kindly character, made it inevitable that he should acquire some of the attributes of the old Norse pagan gift-bringing god who was now discredited. Henceforth it was the Christ-child who granted the prayers of children, and St. Nicholas who actually brought the gifts; and slowly but surely he changed in popular tradition from a saintly Bishop to the white-bearded, red-robed Santa Claus that we all know so well.

Switch To Chimney

Being essentially a Northern spirit, he comes from the realms of ice and snow and travels in a sleigh drawn by reindeer. Once, presumably, he entered the house as human beings do, or threw his gifts through the unglazed windows as he had done for the three young girls of Myra. But when chimneys came into existence during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, he changed his method of approach and used them instead.

Enigmatic Nick

Today, Santa Claus has once again become the skyrider of pagan times, the descender of chimneys, and the filler of stockings hung up in faith and hope. The "old, old, very old graybearded gentleman" happily remains a cheerful, warmhearted, lively, and mysterious factor of our continuing tradition.

MULE KICKS

REGISTERS DISMAY

Dear Editor:

I am thoroughly disgusted with the services in Chapel this week. This is the week school ends for the Christmas vacation and not a breath has been passed in the singing of a Christmas Carol. An integral part of the Christmas season is the carol singing which precedes the actual holiday, but Muhlenberg seems to have forgotten or ignored the fact.

I realize that this is the Advent Season, but if the carol sing with Cedar Crest can be held this week, surely carols can be sung in the Chapel services.

I would appreciate any action the newspaper could instigate in this matter, and I think a copy of this letter, printed in the newspaper, sent to Dr. Horn would be entirely fitting.

Respectful but annoyed, I remain

Very truly yours,
Dorfold Hohe

FOGGY MEANING

Dear Editor,

This letter would be more appropriately addressed to Mr. John Hedderick. I would like to know just exactly what he means by "undesirable groups." Isn't it rather narrow minded to adopt a theory such as Mr. Hedderick's? We should allow politics on campus, but if any distinctions are to be made concerning various groups, the entire principle of democratic politics will be cast aside.

Mention was also made of "certain easily led individuals." Isn't that a rather cruel statement to be made concerning Muhlenberg men? I feel sure that the men on campus are very capable of following their own course of opinion. Would they be at Muhlenberg if they could not?

I realize this letter might arrive at its destination after the vote has already taken place, but I think the point I have just disclosed is a vital one and quite a bit of thought should be devoted to it. I strongly desire that no one political group should be outlawed on the Muhlenberg Campus.

Sincerely,

Evan Krantzley

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

You know, there's really a very slight difference between man and woman, but as the French say, vive la difference . . . Which reminds us of this item from a very good source, so you can be sure it is true. Besides, do we ever print anything that isn't true? There are several versions of this thing, but the way we heard it, the whole scheme was cooked up by Hall, Berman, Hayes and associates. They would gather together a bunch of gullibles and take them to some outlying field under the pretense that they'd all be fixed up with a "gorri." The payoff comes when out of the darkness would step a figure with a shotgun. The figure shoots once or twice and screams. "That'll teach you to court my daughter!" Another man falls prone on the ground, supposedly mortally wounded. The effect is thus heightened to such a pitch that the victims of the ruse make all possible haste to get back to the sanctity of their dorms. Hummell took off for home so fast that he left his old man's car out in the woods. Well, how would you feel if Strait came running after you with shotgun blazing?

BY THE FICKLE FINGER: All the success in the world to Jack Borden. His "buddies" took the liberty of entering him in the Philly INQUIRER'S Diamond Gloves boxing contest. A short time ago he got a terse note from the boxing commish's office; he should report, without fail, for his physical. Come on Borden Babe; it looks like you're in now, killer. BONG!

FRAGMENTARY SEDENTARY COMMENTARY: Peeved at Snook, the snack vendor's habit of opening the door and shouting, "Last Call," one student placed a container of water over the door. As a further deterrent, the tenant put wads of wet music roll on the doorknob. However, Snook opened and shouted as usual. Nothing happened, but Earl Swearer, who came in right after him, got drenched. Several students were seen walking about the campus draped front and back with two towels and girded at the waist with hemp. New religious sect? The height of sadism: An editor, after finding a mouse in his waste basket, spent about fifteen minutes trying to flush the poor thing (down the toilet). It was a brave creature; like a drowning man, it came up three times. Mr. Editor, wild-eyed and frothy-lipped, said, "Gee, I had fun with that mouse!" A respector of no one is that arch-type of canine independence, Lambda Chi's Alpha. He strode nonchalantly up the chapel aisle, sat down, and scratched reverently within spitting distance of Dr. Hepner. Like a good Christian dog, that's all he did, so help us! "What do they think I am," moaned one of our more erudite scholars, "a submarine?" He is listed on the chapel attendance list as "U-5." They must be running out of hypo needles at the pill emporium because we saw Miss Minner walking around campus brandishing a three foot long rapier.

It is truly too bad that our cesspool-cleaning (?) friends had to leave us so soon; they made for good copy. While they were here, speculation ran rife as to their mission. One brain claimed that the administration was digging their own Fort Knox to bury their ill-gotten gains. Another Sherlock was sure they were digging a tunnel to the Ad building. Rocky Meyers threw his hat up in the air and cried joyfully, "OIL, OIL, we're all rich!" Whatever they struck, it wasn't oil.

Noah Webmourad's daffynition of the week: ENCUMBER: Engagement of two cucumbers.

THE HARBOR

Now when the harbor of Unrecognized desire appears
And we can no longer hold
Our own or steer a steady course,
Look up! The star that blazed
That night is burning yet.

There is much that is lost
And each year we are allowed
To make a new start in December.
It is then that old fears die
And new love springs like fire.
And the harbor then is His desire.

Berg-Crest Hold Annual For Chapel Yuletide Observance

Co-Ed Students Gather On Muhlenberg Campus To Combine Voices In Pre-holiday Carolling

throughout what we have come to know as the Western World, and the tugging and hauling that is going on to achieve one or another selfish objective. The nasty spirit that is all too manifest, the scraping and rasping of dispositions that have been frayed by many causes, should all be set aside and forgotten today when we gather, two small college constituencies, entirely set apart from these concerns of the outside world, to celebrate, of all things, the advent of the Prince of Peace.

"The spirit of this occasion should be one of hope, of optimism, of good will, rightly applied to the common concerns of all of us, as we forget our daily tasks for a while and relax in a period of sentimentality and worship, which, after all, really contributes to our whole concept of the Christmas season, and guarantees our full enjoyment of it."

This sentimental approach to Christmas is not new. I am not suggesting that we adopt it today with any idea that we are employing something unique. As a matter of fact my purpose is exactly the opposite, for I am asking you to share with me some of the feelings that exist in the minds of others who long since were influenced by the inevitable sentimentality of Christmas.

At this point President Tyson cited the origin of some of the more familiar Christmas carols.

In closing, President Tyson stated, "So, today, in the year of our Lord 1949, with the world in a sorry condition because people everywhere have simply set their minds against the possibility of attaining... Christmas ideals, for after all that's what they are—cannot we, the devoted sons and daughters of two well-beloved colleges, sing our Christmas songs, read our Christmas stories, and enjoy our Christmas holidays to the full with this complete happiness in our hearts."

Dr. Levering Tyson whose Christmas message was delivered this afternoon at the Berg-Crest Service in the Egner Memorial Chapel.

Immediately following the message, Prof. Harold K. Marks played "The Holy Boy—A Carol of the Nativity" by John Ireland and the Muhlenberg College Choir sang "From Out His Father's Heart He Came" and "The March of the Three Kings."

"It Came Upon The Midnight Clear" preceded the prayer by the Rev. Dale H. Moore, President of Cedar Crest College. The assemblage then sang "Silent Night," followed by the benediction by Rev. Burkhardt. "Joy To The World," closed the chapel worship service.

Following the service, the annual ceremony of the lighting of the campus Christmas tree took place on the lawn in front of President Tyson's home.

First Gift Received

The first advance gift of $10,000 for CHEY was reported recently by the synodical office. In announcing the gift, the Reverend William O. Moyer, '39, and synodical director, has said, "this gift gives us all a tremendous lift as we set out together to achieve our CHEY objectives. Surely there are others in our territory who will respond to this challenge with substantial gifts if we help them to see a vision of what CHEY means for the church and nation of today and tomorrow."

ATO Lists 68th Annual Santa Hop

The 68th Annual Christmas house-party of A.T.O. will open Friday evening, Dec. 16, with an informal gathering at the Livingston Club. Following this, Matt Gillespie's orchestra will play for a formal dance at the fraternity house. Saturday afternoon a barn party will be held, during which the girls will oppose the brothers in a football game. The group will return to the fraternity house Saturday night, to square dance to the music of Chet Warren's quartet. The week-end will conclude quietly Sunday with an informal bridge session.

allow students to remain in New York for the night.

The reasons which dissuaded the Faculty Senate from granting the extra day off are that this semester, which is already the shortest in Muhlenberg history, would be reduced even further, and that, since Christmas Recess begins at 5:30 p.m. on Friday, December 16, leaving Saturday off, the Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday sequence of classes would be interrupted if classes should begin again on Wednesday, January 4, 1950. This action would give the Monday, Wednesday, Friday sequence an unfair advantage.

Senate New Organ

The matter was first brought to the attention of Mr. Sherwood R. Mercer, Dean of the Faculty, by William Lybrand, Student Council president, in an informal discussion. At that time Dean Mercer stated that he would bring the matter before the Faculty Senate at its regular meeting on Thursday, December 8, 1949.

The faculty senate is a newly organized governmental body on campus and meets every month.

Spivak Signs Contract For Junior Prom Date

Charlie Spivak who with his orchestra will serenade dancers at the Junior Prom on February 24.

Marv Berger, Junior Class president announced this week that Charlie Spivak has signed a contract to play for the Junior Prom from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. on Feb. 24, 1950.

Toots Honey Horn

Charlie Spivak, "The Man who Plays The Sweetest Trumpet in the World," is the musician whose fresh and original idiom in trumpet playing is described as "Honey in the horn." He is the leader of an eight year old band which rocketed to top flight stature so fast that it now ranks among the kings in the entertainment world.

Seen in Movies

Notches in Spivak's musical belt are 20th Century-Fox's "Pin-Up Girl" starring Betty Grable and "Follow the Boys" for Universal and a flock of box-office records created at the Paramount Theatre in New York, The Hotel Statler, New York, the Palladium in Hollywood and other top spots. Spivak's music-making is so solidly established for its individuality that it can be identified whenever and wherever it is played, as "indubitably Charlie's."

Mules Stop Delaware 68-41 At Rockne Hall

Penn Quakers To Meet Mules On Allentown Court Saturday

On Saturday, December 17, the Mules' basketball ball-wick, Rockne Hall, will be invaded by the University of Pennsylvania hoopsters as the two teams fight it out in their annual cage clash. The Mules will be out to

OVER . . . THE LINE

by Bob Godnick

The new rule regarding personal fouls in the final two minutes of play leaves much to be desired.
According to this year's hoop rules, when a foul is committed with less than two minutes remaining to play, the offended team takes the foul shot and then retains possession of the ball after the shot.

Apparently when this rule was passed, the moguls failed to foresee the radical results. The advantage for the team in the lead during this period of time, is overwhelming. The rule was instituted to cut down on the intensive deliberate fouling at the end of a ball game, and to some extent this aim has been realized. Yet the average player's desire to get that ball is so intense in the late stages that he fouls anyway, and more often than not, the fouling is unintentional. Even with an unintentional foul, the offended team can gain a point, and still keep possession. It is obvious that the advantage is overwhelmingly in the leading team's favor. With few exceptions, a team that is behind by three or four points at this stage of the game might just as well quit then and there. They just can't hope to get ahead.

Previously, the fouling in the last two minutes of a ball game

avenge a 67-61 defeat administered to them last year by the Red and Blue while the latter will try and make it two in a row over 'Berg. It will be Muhlenberg's last game until Dec. 29, when they resume action against the University of Connecticut prior to the L.I.U. contest in the Garden,
January 2, 1950.

Penn Floors Veteran Team

Penn will put virtually the same team on the boards that upset the Mules last year at the Palestra in Philadelphia. The Quakers lost only one man by graduation, Bob Carlson, last year's captain, and several outstanding sophomores have moved up to the varsity, notably Bob Fitzpatrick who has been seeing plenty of action so far this season.

Led by Lyons

The Pennsylvanians are led by Herb Lyons, their prolific scorer,
or right-handed, Phil Harman, captain, and set-shot artist Hugh Jefferies, a veritable ball-of-fire, and Fitzpatrick, the soph star.
Other men who get plenty of service are Wittlauffer, the football end, Baumler, a regular last year, Sharenow, Heindel and Davis.

Lost To Yale 57-51

Coach Howie Dallmar's five was picked by sportswriters at the beginning of the season to capture the Ivy League (E.I.L.) flag. Penn turned back Swarthmore 71-65 in their opener, but last Saturday they were derailed by Yale, last year's Ivy League titlists, to the tune of 57-51.

The Mules will be seeking their third victory of this campaign against one setback.

Trackmen Start Red Dietz Named To Indoor Training Captain 1950 Eleven

With a new track and field season in prospect, Ernie Fellow's spring track men have again started their training for the winter months. Most of the conditioning at the present time consists of nothing more than preliminary workouts in the gymnasium; however, some of the candidates, mostly cross country men, are doing some slow jogging around the cinder track.

Coach Sets Schedule

It is the coach's job at this time of year to bring each athlete under his charge to the highest point of efficiency for the on-coming season. In order to do this, he must set a schedule for his men and see that they conform to the rules of a normal training period.

Milton Dietz from Palmyra, New Jersey, was named Muhlenberg's 1950 football captain at the annual Athletic banquet last Tuesday night.
The banquet was held in the College Commons for the football, soccer, and Cross Country squads.
George Lawson, Graduate Manager of Athletics, introduced Dr.
Shankweiler who acted as master of ceremonies. Dr. Shankweiler reviewed the statistics of the three athletic teams and said, "Winning games is not the whole story in sports."

Dr. Shankweiler introduced Russell Clark and Robert Burkholder, members of the Athletic Committee, and they made a few remarks to the group.

Twenty-two Teams Enter Court League

The 1949-50 Intramural Basketball League opened officially last Monday afternoon. Bill Ritter, Director of Intramural Sports, has posted a schedule of games until after the holidays.

Twenty-two teams have entered the league, which is divided into three groups. The league has been divided as follows:

League I

Beggars
South Hall Yankees
Phi Kappa Tau
Nu Epsilon Jokers
Warriors
Flying Dutchmen
Sigma Phi Epsilon
Phi Sigma Kappa

League II

Barons

Jokers
Collegians
Motley Crew

League III

Black Knights
Bears
Bombers
Lambda Chi Alpha Devils Sinners
Black Cats

Games will be played at 4:30, 6:30 and 7:30 every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. There will be only a 4:30 contest on nights that 'Berg's bas-more than enough to add the Blue Hens to their list of victims.

McGee and Jaffe led 'Berg's scoring with 14 and 13 points respectively and McFadden was high for Delaware with fifteen.

The Mules took the initial tap and Baker sank the first goal of the game on the play, Baker then canned a foul and Jaffe later followed suit. DeGasperis then bucketed a goal for Delaware and the Mules led 4-2. McFadden copped a free throw to pull the Blue Hens up to within one point of 'Berg.

Mules Pull Away

The Hens kept within range of the Mules, but with the score 24-20 in favor of 'Berg, the Mule hoopsters opened up and basketed
8 straight points to give Muhlen-berg a 32-20 half-time edge.

Delaware got the jump to start the second half but could not score. Lonergan put in a goal to open the scoring and Jackson sank one before McFadden pushed one through for the Hens to give the Mules a 36-22 lead. 'Berg continued to pull away from the Delaware five as the second half progressed. Coach Borgmann used the whole squad and the reserves looked good as they held the boys from Newark and added a few points of their own. Muhlenberg kept rolling along and when the final whistle had blown, the Mules had won by a score of 68-41.

FROSH WIN

The Mule Yearlings romped over the Blue Hen Frosh by a score of 71-44. For the Little Mules, four men tallied 11 points or more with Fedock high with 15, Hand and Eckert had 12 each, and Kanterman had eleven. Boyer and Corson with 13 and 12 points respectively led the Blue Hens.

Temple Owls Defeat Mules, 56-49

Borsavage, Mlkvy Pace Owls; Jaffe Scores 17

The Convention Hall and Temple jinxes, both of which were broken last year, returned to haunt Muhlenberg Saturday night as the Owls beat our Mules 56-49 in the spacious Philadelphia arena.

Jaffe and Saemmer Star

The Mules, mainly on the fine offensive work of Jaffe and Saemmer, walked off the floor at half-time with an 8 point bulge as they led by a 30-22 count. But the Temple height advantage, coupled with Muhlenberg's inability to work the ball inside or hit from the outside, spelled doom for them in the second half.

The Owls steadily closed the gap, tied the score midway in the third period, and then built up a lead of their own. The Mules were never able to overcome the Owls' lead although they came within three points of knotting the score with about three minutes left to play.

Mules Lead 30-22 at Half

The Mules started out fast and took a 7-1 lead on Jaffe's two field goals, Saemmer's goal and a foul by Baker. After Mlkvy's goal for Temple, Saemmer scored two goals to run the score to 11-3 as Temple called time out. The Mules maintained this 8-point lead the rest of the half as the score read 30-22 at the midway point.

After the Mules jumped into a 10-point lead after the second half tap-off, Ballots' two goals cut the margin to 32-26. Jaffe's bucket made it 34-26, but here the Owls went on a six point spree, to cut the margin to two points, 34-32. Saemmer's goal and fouls by Werther and Mlkvy tied the score at 36-36. After Ballots matched Martini's goal, McGee's foul gave the Mules a 39-38 lead, the last time the Mules were out

Dietz Captains Cindermen Train

Chili Altemose, soccer coach, pointed out that injuries hampered the team but he said, "Our soccer team this year was very successful." Chili was presented a gift in behalf of the soccer team.

Ernie Fellows, cross country coach, pointed out that glamour is not a part of cross country and hence keeps many men from participating in this sport. Ernie pointed out that friendship is the big thing you get out of sports.

Howie Baughmann, head football coach, made the announcement that Milton Dietz was voted the football captain for next year's campaign. Reviewing this past season's record, Howie said, "The time to get ready for a football season is when one ends."

Gifts were presented to Coach Baughman and "Scotty" Renwick by the football team.

Tom Triplett and Lou Cardinal, assistant football coaches, were also called upon to make remarks.

The following received football awards:

Seniors—Jack Crider, Dale Whiteman, Mike Bogdziewicz, Roger Tolosky, Hal Roveda, Joe Menegus, Vern Miller, Don Latzko, Alex Schreiber, Al Shoudy, Paul Skorenko, Russell Strait, William Schell and Sisto Averno.

Juniors—Abe Aslanides, Dick Reimer, Fred Peifly, Robert Dikon, Al Ruppert, George England, Russell Allen, William Jackson, Milton Dietz, Fred Berman and Charles Ruyak.

Sophomores — William Woodworth, Ernest Wescoe and Harry

Before any schedule of training can be drawn up, it is necessary for the coach to find out what his men have been doing throughout the early part of the semester. Have they been running cross country? Have they been working out in the gymnasium? Have they been participating in intramural sports? Have they sustained any injuries, and if so, have they been properly treated; and have they completely disappeared? What event does each man want to follow? These are just some of the problems that Coach Fellows is confronted with this winter.

Men Encouraged To Train

Coach Fellows has made the commitment to his men that he plans to enter his mile relay in the various indoor meets that is, if they condition themselves for the event. He strongly encourages all track men to begin their spring conditioning now, so that when the track season rolls around, each man will be able to concentrate his individual event.

Kreutzberg.

These men were given soccer awards:

Seniors—William Hausman, Peter Shegina, Charles Campbell, Elliot Finkelstein, Arthur Batten, Gail Koplin, Rudolph Amelio and Paul Johnson.

Juniors — LaVerne Etschman, John Kaelberger, John Rollo, Theodore Offner and Dallas Dorward.

Over The Line . . .

was very marked. Yet the offended team still had the alternative of taking the shot or keeping the ball. This in itself was a distinct advantage. The referee had the power to give the offended player two shots in the case of flagrant fouling. Though this placed too much burden on the referee's discretion, it still seems, in this corner, to be more suitable than the present rule.

It is extremely doubtful if the rule adopted this year will be carried over to the following campaign. A new ruling will have to be legislated.

Perhaps the collegians will follow a proposal made by legislators of the newly formed N. B. A. professional league. According to this suggestion, after the foul shot is taken, provided it is good, a jump ball is called at the foul line of the offended team between the two parties involved in the game. If the shot is missed, play is continued. There is a decided advantage here for the offended team, as the jump is held near their basket. Yet, there is still an opportunity for the other team to "get back in the game." In the professional ranks, no fouls may be waived. The collegians would probably carry this rule only during the final two minutes of play.

Whatever the solution, the new rule is bound to go. Spectators agree that the last minute excitement and tenseness of a game is gone. The rule changers made a slip, boys.

Pre-Theos Dedicate Center Club Room

The Muhlenberg Pre-Theological Club at its meeting Tuesday night, December 13, dedicated the room it shares in the Student Center with the Cardinal Key Society as the Pre-Theological Club room. The service of dedication, planned by a committee under the leadership of Joe Schwartz, was led by Chaplain Edward T. Horn.

The room was decorated through the efforts of several interested Pre-Theological students. A number of the pieces of furniture in the room are the gifts of a former Muhlenberg College president, John A. W. Haas. Among the Haas collection are to be found several chairs of Oriental and European manufacture, and a five

The club became a permanent campus organization, constituted to provide Christian fellowship, to deepen the spiritual lives of the members, and to be a factor for Christ on the Muhlenberg College campus, largely through the efforts of Chaplain Harry C. Ouch!!!—It seems that this motto, found on a classroom blackboard, aptly expresses the theme of certain instructors—"TIME WILL PASS

YOU SHALL NOT."

What he said—We understand that a prominent campus figure called Phi Sigma Kappa in "A" section of East Hall this week to be greeted on the phone by Luther Buchert iterating, "Hello, Phi Sigma Kappa, who in the H---ALL do you wish to speak to?"

Dale Givler's favorite:—Did you hear about the two worms that were found loving in Dead Ernest?

Fair and Square?—Stu Jeness gave one of his Geology classes three exams this semester. In the first test, the marks were MIGHTY low. In the second test, the marks were still MIGHTY low. Alas, on the third exam, the grades were rather high. Mr. Jeness' conclusion—the last one must have been TOO easy, I'll have to mark it on a curve.

Latest "witticism" circulating in East Hall—A married couple was sleeping peacefully when the wife suddenly shouted out in her sleep: "Good Lord, my husband."

Hubby jumped out the window.

Gillespie Band Plans For M Club's Informal

Final Arrangements Made For All-Sports Dance This Saturday Night In Castle Garden Ballroom

Matt Gillespie and his orchestra will call the signals for 'Berg students at the M Club's annual informal All-Sports-Dance Saturday night, January 14, at Castle Garden from 9 until 12. The dance, originally scheduled for early fall, will be the last one to be held this semester.

Athletes To Be Hosts

Admittance is once again by activities cards and all members of the 'Berg athletic teams will be official hosts at the affair, according to Don Albert, heading the dance committee.

Chaperones for the evening will be the seven coaches of the teams: Dr. John V. Shankweiler, Howard W. Baughman, J. Louis Cardinal, Thomas Triplett, F. Ernie Fellows, Charles Altemose, Carl Frankett, Benny Borgmann, and their wives.

Success In Store

Serving on the committee with Albert are Bill Lybrand, Joe Suhlka, and Lou Columbo. All efforts are being made to make this dance a usual success. Last year's M Club Hop featured Woody Leigh and his orchestra and was acclaimed tops. Because of its position on the calendar, the dance should be well attended the committee commented.

Gillespie and his aggregation are known by 'Berg dance-goers. They have played for the Soph-Frosh Hop and several Council dances. Gillespie plays the saxophone and his wife is featured in the vocal spot.

Earned Their Letter

The M Club is composed of all those athletes who have been awarded their varsity letter. The officers responsible for the Club's activities are George Sutton, president; Hal Roveda, vice president; Don Albert, treasurer; and Alex Schreiber, secretary.

Hold Tryouts For ICL Play

Warren Burns announced that tryouts for the two act play "Murder In The Cathedral," by T. S. Eliot, will be held in the Muhlenberg Chapel on February 1 and 2 at 7:15 p.m. Burns said there are many bit parts and walk-ons, so a large turnout will be welcomed.

There are several women's parts available to students' wives and Cedar Crest students.

The play will be presented in the Muhlenberg Chapel on February 25, as the beginning of the Institute of Christian Living.

Students' Mates Meet Faculty As Weekly Has "Wives' Day"

"Wives' Day," latest WEEKLY-sponsored function, which is an affair never before held on the campus, will be conducted on Saturday, January 14, 1949.

This program has been instituted, it is reported, for a two-fold purpose: First, to acquaint both student and faculty wives with the surroundings in which their husbands study and teach; and secondly, to bring together, in closer relationship, the student and faculty wives. It is felt that this relationship is, "as important to college life as is the relationship between student and faculty."

Tyson Speaks

First on the program of afternoon activities will be a welcoming address by Dr. Tyson in the Science Auditorium at 2 p.m., and introduction of the various department heads to the wives group. A tour will then be conducted

Art Department Shows Jap Life

Kyoto Cultural Changes Are Exhibition Subject

The Art Department will again present one of its exhibits from February 1 to 14. This exhibit is another of the series of photographic collections distributed by the editors of "Life" magazine. The exhibit will be open daily, Monday through Thursday, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Japanese Culture

The subject of this mid-winter exhibition will be the classical Japanese city of Kyoto, which was the capital of Japan from 194 A.D. to 1868 and has been the hub of Japanese culture for the past 1200 years. During this time more than 3,000 temples and shrines were built in this city.

When the American occupation government under General MacArthur decentralized the various religious orders, such as State Shintoism, the life of Kyoto was thoroughly disrupted. The "Life" exhibit attempts to show the changes which have developed in this ancient city since the war.

CHEY Speakers Discuss Plans For Campaign

Berg Students Will Address Area Congregational Groups

On Friday, January 6, a group of 48 students met at the home of Dr. Tyson to discuss Christian Higher Education Year.

Dr. Tyson explained the purpose of the CHEY campaign.

Reverend William Moyer, Synodical Director of Mt. Airy Seminary, told the group that they had been selected to speak in teams of two to five men to various congregational groups. The speeches are expected to be spontaneous and sincere, and are intended to bring to light two general themes: "What Muhlenberg Has Come To Mean To Me" and "How Muhlenberg Has Championed Christian Education."

The speakers will cover an area including northern New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and parts of New York and Delaware. They will speak on the request of pastors of churches located in this area.

Plan Student Institute Of Christian Living

Prominent Clergyman Will Participate In The Program

Plans are being made for an "Institute of Christian Living," which will be held on the campus from February 26 through March 2. The general theme of the Institute will be "Christian Citizenship—From You, to Campus, to World."

The I.C.L. is being sponsored by the M.C.A., the Rehrig Lecture Fund, and the University Christian Mission of the Federal Council of Churches.

Clergymen Speak

During the week there will be a series of lectures, seminars, personal conferences, and classroom visitations. Muhlenberg will hear six leading clergymen, who have had much experience in this type of student activity program; these speakers will represent various Protestant denominations.

The program will also include the presentation of the play, "Murder In The Cathedral," by T. S. Eliot. The play will be directed by Warren Burns.

The Executive Committee in charge of the week-long affair includes Dean Sherwood Mercer, (Continued on Page Eight)

Library Seeks Book Reviews For Contest

"The 1949 Book I Liked Best" is the subject of a prize contest being conducted by the Library this month. All students who wish to compete are asked to submit a 100-150 word statement to the Librarian, Mr. John Davidson, not later than February 1, giving author, title, and reasons for selecting.

In judging the entries, sincerity of statement and the obvious impact of the book on the individual will be the deciding factors.

The prize to be awarded will be a book published by Bern Porter of Berkeley, California, some of whose books are currently on display in the Library lobby.

If this contest proves to be a success, it is planned to conduct a similar contest next year covering books which will be published in 1950. This is the first time a contest of this sort has been conducted here at 'Berg.

College Who's Who Publishes Names Of Outstanding Seniors

Annual Publication Honors Prominent Berg Activities Leaders Chosen From Nominee List By Faculty Group

by John Faust

The 1949-50 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" will be graced by the names of ten Muhlenberg seniors. Dean Mercer has just announced that the names of David Alloway, Thomas Cole, Jack Crider, Paul Freed Jr., Theodore E. Haas, David J. Hoh, William Lybrand, Frank P. Snow, and Martin Weisman are to be placed in this volume.

Selected by Faculty

Men chosen for this honor are selected by Dean Mercer and a committee from a list of nominations drawn up by department heads and administration men.

Alloway commutes daily from nearby Emmaus. He plans to teach history, is a member of Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history fraternity, and is regional chairman of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government for Northeastern Pennsylvania. Musically he has been music director of WMUH and is associated with the choir and glee club. He is a Dean's List man and has written for the WEEKLY and the CHARLA.

Cole is another teaching prospect who makes his home in Baltimore, Md. He is a literary man who, besides writing for the WEEKLY and editing the ARCADE, has his own poetry magazine, Imagi. In addition to his literary activities he is president of both ODK, honorary fraternity, and AKA philosophy fraternity.

Crider Named Again

Crider, the '49 Mule football captain, hails from Canton, Ohio. During his four years here he has not only been an outstanding member of the football team but has been president of his class one year, vice-president of student council and a member of the M-Club and ODK. This is the second year that his name has been in Who's Who.

A native of Mohnton, Freed has not only studied for his intended profession as an experimental psychologist, but has worked as a (Continued on Page Six)

English Majors Plan Gathering

On Friday, January 13, at 8:00 p.m. the English department and English majors will meet in an informal gathering at the Keystone Trail Inn. The meeting is a result of the spontaneous desire of English majors to have a closer relationship among themselves and to gain greater familiarity with the members of the English department.

The group will endeavor to form concrete plans for the creation of an English club or fraternity.

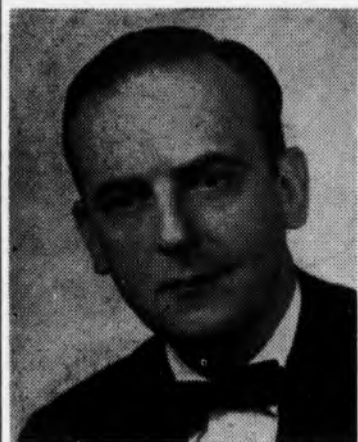

Mr. Criswell, of the English department will provide entertainment by reading selected parodies.

Capital U. Glee Club Initiates Assembly Shows For New Term

Nationally Known Ohio Singing Group Presents Varied Musical Program, Varsity Quartet, Pianist

Initiating the assembly programs for the spring semester will be the Capital University Glee Club, nationally-known male singing group, who will present a concert at the regular assembly hour on Thursday, February 2, at 11 a.m.

The group, which hails from Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, has traveled extensively in the east and midwest, and has gained an impressive reputation with their varied musical programs, according to press releases. Besides doing concert and radio work, the Glee Club is also available for conventions, banquets and service club programs.

Forty-Fourth Season

Organized in 1904, the club is now in its forty-fourth season. Its present director is Wilbur E. Crist, professor of music at the University Conservatory of Music, who has "Directed such groups as the Columbus Civic Opera Company and the La Scala Opera Company of that city."

Besides the forty-odd male voices of the Glee Club, the group will also feature the Varsity Quartet and Miss Barbara Irvine, piano soloist and accompanist.

The organization won championships in the Ohio Intercollegiate Glee Club Council in 1931, 1933 and 1937. They have, as (Continued on Page Six)

Memorial Services Set For Late Senior

Carl Herzog, Class Officer, Dies During Yule Recess

A memorial service will be held at the regular Chapel hour tomorrow morning for Carl Herzog, Dean's List student and active member of the Senior Class, who died on December 26, 1949, in the Reading Hospital, Reading, Pa. He was stricken while at home for the Christmas recess, after an illness of several months duration.

Included in tomorrow's service will be an address of appreciation by James W. Palmer, class of 1950, an offering by the Chapel Choir, and the singing of the Alma Mater at the close of the service.

The Class of 1950 will attend in a body and sit in reserved pews in the front of the Chapel.

CARL HERZOG

While at Muhlenberg, Carl's activities were numerous and varied. He was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa Honorary Fraternity, Phi Kappa Tau Social Fraternity, and treasurer of the Senior Class. A veteran of 23 months of service in the Army, 17 months of which were spent in the South Pacific, Carl was preparing for the teaching profession.

Council Writes Assembly Regs

At its meeting, held January 5 in the Student Council room of the Student Center, Student Council approved an assembly plan submitted by Martin Weissman, president of the Cardinal Key Society.

The plan, drawn up by the Cardinal Key Society, deals with student conduct during assembly programs. The new student co-operation plan is as follows:

1. No smoking will be allowed during assembly programs.
2. No one will be seated once the program has begun, except (a) during applause. (b) during an intermission. If seats are not immediately available, students are requested to remain in the rear of the auditorium until they can be seated.
3. Once seated, students are requested to remain in the auditorium until the completion of the entire program.

Conduct at Assembly programs could be improved and this step was felt necessary, said Council.

Alumni To Faculty To Students; A Home Run!

Firm is the ground upon which Muhlenberg College is built. Firmer still must be the influence of the College upon the young minds it is building. The institution has survived for one hundred and one years and its future looks bright. The undergraduate dedicates to it four years of his life, then enters an uncertain future. His success or failure there is a direct reflection upon his college.

The College has had a glorious past and visions a still "greater Muhlenberg." What heights are still to be attained can only be measured in the cooperation of alumni, faculty, and students. Each must think of the position of the other, and above all, of the future of the institution.

Alumni must not set too high a goal for its institution unless they fully realize the capabilities of their faculty and students. Faculty must teach but also recognize the extent of each student's ability. Each man he fails is a reflection upon his ability as a teacher. The student must honestly devote himself to the job for which he volunteered and apply what he has learned—Alumni, faculty and students; together they make a great team. How well have you been playing ball? M.E.B.

Cut Short The Short Cutter And Save Lawn

Mr. McAuley, not knowing that some of the students wouldn't appreciate his efforts, did a commendable job in directing his men to beautify the campus by replanting the grass and taking special care of its development.

Fortunately there are only a small number of students who are always in a hurry. The short-cuts across the grass for these few save them only a negligible time in their haste to reach some destination. The seconds they save cost needless hours of work and expense. Would they be as careless if they personally were held responsible for the preservation of campus lawns?

These same students are the first to criticize when showing visitors around campus. They complain about the muddy paths which they themselves have made by their constant walking on the grass. However, they would be the last to correct this abuse of college property.

The students who are not guilty of this demeanor should make it their personal duty to protect the College campus by informing the wrongdoers of their destructive act. It has been stated that "actions speak louder than words," but a few well-directed words to the offenders might do more than signs and wires have done to protect our campus. D.M.

Spirit, Pride And Tradition Reigned At Stone Alma Mater On Walnut Street

Imagine If You Can Berg In Days Of Male Supremacy, Frosh Sleigh Rides, And Minus A Basketball Quintet

In days of old when the newspaper was published once each month by a small group of editors and writers. Above is the staff of 1901.

By John Stadlander

The curtain of Nineteen Hundred went up on a Muhlenberg College far different from the school which greeted Nineteen Fifty. Nineteen Hundred was the era of Horatio Alger and the rags to riches success story. The "Man of Muhlenberg" was hopeful, enterprising and happy. His expressions showed evidences of a Victorian strait-jacket, but were none the less sincere and wholesome.

Many Clubs

News of a hotly contested war in the Dutch republics of South Africa and the result of the determined Boxers in China were echoes from a very distant world. Free silver, expansionism, William Jennings Bryan and William McKinley were interests closer to the heart of Mr. Muhlenberg. He debated whether or not the right to vote should be granted to women. This was a man's world and women gained entrance only through the side door.

Mr. Muhlenberg 1900 was keenly aware of the traditions of his school. He was proud of his school's ecclesiastical background, and at commencement he heard the salutatory address delivered in Latin. The Sophomore Banquet, the Freshmen sleigh ride and the Frosh-Soph football classic were all eagerly anticipated. Mr. Muhlenberg's extra-curricula energies were directed into the various literary societies, the Missionary Society, the Medical Society, the Muhlenberg, and toward an array of clubs of which the Knights of the Filthy Weed serves as an interesting example.

The Muhlenberg of 1900 did not present a first rate athletic program. Only twenty-four men represented the school on the gridiron. The baseball team was a far cry from the efficient nine which rule the 1950 diamond. Basketball would be introduced the following year. Nevertheless, the men who called the old fashioned building on Walnut Street, Alma Mater, were spirited competitors.

Half Century Of Experience Gives 1950 College Year Progressive Shot-in-arm

A Short Survey On How Curriculum At Muhlenberg Has Changed, Through Time, To Keep In March With Time

Football fantasy of the 1900's. A formal snapshot of a team that quit playing in the middle of its schedule because of too many casualties.

by Moe Fry

At the turn of the half-century it is fitting to review what has passed in order to gain an understanding of the development and progress that an institution, has made. Muhlenberg has made lengthy strides since the Twentieth Century had its beginning in 1900; always abreast of the times, the college has met the ebb and flow of changes necessitated by the passing parade. For a cursory review, let's return to 1900 and scan the shifting scenes.

Business Left Out

In the collegiate year of 1900-1901, Berg was handling 151 students, four of which were out of state students, at a cost per man, for all expenses, of approximately $235.25. Then, religion and science predominated in the curriculum, business was neglected, English and history ranked secondary, and the school had such required courses as: Sacred History, Christian Education, Butler's Analogy, and Luther's Catechism.

By 1914, when the world was setting the stage for its first great holocaust, the college was settled at its present location. Psychology was listed under the philosophy department; Sociology and Economics listed but four courses, and Dr. Marks was handling Music. 'Berg's campus was composed of the Ad Building, Berks Hall and the Commons. The study of man and business trends was increasing.

Price Increases

Near the close of the Roaring

Twenties, the Art department was standing alone, the Science Building now handles expanded courses that were formerly carried on in the Power House, and the Library was in the course of erection. While the walls of Wall Street were crashing, Business Administration at College offered Industrial Geography, Merchandising and Advertising, Salesmanship, and Foreign Trade. The price of a yearly education, including board, increased to $630.50.

While the country struggled in the throes of depression, in 1933 psychology and education were one. And four years later, when Pres. Tyson took over the reins in July of 1937, the College curriculum was nearly as we see it now. Still meeting the needs of the country, in 1942 the College adapted its academic program to meet the emergency needs of the new war period.

Courses May Change

Today, 'Berg offers 282 varied courses, caters to over 1100 students, retains over 77,000 volumes in its Library, and continues its expansion of curriculum and buildings to meet the new demands of the modern world. Possibly another half-century from now, with the atom controlled and the theory of gravitation explained, there will be no recognition of present day subjects being offered. Who now knows the demands of a welfare state, or as some predict, a return to the primitive man and his stylus drawings on cave walls?

M'Berger Of 1900 Taught By Stern, Bewhiskered Pedagogos

Allentown College For Women Source Of Dates For Our Horse And Buggy Casanovas Of Old

The men who instructed Mr. Muhlenberg 1900 were a small group. All but one looked stern behind an impressive display of whiskers. Six of the ten were ordained ministers, well saturated in the tradition of classical pedagogy. Deep was their love for the moral sciences, natural theology, and the classical languages and literature. Conscientious was their efforts to pass that love on to their students.

Then as now, the proper study of man was woman. Lillian Russell, the toast of Broadway, was soon to surrender her crown to the sweethearts that other generations of Mr. Muhlenberg would learn to love:—Marilyn Miller, Irene Castle, Clara Bow, Jean Harlow, Brenda Frazier. As a local interest, Mr. Casanova Muhlenberg 1900 had the Allentown College for Women or as affectionately dubbed "fem sem". Evening dates were conducted without the gaseous fumes of the family car. The clippety clop of faithful Dobbin's hoofs supplied the music for an enjoyable evening beneath the stars.

He was a fine fellow, this big brother of the kid in the Buster Brown suit. Briefly we, the Mr. Muhlenbergs of 1950, look back to the Mr. Muhlenberg of 1900. We try to understand his mistaken notion that three thousand miles of ocean is an adequate guarantee against foreign aggression; we admire the courage with which he met the obstacles of daily living; we esteem the respect with which he viewed the higher things of life; above all, we try to profit from the mistakes which he has made. And we wonder! Will the Mr. Muhlenberg of 2000 admire the manner in which we, the Mr. Muhlenbergs of 1950, meet the challenge of our fifty years?

NOTICE TO STUDENTS

All students in East, West, North, and Liberty Halls who wish to keep their same rooms in the second semester should contact the Registrar to sign room agreements during the week of January 9 to January 13 ONLY.

The week of January 16 is reserved for those students contemplating a change of rooms.

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

We had a thumbnail trend for 1950 nailed down pretty well when we sat down to this thing but we dropped into Mammie's to pick up a few pistacchio nuts and some giggle water and we got to reading later.

Oh, patron saint of all gossip columnists, would that you furnish us with an urn of Christmas Holiday Spirit with an atomizer attachment! With it we would spray a few drops around on the twenty-fifth of each month. The other 11 months have a nasty trick of drooping slightly, toward the end. (Especially January and May). But turning from things immaterial to those material, we think that this vacation ended up positively radioactively. We could have kicked ourself when we almost missed the Polgar Assembly, but we made sure we didn't miss the L.L.U. game at the Garden. For those who aren't sure, we whipped the daylight out of those bamboo poles up until the last few minutes of the game. Words are painfully inadequate to describe the impression on the crowd that Saemmer et al made that night. We went through the opposition like Sherman went through Georgia. For a time there 'Berg marched up and down the court like the proverbial large bottomed bird, pricked by a hatpin, much to the delight of the crowd. Danny Mackin did well on and off the court.

Rita will be thataway again this year.

Sneers and Snickers: Speaking of women brings to mind that 49th state called matrimony, and the things that the prospect of it does to us Mules. Take Bob Leopold for instance: It was cold those nights before vacation, especially cold. Bob was going to get married that weekend. He went out to check on his car to see if it were ready to make the trip the next day. He removed the radiator cap, reached his finger in, and scratched around for ice. He seemed to have found some because he grabbed for a hammer and screwdriver and before he discovered that all he had felt was the metal guts of the radiator, he had poked two gaping holes in said part! Leopold, with engineering ability like that, they'd love you at South mountain!

Rita will have another baby.

A campus philosopher informs us that these trying times are the good old days that we'll be longing for, a few years from now, but one is inclined to skepticism at times. There is a married vet named Diehl on the campus. First he shoots a deer between the eyes and someone else gets to the carcass before him. Then, the day before his Am. Lit. term paper is due, his kids play pottsy with it and rip it to shreds . . . original notes and final draft! Ah yes, there was a good deal at the Diehl home that night . . . a good deal of fanny tanning.

Rita's baby will be a little prince.

On the distaff side: J. Wimpy Stemple's friends are fair weather friends. We know because they let this better-left-in-the-bag cat, out of the bag. Wimpy met a college girl when he went home. After one date he was ready to run to Maryland with her. She had everything; well, almost everything—beauty, money, personality, money, and money. Wimpy sent her a letter enclosing his pin and his love. Wimpy sweated it out. Days that seemed like weeks later he got a response. It was with feverish thrusts of his pocket shive, and trembling fingers that he opened his letter. The sentiment was beautiful and the whole thing oozed over with affirmative. The communiqué also contained 17 misspellings, 9 fused sentences, 10 run on sentences with her love. Wish we could give the stock ending that they lived happily ever after, to this thing, but we hear that Wimpy was so "shook up" that he's not in love any more. (Flash! Since the original composing of this thing we have received the good word that resourceful Wimpy sent her a dictionary which she promises to use faithfully.) Now don't come running after us about all this, Stempel, zee your buddy Jaffe!

Saga Of The Rise And Fall Of Flirty Female Hemlines

Study Proves That Woman's Skirts Get Longer During Depression Causing Depression To Males

By Dick Dorfman

Are women's fashions an indication of the times? Are women's fashions a good barometer of the social and economic trends of the age? These may appear to be trivial questions when compared with such world shaking thoughts as what to do with the atomic bomb, how to avoid another world war, and how Dick Tracy will catch Wormy, but recently a few men got together and decided that the answers to the world's problems could be found by observing closely the clothes worn by the average women in the country. Two of these men went so far as to graph the past conditions of the country and the fashions that went with them. The ladies' hemlines form a line on the graphs that was almost parallel to the economic line. It seemed that as the hemline went up, the line of prosperity went right along with it.

Upward Trend

About 1910 the ladies' hemline started rising from the floor-sweeping point at which it had been for a few centuries. Grandma began to show her ankles, and Grandpa, undoubtedly inspired, began to make more money. The trend was continually upward until after the first world war. Actually the hemlines started to drop just before the first world war began, and although it has never been proven, there are some men who feel that the lowering of the hemline was a direct cause of the war—frustration and all that sort of thing.

Rise and Fall

The hemlines continued to drop after the war, and the country was thrown into a depression—again there is no proof that the two events were related. About 1923 the country began to enjoy the prosperity that was to last until 1929, and sure enough, the hemlines were on the way up again. This time the men were so pleased about it that they gave women the right to vote. Skirts and prosperity rose to dizzying heights, and then suddenly in the fall of 1929 the stock market crashed. Prosperity was at an end. Again the hemlines dropped as if to indicate the gloom in the nation. The high skirted joy of the Twenties gave way to low hemmed gloom of the "Threadbare Thirties."

The early years of the thirties found long faces, long breadlines, and low hem lines. The nation was broken—in treasury and spirit. Around 1935 the hemlines showed some signs of rising and—hooray, W.P.A.—the nation was saved! Men went out, determined to make money. By 1930 the country was back on its feet again, and everyone was rejoicing. Again the ominous sign appeared—skirts began to drop. Hitler invaded Poland and shortly afterward, and the world was plunged into the second war.

Happy With Victory

The skirts stayed rather lengthy until close to 1943, and we were, in the meantime, losing the war. Around 1943 and early 1944 the skirts went up a bit and we won back the Philippines. The rising hemline was followed closely after that until the fall of 1945 when the skirts reached their peak, and Japan surrendered. The war was over, skirts were up—we were a happy nation, flushed with the fruits of victory.

The "New Look" appeared in late 1947. Hemlines dropped to the ankles, and the country went into a recession. It took two years to overcome both the recession and "The New Look." The years were darkened by Pop's scowls as he paid the ever present bills for Mom's new wardrobe so that she could be in "style." Then, in 1949, there was an announcement that hemlines were on the rise and—this was better yet—plunging necklines were becoming popular. It is now a matter of record that 1949 ended with a wave of prosperity.

Fine Times

One wonders what is in store for the nation as we look ahead into 1950. If it is any indication of anything, it might be well to mention that skirts are still short and necklines are still plunging. If anyone is really in doubt, we add that the "Bikini" bathing suit is becoming more popular. It seems as though "Happy Days Are Here Again!"

New Tricks For An Old Trade

Cheating In Final Exams Becomes Big Business As Students Try To Out-wit Experienced Profs

by Don Heiney

Do you cheat in examinations? From a consensus of twenty college surveys, two-thirds of the students have cheated at some time during 1948.

Cheating during examinations has become almost a science on many campuses. It is affecting college life more than the threat of Communism. At one time dishonest students remained content to carry a small crib sheet to class; now they tack a large crib sheet on the classroom bulletin board. The use of shirt cuffs, white saddle shoes, and the undersides of ties have become obsolete. They do not have enough space for the modern cribber.

Forbidden Method

A girl whose exam room is proctored by a male can use the "No Man's Land" method, an almost foolproof way of cheating. By placing the crib sheet above her knee, the crafty female needs only to lift her skirt a few inches in order to get the facts she needs. A male proctor finds himself in an exasperating predicament if he questions the girl on the whereabouts of the crib sheet.

In this heavily mechanized age students have resorted to reading illegal notes on fake watchfaces and to writing outlines of course on tissue paper which is rolled into a package no larger than a cigarette. Various communication systems have been used, such as pencil tapping, telephones, and nodding heads.

In a recent issue of Cosmopolitan the story is told of an exam which was given in two sections. At the first session a student brought a dog with him. He slipped a copy of the exam under the dog's collar. The dog dashed out of the room and into the eager hands of the students of the second session. The professor wondered how so many "not-so-bright" students gave such excellent answers.

At schools with a large enrollment, students, who anticipate a low grade for a course, hire a student, who is well-versed on the same subject, to act as a substitute.

College instructors are not morons, however. More than one student has joined the Army rather than face embarrassing questions on why he has severed relations with college life. Take, for instance, the student who wrote notes on the sides of a cigarette package. The instructor noticed that this wily student was smoking too often. He nabbed the culprit in the act.

Two Blue Books

Some students even make cribbing easy for the instructor to discover. They bring to the classroom an old examination booklet which contains a complete outline of the course. More than one student has turned in the wrong booklet to the instructor.

The blame for this alarming state of affairs may be put on both teachers and parents—teachers because they over-emphasize the value of marks, and parents because they frequently rationalize their own acts by explaining

Where Your Little Dime Goes A Long Way For Dance Data

The Story Of Professional Dancelands Where Fellows Pay Dearly To "Sit-Out" One Waltz

Jim Palmer

If you are one of those unlucky men who as yet have not made it your business to visit the famous New York "dime-a-dance" halls on Broadway, allow us to urge you to round out your education. You will never go back to one of these dance halls again, unless you become sour with the world, but it is an experience that should be undertaken by every red-blooded young American male at least once during his life.

The admission fee is nominal. Sandy, slick-haired men hawk at you as you walk up Broadway. They are persistent fellows, to say the least. They practically drag you bodily up the narrow staircase. By the time they drag you up the stairs you resolve to yourself that you will go through with it—just for the experience. Anyway, that is as good an excuse as any.

Odors Heavy

It takes a few minutes to become accustomed to the dimness and the dopey effect of the heavy perfume the girls are wearing.

You glance around completely baffled, and think to yourself, "Brother, what did I get myself into?" So you fortify yourself with a glass of beer, hoping in the meantime to adjust yourself to your new surroundings. By the time you finish your beer the atmosphere reaches the marrow of your bones and you feel game to try anything. So you buy yourself a dollar's worth of tickets. You stand at a barrier and look at the girls in their tantalizing evening gowns, and they look at you—sucker! They widen their eyes, or narrow their eyes, or throw out a hip, or wiggle slightly. You pick out the adorable enchanters with the most provocative look, slide your hand across her bare back, and you are on your way. From here on, it is up to you—you're on your own!

Every minute or so, there is a click. That's a dance. You clip off a ticket and hand it to the girl. But let us offer you some advice at this point. This practice of clipping off a ticket after

Class Elections Spring Semester

William Laird, Student Council chairman of elections, announced this week that nominations for class officers for the spring semester will be held at respective class meetings on February 9. Elections will be held in the Student Center building, Monday, February 13. Only class members in good standing will be listed on the election ballots.

If a man has not been nominated at the class meeting, his name may be submitted to Mr. Laird to be included on the ballot.

Election will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

MULE KICKS

January 3, 1950

Dear Editor,

I am a commuting student and devote most of my non-classroom hours to either the Library or Student Center. I wish someone would define for me the true purpose of each of these buildings. When in the Library, I try to study. The Student Center has become my haven for relaxation and "Bull Sessions".

Lately, however, I have been so disturbed by excessive noise in the Library that it seems that that building has become the bull-slinger's ballroom. Has its true purpose as a study room been forgotten? I think it's time that students realize their responsibility to fellow students and use the Library in its true light. If an improvement can't be instituted, let's move the snackbar across the street and really have a heigh-ho time of it.

A Quiet Quack

January 7, 1950

Dear Editors,

The Student Center has really developed into a central point of campus life; a building of which we can be proud. Its maintenance by "Shorty" could not be more faithfully done. The rooms upstairs have really come to emphasize the main-stay of campus activities. However, there is one room, assigned to the M-Club which is still unoccupied. If that organization doesn't want the room I suggest that they let some other more active group make use

Muhlenberg Stops Lafayette College, 83-69

Revision Of Two Minute Hoop Rule Seen Essential In '50

By Don Klenk

Definitely one of the most unpopular and discussed rules in recent sports history is the two minute rule now in effect on the college basketball courts for this 1949-50 season. To the anguish and disapproval of the fans, coaches, players, and officials alike, the hardwood sport has become a farce in the final two minutes of play. This has resulted in the fact that the team that is ahead at the end of the first 38 minutes of play nine times out of ten is assured of winning the game.

OVER... THE LINE

By Bob Godnick

I doubt whether the Mules lost any prestige on their recent encounter with Long Island at Madison Square Garden. Certainly there could be no squawks about the brand of ball they exhibited, while extending a big tough L.I.U. five. The eleven point margin did not in any way give evidence of the intensity of the contest.

L.I.U.'s height was just too much for the smaller Mules to cope with. Their rebound play in the final period was better than seen by the writer in quite some time. The Mules had fought hard and done commendably on the boards in the first half, but when the pressure in final minutes showed, it was Big Dolph Bigos of the Blackbirds who proved more than equal to the situation.

Bigos' rebound work coupled with the twin scoring threats, White and Scherer, proved too much for the Allentown five. Coming from 13 points down with 12 minutes to play, the Blackbirds proved to be one of the top fives in the nation.

It is interesting to note that in the final 12 minutes of the game, Long Island outscored the 'Berg five, 36-12. Spurts of 8 and 10 points proved decisive for the

Missed Foul Means Little

For the uninformed or muddled spectator here is how this rule works. In this two minute period, a player on team A is fouled by a player on team B. The hoopster who was fouled on team A gets one foul shot or two, depending upon the personal committed, and regardless of whether or not he makes the foul or fouls, team A keeps possession of the ball, taking it out at mid-court.

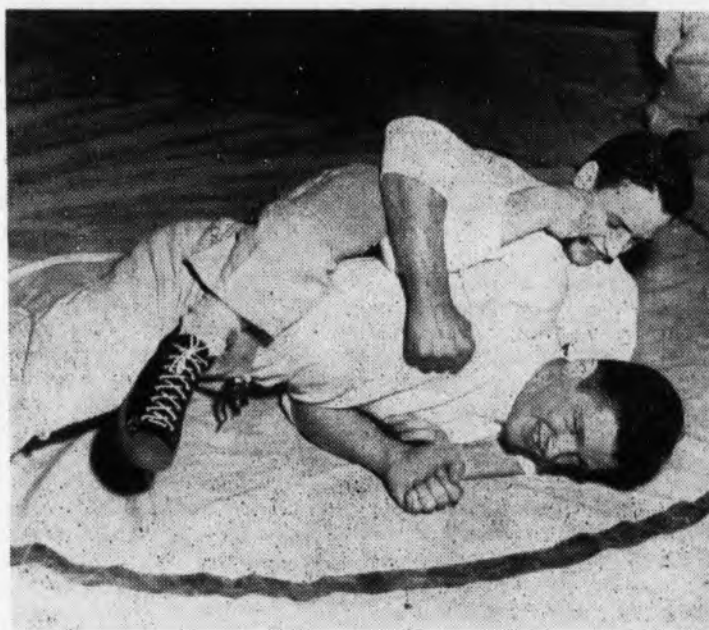

The idea behind this rule was to eliminate excessive fouling and rough tactics in the closing minutes of play. The sports' legislators worked on the theory that a team would be less likely to foul if they were faced with the prospect of the opposing team getting a foul try and possession of the ball after the foul shot. But this purpose of the rule, to keep fouling at a minimum in the last few minutes, has failed. Teams that are behind become desperate in the closing minutes, and in their anxiety and desperation to get the ball usually foul that much more.

Rule Kills Game

Let's use an example to further explain the unpopularity of this two minute rule and why it "kills the game". Blue leads Grey 59-56 with the two minutes to play. Blue brings the ball in and puts on the Marv Jaffe is Muhlenberg's most prolific scorer according to the compiled figures of the Mules' first seven games. However, "Scooter" Saemmer's 85 total points, which gave him an average of 12.1 points per game, was just one less than Marv Jaffe's total of 86, which gave Jaffe a 12.28 average per game.

McGee 5th in Nation in Foul Shooting

Danny Mackin was 'Berg's most accurate shooter from the floor, connecting on 31 field goals in 68 attempts for a .46 percentage; and Dick McGee, with 26 free throws in 32 attempts for an .812 percentage, led the Mules in accuracy

Valley Rival Beaten In Rockne Hall Test

The Muhlenberg Mules took their Lehigh Valley rivals, Lafayette, into camp last night by a score of 83-69 to make 'Berg's log for the season read six wins against two losses. It would be impossible to name an individual star for the Mules as all played smooth basketball.

Eight Teams Showing Perfect Records In Intramural Leagues

In League III action last Monday the Jokers, Glad To Be Alive Five, and Motley Crew hit the hoop for victories. The Jokers led by Swartley's 17 points defeated the Collegians 46-34. Dinger paced the losers with 9 tallies. In the second contest, the Glad To Be Alive Five spurted in the second half to defeat the Barons 36-24. The rebound work of Dimmig featured the winners' well-balanced attack while Holtzman led the losers' with 8 points. With Elliot scoring 17 points, the Motley Crew over-powered Phi Epsilon Pi 45-20. Finkelstein's 9 points were high for the losers.

Stianchi Scores 46 Points

Stianchi of the Black Cats (League III) lays claim to the individual scoring mark for a single game having split the laces for 46 points in an early season contest against the Beggars. The ten scoring leaders as of November 9 are:

Mules Play Steady Game

Baker, Jaffe and McGee controlled the boards and played consistent floor games. In scoring, McGee led this trio with 19 points, 17 of them in the last half, while Baker and Jaffe scored 14 and 12 points respectively.

And you can't forget Saemmer as he contributed another brilliant, all-around floor game, and sank nine points; or Martini, who led the Mules in the first half with 13 points and featured the attack with his spectacular passing. Then there was Mackin with his usual hard-driving game and 13 tallies and Jackson, who also played a good game.

Davidson, Maroon Star

For the Leopards, George Davidson was the individual star as he tallied 26 markers and kept the Maroon in the game with his all-around brilliant play.

Leopards Score First

The game opened with Lafayette taking the tap, and Davidson sank a hookshot to open the scoring. Martini came back with a set to tie it at 2-2. Davidson bucketed two more hooks to give the Leopards a 6-2 edge. But here the Mules started to climb, and although their foul shooting was off, they pulled away from the Maroon, 16 to 9.

Here the five from Easton rallied to an 18-16 deficit. But again 'Berg had too much on the ball, and steadily pulled away with Martini and Baker leading the onrush with 13 and 8 points respectively. For Lafayette, Davidson carried the brunt of the attack by bagging 10 points. The first half ended with the Cardinal and Grey courtmen ahead 40-27.

Mules Rock Albright Lions, 76-50

Strong Second Period Ices Game At Reading

The Muhlenberg Mules, baffled by a tight zone defense for the first half last Saturday night at Reading in their contest with the Albright Lions, poured it on in the second half to completely outclass and outscore the Albright five 76-50.

Berg Host To Lehigh This Monday Evening

Muhlenberg College will play host to its traditional Valley rival, Lehigh University, this Monday evening, January 16th at Rockne Hall. Lehigh has split six contests thus far, with two additional games scheduled before the Muhlenberg tussle.

The Packers opened the schedule at Princeton, absorbing a 56-35 beating from the Tigers. Ursinus fell before the Bethlehem five 49-42, as did Haverford, 65-55. Bucknell and Swarthmore both added victories to their own slates, by stopping Lehigh, 71-52 and 84-60, respectively. The Packers erased Gettysburg 65-58 in their last contest.

Lehigh has seven holdovers from last year's squad, including co-captains Gene Frymoyer and Lou Longe, Dick Collin, Al Walker, Dick Gratton, Jim Kennedy, and Tom Van Vertloh. The Packers also will present several members of last year's Freshman Five, among whom are Harry Stowers, Ed. Prebor and "Botsy" Ferrara.

Benny Borgmann's Mules, who have notched two straight since its defeat by Long Island will start Bill Baker, Marv Jaffe, Dick McGee, Al Saemmer, and either Leo Martini or Danny Mackin against Lehigh.

A preliminary game featuring the Freshman squads of both schools, will preface the feature game. First game is scheduled for 7:00 p.m.

Marv Jaffe Leading Scorer Of Mule Five; Saemmer Is Second

Dick Eckert and Hoey Kauterman led the Freshman team scoring with 47 and 40 points respectively. Fedok is third with 34 markers, and Little Joe Bonacci who is 4th in scoring with 26 points has yet to miss his first free throw, having connected in all 10 attempts.

Mules Lead At Half 33-24

The Mules held a slim one-point 13-12 advantage at the end of the first quarter as the loyal Lion fans cheered for an upset. The Borgmann Basketballers increased their margin in the second quarter and led 33-24 at halftime.

The second half saw the Mule hoopsters completely outclass their foe as Coach Benny Borgmann cleared the bench. Danny Mackin and Dick McGee led the visitors with 12 and 11 points respectively.

Anlian Gets Hot

Eddie Anlian, Lion captain, was held to one point in the first half, but got hot in the second half and wound up the game with 14 points to pace the Albrightians.

The reserves finished out the final quarter for 'Berg and managed to outscore Albright 20-16.

Frosh Tame Lions

The Muhlenberg Freshmen had things their own way as they humiliated the Little Lions 66-38. Kauterman led the Triplett crew with 22 points. Eckert and Bonacci assisted with 14 points each.

McCarthy was high for the Albright Frosh with 12 points. This was the second win for the Mules in three contests. Their only loss came at the hands of the Penn five.

'Bergmen.

Muhlenberg made a fine impression on the New York crowd. Marty Glickman, sports caster of Station WMGM which handled the game, went way overboard for the Mules, describing them as probably the best visiting team to appear at the Eighth Avenue Arena this year. He particularly singled out the play of Al Saemmer, whom he repeatedly addressed as "Scooter," a new moniker for the speedy Mule.

The New York Sun was quoted as saying that "Scooter" repeatedly stole the play away from Long Island's Eddie Gord, usually as reliable a floorman as there is. Danny Mackin was lauded for his drive and constant hustle, leading the Muhlenberg attack with 20 points.

It was a tough ball game to lose, very reminiscent of the game played between these same two clubs two years ago. But the Mules have started on the comeback trail, whipping Albright and Lafayette, upping their record to 6 wins in 8 tries.

Ned Irish, erstwhile head of basketball in New York came into the Muhlenberg dressing room after the game, telling the boys that they would be welcome to return at any time to New York.

Thank you, Ned. How about sometime during the middle of March?

Cardinal Grapplers Bow To Ursinus, 24-7

Ursinus College spilled the Muhlenberg Matmen to the tune of 24 to 7 at Ursinus last Saturday.

The Mules scored five points when George Schmauch pinned Schiesser, of Ursinus, in 4:43 with a reverse chancery and bar in the 165 pound class.

The other two points that the Mules garnered came when George Sutton and Miller of Ursinus finished in a draw.

The defending heavyweight champion of the Middle Atlantic Conference, Helfferich, pinned Schell in 4:47 with a reverse chancery and a body press.

Summaries:

"freeze". A member of the Grey five in attempting to break up the freeze fouls a member of the Blue courtmen. The Blue hoopster converts the foul, making the score 60-56, Blue's favor, and the ball remains in the Blue five's possession. Again the Grey courtmen must get the ball, and in so doing a Blue player is fouled. If the foul is canned, the score becomes 61-56, if the foul try is missed, the Blue team still keeps the ball. This can continue until the Blues have put the game on ice, thanks to the two minute rule; and, what was a terrific contest becomes a farcial runaway in the final two minutes, the score depending upon how many foul tries the Blue team could convert into points.

Some Coaches Waive Rule

In different sections of the country, some coaches have agreed to waive the two minute rule and use last year's legislation. This is true of all games played between New York City colleges, and has met with the hearty approval of all concerned.

Many coaches favor the two minute rule the professionals have put into effect. After the foul try is made or missed, a jump ball is called at the foul circle. This gives both fives a chance to get the ball and is fair to both teams.

Pro's Lead Way For Change

Without a shadow of a doubt, the Collegiate two minute rule will be revised drastically or completely discarded next basketball season. Right now the pro rule looks like the best bet. It has worked, and the play-for-pay boys are satisfied with it. Regardless of whether the collegians adopt the pro rule or not, let's at least have 40 full minutes of basketball next season and not 38 minutes of the court game and two minutes of an unreasonable facsimile thereof.

Haas is a Dean's List man who hopes to go on into the ministry. His affiliations include AKA; Eta Sigma Phi, classics fraternity; the Forensic Council; Phe-Theo Club; Der Deutsche Verein; and World Student's Service Fund Committee. His hometown is Bethlehem.

Hoh, another Pre-theo, who hails from Lancaster, has been very active in MCA and WSSF. A member of Student Council, he has been in Cardinal Key, debating, ESP and AKA. He has played tennis as a member of the College team.

William Laird will enter Mt. Airy Seminary next year in his hometown, Philadelphia. He is a member of the Forensic Council and Student Council. MCA, AKA, the Pre-Theo Club, ODK, the Ciarla, and Der Deutsche Verein activities also help to fill his days.

Lybrand, another psychology student, comes from Maple Shade, N. J. He was vice-president of his class during the sophomore year and is now president of Student Council. The Psychology Club and ODK are on his list of activities. In the field of athletics, he has played three years of varsity baseball and is a member of the M-Club. This is also the second year his name has been in Who's Who.

Snow is one of the two Allentown men whose names will be entered in this year's volume. A Dean's List man, he has been active in AKA and ODK for two years. His ambition is to become a pastor.

Weisman, the other Allentown man, hopes to enter the field of business. Cardinal Key and Der Deutsche Verein have been his major extra-curricular activities. Dramatically minded, he has been active in M and D, and Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics frat.

Dime-a-dance Hall Data

each dance will mark you as a tourist—a sucker! Of course, if you still insist on doing this, go ahead. At least, in this way you will get to dance with a lot of the hostesses and won't get into too much trouble. But it's not much fun.

Buy Many

If you want to make the most of your adventurous fling the best thing to do is to buy about three dollars' worth of tickets and carefully pick out a luscious lass for yourself. Select a warm-eyed one with exposure, slip your arm around her soft, curved body, give her the whole fistful of tickets, and cast a daring look at her—all at once. Things will happen! You are danced into a cozy corner (out of the beaten path of the sucker-dancers) and she folds an eager body tightly into your arms and she dances with a sultry mischievous slowness that presents all the exotic allure that you want for one evening.

On the other hand, if you go along with your terrific temptress and her contemptuous actions, you will be in for quite an eventful night. In this case you should always keep one eye on the dance hall's bouncer. He's the fellow to keep away from; you can't mess him, he is always a huge specimen of manhood with shoulders like stuffed sea-bags; he is the one who constantly circulates about the hall with ponderous grace, just like a bull in a china shop. He is hired for his adroitness in picking up and tossing out the guys who cause trouble. If you go too far with your lovely hostess—watch out! You'll be his next customer.

Cheating In Exams Is Very Old Trade

to children that "the end justifies the means."

Students Protest

What do the students say in their defense? Some students feel so challenged by the instructor's precautions against cheating that they try to outsmart him. Most students give one or more of the following reasons for cheating:

1. Family pressure and family rivalry.
2. The need to impress employers.
3. Unfair examinations.
4. Public posting of grades.
5. The competition between mature veterans and young students.
6. "You must cheat in self-defense because instructors use the normal curve of probability. If someone cheats—and you don't you're left out in the cold."
7. The rapid increase in enrollment which caused crowded classrooms, strain on instructors, and the feeling that students and faculty are opposed to each other.
8. "I am studying business administration. Why must I take two years of spanish?"

Few students will admit that they cheat because they did not study enough during the semester.

Students resent being forced to take courses contrary to their personal interests. In schools, such as Muhlenberg, most cheating is done in courses which are requirements for graduation. It seems, however, that whatever reason for cheating is given the student would rather have an "A" than an education.

Contemplate System

Much debate has been given to the merits of the honor system. This system revolves about the school spirit and the student's sense of personal honor. The student pledges not to cheat. If he sees anyone cheating, he is required to report the offender to the student honor board, a board composed entirely of students who have been elected by their fellow students. The honor board is solely responsible for punishing the cheaters.

Juniors Plan "Medieval Milieu" As Setting For Spivak Band

February Prom Features Professional Theme; Applause Meter Secured For Selecting Queen

Miss Gayle Dixon, featured with Charlie Spivak Band.

At first, students are reluctant to "squeal" on their classmates. Students on the honor board are also hesitant to punish a fellow student. Soon students realize that the cheater is only harming himself and other students. The honor system does work if students have a genuine desire to eliminate instructors from the examination room.

Others Do It

The students and faculty of many colleges are aware that cheating is a menace to college education. What steps have been taken to eliminate this evil?

1. They introduced the honor system on the campus.
2. They filed past examinations in the library so everyone could obtain their use.
3. Faculty members gave students advance information about the type and scope of an examination.
4. Students and faculty worked toward a closer relationship. In this way, the problem of cheating has been virtually eliminated at many colleges. What about Muhlenberg?

LaVerne Etschman, Dance Chairman for the Junior Prom, announced this week that all arrangements have been completed for the Prom which will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., Friday, February 24, 1950 at Castle Garden.

This year's dance will bring to 'Berg "Astaire's" many new surprises. The hall will be decorated by a professional decorator upon plans submitted by the Prom Committee. The theme of the affair will be "Medieval Milieu" which indicates that the setting will be similar to a medieval castle.

Charlie Spivak and his Band will provide music. However, the major event of the evening will be the selection of a Junior Prom Queen, which has become tradition at Muhlenberg. The Queen will be selected by use of an applause meter. Preliminary judging will be done by a board of judges attending the Prom.

The Junior Prom Committee consists of LaVerne Etschman, Chairman; Jack Phillips, Programs; Jack Kaelbaerer, Decorations; Warlyn Hammel, Band; and Marvin Berger, Publicity.

Juniors Submit Constitution

Marvin Berger, Junior Class President announced this week that a constitution for the class of 1951 has been submitted to the Student Council constitutional committee for their approval. The constitution will then be mimeographed and presented to class members two weeks before a class meeting for their approval.

A two-thirds vote of the Junior Class in attendance of a class meeting is necessary to ratify the constitution.

A fountain pen has been purchased for the Dick Stailey Memorial desk in the College Chapel and will be attached to the desk. A leather-bound ledger is also being purchased to beautify the memorial.

Plans are also being made to initiate a Junior Smoker for members of the class and their fathers which will constitute a week-end of activity.

NEW career opportunities for you in the U. S. AIR FORCE as an # OFFICER AND NAVIGATOR

In this era of long range flights, the role of the navigator has become increasingly important.

The U. S. Air Force now offers new opportunities to young college men between the ages of 20 and 26½ who are single and can qualify for such training.

If you can meet the high physical and educational standards (at least two years of college), and are selected, you can be among the first to attend the new one-year navigator training course at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston, Texas.

A new class begins each month!

You'll be an Aviation Cadet! And, you'll receive the best available training—including 184 hours in the new T-29 "Flying Classroom."

Then, graduation! You'll win your wings as a navigator . . . and a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force. After a 30-day leave with pay, you'll be ready for challenging assignments as navigator with one of the famous commands in the U. S. Air Force. Your office will be the "front office" of mighty bombers or long-range transports!

Be among the first to win your wings as a U. S. Air Force navigator under the new navigator training program—be a key man on the Air Force team!

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival—or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

Other Flying, Non-Flying Careers

Aviation Cadet pilot training is also available to young men between the ages of 20 and 26½. See about the many nonflying assignments, too! Never before in peacetime has there been such a good opportunity for college-trained men and women to obtain regular commissions in the United States Air Force.

Berg Board of Trustees Pay Tribute To Former Member

A resolution of tribute to the late Dr. William A. Hausman was adopted by the Board of Trustees at its meeting on December 13. The resolution is as follows:

The history of an institution is nothing more than the sum total of the record of service to it on the part of individuals who have the opportunity to be involved in its management and direction. This is true of a family, a congregation, a fraternity, a College, a Community, or a Nation. Men may come and men may go, each making an impact upon the life and career of what engages their interest, but the institution, whatever it may be, or may consist of, continues its life and destiny, enhanced or marred by the influence exerted by the constant stream of personalities which succeed to positions of trust and influence in its governance.

Outstanding Citizen

Throughout a period of more than half a century Muhlenberg College has had a conspicuous example of the high type of contribution to its general welfare that can be made by one person who has its interests constantly at heart. William A. Hausman, Jr., a native of this region and a lover of everything that is associated with this community, entered the College in the middle of the last decade of the 19th Century, graduated in 1899 as a member of a remarkably able class, proceeded to further study in the professional field of medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, achieved there a record which brought honor to himself and his College, and then entered upon a practice which not only brought him acclaim but endeared him to everyone, so that he was universally regarded not only as one of the Lehigh Valley's first citizens, but as an ornament to his profession.

Service To Alma Mater

Throughout his entire career, Will Hausman constantly stood for and exemplified the best that Muhlenberg College sought to inculcate in succeeding generations of undergraduates. He was ever generous in devoting his time to her affairs and never failed to volunteer his services in any area where the combination of his conspicuous abilities could be of help. The resulting record of service to his Alma Mater was as magnificent as it was unassuming and valuable. It can be stated without fear of contradiction that nothing of value that Muhlenberg has accomplished in recent decades was concluded without, in some way, a contribution to that end by Will Hausman. His class, his fraternity, his Church and his College, alike shared his interest and enthusiasm, while he neglected in no way community concerns of an increasingly wide scope. Others can and will record his accomplishments in these fields, but we, the members of the Board of Trustees of Muhlenberg College, on which he served since 1933, wish hereby formally to record our regret over his death, our abiding affection for him as a man, our appreciation for his devoted service ever since he enrolled as an undergraduate, and our sympathy to Mrs. Hausman and other members of his family. Therefore, be RESOLVED, that this statement be entered on the official minutes of the Board, that a copy be sent to Mrs. Hausman, and that copies be published in the Alumni Magazine and the Muhlenberg Weekly.

Surgical Operation Films Viewed By Pre-Medicals

Meeting at 6:30 p.m. in order to avoid conflicting with the Lafayette-Muhlenberg basketball game, members of the Pre-Medical Society last night saw two films on surgical operations. The movies were shown in room 305 of the Science Building by Dr. John Trainer, acting adviser to the group.

The first film, "Removal of a Pancreatic Stone," dealt with the surgical techniques involved in removing stones found in the pancreas, the compound gland situated behind the stomach that produces internal and external secretion. The second film, "Inguinal Hernia," discussed the question of hernia in all aspects and showed the surgical treatment employed.

Progress of plans for the group's annual visit to a medical school were reported by the executive committee.

Small groups of pre-med students have, through cooperation of hospital authorities, been conducted on tours of the state mental hospital at Rittersville during the recent weeks, it was announced last night. Members of the Society were advised that any pre-med desiring to make such a trip should contact either Dr. Trainer or Dick Rosamilia.

Allentown Cast On Mule Stage

Civic Little Theatre Stars Three Students In Play

Presenting a comedy-drama on the College Little Theater stage for a three night run, the Civic Little Theater of Allentown will stage John Patrick's "Hasty Heart" on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, January 19, 20, and 21. Starring in the cast are three Muhlenberg students.

Directing the production for the group is W. Butler Hixson.

Jerry Albert, '51, Warren Burns, '50, and William France, '51, are the 'Berg students featured in the cast of the play. All three are members of the Mask and Dagger Club, and are veteran actors.

Also included in the list of characters are Helen Burke, Jim Gordon, Buzz Gross and Dr. Newton Hess.

It is Dr. Levering Tyson's hope that Muhlenberg and Civic groups in Allentown should work with each other wherever a mutual benefit might be derived. It was with this idea that the C.L.T. was granted permission to use the College stage.

The Mask and Dagger Club welcomes the C.L.T. to its boards and hopes that it will lead to a greater exchange of cast personnel and technical knowledge in stage craft, according to Murry Stahl, M & D president.

Inter-squad Contests Prime Debate Group

The Forensic Council held another in their series of inter-squad debates on Tuesday, January 10, at 4:00 p.m. Since the debate season is drawing near, the question used was the national topic, "Resolved, that all basic non-agricultural industries should be nationalized."

The affirmative argument was presented by William Laird and Guenter Jansen. They were opposed by a negative team comprised of Ed Teeter and William Keiter. Following the practice used in the other debates of the series, there was no decision rendered.

A short business meeting was held prior to the debate.

Informal Tea Held

Along with the tour of the laboratories, the wives will visit a typical classroom in the administration building and a typical dormitory room in West Hall.

After the tour and the presentation of the play by Mask and Dagger, the informal tea will be held in the Student Center. The WEEKLY will be honored by having the Faculty Women's Club pour the tea and by having the Mar Kay Club handle the introduction of the faculty wives to the student wives.

Forensic Council Opens Season Against St. Joes

Keiter, Teeter, Laird And Jansen Face Phila. Debate Team On Thurs. Feb. 2, In West Hall

The 'Berg Forensic Council will open its 1950 debating season with a twin-bill with St. Josephs College of Philadelphia. The two debates, to be held at 7:30 p.m. on the evening of February 2, in the West Hall auditorium, will be concerned with the current national topic, Resolved: That the United States should nationalize the basic non-agricultural industries.

Muhlenberg debaters will be William Keiter and Ralph Teeter on the negative team in the first debate, and William Laird and Guenter Jansen on the affirmative team in the second debate of the evening. Judges for the debate, from Cedar Crest and Muhlenberg have been nominated, but as yet, not been named.

The first away debate will be held at Haverford College on the 7th of February at 4 p.m. The team for this debate has not been appointed yet, but the debate will also be on the nationalization of basic industries topic.

Haverford will reciprocate by coming to Muhlenberg for a debate on a topic unnamed on Tuesday, February 21, at 3:30 in the afternoon.

Phila. Inquirer Track Meet Attracts High Hurdle Champ

Muhlenberg will be represented at the Philadelphia Inquirer Track Meet on January 20, by "speedster" Bill Pulley. Pulley, who is the present holder of the Middle Atlantic high hurdles championship, will be competing in a field, of which contains Harrison Dillard, the ace from Baldwin Wallace.

Coach Fellows hopes to be able to enter his mile relay team, composed of Hank Folkman, Dick Acker, Harry Kreutzberg, Floyd Shupp and Don Albert, in some of the pre-season indoor track meets, which are usually held around this time of the year.

The mile relay team has high hopes for the on-coming season, and is naturally looking forward to Penn Relays which are held in April.

In regard to the rest of the track team, most of the fellows are working out in their spare time in the West Hall gymnasium. With such team spirit it is hoped the tracksters will have a good season.

Mules Hold Lead

Lafayette took the tap to start the second half and Davidson scored to make the score 40-29. Lafayette continued to cut into the Mules' lead 41-34. The Mules, though, kept pace with the Leopards and never seemed worried. They kept a comfortable lead of from 10 to 12 points at all times.

The Mules near the end of the game stretched their advantage to 79-61, but the Leopards closed the gap as 'Berg became slightly lax in their play. The Mules' Danny Mackin closed the game's scoring with a lay-up to make the final score Muhlenberg 83, Lafayette 69.

The Chowline

With the holiday season a thing of the past, and "spirits" put away, the next obstacle to surmount is examination week. One freshman said he'd rather go through a week of pre-Christmas shopping tours in a bargain basement than undergo a battery of 'Berg tests. Less strenuous he says.

One upperclassman had only four exams scheduled for one day; two of them were at the same time. Split personality imperative!!!

Eavesdropper! Overheard a group of intellectuals in the North Hall dormitory lobby the other night: "I'll see you," said one of them as he laid down four aces in a game of strip poker.

'Berg will graduate thirty-eight students at the end of this semester. Alumni secretary John Wagner is still operating a placement bureau for graduates. One alumni-to-be filled out a questionnaire, and the first thing that caught Mr. Wagner's eye was the blank marked "Salary Desired?" Next to it was written, "Yes."

Back on campus after eighteen months abroad is Dave Tyson. President T's son is a graduate with the class of '48, and former editor of the WEEKLY. He studied in Scotland, and was connected with the International News Service in Paris.

While going through the Commons "Crowline", a professor eyed one of his students who consistently failed to report for class. "What do you mean by playing truant—Why haven't I seen you?" asked the prof sternly. . . . Replied the delinquent; "Class hatred."

New Improvements At Student Center

Moe Fry, Student Council Chairman in charge of Improvement and Preservation of the Student Center, announced this week that among the many future plans for the center will be the opening of the poolroom to all students on Friday, January 13. Two pool tables have been placed upstairs in the Student Center and have been recovered. New cues and pool balls have also been purchased. Students are asked to use the tables with care since cost of replacing such equipment is very expensive and must come from the student funds.

It was announced also that some men have been infracting rules by taking food into the main lounge of the Student Center.

A large sign has been purchased to be placed over the main entrance to the building. Many other improvements will continue to be made so long as students use the building properly.

Church Leaders Head Week Of Campus I.C.L.

Faculty Cancels All Exams During Program Week Stimulating More Extensive Student Participation

The Institute of Christian Living, which will begin on February 26 and extend through March 2, will introduce several innovations to Muhlenberg campus procedure. Plans have been approved whereby prominent Christians will lecture in the regular scheduled class periods. To facilitate student participation, faculty cooperation has been extended, and no tests will be scheduled during any part of the week.

Aim To Repeat Success

The Institute will assemble at Muhlenberg under the auspices of the M.C.A., the Rehrig Lecture Fund, and the University Christian Mission of the Federal Council of Churches. According to Dave Long, Student Chairman, it will be the most concentrated program calculated to activate student interest ever attempted on the Muhlenberg campus. Programs of a similar nature have been conducted on numerous campuses throughout the nation, and have met with notable success.

Prominent Clergyman To Speak

Several clergymen of various Protestant denominations will guide the week-long affair. These men have been selected on the basis of their reputation as friends of student Christian groups and as leaders will be able to stimulate interest in Christian living. This group will include, Dr. John Oliver Nelson, Dr. Joseph Sittler, Dr. John Casteel, Dr. J. Oscar Lee, the Rev. Roy Hendricks, and the Rev. Oswald Elbert.

Geology Majors Attend Confabs

On Monday and Tuesday, February 13 and 14, the student associates in the Geology department will go to New York to attend the yearly meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineering at the Hotel Statler.

The speaker at this gathering will be President Eisenhower of Columbia, who will speak on "Metals and the Army," a talk on the importance of metal in the operation of a modern army.

On Tuesday the twenty-first, a delegation of students from Muhlenberg plans to attend the meeting of the Geological Society at Lafayette. At this meeting Dr. Ludlum will speak on the geology of West Virginia, a subject about which he is an authority.

Shellenberger Pres. Of Verein; German Paper 'Weekly' Rival

C. Edward Shellenberger was elected president of "Der Deutsche Verein" for the Spring term, 1950, at a meeting of the Verein held on Monday evening, February 6, in the Student Center. Other officers elected are Wilmer Sanders, vice president, and Paul Sittler, secretary.

The DV discussed two other business matters at this meeting. The first was the joint meeting with the French club, which will be held on Monday evening, February 20, 1950. At this meeting "Der Deutsche Verein" will present a puppet play, and the French club will read a paper.

A proposal to establish a German language newspaper on the Muhlenberg campus was also considered. No definite action was taken concerning this matter.

All three officers of Der Deutsche Verein are native Pennsylvanians.

Prom Leader

Charlie Spivak whose trumpet will provide leading note for dancing at the Junior Prom.

Applause Picks Dance Queen

Prom Jewelry Prizes On Display In Library

On February 21, at Castle Garden, the Junior Prom Queen, for the first time in Muhlenberg's history, will be chosen by means of an applause meter. The new system for selecting the Queen was announced this week by class president Marvin Berger. An applause meter designed by the physics department will register the audience's vote on ten girls picked by roving judges during a special dance number.

The girl receiving the loudest applause will immediately be crowned Queen of the Prom, and be awarded a corsage of red roses and a seventeen jewel Bulova wrist watch. Each of the other girls participating in the final selection will be given a sterling silver bracelet.

All of the prizes and the Queen's crown are now on display in the showcase of the Library.

The prom, this year entitled Medieval Milieu, will feature the music of Charlie Spivak and his

Classes Select Officers For New Semester

Laird Announces Poll Hours; Explains Voting Procedure

The freshman, sophomore, and junior classes held nominations of class officers for the Spring semester today at their class meetings. The men nominated will be voted upon on Monday, February 20, designated as class election day by the Student Council.

The voting places will be in the Student Center and will be open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Student Council election chairman Bill Laird will supervise the conduction of the balloting.

Laird emphasized the need for each voter to be familiar with the system of voting used in Muhlenberg student elections. Under this system the voter indicates his first, second, and third choice, or as many choices as he may care to make for each office listed on the ballot.

It is very important that each voter follow this procedure in order to assure an election which will accurately reflect the desires of the class.

Board Approves Plan; Power Unit Repairs

Trustees Weigh Question On Size Of Student Body

Meeting in special session last Friday, February 3, on the campus, the Board of Trustees approved plans for the remodeling and improvement of the College's power plant. Twenty-one board members attended the meeting.

Besides the question of the power plant, several other topics of current interest to the College were discussed at great length during the day-long session. It is reported that neither co-education nor the field house situation was the subject of any consideration at Friday's meeting.

Before making their decision regarding the power unit, the Board heard a report of that situation by the Committee of Buildings and Grounds, which described existing conditions and made proposals for improvement. A suggestion to relocate the power plant elsewhere on the campus was rejected, it is

March Date Set For Arcade Issue

The second week in March has been set as the tentative publication date for this year's Arcade, according to Tom Cole, editor of the campus literary magazine. Because of the scarcity of good material submitted by students this year the Arcade will be published in a single spring edition instead of the usual Fall and Spring editions.

"There simply was not enough good material available to put out the kind of a magazine we want," said Cole in commenting on the editors' decision to cancel the Fall edition. Cole emphasized that material is still being accepted for the March issue. He urged all students who have talent along literary lines to submit a sample of their work to any of the Arcade editors.

A new type of cover has been designed by Martin Wiesman for the March issue. It has been specially made to be a permanent cover design, allowing for a

'Berg Choir Aids CHEY Appeal With Series Of Area Concerts

College To Receive $780,000 Of Million-Dollar Goal; Student Speakers Push Drive, Leaders Plan Pilgrimage

by Ed Berdick

The United Lutheran Church's appeal for $6,000,000 to be used in Christian Higher Education received a sounding sendoff last week when the thirty-five voiced Muhlenberg choir and four student body members journeyed to Lebanon and Lancaster, Pennsylvania to make an appeal in behalf of the three months drive.

The Ministerium of Pennsylvania has the challenge of meeting a goal of one million, one hundred fifty two thousand dollars. Of this amount Muhlenberg is slated to receive seven hundred and eighty thousand dollars, to be used in the much needed repairs and additions.

Choir Aids Campaign

The Muhlenberg choir under the direction of Dr. Harold K. Marks opened their extensive choir missions on behalf of the appeal in January by travelling to Bethlehem, where they presented their varied program of sacred religious music. In the past week, the choir made a trip to Lebanon for an afternoon concert, followed by a similar program the same evening in Lancaster.

At present, the choir has listed two out-of-town engagements with several others still to be arranged. Sunday they travel to Kutztown to present the third of their CHEY series, while on March 19, they will appear in Trenton, New Jersey to participate in a CHEY rally.

Students and Faculty Participate
In addition to the work being done by the choir, in the appeal

W.S.S.F. Group Elects Kaelberer To Lead 'Berg Fund Campaign

Advisory Committee Maps Campaign Plans For Drive Tentatively Set For End Of Next Month

The W.S.S.F. Advisory Committee held an organizational meeting last week and elected John Kaelberer drive chairman for the coming fund appeal, tentatively set for the end of March.

Kaelberer, a junior from Philadelphia, is a member of Phi Kappa Tau Social Fraternity, and is active in Alpha Kappa Alpha, Honorary Philosophy fraternity. He has won letters in both soccer and tennis.

The World Student Service Fund, according to David Hoh, Advisory Committee member, is sponsored by the National Students' Association, the Student Christian Movement, the Hillel Foundation, and the Newman Club. W.S.S.F. appeals for worldwide aid for students and university centers throughout the world.

Money contributed during Muhlenberg's campus-wide appeal will be sent to needy students of the world in the form of books and equipment, food, clothing and medical supplies.

According to Mr. Kaelberer, the ravages of the recent war still exist in many parts of the world, and the needs of the world's students are just as great.

Attending the organizational meeting were David Hoh, representing Student Council; Carl Saueracher, I.F.C. representative; Marv Berger, representing the WEEKLY; and Paul Frick of the M.C.A. Also present were Jack Phillips, William Laird, and Mr. William C. Wilbur, faculty adviser to M.C.A.

The meeting was held in W.S.S.F. headquarters in the M.C.A. room, Student Center.

I.C.G. Holds Political Forum; Calls Students To Air Views

On Thursday, February 16, 1950, during the regular assembly period, the Intercollegiate Council on Government, a student organization, will conduct an open forum for the purpose of giving the student body at large an opportunity to air its political views concerning what type of material belongs in a would-be state constitution for the State of Pennsylvania. From the arguments and discussions that are sure to take place, the 'Berg delegation of I.C.G. will formulate a series of articles, sections, and clauses for possible use in a model state constitution.

Convention To Be Held

The 'Berg I.C.G. together with similar organizations from sixty other colleges and universities will meet in Harrisburg as a Model State Constitutional Convention from April 13 through April 16, 1950. This assembled group will try to write a workable constitution for the State of Pennsylvania. The 'Berg I.C.G. is hoping to profit by the forum next Thursday in that many valuable news and opinions gathered there might be usable material at the Convention in April.

Next week's forum will be conducted somewhat in the form and fashion of a U. S. Congressional Committee. In this way, the student body will be able to learn something of the workings of Congress, and by the very nature of its organization, order will be relatively easy to maintain and thus everyone wishing to express his political views and convictions will have a chance to be heard.

Rules Set Forth

David N. Alloway, Student Chairman of the 'Berg I.C.G., has set forth certain points which will be followed in attempting to assemble the political views of the student body. These are as follows:

1. Any member of the student body is welcome, and cordially invited, to present his political views and opinions. In fact, no one will be refused a right to be heard if he makes known to the I.C.G. his desire to speak.

2. In fairness to everyone, all views and opinions must be in line with the subject for discussion (which concerns itself with a model constitution for the State of Pennsylvania).

All Views Will Be Heard

3. Any person wishing to express his views may say anything he wishes to say on the subject without fear of censure by the I.C.G. committee or interruption by it so long as he acts in a gentlemanly manner.

4. The Student Chairman of the 'Berg I.C.G. delegation will pre-

Staff Promises Ciarla By 15th

According to a statement issued this week by Robert Osborne, Editor of the Ciarla, this year's edition of the College annual will be on the campus and ready for distribution on or before Wednesday, February 15, 1950.

"The Reading Book - Binding Company, which is completing work on the yearly, has guaranteed delivery by the above date," stated Mr. Osborne. Notices will be posted about the campus indicating the distribution center and hours for distribution as soon as the books are received, he said.

The Editor attributed the delay of the Ciarla to several factors: the increased size of the volume, the greater number of copies needed, and the more extensive use of color in the current issue. These factors, coupled with heavy printing commitments, slowed down the printing process and resulted in late delivery to the binders, declared Mr. Osborne.

Faculty Okays DeMolay Club

An important meeting for all members of the Order of DeMolay on campus will be held in the reception room in West Hall on Tuesday evening, February 14 at 7:30 p.m.

The DeMolay club which was organized last spring was sanctioned by the faculty at its last meeting.

Since the club has been chartered by the Grand Council in Kansas City, this meeting will be used to plan the club's activities.

This meeting will be open to DeMolays only. The club's next meeting will be open to any interested students.

Voting Rights Usurped By Unthinking Students

Above the general confusion at the Student Center voting polls can often be heard derogatory remarks against the small minority of students who are continually at the fore in running organizations, sponsoring activities, and literally "leading the show." Yet, when votes have been tabulated these same men have once again been elected leaders. Why?

Each student on campus has his own convictions, but few have the courage to display their convictions or exercise their beliefs. Instead, they either decline their prerogative to vote or vote carelessly for a man about whom they know little or nothing.

Voting is a privilege and a duty. Interest in intelligent voting would necessitate interest in one's fellow students. Results should not be classified as a "popularity poll" but be actual recognition of a nominee's leadership abilities.

In past Muhlenberg campus elections about 36% of the students actually voted. We, the voting students of this institution, should be thoroughly ashamed of this low percentage. Make it your duty to vote at all campus elections. Practice now will prepare you for better citizenship in the future. M.E.B.

Honor Students Should Be Given Recognition

In the past the honor of having one's name appear on the dean's list had more ceremony associated with it than merely a cold published list. If we are striving to establish an atmosphere of mutual respect between the students and the instructors then it seems fundamental that we honor in a more formal manner those students who have been able to maintain a high academic rating. The last ceremony associated with releasing the names of honor students was conducted in the chapel in 1947. What has become of that rite?

Publishing the names of the twenty-seven students who have met the requirements of honor standing does not seem to be sufficient credit for those men who are a credit to Muhlenberg. We contend that the administration should extend their congratulations in a manner fitting the highest recognition on campus.

We should like to suggest that a special chapel service be set aside in which the administration formally recognizes the honor students; at the same time this would give the student body the opportunity to personally extend their appreciation for the fine work done by those who are promoting the name of Muhlenberg.

There'll Be A Hot Time In The Boiler House This Eve

Old Stove Gets New Bricks As CHEY Plans To Aid Hot Air Factory In Face-lifting Operations

Charlie Berger, the man behind the man behind your radiator, gives the boiler house's massive furnace its daily lumps.

by Moe Fry

At long last, the energies of the college are being directed toward the renovating of the boiler house—one of the first buildings that appeared on 'Berg's campus. Previous history will ascertain that this building has served other purposes than just providing heat and light for the campus.

Prior to 1926, when the Science Building was erected, the basement was used as a lab for budding chemists and physicists of the last generation. For years, until the reconstruction of the Ad Building, the teams used the boiler house for dressing and shower rooms. But all things change, and at last it is back to its primary function of power and light.

Much Coal Consumed

How industrious is this bustling dynamo of energy? To heat all buildings on campus, 1400 to 1600 tons of coal are consumed yearly. Prior to the war, the college produced its own electricity, but since the war electricity has been purchased from P. P. & L. at an average of 120 kilowatts per hour. Peak consumption is reached between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Then it drops, and nearly ceases at 11 p.m. (exam week excepted), which is an indication of the sleeping conditions of the dorms. At this hour, too, the fires are banked, to be restored with the knocking of many radiators at 5 a.m.

Aid From CHEY

The future is very promising for this old landmark. The first funds to be obtained from CHEY are earmarked for the rejuvenation of the building. An additional annex is anticipated to handle future expansion of campus buildings—the Field House first, and the completion of East Hall quadrangle later. But in the long run, Muhlenberg is promised a boiler house that will meet all requirements for continuing heat and comfort.

Spirits Run High On Navy's Caught-on-bottom "Big Mo"

New Mystery Writer Contributes First Of Many Articles Dealing With Current Events

Writ by Foote

During the last few weeks many startling events have occurred, the two most important and significant being the unveiling of the H-bomb, and the de-barring of the battlewagon Missouri. Because I do not wish to give away military secrets and thus be labeled a Bolshevik spy, I will lay aside the matter of the Hydrogen bomb and speak to you about the Missouri, bless her steel hull.

There was a dense quietness. Then something went wrong! The gigantic tub slid to a grinding halt with such a suddenness that the captain tumbled out of bed along with his beer bottles and anything else which might have been in bed with him. That woke him up. Had Russia attacked? Had they been hit by a flying saucer? Had his partner kicked him out of bed? No! The answer came to him over the intercom system as an excited junior officer shouted: "Avast! Avast! We are undone! Man the battle stations! Prepare to abandon ship! Women, children and officers first aboard the lifeboats! Ahoy! Ahoy! Captain Souse report to the bridge at once!

Decision Made

Captain Souse picked himself off his stateroom floor and cursed the cold beer which ran between his toes and made the going slippery. After he found that they were no longer afloat he made the brave decision and issued the famous and world shaking order . . . "Reverse Engines!" By the time that the engines had started reversing the Kremlin had already heard about the incident and the Moscow Gazette announced that it was the greatest Russian invention since the final exam. Captain Souse was immediately awarded the Russian Medal of Honor as the "ideal comrade" of the year.

Mr. Stalin was quite perturbed that it couldn't have happened a bit sooner so as to have been his birthday present from America.

Shaw Comments

When George Bernard Shaw read the news in the London Foghorn he said, and I quote, "Blast those witty Americans, getting all the news," and Churchill commented "I'll have two crumpets with my tea today."

Harry had nothing to say to the press; he went to bed wondering if all his luck had run out on election day.

The captain held council with his lawyers and it was decided that he plead insanity.

Within minutes after this great national crisis television cameras, reporters, radio men, sightseers, navy brass, and B-36's were swarming all over the place. Some big Hollywood producer decided to commemorate the event by making a great motion picture epic entitled "Stuck Again," starring Ingrid Bergman.

Orders Issued

The first noble thing which the ill-starred captain did after he saw that the ship was immobile was to issue his second dramatic order: "Clean up my room!" He had been seriously thinking of forcing some lesser officer into his room so that the blame would be off his shoulders, but being made of noble stuff he decided not to do so low a deed.

The next day a few of the navy big wheels decided that by empty-

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

Writing this column is an adventure—like a mad plunge into the unknown. We were just sitting here, looking for a visitation from the Muse of Glib Idiocy, lamenting the fact that it was the beginning of the term and realizing that people hadn't time to be funny yet, when in walked Glen Bowersox. He solved our space filling problem with the following witticism, which is a historical note that Bowersox & Roof tagged on to a recent Chemistry Exam (to "ease the tension!") Better look it over cause it concerns the origin of the hitherto undefined, ever elusive, "Purple Shaft":

"This is the Day of St. Shaftus, the patron saint of all organizers, who was martyred on 13 January, 999, A. D. in the University town of Non-Campus-Meant-Us. His torture was perpetrated by a frenzied mob of semi-illiterate students who objected thus strongly to his different exams, which they called "Shaftae" after the kindly saint. The form of death was craftily worked out so that Shaftus was excruciatingly run through by a shaft of his own design, ironically, and suspended in a pot of boiling potassium permanganate—hence the term 'purple Shaftus'. According to canon law, when the day of St. Shaftus shall fall on Friday, the preceding day shall celebrate him, inasmuch as Friday the 13th has other connotations and superstitions. Thus, in humble observance of this day, and in thoughtful emulation of their patron saint, your instructors have thoughtfully dedicated this exam to the blessed memory of the good St. Shaftus." Well, there it is, take it for what it's worth. We feel we ought to let you know, however, that in spots this theory is fallacious, i.e.: Potassium Permanganate, when used for cure of athletes feet, turns the skin brown, not purple . . . thank heaven! Put it together and what have you got? Why, Bibbidi Bobbidi Boo, of course!

Key of See: Much hair was let down at the English major's "Banquet" held at the end of last semester. Laughs were the keynote of the evening as the smoke laden air was curdled by various limericks and parodies. If a full report could be made on the affair we feel sure that there would be more English majors on campus. However . . .

Turning from the provocative to the tender we find that the quaint fraternity custom of exchanging brothers for dinner has its shortcomings. Imagine the chagrin and embarrassment of Dick Mannheim when he discovered, half way through his pie, at Phi Tau, that he was scheduled to eat at ATO that night!

Hot notes: Yogi Benzadrine, lounge lizard, transom climber and one of our unimpeachable sources dropped this tidbit into our lap: Charlie Stecker, recently married treasurer, sat down to one of his wife's first meals. He speared a slab of what looked to him like butter. He lathered up his piece of bread with it, took a bite and made a wry face. "This isn't the kind of butter mama used to cook back in Oshkosh," he thought, but not wanting to jolt his wife at one of her first dinners, he ate in silence. Later he decided to take another stab at the "butter." He did, and it still tasted fetid. It wasn't until he mustered up enough courage to ask the frau, "what kind of butter do custers distil nowadays, anyhow?" that he found out that he was munching on sharp cheese. Yogi tells us that when Charlie was questioned about it, he giggled and sheepishly admitted, "I felt silly."

Random Tho't: They talk much now of professional women. Personally, we have never met an amateur.

MULE KICKS

LESS DANCES

Dear sir:

Since my stay at Muhlenberg I am getting more and more disappointed with the kind of lives that many of the students lead when they are not in classes when they go to so many dances and must have so many other things to occupy their mind besides their studies in a Christian college. There should be more fellowships and friendly meetings, with everybody doing their best to make this the kind of place it should be in this kind of an institution, with less dances and parties and other activities that do not help to build morals and character.

Students who want to lead the right kind of lives should help their unfortunate brothers who have not seen the light.

Give Away Contest Comes To Muhlenberg As Junior Prom Queen Rakes In Prizes

Her Majesty Will Ride In A Convertible, Sink Baskets, Mug For Cheesecake, Munch Candy and Muster Frosh

Being the Queen of the Junior Prom has become big business at Muhlenberg. Each year the Junior class tries to outdo its predecessors by heaping more honors and gifts upon its selected beauty. This year's juniors have spent thousands of dollars for publicity and awards for their selected queen.

Among the major prizes "Miss Junior Prom of 1950" will receive are a year's supply of Pepsi Cola from Pete's Pop Shop; two tickets to "Everybody Does It," playing at the Lyric; twenty-five pounds of Christmas candy, courtesy Wickie's Chocolate Store; and the statue of "Pete" Muhlenberg, which will be transplanted to the winning contestant's front lawn by McAuley's movers.

Ride With Sisto

In addition the Queen shall reign over Muhlenberg from the time of her coronation on Friday evening, February 24, until Sunday noon, February 26. She will be expected to devote Saturday morning posing for photographs, and will be shown the sights of Cedar Beach and the Rose Garden in the official court car, Averno's 1937 Plymouth coupe—top down.

Queen To Rule The Court

On Saturday evening she will be issued basketball trunks and join the 'Berg cagesters as they tackle the Bisons from Bucknell. Coach Borgmann announced that she will probably replace Marv Jaffe, against whom the Bucknellians were quite successful in a previous tilt.

Her official powers will end by crown and packing it for shipment to Roth's Jewelry Store. Among the many gifts she will be allowed to keep are a seventeen jewel Bulova, two dozen American Beauty roses (worth more than the watch).

band. A professional interior designer has been secured to decorate the Castle Garden ballroom as a typical medieval castle.

The rules for the Queen contest as released from the Junior class are as follows:

1. Every girl attending the dance as the date of a student of Muhlenberg College is eligible for the contest.
2. Each girl will receive a numbered card which she is asked to wear on the wrist of her right arm during the special "Queen Contest" set. This special dance will be announced over the public address system by the Prom chairman.

3. Roving judges will select ten girls from the audience as the semi-finalists for the contest.

4. The audience will then select the Queen. An applause meter will be used to register the popularity of each girl as she is introduced. The girl receiving the greatest volume of applause shall be crowned "Miss Junior Prom of 1950" and receive a corsage of red roses and a beautiful seventeen jewel Bulova watch.

charge of color from year to year.

Short stories by Ed Burnett and Owen Griffiths as well as an article by Dick Swavely, a newcomer to the Arcade, will appear. There will also be several pieces of poetry by Tom Cole and Walt Roberts, whose work has appeared in previous issues of the magazine. Something new in the way of art and photography work is promised.

Editor Cole stated that a copy of the Arcade will be sent to the homes of those men who graduated in February.

Trustees Decisions

reported, as a project too expensive to undertake.

The Board also discussed the matter of the rising costs of operating the college, and weighed the question of raising tuition and fees to meet these increasing expenses. However, no definite decisions were made.

The other topics which the Board considered, but upon which they took no final action, were the size of the student body, and the question of a full-time public relations office on the campus.

According to Dr. Tyson, the college plans to decrease its student body toward the pre-war level, and seeks to attain an ideal minimum enrollment which, however, will still meet the educational needs of the time. The student body next year will, he declared, number about 1000.

Rented Pictures Must Be Returned

Mr. Joseph Cantieni, head of the Art Department, requests that all persons who rented framed color reproductions from the department's collection please return the same. Someone will be present to accept them on either Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday, February 13, 14, or 15, between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 12:00 noon and 1:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m.

On Monday, February 20, redistribution of pictures will begin. In order to afford fairly equal distribution, each borrower will be limited to no more than two pictures. Anyone is welcome to take advantage of this service. One need just call at the Art department office, third floor, east wing of the Library.

Choir Plays Major Role In CHEY Plan

for funds, a selected number of Muhlenberg undergraduates have been chosen as representatives of the influence of a Christian College on an individual.

The student speakers are expressing their appeal on the work of the College and of the need of Christian higher education, as outlined in the United Lutheran Church plan. The appeal by the student speakers was presented on the recent trip to Lebanon and Lancaster by Paul Freed, Bill Laird, Ken Shirk and Dave Hoh. These undergraduates along with many others will carry the meaning of the campaign to its end in April.

The students are not the only ones carrying the load of the campaign, for recently and in the future, members of the faculty and staff will carry to church councils and other organizational groups throughout the Ministerium, the needs of the colleges and seminaries.

Pilgrimage Slated

The leaders of the CHEY campaign have outlined a pilgrimage to be made to the Muhlenberg campus on March 5, 1950 to encourage the needs of the College, its physical plant and its operation. If inclement weather interferes with the day's proceedings, the pilgrimage will be delayed one week to March 12, 1950.

The Pilgrimage is slated to get underway at 3 p.m., when the visitors first begin to arrive and will be followed with a tour of the buildings and grounds at 3:30 p.m., with the Cardinal and Key Society furnishing guides. Following supper at 5:30 p.m. in the Commons, the pilgrimage will be completed with a vesper service in the Chapel at 7:00 p.m.

Mighty 'Mo' Sails Again

ing all the liquids from the ship perhaps it would sail. For two days they pumped. Over two million gallons of fuel and bottled alcohol were taken from the ship. Still the Big Mo stayed put. The Air Force volunteered to fly the thing out but since the navy didn't want their pet made into the world's largest sea-plane they refused the kind offer.

Plan Overridden

Some wit, no doubt a rear admiral, made the suggestion that they hold the Hiss-Chambers retrieval below decks in the hope that the hot air would cause the ship to rise.

Then it happened. America had long awaited the event. Navy men prayed; airforce men prayed, little boys and girls prayed; the world waited in hushed expectancy; the clock ticked slowly by; the sands of time slipped away; 'twas like a snail's pace in a snow blizzard. Then, with a great movement (known to our next generation as The Great Ex-Lax) the giant battle machine, the magnificent tub, let go of shore, and amidst the brave playing of "Anchors Aweigh" the Mighty Mo was again afloat.

side, and he will alternate recognition between opposing sides if arguments and debates arise. Thus, everyone will be treated fairly.

5. The I.C.G. will impartially assemble all the views and opinions, arguments and decisions, etc., and it will use this collected information in its work at Harrisburg in April. Thus, indirectly, the Muhlenberg student body will be contributing to the Model Constitution that will be drawn up.

Every politically-minded student is invited by I.C.G. to express his political views and convictions at this forum. Persons interested in presenting their individual views on any phase of the general topic — A model State Constitution for Pennsylvania — should contact David N. Alloway, Student Chairman of I.C.G., any member of the organization, or Mr. Hollister of the Social Science department faculty adviser.

College Level Program

Alloway said that the program will be of interest to all students of college level. He pointed out that anyone attending will receive a fund of general knowledge on the subject even if he doesn't wish to take part in the discussion.

Muhlenberg Beats Temple In Thriller, 72-67

St. Joe's Giant Killers, Led By Senesky, To Face Mules

by Bob Godnick

St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia invades Rockne Hall on Saturday evening to tangle with the Muhlenberg Mules. A Freshman game, scheduled for 7 o'clock, precedes the varsity contest, set for 8:30 p.m. The Hawks, coached by Bill Ferguson, veteran of 22 campaigns, have compiled a 6-11 record thus far this season.

OVER... THE LINE

The banning of wrestling at Rockne Hall came as a blow to the local grapplers who seldom get to perform before the home fans. In spite of their 0-3 record, the wrestling team deserves to show the Muhlenberg student its prowess on the mat.

It is a matter of fact that the Muhlenberg wrestling team does not rate in the same class as Lehigh or Penn or in most instances with colleges Muhlenberg's size; however, I believe if the matmen could perform at "home" more frequently an active interest would be created in this much neglected sport.

The restriction of wrestling at Rockne Hall is another indication that the College needs a sport's home of its own.

The proposed field house would solve many of the College's athletic problems. At the present time the College must rent Allentown High's stadium for football, Rockne Hall for basketball—practice and regularly scheduled games, the Armory for Freshman basketball practice and the Oakmont Tennis Courts for the tennis team. The only sports which are held on the College campus are soccer, track and baseball.

With the construction of the field house the College would be able to save the rental fees and

High Powered Offensive

The record may prove most decisive, for St. Joe's brings a highly potent offensive unit to Allentown. Heading the array is Paul Senesky, one of the most prolific scorers in St. Joe history. He represents a distinct menace to the Cardinal and Grey forces. Earlier this season, Paul tallied 36 points to lead the Hawk five to an impressive victory over Utah, a team which extended powerful St. John's of Brooklyn.

Senesky Key To Hawks

Senesky will be flanked by several veterans of last year's squad, in addition to some promising newcomers. Veterans playing a key part in Ferguson's set-up include Tommy Frein, Paul McDermott and Jack Lister, while Johnny Hughes, Phil Brady and John Daley represent the members of the mentor's future plans. Nevertheless, St. Joe's fate lies in the accuracy of Senesky's frequent tosses.

Their Record To Date

St. Joe's record of 6-11 represents contests with many of the nation's best clubs who made a tour of the principle arenas of the East. Among their conquests are Utah and Louisiana State, while St. Joe lost to City College of New York.

The probable starting line-up: St. Joseph's (6-11)—Johnny Hughes, L.F.; Paul McDermott, R.F.; Paul Senesky, C.; Tommy Frein, R.G.; Phil Brady, L.G.

Action in Muhlenberg-Villanova game goes to the floor as Saemmer (16), McGee (28), and Arizin (11) battle for the ball.

Here's How They Stand...

Marv Jaffe is the leading scorer for Benny Borgmann's varsity five. The New York product has collected 198 points on 81 two-pointers and 36 charity tosses. Al Saemmer follows in the scoring parade with 181 markers scored on 78 field goals and 25 foul goals. Captain Dick McGee follows in the scoring with 172 points. Baker with 133 and Mackin with 122 round out the group above the century mark.

Jaffe's average for the first 14 games is 14.1 with Saemmer averaging 12.9 per contest.

The Mules are ranked eighth in the nation in team offense with a 70.9 average. Holy Cross is the leader with 74.9, followed by Villanova and CCNY with 73.1 and 72.4 percent respectively.

Avenge Earlier Defeat In Rockne Hall Contest

In what was the best game played at Rockne Hall this season, the Muhlenberg Mules avenged an earlier season's defeat at the hands of Temple by scoring a 72-67 victory. The Mules showed their best form of the season as they defeated the Owls.

Intra-Murals Resume Play; Phi Sigs, Cats, Glad Five Top Loops

Action was resumed in the I.M. League last Monday with teams in League III competing. In the afternoon contest the Black Cats continued undefeated by smothering the Sinners 64-23. Mazzucca tallied 19 points to lead the winners, while Hasenauer's 7 was high for the losers. Stianchi held on to the individual scoring leadership by netting 13 points for the victors. Lambda Chi Alpha led by Whitehill's 14 points blasted the Bears 47-27. Kolb hit for 14 points for the losers. With Mills splitting the meshes for 21 counters the Devils trounced the Black Knights 53-14. Mitchell paced the losers connecting for 8 points.

Little Al Saemmer, the Mules' ball-o-fire led the attack until his knee was injured near the end of the first half. He had bucketed 11 points up to then. He did not play at all in the second half.

Borsavage opened the scoring by canning two fouls. Baker scored from the side to make it 2-2. The Mules then took a 7 to 6 lead, increasing it to 17-11 at the end of the first nine minutes of play. Temple spurted to tie it at 17-all.

Mules Hold Lead

The Mules came right back on a goal by Saemmer and never relinquished the lead during the rest of the half.

The second half began with Martini sinking a pivot shot. The Mules then increased their lead to 50-37 as the pace was fast and furious. The Owls started to come back as they continued their tactics of trying to run the Cardinal and Grey off their feet. Temple pulled up to within four points of 'Berg, 60-56 with about six minutes remaining.

It was here that the Mules, changed their strategy and went into a deliberate floor game of passing till they got a man under the basket for a clear shot. This strategy worked perfectly and the Mules pulled away from Temple at 67-60 as the two minute period started. The Mules never lost command of the lead in the second half and when the final buzzer sounded had won a thriller 72-67 from Temple.

Mules Meet Lafayette At Easton Wednesday

Next Wednesday evening, Benny Borgmann sends his Muhlenberg Mules against Lafayette College at the Easton school's court. It will mark the second meeting of the two teams this year, Muhlenberg having stopped the Leopards previously at Rockne Hall by an 83-69 count.

Matmen Lose As Sutton Keeps Record

The Muhlenberg wrestling team suffered its third defeat in as many meets last Saturday, when the Delaware matmen topped them by the score of 17-11.

George Sutton, captain of the Muhlenberg team, took a 3-0 decision over Delaware's Gardner in 124 lb. division, keeping his record of being undefeated and not scored upon intact.

Muhlenberg scored one fall when Shulka pinned Carr in the 155 lb. class. Time—5:59.

Summaries:
121 lb. class—Decheser, Muhlenberg, won a decision over Sprether, Delaware, 2-0.

129 lb. class—Hopkins, Delaware, pinned McCall, Muhlenberg, in 7:53 with a cross body ride.

136 lb. class—Runk, Delaware, won a decision over, Miller, Muhlenberg, 3-0.

145 lb. class—Capt. George Sutton, Muhlenberg, won a decision over Gardner, Delaware, 3-0.

155 lb. class—Sahulka, Muhlenberg, pinned Carr, Delaware in 5:59 with a crotch and half nelson.

165 lb. class—Snyder, Delaware, won a decision over Schmauch, Muhlenberg, 8 to 7.

175 lb. class—Paris, Delaware, won a decision over Evans, Muhlenberg, 6-1.

Heavyweights— Captain Ted Young, Delaware, decisioned Schell, Muhlenberg, 5-0.

Berg Trims Albright As Bench Is Cleared

Decidedly on in their shooting and controlling the boards because of a definite height advantage, Muhlenberg's Mules rolled to a convincing 79 to 58 victory over an aggressive Albright five before a sizeable Saturday night crowd at Rockne Hall. The win was the second the Mules have gained this season over Albright's Lions, having bested them 76-50 on the Reading hardwood earlier in the campaign.

Jaffe Sparks Mules

Sparked by Marv Jaffe, whose shooting throughout the game earned him the plaudits of the crowd, the Mules overcame an early 5-0 deficit and rode to a 24-13 lead. Then the Borgmann men really caught fire and three quick layup goals by Bill Baker, two set shots by Al Saemmer, and a long deuce by Leo Martini vaulted them to a comfortable 36-13 lead. At this stage in the contest, Coach Borgmann removed his starting five and sent a second platoon into the game. Against this five, the Lions, led by Danny Bieber who tallied three consecutive goals from outside the foul circle, fought on even terms to trail 29-46 at halftime.

Bar Mat Meets Frosh With Varsity Future

The two wrestling meets scheduled for Rockne Hall as preliminaries to the basketball games have been postponed. This was announced this week by Mr. Lawson, who said that a recent ruling made by Central Catholic has barred the use of the hall to any wrestling.

The grapplers were to meet Temple last night in the preliminary to the Temple-Muhlenberg basketball game. The 'Berg-Temple grapplers will meet Wednesday, February 22 at 3 p.m. in Turners Hall at Temple.

The Central Catholic ruling was made several weeks ago but college officials tried to persuade the high school to cancel its policy against wrestling in Rockne Hall. When the college officials were unsuccessful in their persuasion attempts the change with Temple was made.

Frosh With Varsity Future

With the loss through graduation of such stars as Saemmer, Jaffe, Martini, Mackin, and McGee staring him in the face, the rabid Muhlenberg basketball rooster begins to cast an anxious eye in the direction of Freshmen hopefuls expecting to find capable replacements for the wealth of departing talent.

One of the most promising players brought to the fan's attention is lanky Dick Eckert, whose deadly left-handed hook shot, enables him to currently lead all scorers on Coach Triplett's Freshman squad.

Hellertown High Product

Dick, who stands 6 feet 3 inches tall and hails from Hellertown, thus far has scored 130 points in eight games which gives him a healthy average of 16.2 points per game.

But maintaining a high scoring average is nothing new for this slender six-footer. In his senior year at Hellertown High, Dick amassed a total of 459 points in would be able to accommodate larger crowds for the basketball games—if the proposed six thousand seat field house were built.

There is also the possibility that the court could be rented to the local high schools for their championship playoff games. The local papers are anticipating a playoff game between Allentown High and Hazleton High; but they state there is no gymnasium large enough to hold the crowd, so the game will be taken to Philadelphia.

Besides its use for varsity athletic competition, the field house would be a great help in expanding Muhlenberg's I-M leagues and would provide an excellent place for conducting "gym" classes during inclement weather.

There is the possibility that if construction were started people who have hesitated in giving money may be more willing to give after they see some material progress. Even if only the "shell" of the field house were built it would be a step in the right direction.

It would be a great event for Muhlenberg if in this mid-century year a modern athletic plant were started.

The Athletic Office announced that they will not receive any tickets for the Lafayette-Muhlenberg basketball game at Easton next Wednesday, February 15.

Students desiring to see this contest will have to take their chance of purchasing tickets the night of the game.

29 games, including play-off and tournament tilts, for an average of 15.8 points per contest. Dick led the Hellertown team to the championship of the Lehigh-Northampton league and subsequently into the District 11 Class B Title playoffs where they were finally eliminated by Kutztown High.

Named On All-Star Team

The rangy Hellertonian also appeared with his high school team in the Rockne Hall invitational scholastic tournament which is held every year during the Christmas holidays. Although his team was eliminated in the semifinals after defeating Slatington High in the opening round, Dick was voted one of the outstanding players of the tournament and was named on the tournament all-star team at the center position.

Dick, who is only 18 years old, has already four seasons of basketball playing under his belt, having played two years of varsity and two years of junior varsity at Hellertown High.

The Chowline

One of the most frustrated men on campus today is the History Department's Dr. Johnson. On the first day of school, he assigned a date for the first test—March 1. Confidently he asked, "Are there any conflicts, students?" Without a moment's hesitation two students raised their hands and informed the fainting instructor that Dr. Kendig had beat him to it.

Sex appeal has been added to yet another building on campus. The entire student body bows in reverent thanks to Scotty Wood for giving us Doty behind the Snack Bar. She's so much sexier than Pap.

Phi Sigma Kappa's Glen Hanky (believe it or not, that's his real middle name) Bowersox was a little down-hearted the other night when Muhlenberg's Cagers beat his alma-mama, Gettysburg, 78-59.

It sounds almost incredible that 42 out of 43 people standing in one spot could be almost completely ignored. That's what happened in last Thursday's assembly program, however. Sorry, fellows, she was wearing a sparkler on her left hand. Riding on the Capital University bus must be unbearably frustrating to the 51 unlucky ones.

Scotty Wood has inaugurated another service for students. Every weekday night a vendor comes to every dorm room to satisfy that urge for a good sandwich and a bottle of milk. The demand is growing nightly.

With the starting team back to open the second half, the Mules, led by captain Dick McGee, scored from the corners and on quick drive-in shots to break Albright's futile zone defense wide open. However, the Lions, with Jess Ervin, Bob Ruoff, and captain Ed Anlian leading the way, scored regularly from inside the foul line to match the home five. With five minutes remaining to be played, Coach Borgmann sent a fresh quintet into the game to wrap up the 79-58 victory.

In their tenth win the Mules scorers were led by Marv Jaffe with 20 tallies, while Ed Anlian and Bob Ruoff topped the losers with 14 points each.

Foreign Study Group Visits College Campus

'College Of Good Road' Makes First Stop Here; Seeks Answers To Management-Labor Disputes

Thirty European students of the College of the Good Road, an outgrowth of the Moral Rearmament Movement, yesterday visited Muhlenberg College as the first stop on their tour of eastern seaboard cities. The group, which includes both young men and women from seven foreign countries, has as its primary aim "the seeking of answers to problems that lie between management and labor, in international circles, and in almost any other walk of life."

Its founder, Dr. Frank Buchman, is a Muhlenberg alumnus of the class of 1899. He founded the organization last year, when it was incorporated in Canada, Switzerland, and England. Dr. Buchman is leading the group on its visit to the United States.

Following a reception at the College by Dr. Tyson and religious services in the Chapel, the body of students was entertained at a tea in Dr. Buchman's home, this city. They then visited the Lehigh Valley Dairy and other points of local interest.

These foreign students, who are in America on an exchange basis, arrived Tuesday morning on the Queen Mary and were escorted to Allentown in a cavalcade headed by Spencer Miller, New Jersey State Highway Commissioner. Similar groups of American students are making like tours and studies in Europe.

Represented in this movement are students, from forty different nations and eighty-one universities of the world, who speak for more

Crest Sponsors Day Of Prayer

This Sunday, February 19, 1950 will mark the fourth annual Student World Day of Prayer service to be held between Muhlenberg and Cedar Crest College. This year the service will take place at Cedar Crest in the recreation room of Curtis Hall at 6:30 p.m. Dean Weist of Cedar Crest will deliver the address for the second straight year. In addition to this the Cedar Crest Choir will render several numbers. Immediately following the service a luncheon or coffee hour will be held.

A World Wide Service

This is a world-wide service by Christian students who use the same order of worship. All Muhlenberg students are urged and cordially invited to attend.

MCA Outlines Spring Plans; Practical Christianity Stressed

Setting its sights for a successful spring semester, the MCA announced that it has prepared a program designed to meet the tastes of the entire student community.

Prominent Leaders To Speak

To assist students in gaining Christian insights toward the solution of the world's pressing problems, the following activities have been arranged. At the close of February, the Institute of Christian Living will enable Muhlenberg students to hear prominent world leaders discuss such topics as, "Should a Christian Go To Church?", "The Negro—Our Brother," and "Ghandi—Right or Wrong?"

The March theme will be an endeavor to study the delicate and revolutionary situation in the Orient and its significance to the Western world.

Unique Theme Marks Jr. Prom

Class Lists Chaperones And Issues Invitations

All arrangements for the Junior Prom are nearing successful completion, according to La Verne Etchman, dance chairman. The professional decorator hired to design the interior of the ballroom in the Medieval theme will start to work next Thursday. Thirty-five men from the Junior class will assist him in preparing the ballroom for the dancers on Friday night.

Invitations to all faculty members and their wives will be sent out this week. The ticket price for alumni attending the affair has been set at three dollars. The dance chairman stressed that all students must present an activities card to gain admission. Men from the Cardinal Key Society will be stationed at the doors to see that only Muhlenberg men and their dates enter the ballroom.

Burns Directs ICL Offering Of Eliot Play

"Murder In Cathedral" Presents Novel Effect.

At 8:30, February 26, as a part of the Institute of Christian Living, the genius of T. S. Eliot will visit Muhlenberg via the medium of one of his better known works, "Murder In The Cathedral." The play will be staged in the Gideon F. Egner Memorial Chapel. Warren Burns has assumed the responsibility of directing the play, and he promises to exploit the dramatic resources of the College Chapel in a manner which will lend both increased intensity and dignity to the production.

The plot of "Murder In The Cathedral" finds origin in a crucial moment of British history, the murder of Archbishop Thomas Becket at Canterbury in 1170—one of the numerous incidents in the classic struggle of the Middle Ages between church and state. The college chapel resembles

Debaters Journey To Albright Tournament

Long, Teter Represent Berg; Laird, Jansen Vie Saturday

Muhlenberg College's Forensic Council, faced with its fullest week of the current debating season, gained one victory and suffered two defeats. On Tuesday, February 7, Jack Phillips and Edward Teter defeated the Haverford debating team by successfully negating the proposition that the United States should nationalize basic non-agricultural industries. This debate was held at Haverford.

In a home twin debate on Thursday, February 9, both Muhlenberg teams lost to Elizabethtown. Richard Koch and Edward Teter (affirmative) and William Keiter and Thomas Calnan (negative) represented the Forensic Council. Judges for the debates (on the subject of nationalization of basic industries) were Mr. Mohn of the Muhlenberg English Department, and Mr. Meredith of the Muhlenberg History Department.

Huston Seeks Voices For New Vocal Group

A new feature will be added to the College Music Department. The organization of a Glee Club, under the direction of Raymond Huston, will begin on February 20.

Believing that every college should have a glee club, Mr. Huston hopes to have a membership of about thirty to forty voices in the organization. The music to be sung by the group will be of a modern type such as that sung by the Fred Waring Glee Club. If the new ensemble progresses sufficiently, Mr. Huston hopes to present a short "Pop" concert in the Science Auditorium before the close of the semester.

Regular rehearsals will be held every week. An organization rehearsal will be held Monday evening, Feb. 20, at 7:30 p.m., in room 35 in the Library Building. At that time it will be decided what time and day the weekly rehearsals will take place. Officers will be nominated and elected in the near future.

Record Turnout Votes For New Slate Of 'Berg Class Officers

Fry, Shortridge Reelected Senior And Frosh Leaders; Mangini And Teal Win Junior And Sophomore Elections

By Ed Berdick

In the class elections, which saw sixty per cent of the total student body vote, Irvin Fry and Lee Shortridge were re-elected president of the Senior and Freshmen Classes respectively. In addition, the 587 students who voted elected John Mangini as Junior Class president and Dick Teal as head of the Sophomore Class.

Other Officers Elected

In addition to Fry, Bill Laird was elected vice president; Joel Skidmore, secretary; and Jack Crider, treasurer of the Senior Class. For the class of '51, Al Ruppert carried off the vice-presidency, while Walt Schray and Jerry Albert were elected secretary and treasurer respectively.

Floyd DeChester was voted into the office of vice president for the Sophomore Class, while Ted Drach was elected secretary and Truman Koehler, treasurer. Carrying the load of freshmen duties for this semester along with Shortridge will be Dick Cowen as vice president; and Dave Noble, treasurer.

Senior Class Lists Highest Votes

The sixty per cent turnout to the polls on Monday was the highest percentage recorded on the campus. Out of the 587 votes cast, the Senior Class drew the heaviest mount of votes; 182 class members cast ballots. The Sophomore Class cast 152 votes. 144 freshmen and 109 juniors voted.

Mangini Previously Class Officer

John Mangini, the newly elected president of the Junior Class, is a carry over from the past fall term, having previously been class treasurer. Mangini's home is in Fort Lee, New Jersey. He is majoring in history and is a member of Phi Kappa Tau Social Fraternity.

Dick Teal, the new leader of the Sophomore Class, will hold his first class office as a Muhlenberg student. Teal, a history major, hails from Philadelphia, and is a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

Mangini and Teal will replace out-going presidents Marv Berger and Jim Loucks as representatives of their classes on the Student Council.

Society Hears Adoption Head

Last Thursday, February 9, the Sociological Society held its first meeting of the new semester in the Recreation Room of West Hall. The constitution was read. It is to be proposed for adoption at the next meeting.

The speaker was Mrs. V. Woodhead of the Lutheran Children's Bureau. Mrs. Woodhead, who spoke to the society on child adoption, said that there are four interests to be taken into consideration in the adoption of a child: The original parents; the child; the new parents; and society, represented by the Bureau. The child is the most important of the four interests. It is necessary that the child be put into a home where it can make the best environmental adjustment possible.

Bureau Finds New Parents

The new parents, when expressing their desire to adopt a child, must reveal personal matters such as family income, religion and occupation to the Bureau. It is the duty of the Bureau to receive the child put up for adoption, and to care for the child before new parents are found.

When the parents-to-be express the wish to adopt a child, the

Berger, Mourad Win New Posts; Weekly Starts Personnel Drive

Editors Interview Candidates For All Staffs In Campaign To Build Paper's Writing Force

At a dinner meeting held recently Editor-in-Chief Paul Freed named Marvin Berger as the new managing editor and Pete Mourad as feature editor of the Muhlenberg WEEKLY for the spring semester.

Mr. Freed also announced that a recruiting program has been inaugurated to secure new men for the WEEKLY staff; and that interviews are being held in the city room of the WEEKLY offices.

Many Positions Vacated

The WEEKLY editors emphasized the fact that there are positions open on all the staffs. "Reporters are needed to fill vacated posts in the News, Feature and Sports staffs," stated Freed. The business and circulation staffs also have several openings for capable men, he declared.

Managing Editor Marvin Berger casts critical eye on latest issue of WEEKLY. He leads new personnel drive to increase staff.

Marvin Berger, new managing editor, moved into that position from the feature editor's post, and Pete Mourad succeeded Berger as feature editor.

Active in Campus Life

Berger, a member of the Junior Class, is active in Student Council, Mask and Dagger and Sigma Phi Epsilon Social Fraternity. Last fall he served as Junior Class President.

Mourad, former feature writer, is the chief announcer of WMUH, College radio station. He is also a member of the Band and was named to the Dean's List last year. Mourad is an English major in the class of 1952.

Seven Qualified Leaders

The seven prominent Christian leaders have recommended themselves by their academic qualifications as well as their ability to make friendly contact with students. Dr. John Oliver Nelson, Dr. Joseph Sitler, Roy Hendricks, Oswald Elbert, Dr. Hagen Staach, Dr. John Casteel, and Dr. J. Oscar Lee will endeavor to present a comprehensive yet integrated program which will increase student awareness of the vital relationship which exists between religion and everyday activity. The speakers have expressed hope that students will feel free to approach them with any problems or questions.

M.C.A. Shares Sponsorship

Sponsorship of the Institute is being shared by the M.C.A., the Rehrg Lecture Fund, and the University Christian Mission of the Federal Council of Churches. The Muhlenberg Institute of Christian Living and a program to be held at Moravian in conjunction with the I.C.L. are the only Pennsylv-

Students Reminded Of Council's Open Doors

The recent elections for class offices, along with giving us brand new student leaders, have shown a marked trend toward a goal aspired to for many years in the past. They indicate a greater amount of awareness and interest in student affairs. A comparison of statistics from the election on Monday and from the vote on political action groups—60% of the student body participating in the former, 40% in the latter—presents a definite sign of that tendency.

With such spirit on the rise, it is important that we call the student's attention to still another facet of campus activities that has been neglected, probably for reasons of misunderstandings.

The Student Council has always maintained a policy of holding its meetings open to anyone of the Muhlenberg family who cared to attend. That policy seems to have gone unnoticed, and, in line with the enthusiasm for campus political matters demonstrated this week, the WEEKLY wants to reacquaint its readers with the right they are ignoring.

Student Council convenes every Thursday evening at 7:30 in its conference room on the second floor of the Student Center. We urge all students to attend, whether out of a desire to become more widely versed in campus affairs, or to become a more active part of the college community. Don't claim ignorance as an excuse for a lack of participation. Use the privilege granted by Student Council to attend its meetings.

From Where I Sit

Use A Grade As An Aid

One of the attributes of an educated person which we at Muhlenberg are interested in seeing developed as much as possible is the capacity to see things in perspective. One of the times of year when we are apt to lose the perspective on the goals of our common educational experience is the examination period. We are apt to become so interested in grades that we give them a false emphasis. Because our educational society is what it is, there is little prospect that we can eliminate grades or other measuring devices. We can, however, both as students and as faculty, work diligently at increasing our skill in using grades so that they become aids rather than false standards or hindrances.

The danger of losing perspective was brought home forcefully to me when I read Professor George F. Whicher's review of Professor Gilbert Highet's "The Classical Tradition" in the December 18, 1919, New York Herald Tribune Book Review. I quote the following, with permission, as a suggestion for thinking in connection with improving our perspective as we work together at gaining a liberal education. Professor Whicher writes of Professor Highet's book:

"It is dedicated to the proposition that 'Civilization is the life of the mind.' All other objectives such as material security, health, a reasonable distribution of property, and national safety mean nothing unless they lead to an enhanced inner vitality, a life more abundant. It is that which makes us truly human, and incidentally it is that alone which makes us significant to other human beings. But mental activity comes chiefly through attrition from outside. 'No language, no nation,' declares Professor Highet, 'is sufficient unto itself. Its mind must be enlarged by the thoughts of other nations, or else it will warp and shrivel.' Consequently, the main factor in education, not merely for children but for men and women throughout their lives, is a stimulating contact with a culture apart from their own."

Diminutive Student Leader Has A Versatile Background

The Army Has No Charms For Our Ex Fly-boy Who Has Become Activity King At Muhlenberg

Bill Lybrand, seated at a table in the Student Center Building, irons out the problems of one of his constituents.

Moe Fry

As was said of Napoleon, "A little man sometimes casts a big shadow," so may it be said of Bill Lybrand, president of Student Council. Though burdened with the many responsibilities that this position carries, Bill is actively engaged in many other activities on the campus. Since his appearance at Muhlenberg in March, 1946, Bill has earned the enviable reputation of being one of the most influential students on campus. The Psychology Club, O.D.K. honorary fraternity (Muhlenberg's Phi Beta Kappa), varsity baseball for two years, four years with the M-Club, vice-president of his sophomore class, president of his junior class, on the editorial staff of the WEEKLY, and other countless and sundry jobs on committees—he made himself the ideal candidate for Who's Who in American Colleges, to which he has been elected for the years 1949 and 1950.

Early Leadership Noted

Born in Philadelphia, January 19, 1925, Bill appeared as another small addition to the world at large. After the usual plodding through grade school, the family moved to Maple Shade, N. J. (the biggest little city this side of Reno), and at Morristown High he began to demonstrate his potentialities as a leader. There, Bill was a member of the Varsity Football team, a member of the Civic Club, and as a senior, was chosen by the school to be president of the Monitor Club.

Came the War, and Corporal Lybrand found himself with the Eighth Bomber Command in Scotland, England, France, Belgium, and Germany. When queried about his army life, Bill said: "I disliked most induction day, and what I liked best about the Army was the discharge ceremony."

Dates With Much Care

For his college life, Bill highlights two incidents: "Directing and participating in the M-Club shows have really been my most interesting extra-curricular experiences, and being Student Council President has been my most enlightening." Never engaged or married, Bill does welcome dating "with discretion." A major in psychology, and serving as a laboratory assistant for the last two years, Bill intends either to go to Graduate School or to enter personnel work, with the former being his major goal at present.

With such an impressive record behind him, with the capable command of the materials and education, keen personality and insight of human nature that Bill has, the immediate future looks bright for "Mr. Muhlenberg."

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

We dropped into Hemmerly's to look at some television—retched a little and started to leaf through the black book. Dear reader, are you one of the few left in this world who have faith in humanity? Dig this and your trust will lessen considerably. It happened at one of the rat races down town where unattached Bergmen sprawl when they don't have their noses in "Hockstrap and Dishlinger" or other texts. We gather that George Wagner had a girl whom he liked. George likes to dance and he also likes his "soda-pop". George has a "buddy" whose name is "Slim." George said to "Slim," take care of my gal for a minute; I have to refill my cauldron with some gruel." The suds surged through the coils and George wandered back to his table, finding no girl and no buddy. "There they are on the dance floor. What a good buddy "Slim" is to keep my gal amused for me," George mused. However, "Slim's" motives weren't "buddylike" that night, for when George tried to cut in on his girl he got a terse "Shove off buddy," from his supposed pal. Now we ask you, with the knowledge that there must be thousands more people in the country like that, do you still care if the "H" bomb purportedly has a fifty mile slaughter radius?

It's funny about classes—sometimes we think college would be much the better without them. Nevertheless, we are forced to admit that some excellent retorts come from that den of knowledge, the "back of the room." For instance, this studied reply came from the rear quarters in answer to Mr. Lorish's request for theories as to the advisability of invoking the Taft-Hartley act in the coal miner dispute: "No, No, there's no use—you'll only drive them underground!"

There is that page in the newspaper trade called the "left over" page. It corresponds to file thirteen or the circular file, in business. Often, material accumulates there and rots because it just "don't fit." The following items would still be there but the editor put another turn on the thumbscrew and spat, "Use it or lose it!" Not sure what it was we were going to lose, we used it:

Won't be long: A hollow-eyed cat recently dragged itself through the door of "Mamie Kern's". It seemed hardly able to crawl and its gait caused a visiting Lehighman to ask "Sick?"

"No," retorted Billy Rowe, 'but he's the only tom cat within six blocks."

"Red" Glickman brought his black Spitz, Queenie, to the basketball locker room the other day. Red said, "Okay Queenie, better go outside now, the boys are getting undressed. She obediently, quickly, and unhesitatingly picked her black tail up and walked out with it. "My," remarked Coach Borgmann, "what terrific control! I hope you have the same success with your wife." "Yeah," retorted Red, "Darned smart mutt. My old man was going to send her to school but he thought I'd get more out of it in the long run."

Here's a hoary veteran: "To be college bred means a four year loaf, requiring a great deal of dough and plenty of crust."

Overheard at Liberty Hall: "If I'm still studying when you come back, wake me up."

Football is dated again for another year, but the irrepressible antics of the team members live on. The oft quoted "Slant Eyes" Luongo donned a very serious expression at chow not long ago, and tapped his glass for quiet, signalling that he was going to say grace. This is what came out. "Baughman is my shepherd, please put me in, I'll surely score a touchdown, and then we'll win." Don't cry Luongo, maybe next year.

A ROSE

A rose grew in the garden.
Soaking up the sunlight,
The flower reflected it in its color.
It was red as blood and its thorns were sharp.

Growing on a lonely bush
This rose surpassed the rest.
Large and young in life.
It brightened the garden in shining beauty.

The sun rose in the East,
And the rose spread wide its petals.
The sun set in the West,
And a broken stem was all that remained.

—J. Wiley

Heedeth Advice Of Student In The Hands Of An Angry Dean

All Transfers And Freshmen Shouldst Read Epistle Lest They Hasten Untimely Demise

I. Lo all ye miserable sinners entering thy college career through this vale of blood, sweat and tears called Muhlenberg; hearken unto my words, for I have dwelt in this land for many months, and mine eyes have witnessed all manner of folly, woe and misery.

II. Verily have I tasted the bitter fruit of Probation and drained the dregs of the cup of rustication.

III. Therefore, gird up thy loins, my son, and seize fast upon thy slide rule and text book, but prepareth to act slowly and with exceeding care and hearken first to the counsel of a wiser and sadder man than thou.

IV. Goeth not out with the boys lest it be on weekends else thou wilt find thyself behind the eight-ball. Rather, keepeth said ball rolling. Content thyself with burning much midnight oil, for even they who study, oftentimes flunk.

V. Beware thou of he who is called instructor! He hath a pleased and foolish look, but he concealeth a serpent in his heart.

VI. Take heed of his words in class lest they butt thy head against the stone wall, but avoid him when he speaketh low and when his lips smileth; he smileth not for thee. His heart rejoiceth at the sight of thy youth and thine ignorance.

VII. If thou perseverest not, he will smile and wreak all manner of evil against thee. A wise man doeth his work day by day, but the fool shall dwell within his dorm forever.

VIII. Unto all things there is a time; there is a time to speak and a time to be silent: be thou like unto stone in the presence of thy superiors, and keep thy tongue when thy teacher shall call for volunteers; for the wise man profiteth by another's mistake. Therefore, polish not the apple; for the polished apple goeth to seed.

IX. Look thou with disfavor upon the second semester freshman and let him bulleth thee not. He prizeth much his abstinence from dink and pipe cleaner, and is proud and foolish; he laugheth and joketh much with the upperclassmen and

X. He would fain transfer to Harvard, but he is not qualified.

XI. Know thee that he who cleaneth the dormitory room is a man of many moods; when he looketh pleased he smileth like the Cheshire cat and when his words are like honey, the wise student seeketh him out and praiseth his work and laugheth much at his jests.

XII. But when he moveth with great haste and the sweat standeth

MULE KICKS

A VERITABLE SHAME

Dear Editor,

This is in reference to your "Mule Kicks" article which appeared in the February 9th edition.

It is truly a shame that so many students have to look to outside activities such as the local bar rooms, theaters, and burlesque houses for want of better things to do. Actually, I can't say that I blame the boys who participate in such, for what does our community here at Muhlenberg have to offer??? True, there are the fraternities, Thursday morning assemblies, and various academic clubs, but how about something in which more of the "guys" can participate.

No doubt you ask, "Just what do

... Student Council Reports ...

[Editor's Note: In this issue the WEEKLY inaugurates a new column reporting the proceedings of Student Council meetings. It is hoped by the editors that this plan will keep the students of Muhlenberg College more fully informed on the activities of their Student Government.]

At the regular meeting of the Student Council, Thursday, February 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Council room, the following items of business were considered as indicated.

David Alloway, representing the Muhlenberg Chapter of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government, presented to the Council general information concerning the ICG. The chapter's constitution was approved by the Student Council, and ICG (MC) is now a recognized student organization.

A future meeting date was set aside for re-evaluation of the student body's affiliation with the National Student's Association, and to review the publication fund allotments.

A motion was passed to recommend to the Athletic Committee a return to the policy of issuing certificates indicating their achievements to those seniors who have earned a varsity award in their college career.

Mr. Crider reported on arrangements now being completed for the graduation weekend. The Graduation Ball will be held on Saturday, June 3.

Among old business discussed was the motion previously passed to memorialize the Dean's office with the recommendation that in the future final examination periods should be free of intercollegiate athletic events. Also there was forwarded to the President's office a recommendation requesting the establishment of a placement bureau as a distinct administration office and the appointment of a director whose primary function would be in that area.

on his brow and he curseth under his breath, make thyself scarce; for he will fall like the whirlwind upon another room, and the fool shall know his wrath.

XIII. He of the thinning hair who taketh care of the shekels is a busy man and worketh much. If thou wouldst draw out money to live on, make him thy friend and pay heed to the hours of the office.

XIV. He respecteth him who asketh him not the date above all persons.

XV. Though he careth not for praise or flattery, lend unto him thy attention when he speaketh and calleth him sir, and he will love thee.

XVI. Hell hath no fury like the scholar who misseeth the dean's list by one point. If thou seest such one in the hall, straightway hie thee from his path.

XVII. Breaketh not bread with the Allentown bar fly, for she coveteth drunkenness above all things. Lendeth her not thy liquor or thy lucre.

XIX. Knoweth that the proctor is of the most high. Act thou lowly unto him and he will correct thy themes.

XX. Shun he of the athletes who interrupteth the line of eating and short-stoppest the dessert to secure his second cup of nectar.

XXI. He taketh the best steak with a heavy hand and leaveth thee the bony part.

XXII. He is thrice cursed, and all people, even unto the freshman, spit upon him and revile him, for he is an abomination.

XXIII. Bewareth thou of the Dean for he will make thee sweat; when he approacheth, look thou on the ball; for he would fain chew upon thy posterior.

XXIV. Keep thou from his sight and let him not know thee by name; for, although he is of good heart, he who arouseth the wrath of the master drippeth many a salty tear in his beer.

XXV. Know thou the big time operator, but trusteth him not; he worketh always upon a deal and he speaketh confidentially.

XXVI. He promiseth to fix thee up, but doth it not.

XXVII. Acquainteth thyself with Stella Tornitsky and Mary Laudenslager and others of the beauty which adorneth the Ad building. Smileth and tipteth thine hat to them, for Muhlenberg hath a dearth of the opposite sex.

XXVIII. Readeth thou the Muhlenberg WEEKLY, for nearly everyone on campus readeth the Muhlenberg WEEKLY.

XXIX. Enter not into too many activities, for he who collecteth keys is looked upon with disdain.

XXX. Moveth thy feet swiftly across Chew Street for the remains of those who tarry are scraped up daily with the dusteth pan.

XXXI. Misseth not thy chapel and entereth not late, lest thou irketh they who collect the slips. For loud is the gnashing of teeth when graduation draweth nigh, for lack of chapels.

XXXII. Flirteth profusely with the nurses, for thy skin will be many times made whole by the white slips they handeth out to the ailing.

Phi Sig's Hold Busy Weekend

The formal pledging of two new men and a dinner with Phi Sigma alumni highlighted the first week of the new semester for the Upsilon Triton Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa.

Tuesday night, February 7, George Doll, '52, and Art Altman, '53, were formally pledged and joined the ranks of those previously pledged following Christmas vacation.

The Keystone Trail Inn provided the setting for the dinner held February 10 to determine whether there was sufficient interest in the area to form an alumni club. Then area alumni representing chapters from Penn State, Lehigh, Franklin and Marshall, Michigan, and Gettysburg, joined with the local chapter to hear the National President, Herbert L. Brown, give the main address of the evening.

President Brown outlined the usual procedure in the formation of an alumni club, and also briefly outlined the points of his program for the fraternity itself. Following President Brown's message additional speeches were made in regard to the local chapter's plans. The alumni participated in the discussion of the various factors brought up during the presentation of the message, and a decision to meet in the near future to formulate plans for the founding of a local alumni club was made.

Pre-Meds At Free Movie

Color films showing a brain operation and the removal of a cataract of the eye were featured at the meeting of the Pre-Medical Society, in Room 305 of the Science Building.

The first film, "Cataract Extraction," involved an intracapsular extraction of the cataract and the use of the Corneal-Scleral Suture; the film had a running time of 11 minutes.

The second picture, with a running time of twenty-seven minutes, showed the corrective surgery employed for the mental disturbance described as an "Agitated-Depression State." The technique used is to section away a portion of the white matter of the brain, "disconnecting the diencephalon, especially the hypothalamic area from the prefrontal cortex."

Preceding the showing of the films a short business meeting was held, at which plans for the annual medical school trip were discussed. Announcement was also made regarding weekly visits to the Allentown State Hospital, and plans for the Lehigh Valley Colleges Pre-Medical Banquet, were reported.

you suggest?" Here's my answer.

Why not put on a talent show? Talent to be taken from the boys at Muhlenberg—boys who play instruments, boys who can imitate, boys who dance, boys who sing, and many others. Don't put the show on in a Thursday morning spot. Put it on at night, invite the friends, sweethearts, and folks. How can others besides the performers take place? Simple; let the audience pick the winner by applause, just like the Queen of the Junior Prom will be. Do you need money for such a show? Why so? The talent is free, there's no professional air about it—just for something new, different, and fun. Something which starts and ends on Muhlenberg.

Please consider this as a sincere suggestion to help build more interest within our own community. Think it over—sincerely. Spread the idea. Everything to gain, nothing to suffer.

Thanks,
A Sincere Student

FEARS NO MAN

Dear Editor,

It is quite evident that "Hopeful" (Mule Kicks, Feb. 9) has not been at Muhlenberg long enough to realize and appreciate the kind of life the student here leads. Admittedly many 'Berg students like to attend dances and other recreational activities as all normal young men do, but this does not indicate a complete decay of Christian concepts. Fellowship and friendly meetings are a prominent and necessary part of our college life and should, under proper guidance, be encouraged in every way possible. Nevertheless, dances and other such activities are just as much an integral part of college life as fellowships. One cannot think of nothing but fellowships and lead a well rounded life. One who has sufficient mental capacities to think of many things, including fellowship, cannot be called unlightened. "Hopeful" has obviously signed his letter in this manner for fear of great criticism, but the writer of this letter, knowing that he speaks for the majority of the college has no such fear.

Gregory Sutcliffe

Every man graduating in February or June 1951 must make an appointment before February 24 to have his picture taken for the 1951 Claria. A member of the Claria staff will be on duty every day in the Student Center to make the appointments.

Seniors Call For New Vote

By a majority vote, the Senior Class rejected last Thursday the proposal of an Insurance Endowment Plan as the class gift to the College, and authorized the Gift Committee to consider alternate possibilities for the class gift.

The class voted that, regardless of the nature of the gift, it should perpetuate the memory of Foster Lapp and Carl Herzog, members of the class of 1950.

Among the gifts suggested for consideration by the committee were benches for the campus; a lighted sign for the drive leading from Chew Street past the chapel; and establishment of an annual freshman scholarship prize.

The gift committee was given class authorization to discuss and evaluate the several proposals and to determine the degree of practicality of each suggestion. The committee will make its class gift recommendations at a future meeting of the class.

The special Senior Class election for Senior Class representative on Student Council will be held Monday, February 20, in the Student Center, 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

LaSalle Explorers To Oppose Mules In Key Test Saturday

Saturday night, February 18, at 8:30 p.m. in Rockne Hall, Benny Borgmann's "Mule train" with Dick McGee leading the way, will shoot it out with the Explorers from LaSalle College. The feud began in 1940 and since then, LaSalle has

Mules Rally To Stop St. Joe's

by Al Leitner

Faced by almost certain defeat, Muhlenberg's Mules fought back brilliantly to gain a thrilling 76-74 overtime win from an inspired St. Joseph's College five before a Saturday night capacity Rockne Hall crowd. Trailing 67-70 with 14 seconds left in the regulation contest, the Mules tied the game on a foul goal by Bill Jackson and a clutch two-pointer by Leo Martini. In the overtime they went on to win their twelfth decision of the campaign on three duces by captain Dick McGee.

'Berg Starts Fast

Coach Benny Borgmann's charges jumped to a 22-10 lead at the midway point in the first period. They appeared headed for an easy win, completely dominating the rebound play and scoring easily from under the basket. However, the Philadelphian's Tommy Frein led the Hawks to within five points, 26-31, at halftime, by scoring ten tallies and setting up at least four others. In the second half the much heralded Paul Senesky found his scoring eye and paced the St. Joseph's attack to a commanding 70-63 lead with a little more than a minute left to play. Then the Mules countered on goals by Bill Baker and Dick McGee to set the stage for the exciting finish.

The Mules were led by McGee, (Continued on Page Five) come away victorious only three times in nine skirmishes. Ken Loeffler, wily LaSalle mentor, risks a 14-3 record while Muhlenberg lays a 12-4 slate on the line.

Ranked High By Dunkel

Loeffler's lads have presented him with the scalps of such notables as: DePaul, Loyola, Temple, twice, St. Joseph's, twice, Western Kentucky, Bowling Green and North Carolina. Highly touted UCLA and San Francisco defeated them by five and two point margins respectively. LaSalle ranks second only to Holy Cross in the Dunkel Rating System.

Foust and McCann Pace Explorers

Larry Foust 6'9" center and 5'8" Bob "Ace" McCann present a formidable contrast to the Mules. "Ace" dubbed the "Houdini of the Hardwood" is noted for his sparkling brand of play. "Long" Larry has been honored in the past by being selected on all-state and all-eastern quintets and an honorable mention berth on the All-American squad. Jimmy Phelan 6', "Inky" Gallagher 6'2", and Frank Comerford 6'1", all prolific scorers, round out the starting combo.

The probable starting lineup: LaSalle—14-3—Jimmy Phelan, L. F.; Bill Gallagher, R. F.; Larry Foust, C.; Bob McCann, R. G.; Frank Comerford, L. G.

Muhlenberg—Bill Baker, L. F.; Marv Jaffe, R. F.; Dick McGee, C.; Leo Martini, R. G.; Elmo Jackson, L. F.

Battle Under The Board

Dick McGee (28), Mule captain, fights for ball with McDermitt (9) of St. Joe. The other players in the action are Jaffe (19), Hughes (11), and Frein (10).

Here's How They Stand . . .

Dick McGee's total of 50 points in the last two games has moved him into second place in the scoring race. McGee replaces Saemmer in the runnerup spot to Marv Jaffe, who leads the point-makers with 230 tallies. McGee has 222 and Saemmer 192.

Jaffe's average for the first 16 contests is 14.3 and McGee's average is 13.8.

Dick Eckert continues to lead the Frosh scoring parade with 155 points on 61 from the floor and 33 from the foul line. Kanterman follows with 132 points. Eckert sports a 15.5 per game average for the ten games he has played this season.

Leopards Avenge Early Season Rockne Defeat

The Lafayette Leopards avenged an earlier season's loss to the Muhlenberg Mules by routing the Cardinal and Grey 72-42 on the Easton court last night. It was the 20th straight home victory for the Leopards over a two year period. For the Mules, it was their fifth setback against twelve triumphs while the win gave Lafayette a 13-5 season's log.

Davidson Leads Scoring

The individual scoring leader of the night was George Davidson of Lafayette who netted 22 points and played a superlative floor game. Ollie Smith followed with 16. Marv Jaffe led the Mules by sink-ink 13 points. He was the only 'Berg man to hit in the double figures column.

The Mules definitely missed the services of little Al Saemmer still out of action because of a knee injury and Jack Fox of Lafayette did not see service either because of an injury.

The first half was slow and gave no indication of what was to happen in the second period. Jaffe opened the scoring with a set shot, but Warrick matched that to tie the game at two all. In the first ten minutes neither team could build up a lead of more than three points, and at the end of the half-way mark of the first period, the Leopards led 10-9.

Leopards Lead at Half

By the close of the opening half, Lafayette had increased its lead to five points, the score reading 23-18.

In the second half, the Mules couldn't get started while Lafayette turned on the heat. The Mules kept within seven points of the lead until the score read 37-30, Lafayette. It was here that disaster struck in the form of Lafayette goals as the Leopards spurted to a 50-34 lead.

The Cardinal and Grey never recovered and Lafayette poured ten more points through the nets to 'Berg's two, to gain a 60-36 advantage. The Mules were able to score only six more counters in the

DOES ADVERTISING PAY???

At this time of the year we make a test to determine how effective our advertising is in the "WEEKLY". Specials are run—Sales are tallied on advertised items, and from this we find out how thoroughly our Ads are read by the Student Body. This year we budgeted $500.00 for "WEEKLY" Advertising — Next year? ? ? — The results of this test will determine to what extent the advertiser is patronized, if the Ads are noticed and how much to spend on advertising the next college year.

Mules-Pirates Set For Wed. At So. Orange

by Bob Godnick

Muhlenberg and Seton Hall renew basketball competition when the two teams square off next Wednesday evening at South Orange, New Jersey.

The Pirates, notoriously rough in Eastern College Basketball, have not fared too well this season. Up to this writing, the Jerseyites have won six while losing eight, having met some of the leading teams of the nation. Coach John "Honey" Russell, veteran of many cage campaigns, has seen his club meet only one common foe of the Mules, Albright College, who beat the Pirates by a three point margin.

Several Vets Returning
Russell has several veterans back from last year's squad, which bowed to the Mules, 68-66. Among these are Dave Putnam, Lou Lackoye, Dave Latimer, and Lou Varous. Among the newcomers who have seen plenty of action are John Ligos and Chuck Terrill.

Work Around Putnam
Seton Hall's offense works primarily around its pivot man, rangy Dave Putnam, while its attack varies with criss-cross passes from the bucket.

The probable starting line-ups: Muhlenberg—Bill Baker, L. F.; Marv Jaffe, R. F.; Dick McGee, C.; Bill Jackson, R. G.; Leo Martini, L. G.

Seton Hall—Dave Latimer, L. F.; Lou Varous, R. F.; Dave Putnam, C.; Lou Lackoye, R. G.; John Ligos, L. G.

Sportorial . . .

Sportsmanship does not include such infantile behavior as throwing articles of paper on the basketball court. This display of protest directed at officials chosen to referee any game shows that a student body is not composed of gentlemen. The debris, beside demonstrating a childish attitude, creates a positive hazard for players, officials, and spectators alike. If the offending parties would consider the possible effects of that style of conduct it seems certain that they would not resort to a behavior which would inflict bodily injury on anyone.

Just as important as the physical harm which results from impulsive actions is the harm done to the College's respected reputation as being gentlemen in the face of victory or defeat. We all like to see the best quintets in basketball come into Allentown, but several colleges have been blacklisted by other units who have had disagreeable conditions result from their court encounter.

Let Muhlenberg's student body not be the cause for eradication of our fine sportsmanship record.

P.F.F.

Bonacci Paces Mule Gridders Play Frosh To A Victory 8 Games In '50

The Muhlenberg football team will play an eight game schedule for the 1950 season.

The Baughman eleven will open with the Bucknell Bisons, September 30 in Allentown.

Four home contests will be played in Allentown High School stadium.

The only newcomer to the Muhlenberg schedule is Lebanon Valley, who will appear here October 7. The Lehigh game will be played in Bethlehem again this season, but the 1951 game will be in Allentown.

The schedule is as follows:
Sept. 30—Bucknell, home.
Oct. 7—Lebanon Valley, home.

14—Lafayette, home.
21—Gettysburg, away.
28—Delaware, home.

Nov. 4—Lehigh, away.
11—Scranton, away.
18—Albright, away.

Baker, Unsung Hero Of Cagers, Is Tops Under The Backboard

One of the most unsung, but nevertheless one of the most valuable players on the Muhlenberg basketball squad is Bill Baker.

Although Bill is not noted for spectacular or sensational play, no one will dispute the fact that he is one of the steadiest performers on Benny Borgmann's team this season. When it comes to grabbing the ball off the opponent's bankboards, Bill is just about tops.

Former Tyrone Star
Bill, who also had basketball offers from North Carolina, Brown, and Iowa, hails from the town of Tyrone in Western Pennsylvania. He played four years of basketball, one year junior varsity, and three years varsity, for Tyrone High of the Mountain League. His 17 point per game average proves that he was quite a prolific scorer in high school.

The tall, slender native of Tyrone, who is a pre-law student, also spent one year at Mercersburg Academy before coming to Muhlenberg.

Bill in his first year at Muhlenberg developed into one of the two stars and mainstays of the 1947-48 Freshman team, Elmo Jackson being the other. Bill wound up as high scorer of the team. Last year in his sophomore season, Bill saw action in every game, having started in eight of the contests.

Pretty Nervous in Garden
When questioned as to how he felt playing his first game in Madison Square Garden, Bill admitted that he was pretty nervous, but added that he was a little disappointed in the Garden, thinking it would be a bigger place. And when asked what player he thought was the best he ever played against, Bill chose Pep Saul of Seton Hall.

Bill, who is a Junior, will have one more year to play for the Cardinal and Grey. And next year should be his biggest year. With three good years of experience and improvement under his belt, Bill will certainly be one of the men around whom Benny Borgmann will build his 1950-51 Mule team.

closely the surroundings in which the actual historical event took place.

A newcomer to Muhlenberg, Mr. Alfred J. Jefferis, will appear in the role of Thomas Becket. Mr. Jefferis, who is employed in the Purchasing Department of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, has had extensive dramatic experience. He has appeared in such well known shows as "Our Town" and "The Late George Beane," and has filled roles with the Civic Little Theater and the Drama Workshop.

Three Cedar Crest sophomores, Rebecca Reiter, Carolyn Richman, and Jane Wiley, will contribute their talents to the chorus. Paul Bosch, Tom Cole, Bill Eccles, La-Vern Etshman, Jack Heazelet, Bill Laird, Dick Mannzelman, Fred Peiffly, Ken Shirk, Paul Sittler, and John Stadlander have been assigned parts.

No tickets of admission will be required and interested students and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Members of this college of the road attempt to gain information first-hand by going directly to representatives of the fields they are studying. It is reported that rather than depend wholly upon textbooks, the students devote part of their time in study and part in actual project work.

Stops will also be made by the group in Washington, Richmond, Williamsburg, and Charlottesville enroute to the west coast.

Class Constitution Ratified By Juniors

A constitution was adopted by the Junior Class at their class meeting on February 9. The constitution drawn up by former class president Marvin Berger was accepted with a few minor changes.

Additional business discussed at the meeting included a report from the Richard Stailey Memorial committee and the Junior Prom committee. An announcement was made by Dave Long that a large leather bound registration book has been secured for the Richard Stailey registration desk. Prom chairman La Verne Etshman reported that arrangements for the Prom were nearing final completion.

A resolution expressing the class's appreciation of the service rendered by last semester's class officers was adopted by a unanimous standing vote.

Child Adoption Society Topic

Bureau places the child into the new home. The Bureau then makes periodic check-ups on the child and the home to observe the child's adaptation to its new environment. Should the child, the new parents, and the Bureau be entirely satisfied with the situation at hand, final steps are taken to make the child a legal member of its new home.

Mrs. Woodhead ended her talk by answering questions from the attending members.

The next meeting of the Sociological Society will be held on Thursday, March 9.

The Chowline

And nothing can be done about it: The owner of a brand-new Cadillac, a typical underpaid Muhlenberg instructor, parked his car for fifteen minutes last Tuesday on 8th St. near Hamilton and returned to find a card shoved under his windshield wiper. It bore the name of a local auto-painting company and the printed message "Let us show how quickly and reasonably we can make this car look like new."

Overheard in the Commons' chowline: "Well, I'll admit he's prejudiced, but it's a sort of unbiased prejudice."

The NAME (National Association of Manufacturers of Text Books) is awarding first prize in its recent contest to the faculty of Muhlenberg College. It seems that more Muhlenberg profs. have switched (text books that is) than those of any other school. The prize—a perpetual subscription to "New Listings" to each and every instructor so that the faculty may be kept up-to-date and we fortunate students won't have to use outdated texts. There's a nasty rumor flying around that some mean old instructor was making his class use a book copyrighted way back in 1947. By popular petition the erring teacher introduced a new and modern text retailing at only $7.00.

Attention Sophs: The first "tea-party" of even semi-official nature will be held on March eleventh. Miss Dick Teal, president, will pour. Proceeds of the "tea" will go toward the establishment of a chapter of AA (this does not stand for Athletic Association) on campus. —Adv.

Outstanding Football Pics

Student Council will present a program of football films and cartoons in the Science Auditorium on Friday, February 17, at 7:30 p.m. The football films entitled Football Highlights of '46, '47, '48, and '49 will show extracts of the most outstanding games played in those years. Army, Navy, Notre Dame, and most of the other big names in college football will be shown in action.

A series of cartoons will also be included in the evening's film entertainment.

Lou Colombo, who made the arrangements for the program, stated that the films should provide enough pigskin fireworks for any football enthusiast.

Bureau Lists Exams

On Saturday morning, February 18, the National Teacher's Examination will be given at 8:30 a.m. in the Science Auditorium.

Seniors who will finish their work either in the Spring 1950 or Summer 1950 semesters are reminded that all applications for the Graduate Record Examination must be in the Test Bureau Office, Ad. 213, by Saturday, February 25, 1950.

From February 20 to 24, all sophomores should register for the required General Education Examination. The schedule for registering during that week will be posted on all the bulletin boards. All applications must be in absolutely no later than Saturday, March 4.

Berg Names Dr. Brandt Public Relations Man

Phila. Osteopath And Sports Figure Assumes Office Early In March As Assistant To President

President Levering Tyson, at the annual winter gathering of the Muhlenberg Alumni Club of Philadelphia, announced the election of Dr. William E. Brandt as Assistant to the President of Muhlenberg College in charge of public relations. This meeting was held on Tuesday evening, February 21.

Dr. Brandt, an alumnus of both Muhlenberg and the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, has been active in the field of sports since his college days. He was a member of both the college football team and the basketball team of the class of 1911.

Ever since graduation he has written for the staffs of various newspapers such as "The Philadelphia Bulletin" and "The New Times." In 1932, he travelled with the New York Yankees from spring training until the World Series. This series was the last in which Babe Ruth played.

In 1934, Dr. Brandt became a member of the public relations management of the National League. During his term "The Sixtieth Birthday Pageant" of the National League and the "Centennial" celebration of baseball were observed. In 1945 he resigned from the senior league to write a History of Baseball.

At the same time he broadcast a sports commentary five nights each week over the coast-to-coast facilities of the Mutual network.

Lutherans Meet At Pocono Site

The North Atlantic Region of the Lutheran Student Association has announced its annual conference will be held the weekend of March 3-5, 1950. The place is to be The Inn at Buck Hill Falls, Pa., a resort center in the Poconos. The conference theme is "Christian Salvation" with Dr. Paul Lehmann of Princeton University as platform speaker.

Three hundred students from Maine to Maryland attended last year, including three Muhlenberg men. This year's delegation is now being formed. Total cost is $17.40 and some financial help is available through M.C.A. and the chaplain.

Interested men should see Paul Frick, A.T.O. House, or Chaplain Horn this week.

Witmer Wins Senior Class Council Post

Assumes Representative Seat By Vote Of Special Session

William F. Witmer was elected as a representative to Student Council from the Senior Class in a special election which was held in the Student Center on Monday, February 20, 1950.

This special vote was held because this year for the first time in history all Senior Class officers elected at the last election were constituted members of Student Council. Therefore the senior class was entitled to an additional representative on Council.

Bill Witmer, a chemistry major, hails from Sellersville, Pennsylvania. He is vice-president of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity and also belongs to the German club, Der Deutsche Verein.

The election was held in the Australian Ballot form. The candidates were: Herman Michels, Robert Osborne, Harold K. Stauffer, Duane N. Williams, and William F. Witmer. There were 147 votes cast.

Operatic Soprano Sings For Assembly

Juanita Carter Presents Varied Vocal Selections

Miss Juanita Carter, soprano, will present a varied musical program at the student assembly, in the Science Auditorium, March 2.

Miss Carter, a native of Frankfort, Kentucky, has sung for the Philadelphia Opera Company in such roles as Melisande in "Pelleas and Melisande", Susanna in "Marriage of Figaro", and Rosalinda in "Die Fledermaus". She sang with the CBS Symphony under Howard Barlow when Randall Thompson's new opera, "Solomon and Balkis," was sung for the first time.

Gives Nationwide Recitals
Among the many places where Miss Carter has given recitals are Boston, where she sang with the Boston Symphony under Nadia Boulanger; Buffalo, with Joseph Wagner at the baton; and Wash-

Dorm Councils Given Executive Strength

Get Authority To Apprehend Violators Of Regulations

Student Council, represented by President William Lybrand, met with the members of the Dormitory Council on Tuesday, February 21, to discuss the need for a more closely knit relationship between the two councils. Lybrand emphasized that, heretofore dormitory rules and regulations had not been rigorously enforced mainly because the Dormitory Council lacked authority. As a result, Student Council has given to the Dormitory Council the authority to apprehend any party guilty of infracting dormitory regulations, and to recommend to Student Council just restitution for the infracted rule. Further authority has been given to the Dormitory Council to recommend ways in which the general living conditions in each dormitory may be improved.

It was unanimously decided that Campus Dormitory Council chair-

Christian Leaders Discuss Vital Questions Of Modern-Day Living In Informal Sessions

Beginning with an 11 o'clock worship service in the Gideon F. Egner Memorial Chapel on February 26, seven men who have achieved distinction as Christian leaders will introduce themselves to Muhlenberg. These men have been recommended to guide the Institute of Christian Living by the University Christian Mission of the Federal Council of Churches on the basis of their student contact ability and their expressed interest in students and student problems.

The Rev. Roy Hendricks is a graduate of the University of Illinois and the Yale Divinity School. Since his student days he has served as the pastor of congregations in Connecticut and New York. Rev. Hendricks was an accredited visitor to the World Council of Churches at Amsterdam, Holland in 1948.

Author-Editor Among Visitors

The Rev. Dr. John Oliver Nelson is the current editor of "Intercollegian," the national student Christian journal. A magna cum laude graduate from Princeton University, he has done graduate work at the University of Edinburgh, McCormick Seminary in Chicago, and Yale University. He has served as Director of the Commission on the Ministry of the Federal Council of Churches since 1945. Dr. Nelson is the author of "Look at the Ministry" and "We Have This Ministry".

Member of German Movement

Dr. Hagan Staack has been invited by the Institute of Christian Living to complete the leadership group. Dr. Staack is a native of Germany and has studied at numerous universities located in the cultural centers of Germany. Throughout his student days Dr. Staack was a member of the Christian Student Movement, and when that group was declared subversive to Nazi ideology Dr. Staack continued to work with the Movement in its underground edition. Because of these activities and his membership in the Confessional Church, Dr. Staack had been interrogated by the Gestapo. Since the war Dr. Staack has been the pastor of St. John's Church, Hamburg-Harvestehude and has filled chairs in the departments of cultural and church history at the University of Hamburg.

Tyson States Position Of College In Letter To Students And Parents

The Board of Trustees has voted to raise the tuition fee of the College $35.00 per term, beginning in September, 1950. According to a statement issued this week by President Tyson, this action was taken "after lengthy discussion and with extreme reluctance."

The move to increase tuition was passed upon the report and recommendation of the Budget Committee of the Board at a special session on February 3, 1950.

Letter Sent to Parents

A special letter, describing in detail the circumstances provoking the Board's action, has been prepared and distributed to the students of the College and their parents. According to this letter, the Board has been studying all aspects of the problem of operation of the College, and the Budget Committee has found that the budget for next year could not be balanced without the proposed increase.

Reasons For Increase Shown

In elaboration, the President's letter explains that the tuition rise is necessitated by "the high costs of goods and services" required by the College in the post-war period. Dr. Tyson stated that it does not follow that an increase of enrollment (with its subsequent increase in tuition income) assures that the College will be able to balance its budget. "This is true in industry . . . but it certainly is not true in education." Muhlenberg is able to operate well with a normal enrollment of 600, for the College has tuition fees, endowment income, church appropriations, and regular gifts and contributions. However, the College presently has a student body twice this size, and "if the same high grade of service is (to be) provided for the second 600," tuition fees are available "in amounts equal to those received from the first 600, BUT endowment income is not doubled, nor are church appropriations increased in proportion, nor do gifts and contributions accumulate in the same ratio as increased registration."

Band Organizes Spring Concert

At the present time, the Concert Band is busy rehearsing every Tuesday and Thursday for a program to be given in Science Auditorium. The policy of band director Huston is to play a type of music that a college audience will understand and fully enjoy. Some of the numbers the band hopes to play are a selection from "Annie Get Your Gun" (Berlin), numbers from the musical show "South Pacific," and a special arrangement of "Beautiful Saviour" by Ray Huston.

Awards Will Be Given

The Band is now playing for all home basketball games. Early in May the organization will have its annual banquet, when members will receive letters and the seniors will be presented with pins or charms. This year a special award will be given to the student who has been the outstanding instrumentalist for the year. This will be an annual award for a senior member of the band who, in the opinion of director Huston and a selection committee, has contributed the most effective work in building up the Muhlenberg College band.

I.C.L. Play Brings Novel Effects To Berg Drama

The Institute of Christian Living's presentation of T. S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral" brings something new and different in the way of drama to the Muhlenberg campus.

The show, to be given on Sunday night, February 26, at 8:00 p.m., is the opening gun in the I.C.L. activities on the campus.

Play Breaks Precedent

The production of this play will break some long-standing precedents established at Muhlenberg. First, the play is to be presented in the Chapel. Dr. Horn and Dr. Tyson have been very helpful and cooperative in obtaining this permission. Secondly, it is the first twentieth century verse play to be given at Muhlenberg, and, finally, it is the first full-length production to be directed by a student.

Director Lauds Cast

Warren Burns, the director, has chosen a cast which he feels will bring to the story of the murder of Thomas A. Becket, a great deal of sincerity and convincence. The cast includes Jane Wiley,

Karolyn Richmond, Rebecca Reiter from Cedar Crest and Richard Manzelman, Paul Bosch, Paul Sittler, Kenneth Shirk, Laverne Etschman, William France, Thomas

Cole, William Laird, John Stadtlander, William Eccles, Fred Peifferly, and Jack Heazlett. Thomas Becket is played by Mr. Alfred Jones Jefferies of Allentown.

Preserve That Which Is Given In All Good Faith

Damage to property purchased for the benefit of the student is inexcusable. The condition of the recreational facilities in the Student Center is abominable. Let us look at a few of the facts about the condition of the billiard room, and wonder if we have respected the faith placed in us by the Student Council when they set aside that space for us to use.

The count to date on broken cue sticks is thirteen. Two sticks are damaged beyond repair; the leather tips of eleven others have been broken off. Such damage is not the result of ordinary use, which indicates that the students have no regard for effects appropriated for them.

Not only are some inconsiderate of equipment, but also some show their disdain for sanitary conditions by using the billiard ball as a gum disposal unit.

We are proud of the furniture in the Student Center lounge; we are taking care of that furniture as if it were our own. There is no reason why we cannot transfer that pride over into the recreation room and maintain equal care.

We expect Student Council to furnish us with more facilities that will allow us an outlet for relaxation, but we must help to gain that objective.

P.F.F.

Participation Will Bring Benefits For Students

In the early part of Chapter III of his "The Crisis in the University" Sir Walter Moberly writes of the English university and of England:

"Broadly speaking, the university today is not asking the really fundamental questions. In particular there has been something like a taboo on the treatment of contentious issues of politics and religion. Sometimes this has been statutory, but more often it has been due partly to historical causes and partly to a national idiosyncrasy. Thus the coolness and indifference of the eighteenth century were a natural reaction from the fanaticism of the seventeenth. In this country the ethos of Walpole replaced the ethos of Cromwell and has maintained itself ever since. The wars of religion had been ferocious and decisive, they served as a warning. In retrospect they seemed to have produced much heat and little light. Civil peace was now preserved by a tacit agreement to differ on ultimate questions or rather by a prudential disposition to let sleeping dogs lie, and it was in this ethos that the modern universities grew up. . . . We have a semi-instinctive disposition to shy away sharply like a nervous horse from any question arousing strong emotion or likely to involve commitment at a deep level. . . . But praiseworthy reticence in the expression of one's innermost convictions is one thing; to have no such convictions to express is another. Yet the transition is easy. Nearly all foreign observers note in us a certain intellectual and emotional unadventurousness, a tendency to remain near the surface, an indisposition to dig deep. This is particularly marked where religion is concerned."

This passage interested me particularly in view of the coming Muhlenberg College Institute of Christian Living. I believe that it is a good thing for us to set aside a week for the restudy of and a rededication to those convictions which undergird our college. We need to face issues and particularly do we need to learn how to face the issue of the translation of conviction into action in our daily lives. As Emerson has pointed out it is action which turns knowledge into character. We all should profit greatly as our distinguished visitors turn the diamond of Christian conviction to allow its many facets to reflect for us the light of the inspiration of eternal truths. I sincerely hope that our student body and faculty will participate during the coming week wholeheartedly in the various activities of the Institute for Christian Living. This is a project worthy of our strong support.

Strange Growth Of A Clothes Tree Exemplified By Seniors

The Inspiring Story Of "Rags To Riches" Is One Of War Surplus Shirts And Pants To Four-in-hand

Senior Marty Weissman and Freshman Ray Wolfert make like models to illustrate difference between the types of outer garb.

by Bob Yerby

About a decade and a half ago a strange phenomenon was noticed on college campuses throughout the country, and a group of retired janitors decided to devote the remainder of their lives to analysis of the situation and to the reporting of the results. The facts can now be told. The situation has been summed up by the chairman of the group in the following words:

"The ability of a college to transform illiterate freshmen into illiterate seniors in four years is astounding. However, the pivoted point in this transformation seems to lie in a palliant permutation."

Higher Level More Drapo

What he means is that, when an uneducated freshman arrives at a college such as Muhlenberg, he dresses as all Muhlenberg frosh dress. That needs no further explanation. Gradually however, a change occurs, not in his educational prowess but in his ability to dress decently. When he becomes a sophomore he reaches a higher station in the collegiate social set. The faded and wrinkled "jeans" are discarded along with the war-surplus shirts, socks, and shoes, and he dresses as befits a sophomore.

However, as befits a sophomore does not befit a junior. True, a sophomore will press his trousers and occasionally shine his shoes but will be ever wear a tie? Unfortunately, no. Consequently, when the college student leaves the Sophomore Class he also leaves behind any disorderly habits of dress. Evidence of this can be seen in the Muhlenberg Junior Class, which is typical. I believe it would be no exaggeration to state that at least four percent of the juniors have at one time or another worn coat and tie to classes for no reason at all. This style can be attributed only to weakness—although in the face of the jeering they receive perhaps we should call it courage.

Many Clothes Altered

Finally, that moment of supreme bliss arrives and the Junior Class becomes the Senior Class. Now the greatest change occurs on the typical campus coats and ties, perfectly creased trousers, and well-shined shoes make their appearance. The change affects the entire class with the exception of the Dean's List boys, who have dressed that way for the past three years anyway. An air of condescension, satisfaction, and superiority settles on the class, and they smile and wink knowingly at the approach of an unkempt frosh.

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

We had twisted a piece of paper into the typewriter and slid the carriage to and fro a few times to true the alignment. We were about to get a cigarette, or open a can of beer, or indulge in one of the other insecurity mannerisms certifying that a writer thinks he has hold of the idea but isn't sure, when we heard the noise of a piece of paper being slipped surreptitiously under the door, and the sound of feet pounding down the hall! The gist of that which was on the paper appeared to be this: Last Sunday, one of our instructors was taking his nature walk through the beautiful area around Cedar Creek, and, while he was walking across the small foot-bridge, he was seized with a fit of sneezing. His false teeth flew from his mouth and landed in the clear water in the middle of the stream. Much worried and embarrassed, the pedagogy was preparing to remove his shoes and wade in after them when a dear little gray-haired grandmother (senior at Cedar Crest) appeared on the scene, carrying a well filled dinner basket. When she discovered the instructor's plight, she reached in her basket, removed a crisp, brown, chicken leg, tied a string to it and tossed it into the water near the dentures. Quickly the teeth clamped onto the chicken leg and were hauled to safety! Note: Admittedly our stories are poor but you should read Jugendpost, the German scholastic newspaper, for the belly laughs . . . yeah, belly. Don't be angry; remember, happiness can't buy money, and remember, too, that we have been laboring under a great handicap. Extraordinary though it may seem, our entire output over the past year and a half has been achieved without benefit of brain.

In Profile: Abe's Nose. "A nose by any other name, would ne'er smell so sweet." Diminutive Abe Aslanides, Greece's contribution to Muhlenberg College, has taken a new outlook on life. For the first time, he can see the food in his plate, thanks to the wonders of plastic surgery. No kidding, it's really terrific. We all know he was handsome before, but now he's positively radioactive. His girl has even consented to marry him, after he turned her over a slow flame for three or four minutes. No nose is good news as far as Abe is concerned, and for a spellbinding, but nauseating half hour, we suggest that you corner Abe and have him tell you about the sawings and chiselings he endured for two hours on the butchers bench under a mere local anesthetic.

Round the campus in sixty words: It looks like Tex Williams is finally going to sell his car. We hear that one of the Chapel pigeons made a deposit on it already. What's going on? One of our snoopers found a bottle of quick drying wave set in the Liberty Hall john. John De Witt, diminutive 'Berg student teacher, was applying for a job in South Whitehall H. S. and the registrar attempted to enroll him as a student. "No, no," John insisted, "I'm from MUHLENBERG!" Unperturbed, the enroller retorted. "Oh, that's fine, we have a lot of students from Muhlenberg High here, fine school!"

Dr. and Mrs. Hepners' Show Of Japanese Museum Pieces On Display In Art Dept.

A showing of Japanese art, collected by Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Hepner during their career as missionaries to the Orient, is being shown in the Art Gallery, third floor Library until Friday, March 3. This exhibition will be open daily, Monday through Friday, from 1:30 until 5:00 p.m.

Drapes Used As Decoration

Among the articles to be shown will be some "Kakemonos." These long, silk drapes are used to decorate the Japanese home. Each season or festival time has its own motif, either of decorative landscapes or figures of gods to bless the season or festival.

These objects range from a bronze chalice of about 1000 B.C. to some fairly modern articles such as a koro, incense burner, which is decorated with a ship and four traders dressed in Shakespearean costumes. These men most likely were some Dutch traders who came to Japan in about the sixteenth century.

Some lacquered pill boxes, called inro, are also on display. They are segmented and held together by a string which is tightened with some little carved ivory trinket. These trinkets come in any form from a rat on a rice bale to an actor with a devil looking over his shoulder.

Boxes and Knives Shown

Many kizuka handles are also on display. These kizuka are knives which were carried with a second in order to commit harikari in case of defeat in battle.

Champagne Taste With A Beer Pocketbook Is Motivation For Recent Brinks Robbery

Aged Jekyll-Hyde Female Stows Bars Of Shocks Under Vigilant Glance Of The Earnest Watchmen

Writ by Foote

It has always been and will always be my policy to bring to you the unmitigated truth. Lately the newspapers have carried the stories of two unique robberies. I will speak to you about the other one . . . the Brinks robbery, which Churchill said was the biggest since lend lease. I intend to revive the dying story and I intend to tell you the truth about the whole affair straight from the tobacco stained lips of the robber herself.

I met this uncommon character right here in Allentown. She is a little old lady known to a few select friends as Madame La Bra, the hold-up artist. She had a rough time in her life. Her mother had been a hardened YMCA directress; her father had been no better, a college professor. La Bra had one undying ambition in life. She wanted to be rich enough to buy her own drinks. She knew that the only decent way for her to get enough money was to steal it. This, taken from her own lips is exactly what happened.

Welcome Reception

"I happened to be in Boston last weekend with time on my hands, so I decided to get myself some spending money. Hoping that no one would suspect an old broken down slob like me, I went straight to Brinks and walked in the front door. When I got inside two big lugs asked me what I wanted. I told them I came to rob them. I asked one of them who his boss was and he said that besides his old lady it was a squarehead named Hoover. After they laughed some more I went past them through five unlocked doors looking for money. In all the rooms there were armed guards but they were sucking on their bottles so heavily that it looked as if they cursed the day they were weaned. All of a sudden I came into a room with lots and lots of dough in it. There were five guys there and all of them had machine guns that looked as deadly as a five cent cigar.

Flirting With The Help

"I told them I was tired of being poor, and, as I heard they had lots of money, I was going to rob them. Those coppers nearly dropped over when they heard that and since they figured that Hoover was playing a joke on them, they decided to go him one better. One of them bowed low to me and said they was all at my service.

"After they got a million and a half in two big bags I thanked

Spivak Toots Tomorrow Night

Knights And Ladies Will Beseige Medieval Castle Garden To Acclaim Traditional Jr. Prom Queen

Charlie Spivak, famed for playing "the sweetest trumpet in the world," will serenade students and dates at annual Junior Dance.

"Final preparations for this year's Junior Prom to be held tomorrow evening, Friday, February 24, have been completed," announced Marvin Berger, publicity director. Castle Garden has been newly decorated in a medieval setting and tables have been provided to seat over a thousand people.

The judges, professional men of the city who have had thorough training for beauty contests, will reach their decision and Prom chairman LaVerne Etschman will call the ten finalists to the stage at 11 p.m. The audience will then select the queen by applause.

The dance will begin at 9 p.m. and last until 1 a.m. Each girl will receive a numbered tag which she is asked to wear on her wrist until after the queen has been selected. Jewelry and other prizes will be given to the final contestants.

No tables will be reserved by anyone. The chaperones for the evening will be President and Mrs.

Tyson, Dean and Mrs. Mercer, Dr. and Mrs. Johnson and Dr. and Mrs. Raub. Any alumnus or guest will be admitted but will be charged three dollars. Cardinal Key Society will serve at the door as ushers.

Scholarships

Strange Growth Of A Clothes Tree At Berg

Who can account for this change? Is it merely because of the breeding which they received from their mannerly instructors, or can they afford these clothes because they no longer need worry about a raise in the tuition fee?

Well, be that as it may, we can now see how in four years of happy study a change comes over us unconsciously—and who can be more unconscious than a Muhlenberg student? We realize, when we become seniors our responsibility to the school, to the community, and to ourselves. Thus when a typical frosh, slovenly and disorderly approaches a typical senior, dapper and suave, he is likely to make a typical remark unfit to be printed here.

them and left. The two guards were still at the door looking important and they politely asked me how I had made out. I winked my eye at them and said that the men in the back room had been very obliging, thank you.

"When I got out the front door there were three police cars parked at the curb. I looked in the first big red car to see what was going on but somebody slapped my face and told me to keep my nose in my own business. I decided they were right. It wasn't my business what the Federal Bureau of Intoxication's agent was up to.

"I went home frustrated. When I finally got in bed and turned on my radio to hear the latest news, I heard about a terrible big robbery in Boston which was committed by a large gang of ferocious, ill-mannered, and well armed desperados. I'm glad I wasn't there while it happened, I always was scared of crooks."

In preparing a plan, the honor committee considers to which examinations the rules will apply, how the students will be seated, where the instructor will be, and how dishonesty shall be dealt with and reported.

"The class must pass the plan proposed by the Committee by a percent majority vote or the Committee must submit a revised plan for the class approval. The adopted plan containing the signature of the instructor is filed with the dean.

"The Class proceeds with the plan according to adoption unless unsatisfactory results force the honor committee or instructor to request the dean to discontinue the project. Students write their evaluation of the system at the conclusion of the final examination.

... Student Council Reports ...

Student Council held its regular meeting on Thursday, February 16, at the home of President and Mrs. Tyson upon their invitation.

Council president Lybrand welcomed Richard Teal and John Mangini, newly elected sophomore and junior class presidents respectively, to Student Council. He offered congratulations to Lee Shortridge (freshman) and Irvin Fry (senior) on their re-election to the presidency of their respective classes, and thanked the retiring members of the council for their fine cooperation during the past semester.

* The chairmen of the various committees gave full reports covering last semester's activities and the proposed programs for each committee for the present semester. This was in line with the policy of the present Student Council to draw up outlines of the committee work to be passed on to the incoming Student Council and to serve as a guide to future councils.

Mr. Laird gave the report of the election committee on the class elections, and commented favorably upon the active participation in voting by the student body.

President Lybrand stressed the integration of all activities on the campus with the calendar book of Student Council and the calendar book in Dean Mercer's office. This will help to avoid conflict of events that the various clubs may wish to hold throughout the year.

A motion was passed to send a letter to each dormitory student concerning stealing in the dorms. Measures will be suggested to the students to prevent recurrence of similar situations.

Discussion was held concerning the recent damage done to the recreational facilities in the Student Center. A motion was passed to limit the use of the billiard room in the Student Center, the gym, the recreational room and the lounge of West Hall to members of the Muhlenberg Community only.

Muhlenberg Subdues Seton Hall, 64-59

Bisons Here Saturday Night; Oppose Mules At Rockne Hall

Bucknell University's basketball team will be seeking revenge for an early season's loss at Lewistown this Saturday night, when they invade Rockne Hall to face the Muhlenberg Mules. In the first meeting between the two clubs, the Cardinal and Grey emerged victorious by a 92-80 score.

LaSalle Frosh Top Mules, 60-48

LaSalle's crackerjack freshman hoopers overpowered the Little Mules to the tune of 60-48 in last Saturday's opener at Rockne Hall.

In a game which was close all the way down to the final quarter, the visitors from Philadelphia displayed a fast aggressive style which was too much for Tom Triplett's game quintet.

The Explorers' advantage in height spelled defeat for Muhlenberg as the visitors dominated the play under the boards throughout the contest. When the 'Berg defense did brace, deadly outside shots by Lehle, high scorer for LaSalle with 22, provided the much needed punch.

Hoey Kauterman and George Fedok, scoring nineteen and fourteen points, respectively, kept the Cardinal and Grey in the game for three quarters with their long set shots. But in the final stanza, LaSalle wore the Mules' stubborn resistance down, outscoring them 22-12, and won handily.

Lou Cardinal, varsity baseball coach, requests that all prospective candidates for pitching and catching berths for this year's team report to him not later than March 1.

Mr. Cardinal's office is located in the coach's room, basement of the Administration Building.

Muhlenberg got off to a fast start in that game, and, after building up a sizeable halftime advantage, coasted to victory. The Cardinal and Grey cagers were definitely on in their shooting that night, making 49 per cent of their shots, a remarkable percentage in any league.

High-Powered Unit

Bucknell's season record, not counting the second F. and M. contest played this week, is four wins against eleven setbacks. Although this is a poor season's log, the Bisons put up a good scrap, and are capable of pulling an upset. Bucknell's four victories were over Lehigh (twice), Juniata, and F. and M.

Muhlenberg's courtmen will be after their fourteenth conquest; they have lost six. The Mules, who have been bogged down of late with injuries, hope to be at full strength for the game. It depends on whether or not Saemmer and McGee have the doctor's okay.

Flooded With Sophs

Of late, Bucknell's starting five has been flooded with sophomores, products of last year's successful frosh quintet. The probable starting array will be selected from McKibbin, Gallagher, Schaumburg, Strassen, DeLoca, Webber, and Lavin. Of this group, all but Schaumburg and Lavin are in their first year of varsity ball.

Maestro Moschetti will present an organ concert at 3 o'clock February 26 in the College Chapel as part of the I.C.L. week program.

Going Under For Two

Here's How They Stand . . .

Marv Jaffe leads the way in the Mule scoring race with 265 points. Dick McGee follows with 226 in the total column. Marv has raised his per game average to 14.7 in 18 contests.

Little Al Saemmer with 192 points remains in the third place slot, followed by Bill Baker with 167.

Hoey Kauterman and Dick Eckert are all even with 161 points each in the Frosh point production parade. Hoey and Dick McGee both sport a 13.4 average in 12 games. George Fedok and Joe Bonacci round out the Frosh quartet who are over the hundred point mark.

End Two Game Losing Streak With Victory

Jumping away to a lead they never relinquished, the Mules last night downed Seton Hall College, 64-59, on the latter's home court in South Orange, N. J. The win was number 13 in 19 starts.

Sig Eps - Phi Sigs In Top League I Contest Tues.; Playoffs Near

With the play-offs only two weeks away, eight teams appear to have the inside track for play-off berths in the I-M League. In League I Phi Sigma Kappa has scored five victories to remain undefeated. Sigma Phi Epsilon with four victories has its record marred by a forfeit, but the game was re-played with the Sig Eps winning. The managers of the league have not as yet taken action as to whether the re-play will be allowed. An important game is scheduled next Tuesday with these two fraternities battling for the League I title.

In League II the Glad-To-Be-Alive Five and A.T.O. clash this Thursday (Feb. 23) to determine the league leader. An important game is scheduled next Wednesday with A.T.O. and the Jokers battling for a play-off berth.

Black Cats Blast Bombers

Last Monday in League III action the Black Cats remained undefeated by blasting the previously unbeaten Bombers 54-39. The last game of the season between the Bombers and Lambda Chi Alpha will probably decide second place in this league, for the Black Cats virtually have first place clinched. Other League III games found the Black Knights defeating the Bears 43-32 and Lambda Chi Alpha topping the Sinners 48-37.

McGee sent 'Berg ahead with a push shot, but Seton Hall came back with a Putnam lay-up, 2-2. Another exchange of baskets tied the game at 4-4, and the Mules then began to pull away with the score 7-6. Leo Martini sank three successive two pointers. Lackaye countered with a set shot and 'Berg led 13-8. Leading by 5, 19-14, the Mules missed five straight attempts to score before McGee dropped in a hook, 21-14. At this point Seton Hall scored three quick goals to pull up to a 23-20 score, but Jaffe hit for 'Berg on a lay-up after intercepting a Lackaye pass. The Mules kept building their advantage, and two minutes before intermission held a 10-point lead, 32-22, their biggest bulge of the night. Here Bobby Hurt sank two deuces to close the gap; McGee added a foul, Hurt retaliated with a third basket, McGee hooked one, and Mackin rimmed a free throw, 36-28 at the buzzer.

Shortly after the second half began, Muhlenberg was charged with their first foul of the game, provoking a round of applause by the partisan crowd. The Pirates, on buckets by Bell, Latimer and Hurt, began to cut 'Berg's lead.

The last 10 minutes was a seesaw battle, with the Hall slowly hacking the Muhlenberg advantage. At the five minute mark, and leading by 56-53, 'Berg began to put on the freeze, and managed to kill the clock. Handicapped by the loss of their main spark and scoring punch, Bobby Hurt, who left via personal fouls, the Pirates fought back. They trailed by two points 61-59 with two minutes left. Again the Mules put on the freeze, and using the two-minute rule to their advantage, went on to win 64-59.

Marv Jaffe, Mule Ace, Turns Boos To Cheers

Time was when a thunder of boos and jeers greeted the announcement that Marv Jaffe had entered the Muhlenberg line-up. The fans at Allentown's Rockne Hall laid it on, thick and heavy. It was true the lanky six foot three inch New Lorker wasn't playing the brand of ball the fans wanted to see, but it is a minor miracle that their attitude did not crush him into utter failure.

A string of injuries has always plagued Jaffe, both in high school and here at Muhlenberg. This is perhaps the only time in his basketball career that Marv has been in top physical shape. The results speak for themselves. He is the leading scorer, a tower of strength on the boards, a top notch feeder, and able defense man.

Held Arizin Scoreless

Playing only occasionally last season, he was unable to reach his playing peak. At times, however, he bordered on the brilliant. His play last year against Paul Arizin, high scoring Villanova center, was doubtless the most spectacular defensive operation ever performed on the Wildcats. Entering early in the second half, Marv held Paul scoreless from the floor the entire seventeen minutes, the only time, this year or last, that any man has stopped the Philadelphia ace.

New York Product

Marv is a product of Stuyvesant High School, Manhattan, although he resides in Brooklyn. He built up an outstanding reputation in high school, and at one time held the individual scoring record (twenty-eight points) for P.S.A.L. participants in Madison Square Garden.

Upon graduation, Marv was offered athletic scholarships in addition to Muhlenberg, by Syracuse University, St. John's of Brooklyn, Long Island University, Cincinnati, and New York University. Entering Muhlenberg in 1946, Marv was immediately assigned to the varsity. As a sub he tallied thirteen points to spark the Mules to a smashing victory over Princeton. Injuries marred his play constantly, and Jaffe spent many games out of uniform. When he did get into the line-up, his inferior play was met with disparaging remarks on the part of the fans.

Big Man on Offense

At the beginning of this season, Marv was in the best shape of his career. In the pre-season scrimmage, he was consistently hitting the range with great rapidity from both inside and out. Jaffe possesses an exceptional set shot and a good pivot play. Coach Borgmann knew that Marv was going to play a big part of the Mule's high-powered offensive.

Marv certainly hasn't disappointed his head man, and has proven a revelation to the Allentown fans. The very same people who literally booed him off the court are now his most staunch supporters.

Upon graduation this June, Marv will probably go into pro basketball, with his long range plans centered around the coaching profession.

Foust, Phelan Pace LaSalle To 87-60 Win

LaSalle College's Explorers had too much power and bench strength for Muhlenberg's crippled Mules, decisively whipping the Borgmann men 87 to 60, with a scorching second half assault. The Saturday night crowd at Rockne Hall saw an undermanned Mule five battle the vaunted LaSalle collegians on even terms throughout the first half, only to falter before the Philadelphians' blistering attack during the last twenty minute period.

McGee, Saemmer On Bench

Playing without the services of Captain Dick McGee and Al Saemmer, the place and show men in the 'Berg scoring race, the injury ridden Mules fell behind to a 4-12 deficit in the opening minutes of the first half, when the invaders' Larry Foust, Jim Phelan, and Jack Haggerty each came through with two field goals. Then the Borgmann charges fought back and tied the tournament-hopefuls, 20-20, on a foul conversion by Carey Smith. However, La Salle's Bill Gallagher immediately sent the Explorers out front again with a long set shot, and Coach Loeffler's men never again surrendered the lead, leaving the court at halftime with a 33-30 margin.

At the start of the final half, LaSalle turned on the heat and slowly began to pull away from the fighting Mules. Big Larry Foust's height began to make the difference under both boards. "Long" Larry tallied 11 points, and "Driving" Jim Phelan notched 10 in the first ten minutes of the period, whereupon Loeffler sent his many capable reserves into the fray to wrap up the victory.

Jaffe's Set Shots Sparkle

Although the outcome of the contest was no longer in doubt during the latter part of the second half, the Mule supporters were treated to a brilliant display of

Kissin' Karl Kauterman Bright Prospect For Future 'Berg Five

by Frank Rex

One of the brightest prospects to hit the Muhlenberg campus in the last few years is Karl "Hoey" Kauterman, the dark-haired boy with the crew cut who always kisses the ball before attempting his foul shots.

Hoey came to Muhlenberg after a sparkling four year scholastic career at Schuylkill Haven High School. When only a freshman in high school, Hoey was ready to get in some of the varsity games, and in his sophomore, junior, and senior years he was the mainstay as well as the high-scorer of the team.

All-State Mention

In his junior year he made honorable mention on the All-Schuylkill county team, and in his senior year he not only made the all-county first team, but also made All-State honorable mention.

In four years, Hoey scored a total of 1116 points, 360 of these in his senior year, when he led the South Schuylkill league in scoring. His average of eighteen points per game proves that he has a consistent knack of making the ball go through the hoop.

Outscores Minersville Team

In one game against Minersville High, Hoey scored 35 points, the highest total per game he has ever rolled up, which was exactly two points more than the whole Minersville team scored that night.

Last year Bud Barker made a special trip up to Schuylkill Haven to scout Kauterman in a game against Orwigsburg High, and came away favorably impressed with the Haven star's twenty-five point performance.

Frosh Scoring Leader

Dorm Council Given Powers

man Herman Michals shall call a meeting of the entire group on the first Wednesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. At this meeting the members will discuss policies of dormitory government and will consider the cases of dormitory rule infractions. Michals stated, "By maintaining these monthly meetings it is certain that the Dorm Council will remain a highly active and effective governing body."

It was suggested that if there are any questions concerning dormitory regulations the person in doubt should contact his Dorm Council chairman: in South Hall, Ira Reed; in North Hall, Howard Weidemeyer; in Liberty Hall, John Stadlander; in East Hall, Martin Martzell.

Also pointed out in the meeting was the fact that in the past few months a good deal of thievery has been committed in several of the dormitories. Student Council has taken steps to eliminate the undesirable reality and has met with success. Lybrand reported that the steps Council took have been effective in that no further robberies have been committed in the last two weeks; however, they were not able to catch the guilty party.

As further caution against future acts of robbery Student Council is sending to each student of all dormitories, a letter which will inform them of the situation and propose several ways the student may aid in eliminating the situation. Lybrand stated, "Although the students may feel silly to do the things we propose, it is to their benefit to save themselves from the undesirable result."

of the highest point making players on the freshman team. As a result of his nineteen point output against LaSalle's freshmen on Saturday night, Hoey is now the leading scorer of the team, with a total of 162 points in twelve games. This total gives Hoey a three point margin over Dick Eckert's 159 point total, and also gives him an average of thirteen and a half points per game.

Future Looks Bright

With a fine record like this and the probability of further improvement in the future, Hoey should develop into one of Muhlenberg's brightest stars.

The Chowline

The following interesting tidbit came to us almost a month after it happened. Even so it deserves number one rating. During a final history examination, Mr. Hollister, one of the proctors, saw a student (unnamed by request) acting very suspiciously. Every now and then the fellow would look furtively over his shoulder, then bend over and apparently peek at something in his coat pocket. "What have you got in your pocket?" cried Mr. Hollister, pouncing. "A Tom Collins, sir," said the student. It was, too—a Tom Collins in a pint whiskey bottle. He had been drinking it through a straw.

Dr. Weaber's newest cure for hiccough: moisten some granulated sugar with vinegar and eat. Thank you, we'd rather hiccough.

Ignorance is bliss: The young lady who sat behind us at last Saturday's basketball game (forgive us for bringing up painful subjects) remained silent through the first quarter, evidently spellbound. Then she remarked to her escort, "I don't know who these idiots are, but they certainly know how to run."

Ray Boomhower, who dropped into Hess Brothers toy department to buy a couple of dolls to take back to his little daughter, has sent us the sales slip he received with his purchase.

Pilgrimage Highlights Current CHEY Activity

Invitation To College Includes Tour Of Campus, Supper In Commons And Chapel Vesper Service

The CHEY committee has invited all Lutherans within the ministerium of Pennsylvania to make a pilgrimage to Muhlenberg College on Sunday, March 5. The activities for the day will include a tour of the campus, supper in the commons, and a vesper service in the chapel. The purpose of the pilgrimage is to better acquaint the members of Lutheran congregations with the aims, activities and methods of Muhlenberg College.

Students Conduct Tours

Visitors from the ministerium, which covers eastern Pennsylvania and parts of New Jersey, will arrive on campus early in the afternoon. At 3:30 p.m. members of the Cardinal Key Society and the student CHEY committee will conduct the guests on a tour of the grounds and buildings. Professors, staff, and students will be in the different buildings to answer questions and explain the various college functions. Supper will be served in the college commons at 5:30 p.m.

There will be a vesper in the Gideon F. Egner Memorial Chapel at 7:00 p.m. The choir will present a program of sacred music.

Prof Talks To Forum On Devonian Period

Dr. Bradford Willard, head of the Lehigh University Geology department, delivered an illustrated talk on "The Geology of Great Britain" at the February meeting of the Muhlenberg Geology Forum. The group convened Monday evening, February 27, at 8:00 p.m., in the department's lecture room on the second floor of the Science Building.

Dr. Willard is an authority on the Devonian period in Geology. His book Devonian, one of several books he has written on Pennsylvania Geology, is used as a textbook in many colleges.

Uniting Of Ideas Is Topic In ICL Seminar

At a 7:30 Assembly in the Student Center Lounge, Dr. John Oliver Nelson, chairman of the I C L leaders team, will reflect upon the activities in an address entitled "Assignment for Tomorrow." "Assignment for Tomorrow" will gather many of the ideas which have been expressed in four days of guided seminars, "bull sessions," chapel programs, refine them, and reassert them in terms which will aid in the building of personalities more conscious of their responsibilities and essential worth on the campus and in society.

Seminars Well Attended

Dr. Nelson's address will be followed by a Communion Service in the Gideon F. Egner Memorial Chapel at 8:30.

To date the I C L has been received with much enthusiasm by students. Seminars have been well attended and the I C L leaders have been pleased by the interest that students have shown.

Response to personal interview opportunities has been rather disappointing. The leaders have expressed a hope that in the few remaining hours of the I C L students will not hesitate in introducing themselves to the leaders and placing problems before them.

David Long, chairman for I.C.L. week, hopes the students have benefited by the several discussion periods. "With the many fine responses made toward the seminars we desire that the students have received that for which they sought."

Reed Directs Annual Drive For Red Cross

Collection Stations Set Up; No Solicitation Of Students

During the period from March 6 to March 20, 1950, the annual drive for funds will be conducted by the American Red Cross. Mr. John Reed of the History Department will be the volunteer director on the Muhlenberg campus.

The service which this organization renders is known universally. The end of the war was not the end of the work of the Red Cross. During the past year it has aided in 330 domestic relief operations, distributed $7,300,000 worth of life-saving blood products, sent 469,000 gift boxes to deserving children abroad, and assisted 1,315,000 veterans and their families.

No Soliciting Planned

Mr. Reed hopes that Muhlenberg will again help to push the Lehigh County Schools and Hospital Division of the campaign across the top of its quota of $2,340. In the past Muhlenberg has done its bit, and now has not only a goal to strive for but also a record to maintain.

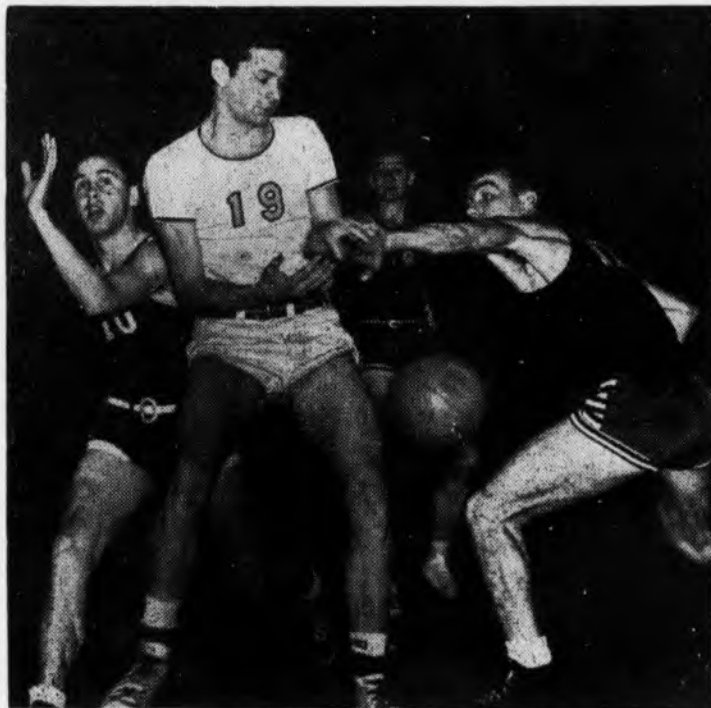

There will be no soliciting of funds among the students; however, if any student cares to donate to the drive, his contribution will be gladly received.

Collection Station Set Up

Collection points during this campaign will be set up in the offices of Mr. Deck, second floor, West Hall; Mr. Bowersox, first floor, Science Building; Mr. Davidson, library; Mrs. Hayick, Dean Mercer's office; and Mr. Reed, Ad. 311.

For the convenience of those who frequent the Student Center, student volunteers will be on hand in the lounge, Monday through Friday, throughout the campaign, to accept any contributions from students who desire to aid the cause.

Wins Weekly Trophy For Play During Current Court Season

Muhlenberg's most valuable basketball player, Marv Jaffe, shown in a bit of torrid cage action.

Gets Statue Saturday At Gettysburg Game On Vote Of Sports Writers

Marv Jaffe has been named the most valuable Muhlenberg basketball player for the 1949-50 season in a poll conducted by the Muhlenberg WEEKLY.

Jaffe will receive the WEEKLY trophy emblematic of this honor between the halves for the Muhlenberg-Gettysburg game this Saturday night, March 4, at Rockne Hall. The presentation will be made by Charlie Morgan, Sports Editor of the WEEKLY.

Sports Associates Polled

The poll of the sports writers, commentators, Publicity and Athletic Directors, coaches and players was made by the Sports Staff of the College newspaper. A total of 142 votes were cast in the balloting with Jaffe receiving 44.

Mule captain, Dick McGee and Al Saemmer placed second and third respectively to the big New Yorker. McGee collected 37½ votes and Saemmer 35½.

Seven Players Voted For

Seven players received votes in the balloting with Mackin, Baker, Martini and Jackson rounding out the list in that order.

Marv is a graduate of Stuyvesant High School in New York where he built a classy court reputation. He at one time held the P.S.A.L. scoring record for Madison Square Garden with a total of 28 points. His high school abilities attracted many college offers but Marv decided upon Muhlenberg and enrolled in 1946.

Hampered By Injuries

Injuries have marred his three previous seasons on the Mule varsity, but this year he has been unhampered by this jinx and has led the Mules in scoring with a total of 305 points.

Marv has a good set shot and is good at rebounding.

Local Writers Vote

The local writers and commentators who cover the Mules played a major role in the selection of

Pair Represents Band At Statewide Festival

Frantz And Snyder Play At Carnegie Tech Concert

Two members of the Muhlenberg College Band, Edwin Frantz and Milton Snyder, attended the annual Intercollegiate State Band Festival at Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh, on Friday and Saturday, February 24 and 25.

Frantz, a trumpeter, hails from Lehigh. During his days at Lehigh High School he played for the Lehigh Boys Band, and represented his school at the Eastern District High School Band Festival in 1947.

A native of Nazareth, Snyder is president of the Muhlenberg Band. He plays the bass horn.

Noted Directors Lead

The directors for this 125-piece band, representing thirty-two Pennsylvania Colleges, were Mr. William A. Schaefer, director of the Carnegie Kiltie Band; Mr. W. Valgege Routh, president of the Pennsylvania Bandmasters Association; and guest conductor Mark H. Hindsley, director of the University of Illinois band.

Lehigh University will be the host to the 1951 State Band when it gathers at Bethlehem next February.

DeMolays Pick First Permanent Officers

At a meeting held on Thursday, February 23, at 11:00 a.m., in the West Hall auditorium, the newly formed Muhlenberg DeMolay Club elected its first slate of permanent officers. These officers will serve during the Spring 1950 semester.

The club chose as president Donald Leaman; vice president, Adolph Koenig; secretary Donald Wenzel; and chaplain, Clarence Moore.

Dean Benfer serves as faculty adviser to the club, while Thomas Calnan is student adviser.

Calnan has been the impetus behind the drive for instituting the DeMolay Society on Muhlenberg's campus. He is a senior in good standing majoring in English, and he expects to graduate in June.

NSA Art Exhibit Opens Today

Show Features Art Work From Nation's Colleges

The National Student Association Art Tour is now on exhibit for a limited time only in the Muhlenberg College Art Gallery. The Muhlenberg N.S.A. is sponsoring this exhibition of student art from colleges throughout the nation.

The exhibition will be open only until Monday, March 6. In order to give the visitors who will come to the campus during the CHEY pilgrimage on Sunday an opportunity to view the exhibit, the gallery will open during the afternoon of March 5.

All types of subjects are included in this selection of over 35 pieces, which is assembled and distributed for N.S.A. by the Art Department of Mundelein College, Chicago, Ill.

Rev. Reese Talks To Theo Group

The Rev. Lawrence Reese, Director of Youth Work of the Parish and Church School Board of the U.L.C.A. addressed the Pre-Theological Club in its semimonthly meeting last Monday night.

Speaking from his experience with youth, Rev. Reese impressed the club with the thought that a large number of church youth groups are spiritually bankrupt. Spiritual directives are something club youth needs but does not want. Youth has learned to measure success and happiness with an artificial sense of values.

Rev. Reese noted that a modern youth group is more eager to follow a personality than a program, and that accordingly the able minister will develop the qualities of personality that will draw youth to him. He must be continually on the look-out for new ideas in order to hold the interest of youth, and he must exercise exacting diplomacy to keep the older generation of church goers sympathetic with youth programs.

Helmut Kaffne opened the meeting with a devotional service.

Two Students Attend New York Conference

Richard V. Hamory, economics instructor, Frederick J. Bunke, and Richard M. Schaffer, juniors majoring in Business Administration, attended a conference on "Executive Careers in Retailing" at the New York University School of Retailing, on Friday, February 24.

At the conference, attended by more than one hundred student and faculty delegates from forty colleges and universities, conferees learned of the opportunities for college graduates in retailing. Speakers at the panel and luncheon sessions included prominent retailing executives, retailing professors, and recent graduates now employed in the retailing field.

Students Viewing Stores

During the morning meetings, the students were given a visual presentation of the divisions of a department store and the variety of jobs in each division. Also included was specific information on how to prepare and apply for positions in retailing.

After the luncheon session in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, at which conference participants were the guests of Bloomingdale Brothers, Inc., the delegates were taken on a bus tour through mid-town Manhattan.

Applause Chooses Brigantine Belle As Queen

This year's Queen of the Muhlenberg Junior Prom is Miss Betty Bacharach of Brigantine, N. J. Miss Bacharach is the first Prom Queen in history to be chosen by the dancers through the use of an applause meter.

The audience picked her from a group of ten contestants who had been chosen by four professional judges to participate in the Queen contest.

Applause Breaks Tie

The voting was very close and it was only after a second round of applause broke a tie between Miss Bacharach and Miss Diana Johnson that the winner was declared. Miss Bacharach is the sister of Buddy Bacharach, a sophomore at Muhlenberg. She is eighteen years old and a senior in Atlantic City High School.

Crowned by Spivak

She was officially crowned Queen of the Prom by band leader Charlie Spivak. Her prizes included a 17-jewel Bulova wrist watch, two dozen American Beauty roses, and a gift certificate for a free photograph by Frank DeChristopher of Allentown.

Each of the queen's nine attendants received a silver bracelet as her prize for forming the queen's court.

After receiving her prizes Miss Bacharach and her escort, Harry Miss Betty Bacharach, who was crowned Queen of this year's Junior Prom.

Kaupp, a sophomore, also from Brigantine, danced a special dance reserved in honor of the queen. During this dance Edward Carty, a Junior Class member, sang I'd Love to be in Loveland with a Girl Like You in honor of the Queen.

Four hundred and twenty-five couples attended the dance, which was set in a theme of a medieval castle. The bandstand was draped in red velvet bunting and the walls were lined with different colored torches, giving an authentic atmosphere.

Student's Acceptance Of Responsibility Opens Way For Muhlenberg Honor System

Recently many discussions around the campus have led to debates about the nature and function of an honor system at Muhlenberg. The Omicron Delta Kappa circle has been examining much evidence which supports both sides of the question. However, the main problem seems to be whether Muhlenberg students are ready to accept the responsibilities which, of necessity, associated themselves with the complete freedom in the examination room.

That the students are inclined to accept responsibilities is evident by the success of the "free-cut" system and the increase of the number of men from all classes who maintain good standing.

One main case in point is the highly successful function of the honor system in courses offered by the Department of Psychology. Over a three year period approximately 350 men have come into contact with the system of whom less than 5% were believed to be guilty of violating the code.

This evidence demonstrates that the student body is ready to accept the responsibility of an honor system. The next step is to set up an honor system, the machinery to handle all academic irregularities, and decide upon the limits for an experimental trial.

Lutheran Pilgrimage To Campus Warrants Cooperation Of All Students And Faculty

On Sunday, March 5, hundreds of Lutherans from all over the State of Pennsylvania will flock to the Muhlenberg campus to see for themselves the physical aspects of the college to which they have been asked to contribute. This is part of the general CHEY program which is making a drive to collect $780,000 to be expended in repairing the powerhouse, completing the East Hall Dormitory, and adding to the Field House fund. The college facilities will all be opened for inspection, and professors will be on hand to explain various phases of academic instruction.

However, the greatest impression that the visitors will take home with them will come from the students. Each organization which has a room in the Student Center should have that room open for public inspection and have some member of the organization on hand at all times to answer questions about the club.

Each campus student can contribute by making certain that his outward appearance as well as the general appearance of his room is representative of the high regard in which college students are held. Students should also join the visiting groups as they tour the campus and see many of the classrooms and activity centers they have never had the opportunity to visit before. Make it your duty to make the day successful in the drive "towards a greater Muhlenberg."

MULE KICKS

EXPRESSES PLEASURE

Dear Editor:

I am taking this means of thanking the Administration on its handling of the bookstore this semester. Unlike past semesters, I was able to secure all my textbooks within a few days of the start of school. I think most students will agree with me in saying that the present system is extremely satisfactory.

Satisfied Customer.

MISUNDERSTOOD MOTIVES

Dear Editor:

As one of the unheard public on campus I rarely raise my voice in protest over minor occurrences. However, there is one irritating, although apparently not malicious, occurrence which should be stopped. I refer to the frequent presence of Alpha, a campus pet, in the Chapel.

Alpha is a friendly, inoffensive dog, but the Chapel is not the place for dogs. Because of his very friendliness he has become a distraction to many students. If those responsible for Alpha would keep him out of the Chapel, I, for one, would be grateful.

Sincerely,

A Student

PROGRAM RECOMMENDED

Dear Editor,

Three cheers to "A Sincere Student" (MULE KICKS, Feb. 9). It is a wonderful idea of his to put on a talent show. A talent show, and I quote, "Just for something new, different, and fun." It's just what we need, something which starts and ends on Muhlenberg.

Think of those boys who before college were studying music, dancing, magic, voice, imitations,

Benedicts Withhold Blessing From Females Of Mal-Intent

Money Grubbers, Sophisticates And Intellectuals Are Constant Bane Of Ascetic Drinking Society

Pete Popko, girl friend, and bystander, illustrate how the Predatory gold digger operates on unsuspecting male.

by Don Heiney

While partaking of the amber brew at the Boar's Head Tavern the other night, a discussion among the members of that illustrious group of misogynists, the Benedict Club was overheard. The subject, of course, was women. The overheard lore of the Benedict Club follows:

Millionaire's Sons Beware

Watch out for the Gold Digger. She will save a great deal of money—her own, that is. Those dollar signs in her eyes mean bankruptcy for the next man she dates. The ideal man for her is one who attends college, who is a star athlete, who has a car (not less than one year old), who possesses a mountain of twenty dollar bills, and who is stupid enough to think she loves him. She is always hungry and she "loves" fraternity pins and taxicabs. This crafty female will trap some unsuspecting millionaire's son into matrimony. (The Benedict Club used the word "funeral").

In like manner, beware of the sophisticate. She is the type with the bored and brassy look. She slinks about in a black, low neck-lined piece of cloth. She is easily detected by the jewelry which hangs all over her. She is about as familiar with men as a slot machine mechanism is with a coin.

Then there is that "rah-rah" character whose disgusting exuberance makes her a poison of the most deadly kind. Why she giggles, why she is so optimistic, and why she must be so ostentatious, nobody knows.

The Barnacle is that over-affectionate female whose sincerity is worth nothing. She is usually anxious to be married because she is tired of being a "career girl." Many of these "clinging vines" think that they have some exclusive, overwhelming power over men. A single flick of the shoulder removes her grasp from one's neck.

High I.Q. Means Bad Night

The Intellectual is that wily female who tries to trap one by revealing all her knowledge. This form of poison usually wears horn rim glasses. She says that she is "searching for platonic love" (whatever that is) and for the "finer things of life." She takes great delight in drenching one

Masterful Direction Of Mr. Warren Burns Largely Responsible For Success Of Play

Integral Part Of Current ICL Program Illustrates Theme Of This Important Week Of Activity

by Tom Cole

I cannot say for the company what the knights said: "We are completely disinterested." Of course we were interested—and more than a little concerned about Warren Burns' production of T. S. Eliot's verse play Murder in the Cathedral. Thus, under Mr. Burns' excellent direction, we gave the finest production of which we were capable. I dare say Eliot's modern masterpiece has never received a finer production anywhere than we gave it.

Action Merely Inferred

Eliot's play is not an easy one. The poetry is all there, as those who were lucky enough to hear all of it will agree. But though the poetry is all there, the action of the play is only suggested by Eliot: enter the Four Knights, enter Thomas, enter Third Tempter, etc. Shakespeare did no more. Thus the production of such a beautiful play in the surroundings for which it was written (and produced in a chapel) posed many problems for Mr. Burns.

Burns Uses Entrances

To give the play swiftness of execution and movement, Mr. Burns utilized seven different entrances for his players, used the organ for excellent musical background, and plotted his lighting deftly so as to bring a certain mystery and hushedness to the audience. Mr. Burns quietly and masterfully won the confidence of his players so that they did not for a moment ever doubt his authority.

The play was in rehearsal only two weeks, but over so short a time the players learned to know their parts and to know the subtle implications of each other's role. A unique fusion of meaning, purpose, and direction were achieved; thus the almost perfect plasticity of the final performance. There was no player who could not be singled out for his or her superb presentation of Eliot's dramatic poetry. And though Mr. Burns was wise to stress meaning in our delivery of the lines (wise in the face of those innocent few who insist on not being able to understand anything Mr. Eliot or any of the moderns write), the poetry could not be done away with. It was there. It is there: utterly magnificent.

Achieve Excellent Effect

Mr. Alfred Jones Jefferies, of Allentown's Civic Little Theatre, was an inspired Thomas A. Becket. Jefferies was at all times composed and dignified, but always with a mystic awareness of the history he was (as Thomas) making. His role was, with the possible exception of the Chorus, the most arduous one, one upon which the whole production must center and succeed if the production was to be perfect. I for one was amazed at Jefferies' control and brilliant projection. The Chorus was composed of three talented actresses from Cedar Crest College: Misses Rebecca Reiter, Carolyn Richmond,

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

With men who know tobacco best, it's women two to one! The morning after saw us stopping in at headquarters to get a hair off the head of the dog that bit us on prom night. The phone rang; it was a usually authoritative source calling. He muttered in an unusually husky voice that he had just seen Willy Vandegrift up in his room, dancing with a shaggy bear. We hung up at this point, but he called back and insisted that we hear him out. Hiccupping eagerly into the phone, our source told us that when he asked Mr. Vandegrift what he was doing dancing with a bear, Mr. Vandegrift answered, "I'm just practicing." We hung up again. Mr. Source, of course, immediately called back. He claimed that when he had asked Grift, for the second time, what in the name of something or other he was doing waltzing with a bear, Grift had pouted and answered, "Well, it's better than that dog I took to the prom last night!" Don't worry, Vandegrift, we didn't believe him. When Mr. Source started telling us about the flying saucer he had seen we hung again, this time for good. You see, Grift, we got the drift, and you'll be glad to know that we decided not to use the item, because we never print anything that is untrue.

Generation of Vipers: Everybody knows that ex-servicemen's kids are of a tougher breed. There was a little chap sitting on the curb on front of Vet's housing with a cigarette in one hand and with the neck of a flask protruding from his hip pocket. The omnipresent old lady missionary came up to him and queried, "Sonny, why aren't you in school?" The careless response came, "Heck lady, I'm only three!"

Platitudinous Plip-Plop: We hear that "Two Ton Tony" Bruno decided that the boys had been making too much noise in E Hall, and he made it known that he was going to move if it didn't stop. The boys rolled him over, looped a heavy chain around his middle and gave the signal. The boom swung over; the eighty H.P. Continental engine strained and whined; the chain suddenly grew taut, and hoisted him into the cold shower, clothes and all . . . It is a cold day. You decide to rev up your car a little to warm it up. You climb out, then slam the door. You discover you left your key in the ignition. What do you do? If Bob Pathroff hadn't broken a window, his car would be still purring! . . . The lights were low and the atmosphere hung heavy the other night, at the Penna. Restaurant. Saul, the gypsy violinist made his violin cry, the old meanie . . . Prom decorations and pervading air were perfect. Lee hat of the week goes to the planning committee. Good stuff!

"Whoever told that guy he was a prof? He just doesn't know how to teach the stuff. Everybody hates him. Every time he tries to explain something he digresses so much that no one can understand what he's talking about. I think he ought to quit teaching and go back to the farm."

"Yeah. I flunked too."

Alpha, Hound Of The Year, Divides His Time Between Fire Hydrant And Class

by Bob Richardson

There is a friend among you, students of Muhlenberg, who is of astounding merit. Small-boned and slightly bow-legged, his stature in a way reflects his ability. The administration has yielded to his demand for a wholly liberal education, as can be observed by the fact that he, now and then, attends EVERY course offered at Muhlenberg. Indeed, it is phenomenal that his class attendance is approved by the Dean. It has been lately rumored, however, that this little student has discovered something in President Tyson's past which the good doctor is hesitant to have exposed. Whatever the reason, it is evident that this energetic undergraduate has a political strangle-hold on the College.

But no one, not even Stella, can say that he is unfriendly. He knows more men than does "Haps" Benfer, and more females than does Rossellini. As a lover of Epicurean habits, this fellow, so it is whispered, possesses a harem of Allentown females that would ruffle the beard of an Aly Kahn.

Although swarms of faithful grounds keepers work diligently to keep the Muhlenberg campus beautiful, this fellow, according to tradition, does more than his part to preserve the terrain by watering the lawns and raking the turf from Fall until Spring.

Despite his authority, our friend

... Student Council Reports ...

Student Council held its regular meeting on Thursday, February 23, in the Student Council room of the Student Center.

President Lybrand read a report on the mule which indicated the great expense and time involved in caring and training the mule. A motion was made that a committee of one be formed to investigate the cost of a mule costume.

An announcement was received from N.S.A. regarding the coming Intercollegiate Festival to be held May 6, 1950 in Ervine Auditorium at the University of Pennsylvania. There will be a program of entertainment made up of member colleges and universities. Persons interested in N.S.A. or the festival, please notify any student council member.

A communication was received in answer to our request concerning the recent trouble encountered with the scheduling of athletic events during examination periods. The elimination of this problem is under consideration by the administration.

The regular meeting of the student body has been called for March 16, as is designated by the Constitution of the Student Government. The Constitution of the Student Government has been assigned to the constitution committee for the consideration of possible revisions.

President Lybrand informed the Sophomore Class president, Mr. Teal, of the forthcoming election of the Ciarla editor-in-chief and the business manager and the requirements that the candidates must meet.

The interest of Kappa Sigma Kappa social fraternity in formation of a chapter on Muhlenberg campus was announced by a communication received from the organization's national secretary. The information has been posted on the bulletin board in the Student Center for students interested in forming a chapter.

Mr. Teal was assigned to see Capt. Christine of the Allentown Police Dept. concerning ways of curtailing the destruction of college property which has occurred recently on the campus.

and Jane Wiley. Their dramatic presentation of Eliot's rich lines was always alive and moving.

It would be only a heaping of praise upon praise to go through the dramatis personae. It shall be enough to list them: First Priest, Richard Manzelmann; Second, Paul Bosch; Third, Paul Sittler; Herald, Jack Heazlett; First Temp, Kenneth Shirk; Second, Laverne Etchman; Third, William France; Fourth, Thomas Cole; First Knight, William Laird; Second, John Stadlander; Third, William Eccles; Fourth, Fred Peifley.

Naturally, such a brilliant performance of Eliot's play was no accident, even noting the cast and the masterful direction of Warren Burns. Such a performance would not have been possible had we not had the fine cooperation of Dr. E. T. Horn in respect of the Chapel's use, and Mr. William Kinter, the man who moved many mountains for us. Mr. Andrew H. Erskine was the faculty adviser of our Drama Committee, for our production was part of the week's celebration of the Institute of Christian Living. Mr. Earl Mohn aided us in matters of reading numerous lines for poetry as well as meaning. The gentlemen responsible for our effective lighting are Adolph Koenig and Jerry Adler. Prompters were Miss Drucilla Albert of Cedar Crest College and Dr. Allan Tunick. Mr. Richard Manheim was organist.

attends chapel every week and is treated with utmost respect. It is said that, if he does not approve of the morning sermon, he will not hesitate to object orally. Some think he goes to chapel because he likes to listen to the organ, but others believe he is repenting a shady past; for no one, including this happy genius himself, knows who his parents were. Therefore, lest he be labeled by some unpleasant name, he allows himself to be seen in church.

Secretly, the capricious little scholar is an outstanding athlete, but, because the school hesitates to pay its musclemen, he refuses to participate in sports. This reporter has seen him outrun the swiftest men on campus and, within the limits of truth, has seen him almost catch a speeding auto. He doesn't need a varsity "M" anyway, because he never wears a sweater.

And so he passes among us each day, hatless, dressed only in an old tan and white coat. All the world is his kingdom.

His name is as distinctive as it is classical, "Alpha Lambda Chi," but this little hound dog, patron of all Muhlenberg has to offer in tradition and fire hydrants, gayly lets us call him "Alph."

etc. Now that they are here at 'Berg, what chance have they to put their talent to use? Without a doubt these boys would rally to any individual who would begin to organize such a splendid plan which would help to give more boys a chance to participate in the life of our community. Aside from this, no other college has probably attempted such a novel idea. Why can't 'Berg be a leader in this endeavor? Of course there are many activities available, but why stick to the same routine? Add something like the suggestion above. It could be made a yearly event whereby the winner of the previous year could compete with the new talent, or with the same talent. If you really wish to advance the interests of 'Berg, you cannot afford to allow this issue to rest—to rest for the time that may never come.

Mules Add Two Victories, Topping Bucknell And Lehigh; Gettysburg To Oppose 'Berg In Home Finale

McGee Goes Over 1000 Mark; Mackin Hits 22 In Wins

by Larry McClafferty

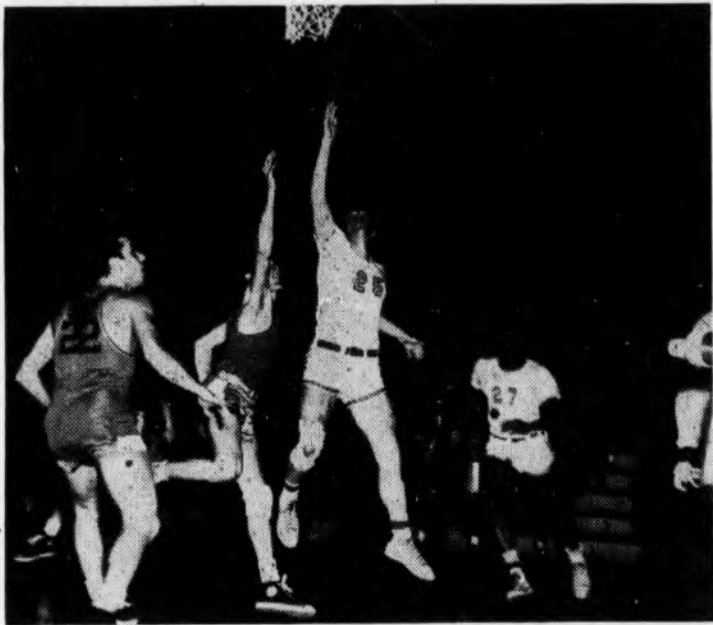

Before a sparse crowd in Grace Hall Monday night Muhlenberg highballed by the Lehigh Engineers by a score of 88-64.

In the opening minute Jaffe sent the Mules ahead 2-0, but Lehigh's captain Frymoyer push-shot to even the score. Bill Baker's goal and free throw made it 5-2. Lehigh was not to be denied as big Lou Lange and Rick Collin knotted the score 5-5, for the last tie of the evening. Muhlenberg ironed out its passing difficulties and was off to the races. Leo Martini's deuce and McGee's brace of fouls made it 9-5. At the ten minute mark, it was Muhlenberg's game, 17-9.

In the beginning of the second quarter Lehigh engineered six quick points to shrink the margin to 19-15. Marv Jaffe took things in hand and went on an eleven point spree in the next eight minutes to finish with 13 points at intermission. Baker, McGee, Saemmer and Martini reaped eight, seven, six, and four points respectively of the 38-23 halftime score.

Mules Use Platoon System

Borgmann's second platoon (Mackin, Jackson, Smith, Rubbert and Loneragan) picked up where the starting five left off, and built up a 48-26 advantage after four minutes of the second half. It was then that the Mule luminary Danny Mackin kicked over the traces and garnered 14 points in the ensuing eight minutes, to give Muhlenberg a 69-43 lead with eight minutes to coast. Don Drach, (nine) and Dick Gratton (seven) were the gems of the Lehigh second half push. Mackin's 22 points, better than a point a minute, was high for both clubs, while Lou Lange of Lehigh sank 15 points.

Yearlings Triumph

In the preliminary, the Muhlenberg frosh defeated the Lehigh yearlings in a tight game 66-55. Joe Bonacci and George Fedok led the attack with 20 and 18 points, while Larry Hand and big Dick Eckert swishing the meshes for ten apiece.

Still smarting from an earlier lacing administered by the Mules, Bucknell's Bisons fell before a powerful offensive at Rockne Hall, Saturday night, when the Muhlenberg College five ran rampant to a 95-81 victory. In the course of the evening's play, Dick McGee, captain of the Mules, went over the 1,000 mark in point production for his collegiate career.

The contest was a rat-race from the very beginning, with both teams employing a fast break that left defense virtually nil. Marty McKibbin and Joe Gallagher bore the brunt of the Bison offensive, hitting the hoop for 21 and 20 points respectively.

Bisons Take Early Lead

Bucknell capitalized on the Mule's ragged play in the first four minutes, and jumped away to a 9-4 lead, but McGee, Jaffe, Baker, and Martini combined to push Muhlenberg to a 12-9 lead. Thirteen minutes of play having elapsed, Bucknell had knotted the score at 13-13.

The Mules sported a 27-23 margin after fifteen minutes of action, (Continued on Page Five)

G-burg Seeks To Avenge Defeat On Saturday Evening

Last season a highly-favored Mule five met an underdog Gettysburg Bullet team on the Rockne Hall court, confident of repeating with a win over the Battlefields. However, when the final whistle had blown the Bullets had emerged with a 65-61 upset victory to square the season series. This Saturday night at 8:30 on the Rockne Hall hardwood that same Gettysburg five, with the addition of several promising sophomores, will be out to avenge an earlier 78-59 loss by downing the Muhlenberg men in their last home contest of the 1949-50 season.

Harris All-State Choice

Coach Henry T. Bream will bring a veteran team here, led by Associated Press all-stater Bucky Harris. Harris, an outstanding performer, averaged 17 points per game in 26 contests last season. This year, his junior term at the Battlefield school, Harris is once again pacing his mates to a successful season. He teams with Ross Sachs, a five foot eleven inch senior, at the forward posts.

At the pivot spot the Bullets have sensational shooting Harry Pure who, at six feet three inches, is the rebounder for the invaders. The guard slots are ably handled by Henry Belber and Bob O'Brien, two six-footers who averaged two digit numbers in last season's campaign. O'Brien played with Muhlenberg's National Invitation Tournament team during the war and is a facile set-shooter. A capable group of reserves round out the Gettysburg squad and give coach Bream a strong bench.

This season the Bullets have (Continued on Page Five)

Mule Courtmen And Royals At Scranton Wed.

Seven Seniors Come To Twilight Of Cage Days For Cardinal And Grey

The curtain will fall on the 1949-50 basketball season next Wednesday evening when the Muhlenberg Mules travel to oppose the Scranton University Royals at the Watres Armory.

A capacity crowd is expected for the engagement, which pits the Mules, 15-6, against the purple and white, who have compiled a 9-12 record this season. The Mules will probably stick to their regular starting array of Bill Baker, Marv Jaffe, Dick McGee, Al Saemmer and Leo Martini.

Seven Holdovers

Head coach Doug Holcomb has seven veterans returning from last year's varsity, and two of these men, Jack Leighton and Pete Medveyky play key parts in the Royal style of play. Other returnees who have seen considerable service include Don Bartol, Walt Stocknick, Pat McGeehen, Joe Sadowski, Bob Weibel and Joe Kocogis. Bolstering this strong array are several newcomers, products of a crack freshman club in 1949. They include Tom Rittenhouse, Joe Foster, Chuck Tulby, and Gene Carbona.

Up and Down Season

The Royals have had a rather up and down season, as their record indicates. Among their victims however were Albright, Moravian and St. Francis of Brooklyn. It is interesting, too, to note several key teams which have found the sledding rough against the scrappy Royals. Lafayette was extended until the closing minutes, while stopping the Purple and White, 65-57. Canisius, conqueror of C.C.N.Y., topped Scranton by only 58-48 at Buffalo. The one runaway loss of the campaign was to (Continued on Page Five)

Del. Hosts Eight M-A Mat Teams

G'burg Defends Title, Ursinus Top Contender

Eight member teams of the Middle Atlantic Collegiate Wrestling Association will gather at the University of Delaware on March 3 and 4 to grapple for the conference crown at the Association's twelfth annual championship meet. Over sixty bouts are scheduled to be held in Delaware's spacious Carpenter Field House in the two-day affair, and champions in the eight weight divisions will be crowned at finals on Saturday evening.

G-burg Favored To Retain Crown

Clyde Cole's Gettysburg College team is favored to retain the crown they won last year in the conference fray at Gettysburg, but strong opposition is expected from several of the teams. Ursinus, Swarthmore, Haverford, Bucknell, Muhlenberg, Lafayette and Delaware complete the membership. The Ursinus squad is expected to present the most serious threat to the Bullets' bid for their second straight title.

Paced by the sensational Russ Reigal, the Bullets will come back this year with two previous titleholders and two finalists from among the powerful team that piled up 37 points last year. Reigal was recently defeated for the first time in his college career by F. and M's Charley Cope, after 37 consecutive collegiate wins. Reigal will be after his fourth straight Middle Atlantic title, and it doesn't appear as though anyone will stop him. The Bullet's Launce Soult will also be defending a title in the 165 pound class, while Dick Sassman and Clarence Diehl return after losing in the finals last year.

Preliminaries are scheduled for Friday evening, with semi-finals on Saturday afternoon and finals on Saturday evening.

Devils Score Upset— Stop 'Cats by 36-30

An upset featured I-M League action last Monday as the Devils handed the Black Cats their first defeat 36-30. Kessler paced the victors with 10 points while Stianchi and Mazzucca each netted 11 for the losers. The upset threw the League III leadership into a four team race with the Devils, Bombers, Lambda Chi Alpha, and the Black Cats each showing one loss to mar a clean slate.

Glad-Five Leads League II
The Glad-To-Be-Alive-Five virtually clinched first place in League II by defeating A.T.O. 62-48 in a contest last week. In League I Sigma Phi Epsilon and Phi Sigma Kappa met to determine League I leadership.

Following the same set-up as last year the two top teams in each league will be eligible for the playoffs. A first place team in one league will oppose a second place team of another league with the loser eliminated from further participation. The three remaining teams will battle each other for the I-M championship. One team will draw a by and play the winner of the other contest.

Yanks Down Warriors
In other contests last Monday the S. H. Yankees defeated the Warriors 42-37. Kramer led the winner with 15 counters while the Warriors' Konorochuk and Tumas each hit for 12 points. Lambda Chi Alpha blasted the Black Knights 74-31 to keep in the race for their league title. Elder's 23 points were high for the first while Wright tallied 20 for the losers.

The official standings as of February 28:

LEAGUE I

Sigma Phi Epsilon	6	0	0	60
Phi Sigma Kappa	6	0	0	60
Phi Kappa Tau	4	2	0	50

but at no time was Bucknell more than five points off Muhlenberg's pace. Intermission found Borgmann's boys enjoying a none too secure 38-35 margin.

Mackin, Martini Take Charge
The second half was marked by "fire horse" play from the tap-off. Muhlenberg pressed its advantage via Martini set shots and Mackin "pro style" shots. Captain McGee entered the 1000 point "charmed circle" with his favorite hook shot, giving the Mules a 70-63 lead with seven minutes of the last stanza remaining. At this point, the Mules, with Mackin in command, ran rampant, Mackin scoring ten points in the final five minutes, thus insuring for Muhlenberg its fourteenth win in twenty starts. Mackin, high man with 22 tallies, was tailed by Martini and McGee, who hit for 19 and 18 points respectively.

Here's How They Stand . . .

Dick McGee and Marv Jaffe highlighted this week's scoring parade, the former passing the 1000 mark for his college career, and the latter going over the 300 mark for the season. Marv leads in the scoring with 305 points collected on 117 field goals and 71 fouls. McGee follows with 266 points and Saemmer with 210.

Danny Mackin's 49 points in the last three games has been the most prolific scorer in the last week, raising his total to 188.

Dick Eckert tops the Frosh in the scoring column.

Mule Grapplers Top Bucknell

Winning five out of eight matches, the Muhlenberg wrestlers downed Bucknell in the West Hall gym last Saturday. Schell Wins 4th Match of Season
In the heavyweight class, acting captain Schell (replacing injured George Sutton as captain), won his fourth match of the season by pinning Bucknell's Kiely in 3:13 with a chancery and bar. The Mules' Schmauch also won by a pin, applying a reverse chancery and bar to Woolcock of the Bisons. The three other Cardinal and Grey victories were gained on decisions. In the 121-pound class, McCall defeated Gulding 7-3. Miller, 128, followed up with a 7-1 win over Fusia. Yanuzzi, coming out on top for the first time this season, decisioned Henderson 5-4.

gained decisive victories over Elizabethtown, Franklin and Marshall, Dickinson, Bucknell (twice), John Hopkins, and other strong fives, while dropping contests to foes including Georgetown, Pittsburgh, Navy, and Virginia. The Mules will be at full strength, fresh from a victory over Lehigh's Engineers, and anxious to close their home schedule with a convincing win. They will be out to retain or better their eighth spot in national offense and will have to add 70 points to their 1258 season total to maintain the 69.9 per game average. Included with the 'Bergmen in the top ten are Holy Cross, Villanova, Western Kentucky, St. John's (Brooklyn), Bowling Green, LaSalle, Kentucky, Bradley, and Louisville.

The Muhlenberg freshmen will meet the Gettysburg first year men in the preliminary, starting at 7:00 p.m.

SPE's Defeat PSK For League I Title

In the playoff for the League III title Tuesday night, Sigma Phi Epsilon nosed out Phi Sigma Kappa 43-32 in a rough and tumble thriller.

Moch and Scheipe led the Sig Eps in scoring with 19 and 10 points respectively. Weiss with 13, and Deibert with 10, led the Phi Sigs attack.

Ernie Fellows, Muhlenberg track coach, requests that all aspirants for this year's track team report to him on Tuesday, March 7 at 12:30 p.m. in his office in the Administration Building. Coach wants to see all of last year's returning squad members, in addition to new candidates. If any candidate is unable to report to Mr. Fellows at the specified time, he should stop in later in the day.

Mr. Fellows does not wish to see Freshman prospects at this time. A later call will be made for yearling prospects.

Major Bill Reynolds, Oregon '40 Pilot-Professor, U. S. Air Force!

Bill was an all-round athlete. He chose football as his favorite sport, made the varsity teams at Pomona Junior College and also at the University of Oregon.

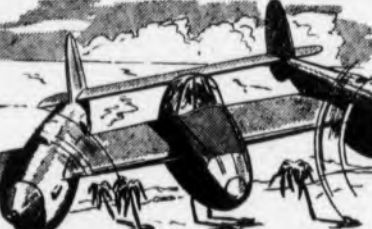

A Theta Chi, Bill enjoyed campus social life. Found that it eased the pressure of rugged athletics and his heavy study schedule in Personnel Management.

Upon graduation, Bill chose a future in the Air Force. He "flew" his first Link trainer as an Aviation Cadet in 1940. By March, 1941, he had won his pilot wings.

The 1st Observation Squadron, Fort Riley, Kansas was Lieutenant Reynolds' first assignment. While there he met the future Mrs. Reynolds. They married, a year later and now have two fine sons.

The Squadron moved to Panama, then to the Pacific. Bill advanced from pilot to operations officer to squadron commander. He came home a Major and qualified for a Regular Commission.

Recently commended for peacetime work—organizing and improving instruction techniques—Major Reynolds, a "Pilot-Professor", looks forward to a long and gainful career in the U. S. Air Force.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. ## The Chowline

Agenda: A little Bryn Mawr minx who spent a weekend recently at a Phi Tau houseparty has sent us a memorandum which she took, somewhat unscrupulously, from a student's calendar pad:

Send laundry home

Serve refreshments after game

Think! Think! Think! all weekend

Heresy: All avid Milton Berle fans seem to be concentrating on one thought, "Hang him in effigy." By him we mean Pres. Tyson, who insisted that Uncle Milt should not take precedence over an I C L FACULTY meeting in the STUDENT Center last Tuesday evening.

We thought the Junior Prom last week was only slightly less than terrific. The highlights of the affair of course were the naming of Miss Betty Bacharach as the very charming queen and the top-notch singing of Muhlenberg's own Ed Carty.

Cerebral Palsy, Red Feather Christmas Seal, March of Dime, Heart; do they sound familiar? Yes, and now another campaign: perhaps the worthiest of all, the Red Cross. Shekel collector for the Muhlenberg campus is Mr. John J. Reed of our history dept. (The space for this notice was cheerfully donated by the Scotty Wood Commons).

Council Reviews Work Accomplished In Fall

Plans For Future Operation Discussed And Financial Statement For Past Term Presented

Student Council's accomplishments in the fall semester and its plans for the future will be the main topics of business at the next Student Body meeting at 11:00 a.m., March 16 in the Science auditorium.

At this time the council will announce its financial statement for the fall semester and also its budget for the current semester. These statements will concern all the funds which came under council's control. Special emphasis will be placed on a discussion of the publications fund area of the budget.

Proposes Constitution Changes

Among items of new business, council will submit several Student Body constitutional amendments. According to William Lybrand, president of council, these amendments have become necessary because of changes that have taken place in the relations between council and the faculty and administration of the college.

College Grants Student Representation

Chief among these changes is the granting by the College of student representation in certain faculty and board of trustee committees. These committees are responsible for decisions which directly affect student life at the college. The names of the students picked by council to sit on these committees will be revealed at the student body meeting.

A discussion of the various aspects of the honor system and its possibility of being inaugurated at Muhlenberg is another topic slated for the meeting.

Also on the agenda will be a call for student opinion on Muhlenberg's participation in the

Tyson Heads Visit To Maritime College

President Tyson left the campus Tuesday for the United States Maritime College, Fort Schuyler, N. Y. He is serving as chairman of an inspection group which will tour and evaluate the institution.

This inspection tour is conducted by the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education, a body functioning upon authorization of the Middle States Association. Dr. Tyson has made several such visits with this group; the most recent one was to West Point to inspect and evaluate the U. S. Military Academy.

Alpha, Lambda Chi Alpha's Canine Mascot, Succumbs As Result Of Gastric Disorder

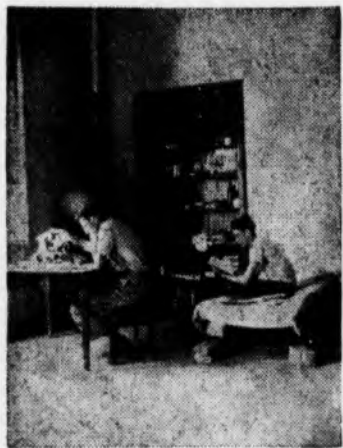

by Ted Argeson

A Muhlenberg tradition came to an abrupt end Thursday, March 2, 1950 at approximately 8:30 p.m. when Alpha, the canine mascot of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity died mysteriously. He was found by Jacques Rasser at the rear entrance of the fraternity house.

It was believed by all that Alpha was poisoned until the idea was disproven by Dr. Elmer B. Kipp, a local veterinarian, who stated that symptoms showed the probable cause to be strangulation arising from a gastric disorder. A great doubt as to the cause of death still remains in the minds of the men who lived with Alpha, and who supervised his living habits.

Alpha had been living in the Lambda Chi Alpha house since last August when he was picked up

WSSF Fund Aids Bombay School

Kaelberer Directs 'Berg Drive For D.P. Students

The World Student Service Fund will conduct its annual campaign on the Muhlenberg campus from March 27 to April 4, according to an announcement made this week by student chairman Jack Kaelberer.

In this year's drive all funds contributed to W.S.S.F. by Muhlenberg students will be sent to aid in building a student's dormitory in Bombay, India. This special project was agreed upon by the campus W.S.S.F. advisory committee.

Lends Aid to Students

The W.S.S.F. was organized shortly after the war when President Truman called for an organization to alleviate the terrible conditions of students in foreign lands. It is sponsored by the National Students Association, the Student Christian Movement, the Hillel Foundation, and the Newman Club. The United States Department of State also backs the W.S.S.F. effort to aid foreign students.

Signs Prohibit Trespassing On Play Facilities

Aim To Stop Non-Student Use Of 'Berg Recreation Set-Up

Student Council took steps this week to prevent damage to student recreational facilities by unauthorized persons. With the cooperation of the Allentown Police department signs will be placed on the recreational facilities in the Student Center and West Hall prohibiting anyone not a member of the college to trespass on this property.

Offenders To Be Fined

Persons caught violating these regulations will be subject to fines ranging from ten to twenty-five dollars.

In recent months children from neighborhoods surrounding the campus and other persons not connected with the college have been usurping student recreational facilities. Considerable damage has been reported as a result of these activities. The action by council was taken for the purpose of restoring these facilities to the sole use of Muhlenberg students.

Krause Contest Open To Junior Class Men

Marks, Erskine Judge Annual Oratorical Contest

Juniors who are interested in participating in the annual Junior Oratorical contest should contact either Mr. Erskine or Professor Marks, according to an announcement made this week by Professor Marks.

The contest will be held some time during the spring season. The subject of the orations will be the Influence of Music, and the winners will be awarded the Jeanie Kramer Krause Prizes. These prizes are cash awards from the income of the Jeanie Kramer Memorial fund. Fifty percent of this income is awarded to the first place winner; thirty percent goes to the second place winner; twenty percent is given to the third place contestant.

The Jeanie Kramer Memorial Fund of a thousand dollars was established at the bequest of the late George Derr Krause of the class of 1879, in memory of his first wife.

Art Dept. Furnishes Pictures For Patrons

The Art Department is still offering an opportunity to all members of the Muhlenberg family, faculty, student, or staff, to add to the beauty of their rooms, or homes. Anyone who desires may rent some framed reproductions from the department's rental collection. There is a nominal charge of fifty cents per semester to cover the cost of repairing frames and obtaining new selections for the collection.

Varied Collection Available

Although rentals have been in effect for several weeks, few people have taken advantage of this opportunity. The collection from which one may choose is large. Still life, portraits, modern abstract, landscape, and many other types of art are included in the collection.

These pictures may be obtained any day, Monday through Friday, at the department's office, third floor, Library, between the hours of 1:30 and 5:00 p.m.

Berg Hosts I.C.G. Convention Of Northeastern Area Colleges

Thirteen Schools Send Representatives To Meetings; Alloway Directs Proceedings As Pol-Scientists Reign

by Vince Nardone

The Honorable Donald V. Hock, Mayor of Allentown, Dr. Levering Tyson, and Dean Sherwood Mercer of Muhlenberg College will greet over a hundred delegates of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government at their annual convention being held on Muhlenberg College campus on Saturday, March 11, from 11:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. There will be thirteen colleges represented in the convention which will hold its meetings in the Science and Administration buildings.

Noted Experts Speak

Dr. Swain, head of the History Department, will introduce the main speakers of the day. They are: Attorney Henry Snyder of Allentown, who will speak on "The Missouri Plan and the Judicial Form"; Attorney Gene Smith, Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (equivalent to Secretary of State), speaking on "Executive Reorganization"; and, The Executive Director of I.C.G., Attorney Genevieve Blott of Pittsburgh, who will also have a few select words for the group.

There are fifty-six colleges in Pennsylvania who make up the I.C.G. They are divided into six regions. The Northeastern Region—the second largest—is composed of thirteen colleges and universities: Kutztown State Teachers College, Cedar Crest College, Muhlenberg College, Lehigh University, Moravian College, Lafayette College, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, Wilkes College, King's College, Scranton University, Marywood College, Keystone Junior College, and College Misericordia.

Officers Elected

The I.C.G. is regarded as a laboratory experiment in Political Science. The main purpose of the convention is to prepare for the State Convention. The main topic to be discussed is the rewriting of

Dean's List Men Get Chapel Recognition

Mercer Congratulates Group; Tyson Speaks At Program

On Monday, March 6, at the 11:00 a.m. Chapel service, special recognition was given to students who have been cited for scholastic achievements, by being placed on the Dean's list for the fall semester.

Dean Mercer personally congratulated those men, and then individually introduced them to the students in attendance. Dr. Tyson spoke briefly on the history of the College, and emphasized that academic achievement is a necessity in every student's life as exemplified by the honored students.

The following men were recognized for high academic achievement in this short service on the Dean's List for the fall semester: Alloway, Bird, Branton, Clauser, Feeman, Fulford, Geiger, Graff, Graver, Haas, Harding, Harris, Koehler, Leitner, Levitsky, Lockwood, Long, Meitzler, Mold, Offner, Palmer, Rothfeld, Souillard, Sutton, Thierfelder, Weiss, and Yurick.

Pre Meds Hear Talk On Med School Life

Dr. Donald Klotz, M.D., a general practitioner of this city addressed the Pre-Medical Society at its last meeting, Wednesday, March 8, in room 105 of the Science Building. The topic for the evening was "The Medical School Student."

Muhlenberg Alumnus '40

The doctor's talk dealt with the major problems and difficulties confronting the medical student during his four year course. Dr. Klotz discussed what the potential medical student should expect in his advanced study.

Dr. Klotz offered practical suggestions as to how to study, how to take notes, and the best means of approaching the various curricula.

A Muhlenberg student during the early '40's, Dr. Klotz left college in January, 1944 to enter Temple Medical School. Attending under the Navy V-12 program, he graduated in 1947. After interning at Sacred Heart Hospital, the doctor served a year's

Society Adopts Its Constitution

Sociology Group Hears Paper On Point Pleasant

The Sociological Society of Muhlenberg will hold its second meeting of this semester tonight at 7:30 in the Chapel lounge. The constitution will be presented for adoption, and plans for a visit to either New York or Philadelphia will be discussed. The program for the evening will feature James Chafey, who will present his paper on "The Sociological and Economic Analysis of Point Pleasant, New Jersey"; and John Bassler, who will present his paper on "Rehabilitation in Federal Prisons from 1929 to the Present Day." Refreshments will be served. All the members of the Society; all those who have satisfactorily completed the basic course; and all freshmen intending to major in Sociology are cordially invited to attend.

Sperling Speaks To Science Club

"A new method of Generating Non-Circular Gears" will be the topic of Mr. William Sperling, speaker before the Science Club on Monday, March 13. The gathering will be held in the Science Building at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Sperling, employed at the Frankford Arsenal in Philadelphia, will include in his talk the uses of the gears and a description of the machine that manufactures them. He will also present slide projection pictures.

Plans For Trip

According to Nelson Shearer, club secretary, all members are urged to attend, for plans will be made for a trip to the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company's new plant at Sunbury.

The main purpose of Mr. Sperling's talk, states Mr. Shearer "is to offer An Introduction to the Problems in Industry and the Main Issue in Advancement of Technical Processes."

The speaker will describe the uses of the non-circular gears in machines in which non-uniform velocity rates are required. He will also discuss a new machine that simplifies the manufacture of

Mask & Dagger Lists Spring Play Tryouts

Mr. Murray Stahl, president of Mask and Dagger, announced this week that tryouts for the Spring production "You Can't Take It With You," by Sinclair Lewis, will be held in the Science auditorium on Thursday evening, March 16, and Monday evening, March 20, at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Andrew Erskine of the English department will be the director of the play. Mr. Martin Weismann will be in charge of set designs. Mr. Stahl emphasized the large number of male roles in the comedy and the fact that almost half of the active membership of the club will graduate in June.

Remuneration Necessary To Keep Up The Good Work And Benefits Of Red Cross

The kind of team work found on the college gridiron or in the academic pursuits is also found in an organization such as the American Red Cross. Last year, for example, there were over 78 disasters in the United States in which the Red Cross gave relief to sufferers. Disasters are "extracurricular" so far as communities are concerned. Quick thinking, organizational ability, versatility and enthusiasm are important assets of the Red Cross worker. To demonstrate our sincere appreciation for the untold amount of benefit these industrious people have performed for a suffering community, we should all be willing to back them with whatever financial aid we can afford.

Those of us who have not been subjected to situations marked by pain and distress cannot appreciate the friendly hand of an organization whose duty is to comfort those in need. But if we ever are harmed by disaster, that which we give now will come home to us. Insure yourself by subscribing to the Red Cross fund. P.F.F.

ICL Week Proves To Be Great Spiritual Revelation And A Cultural Experience

For five days Muhlenberg was host to a program aimed at the strengthening of spiritual incentives in daily living. Having passed through its various seminars, its class-room periods, and its "bull sessions," it is only natural for us to pause and consider the merits of such an experience.

The ICL would have proven of value if only for the association with men who are accepted as prominent Christian leaders that it provided. Each of these men has dedicated his life to a faith far greater than himself, and that dedication was reflected in the power of personality felt by all those with whom they came in contact.

Faith and Belief Differentiated by Dr. Sittler

The ICL has brought to the attention of Muhlenberg men many facts and thoughts which, during busy semester hours, often escape notice. Dr. Joseph Sittler pointed out a distinction between faith and belief with clarity that no one attending his seminar can soon forget. Faith is a response to a call from without; belief is a combination of reason and feeling engendered by faith. Emphasized on several occasions was the thought that Christianity is no well wrapped package of success ready for immediate delivery, but that it represents the choice of a way of life of which develops an enduring courage to overcome difficulty and makes living a very rich experience. From such thoughts comes a very vital appreciation for the significance of Christian living.

Relationship Between Culture and Religion Shown

The ICL presented several cultural opportunities. Distinctive in that presentation were the organ concert on February 26 and the production of "Murder In The Cathedral." Maestro Giuseppe Moschetti's organ renditions developed a theme which finds its source in the human creative genius seeking a relationship with eternal verities. "Murder In The Cathedral" introduced several Muhlenberg students to the writings of T. S. Eliot, a man considered by many to sense accurately the underlying needs of Twentieth Century society.

However, these results, the association with strong Christian personalities, the stimulation of thought, and the presentation of cultural opportunities, tend to be of a cursory fashion. The essential worth of an ICL will be judged by the contributions it will make to Muhlenberg life in the next few months. If the ICL aids in the transformation of religious convictions into dynamic expressions, if it results in the integration of knowledge with well-ordered Christian personalities, and if it helps in the formation of practical plans for more activity of a spiritual nature, then the work of many interested faculty members and students shall have not been in vain. Then their enthusiasm shall have given birth to an Institute which has been of value. J.E.S.

The Muhlenberg Wives Club Will Celebrate Fourth Year

Mar-Kay Club Offers Social And Informal Meetings To Which All Students' Wives Attendance Is Urged

by Evelyn Freed

The Mar-Kay Club, in rounding out its fourth successful year, has proved its inevitable importance in post-war Muhlenberg. The undying loyalty and stamina of its members has made the organization a progressive part of this growing college community.

In its infancy the Mar-Kay Club was known only as the Students Wives Club, and had, as its objective, certain minor ideals which were to be obtained by a closer relationship between the student's wife and Muhlenberg College. The informal group, through the initiative of new members and through the development of new ideas, soon became an established organization with a formal charter.

Dearth of Members Noted

Although Mar-Kay has always maintained a representative number of active members, only fifty out of a hundred and fifty students' wives have availed themselves of the club's many opportunities this year. We believe this is due to the fact that numerous false impressions have been formulated among some of the wives and some of the husbands about the actual functioning of the Mar-Kay Club. Contrary to these beliefs, the group has always been as objective as possible, and as informal as possible, in all of its meetings and in all of its many social affairs. Almost all of the wives who have been persuaded to come to the meetings are noticeably surprised at the modest proceedings, and are anxious to attend more such gatherings.

The Mar-Kay Club has a full and interesting program planned for the spring semester under the leadership of Mrs. Eleanor Stahl, president; Mrs. Marge Weber, vice-president; Mrs. Betty Rollo, recording secretary; and Mrs. Lorraine Willman, corresponding secretary. The club's doors are wide open to all wives of Muhlenberg students!

Officers Recently Elected

Muhlenberg is second home to Mrs. Eleanor Stahl. She lives in Quakertown with her husband, Murray, and their two year old son, Jeffrey. After her graduation from Whitehall High School in 1943, Eleanor studied nursing at Haff Hospital. In 1945, with her

Local Daniel Boone Has An Epic Struggle With Angered Rodent As Bystander Gapes

Fearless Student Drives Squirrel Up A Tree At Broom Stick Point And Gets Nuts For An Answer

by Jim Palmer

"There, you sucker! Take that, and that, and that!"

A squirrel came bounding out of an open East Hall window, followed by a vicious looking student brandishing a broom, and fanning the air. The squirrel, however, disappeared up the other side of a nearby tree. The pursuer stood panting and blowing the hair out of his eye, looking menacingly up at the tree. He turned to a nearby student and declared dramatically:

Squirrel Seems Unusual

"Man, what an afternoon!" It was plain to see that this man was on the verge of collapse. "I've had to put up with all kinds of campus squirrels, but none of them were like this little beast! About a half an hour ago, while I was studying at my desk, I heard a noise beside me. That little wretch had climbed up on the window sill and was looking at me as meaningfully as I had ever been looked at. I was hot on my Shakespeare and didn't want him around. I got up and charged him manfully, and he went scampering off the window sill—but into the room. I ran all around the room, using a broom to dig him out from beneath the chairs. The windows were standing open, but the little villain had no inclination to leave. I really got angry and took a swipe at him next time he leaped past me. The blow sent him careening up against the wall. He let out a plaintive squeak, righted himself, zipped around the corner and entered the bedroom. Evict him I could not! He kept running around from under the bed to under the chest of drawers and back again, but always scorning the window. He then slipped under the radiator, by this time trembling with fear from my savage onslaught. There was a space no more than two inches wide between the radiator and the wall. The beast was spread-eagled and seemed helpless. 'Ah, I have him at last,' I thought, as I worked my hand under the radiator! Suddenly I realized that a cornered squirrel is a fiend incarnate, and that he'll bite a finger off up to the elbow if given an opportunity. I pulled my hand out and sat down to rest.

"The nut-cracker didn't move a muscle, so I pounded him a few times with the broom. This brought some life into him—he screeched loudly; but that wasn't exerting him.

Gives Up Onslaught

"I had another idea. Why not smoke the little devil out? I got some paper and set fire to it, showing it beneath the radiator as soon as it started burning. But the flames went higher than I had thought they would and, fearing the squirrel would catch on fire,

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

OBITER DICTUM: Dear Mr. Vandergrift: We retract our statement made in the last column and offer our humble apologies. (Mr. Vandergrift insists that he was not dancing with a bear in his room last week.)

AT LAST: The lounge lizard was startled to see Marv Jaffe run into the Lounge on the Thursday that the article about him appeared in the WEEKLY. Lizard was equally surprised to view Jaffe dashing over to the table, grabbing a fistful of WEEKLY's and shouting to the ceiling, "I've waited four f#$%&$ years for this!" Jaffe then ripped up four pictures of Harry Donovan and stalked out.

This writer has his own theories about the untimely demise of Alpha. We maintain that Alpha's death was not caused by external reasons alone. Alpha obviously read the Mule Kick in objection to his chapel attendance and was so upset that he neglected to read the laudatory article on the other side of the page. It undoubtedly was suicide. We firmly believe that the narrow writer of that Mule Kick was completely responsible for the lovable hound's death. Incidentally, the editors hesitate to profile anyone on campus. Look what happened to "Kissin' Karl" and now to Alpha, after their profiles appeared in the paper. The editorial board has decided to profile only its enemies in the future. Look out, Buster, you may be next!

Ordinarily, pinnings and engagements are so frequent that we are reluctant to note them. However, Laverne Etchman fettered his frau under wierd circumstances a short time ago. The ceremony took place on the way to the I.C.L. Marriage Forum. Etchman claims that he did it, ". . . just so they would have something to listen to at the Forum."

Crusades are taboo in a column of this nature. However, we feel it is necessary to break precedent, at this point. Given that Muhlenberg has an excellent scholastic rating and a beautiful campus, nevertheless, we think that more characters like the ones who raised the Jolly Roger flag of piracy (with the numbers 3 and 5 on it) after the tuition boost, are needed around here. This is no jail. We suggest that more people let loose the screwball in them and pull some more crazy stunts. It's a long haul from February 1 to Easter vacation. More laughs are very much in order!

Versatility is one characteristic that Muhlenberg students never have lacked. Even the thieves among us have diversified desires. Any old pick-pocket can pilfer a wallet or cash; Bill Lybrand reports that the latest stealing finger was put on a beat up pair of pants. Now we ask you . . . what's next, old underwear?

In our relentless search for expose's one of our researchers came up with the fact that the humorous fictional biography about a man with twelve kids (CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN) is listed under Economics in our library. You must be slipping—vunce—Kitty!

A letter to three Fives:

Dear Father: Everything fine here at Muhlenberg. Am getting lots of sleep and am studying hard. Incidentally, I'm enclosing my fraternity bill. Signed: Your son, Murgatroyd. Answer: Dear Murgatroyd: Don't buy any more fraternities. Signed: Your father, Father.

OPEN LETTER TO DAVID LONG

Dear Mr. Long:
A good job well done is worthy of public commendation. As an individual, but feeling that I am expressing the sentiments of a good number of the faculty and students on campus, let me thank you and your committee for making possible a really inspiring experience. The efforts of the M.C.A. in organizing and developing the Institution of Christian Living and bringing to the campus men with something really worthwhile to contribute to our lives was totally successful. What you have done, in my estimation, is to prove conclusively that a student organization composed of men who are willing to accept obligations can make a valid addition to the total college experience.

Sincerely,

R. E. LORISH

Honor System Desirable

Dear Editor:

The Brothers of the Muhlenberg Circle of O.D.K. are considering means to bring about an honor system. We feel that so much of value has been brought in the course of our deliberations that it should be shared with all of you.

In principle the majority of the Student Body, Faculty, and Administration desires an honor system. However, as a general practice (Continued on Page Three) abandoned the attack. "Just then the janitor arrived. He said he heard some terrible noises emanating from my room. I explained to him about the squirrel as he entered the bedroom.

"You're going about your eviction campaign the wrong way," he asserted. "You gotta be gentle with him." He baby-talked to the squirrel and tried to stroke him. When I told him that the squirrel would bite his fingers off, he said, 'Do they bite?'

"Bite," I said, 'balls of fire, man; if they didn't I'd have had him long ago.'

Keynoted by Anger
"His gentleness changed into unbounded rage. 'Come out there you little s---! (x2) 's---! or I'll beat your s---! head off!' He started the broom attack and finally the beast wised up and disappeared out the window. I was so incensed that I was determined to skin him alive, and here I am."

The squirrel spat at him from about a safe twenty feet up. The character shook his broom at him and unleashed another tirade of language.

The bystander walked away, shaking his head, leaving the squirrel hater still enraged. "Chasing squirrels, that guy's cracking up," he muttered to himself. Out of curiosity, though, he turned his head to see if any further developments had taken place in the last minute or so, and, just at that precise moment, the squirrel dropped a nut right on top of his opponent's head. The bystander nearly split a gut laughing as he continued on across the campus.

training completed, she spent several years at the same institution as a physiotherapist. One of Eleanor's hobbies is dramatics; she showed unusual talent in the Mask & Dagger production "Labernum Grove."

Mrs. Marge Weber, vice-president, is a comparative newcomer on the campus, but has already captured many friends with her pleasing personality and her spirit of cooperation. Marge is a native of Allentown and graduated from Central Catholic High School in 1942. Upon her marriage to Otto Weber, who is majoring in Geology, she gave up her office career and now spends all of her time keeping house and tending her young son Michael.

Nursing After School
Although her husband Jack steals the spotlight around soccer time, Mrs. Betty Rollo, recording secretary, has shown her ability as a leader in other fields. Betty was born and raised in Minersville. As soon as she graduated from high school she entered the career of nursing at St. Luke's Hospital, and completed the course in 1948. After several months of general duty she married Jack and moved to Allentown. They now have a seven months old son, Toby.

Wide Field Open To Aspiring And Youthful "Hemmingsways"

From Torrid Love Affairs To Corrupt College Administrations; The Novel Range Is Limitless

How many times has the cry been heard, "Someday I am going to write a book!" The statement is usually followed by a slight shaking of the head to connote that the speaker is in the throes of an experience which is so profound, or miserable, that it should be left to future generations to mull over. For some the story consists of a tragic love affair; the authors of most of the present best sellers appear to be in this group. For others the story is to be an expose of some corrupt system, the Army, college, the present administration, or the nickel-snatching, non-returning candy vending machines found in most train stations and college dorms. And for others the great story is about a misspent youth and is often a treatise on how to play winning pool or shoot winning games of craps.

The bane of editor's and publishers' lives has been that there are so many stories which are interesting, even exciting, and haven't been given to the reading public because the people with these stories "never find the time to write" or "don't write because they feel that 'editors are only interested in big names.'" The latter feeling is most unfortunate. Editors are interested in good stories regardless of who writes them. It is the editors' business to print stories that will sell magazines, and if Joe Doaks' story has merit it will be printed, even though it may be the first time Joe's name ever appeared anywhere except on the 1-A list at the local draft board.

The editor who prints Joe's story is going to feel grateful to Joe for sending the story in.

The Heavy Influx Of Interested Churchmen Flood The Campus Under Wagner Auspices

On Sunday, March 5, 2500 churchmen from the areas of Northern New Jersey and Pennsylvania visited the Muhlenberg campus. The total number of congregations which represented the flood of visitors "exceeded 65" according to John Wagner, Alumni Secretary.

Mr. Wagner organized the tour of the campus by the large group and he relied upon the service of the Cardinal Key Society. Mr. Wagner was quoted as saying, "I wish to extend my thanks to the President of Cardinal Key, Martin Weiman, and all members of his society. They did a fine job in handling the overflow."

The overflow Mr. Wagner speaks of amounted to approximately 900 people. Reverend Moyer, area director for CHEY, had announced on Saturday noon, that 1600 members had promised their respective congregations to appear on campus on Sunday. The fine weather conditions were explained as the cause for the marked increase.

The tour was planned in such a manner that every visiting congregation would get to see all points of interest; the Administration Building, Science and Library Buildings, all dormitories, boiler house, and Student Center were inspected.

The vesper service which was planned to round out the day's activities was extended into three separate services to handle the huge attendance. The original time for the vesper service was scheduled for 6 p.m., but instead the services were held at 6, 7 and 8 p.m.

Mr. J. C. Spangler, visitor from Quakertown remarked, "This day (the pilgrimage) was a complete success. I see where Muhlenberg needs the strong support of all Lutheran congregations in this area. I hope we do not fail Muhlenberg."

MULE KICKS

tice the majority opinion is somewhat diminished for certain pertinent reasons.

We in O.D.K. believe that an honor system is in itself an incentive to attain the ideals for which this College stands: Honesty, in all things, respect for the "person" of each man, and raising of academic, social and personal or individual standards.

The process of instituting an honor system at Muhlenberg College must . . . naturally take some time and effort. The Student Council has done a great deal this year to make students aware of their individual responsibilities. In conjunction with the WEEKLY it has sponsored a series of editorials pointing up the need for being in "Good Standing" in all things. "This is a college for men and not a school for boys" has been Dean Mercer's basic theme in his editorials in the WEEKLY. Various department heads have clarified their departmental requirements. There exists within the student body constitution machinery to handle academic irregularities as well as in those areas not considered academic, such as dormitory rules, etc. . . .

The O.D.K. Circle of Muhlenberg College feels that the Student Council, Faculty, and Administration, as well as the WEEKLY, the Fraternities and all honor societies must do more in their particular spheres to foster the desire for an honor system. This can be done through discussion and raising standards within each one's area of operation. If you have any ideas pro or con on this subject the Circle would be obliged to hear from you.

Sincerely,
Thomas Cole, President
William Laird, Secretary

Photo Exhibit Boasts Labors Of European

The Art Department is offering another of the interesting Life photographic exhibits, from Wednesday, March 15, until Friday, March 31, in the art gallery, third floor Library. The pictures for this collection, "Photographic Science," were chosen by the editors of Life from the work of Fritz Goro, an expert in the field of photography.

The demonstration will include greatly magnified pictures of such microscopic objects as penicillin, lithium crystals, coated lenses, and alternating current, phenomena, with brief explanatory captions describing the variety of fields in the modern laboratory.

Goro, a native German, studied at the Bauhaus in Dessau, a school which attempted to unite art with mechanical devices. He specialized in the field of photography, and for a time edited two newspapers on the subject, the "Berline Illustrierte Zeitung," and the "Muenchner Illustrierte Presse."

Muhlenberg Edges Scranton In Season Finale

Muhlenberg Crushes Bullets By 76-49 As Jaffe Hits 19

Muhlenberg Mules had too much class for an aggressive, but hapless, Gettysburg team, blasting the Bullets 76-49 before a capacity crowd at Rockne Hall. The Mules closed their 1949-50 home season with this convincing win and only Coach Ben Borgmann's dislike for rolling up lopsided scores kept the win margin down to 27 points.

Tracksters To Open March 25

With the approach of spring, the beginning of track practice comes into focus. This year, Ernie Fellows' foot steppers will be without the services of Bill Brown and Bill Summer, who have since graduated. However, with such men as Dick Acker, Floyd Shupp, Harry Kreutzberg and "Rip" Royer advancing from last year's freshman squad, the varsity will be at full strength.

Don Albert Captains Team

The main strength of the track team will stem around the following: dashes: Hank Folkman, Harry Kreutzberg; hurdles: Bill Pulley, "Tex" Williams; distances: Dick Acker, Floyd Shupp, Capt. Don Albert; field events: George England, Tom Michaels, Ralph Eccles, Bill Baker and "Rip" Boyer.

Scranton on April 5

The actual outdoor track season will begin on April 5, at which time the Mules will entertain the Scranton Miners. The rest of the schedule will run as follows: April 15, University of Delaware at Muhlenberg; April 22, Lehigh and Gettysburg at Gettysburg; April 25, St. Joseph's at Muhlenberg; April 28-29, Penn Relays at Philadelphia; May 2, LaSalle and Temple at Philadelphia; May 6, Bucknell University at Lewisburg; May 12-13, M.A.S.C.A.C. at Delaware; and May 7, Lafayette at Easton.

The Borgmann men jumped to a 17-4 lead in the first six minutes on a variety of shots, while the Bullets were unable to work the ball against the Mule defense. With their outside shots not hitting the Battlefields fell further behind and Al Saemmer's layup after dribbling nearly the length of the court made the score 34-13. At this point complete new fives entered the game for both squads, and in the remaining five minutes of the first half, goals by Bob Lonergan and Cary Smith for the Mules were matched by the tallies of John Clark and Warren Watson of the Bullets to make the half-time totals 38 to 17.

Borgmann Clears Bench

With the starting five back to open the second half the 'Bergs, sparked by Saemmer's interceptions and led by the shooting of Dick McGee, Leo Martini, and Marv Jaffe, roared to a 51-27 advantage. Coach Borgmann again inserted his second five to wrap up the victory for the Mules, with Bob Lonergan, Dan Mackin and Ed Willenbecker setting the scoring pace.

The Mule scoring race shows four men over the 200-mark with Marv Jaffe leading the way with 324 points. Danny Mackin with 193 points is in line to go over this mark. Marv has scored his total on 125 field goals and 74 foul shots.

Dick Eckert continues to lead the Frosh scorers with 169 points on 68 field goals and 33 fouls. "Hoey" Kauterman, now departed from College continues to hold number two spot with 161 points.

Triumph By 72-70 As Trail Ends For Seven

The Muhlenberg Mules ended their court campaign last night at Scranton with a thrilling 72-70 decision over the Scranton Royals. Little Al Saemmer, Mule sparkplug, led the scoring with 18 points, followed by Baker with 15, McGee 13, Mackin 12, and Jaffe 11. This marked the last game for seven of the court team who helped compile a 17-6 season record.

Play-Offs Start Mon. To Decide I-M Title; League III Ends In Tie

With the I-M playoffs scheduled to begin next Monday, League III berths are still undecided. In a hard fought contest last Monday afternoon the Bombers gained a deadlock for first place with the Black Cats and the Devils by edging Lambda Chi Alpha 34-28. Poulous led the winners with eleven points, while Elder and Columbo netted six points for the losers. The Bombers, Devils, and the Black Cats will engage in play-offs to determine the two teams to represent League III in the playoffs.

Sig Eps and Glad-Five

Sigma Phi Epsilon and the Glad-to-be-Alive-Five gained first place in League I and II respectively while Phi Sigma Kappa and the Jokers are runners-up in their respective leagues. As the result of a special drawing to determine playoff positions, Sigma Phi Epsilon is slated to oppose the Jokers; the Glad-to-be-Alive Five is pitted against the second place team of League III; and the winner of League III will battle Phi Sigma Kappa. The winners of these three contests will engage in a play-off to determine the I-M champs.

All seniors expecting to graduate in June should make an appointment with the registrar to check their records.

Teams Tie At 21-All

In the second quarter, Scranton tied the score at 21-all with big Joe Sadowski showing the way for the home team who helped compile a 17-6 season record. The Mules jumped off to a quick 3-0 lead on a field goal by McGee and a foul by Baker. Jack Leighton, Royal's high scoring ace, scored on a set shot, 3-2. With Dick McGee and Al Saemmer leading the way Benny Borgmann's five managed to build up a 17-11 advantage by the end of the first quarter.

Two field goals by Jaffe and one by Baker sent the Mules away to a fast start in the third quarter as they built up a 41-30 lead. With Leighton and Rittenhouse sparking the home team, Scranton managed to stay six or seven points behind the Mules until McGee, Baker, and Saemmer caught fire and 'Berg pulled to a 59-46 lead as the quarter ended.

Thrilling Finish

The Borgmann five maintained a 10 point, 66-56, lead until midway in the final stanza when Bill Musto and Jack Leighton started to hit for the Royals. With 55 seconds left in the game 'Berg held a one-point, 68-67, lead. A field goal by Saemmer and fouls by Mackin and Saemmer were matched by Leighton's foul and a two pointer by Musto in the last minute as the Mules won 72-70.

Basketball's 'Villain' Is Unschooled In Art

He's the most unpopular man in the world of basketball, be it played in Walla-Walla, Washington, Allentown, Pa., or Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. He is easily distinguished from the courtmen by his drab, grey uniform, and most fans and players think he's a bird, or is it "boird," by the way he dashes around the court tweeting his whistle and waving his arms. Who is he? Why he is the referee or umpire of the basketball court, just one of those "things" called an official.

Receives Rough Treatment

No matter where he goes, he receives the same treatment from the fans. He's great as long as he doesn't call a foul against the fan's favorite team. But if he calls a personal foul they don't like—look out official! Boos, cat-calls, names, and paper are thrown at him, and if the people weren't afraid of the consequences, the official would need an ambulance.

But the spectators aren't the only haters. There are the players who think he is blind, prejudiced, stupid, and merely out after the money for officiating the game.

Then there are the coaches who feel the same way as the fans and players and add more abuse on the official by using his "poor officiating" as an excuse for losing a game. It has become a daily occurrence to see this excuse in the newspapers and this alibi has become a favorite of the court men-tors.

Much of the criticism directed toward the official is deserved and true, but not all of it, for much of the "poor officiating" is not the whistle-blower's fault in the cage sport. (Admitted, there are referees, some of them being like a certain bald-headed official many fans know, who think that the spectators came to see them in action.)

Need Rules Committee Help

The majority of the officials try their best to officiate a good game, and with some help from the rules committee, probably could.

This committee has set up the same rules for all collegiate basketball, but it has either forgotten or just let slide, the interpretation of these rules in a uniform manner so that the officiating of this basketball legislation would be the same all over the country, which is not true of today.

New Officiating School

Basketball would be wise to set up a number of official's schools in different sections of the country much like the baseball system of umpire institutions. At these schools, or clinics, the same interpretation of all the rules could be given to the men in grey, so that no matter where a team traveled in this country, it could be assured of getting uniform officiating of the basketball code.

But until this step is taken or something similar to it, the referee or umpire of the basketball court is going to be a despised and much abused man, definitely inhuman in many aspects.

Mid-Atlantic Crown Won By Schmauch

George Schmauch, Muhlenberg grappler, won the Middle Atlantic 165-pound championship at Newark, Delaware, decisioning Swarthmore's Ken Ruhl in the conference finals, Saturday night.

Defeats Last Year's Champ

Schmauch defeated Jack Man-anry of Lafayette in 2:10 of the third period with a half nelson and crotch, in first round competition. He then decisioned Gettysburg's Laurence Souldt, last year's champion, to assure a position in the finals.

Bill Schell, 'Berg heavyweight, won his first round match by pinning Ed Tiley of Bucknell in the first period with a half nelson crotch. However, Bill found rough going in the semifinals; he was pinned by Bill Helferich of Ursinus.

Gettysburg Retains Title

Six other Cardinal and Grey entries were defeated in the first series of matches Friday night.

Gettysburg retained the team championship, which they won last year.

Netmen To Report

Doctor Shankweiler would like to see anyone who is interested in trying out for the tennis team in his office this week. Tryouts will be held during the last two weeks in March. The first match will be on April 15, against Temple University here at Muhlenberg. Positions are not open to freshmen, however.

Start Of Baseball's Spring Training Gives Rise To All-knowing Dopester's Prediction

Since March 1st of this year, sixteen major league baseball squads have been conducting spring training drills in either Florida, California, or Arizona. Here the veterans are getting in shape and noticing that this is harder to accomplish for them as each new season begins and they become older. Here the eager and raw rookie is hoping and praying for that one break that will lead him to the majors and stardom. Here, also, is the manager who at this time is optimistically predicting his team in the fight for his loop's pennant race, and dreaming of the World Series that will roll around in the beginning of October.

The big question that arises in the mind of the fan is, "What two teams will be in the World Series come fall and October?" The "dopesters" have figured out the teams to beat and what clubs will be in the pennant fights in their respective leagues, the National and American. But anything can happen in a 154-game schedule, and the pollsters can easily look like fools come the last days of September and the final standings of the two circuits are in.

So with this thought in mind, it is with some misgivings and fear that we shall glimpse into what is likely to happen in the flag-races of the baseball season of 1950.

Both races again look close, and no one should be surprised if the winners of the National and American loops slip under the wire in the final week of play or on the last day of the campaign.

In the American League, another tight race is expected. Four teams, the battered and scarred world champion Yankees, the only nine with a "heel" on it; the slugging and sometimes sluggish Boston Red Sox; the Detroit Tigers who have gotten new teeth and sharper claws; and the Cleveland Indians, who are out to regain the "scalp" they lost last year, are the most formidable contenders for the No. 1 spot, with a fifth club, Connie Mack's A's, as the "dark elephant" who could upset the dope.

The remaining three, the White Sox, Browns, and Senators, are not considered in the thick of it, although the Chisox could prove to be the "Cinderella" and cause plenty of trouble and possibly fit the slipper and win the "Prince."

The Senior Circuit should see another of those "survival of the fittest" dogfights and utter confusion in the stretch with the flag being won by the team with the strongest garter.

"Dem Bums," the Brooklyn Dodgers to the uneducated, are the most likely to rule the roost and repeat their pennant winning feat of last year; however, they will have plenty of competition from the "old pros," the Cardinals, the "Fighting Phillies;" and the rejuvenated Boston Braves who have sharpened the edge of their tomahawk.

The other four squads of the National group could really "foul ball" the prediction by "straightening out a few" for hits that would put them right in the midst of the pennant fight. This is particularly true of the Pirates who could rob all of the glory and capture the flag, and of the Giants who could live up to their names. The Cubs still have not grown enough to be full-fledged bears, and the Reds are being purged, so that except for being troublesome and giving the leaders a scare, they have little chance for the laurels.

Colorful Leo Martini Is Smooth Court Player

by Frank Rex

One of the most colorful players to play at Muhlenberg in the last few years is Leo "The Fly" Martini. Leo likes to delight the crowd not only with his smooth brand of basketball, but also with his "added for free" crowd-pleasing antics.

Ties St. Joe Game

The Fly has played good ball all year but is especially remembered for his performance in the St. Joe game, when he tied the score in the last few seconds with his one-handed bank shot and sent the game into overtime with Muhlenberg subsequently winning, 76-74.

Leo, who had offers from many colleges including such basketball powers as St. John's and N. Y. U., has probably one of the best fakes in college basketball and is one of the few small men who can be used effectively in the pivot position. His tying goal against St. Joe was made via this method after he had beautifully faked his man out of position.

Guards All-American in N.I.T.

Martini came to Muhlenberg in 1945 from Union City, New Jersey, the same town that gave us Harry Donovan, and in his freshman year played on the great Mule team which was invited to the National Invitational Tournament in Madison Square Garden. It was in this tournament that Muhlenberg eliminated Syracuse in the first round of play and was then in turn eliminated by Rhode Island State in the second round. In the game against the New Englanders, Leo was faced with the assignment of guarding All-American Ernie Calverley, quite a task for anybody in basketball let alone a first year man in college ranks. After spending a year in the

Language Clubs Hold Meeting Read Papers; Hold Puppet Play

"Der Deutsche Verein" had one of its best meetings of the year last Monday evening, March 6, in the Student Center. Members of the Verein who were initiated last semester gave short talks, while the remainder of the evening was spent in singing and playing games.

Those students who spoke were Donald Erwin, John Faust, Heber Graver, and John Rollo. As is usual, the meeting was closed with the singing of Brahms' "Schlummerlied" and the serving of refreshments.

Earlier in the semester, the romance language fraternity, Phi Sigma Iota, held a joint meeting with the German club, Der Deutsche Verein. Both groups held short independent business meetings before assembling and going to Room 201 in the Administration Building, where a paper was read and a puppet show was presented. Henry Northington of Phi Sigma Iota read a short paper on Beaumarchais, and the astounding part which he played in conjunction with the American Revolution, as well as his great benefits to French literature by composing two famous plays, "The Barber of Seville" and "The Marriage of Figaro."

Immediately following, a puppet show was presented by the German club under the capable direction of Dr. Pfeuger.

At a meeting held Thursday evening, March 2, in the West Hall reception room, Kappa chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history fraternity, admitted two men, Henry Johnson and John Christman to membership.

After the initiation of these brothers, the entire group attended an I. C. L. seminar, at which Dr. John Nelson spoke on "Assignment for Tomorrow."

Mr. Thomas Meredith, faculty adviser, will be host at the April 13 meeting when Mr. Dennis Cuyack, the historian in charge of the restoration of Hopewell Village, Pa., will speak.

C. L. T. Presents "Voice of Turtle"

Next week, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday (16-17-18) the Allentown Civic Little Theatre will present John Van Druten's hit romance "Voice of the Turtle" in the Campus Little Theatre. In the cast are Mrs. Ralph Senderowitz, Janice Anderson and Warren Burns.

Tickets will be on sale all week at the C.L.T. Studio, 116 N. 12th St., phone 2-8943. Students are urged to call and reserve seats early.

The show is perfect choice for Springtime. It's a gay and light-hearted romance, guaranteed to get the girl-friend dreamy-eyed," says director Hixon.

The Chowline

Dr. Kendig, you never told us: At the conclusion of last week's assembly program there were cheers, handclapping, and shouts of "Bravo!" from the audience. There was also one lone cry of "Brava!" from beautiful Miss Minner, the nurse, who sat just in front of us. As things quieted down a bit, we asked her, "Why Brava?" She looked at us pityingly. "Silly!" she said, "A man says 'Bravo!' Girls say 'Brava!'"

The school is finally beginning to recover from the mass migration we had last Sunday. Conservatively estimated the crowd was numbered at around 2500. Can you imagine that many people plus the student body trying to eat at the same time? Helmut Kaffine, a West Hall freshman, awoke rather late last Sunday, opened his door, and found himself at the tail end of the Commons line.

So Big: This is a tale admittedly incredible, but well vouched for, of a student who hadn't enough cash to buy his lunch at the Commons. He hurried into the Commons' office and asked Ted Heaps if he would cash a check. "Well, it depends," Ted said, "How big is the check?" "This big," the student said, holding his forefingers six inches apart. Adv.

As the first week of the Red Cross drive ends, Mr. John J. Reed announces that Muhlenberg seems to be doing its part to put the Lehigh County Schools and Hospitals Division over the top of its quota. As of Tuesday noon, forty-four Muhlenberg contributors have given $145.50 to the cause.

There is no soliciting among the students. However all men who desire to contribute may do so at a table in the Student Center, which will be manned every day from 11:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. by Cardinal Key men until the end of the drive on March 20.

Student Body to Vote On Publications Fee

Council Seeks Rise after Committee Reports Four Campus Journals Require More Funds

by Vince Nardone

At the regular Student Body meeting held in the Science auditorium this morning at 11:00, Bill Lybrand, president of Student Council, gave a report on the recent Student Council meeting. He stated that the main constitutional change resulting from the meeting was the proposal of increasing Student Publications' fees from ten dollars to twelve dollars per school year. A vote of the students will be taken at a future Student Body meeting to determine whether this proposal shall become effective.

Lybrand also informed the group that this proposal was made to Student Council by the Publications Board at a joint meeting. After this year's allotment was discussed the Student Publications committee met in a separate room and returned with the proposal: The decrease in the cost of printing is not proportional to the decrease of students, and the total amount of money in the Publications fund presently will not—for the future—allow all four publications the amount of money they need to produce the good work which the students deserve. Therefore, we propose the increase of Student Publication fees by two dollars. Percentage ratios were also discussed. Since this year's ratio functioned successfully, it was decided that the same ratio will be effective next year. They were Ciarla, 54.5% WEEKLY, 34.5%; Arcade, 7.5%; and M Book, 3.5%.

English Majors Hold Bi-Monthly Meeting

The association of English majors had a meeting at the Moose Hall in Allentown on Friday, March 10, 1950. Dr. Perry F. Kendig was the moderator for a discussion of the works of Edgar Allen Poe and Walt Whitman. The group was served refreshments following the discussion.

Mr. Ralph G. McConnell spoke about the prose works while Thomas Cole discussed the poetic techniques of Poe. Ray Serniak gave a talk on the meaning of Walt Whitman, and Mr. Earl Mohn lectured on the factors that influenced Whitman's writing. Dr. Kendig opened the discussion to the group, and both students and teachers discussed the authors, their works, and their place in literature.

Johnny Barker IFC Ball Choice

Annual Affair Slated for Castle Garden, April 21

The annual formal dance of Greek letter social fraternities on the campus will be held Friday, April 21, 1950. Johnny Barker will provide the music.

A meeting of the Dance Committee was held Thursday, February 23, at the Lambda Chi Alpha house. Chairman Robert Kolb, of Phi Kappa Tau, presided. The committee decided to hold the affair at the Castle Garden Ballroom. Approximately 250 couples are expected to attend.

Committees Lay Plans

Lambda Chi Alpha's representative, William Davis, in arranging to have a dance band for the evening, has tentatively chosen Johnny Barker and his orchestra. John Bankosky, of Sigma Phi Epsilon, will take charge of the program for the evening.

Council Urges Placement Post Be Established

Increase in Graduates Since War Proves Immediate Need

As a result of a discussion held by Student Council members at a recent meeting, a letter was sent to President Levering Tyson, proposing the establishment of a placement bureau on the campus.

The letter to President Tyson stated that the much-needed office should function as a separate entity. It further proposed that a placement bureau director be appointed to the administration, and that his primary function would be in that office.

By this request Student Council reflected the sentiment of students as well as faculty members of Muhlenberg that there is a definite need for such an office on the campus at a time when the procuring of a job is becoming a difficult task. Since the amount of college graduates has tremendously increased since the war, the question of establishing a placement bureau has taken on a new importance.

MCA Installs Series Of Luncheon Confabs

Faculty to Serve as Leaders On Informal Bull Sessions

The M.C.A. will inaugurate, on Wednesday, March 22, a weekly series of luncheon "bull sessions" on topics of current interest. The sessions will be held every Wednesday from 12:30 to 1:30 in the M.C.A. room on the second floor of the Student Center.

Members of the faculty will serve as leaders for these discussions which are being sponsored by the religious activities committee of M.C.A. The program is an extension of the very successful commuter informal sessions which were held during I.C.L. week.

A notice pertaining to the topics and speakers for each week's session will be posted on the Student Center bulletin board the Monday before the gathering.

Bryce Shaw, chairman of the committee, stated that, "we are going to try to choose topics which will stimulate everyone's interest." He pointed out that the sessions will be open to all Muhlenberg men, but have especially been designed for commuting students.

Allentown Group Recommends Construction of Shell Now

The Allentown Alumni Club of Muhlenberg College has submitted a letter to the Board of Trustees, requesting that positive action be taken on the question of the Field House.

The letter, directed to the Board through President Tyson's office, offers two recommendations: 1. "That the Board of Trustees re-open the Field House question by directing the appropriate committee to procure concrete architectural plans showing what can be built immediately with the funds on hand and in sight." 2. "That if additional sums are needed to construct all or part of a building which is within our means, the Board of Trustees call upon the Alumni of the College to gather such funds."

Believe Funds Available
The Alumni Club feels, the letter declares, that it speaks for Muhlenberg Alumni everywhere and friends of the College in Allentown when it states that "we must have favorable action on the Field House Now!"

Citing the public response to the Field House Fund, the letter maintains that there are sufficient funds available to begin the project. The proposal indicates that there has long been a need for such a building, and urges that at least a skeleton structure be started. Funds for this are available, according to a statement of the Trustees, the letter declares; an amount of $386,969.72 is acknowledged (in cash, investments and pledges) in the 1949 September-October Alumni Magazine.

Want Shell Constructed

Regarding the present situation, the letter states, "It is no answer to say that there is not enough money on hand to complete the job in the right way. We understand that the construction of a 'shell' including our permanent basketball court and seats (with swimming pool and certain other features deferred) is within the realm of possibility; that this can be done for an estimated $450,000.00. Thus, for less than $100,000.00 beyond what is in hand or in sight, we can have the central part of our structure, including our permanent gymnasium and seating facilities. The present budgeted expense, which the College must pay to practice and play basketball off the campus, more than covers the interest cost of borrowing $100,000.00 if that be necessary. It is bad from the standpoint of general education to be without our Field House. It is even worse for athletics. It is not good business."

Willing To Underwrite Funds

The Alumni Club declares that it does not propose that any Field House Fund drive should conflict with the CHEY or Loyalty Fund (Continued on Page Six)

WMUH Puts Spotlight on Talent

Campus Variety Show Sponsors Auditions for Gifted Showmen

Varied Guest Stars and Alley Katz Quartet Entertain Thursday Evening WMUH Listeners

Muhlenberg's radio station, WMUH, issued a call this week to all talented members of the College to take part in a campus variety show.

For the past several weeks WMUH has been presenting the "Campus Variety Show" to its Thursday evening listeners from 7:00 until 7:30.

The regular attraction of the show is "The Alley Kats" barber-shop quartet, composed of Arthur Kleintop, Ronald Mease, Dick Thomas, and Elwood Semmel. This campus musical organization has performed for numerous community and campus affairs since its inception at the beginning of the Fall 1949 semester.

Semester Social Plans Bolstered by Dances

Lent Extremely Cuts Amount Of the Student Activities

The graduation ball, an informal dance, a barn dance, and a program of baseball films top the list of social activities planned by Student Council for the Spring semester.

Council social chairman Lou Colombo, announced that the Sam Donahue's band is being considered as a possible choice to play at the graduation ball to be held June 3 in the Frolics Ballroom. As an added attraction for the affair, Colombo announced his committee is considering contracting either Fran Warren, Pattie Page, or Rosemary Cooney to sing for the dances.

Lent Limits Plans

Colombo pointed out that this committee was extremely limited in the number of social events it could plan because of the college regulation against such activities during the Lenten season. He stated that there is a council social event planned for three out of the five weekends between Easter vacation and the start of the examination period.

The first Council sponsored dance of the semester will be an informal affair April 14 at Castle Garden. The band for this dance will be announced shortly.

Barn Dance on Mall

On May 12 a barn dance will be held on the College mall in front of West Hall. The committee has decided on this location in preference to the usual practice of holding all dances in the Student Center.

Tyson's Invite Seniors to Tea

Mrs. Levering Tyson began Tuesday night and will continue for one night a week for several weeks to invite all seniors to her home on campus. The gatherings will be held between 9:00 and 10:00 p.m.

The manner in which the men are invited for a particular meeting is the duty of Council president William Lybrand. He will choose the first groups (40-50 men in each group) from seniors living in the dormitories; then the group will be selected from the several fraternities, and finally all the commuters will be invited.

Mrs. Tyson remarked, "I have been concerned about the problem of not being able to meet each senior at least once during his final year at Muhlenberg. In the past, when the classes were small, we entertained the boys quite regularly, but the larger classes of these days present a problem. I hope we can solve the difficulty by these informal get-togethers."

The next assembly is scheduled for Thursday, March 23.

Ohio State Jazz Forum Plays for Assembly

The Ohio State Jazz Forum will present "A Workshop of Modern Music" at the assembly program next Thursday morning, March 23.

Last year, the group not only played for a packed house at the assembly program, but also gave a command evening performance at the Alpha Tau Omega for a large audience of jazz fans.

Appear In Carnegie Hall

This performance of top-notch jazz will include everything from the most modern progressive music to classical selections.

The Jazz Forum is unique in that it claims to have the world's only tom-tom quartet.

The organization is made up of a group of Ohio State University students who are touring the nation, giving concerts at various colleges. Included in the tour will be a concert at Carnegie Hall in New York City.

The Proper Teacher-Student Relationships Depend on the Flexibility of Both Groups

The relationship between teacher and student is one of the most important relationships in life. Too frequently we fail to realize the instructor's tremendous influence in the formation and development of important concepts and ideas in the mind of the student. But at times teachers, too, forget the great responsibility resting upon them, or they allow their vision to become blurred.

Few teachers lack the necessary mental qualifications, although most of them know their subject well. The greatest trouble lies in effectively communicating their knowledge to the student. Some teachers assume too great a background knowledge of the field. Others fail to present the material in an interesting, vital fashion. Then there are those who, because they have gone through the same course so often, lose their power to stimulate. There seems to be a great need for a presentation which captures the interest of the student and makes the subject real to him. Perhaps a strong personality alone can meet this challenge.

Personality is a very broad term. It includes a man's character and integrity, his moral standards, his outlook on life, and his concern for people. Something more than factual knowledge and a feeling for the subject must be imparted to the student, for he carries with him from the classroom an indelible impression of the teachers he has known. If a student does not see a greater perspective of life's opportunities, if he is not confronted with a challenge of service to mankind, if he cannot see in the instructor the kind of man he himself would like to be, then the task of the teacher has not been fulfilled.

Student Good Standings Means Full Chapel Attendance As Well As Academic Rating

With the spring semester about half gone, it may be well for all of us to pause and take a quick check on some of our accomplishments during this past semester. Perhaps one of the more satisfying accomplishments available to any individual is the privilege of fulfilling personal obligations. Last semester, a few students found themselves in the unfortunate situation of being short of the required number of chapel attendances. At their request, Student Council asked the chaplain to schedule chapel services during the examination period. The request was granted, the chaplain held special services at 7:00 a.m. for some students who were unable to attend the 10:05 a.m. services.

Student Council foresees making no such request at the end of this semester. If chapel services are held during the examination period, it will undoubtedly be because they were requested by students who desire to participate in the service—which means no chapel attendance slips.

So take time out for a little reflection—especially seniors who expect to graduate—and if necessary take steps to make sure that at the semester's end you are not one of those who "left undone those things which should have been done."

MULE KICKS

Wants Commuter Organization

Dear Editor:

Ever since I have been a paying member of this college community I have noticed the lack of commuter representation in campus politics. Whether the cause of this deficiency is due to campus pressure to keep out the commuter or whether it is due to commuter's indifference is hard to ascertain. However, whatever the cause may be, a solution should be reached.

As a day student I would like to offer a sensible suggestion which other colleges have adopted. How about a commuter's fraternity? This body would be organized under a constitution and would send representatives to the various political meetings. The group could be organized on a non-dues plan and when activities would be desired the individual commuter would take care of his share of the cost. This organization would not only give the commuter a voice on the campus but it would offer to the day student a chance to participate in various social affairs which the fraternity would hold. If this plan seems sensible (or non-sensible) to other commuters I would like to hear from them through the WEEKLY column Mule Kicks.

Yours truly,

A Commuter

In Profile . . . The Liljeroot Story is one of Wild Pets

Zoology Instructor Wrestles Pet Boa Constrictor And Hypnotizes Alligator by the "Tummy" Method

by Bob Richardson

Bengt "Frank Buck" Liljeroot, fanatically faithful to his chosen profession of zoology instruction, spends his spare moments hypnotizing an alligator, feeding flies to a carnivorous plant, chasing a constrictor snake, and teasing "George," an innocent lizard. The Muhlenberg biology office veritably crawls with activity now that the young teacher has turned it into a haven for orphaned jungle beasts.

Puts Animal in Trance

The most recent addition to Liljeroot's collection is a five year old alligator, which looks as ominous as a question from a Hollister exam. Two and one half feet of "orneriness" wrapped in armor-like skin, this live image from a student's nightmare has one weakness—a sensitive "tummy." Men have watched Liljeroot use this weakness to advantage. Grasping the alligator's tail in one hand, he lifts the struggling animal into the air and grabs its dangling head in his free hand. Laying the trembling alligator on a table and letting go of its tail, Muhlenberg's own "Nature Boy" proceeds to hypnotize the animal by gently rubbing its stomach. Quickly relaxing, the alligator passes out and remains in a hypnotized state until awakened by Liljeroot, who desperately hammers on the animal's foot with a lead pencil. Bengt cleverly calls his newest pet, "Alligator, Alligator."

Animal Likes Worms

Liljeroot has kindly placed his tiger salamander, "George," in a glass aquarium liberally filled with ferns and moss. Here "George," whose skin is as dazzlingly colorful as a Canteini painting, frolics cheerfully. The little fellow has an appetite as voracious as that of a college professor at a free banquet. Earth worms are "George's" particular favorite. Bengt loves to tease the salamander by wiggling a finger at him and saying, "See Geortch, here's a worm." George always snaps at the finger. He can go along with a gag!

Style of Dance Floor Casanova is Cramped By Disrespectful Arthur Murray Outcasts

From "West-Point" Willie to "Glad-Hand" Gregory a Panorama of Castle Garden Ghouls Turns Evening Sour

by Ed Keller

The dance floor is often turned into a bloody battle-ground by thoughtless or graceless hoofers. Good dancing is an art, and like any other art it must be practiced. Research on the different types of floor bores shows that there are several types of fiends who make life miserable for the accomplished artiste.

Cautious Dancer Gives Girl Room
First, there is the military type. "West Point Willie" insists on maintaining a difference of twelve inches between bosom and buttocks. The advantage of this style is that Willie is able to "case" the ballroom and thus gets a good look at all of the other babes on the floor.

"Exhibitionist Edward" is the fellow who always insists on whirling around the floor in professional style. He does not gain many friends by galloping around a crowded dance floor. The good feature of this style is that Edward is able to give out more bumps than he receives.

Talker Conserves Shoe Leather
"Glig Lip Gilbert" is a good example of the dancie-talkie type. He becomes so engrossed in conversing with his young lady that he forgets to dance and stands in one spot, swaying in time with the music. The advantage of this style is that Gilbert conserves shoe leather as well as energy. The disadvantage is that Gilbert suffers from morning-after lockjaw. "Jet-propelled John," using the speeding style, sails around the floor as if every selection were a jitterbug number. By doing this, he gets in his daily workout, but John still can't figure out why the girls won't date him twice.

A good example of the somnambulist style is "Sleepy Sam." Sam is so tired, that his girl has to hold him up for fear that he will collapse. He slides around the floor as slowly as possible. The happy thing about this type is that Sam is able to catch up on his sleep but big blonde of the Noche type is a requisite to support Sam.

"Carniverous Cornelius" crushes his girl in a passionate embrace as he glides across the floor. He does not realize that he is also crushing the corsage for which he still owes two bucks. This fashion is usually employed in dance halls that have little or no heating system.

"Glad-hand Gregory," the self-appointed host, takes it upon himself to personally welcome each couple to the festivities. He always picks the most crowded spot on the floor to extend his greetings, while the lucky ones already greeted have to dance around him.

There is at least one of these at every dance. In fact there are several at every dance, but why Muhlenberg dances?

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

We've sacrificed some of our deathless prose to make room for 'Berg's Eye Views this week. You'd rather look at pictures than read this junk anyway—fess up!

"March comes in like a mastodon and goes out like a lamb," so they say. What we want to know is when it's going to start lamm-ing. We savor that libidinous feeling peculiar to springtime, but what's the use of dreaming? At this writing, it's as cold as a bear's well known.

Speaking of cold, Reid, Borell, and some of the other boys decided to ride back to school from the Scranton game in affable language instructor Ken Webb's car. You know how it is; why take a bus when you can blat with the instructor, and the rest of it? They thought it was a tremendously good deal until the car refused to move up some icy slopes in the Poconos, and the boys had to get out and push. Push? It seemed to them like they walked all the way back. The insult added to their injury was realized when the basketball bus whooshed by them at a merry clip while they were shoving. Meet you in the whirlpool, boys!

Some guys just have it made. One recent dreary Friday, one sleepy student walked into Bubeck's history class, plugged something in, and curled up in his chair and drifted into insensibility. That something turned out to be a wire recorder, every student's dream, and it actually happened. Nothing like getting one's education in pill form.

Evidently, "Long Tom" Cole's words are like gold. He had a conference with former imagist poet, Ezra Pound, in the nuthouse (May the Mohn have mercy upon our black soul). The whole roundelay was transcribed somehow, and it appeared last week in the top literary publication of Japan.

Measurements have shown that six out of every ten people here at Muhlenberg have one leg shorter than the other. Maybe that accounts for so many of us running around in circles.

Funk and Wagnour's daffynition of the week: Ash Tray: Something to put cigarettes in if the room hasn't got a floor.

May we be looking forward to next year's I.C.L."

Dave Wenner: "Those speakers gave us the inspiration which we need toward establishing a Utopian America conceived in a strong religious medium."

"Luigi" Ewan: "A great thing. I enjoyed it. I'm looking forward to seeing it every year."

Bill Butts: "I.C.L. week was the ideal thing at the ideal time at the ideal place. I think the fault in this affair was the fact that we had good spiritual food to digest, but no time to it."

John Cerbus: "On the whole the lectures were very profitable even though a number of vital questions were evaded. I certainly believe that the M.C.A. merits a great deal of commendation for the planning of the I.C.L. program."

Dick Christie: "The interest and value of I.C.L. week was great throughout the campus. I thought Dr. Nelson was the best speaker we have had here in a long time."

... Student Council Reports ...

At the regular meeting of the Student Council on March 9, 1950, the following business was transacted.

A situation concerning the eligibility of a basketball player on one of the intramural teams was considered. As a result of the confusion existing because there are no written rules by which to guide the intramural sports program, action will be taken by the Council in the immediate future to suggest forming a committee composed of members of the Athletic Department and Student Council to write a set of rules and guide the intramural sports program.

A discussion was carried on with the members of the Publications Board concerning the present semester's allotment to each publication. A further discussion was then held by the two groups at which time the Publications Board recommended to Student Council that amendments to the Student Body Constitution incorporating the following suggestions be presented to the Student Body:

1. In order to meet rising costs, and continue to publish the publications provided for by the Student Body Fund at this present level of proficiency, the publications fee should be increased to $12 per year for each student starting with the 1950-51 school year.

2. The Board is amenable to Council's suggestion that the ratio used this year to allot the funds for each publication be incorporated in the Student Body constitution. These were 55.5% for the Ciarla, 34.5% for the WEEKLY, 7.5% for the Arcade, and 3.5% for the M Book.

The Publications Board reported that it had elected Mr. Paul Freed executive secretary and Mr. Jerry Albert as secretary for the present semester.

Allotments for this spring semester for those organizations upon the Student Body Fund were approved.

The Social Committee chairman's (Mr. Colombo) report on the spring semester's program and budget was approved. This includes:

1. Informal dance, April 14, at Castle Garden.
2. Barn dance, May 5, in the Student Center.
3. Baseball films, May 19, in the Science auditorium.
4. Graduation ball, June 3, in the Frolics Ballroom.

The following men were approved as Student Body representatives on policy making committees of the College, and the list forwarded to Mr. Robert E. Lorish, faculty adviser of Student Council, for his approval and further channeling:

Religious Interest Committee	William J. Palmer
Buildings & Grounds Committee	Harold B. Humphrey, Jr.
Student Health & Refractory Committee	Norman H. Graff
Academic Standards Committee	Henry D. Northington

Muhlenberg Students Join With Scholars In Their Eternal Quest for Snap Courses

National Snap Course Association of Greenwich Village Lists Courses That Will Be Acceptable

For years students have endeavored to establish a better brand of Snap Course to fill their schedules. The term Snap Course includes both those courses which are desired by the student but are never added to the curriculum, and those which every college has and commonly labels "electives." Today, as tuition rates go soaring to greater heights, students are now in striking position to attack the present systems and push the idea of Snap Courses on every campus.

The sole aim of the Snap Course is to satisfy the true desires of the student. Academic convention and formality are slighted to provide room for these bizarre but up-to-date methods of aiding a student in acquiring a liberal education. Contrary to the popular belief (among the freshman and the unenlightened) Snap Courses do not require rubber bands. However, if proficiency in rubber band snapping is desired by ambitious students, a course can easily be established on any campus.

For those persons who are interested in establishing Snap Courses on their campus the National Snap Course Association located in Greenwich Village, New York, offers valuable information. The Association has sent a succinct and personal letter to certain campus notables who, in the eyes of the Association, are trusted to handle the delicate job of promulgating the idea. Through various channels the newspaper staff procured a letter and thought it beneficial to print it.

"Students! Now is the time to lift up your arms against your so-called superiors. For years students have been sitting in on lectures which are boring and completely irrelevant to the student's needs. Courses are thrown at students which have as much bearing on their life as ethics has on politicians. No matter if your desired course is dubbed absurd, if it satiates your hunger for wider knowledge in all fields it is only proper and fitting that it should be part of your college curriculum. Remember Freud's theory; if some desire is stifled it will pile up and poison you later."

Strive students! Your rights as tuition payers can not be denied you. Get the best out of your college career.

Fanatically yours,
Clyde Japeworthy,
P. S.—The following list of Snap Courses, which are now considered as paragons for future programs, should be taken as only the beginning of a great movement of ideas and material which will stimulate further activity. In gratiation 31 is designed for those students who wish to enhance their positions with their teachers.

Truculence 56 is offered to promising football players who desire such traits as fearlessness and ferocity. Imbibition 21 is desirable for backward students who lack proper and wholesome drinking habits. Shoplifting 33-34 offers up-to-date methods and approaches to successful pilfering.

Courses such as Eraser Clapping I, Seduction 31, Basket Weaving 22, Turtle Raising 3, Tie Clasp 63, and Nail Filing 46 have been suggested.

shower and it overflowed on the floor and I didn't mind when some one put his fist through the wall to my side of the room, because I thought the radio was in the same room with him. I can stand the fog that keeps floating in through the cracks, but I draw the line when the roof leaks and the dripping water lands in the exact spot on the study table where I put my freshly completed term paper. Six weeks uphill grinding, shot to South Hall.

I don't advocate tearing the place down or the making of any major repairs; however, I would appreciate being issued either an umbrella or a stack of water proof paper.

Bill Baker Elected Next Year's Cage Captain

Reviewer Looks Back on Mule Hoopsters' First Ten Battles

By Bob Godnick

The basketball campaign has ended, and the usual conjecture of "what could have been" is now the central thought of all Muhlenberg cage fans. The Mules finished with a record of 17-6, but loss of key games cost them any consideration for tournament competition. Several contests which could have gone either way proved costly for post season recognition.

Satisfaction Gained In Track and Field

Track and Field has always held a major place in the sports program of the peoples of the world, however here at Muhlenberg College the sport is definitely neglected. The average student does not realize the values that can be gained from participating in this sport.

Track Promotes Sportsmanship

From the formulated rules and policies of track and field the participant attains the correct attitude toward athletics, which is based on competition and clean sportsmanship. Anyone who has taken part in this sport knows of the many opportunities to make friends on the practice fields and in competition. This fact is brought clearly to mind at the major relay meets where the track athletes are seen congregating on the field and gaining each others' friendship.

Track and Field offers a wide variety of activities. A person lacking the speed for a 100 yard or 220 yard sprint may have sufficient endurance for a 440 yard, 880 yard, or mile run. The man who is endowed mainly with endurance may choose the two mile run. The 120 yard high hurdles and 220 yard hurdles offer an opportunity for the long limbered boy, who has the qualifications of speed, endurance, spring and courage. Large men who cannot compete successfully in the running events may

The Mules, under their new coach, Benny Borgmann, had an imposing array of veterans, on hand at the season's inception. A starting crew of Baker, Jaffe, McGee, Saemmer, and Martini, with Danny Mackin as a potential sixth starter, made all Mule adherents optimistic. Things looked good in pre-season evaluation.

Crush Fordham in Opener

The opening game against Fordham increased the optimism. Muhlenberg routed the Rams 73-56 with a phenomenal brand of shooting. The added offensive power of Marv Jaffe with 19 points provided a decisive answer to one of the big pre-season question marks, and captain Dick McGee chipped in with 15 points. In all, the Mules had a percentage of .46 on outside shots.

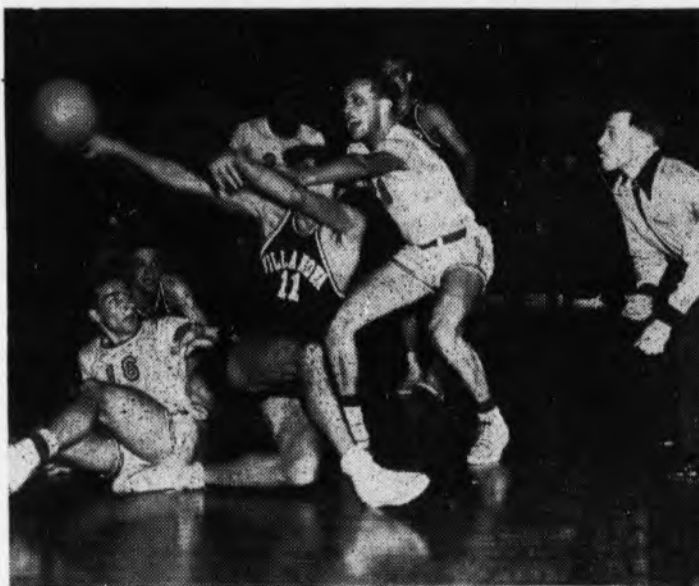

The optimism which had been swelling up took a nose dive in Philadelphia's Convention Hall, where the Mules succumbed to Temple, 56-49. The shooting percentage was way off, and the Mules general play was ragged. Jaffe and Saemmer saw only limited action for the Mules, though both excelled with 17 and 15 tallies respectively.

Hit Winning Stride

Muhlenberg again hit its winning stride, reeling off three straight wins over Delaware 68-41, Pennsylvania 75-57, and Connecticut 73-61. The play of Danny

The action and drama caught in court play was snapped by WEEKLY photographer Larry Moyer.

Here's How They Stand . . .

Marv Jaffe finished first in the Mule scoring race with 337 points on 131 field goals and 75 fouls. Marv's per game average was 14.

Captain Dick McGee was second with 295 points. Dick's 71.2% in foul shots made was high for the team in that department.

Saemmer with 234 points, Baker 215, and Mackin 205 round out the players who went over the two hundred mark.

Al Saemmer's 31 points against Bucknell at Lewisburg was the season's individual high. Dick McGee's 13 field goals in 22 tries against St. Joe's was high for the field goals scored in a single game.

Veteran Cager Heads Mule Five's Fortunes

Bill Baker was elected captain of the 1950-51 Muhlenberg basketball team by members of the varsity court squad. The election was held after the Muhlenberg-Scranton game, Wednesday, March 8, at Scranton. This was the last game of the season for the Borgmann five.

I-M Cage League Ends

The I-M playoffs got under way last Monday with six teams striving for the league championship. In the afternoon contest, Sigma Phi Epsilon moved closer to annexing the title for the second consecutive year by scoring a decisive win over the Jokers, 50-37. Johnny Mock led the winners with 15 points while Swartley's 11 paced the losers.

Cats Stop Rally

In the second contest, the Black Cats withstood a second-half rush by the Glad-to-be-Alive Five to win 39-33. The score at the end of the first half was 20-5 in favor of the Black Cats, and with one minute remaining in the second half, only two points separated the two teams. Stianchi led the Cats to victory with 13 points, while Feist had 12 points, ten in the final quarter, to pace the losers.

In the final contest, the Devils advanced to the final playoffs by edging Phi Sigma Kappa 35-31. George Mills' 17 points proved too much for the losers, who were paced by Shaw's 11 tallies.

The official standings of the 1949-50 Intramural Basketball League, not including playoffs:

points on 84 field goals and 47 fouls. His shooting percentage from the floor was 40.6, second high among the regulars.

Bill comes from Tyrone, Pennsylvania, where he played three years of varsity basketball for Tyrone High. He compiled a 17 point per game average while in high school competition. Bill spent a year at Mercersburg Academy before entering Muhlenberg in 1947.

In his sophomore year, Bill scored 85 points. He was used mainly as a substitute but managed to start eight contests in his

Mules' Lone Mat Champ Also Track Performer

After all the grunting and groaning was over at the Middle Atlantic College Wrestling matches on March 3 and 4, at Delaware, Muhlenberg's George Schmauch had emerged victorious over three foes to capture the 165 pound championship.

In order to win this coveted crown Schmauch had to dethrone last year's defending champion Souldt of Gettysburg. He accomplished this feat in the semi-finals and then went on to decision Swarthmore's Ruhl in the finals.

George entered the meet seeded third behind Souldt and Snyder of Delaware, who was pinned by Ruhl in the semi-finals. In the preliminary, Schmauch pinned Mamory of Lafayette, and decided Souldt and Ruhl for the title.

Trackman in High School

This year was only the second year of wrestling for George, a member of the junior class who expects to be around next year to defend his 165-pound diadem. In his sophomore year, he won four out of six meets, while this year he had captured six out of eight matches in dual competition. His two losses this season were to Souldt and Snyder. He turned the tables on Souldt in the Mid-Atlantics, but never got a chance to revenge himself against Snyder, as the Delaware wrestler was defeated by Ruhl, the man George conquered in the finals.

Frosh Letterman

George came to Muhlenberg from Tamaqua, and had never wrestled before he came here. In high school, Schmauch was strictly a trackman, competing in the shotput, discus, high-jump, and broad-jump.

At Muhlenberg in his freshman year, he earned a letter in frosh football, and participated in yearling track, hurling the discus and the shotput. Last year he competed for the Mules in track in these same two events and began his career at the mat sport. In last year's Middle Atlantic wrestling tournament he won one and lost two matches.

This year has seen George attain the Middle Atlantic 165-pound title against a tough field of competition. Next season he will have to face these same men with the exception of Souldt, who graduates this year. Winning the crown again will be tough, but that's twelve months ahead. Let's toast Mackin, who had been hampered by injuries was the highlight of the Connecticut game. Danny swished for 19 tallies.

Entering Madison Square Garden with a 4-1 record, the Mules gave powerful L.I.U. a tremendous game before succumbing before a late rally 69-58. The Mules actually led by 12 points with 12 minutes to play. Danny Mackin was the top scorer of the night with 20 points, but diminutive Al Saemmer stole the show. Capturing the hearts of all the fans with his spectacular ball hawking and sharp shooting, the little Mule left the New York crowd buzzing for weeks afterward.

Little Prestige Lost

Although coach Borgmann's five had dropped its second contest in six, the L.I.U. defeat lost them little prestige. Though heart-breaking in nature, the New York defeat seemed to spur the team. They returned to winning ways by stopping Albright, 76-50, with McGee and Mackin the leading offensive weapons. Lafayette, traditional Lehigh Valley rival, was the next five to fall before the driving Mules, 83-69. Bill Baker, Dick McGee, Marv Jaffe, Leo Martini and Dan Mackin all hit double figures, which proved enough to overcome the Leopard's twin scoring threats, George Davidson and Duane Warrick.

Muhlenberg disposed of another Valley rival when it defeated Lehigh University by 81-60 at Rockne Hall. Coach Borgmann kept the score reasonable as he cleared his bench. Marv Jaffe was the high man for Benny's boys, hitting the cords for eight field goals.

Saemmer Tallies 31

Muhlenberg seemed to be moving towards a powerful finish to the season. Optimism began once more. It heightened to perhaps its # Sportorial . . .

The conduct of any league is determined by the "definition of things" to be set forth in the rules and regulations. It is the rules and regulations to which one may turn whenever a dispute arises, and the decisions to be rendered are released on the basis of those standards.

In the recent issue in the Intra-mural League, an initial decision was passed down by Mr. Ritter; later Mr. Ritter saw fit to reverse his decision, and the I-M League was thrown into a state of utter confusion. The net result was that the league appealed to Student Council on the recommendation of Mr. Ritter. At the Student Council meeting it was pointed out that no formal code of rules has been set down in writing, and that issues are resolved on the basis of "snap-judgments." That is by no means the correct or exact procedure.

Since the I-M League is composed of all-student teams, and since there are twenty-two teams in the league, a written set of rules should be constructed. In light of the fact that this league is for students, and that the Council is the student governing body, we feel it would be appropriate to place the regulation of the I-M in the hands of the Council. A formal set of rules should be drawn up and presented to every league member. Then, any issue which might come to the front would be brought before Council, and final decision would rest with them. In this way all teams would have fair say in a dispute and there could be no clamor of unjust treatment. Snap judgements would be a thing of the past; adequate conduct of the league would exist, and all members would be satisfied.

find pleasure in the shot put and discus. The boy with the strong throwing arm may excell in the javelin. The lighter and faster individuals may succeed in the high jump, pole vault and broad jump.

Groups Support Track

The Amateur Athletic Union, Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletics of America, National Collegiate Athletic Association, National Federation of State High School Athletic Association, are a few of the organizations which have contributed to the development of Track and Field, by sponsoring meets and formulating rules and policies.

Track and Field is the one sport on the campus which does not require a high school background. If a candidate has desire to participate and shows some ability, with proper coaching he can easily turn out to be the best miler or high jumper on the team.

George Fedok, Allentown Prize Prefers Diamond Play to Cage

One of the stalwarts of this year's Freshmen basketball squad was George Fedok, a former Allentown High School star in both basketball and baseball. George, who is 19, is not a "big man" as basketball players go today, standing five feet nine inches tall and weighing about 155 pounds, but he makes up for this lack of size with his speed and flight.

As the "Little Mules" drew near the end of the season, Fedok was third in the scoring department with 129 points made on 51 field goals and 27 fouls. But George's value to the Frosh team couldn't be measured by his scoring ability alone; he was also the playmaker and court leader when the action became fast and furious and he kept the opponents worried with his long sets.

Former A.H.S. Star

George started his basketball career in junior high. In his sophomore year at Allentown high George didn't get a chance to show his wares as the Canaries were barred from P.I.A.A. competition. It wasn't until his junior year that he was able to play as Allentown engaged clubs outside of the P.I.A.A.'s jurisdiction. His senior year was his best as he averaged 11 points per game, with 24 points being his high total for one game. George received offers from Columbia, F. & M., Drexel and Muhlenberg when he completed his high school career, finally deciding on Muhlenberg.

Diamond Game Favorite

In baseball, which is his favorite sport, Fedok compiled an enviable record. He played three years of varsity at Allentown High at shortstop, hitting over the .400 mark. He also played five years

Choir Plans CHEY Trips

The Muhlenberg Chapel Choir will give three concerts during the next three weeks.

This Sunday, February 19, the choir journeys to Trenton, N. J. to render a program to the congregation of the Bethel Church in conjunction with CHEY. The following Sunday, February 26, the choir travels to St. Paul's Church in Reading, this also being in connection with the CHEY appeal.

On Palm Sunday the choir will go to Cedar Crest College and participate in the service of the day; they likewise will render a few numbers, as will the Cedar Crest College Choir.

Red Cross Drive In Final Stage

On Monday, March 20, the 1950 Red Cross Drive for funds will come to a close. Mr. John J. Reed, campus campaign director, has announced that although the Schools and Hospitals Division, of which the College is a member, has attained 96.5% of its quota, Muhlenberg is still quite a bit behind its 1949 total.

As of Tuesday noon, March 14, eighty-eight contributors had given $285.50 to the drive. This amount is still far short of the $350 which were given by Muhlenberg community last year.

Mr. Reed has also announced that anyone who has given directly to the Red Cross at its downtown headquarters and would like to have his contribution accredited to the College total can do so by informing him of the fact. Mr. Reed's office is at 311 Administration Building.

Basketball Review

Two of the season's toughest games were coming up on successive Saturdays, Villanova and C.C.N.Y. were scheduled for Rockne Hall. The Mule offensive looked to be at its best since the season began. But the two clubs were toughies. These were "musts" if the Mules were to be considered for post season tourneys.

(Next Week—Season in Review, Part II)

Paul Frick as spokesman for the M.C.A. cabinet states that the cabinet wishes to express its gratitude to all those members of the student body and faculty whose untiring efforts made possible the Institute of Christian Living. He also stated that any students desiring to work within the organization should contact any of the following men: Dick Manzelman, Al Trainer, Dave Long, Joe Schwartz, Moe Fry, or Paul Frick.

Liljeroot's

Fly Trap Starving
"Jungle Jim" Bengt's last item can not be classified as an animal. It is a pretty, green plant which whiles away the time by trapping flies in barbed "clappers" situated on the ends of its leaves. The plant is called a Venus Fly Trap, and according to Liljeroot, it "schnaps shut" when a fly is attracted to it. Digesting the tender morsal quietly and efficiently the plant soon opens to await another victim. Bengt seems to be disgusted with the plant because it is so small, but since flies are scarce in the Science Building, the Venus Fly Trap can find little nourishment.

In conclusion:
Be careful when you groan and grunt,
Like unhappy people do,
You might meet Liljeroot on a hunt
And end up in his zoo.

Mask and Dagger tryouts for "You Can't Take It With You" will be held on March 20 and 21 instead of the previously announced dates.

The WEEKLY also takes the opportunity to correct an error in last week's issue. "You Can't Take It With You" was written by Moss Hart and George Kaufman, not by Sinclair Lewis as previously indicated.

WSSF Sponsors Choir Concert

As a part of its campaign to aid destitute foreign students, WSSF will sponsor a concert by the College choir on Thursday, March 23 at 8 p.m. in the College Chapel.

Letters have been sent to local churches inviting their congregations to attend this service. Jack Kaelberer, student chairman of the drive which officially starts on March 27 stated that all students are also invited to attend.

I.F.C. Ball Plans

(Continued from Page One) Lee Branton, of Phi Sigma Kappa, will name the chaperones for the affair. Their names will be announced shortly. David Solomon, of Phi Epsilon Pi, will direct the decorating of the hall, and heading the program committee will be Alpha Tau Omega's Robert Weinert.

House parties will be held at the respective fraternity houses on Saturday evening following the formal dance to complete the interfraternity weekend for 1950.

Alumni Press to Begin Field House Construction

(Continued from Page One) campaigns this year. However, the group states that they are "ready and willing to underwrite the raising of necessary funds on the strict condition that work actually and visibly be started before we are asked to solicit any sum whatsoever."

The special meeting of the Deutscher Verein for Wednesday, March 22, has been cancelled. The Verein will meet at the regular time, Monday, March 20, for a PLATTEN ABEND.

The Chowline

Big week: Clifford Moyer, practice teacher at Allentown High School, showed us a note written by the mother of one of his sixteen-year-old pupils as an excuse for the young one's three-day absence.

Dear Sir:
Monday Catherine's sister got married in church and Monday night we had a little time and Catherine got drunk and was sick all day Tuesday. Wednesday she had trouble with her father and the same Thursday. So she didn't come to school for spite. Thank you.

Mrs. Rocco
This idea is uncopyrighted, and is our contribution to humanity. For those of us intellectuals who are annoyed by the constant blaring of the juke box in the Student Center, we suggest that a "silent" record be placed in with the rest. In other words, it would be a blank record. Then those of us that wanted a little peace and quiet could, by putting a nickel in the juke-box and pushing down the proper lever, have three glorious minutes of silence golden.

This rag for which we write can unreservedly be called fresh and original. Why only last week Messrs. Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman were floored to find that they had erroneously been collecting royalties for "You can't take it with you," a play which they thought they had written, but which the WEEKLY revealed was really written by Sinclair Lewis.

WMUH Talent Show

This program does not have the sole function of amusing the listeners. It attempts to discover whatever talent may be present on campus by inviting anyone with talent to appear as a guest on one of the shows. Several instrumentalists, vocalists, and comedians have appeared or are expected to appear in the near future.

Anyone, either student or faculty, amateur or professional, who is interested in performing as a guest on one of the future broadcasts should contact Mr. Semmel any day between 3:30 and 5:00 at the ATO house in order to arrange for an audition.

George Fedok

George received several offers from major league clubs after he graduated from Allentown, and he hopes to play pro-baseball after he gets out of Muhlenberg. But until then, Muhlenberg has high hopes for Fedok in the next three years to make good on the Mule five, and next year he should be able to add class to the Cardinal and Grey nine.

All baseball candidates are hereby issued notice to report to coach Cardinal and also to baseball practice before or on Friday, March 17. No men will be accepted after this date.

Student Leaders Give OK To N.S.A. At Berg

Long and Thierfelder Propose Discount System For Student Patrons of Community Businessmen

At its meeting on March 16, Student Council voted to retain NSA at Muhlenberg.

Marvin Berger, head of the NSA at Muhlenberg, along with Leon Levitsky, who is a regional officer, David Long, and Everett Thierfelder presented their cases before the Student Government.

Berger gave an itemized account of the past year's expenditures and the anticipated budget for the current year. Long and Thierfelder proposed a purchase card system, which would enable Muhlenberg students to get a reduced rate from all the retail businessmen cooperating. The revenue derived from the purchase cards could in turn pay for NSA's expenditures and thereby alleviate the financial strain on Student Council.

N.S.A. Grants Scholarships

Leon Levitsky, the only regional officer from Muhlenberg, stressed the importance of NSA in another light. The organization is represented in UNESCO and The International Union of Students. NSA has begun granting full scholarships to deserving students. Wesleyan College is at present the recipient of five such scholarships, which indicates that other NSA colleges will benefit in this same manner shortly.

Student Councilman David Hoh stated that "NSA at Muhlenberg is an overdue assignment. It's high time we tapped the unrealized potentialities here in terms of more vital student government, more dynamic student leadership, and genuine campus service."

Verein Members Edit Own German Paper

The first issue of "Der Deutsche Bote" came off the presses last Monday evening, March 20, and was distributed to members of "Der Deutsche Verein" at its regular meeting that evening.

"Der Deutsche Bote" literally translated means the German Messenger. It will be issued monthly as a regular function of "Der Deutsche Verein" with the assistance of various German students, and will be written in German only. The origination of this German Language paper is a vital step in the coordination of all German activities as was visualized by Dr. Preston A. Barba, head of the Muhlenberg German department, now on a year's leave of absence in Germany.

The regular meeting of "Der Deutsche Verein" last Monday was designated as Plattenabend, an evening of records. Dr. Heinrich

Songs By Spicer

Earle Spicer, the internationally renowned baritone, will sing at the Assembly Program on March 30.

Famous Singer Gives Concert

Earle Spicer's Program Contains Many Ballads

On Thursday morning, March 30, Student Council presents Mr. Earle Spicer, a New York baritone and singer of ballads, in an assembly program in the Science Auditorium.

According to critics, Mr. Spicer is a favorite with college audiences because of his manly voice and magnetic personality. He has appeared three times at such colleges and universities as Cornell and Columbia, and as many as seven times at Lafayette.

Likes To Ad-Lib

Between selections he offers some humorous comments. He has the reputation of offering one of the best renditions of "Frankie and Johnnie" on the concert stage of today.

Mr. Spicer grew up in the land of Longfellow's Evangeline, Acadia, Canada, where he sang in the church choir.

He has sung with many of the leading symphony orchestras and oratorio societies of both England and America. He has performed before the English nobility and the Governor-General of Canada, and at the White House. For three years he was the feature soloist with Donald Voorhees and the Bell Telephone Orchestra on NBC.

Council Seeks Initiation Of Honor System

Lybrand Takes First Steps In Beginning Unique Plan

Student Council presented some tentative plans for a method of introducing the honor system at Muhlenberg at the Student Body meeting on March 16.

Council President Bill Lybrand suggested a plan whereby individual classes would consult their instructor and make arrangements for tests to be given under the honor system. Student Council feels that this should be the first step towards the establishment of an honor system for the whole college.

According to Lybrand, Dean Mercer will present council's plan to the faculty at their next meeting.

The proposed student body constitutional amendments were also read to the student body of thirty-five men who attended the meeting. In accordance with the constitution these amendments must be posted two weeks before they are voted on by the student body.

Cheerleading Squad Open for Applicants

A Team of Ten Men Wanted To Cheer at Varsity Games

The reorganization of a new cheerleading squad is expected to materialize in a few weeks. The program is headed by Lou Colombo who has appointed Dick Benter to take charge of applicants and tryouts, which will probably be held in a week or two. A team of eight or ten men is desired and Lou Colombo stressed that every position is open and available to the men who perform well in the tryouts.

Expect To Build Enthusiasm

The purpose of a good team of cheerleaders is to have them available not only for football games, but for other varsity sports, and to accompany varsity men on their away games. The latter point is most important, because Muhlenberg has suffered from lack of enthusiastic cheering support at many away games.

Students who have had the least experience, especially in tumbling, are in great demand, but experience is not a prerequisite to gain a berth on the squad. Interested men may apply at the Lambda Chi Alpha house or in West Hall to Ed Martin.

Pre-Medical Groups Hold Annual Banquet

Serving as host this year, Moravian College this week extended an invitation to Muhlenberg College to attend the annual Lehigh Valley Pre-Medical Banquet. The affair will be held on Wednesday, April 19, in the Masonic Temple, Bethlehem.

The program will be composed of a dinner-dance. The guest speaker is Dr. Roy Williams, professor of Anatomy at the University of Pennsylvania, who will speak on "Scientific Opportunities in Medical Education." Music for dancing will be provided by Vincent Joseph's orchestra.

The Lehigh Valley Banquet is sponsored and attended each year by the pre-medical groups of the Lehigh Valley colleges. However, Moravian officials reported that a

WSSF Sets Off Campus Drive To Support Destitute Scholars

Donations to WSSF Provide Materials for Dormitory; Students Give Own Time and Labor to Erect Building

by Conrad Balliet

The campaign for the World Student Service Fund will begin at Muhlenberg on Monday, March 27, and last until Tuesday, April 4. The administration and faculty, the choir, the Dormitory Council, the Interfraternity Council, and the Student Council are backing the campaign. Muhlenberg College has a quota of $1500, which will help build a dormitory for students in Bombay, India.

Choir Sings For Drive

In connection with the drive, the college choir will give a concert on Thursday, March 23, at 8:00 p.m. in the College Chapel. Mr. Warren Burns will speak at the chapel service on Friday, March 24. There will also be speakers for WSSF at the Chapel services on Monday and Tuesday, March 27 and 28.

Kaelberer Cites Needs

Jack Kaelberer, general chairman of the campaign, said in discussing the importance of WSSF, "Relief needs are still acute, and we must meet these needs not in the spirit of charity, but because we are all the builders of a common future. Many Americans have the mistaken life that government aid to the nations abroad through the Marshall Plan makes private agencies unnecessary. Government aid does not go to individuals; it is aid for heavy industry, and economic reconstruction. Students abroad will not benefit except as the population as a whole benefits. The whole aim of the European Recovery Program will be lost if there are no leaders—doctors, engineers, scientists, teachers—trained for the day when the war-torn nations are whole again. That is why we at

Drive for Red Cross Exceeds Former Total

The Muhlenberg Community has surpassed its 1949 total contributions by approximately ten percent as reported on Monday evening, March 20, when the American Red Cross 1950 drive came to its completion.

Mr. John J. Reed, the campus drive chairman, said that he was gratified by not only the almost 100% support of the faculty and staff but also by the splendid way in which the students aided in making the drive a success. Although there was no solicitation among the students, a great many of them contributed at the table which was set up in the Student Center for the convenience of donors.

Four Campus Social Fraternities Select Officers For Coming Year

Separate Banquets and Parties Climax Elections And Honor Both Incoming and Outgoing Officers

In elections held in recent weeks four campus social fraternities chose new leaders for the coming college year. Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Epsilon Pi and Phi Kappa Tau elected new officers, and climaxed the elections with a banquet honoring the outgoing and incoming officers.

New Leaders Take Over

Lambda Chi Alpha chose Wayne Stettler as its president for the coming year. Serving with Stettler will be Edward Keller as president, C. Robert Lane as secretary, and Floyd DeCheser as treasurer.

Chester Miller will lead Phi Epsilon Pi as superior in the 1950 term, with vice-superior Charles Friedman, corresponding secretary David Solomon, recording secretary, Sigmund Levin, and treasurer Gerald Levine serving as the other officers of the fraternity.

At the helm of Phi Kappa Tau will be John Lawrie as president. Assisting him in the other executive offices of the fraternity are vice-president Wallace H. Craver, secretary Clifford L. Reiner and

WMUH Plans Include Extended Broadcasts

At the initial meeting held of the complete staff of Radio Station WMUH on Friday, March 17, Warren Burns, Station manager announced the plans of the station for the near future.

The first of his plans is to go into effect next week. WMUH which is now heard from 7:00 to 9:00 on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, will be on the air from 6:00 to 10:00 every Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Possibly next semester an afternoon program will go into effect.

New Lines To All Dorms

Burns also informed his staff of the administration's plans to rewire the campus and that WMUH would have a direct and independent line to every dormitory thus assuring better reception.

Plans are now underway to partition the Radio Station into four separate chambers at a cost of $250—for material. The staff is to do the work.

Tom Calnan gave a financial report. He said that all future bills of the station would be paid through a check account and that the business manager would be responsible for monetary transactions. He also announced the proposal that had been made to the administration of announcing Muhlenberg's sports events which were not carried by a local station.

Burns Receives Full Support

The executive council voted on Bob Godnick's appointment as sports manager. He was unanimously elected.

Each week the radio schedule will be published in the Muhlenberg WEEKLY in order to keep campus students informed of their favorite programs.

Burns warned the staff that these plans were big and that he must have everyone's unlimited support if the plans are to be carried out. The staff gave Burns an unanimous vote of confidence to conclude the meeting.

'Berg Debaters Set Tournament

With a Muhlenberg College sponsored model debate tournament and the annual Freshmen Debate Contest all falling in the same week, the Forensic Council is faced with its busiest period of the current debate season. Those colleges who have definitely signed tournament contracts to appear at Muhlenberg on March 31, 1950 are Cedar Crest, Dickinson, Lafayette, Lehigh, and Muhlenberg. Other schools are expected to have their contracts in sometime this week. The decision tournament will be held on one day only, March 31, in afternoon and evening sessions. All of the debates will be held in West Hall, and interested students, faculty members, and Allentownians will be permitted to attend as spectators. Judges for the debate have been nominated, but the official list has not yet been released. The tournament will consider this season's national topic, "Resolved: That the United States should nationalize all basic non-agricultural industries." The new Ore-

WSSF Will Help These Students

Contributions to the World Student Service Fund will aid the handicapped and unfortunate overseas students such as these shown above. The cut shows a group of recuperating students at a rest home in Combloux, France, engaged in their daily "K. P."

Asiatic Students Aided Through Support of World Student Service Campus Campaign

It is strange to note that the word "alms" has no singular. This may be the reason that the purpose for charity is ever before us. Each year local and national solicitation drives offer appeal for aiding the March of Dimes, the Red Cross, the American Heart Campaign, Community Chest, and hundreds of similar causes.

Some people give because the donation changes their income tax status; some because they are "pressured" into giving by their employers or friends; and many because they believe in being benevolent.

For the third consecutive year the World Student Service Fund appeal is being made at Muhlenberg. Every student should be familiar with the nature of the drive and the purpose to which his donation will be put. On Monday, March 27, the College W.S.S.F. committee will begin their solicitations. The money they receive is destined for India, a country suffering an all-time high of T.B.

Last year the W.S.S.F. drive at Muhlenberg was very successful but there were present those donors who gave skeptically because they doubted the use to which their gift was placed. Some did not donate because they feared the money would be sent to schools under communist influence. With these facts in mind the W.S.S.F. committee this year chose India as the center which Muhlenberg can most aid. Hundreds of pictures, verbal appeals, and actual cases indicate to us how badly India needs help if its educational system is to survive.

College students can readily realize that knowledge of past and present has been the greatest contributor to the construction of the atom bomb. Knowledge will also keep nations at peace. To foster knowledge is to support it universally. Certainly every student of this institution should give. The W.S.S.F. unites college students everywhere into a world fraternity. M.E.B.

Paradoxical Situation Occurs as Professors Defeat Purpose of G.R.E. Given by College

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) administered this past week to our seniors created some rather unfortunate situations. The GRE adds to our educational system a definite value which is hard for anyone to deny sincerely. Despite occasional gripes by students who seem to serve as needed perennial dissenters, the general student body is cognizant of the examinations' importance. The administration also is aware of the GRE's usefulness, and, being aware of the test's function, the administration has made the taking of this examination a requirement for graduation. The feeling is also that, in the main, the members of the faculty are in favor of the administration of the GRE.

However, in certain important respects, the GRE does not differ from other educational measuring devices; its validity depends in part upon the conditions under which it is administered. For this reason, efforts are made to control those factors influencing the general testing situation. The Testing Bureau does a fine job in considering these determining factors. One of these factors is the general "set" of the person taking the examination. The attempt to keep this factor constant takes the form of excusing seniors from classes on the days the examination is to be administered.

This particular attempt at control however requires more than just the efforts of the Testing Bureau. The participation of the entire college community is needed on all levels. Unfortunately, a few professors did not participate in this community project.

As a result, some seniors were faced with a very serious conflict this past week. Classes were held on the examination days by these few professors, classes in which the clear majority of students were seniors. Was it fair to present on the examination days material which the seniors could not receive unless they attended the classes? In a very real sense then, the senior in this situation was penalized regardless of his choice of action. It is pertinent to note also that some of these professors are the same ones who refuse to recognize the "unlimited cut" privilege granted to seniors; this despite the fact that the seniors have demonstrated this year that they are fully capable of accepting responsibility in this area. In its essence, the holding of classes by those professors amounted to nothing less than indirect coercion.

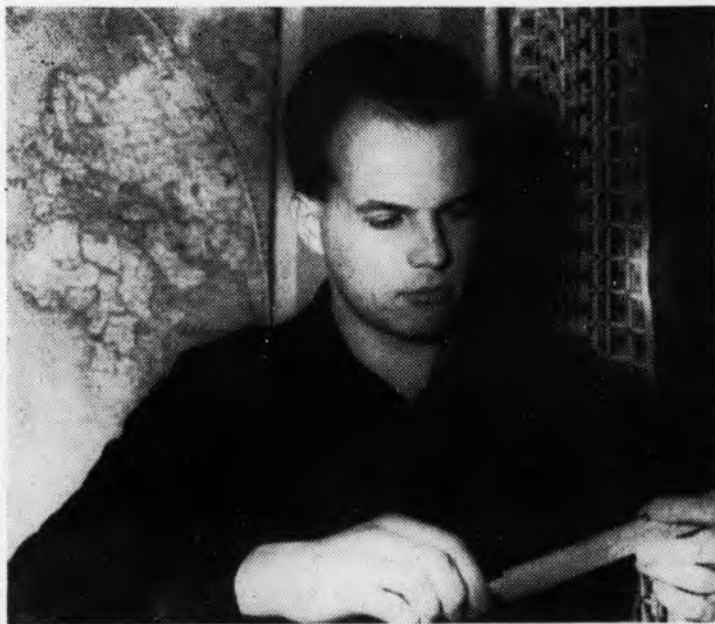

This is a plea directly to those professors, a plea to them to examine situations of this sort so that their actions may be guided by true intellectual integrity, a plea especially important since the Tests of General Education for sophomores will soon be administered.

We cannot help but note in passing that it is very encouraging to see that the majority of our faculty members cooperated to the utmost during the examination period just past; it is extremely unfortunate that a few drops of pigment can change the shade of a true color. W.A.L.

Displaced Person Finds Solace In The Comforts Of U.S. College

Chemistry Student from Latvia Matriculates at Muhlenberg Under The Sponsorship of the M.C.A.

Sam Knochs, prospective chemist and future citizen, gazes intently at his slide rule to find the right answer to a tough question.

by Bill Charlesworth

When the Russian officer ordered his men to shoot a group of refugees, Samuel Knochs, Latvian youth of 17 and escapee from a German slave labor camp, thought for sure that he would never see another day. However, the officer, seeing a few relatively young men in the group, commanded that they should be sent to a nearby labor unit. By chance, Sam was chosen among the few. Enroute to camp Sam escaped and, after numerous hardships on his approximately 200 mile trek from Poland to Western Germany, he reached the American zone of occupation.

Born in Latvia

Sam was born in a small Latvian town 23 years ago. He grew up in a musical atmosphere. His father, a surveyor by occupation, played the violin in his leisure hours. His sister practiced singing for her opera tours. In 1940 his home life was disrupted when the Russian Army rolled into Latvia and set up their cominform government. Sam attended the earlier part of gymnasium (equivalent to our high school) under the iron hand of Russian educators. As Sam puts it, "The pupils who knew the most about Lenin and the Communist version of atheism were acknowledged as good students capable of high achievement for the Soviet Union."

His schooling under the Russians did not last long. In 1941 the Nazis marched in and remained in Latvia for three years. "The truckloads of people, snatched from their homes at night, still rumbled through the streets, the confession rooms in the cellars of converted NKVD houses were still being used, and the disciplinary measures both in school and home were as harsh as ever," but everything was done in a more subtle manner and with much more explanation.

Deported in Germany

One day Sam went to school and never returned. He was deported to Germany and forced to work in a weapons factory. The increasing pressure on Germany's Eastern front presented a serious shortage of slave labor. Sam and countless others were shipped to Poland to dig tank traps and gun emplacements. During the confusion of a nearby battle, Sam escaped and began his journey westward. Traveling the roads by night and through the forests by

Intrepid "Poll Takers" Invade An Unsuspecting Berg Campus

Atrophied Students Startled from Lethargy to Answer Question of Little or no Consequence

by Bob Yerby

Posing as licensed investigators, three unemployed coal miners interviewed four of the most typical and influential students on the Muhlenberg campus on a question of little or no importance, namely: "What do you think of the lack of enthusiasm shown over the pool tables installed in the Student Center?" The answers which they received were unfortunately not of any value whatsoever. However, they were duly recorded and published in a two volume pamphlet entitled "Ten Nights in a Pool Room."

Everybody Should Play

The first person interviewed was Levering Skipclass, who, since he has taken up permanent residence in the pool room, was of great help in the matter. "Well," said he after chalking up, "I believe that pool has a definite place in college life and I think that everyone, even Dean's List men, and freshmen, should be encouraged to play. Now if you'll excuse me, I'll play the nine ball in the side pocket."

Darwin Schmeeler, the next interviewee, was discovered in the M.C.A. room forging chapel slips. Artfully hiding his guilt, he asked us what we wanted and then volunteered the following profound comment, "There is probably no definite reason---that is---no accurate method of---what I mean to say is---without them there would be no---or rather with them there could be---should be---Oh, goodness, I don't CARE!"

Encounter Freshman

Without a word of thanks or a backward glance our curious trio continued across campus, seeking and imploring students to answer the question. Outside of a slap in the face to one interviewer who asked a secretary the wrong question, they discovered nothing until they arrived at West Hall. Here they cornered a sleek and prosperous-looking freshman who listened patiently to their nonsense for a while and then broke in with:

"Gentlemen, (this is not a typographical error, he actually said gentlemen) I think I can help you. I spent considerable time in the pool room. As a matter of fact I earned this semester's tuition teaching the faculty to play eight ball. Naturally, I wish to see the pool room frequented by a better and wealthier class of people. After all, tuition has been raised, you know."

Physics Major Talks

Rather miffed by his mercenary attitude the researchers continued on their eager and confused journey until they arrived at the Science building. Here they managed to bribe a physics major with a new slide-rule and he summed Gadzooks, holey moley, and (as (Kaanga in Jungle Comics would have it) AARGH! National Girl Scout Week, be kind to puppies week, National Fire Prevention Week, Anti Hocket and Schlesinger Week . . . seems as though every week is a week set aside for something. We're a little disgusted. Henceforth we are picking up our literary cudgel and we'll cudgel for something really worthwhile . . . "National Chapel Credits for Bible Class Week." Join us?

Driver: I thought I heard some one tell me to.

Rear Seat: Drive on, she wasn't talking to you.

Aristotmourad's philosophy corner: Didn't like that test mark, did you? Too low wasn't it? He shafted you didn't he? We respectfully submit this thought to you to thrash around with some sleepless night. What difference is it going to make one hundred years from now? "There is nothing quite like good wholesome rationalizing in time of strife," the lounge lizard advised us, as he spat reflectively into the butt bucket and turned to face the east.

Then, if you will, conjure up an image of Don Latzko and Jack Dowman having a friendly little chit chat. Got the picture? Okay. Dowman turns around, feels a tap and gets seventy-five cents worth of whippy brown delight in his moosh. It was chaotic. The pie covered Dowman's face like a mulch. Subtle breed that we are, here at Muhlenberg, that's the way we often settle things . . . just a quiet little tete a tete.

One student is claiming that he read in some text, on primitive cultures, that a Ubangi is the only human on earth who can seal a letter with a kiss---after it's in the mailbox. (That one's been around so long it's square!)

An open letter to the thief who stole John Turtzoz pair of pants: Dear Marauder: John says that you are welcome to the upper half of his Sunday suit. You need only to come around and ask for it. John says you might as well do a complete job while you're at it. However, be careful not to get within three feet of him or you'll find yourself recumbent on the floor, picking knuckles out of your teeth.

Don't you ever read anything but the jokes?

Our probing tentacle in West Hall uncovered this one. It seems that one "Lobber" Mills was on his way to a pledge meeting, at the other end of Chew Street. As he left the dormitory, he spied a familiar looking car coming toward him. He intrepidly walked right up the road into the headlights. For humanitarian reasons, of course, the car stopped. Smiling ear to ear, George boldly hopped right into the front seat, thinking it was one of his brothers. Imagine the "Lobber's" embarrassment when his "brother" turned out to be the Dean's wife. "That's all right, sonny, I run an unofficial taxi service anyway," the comforting voice spoke forth.

Enjoyed Our Humor

Gentlemen:

Fate willed it that an issue of your paper fell into my hands and thereby opened to me hitherto unknown vistas of a 'Berglings troubles.

The article I refer to specifically is the one dealing with women.

Besides the deathless prose in which it was written, and the originality of the impressive message (hitherto not approached by more than two million school-papers, from Kindergarten on), I enjoyed the author's coy humor to such a degree that I suffered a severe case of nervous hives.

Foremost in my compassionate mind was the fate of those hapless young men, gathered on a blustery night in a gloomy drinking-place; I could fairly see them there, partaking of beers and celery- tonic, their conversation of such intense and high calibre, to stimulate them to such a point of ennui, that they fell to discussing women and crying into their respective steins.

My heart bled for them---heroes all---because it was evident from the text that they had met---and SURVIVED---the most motley assortment of ladies this side of Snake Pit. Their bravery, modestly only hinted at, moved me to quiet tears.

The author was clearly pictured in my mind too---whipping out his trusty note-pad, and shaken by sobs, moved to the depths of his poetic soul-taking notes on the most world-shaking conversations of the decade.

Later on, with hands still a-

... Student Council Reports ...

At the regular meeting of the Student Council on March 16 the following business was transacted.

The Council announced that the informal tea sessions for senior students held at the Tyson residence have proven highly successful, and will be continued until all resident and commuting seniors have had an opportunity to meet with informal and Mrs. Levering Tyson and fellow seniors in this informal manner.

William Laird suggested that since the student representation at Student Body meetings is at an all time low, Commons and the Library be closed for that hour (11:00-12:00) when the meeting is scheduled, in order to draw the men into the Science auditorium.

A petition was inaugurated to have the ten o'clock Wednesday chapel service changed to the same time Tuesday as more favorable to the majority of men who have a heavy Wednesday schedule.

The Freshman Orientation Committee was scheduled to meet immediately following the Easter vacation. They will be able to hear department heads and faculty men speak in their respective fields.

A report was received that at the recent CHEY pilgrimage to Muhlenberg College, 2500 people came representing 122 congregations in the adjoining states and Pennsylvania. It proved so successful that phone calls and letters are still pouring in displaying the people's enthusiasm over this program and their interest in Muhlenberg. The student CHEY committee consisted of sixteen men.

Lou Colombo stated that a cheerleading squad is urgently needed and he has tentatively named Dick Benter to start the drive for applicants. Any students with the least experience or perhaps none at all can apply at the Lambda Chi Alpha house for a position on the new cheerleading team.

Finally, after five years of living in terror, hardship, and constant danger, Samuel Knochs reached the American lines. He settled down in a displaced persons camp at Nuremberg and finished his schooling. In May 1949 he left Germany and came to the United States to continue his pursuit of knowledge. A Lutheran minister, living near Sam's present home in Quakertown, heard of Sam's desire to further his education. Through the aid of the minister and the principal of Quakertown High School, Sam entered Muhlenberg, where he was placed under the sponsorship of the M.C.A. At present Sam is a sophomore majoring in Chemistry, his future vocation.

tremble from the violent emotions he had heard unleashed, he smashed out the story with letters of fire and flame—a story with all the tremendous impact of a wet Kleenex.

Although I was quite exhausted, emotionally, after weeping my way through the article, I was so anxious to do my bit to amend or solve this harrowing situation, that I quickly whipped up a batch of Brownies to distribute among the members of the brave and selfless research-party. But it came to me like a flash of lightning that the trouble was even bigger, if possible, than a 'Bergling's stomach, and I abandoned the Brownies in a soggy state of indecision.

I went out into the cold winter evening to locate a female to measure up to evident MUHLENBERG standards. (I had seen students talking to girls, even walking with some of them, but so wonderful were the acting abilities of these young men, that I could at no time tell they were in the throes of nauseous attacks—some of the girls were intelligent, you see, and some even—if you will pardon the expression—LAUGHED!)

Maidenly modesty forbids my repeating more of the disgusting qualities you attributed to the villainesses in the the article—but you can rest assured that the lovely girl I finally located as a shining example possesses NONE of them. In other words—she is ideal.

She will listen raptly, never prove anyone wrong—her clothes can be the choice of the male at all times, (it is a matter of indifference to her), indeed, an ideal... But since I am not very well acquainted with Campus regulations—I wish for you to help me with the problem now at hand. Just where would you like me to send the corpse?

Yours, with the sense of civic duty fulfilled,

"Experts" Disagree On Baseball Predictions

With the start of the major league baseball season just about one month away, three members of the WEEKLY sports staff have been bold enough to predict the final standings in the American and National Leagues. The three "experts" are Chuck Morgan, Bob Godnick, and Don Klenk. The dopesters are not of one accord; therefore, below are listed each man's own viewpoint of the results of the two pennant races, and what seems to be the consensus taken from comparing the prophecies by an elaborate point system.

Yanks - Bums Picked

This system works as follows: The Yankees were picked by two selectors as the pennant winner in the American loop, and by one as the runnerup. Giving one point for each first place, two for second, three for third, etc., the Yankees would receive four points. Then divide three (the number of predictions made) into this total, and you get 1 1/3 points for the Yankees which is the lowest figure of the Junior Circuit in these calculations, thus the New Yorkers are entitled to first place. The second lowest score is the Red Sox, so they are given second place. It then follows that the team receiving the highest sum will end last in the consensus.

American League

Morgan: (1) New York, (2) Boston, (3) Detroit, (4) Cleveland, (5) Philadelphia, (6) St. Louis, (7) Chicago, (8) Washington.

Godnick: (1) New York, (2) Cleveland, (3) Boston, (4) Detroit, (5) Philadelphia, (6) Chicago, (7) St. Louis, (8) Washington.

Klenk: (1) Boston, (2) New York, (3) Detroit, (4) Philadelphia, (5) Cleveland, (6) Chicago, (7) St. Louis, (8) Washington.

Consensus: (1) New York, (2) Boston, (3) Detroit, (4) Cleveland, (5) Philadelphia, (6) Chicago, (7) St. Louis, (8) Washington.

National League

Morgan: (1) Brooklyn, (2) Boston, (3) Philadelphia, (4) St. Louis, (5) New York, (6) Pittsburgh, (7) Cincinnati, (8) Chicago.

Godnick: (1) Brooklyn, (2) Boston, (3) Pittsburgh, (4) St. Louis, (5) New York, (6) Philadelphia, (7) Cincinnati, (8) Chicago.

Klenk: (1) Brooklyn, (2) Philadelphia, (3) St. Louis, (4) Boston, (5) New York, (6) Pittsburgh, (7) Cincinnati, (8) Chicago.

Consensus: (1) Brooklyn, (2) Boston, (3) Philadelphia, St. Louis (tie), (5) Pittsburgh, (6) New York, (7) Cincinnati, (8) Chicago.

I-M Officials Select All-Star Dream Five

The refs have not only picked Luongo at the one forward spot, but also selected him as the outstanding player to appear before the West Hall lockers. His 2 point per game average was instrumental in averting shutouts against his I-M team. "Team Man's" favorite shot is a two handed underhanded toss from the jump circle, and the uncanny way in which the ball glances off the ceiling and bangs against the banking board is something to see. It is rumored that he's headed for the varsity next year, but a feeler from the Minneapolis Lakers may send him into the pro ranks.

At the other forward position is Walt "Gunner" Wiedemeyer, who sparked the Sinners to a one-game victory streak. Using his height and brawn very effectively, he styles himself along the line of Villanova's Paul Arizin, but "Gunner's" outstanding feature is that he doesn't look at the basket when shooting, and yet his point average almost surpasses Luongos. Prior to playing in the I-M League he was named to the All-Star team of the South Macungie Bible Class Conference. Asked about his future hoop hopes, "Gunner" stated that the game today is too slow for him, so he's going to devote his time to fast games of tiddly-winks.

Basket Gets in Head's Way

At the center slot none other than big Al "19-year-old Mt. Carmel" Konochuk could have been selected because his pivot work is comparable to any in the country. A dead hook shot with the right hand, he never fails to pass up a team-mate. Big Al has been handicapped all season because his head keeps hitting the rim on drive in shots. However, in his break open a tight, low scoring game.

LaSalle, one of the powers of Eastern basketball took the floor against the Mules, who were denied the services of injured Al Saemmer and Dick McGee. To the utter surprise and delight of Mule supporters, Benny's boys made a real game of it for half the contest, leaving the floor at halftime trailing by only 33-31. The impressive play of sophomore Cary Smith provided a spark for an inspired Mule five. The Philadelphia Explorers finished the game strongly, with Larry Foust and Jack Philan leading the way, 87-60.

The Mules concluded the season with victories over Seton Hall 64-59; Bucknell, 95-81; Lehigh, 88-64; Gettysburg, 76-49; and Scranton, 72-70.

The final home game of the year against Gettysburg was featured by the presentation of the WEEKLY's award, emblematic of the most valuable player, to Marv Jaffe, who led the scorers for the season with 337 points.

On the whole, the season was successful, notwithstanding the fact that a potentially great team did not gain post season recognition. The season record of 17-6 is darkened by losses against the top teams in the area. Muhlenberg loses the majority of its regulars through graduation, so a whole-sale rebuilding will be necessary if Muhlenberg College is to remain in big time collegiate basketball.

It will be a long time before this, or any other institution sees the likes of the players who leave the college in June.

At the one guard spot is wee Benny "The Pressure's On" Schatman, whose hopes for a varsity berth have risen since he learned Al Saemmer is a senior. The sparkplug of the Pep Boys, Benny was instrumental in getting his team mates to show up for every contest. Besides an accurate push shot while in a sitting position, he played an outstanding floor game, wearing out one pair of shorts per contest. In a recent game he gained press notices by leading both teams in scoring.

Benny is only a freshman and is aiming at Harry Donovan's 4 year scoring record.

Malone Takes Scorers Job

Don "Gussy" Malone shone brilliantly this past season in his first year of West Hall competition, and the refs couldn't overlook his efforts. He was named to the fifth spot on the squad. Malone is murder under the boards, and although he usually is fouled out by the end of the first period, his rebound work in the first period and his job as official scorer during the last three periods caught the eyes of the refs. His outstanding performance this season was against the Sinners when he lasted the entire first half. "Gussy's" uncanny ability to steal the ball has caused Commissioner Bill Ritter much worry, therefore "Gussy" is the leading candidate for official scorer for next season. During his high school career Malone led his team, the Armless Midgets, in scoring for seven consecutive years. The word is that he's ready, but the question is—for what?

Mule Hoopsters Name All-Star Opponent "5"

Paul Arizin, George Davidson and Sherman White were unanimous choices to Muhlenberg's 1949-50 all-opponent basketball team. Completing the first team are Ed Warner, Ed Roman and Larry Foust.

Eight members of 'Berg's basketball team voted in this poll conducted by the WEEKLY. The point system of the voting was on the basis of two points for first team and one for second. The highest possible point total was 16. Arizin, Davidson and White all received the maximum total of 16.

Arizin is All-American

Arizin, the 6'3" Villanova star, was the key man in the Main Liner's offensive. Paul proved this only too convincingly when he scored 25 points against the Mules in Rockne Hall as Villanova topped 'Berg. Paul was named to the Associated Press All-Pennsylvania team, Look magazine named him on their All-American first team and Collier's named him on the second team.

George Davidson, Lafayette's junior sensation, scored 26 points for the Leopards in a losing cause at Rockne Hall and led the Easton five with 22 points as Ray Stanley's crew downed the Mule five. Davidson also was named to the All-Pennsylvania team.

Sherman White, Long Island's high scoring center, played a big part in handing the Mules their defeat at Madison Square Garden. White scored 27 points in that contest.

Larry Foust, 6'9" center from LaSalle, rounds out the starting "five" on Muhlenberg's all-opponent team. Larry's scoring was not up to last year's pace because he was used mainly on the outside. Larry was named to All-Pennsylvania team.

The number in parenthesis is the number of first team votes:—

The Field House question is one we all want answered now. Last week the WEEKLY presented the views, which I heartily endorse, of the Allentown Alumni Club. In addition to the more obvious benefits of good athletic facilities on the campus, the college would not suffer from the enhanced pride of the student in this college, or from the increased interest in the college by the numerous alumni and friends.

Fraternity Elections

treasurer William V. Mueller.

At a Founders Day banquet of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity held last Friday evening, March 17, in the Livingston Club; Reverend Charles D. Spotts, head of the religious department at Franklin and Marshall College, explained the value of the American college fraternity system.

He said that fraternities are now well established on the American college scene and that many schools are requesting the establishment of more fraternal groups on their campuses.

A scholarship award was presented to A. Louis Tengzelius, Valley Stream, L. I., sophomore, for achieving the highest scholastic average of Eta chapter in his class.

About 100 alumni and student members attended the banquet which marked the 32nd anniversary of the founding of Eta chapter.

Four charter members of Eta chapter, Herbert Koch and Melville Boyer, Allentown; C. Russell Witmer, Sellersville; and Leonard Utz, Wilkes Barre, were present.

Entertainment was provided by members of the Muhlenberg group under the direction of John Lauer.

Sigma Phi Epsilon selected Walter Schray as president for the coming year. Serving with Schray will be George Pike as vice-president, Brooks Edward as secretary, George Wall as treasurer, and Donald Klenk as historian.

Hold Social Affairs

In connection with these elections each of the fraternities held a social function during recent weeks. Sigma Phi Epsilon held its annual formal dinner dance at the Brookside Country Club on March 18. Sixty couples attended the dance. The newly elected officers of the fraternity were introduced to the alumni present.

Stahl Gets Scholarship Key

Irvin Fry, retiring president of Sigma Phi Epsilon, acted as toastmaster for the evening. He presented Murray Stahl with the Scott Memorial Scholarship key, the fraternity's annual award to the brother with the highest scholastic average. After the banquet the group danced to the music of Jimmy Mason and his orchestra.

Installation of officers of Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity was held at a banquet of brothers, alumni, and pledges.

Earl A. Gabriel, the departing superior, acted as master of ceremonies at the banquet. Mr. Gabriel gave a brief report on the activities of the fraternity during the fiscal year just completed.

After the report, Mr. Gabriel introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Mr. Morris Perkin, who is the alumni adviser for Phi Ep.

All Freshmen interested in becoming members of Cardinal Key Society please attend the meeting on Monday evening March 27, at 7 p.m. in the Cardinal Key Room.

welcome is extended to any member of the college student body or faculty. Moravian spokesman Ralph Williams, stated that an invitation has been sent to all the nursing schools of the valley and to the members of the medical profession at large.

The program will begin at 6:30 p.m. Dinner will be served "family style." Tickets which are $3.00 per person, may be secured in the Biology office.

Berg Debaters

gon style of debating will be employed. This style involves cross-questioning and helps to get down to the basic issues involved.

Of the six debates held so far this month, one was a decision debate: Muhlenberg vs. St. Joseph's of Philadelphia. William Keiter and Jack Phillips of Muhlenberg successfully defended the negative side of this year's national topic, the nationalization of basic non-agricultural industries. The debate was held at St. Joseph's in Oregon style, and represented Muhlenberg's fifth victory for the season. Temple, Moravian for Women, Rutgers, Penn State Women, and Princeton are the other teams that Muhlenberg has debated this month. The Muhlenberg record for the season now stands at five victories, three defeats, one tie, and six non-decisions. The outstanding victories of the season were garnered by Edgar Teter and John Long at the Albright Tournament, which Muhlenberg won.

Future opponents of the Forensic Council include Franklin and Marshall, Lafayette, Lehigh, Drew, and Penn State Women.

Honor System

The voting on these amendments will take place at the student body meeting on April 13, when the election of officers will take place.

German Paper

Meyer, assistant professor of German, presented a history of German music with records. Dr. Ralph Wood and Wilmer Sanders also played records which they had brought with them. The meeting was closed, as usual, with the singing of Brahms' Schlummerlied and the serving of refreshments.

Tuition Goes Down As Oil Comes Up

Babies Invade Campus In "Operation Diaper"

Money Mongrels OK Five Year Old Frosh Class; Offer Fairy Tales, Mibs, Housemothers, Crayons

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees, this noble body decided to set the minimum age of entering students at five years. It seems that ever since the announcement of the rise in tuition, applications for next year's Freshman class have been especially rare. Therefore, the Administration deemed it necessary to compete with neighboring Swain School in order to have some sort of a student body.

In order to provide the enterprising ten-year old college graduate with a means of livelihood, the Board has set up a new course of study which will lead to a B.B.S. degree. The holder of this degree should be able to hold his own in the field of baby-sitting. In addition to the required courses each student will have to attend weekly Cradle Roll sessions in the Chapel at which time the leading men on campus will be in charge of the crayons.

Dr. Spinner Shot Myers of the Geology department has announced that he will teach a course in Agatology to provide the student with all the rudiments of the fine art of playing marbles. Dr. Myers also said that if he had any exceptional players he would enter them in the annual Allentown Marble Tournament.

Each Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Halibut Hank Applington will meet all the potential trout fishermen at the whirlpool. These meetings should be quite exciting because the doctor has had the pool amply stocked with some frisky guppies. In order to provide the student with a feeling of grace on the dance floor, Dr. Twinkletoes Kilmer will offer a popular course in ballet dancing.

This new type of Freshman class will offer a problem for the 1950 Freshman Tribunal. There will be no necessity to ask the new students to roll up their pants legs since the majority of five-year olds wear only short pants.

There definitely will be a Tug-of-War. However, instead of holding it across the Cedar Creek, which is undoubtedly too deep for the contestants in case one side should be drawn into the icy waters, it will be conducted across the waterpuddle between the Administration and Library Buildings.

ings, with the Muhlenberg Freshmen and the Swain Kintergarten students as opponents, providing of course the Lord Protector of the Lawns MaCauley permits the temporary removal of the barriers which surround his verdant domain.

The Tribunal has anticipated sponsoring an exciting Cops and Robbers campaign between the two schools' entering classes in lieu of the former Soph-Frosh football games which were conducted here at Muhlenberg.

Dean of Freshmen Haps Benfer has announced that he will have to discharge his present set of proctors in favor of some Cedar Crest girls who will act as house mothers for the new incoming class. All the rooms will be redecorated in the motif of Peter Rabbit and the Three Bears.

By unanimous acclamation the students have decided to set aside

Quiver Queens Enliven Coming Assembly Show

Strippers Offer Bare Facts In Berg Stage Take Off

In an attempt to raise the level of assembly programs on campus, Dave Hoh, outstanding Pre-Theo, has arranged for the appearance of Gypsy Rose Lee, renowned exponent of the modern art of exposé. Madame Lee will address the assembly, at its forthcoming program February 31, 1987, on the topic "How To Take It Off."

Assisting Madame Lee will be Ann Corio and Georgia Southern. The latter is a Cedar Crest Alumni who went to greater things on practically nothing. Miss Corio is also well-known as a young woman who has made a name for herself with the barest necessities.

Madame Lee, main figure of the "Quivering triumverate," will supplement her lecture with appropriate demonstrations.

In a most democratic gesture, student council has reserved the entire downstairs for the religion department, to assure that that body will be able to gain full benefit from this unusual program.

Members of the Allentown police force will wield their night sticks in the interest of order. The Fire Dept. will stand by with two hoses to keep the auditorium below the ignition point.

M-Book Backs Pubs Kendig Sets Example

Muhlenberg's $3,500 college handbook, the "M"-Book, will become America's largest, most elaborate college publication next year, Dr. Perry F. Kendig, faculty adviser to the "M"-Book, announced this week.

This year's allotment from the Publication Funds has been increased from the previous measly sum of $3,500.00 to the more adequate sum of $15,000.08. Of course, the students' publications fee will have to be increased by ten dollars, but Administration officials are not concerned over this contingency. "After all," said Dr. Kendig, "this is NOT a poor man's school."

Intended Sewage Disposal Hole Pays Off With Powerful Spurt Of Black Money Making Muck

Yesterday as Rocky Myers was lecturing on the poor prospects of finding gold in Fort Knox, oil was found on the Muhlenberg campus. 'Black Gold' as oil is sometimes labelled, came pouring forth from the small hole being dug behind the Boiler House which was soon to be a cesspool. (The hole, that is.)

Board Of Trustees Probes Miss Funk

Librarian on Loose Puts Administration on Spot

Behind closed doors, the Board of Trustees of Muhlenberg College acted last night to stem the flow of rumors and to arrive at the facts in regard to $5,000 missing from the Library fine fund. The trustees met in a suite in the College Hotel.

At 5:00 a.m. this morning Mr. Wagner issued the following statement:

"I am deeply shocked and hurt at this precipitate action on the part of one of our most trusted administrators. The situation is, however, not entirely hopeless. Miss Funk has wired from Florida that she is willing to give us a fighting chance. She expresses willingness to play one hand of poker, double or nothing, deuces and black nines wild, jacks or better to open, two raises, table stakes only. The Board is willing to put-up the field house to cover; however, there's some doubt as to whether this will be sufficient collateral, in the eyes of Miss Funk."

President Tyson, when contacted, said, "If Miss Funk is willing to return the money the entire incident will be overlooked. After all, no books were taken. Money is the least of our worries."

Umbilicus Heads Med Frustration Bureau

The Biology department last week announced the institution of a Placement Bureau for Frustrated Pre-Med Students.

In charge of the Bureau is J. Farthington Umbilicus, who knows well the students' plight, being one of their number. Mr. Umbilicus won the position through seniority, having been rejected from thirteen med schools, three barber colleges, and the West Macungie Institute of Manicure.

Cooperating with the Bureau, the college is offering special courses for these men, including ditch-digging 3, diaper-laundering 21, basket-weaving 4Q, and pan-handling 69. Advanced two-year rejectees may elect seminars in stock-watering and a special lab course in "How To Pull Political Strings."

For rejectees with tendencies (agricultural, that is), the college holds outdoor projects in scientific cat o'nine tails raising on the now-abandoned football field.

When interviewed, Mr. Umbilicus, nursing a Seagrams and formaldehyde, said, "The success of the Bureau is evident by the number of pre-meds placed."

Three are putting their lab technique to use as cement mixers downtown, several are working as butchers for Arbogast and Bastion, and four stand-out bacteriology men are employed on the city garbage trucks.

Mr. Umbilicus himself plans to seek a career in wrestling, and can daily be found lifting paper weights in the spacious Bureau office in the manhole behind the Library.

Amid shouts of "Erl! Erl!", Mohn rushed from the Student Center men's room, threw up his hands and in true Macbethian style cried out: "Will all great Neptune's ocean wash this oil clean from my hands."

From the halls of Weaber's dispensary shouts of glee were heard: "I can give the boys something new—Oil in the whirlpool!"

At the height of the phenomenal discovery, Myers was overheard calling, with all haste, to a certain bus line near Bath. (of all places) "Quick, quick," said Rocky, "send a bus down here immediately. I must take my geology class on a field trip at once." (Editor's note . . . undoubtedly he meant the football field, scene of the gushing goo.)

A bit of human interest must be injected here. As the crowd of students and professors gathered to witness the wonderful sight, Dr. Russell Stine was seen standing on tip toes at the outer rim of the gasping mass. One energetic freshman, undoubtedly aware of the power of Stine's Ethics carried Roaring Russ to the pressbox atop of the Student Center from which vantage point Dr. Stine could hold a Christian's World view of all the excitement. Another sorrowful sight was witnessed when Dean Sherwood R. Mercer was seen carrying a small bundle of something black away from the crowd beneath his arm.

A WEEKLY reporter (always on the spot for news) approached the Dean and asked him, in true reporter's style, "Hey Dean, whatcha got, huh?" The Dean, with a smile on his face and a tear in his eye retorted, "From now on you will refer to Jackie as Blackie. You see he got too close to the drilling and the spark which jumped the gap twist dog and that" pointing to the wealth of oil "set off this awesome spectacle."

Dr. David K. Spelt (K is not for Kinsey) was leaning on one knee and looking like Al Jolson about to sing "Mammy" whispered "I must find out what type of Mass Hallucinations Freud would call this."

Prexy Lybrand, President of Student Council, looked at the

Stine And Hepner Rake In Chips As Students Fight For Chapel Slips

The Muhlenberg community was shocked to day when authorities seized "Hot Money Hepner," internationally known counterfeiter, in his headquarters in the Ad. Building men's room. Seized with Hepner was his accomplice "Squealer Stine," and a large supply of counterfeit chapel slips, which the two had been printing on a stolen mimeograph machine.

Long known as shady characters in the underworld, Hepner and Stine have been posing as religion instructors at Muhlenberg for the past few years.

Police were tipped off on the operation when Squealer Stine rattled, after Hepner took away Stine's Adler Elevator shoes.

"This was my best racket since they kicked me off of the board of trustees," exclaimed Hepner as police led him away.

Hepner and Stine were the brains behind a gang of counterfeiters that have been flooding the

From Where I Sit

Sometime ago I spent a short three minutes with you speaking about "The goal of our common educational experience, the examination period." When we speak of a common examination period we must keep in mind that usually they are very uncommon. So much so in fact that many students realize the questions asked in any final examination have rarely been discussed in class. Let that not be a hindrance to the diligent worker. The diligent worker realizes that to gain success in later life he must apply himself to continual hard labor. Witness the fine scholastic efforts of our mathematics men who nightly apply themselves to a difficult problem in "The Elements of Chance" over a smoky poker table. Witness, too, the hard working Abnormal Psychology men (A goodly number of them are abnormal) who carry on difficult research in the local bars collecting data. All of this toil will culminate in a grade, one single little letter but a mark upon which we place a false emphasis.

The grade at Muhlenberg is by no means everything, it is just final. The most important thing you need, to gain success in your college career, is that old fighting spirit. That is what you should place your emphasis upon, not the resulting grades. If your instructor won't give you an A (false emphasis) be aggressive (true emphasis), take him by the hand, quietly lead him to a pub and fill him with champagne. If, then, he still refuses to give you a decent false emphasis, launch him with the empty bottle.

I leave you with a few parting words of wisdom, "Always treasure your college diploma when and if you graduate and remember it is given on the basis of your record while at Muhlenberg. It carries with it the same false emphasis."

S.A.M. (the pants man)

Dr. Swink Interprets . . . .

(Note: Here is another in a series of irrepressible articles on world affairs by Dr. J. Elmer Swink, comic book writer and head of Yahoo Kindergarten's department of sand castle construction.)

Timbuktu: World Center

The international scene shifts with such speed today that what looks like a mole hill today might very well turn out to a short cut to China, and so on ad nauseam. A hasty review of the past few thousand years makes one dizzy trying to imagine all the changes in diapers that have taken place. Timbuktu, a few years ago a distant city somewhere in Africa, is now being moved to California. One might well be perplexed at such gangs on. I am.

Project to Save Science

The thousands of skilled laborers, such as shepherds and water carriers, that Timbuktu will supply to American economy might well tend to alleviate the unfortunate situation in the scientific instruments industry. Up to now, it has been impossible to determine how much water goes over the dam between the times that old friends meet. But with the thousands of Timbuktuian water-carriers to transport the water to laboratories for measurement, this problem will be solved.

Boon to Business

The shepherds will doubtless find immediate employment with jaded businessmen who are too tired to count their own sheep. In addition, Timbuktu itself will prosper as a marvelous movie set. Knocking down the walls and buildings of this ancient city should provide many a thrill for theater-goers.

Ghoul Drools In Whirlpool Trying To Regain Lost Youth

Local Ponce de Leon May Go To Florida If New Fountain of Youth Fails to Restore Lost Powers

Dr. "Steeping" Tom Weaver arranges his ducks into a symmetrical pattern around the edge of his whirlpool with his right hand and holds a daffodil, symbol of the Youth he is trying to regain, in his left hand. His nurses, Heavy LaKistler, and Slippery Minnow, are not in the picture, but are watching the hair on Weaver's manly chest curl counter-clockwise as a result of the crock of penicillin he emptied into the cauldron for rejuvenating purposes.

"x+++( )?&" Course Offered To Cussing - Seeking Students

The English Department will offer a six credit course in the Profanities, to help correct the monotonous, trite, and ineffective use of swearing on Muhlenberg campus. The ability to curse is a valuable asset, not only in school but in later life.

The art of swearing is obviously a necessity for proper self expression, since a well-uttered oath gives a favorable impression to parents, teachers, and friends as well as business contacts. The oaths used by freshmen are evidence of the need of a special course. According to Mr. Mohn, the young men know some of the words, but are unable to use them in proper sequence or with any sort of rhythm. Mr. Mohn, who will teach the course, (except for a section for pre-theos to be taught by Mr. Hagelman) said, "The ability to swear is a sign of culture in both men and women. Profanity is a true art, and proficiency can be acquired only by study and constant practice."

The need for a knowledge of the art of swearing is stressed by both Mr. John Wagner and Dr. Steinhauer. Mr. Wagner, who has charge of the Placement Service, will vouch for the fact that many prominent firms insist upon profane representatives. Dr. Steinhauer has continually stressed the importance in class-room technique of the cursing of students by the teacher.

If the demand warrants it, Drs. Corbiere, Wood, Hasenauer, will offer courses in French, German, and Spanish swearing, and perhaps even a course in Japanese profanity, conducted by Dr. Hepner.

In the meantime, the students should practice this little known art. Three elementary rules given by Mr. Mohn are: Don't Be Nasal, Enunciate Clearly, Be Proficient. Continued practice on the part of the students will better prepare them for the course.

Why Say It . . .

by Judas Madrad

The decision of the trustees to make Muhlenberg Coed solved the copy problems of WHY SAY IT? Ever since the first busty beauties set foot on our hallowed soil, we found them to be at best, a raucus lot. Just look, already, vot ve dug oop on dem in vun week.

We like 'em big: A liberty hall co-ed, weighing in at close to 300 pounds, walked into Hess brothers on her first shopping tour. She was greeted by one of the male clerks with the usual, "May I wait on you?" To which she replied, "I'd like to see a night gown to fit me."

The clerk eyed her curiously for a moment, then seemingly embarrassed to the tips of his wooden shoes, replied, "Well, to be honest, lady, so would I."

While listening in at the Key-hole at East Hall girls dorm, we heard two of the coeds chatting. One had just come from home and was telling the other about her Aunt Mary (of Scotch descent) who called her to her bedside. "I'm dying, dear. Now, I want to be buried in that black velvet gown. First, though, you take a pair of scissors and remove the entire back of the dress. Use it for something for yourself."

"But Aunt Mary!" exclaimed the shocked Muhlenbergess,

"Won't you feel badly with others staring at you when you walk the golden stairs with Uncle?"

"No dear," gasped the Aunt with her dying breath. "I guess the others will be too busy looking at your Uncle to notice me much. You see, I buried him without his pants."

Then there's the item we picked up about that luscious young thing, Amanda Schtunk, who lives in South Hall. She breezed into a nearby florist shop and looked around the shelves for something she wanted.

Then she saw an old chap put-tering around a plant in the corner, and went over to him.

"Have you any passion poppy?" she inquired.

The old Dutchman looked up in surprise.

"Beejeebers," he exclaimed. "Just you wait till I get through pruning dis lily!"

We got this one right from the horse's mouth—from a transfer from Cedar Crest who, after spending two hectic weeks here and, after taking a Timberlake exam, went to an exceedingly scientific hospital to undergo a thorough examination. The first physician said, "Let me see your tongue." Another came in and demanded, "Let me see your eyes." Still another: "Let me feel your pulse." Before she was finished, a dozen doctors had examined her. Finally, the coed became greatly disturbed. Then a wizened up little fellow walked in with overalls on, a bucket of water, a brush and some rags in his hand.

"My goodness," said the frightened co-ed. "What are you going to do?"

He answered: "I'm going to wash your transom."

The same salesman we mentioned before encountered a 'Berg coed and asked, "Could I sell you some pajamas?" The lady shopper responded, "No, I don't wear them." Beaming and rubbing his hands, the salesman countered with: "My name is Hardwick, Bob Hardwick."

Remember, he who laughs last has found a dirty meaning.

GOLD BRICKS

Dear Editor:

I think it's high time we gave added recognition to Mr. Andrew H. Erskine for his outstanding contribution to the college theatre at Muhlenberg. As director of the Mask and Dagger he has consistently produced the best of plays and created memorable characters from student hams. I realize Mr. Erskine is too modest to take a stage curtain call. Therefore, I propose that the responsible members of the Mask and Dagger Society find some means to formally recognize this great director.

Respectfully submitted,

In the past year MADEMOISELLE has received requests from many college and university undergraduate newspapers for fashion information, pictures and predictions.

We have been very glad to help the college press, as we often make this kind of information available to national newspapers.

As a result of these requests, it has occurred to us that if enough of the more important college papers can use a fashion from MADEMOISELLE, we might prepare one at regular intervals, free of charge.

Won't you please tell us how you feel on the subject?

George Lawson announced this morning that the Athletic Council has decided to shift all baseball and track contests from the College campus. This shift would be in keeping with the College policy of being Simon pure and holding no athletic events on the campus.

BELOW ... THE BELT

by Slob Nudnick

Benny Borgmann, now enjoying the confines of sunny Florida sends his regards to all his play fellows here in Allentown. Mr. Borgmann has sent three dozen crates of oranges to be stored down in the vault in the sub-cellar of the Administration Building along with the money and moths already there. Benny feels that oranges are an integral part of a successful season and serves to keep the players "peppy."

Spring football practice is in full bloom, with the players in vigorous training for their key test against Lebanon Valley. Muhlenberg officials, in an attempt to protect their interests, have written several letters to the N.C.A.A., in regards to Lebanon Valley's conscripting big time football stars.

Howard Baughman is keeping busy these days, what with spring practice underway already. In addition to this chore, Mr. Baughman is acting as a special tutor in Biology, Physics, Quantitative Analysis and Corporation Finance, so that he will be assured of fielding eleven men by the opening of the season in September.

Bull Ritter, Intramural czar who is famous for his complicated schedules and point systems for two team competition, has devised a new calendar which greatly exceeds in complexity any others ever produced. Bull assured this reporter that for a proper understanding of his new charts, it is advisable to carry logarithm tables, a copy of Who's Who, and a new Police Gazette. (This course is open only to Juniors and Seniors majoring in nothing).

The graduates of this year's basketball team are thanking everyone for the happy days spent in the Cardinal and Grey uniform. Particularly exuberant in praise was Marv Jaffe, who made it a point to praise the sporty Rockne Hall fans for the kind hospitality shown him during his first three years of competition.

Coach Baughman has extended this reporter a cordial invitation to assist him as varsity grid coach, on the basis of all the Grade A constructive criticism given him last September. I surrender. Draw up the peace pact.

Two Platoon "9"; "M" Letter Out

Lou Cardinal, College baseball mentor, is about to make baseball history. Having heard so much about two platoon systems and offensive-defensive teams, he's been experimenting with the system for the past two weeks. Coach Cardinal informs us that the system has its advantages, but the school will have to co-operate to the limit so that he can fully develop this revolutionary idea.

The Council was of the opinion that it was utter foolishness to save the rent used in order to acquire adequate facilities. It was pointed out by one council member, Mr. Lawson said, that by building its own field house the College would lose the title it has held for the past several seasons as "America's Number 1 College Renter."

The Council felt that since football, basketball and tennis are not held on campus there is no need for any sport here. There is also a move within Council to do away with soccer on the campus.

Cardinal's baseball team will play its contests in the driveway of the Hotel Traylor. The council was agreed that this would be a suitable place since Hoss Lough may return as assistant and this new site would spare Hoss the trouble of picking pebbles from the playing area.

First Cardinal of Year Seen
Lou Cardinal when contacted about the change, said that he thought the change would not hamper his club. In the past, Lou pointed out that he heard the grass was always so high that it hindered the players and this would be eliminated in front of the Traylor.

The track squad will use the Center Square area for its inter-collegiate competition. The boys will run around the monument. Lawson pointed out that the shift in the track site was necessary because of the coal shortage during the past winter and the College did not have enough cinders to resurface the track. Ernie Fellows did not approve of the shift since the man running the two-mile will have to run around the monument 18,107 1/4 times. Ernie did not believe he had any men who could stand extra dizziness. Ernie said that he could not stand the run around he has been given by the Council.

Hunters All 'Shot-Up' In Getting 'Skins' In Jungleholes of Crest

The "Sporting Big Game Hunters Association of Muhlenberg College," better known to 'Berg students as "Jungle Jim's troops," has just returned from its annual safari into the darkest and deepest hell-hole on earth, the jungle of Cedar Crest. The expedition was outfitted with the barest essentials and armed with the best in firearms, ranging in caliber and size from .22 bore pistols for birds, to guns resembling cannons in size and action for the larger beasts.

Five Push On

Led by L'Squeezer Liljeroot, the expedition consisted of five of Muhlenberg's finest hunters, L'Squeezer, Mauler Mohn, Kareser Kendig, Digger Deck, and Trigger Traill. The men were instructed by their coach, the eminent Doctor Canon Hepner, to beware of pits and holes—covered by jungle brush for camouflage. But the sportsmen were not worried as they told their mentor that they could pull out of any dangerous situation. Even so, Hepner gave his proteges gun cases to keep their powder dry.

L'Squeezer Liljeroot sighted the first quarry, a beautiful, sleeky, well-groomed panther. Liljeroot began immediate pursuit, using all of his famed tracking tactics. Unfortunately, during the chase L'Squeezer shot up all of his ammunition, but undaunted he pounced upon the creature. In the life and death struggle that followed, Liljeroot overcame his foe and by the sighs heard from the undergrowth, another panther had been tamed.

Mohn Beats Bush

After L'Squeezer Liljeroot had bounded after his quarry, the other four hunters had kept backing their way through the thickets when a lithesome, come-hither type tiger strutted across their path. Mauler Mohn accepted the challenge and plunged after the creature, shouting to his companions that "this is my meat" as with his hands he mauled his way through the brush.

It wasn't too long after that that Trigger Traill caught a glimpse of a ferocious, powerfully built lynx which slinked along in perfect rhythm to the pounding beat of Trig's heart. Traill drew to within range of the lynx, but just as he brought his rifle into range, his trigger jammed. The cat, enraged, attacked the helpless sports-

CCNY Cagers Transfer To 'Berg for 'Peanuts'

In an exclusive interview with Mr. George Lawson, athletic director, it was disclosed that City College of New York's highly touted sophomores are on their way to 'Berg and not just to engage the Muhlenberg varsity in a basketball contest. Using masterful strategy and bargaining, Mr. Lawson has persuaded the National Invitation Tournament champs and N.C.A.A. title-holders to transfer to Muhlenberg.

George Goes Down

Wearing dark glasses and a Cardinal and Grey Varsity "M" sweater, Mr. Lawson appeared before the C.C.N.Y. coach and squad. In a half choking manner he stated: "Nat, old boy, you've gained national prominence for yourself, your team and school. You've reached the top and most of your boys still have two years to go. I know your one ambition in life

"One Big Helluva Fire To Watch" Yells "Lev" Counting Insurance

Muhlenberg's spacious new field house burned to the ground early this morning in one of the best fires to hit the campus since the old shed house burned.

The fire was first reported at 3:00 a.m., but no firemen reported since Dave Alloway, who first saw the blaze though he was seeing "pink field houses." However, Dave was not alone in thinking it was a mirage because the word spread like wild fire and the whole student body stared in awe as they saw their dream go up in smoke.

Dr. Tyson, summoned from his home, ran over to the sight of the fire yelling with joy "I never thought I'd see this happen." The CALL reporter on the scene said that he heard that the field house was purposely burned down so that the College could collect the insurance to build a newer more modern sports emporium.

Team Loses Supporters
The entire athletic equipment of the College was lost in the blaze. The burned articles included all 12 football and all 12 basketball uniforms. However, the College officials were not worried; they could always borrow equipment from a local high school until the College's ship came in.

The reporter covering this blaze said that some of the students reported that Tom Triplett's Freshman team was getting in some practice in anticipation of next year's court campaign and that the Frosh were so hot they gave off sparks which caused the fire.

Tennis Flash . . . .

Muhlenberg's tennis team smashed out a victory over the Crest net women in a love match. Only singles were played due to worn-out balls and split racquets. The Mules unerring placements, flawless stroking, and superior baseline tactics, coupled with bullet-like shots down the middle, mixed with service aces, beat the Crest racqueteers down on the grass-courts.

After the match the Crest squad planned to turn professional and play for pay.

Blorp Breaks 'Block'; Benny Blames Board

Benny has lost many players through scholastic difficulties, others through personal forfeit, but his latest jolt has left him utterly speechless.

Rumors Are Flying

The story begins last September when rumors blew north about an eight foot six inch gook who was running rampant on the basketball courts in the Ozark mountains.

A scout hitch hiked to Ozark and back, returning with stories that would make Paul Bunyan's hair curl. Borgmann swooned. George Lawson swooned. Lawson gave the green light. The proposed field house was mortgaged, and the financial desires of Oswald Blorp were met. Young Blorp was now a student of Muhlenberg College.

was to win the National Invitation and you've seen your ambition materialize.

Dusting off his trousers at the knees Mr. Lawson waited for the answer.

Superior Superior?

"Well, George, as a man and coach who loves the game of basketball, I'd like to help you for our players would like to make that trip to Allentown every year, because that Superior serves good meals, but would the boys really want to transfer? After all, George, here they get room, board, free tickets to the Metropolitan Opera and all Broadway hits, five dollars for every foul shot they make and two dollars for every field goal, and besides that, a B.A. (Basketball Artist) degree."

Mr. Lawson pondered a moment and finally asked Nat if he could talk to the players. Nat introduced him and immediately they went into a huddle. About fifteen minutes later Mr. Lawson emerged from the huddle minus his dark glasses and Varsity "M" sweater but his face wore the smile of a television salesman.

George Gets Up

"Nat, the boys drove a rough bargain, but I believe we can meet their askings. The contract reads: We, the former basketball players of City College of New York, do hereby make known our willingness to transfer from the forementioned institution to Muhlenberg College with the stipulation that the following conditions will be approved and enacted:

1. Half the receipts at home and away games will be placed at our disposal.

2. Private room with bath and television set in the new East Hall extension for each player.

3. A modern $30,000 home and practice floor in Allentown within half mile diameter of the college (so we can go home for lunch and save the school some money).

4. Each player to enroll as a student under the four year plan for athletes (three years of varsity ball and one year of scholastic qualifications)

One-man Welcoming Committee

Sparing no expense to provide next year's freshmen with the biggest, gaudiest college handbook in the United States, Dr. Kendig moved this week to do away with the old-fashioned custom of having a student-editor for the "M"-Book. Henry Luce, presently the editor of three smaller publications, "Life," "Time," and "Fortune," is expected to accept the editorship of the "M"-Book. "If the bourbon in my apartment holds out, I expect to have Mr. Luce signed for the job by 4:00 p.m. today," Dr. Kendig asserted this morning.

Kendig Succumbs to Attack

Kaesser Kendig stalked the lion for hours and hours. The proud and haughty ruler, the sophisticated and cold, shrugged off Kendig's advances with utter disdain. Kendig tried a new tactic of coming from behind, and fondling the creature's beautiful mane. This aroused the lion's passions as its aloofness turned out to be but a sham, and after the big cat had gotten through with Kaesser Kendig, he was in shambles.

Benny Shows The Way

Borgmann quickly orientated Oswald to the role of a civilized human being. Bare feet and stogie smoking were out. Oswald's tub of corn liquor was taken away too.

Benny set his first practice date. He was happy that he would have the services of a big man, so great a necessity in present day basketball.

The joy was short lived. On the first offensive maneuver, Big Blup came driving in for a lay-up, and in so doing, failed to see the hard iron-rimmed hoop.

The athletic committee was called into consultation over the unexpected happening. The board, bills. They felt that their athletic funds were too depleted to spend any more. Wasn't it enough that a new basketball rim was needed?

have to play nine new men every half inning. One of his greatest hopes is that none of the games will go into extra innings. When asked about the advantages of the system Coach Cardinal stated:

"Although the College will have to finance much baseball equipment, they can make it up, because no one will have enough innings to have earned a letter or sweater. Furthermore, there'll be more jobs for bus drivers; and more students will be given a chance to play."

campus with fake chapel slips during recent months. When caught, they were planning a set up to turn out fake one dollar bills. "Everybody else is making money around here, so why shouldn't we?" they said.

When, after a tour of local pool-rooms, college officials were finally reached, they showed much concern over the incident. "We'll certainly have a hard time finding someone just like Hepner," stated President Tyson.

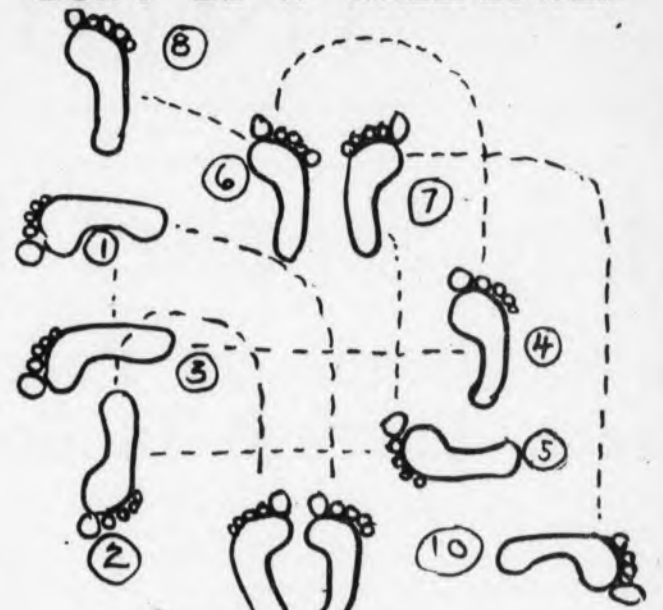

Rumor has it that Won Hong Lo, local chinese laundry operator, has applied for Hepner's position as teacher of oriental history at the college.

Give Me Your Wretched Body for 15 Min.

One day mother threw me out with the garbage.

But since practicing Dynamic Stenchin I can now throw out mother.

If you, like Hatlass, have a body that others can "knock around" — if you're ashamed to strip for sports, swimming, or anything — then give me just 15 minutes a day.

You'll really be strong following my advice. Practice in the privacy of your room, develop your armpits, grow super-fluous hair, get sledge hammer fists, a battering ram head, bull dozer ears, a vice-like grip. Thousands have used my method of "Dynamic Stenchin."

Major Roy Carlson, U. of Iowa, Training Executive, U.S. Air Force!

Born in Red Oak, Iowa, Roy graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School at Council Bluffs. He was ready to enter the University when war changed his mind.

He went to work at Consolidated Vultee in San Diego, building PBV's and B-24's. But it wasn't long until he had put in his application for Aviation Cadet training.

Cadet Carlson won his wings in April, 1943, was assigned to P-47 "Thunderbolts" with the 368th Fighter Group in England, to break ground for the Normandy invasion.

Roy completed 125 combat missions, leading many of them, supporting the invasion and the advances into Germany. Won Air Medal, D.F.C., many other decorations. Promoted to Captain, then to Major.

Back home, he married the lovely Army nurse from Lowell, Massachusetts, whom he had met at Cannes, France. After the honeymoon, he returned to finish his studies at the University of Iowa.

Major Carlson is now Chief of Operations, 2471st Air Force Reserve Training Center, at O'Hare International Airport, near Chicago. Has two husky sons, a fine job, a great career still ahead of him!

M & D Stars New Faces In Zany Comedy Show

Annual Spring Production Features Eleven New Thespians In 1936 Kaufman-Hart Laugh Success

The madcap Sycamore family, who has been bringing laughter to the American stage and screen for the past thirteen years will appear on the Campus Little Theatre stage the night of April 27, 28, and 29. This unique family whose philosophy on life is full of rich American humor will carry on their antics when the Mask and Dagger's production of "You Can't Take It With You" heralds in the spring.

"You Can't Take It With You," written by two of America's most well-known playwrights Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, opened in the Booth Theatre, New York on December 14, 1936, where it played for 873 consecutive performances and won the Pulitzer Prize for its first season.

Six New Actresses Appear

This will be the first appearance on the Muhlenberg stage for eleven of the sixteen members of the cast. Six of the seven female roles are newcomers. Only Marcella Hilbert, remembered from last Spring's production of Golden Boy, is familiar to the campus theatre goers. Among the new feminine faces will be Florence McHale, who will play Penny, the mother, writer, and painter. She is a native of Girardville, Pa., and is at present a nurse at the Sacred Heart Hospital. Miss McHale's dramatic efforts prior to this have been confined to the high school stage and more recently as a dancer with the Municipal Opera Company.

One Feminine Player Married

The only married feminine member of the cast is Jane Claire Cundy who will take on the role of Essie, an aspirant dancing student. Mrs. Cundy, a dancing instructor off the stage, has been active both in the Civic Little Theatre and the Municipal Opera Company.

In the role of the Grand Duchess Olga Katrina will be Alice Smith, a former student at Rollins College. Miss Smith has obtained experience on both the high school and college stages.

Not to be left out of the new array of feminine stars to the campus stage is Marian Fekety, who will play the role of Rheba, the colored maid. Miss Fekety, a graduate of Sacred Heart Hospital, comes from Northampton and is at present a Public Health Nurse with the Lehigh County Public Health Service.

Among the new faces drawn from campus talent will be Evan Krantzley, who takes on the romantic role of Tony Kirby, suitor of Alice Sycamore (Marcella Hilbert).

Cast Ready For M & D Comedy

Marcella Hilbert and Evan Krantzley enhance the romantic action of the Mask and Dagger's production of "You Can't Take It With You." The large cast is putting finishing touches on the Kaufman-Hart Broadway play.

Staff Promises Arcade Release By April 18-19

Editors Offer Double Issue Of Stories, Poetry, Art Work

Thomas Cole, editor of The ARCADE, stated recently that the printer has announced that the Spring, 1950, edition of the magazine will be delivered on either April 18 or 19.

This will be the only edition of the ARCADE for the 1949-1950 school year. Mr. Cole and his staff of editors refrained from publishing an issue last fall because of the lack of suitable material for publication. However, in order to compensate for the missed edition, this new issue will be larger than usual, and will be considered as a double number.

The ARCADE's editorial board includes Wallace Stefany, Richard Dorfman, John Hedderick, and Richard Swavely. Messrs. Earl Mohn and Joseph Cantieni serve as faculty and art advisers respectively. The student art editor is Martin Weisman.

The coming issue of this campus literary magazine will contain

Student Scores High

Wilmer Sanders, who achieved the highest grade in the German Graduate Record Examination, hails from Lyons Station, Pa.

Sanders Excells In German Test

Senior Makes Unusual Score on Record Exam

A Muhlenberg student has hit the top of the meter on the German test of the Graduate Record Examination. Wilmer Sanders turned in the mark of 810 which is one of the highest marks ever scored in this test and the highest ever on the Muhlenberg campus.

According to Mr. George Frounfelker, director of Muhlenberg's Testing Bureau, Sanders' score stands above that of 99.8% of the students which take the test. It does not take a slide rule to figure out that this means that only two out of every 1000 men who take this test ever approach Sanders' phenomenal score.

Anticipates Teaching German

Sanders, a senior who hails from Lyons Station, Pa., plans to take a teaching assistantship at the University of Indiana after graduation. His ultimate goal is to teach German in college. However, he says that he wants to get his doctorate before he enters teaching on a full time basis.

Kenton Group Plans Allentown Concert

"Modern Music Innovations" Offers Forty-Piece Company

Local devotees of modern music will be in for a thrill when Stan Kenton, generally accepted to be one of music's most powerful forces, presents his "Innovations In Modern Music For 1950" at the Allentown High School auditorium, on Tuesday evening, April 18.

Sets Pace For Modern Music

In less than a decade, Kenton, who was an obscure piano player in the Los Angeles area before he formed his original band in the early forties, has grown to a point where not only the entire business but many of the followers of modern music look to him as a pacesetter in his field.

After having been in temporary retirement for over a year, Stan recently announced his plans to re-enter the field of music with an unprecedented orchestra of forty men including string and woodwinds. This new venture calls for a nationwide concert tour for three

Spanish Club Plans Outing, Closing Fete

The Spanish Club headed by James Perez met Monday evening, March 20, 1950, at the West Hall Reception Room. Professor Charles E. Mowry, adviser for the club, led the group in informal discussion, which was followed by a songfest of Spanish and Latin American songs.

The organization, ending its second year, has had many activities in the past such as musical programs, guest speakers, and last semester a Spanish travelogue was shown, named "Un Viaje Por Mexico."

A meeting will be held Monday, April 17, 1950, at the residence of Dr. Anthony S. Corbiere, head of the department of romance languages at Muhlenberg. An outing is being planned for May, and will probably become an annual affair after this year, and a farewell dinner will terminate the social activities for the 1949-1950 school year.

ODK Taps Eighteen Leaders In Impressive Chapel Ceremony

Tyson Addresses Congregation Before Investiture Of Outstanding Men Of Various Campus Activities

Muhlenberg's eighteen leaders who were elected into Alpha Epsilon Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, national activities fraternity, pose for a portrait after tapping in Chapel Services.

Seventeen students and one faculty member were formally initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary activity fraternity, at a ceremony in the College chapel, Wednesday, April 12.

Eight seniors, nine juniors, and Mr. William Kinter, instructor in the English department, comprise the group of initiates who were selected at a special tapping ceremony during chapel service Tuesday morning April 11. The seniors are Warren Burns, Paul Frick, David Hoh, Paul Howells, Herman Michels, William Palmer Murray Stahl, and George Sutton. Juniors elected were Jerry Albert, William Baker, Marvin Berger, Jack Kaelberer, David Long, Donald Markley, John Phillips, Walter Schray, and John Stadlander.

Purpose of Fraternity Explained

Dr. Tyson delivered a short message during the Chapel service explaining the purposes of O.D.K. and congratulating the new members on their achievements. He emphasized to the student body the great personal gains that come to students through worthwhile service in campus activities.

Each year Omicron Delta Kappa elects a group of campus leaders to membership on the basis of eminence in scholarship, athletics, campus life, literary and forensic attainments, and college publications. The national organization which was founded at Washington and Lee University in 1914 has at present some 68 chapters throughout the United States.

The fraternity has a three-fold purpose (1) to recognize men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in college activities and to inspire others to strive for conspicuous attainments along similar lines; (2) to bring together the most representative men in all

'Berg Sends Twenty To ICG Convention

At the annual convention of the Intercollegiate Council on Government to be held in Harrisburg from April 13 through 16, the Honorable James H. Duff, Governor of Pennsylvania, will present the major address.

There will be two hundred students from the northwestern region at this sixteenth convention of I. C. G. Muhlenberg, a member for the past three years, plans to send twenty delegates to the conclave.

During the recent convention at Muhlenberg, the regional conference endorsed David N. Alloway, their regional director of the conference, for the speakership of the Harrisburg convention. He was the chairman of the Rules Committee at last year's convention. Alloway and Mr. Hollister, faculty adviser, are also on the State Executive Committee.

Will Draft Constitution

The main purpose of this convention is to draft a model state constitution that will be written in broad, general terms, one which will be easier to amend and revise.

Since the present Pennsylvania Constitution has not been revised for approximately sixty-five years, there are many present day needs and situations that are not directly covered by the constitution.

The delegates will take over approximately one-third of the Hotel Harrisburger for the four-day convention. The meetings will be held in the Department of Education Building, the Hotel Penn Harris, and the State Capitol Building.

AKA Men Take Part In National Confab

Stine Heads Delegation To Capitol Philosophy Meeting

On Saturday, April 1, 1950, the national convention of Alpha Kappa Alpha, national philosophical fraternity convened at the Harrisburg Hotel in Harrisburg, Pa. Approximately forty members representing the fraternity's nine chapters were present.

The morning session of the convention was spent in reading and discussing student papers by Egil Grisliis, a Lithuanian student at Gettysburg, and Edward Ripley, a member of the Lafayette chapter. The subjects of these papers were, "Nicolas Berdyaev's Theory of Freedom," and "Naturalistic Theology and the Human Spirit."

The national president of AKA, Dr. Sheldon A. Ackley of Gettysburg, spoke on "The Philosopher and His Tools" at the luncheon meeting.

At the afternoon business session such matters as the adoption

MCA Stresses Theme, 'Invest Your Summer'

"Invest Your Summer" is the theme which has been chosen by a special MCA committee which has been working for the past several weeks in order to call attention to the wide variety of summer vocational positions available to students who are interested in getting more than money out of a summer job. This committee is working in affiliation with the YMCA, YWCA, the Christian Youth Movement, and various religious denominations in order to provide summer employment for students who are undecided as to a vacation time job.

Experience Gained Is Valuable

All types of positions are available in many places of the world. The actual salary might not be too great. However, the amount earned cannot be compared with the value of the experienced gained.

Interested men are requested to see Dick Manzelman and Paul Bosch in East Hall, Dave Hoh in West Hall, Paul Frick at the ATO House, or Frank Snow for further details. The committee has posted descriptive matter in the Student Center lounge.

Council Sets Dates For Class Elections

Posts Nomination, Election Dates For Student Council

Student Council recently announced the dates for nominations and elections of Student Council men and class officers.

Student Council nominations were held this morning in the Science auditorium. All juniors in good standing are eligible for election. Elections for Council will be held on Thursday, April 27.

On May 1, 1950 elections for Student Council officers will be held.

The respective classes will nominate their candidates for class offices at class meetings on Thursday, May 11. On May 15, class officers for the ensuing semester will be chosen. Class presidents are automatically members on Student Council.

Phi Sigs Admit Nine To Circle

Upsilon Triton Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa recently initiated nine new members, formally pledged four men, and elected spring term officers.

Five of the initiates, Art Altman, Ed Berdick, Jack Davis, George Eichler, and Bob Ranieri, are the first freshmen to be initiated in Muhlenberg's newest social fraternity. The remaining four are Drexel Bradley '49, Adolph Koenig '51, Dick Thomas '52 and Bowling Wills.

The formal pledging of four new men to Phi Sigma Kappa took place on April 3, 1950. The new pledges are Frank Ewan '52, Steve Hajdinyak '53, John Fritz '53, and John Ziegler '53.

On April 4, 1950, the officers for the remainder of the current term were elected. All six incumbents were reelected. They are: Paul Weis, president; Bob Bieber, vice president; Heber Graver, secretary; Al Polick, treasurer; Jim Early, inductor; and Rex Green, sentinel.

The sophomore class is well represented in the official capacities for P.S.K. Polick, Early, Green, and Graver are all members of the class of 1952. The other two men, Weis and Bieber are seniors.

The Conflict of Tests Remains as Problem Requiring Student and Faculty Cooperation

Attempts have been made during recent semesters to resolve the chronic problem of the test conflicts that constantly harass the students. One remedy advocated and accepted by many of the departments was that of scheduling quizzes at the beginning of a course when the assignment plan was laid out. That system was succeeded to the degree that it has placed the requirements of a course squarely before a student at the start. It has also given instructors a better aid to the budgeting of their equally valuable hours.

But the larger problem of how to prevent tests being solidly grouped in the sixth week of the semester is still to be solved. Reports of two, three, and four tests in one week are not uncommon about this time, and one student, certainly an extreme example but nevertheless a case in point, was lately heard bemoaning his fate of seven examinations in five successive school days.

The situation is admittedly fraught with as many complications as there are students and faculty members on campus. We do not contest or try to minimize the difficulties involved. We only ask for a further consideration of one facet of college life that has become particularly disconcerting in many instances, too many tests in all subjects being packed into one or two murderous weeks. M.S.

From Where I Sit

Students Criticize Inflexible Selection of Men Nominated for "Who's Who" Honors

There has been some concern about, and not a little criticism of, the recent selection of men for "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." The method of selection used this year was the same as that used previously. Early in the Fall Term the department heads and administrative staff were asked to nominate men for the honor. These nominations, in turn, were reviewed by a committee which made the final selection.

In the constantly changing situation which is inherent in a college, it is not unusual for results of varying degrees of acceptability to come from a standard procedure. It may be necessary, however, for us to alter our method. I make the following suggestions all of which fall within the rubrics established by the publisher who sponsors the citation; a) that we request all faculty and staff members to nominate; b) that we request Student Council to nominate ten men not among their own membership; and c) that we increase the membership of the final committee on selection to include representative faculty or staff members who are familiar with a variety of special fields of activity on campus.

Perhaps by proceeding in this manner we will be more likely to make a selection which will receive wide endorsement. S.R.M.

Local M.P.'s Do Their Level Best to Catch Embryo Milton Berles in Midnight Capers

by Ed Keller

"Dormitory Council" comes from the Latin word "Dormus" meaning "to sleep," and from the Slobbovian "Councilnik" meaning "to look." The entire title therefore means "to look sleepy." In order to comply with this title, the sleepest looking men in each hall are picked as members of this secret order of police. These men actually do not sleep at all, but stay up each night typing up blacklists and looking for violators of the "unwritten code."

Shafting Accomplished

This group of monitors works very hard to enforce the penal code, and, although slightly hampered by the "kangaroo courts," they manage to shaft their man. For example, several weeks ago in one of the dorms, students heard a shuffling sound in the hall at approximately 2:00 a.m. Immediately the "Brown Shirts" conversed over their inter-room T. V. sets and agreed upon a plan of action. The siren blasted forth and whistles shrilled. Searchlights illuminated the hall, and coke bottles exploded against the walls. Then, out of nowhere, an even dozen dorm councilors charged down the hall, brass knuckles and blackjacks in hand, and finally seized the culprit, who began screaming and muttering meaningless gibberish in an idiotic manner. There was a passing around of credentials, and finally quiet was restored as the chief gendarme shouted, "It's O.K., boys! Lev's been sleepwalking again."

Decide on Plan

The Heterogeneous Juke Box Addicts Make Curious Spectacles for An Alert Reporter

The joker who wrote "music is love in search of a word" apparently never heard Teresa Brewer singing "Put another nickel in," etc. (ad nauseum). On this campus a better definition might be, "Music is a juke box in search of a nickel." Each time a Muhlenberg man hears the seraneous voice crying, "Put another nickel in," he is very quick to oblige, and slips a shekel in, just as the husky voice commands.

Many Diverse Types

All types of students are patrons of the juke box. There is the timid character, who slinks up quietly to the big colorful machine, and furtively gazes about, to make sure no one is watching. Finding that no one is looking, and sighing heavily, he drops the coin into the slot. He makes his decision and tries to sneak away before Frankie Laine's "Satan Wears a Satin Gown" issues forth. He is the Pre-Theo, of course, missionary minded already.

Frankie Laine finished, and a very raucous looking individual stands up. His trousers are a sickening pale green hue, with a crease sharp enough to cut butter and perhaps a two inch peg. He wears a beautiful baby-pink shirt with French cuffs (sapphire links), and Windsor collar. His tie is a yellow knit, tied in a gigantic knot. Jodhpur boots and a duck's tail hair-do complete his dress. He saunters casually to the juke box, and tinkles through his handful of change. A hatted companion yells, "Number six, Joe," another, "Play fourteen, Joe," and still another "Wild Goose, why don't cha." He puts a quantity of his silver into the box, and while he fingers for his choices he makes faces and grimaces at his kibitzing friends. Satisfied that he has attracted enough attention, he returns to his rest. That's how Joe College of 1950 does it.

A Good Time Had

Consequently, for the next fifteen minutes we are entertained by such masterpieces as "Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boy," "12th Street Rag," "If I Knew You Were Coming I'd've Baked a Cake," and "Rag Mop." Everyone seems to be enjoying himself, that is, everyone

Categories Of Muhlenbergus Animalus Finally Revealed

The Animalus Muhlenbergus is a Male (to all intents and purposes) species of Homo Sapiens. This peculiar class of fauna is found only in the vicinity of Muhlenberg College except during the migratory season (months of June, July and August). It was formerly thought that there were many sub varieties. However, intense observation has brought to light the fact that all variations in color markings, hibernation procedures and the like are due to the heterogeneous nature of habitat. Consequently these categories overlap. We shall make and discuss our analysis* on the nine basic types, according to their reaction to environments.

Promises Never Kept

A big-time operatus forever works upon a "deal." Its mouth is extraordinarily large and, when in action, moves with the alacrity of the clapper on a duck's tail. Operatus makes claim on all women from Sandy Rock to Shanghai but in reality its associations with women are limited to the magazine counter at Wickstrom's where it holds the various girly magazines up against the light to look for possible salacious effects. It is forever promising to fix its friends up; it never gets around to it.

The common Key Collectorus is extremely offensive. Its legs traverse the campus with rapid piston-like movements; it rarely gets anything concrete accomplished. It is easily distinguished by the row of shiny gold keys strung on a chain draped across its forelock. Appearance is of paramount importance to it and the semblance of results is much more desirable to it than the results on campus in leech-like fashion. Only the most discerning can see* through its motives. Its picture appears on every page of the yearbook.

Has Limited Associates

The usually obese chow houndus resembles Big-time operatus in that its mouth is large. The difference, however, stems from the fact that in the former, everything goes into the mouth and in the latter, everything comes out. Its tongue is shovel-shaped and to behold its suction action on a bowl of noodle soup is very interesting and wonderful. It is a gourmet, existing only for food and neglecting everything else, even women. Therefore, it travel's almost exclusively with other Chow houndus.

Sack timus's perversion is sleep and it is usually found lying dormant in bed. It can be spotted quickly by its red-streaked eyes and perpetually half closed eyelids. Its friends are prone to call it "Punchy." However, it is harmless, for it never talks back or has its own ideas on a subject. Its mind is always centered between

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

We awoke from a deep dream of peace (compounded of equal parts of allonal and Vat 69) and remembered that a column was shooft due after Easter. (It's DUE all right!) Anyhow, someone who evidently shafts very well, considerably left this little specimen of second class vignette in our basket. It seems that at least one of our rough football players knows whereon the fulcrum lies. One Bob Dikon sneaked over to his friend Reimer's house to borrow a typewriter at 7:00 p.m. They fell to talking about things, and were just giving their favorite instructor another turn on the spit, when they came to the naked realization that it was 10:00 p.m. Heavens to Betsy . . . too late! There was a knock on the door and there stood the Dikon frau . . . come to take her wandering boy home to the fire-side. The two Dikons curled their lips and snarled at each other for an instant, but the male Dikon went. He went! Apropos . . . who but Sir John Suckling could have achieved the leering sensuality of: "SPRING IS VERY MUCH OVERRATED, to those who are already mated."

"Yaks of the world unite!" History class, always a sexy source of info yielded this bit of grist for our mill. The talk was centered around the dearth of justice in this world. Teacher said, "It's a shame our society isn't based more upon 'Them that knows, gets' instead of 'them that KNOWS SOME ONE, gets.'" The ever ready voice from the back of the room rolled these rich syllables on his tongue before muttering aloud, "You're wrong both times, it's 'them that NOSE who gets.'" Unfortunate but true. However, we'll still pick Muhlenberg over U. of Siberia.

Hell . . . oops, pardon us, WORK week always produces something for our jaundiced eye. A courageous Bill France outwitted a clever Dutch farmer a couple of weeks ago. As a kind of penance, his brothers dropped him off in the country and he was expected to wend his way back to Allentown as best he could. Bruised and beaten from the sharp swamp reeds, and from Water Moccasin bites, he staggered into a gas station and asked the aforementioned farmer if he could possibly bum ride in his truck. The farmer took one look at bedraggled France and decided he was too dirty for his truck and spat, "No, you can't." The farmer turned around to pay for his gas and Bill hopped into the truck, pulled a tarp over him and was chauffeured right into Hook's diner!

The scripture lesson for the day is found in our library, where an eager frosh is returning a book: "Gracias," says the frosh to the librarian. He receives no comment. "That means 'thank you' in Spanish," he tries again. She looks at him disdainfully and utters, "I know, I know!" The frosh slinks away. Moral: Flauteh not thine intelligence on one exceedingly brighter than thou. For, as it turneth out, Little Arlene hath a B.S. degree, which is one more degree than the frosh hath.

If every boy could read the mind of every girl in the U. S., gasoline consumption in this country would drop off fifty per cent.

MULE KICKS

New Fraternity Plans

Dear Editor:

After reading the letter in last week's Mule Kicks, concerning a commuters fraternity, I felt that I should offer my opinion on the subject. I agree with the writer of that letter that some kind of commuter's organization should be started on the Muhlenberg campus.

I realize that all too often the commuters are overlooked in regards to campus affairs. Are they not as much a part of the Muhlenberg community, and should they not have as active a part in its functions as we dorm students? As far as I am concerned there is only one possible answer to this question, the answer yes, which will benefit the commuter. Yours truly, An Interested Bystander

TELEPHONE DESIRED

Dear Editor,

The Mule Kick column is my last resort. I've complained and suffered in silence long enough.

There are telephones all over the place around here. Why not a telephone in the Student Center buildings so we wouldn't have to keep getting Scotty Wood's counter boys in trouble by asking them for the use of the Snack Bar's private phone? How about some action, hey?

... Student Council Reports ...

At the regular meeting of Student Council held Thursday, March 23, 1950, the following business was transacted.

Irvin Fry stated that all graduating seniors will be notified about commencement week activities, immediately following the Easter recess.

I.C.G. representatives from Muhlenberg will visit the state capitol at Harrisburg to redraft a model constitution. Their expenses up to a stipulated sum will be covered by the Student Body Fund.

It was suggested that the Library clock's numerals and hands be painted with bright and luminous paint, so that the time can be seen from a reasonable distance.

Murray Stahl, President of Mask and Dagger, presented his new budget with a slight increase to allow for repair of sets and equipment. Student Council approved the new allowance, and these minor repairs should be completed before the spring production, "You Can't Take It With You".

The Sociological Society and Forensic Council Constitutions were voted on and approved.

John Mangini, President of the Junior Class, reported on the Junior Fathers Day to be held Saturday, April 29, 1950. It is to be an all day affair including such activities as the faculty-juniors baseball game, chats with administrative and faculty staffs, and luncheons.

Chaplain Edward Horn informed the Student Council that it is too late in the semester to change the student chapel service from Wednesday at 11:00 a.m. to the same time Tuesday.

YOU NAME IT "ROTES"

Dear Mule Kicks,

I have always wanted to write to the paper to say how much I like to read that wonderful column "You Name It", which is the best thing I ever read anywhere, including the New York papers which sometimes are not very good anyhow, but still they are all right sometimes when they give the truth about people like ones I know even if I do not know anybody in New York so I am going there next year if I can get a job after I graduate but now I read "You Name It" because it is the best thing I have ever read anywhere including the New York papers.

Serious Student

Dr. and Mrs. Tyson have invited all seniors to join them for an informal gathering around the punchbowl at their home. The last of these gatherings take place on Tuesday afternoon, April 20 at 4:30 p.m. All seniors who have not attended are cordially invited to visit with the Tysons at this time.

Punch Lines Poor

Bull slingus's difference from Big-time operatus is that it is aggressive and will go out of its way to corner one and pound the ear off. Corners where one is likely to be trapped should be avoided, for this specimen is offensive and dangerous. It thinks it is amusing but its punch lines go, "CA-RRRUM!"

Brown nosus is also one of the commonest types. Proficient and more experienced Brown nosi often metamorphose into Deans listi. Since this type is rare we shall concern ourselves with Brown nosus, exclusively. It uses its tongue, nose and lips to good advantage. It is always up at the instructor's desk at the sound of the bell, and is always asking stupid questions, for it loves the sound of its own voice. It is a very inconsiderate beast because it often needs to trample down other Brown nosi at the desk, which it does without hesitancy, causing much confusion.

Inextensive Language

Pool sharkus has a round head and a remarkably narrow trunk. Not a very pleasing conversationalist, its vocabulary is limited to the following: Kiss off, combination, stick, one, English and Brother, you must have slept in it last night to sing that shot!

Athletus dumbheadus is a type which varies considerably, as it includes such extremes as the tall thin setshotus and the short, squat linebuckus. It is a blustering, blubbering creature, but to handle it safely, one should pat it on the back so that games will be won, and health kept, and extra tickets obtained.

Commutus commutus resembles Bull slingus in that it talks constantly. Commutus travels for its education. It thinks Muhlenberg is abominable and that it should migrate to Harvard. However, like the Dodo, it cannot fly. (****) in many other places throughout the continental limits of the United States. The main difference between Muhlenbergus and other species is in color markings. Muhlenbergi have as a characteristic of both summer and winter plumage, scarlet and grey letters, sweaters, etc.

He quickly rounded up the several councilors, and they voted upon a plan. They decided that it would be a shame to stop the beautiful music, so they joined in with the singers. Of course this action reached the office of the dormitory chairman, and all of the culprits, including the council members, had their hands there-very thlapped.

All juniors interested in entering the annual Oratorical Contest to be held on April 27, please contact Mr. Erskine in the English Office before April 19.

Any student interested in joining the National Student Association of Muhlenberg College please attend the organizational meeting on Monday, April 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the West Hall Reception Room.

Bethlehem Spanish Will Dance on Friday

On Friday evening, April 21, from 8 until 12, the Spanish group of the Modern Language Club of Moravian College for Women will sponsor a colorful Spanish-American program and dance in observance of Pan-American Day.

All members of student language groups and International Relations Club in this area are invited to attend this affair at Moravian. A knowledge of the Spanish language is not necessary. Anyone who is interested in Pan-American relations is invited to come.

The Senior Class Gift Committee prospectus will be ready for distribution to the commuting students on Friday, April 14 in the Student Center; campus students and fraternity men will receive their copy via student mail. Action on the proposals will be taken at a Senior Class meeting, Thursday, April 20, 11:00 a.m., Science Building, Room 111.

Great Summer Sport For Shirt-Sleeved Spectators

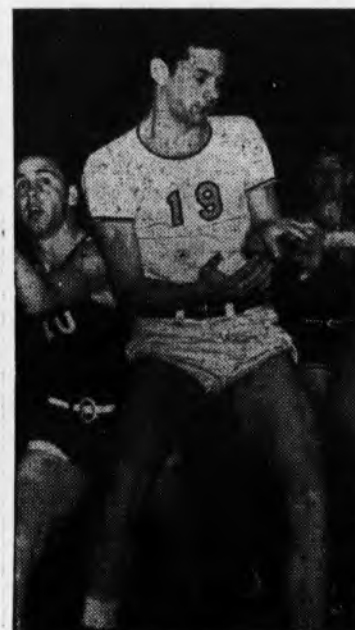

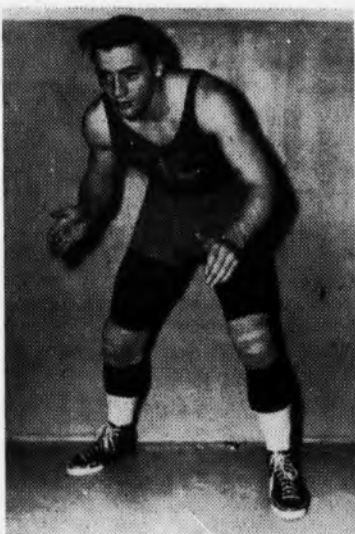

In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of that national craze, Baseball. This is a little informative ditty for those who have as yet not had the pleasure of gaining callus on their dignitaries or swinging a broom handle at a tape pellet.

This so-called game is played by eighteen sadists armed with spike shoes and bats on a field which becomes, after the first rainstorm, a veritable Belgian Bulge. However this is alright since it adds to the fun of the whole messy game.

The first thing that we run across when we enter the park is home plate. Why this hunk of cement is so-called I shall never know since it is no more like the plate from home than the oversized pinball which the monsters of the team toss about. Neither would I care to munch a meal from its dusty surface. Around a plot of ground shaped like a diamond are bags which mark bases one, two and three. In the middle of this galaxy is a mound where one of the players goes through all sorts of contortions before attempting to toss the ball over the home plate.

The spectators sit on very hard wood bleachers which they reach by climbing over extremely narrow catwalks precariously perched on iron rails. This is extremely dangerous since lightfooted concessionaires slip nimbly along the catwalks tossing their hot-dogs, peanuts, and, at the better ball parks, beer to the hungry and thirsty customers. Enough of the Al Saemmer, Danny Mackin and Dick McGee have been named to the Connecticut Campus all-opponent basketball team. The Campus is the University of Connecticut's student publication; and the paper's writers made the all-opponent selections.

Phi Sigma Kappa Wins Fraternity Court Crown

Phi Sigma Kappa defeated Alpha Tau Omega, 46-28, in the finals of the Inter-fraternity basketball tournament, and thus succeeded Sigma Phi Epsilon as new fraternity champs. Shaw led the Phi Sigs with 15 points and, Mills was high for ATO with 14 points.

Although they had to defeat Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Tau Omega in subsequent games, the Phi Sigs, for all intents and purposes, nailed down the Inter-Fraternity basketball championship when they defeated Sigma Phi Epsilon, Intramural champs, by a 49-46 score in a hotly contested, two extra period game in the first round of the Inter-Fraternity tournament.

Sig Eps Put On Late Drive

The Phi Sigs apparently had the game sewed up as they led 38-32 with about two minutes to go, but Sig Eps put on a last second rally which tied the score and sent the game into overtime. The two teams were still knotted after the first five minute extra period, but Bud Cauffman's field goal and foul in the three minute second extra period provided the margin of victory.

In other first round games, A.T.O. eliminated Phi Epsilon Pi, 30-22; and Lambda Chi knocked out Phi Kappa Tau by a 46-25 score.

In the second round, the new champs had little trouble subduing Lambda Chi 33-32, in a rough, low-scoring game. A.T.O. had

Bill Pulley, Herm Michels, Rip Boyer Pace Field

In the opening meet of its 1950 outdoor collegiate track season, Muhlenberg's track team defeated the Scranton Miners by the score of 99-27. Berg won every event except the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes. In these three events, Scranton collected 19 out of a possible 27 points.

Berg had three impressive double winners; Middle Atlantic Champion Bill Pulley won the high hurdles in 0:16.5 and the lows in 0:26.2, sophomore "Rip" Boyer who captured the high jump and broad jump, and Herm Michaels, showing magnificent form, won in the shotput and discus.

Dick Acker turned in an impressive two mile victory, and Capt. Don Albert and Floyd Shupp won the mile and half mile runs respectively.

Betterly was the only double winner for Scranton, winning the hundred yard dash in 0:10.6 and the two twenty yard dashes in 0:23.6.

Baseball Is Great Sport

The game starts when the most unpopular umpire available throws out the ball and shouts, "Play ball." With the appearance of the ump the crowd immediately takes up a cry accusing the poor man of everything from beating his wife to being a son of a female canine in the local pound. The pitcher does a number from the Ballet Rouse and lets the ball fly. The poor gent at the plate, previously having gotten his hands very dirty by rubbing them in the dirt, closes his eyes, holds out the bat and hopes that the ball hits it. This in terms of baseball vernacular is called the bunt, and is one of the ways to get on base, a few others being: stick your head out and get hit by the ball or pray to all the gods that the pitcher is as nearsighted as the snake that tried to mate with a rope and misses the place completely. If the latter solution is used you arrive on base by a process called balls. After attaining first base all you have to do is run when the ball is hit by a team-mate or if you're brave you can take a lead. This latter choice, however, leaves you open as a prospective target for the buck and wing boy on the mound. If the pitcher does level a ball at your head you run to the next base remembering that a moving target is harder to hit.

This offers the onrushing player the opportunity of carving, with his spikes, any initials he so desires in the kneecap or shins of the bag-blocking opponent. When this happens everybody grabs a bat and dashes on to the field. If you are an old time spectator you have saved all your empty beer bottles and can join in the fun by sailing said bottles out onto the field. When this foray simmers down and play is resumed you may be fortunate enough to learn the reason for the peaked caps worn by all bona fide players. Much to my amazement I found that the caps were not so much a protection against the glaring sun but rather were an indispensable piece of equipment in three in-never run the little man off the court. Saemmer, Muhlenberg's leading scorer, dipped only 11 against the U-Cons, but his speed, passing and all around hustle made him a sure selection."

The article goes on to say that Mackin came off the bench in the second quarter of the 'Berg-U-Conn game and "promptly proceeded to raise havoc, scoring 25 points."

stances; it gets thrown to the ground when a fielder misses a pop fly, all players have something to doodle with on coming to bat, and it distinguishes the catcher from the other players because he wears it backwards.

After nine innings of this legalized homicide the bases are loaded and, if you have been patronizing the refreshments, so are you. A hit is made and the ump calls the man at home out. One throws his remaining bottles and agrees with his neighbor as to the canine relationships of the umpire and hustles to the nearest drugstore to secure some salve for his newly acquired sunburn.

Sanders Excells

Wilmer spent his junior year at the University of Basel in Switzerland under the University of Maryland's Junior Year in Switzerland Plan. He came home definitely sold on the European educational system. He liked the greater academic freedom for students which ruled out all tests, grades and attendance checks. This sounds like a mecca for harassed Muhlenberg scholars, but according to Sanders, it's not all peaches and cream. "It's a much better system for those who really want to learn, but," he admits, "it probably wouldn't work in this country."

While studying in Europe, Sanders had a chance to tour parts of Italy, Austria and Germany. One of the most impressive sights he viewed was the Holy Week ceremonies in Rome. He also reported that a fourteen day trip through Italy, including room and board set his bankroll back for a loss of forty-five dollars.

Next to his love of the German language and literature, Wilmer's second love is his large collection of classical records. He is also the sole provider for the tank full of tropical fish he keeps in his room.

Rumor has it that a certain Norwegian lass has been receiving mail quite regularly from the Muhlenberg campus since Wilmer's return from Europe. However, Wilmer offers no comment on the subject.

Sanders' interest in the German language stems from the impressions he received while stationed in Salzburg, Austria as a radio operator with the forty-second division in 1944. He matriculated at Muhlenberg in the fall of 1946 with the determination to learn all he could about the German language and literature. Today he can read German as rapidly as English. His outstanding score proves how well he has achieved the goal he set for himself at Muhlenberg.

The Chowline

Just to inform you that the Commons is still operating even after the bankruptcy caused by the April Fool issue of the WEEKLY. However, if there is any restaurant featuring "27c T-Bone Steaks" we'll be glad to do business with them.

It was swell to see that Sisto Averno has signed with a professional football team, but who will provide for his convertible and dancer-girl friend while he is away training?

Speaking of football, Muhlenberg's squad will soon be tackling its first practice scrimmage against a rival school. Lafayette recently suffered a setback and gave some Mulesters a hope that maybe the team this year has one too many platoons. After all, according to Howie we'll be twice as good this season.

It is rumored that the Mask and Dagger has still not found a girl to play the part of a drunken actress in its next production. If anyone knows of a woman who could fill this role maybe Murray Stahl could relax in his weekly treks to various bars.

Have you noticed the many new "No Parking" and "Keep off the Grass" signs which have budded from the College lawns. Apparently there are still many who have overlooked them, especially after chapel services. Saves cutting the lawns in those spots but it certainly stunts the growth of Mr. McAuley's hair. Adv.

The men nominated for this election, which will be held on Monday, April 24, are: Jerry Albert, Ted Argeson, Bill Baker, Larry Dreeman, Laverne Etschman, Henry Folkman, Jack Hoffman, Harold Iverson, Jack Kaelberer, William Keiter, David Long, John Lawrie, John Mangini, Ted Offner, Claude Schmitt, Walt Schray, John Siegfried, John Stadtlander, Ed Teter, Bob Weinert, and James Williams.

Nominations Close Friday

Nominations for Student Council are open until the close of the polls at 5:00 p.m., Monday, April 24. However, in order to have a nominee's name placed on the mimeographed ballot, his name must be submitted to Bill Laird, student councilman in charge of elections, by noon Friday, April 21.

Forty-nine students attended the student body meeting in the Science auditorium in order to ratify a number of amendments to the Student Constitution.

Although many of the amendments are only changes in the phraseology of several articles which deal with the Student Council Faculty Adviser, four important amendments were passed. The student body voted to increase the publications fee from ten dollars a year to six dollars per semester. This rise was necessary in order to maintain the quality of the student publications.

Effective with fall term of 1950, all entering classes will have to draw up a class constitution during their freshman year.

A change in the requirements for head cheerleader has been made. In order to serve a man must no longer be a senior or have two years experience at Muhlenberg. All that is necessary are two years experience as a cheerleader.

Encourage Honor System

In order to encourage the adoption of the honor system on campus by the administration, the student body voted that the rule of academic dishonesty be stricken from the Constitution.

A motion on the readjustment of publication funds in case of indebtedness was deferred until the next student body meeting.

Oratory Contest Scheduled For Next Assembly

Juniors Compete For Prizes In Annual Spring Function

During the next assembly program on Thursday, April 27, at 11 a.m. the annual Junior Oratorical Contest will be conducted. This contest is open to all members of the Junior Class.

To this date Jack Phillips, Ed Teter, and Bill Keiter have submitted their names as contestants. Any junior is still welcome to enter the contest. Any prospective candidates should contact Dr. Perry Kendig in the English office, West Hall.

There are two prizes for this contest. The first prize is known as the Clemmie J. Ulrich Oratorical Prize and pays twenty dollars to that member of the Junior Class who delivers the best speech in English as to form and content at the Junior Oratorical Contest. The second prize of ten dollars is given by the Class of 1908 to the student making the second best speech in English.

Last year's winner was Thomas Calnan.

Commuters Form Frat To Unify Town Group

Thirty Men Meet To Organize Alpha Lambda Omega Frat

In order to promote wider interest and participation in campus activities by commuters and in order to foster a spirit of fellowship between the day students, a group of commuting students met on Wednesday evening, April 12, and adopted a constitution and set of by-laws for the conduct of a fraternity of day students.

The more than thirty men who met decided to name this organization Mu chapter of Alpha Lambda Omega, a fraternity of commuters.

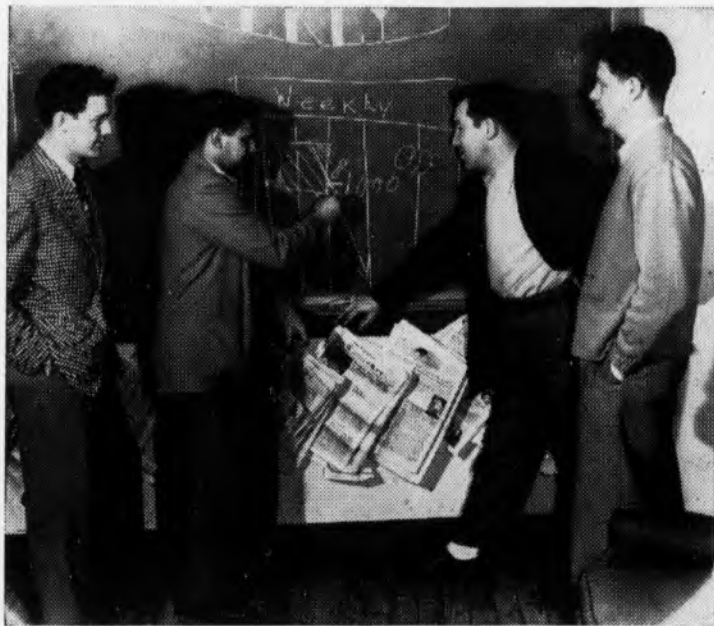

At a previous meeting on Friday evening, March 31, this young organization chose Walter Kirschman as president pro tem and Donald Hohe as secretary-treasurer pro tem.

Berger, Schray, Kotzman Win Next Year's Top Weekly Posts

Freed's Nominees Get Unanimous Approval Of Editors; Retiring Heads Of All Staffs Recommend Successors

Marvin Berger, editor-in-chief elect of the WEEKLY, and Paul Freed, retiring editor-in-chief, discuss the makeup of next week's issue as Roland Kotzman, business manager, and Walter Schray, managing editor elect, look on.

At a dinner meeting held on Monday evening, April 17 at Spurgeon's Hotel, Paul Freed, retiring editor-in-chief of the WEEKLY, received a unanimous vote of confidence on his choice of a successor to the editor-in-chief post for the 1950-51 school year.

Mr. Freed nominated Marvin Berger, present managing editor, for the highest post on the paper. To fill the position left vacant by Mr. Berger, Mr. Freed appointed Walter Schray, the 1949-50 city editor. Roland Kotzman will retain his position as business manager of the WEEKLY.

Staff Editors Appointed

A number of other appointments were necessary to fill the positions left vacant by either the promoted men or the graduating seniors. Mr. Schray appointed John Faust as his successor on the city staff. Ted Argeson and Vince Nardonne will replace Dick Rosamilia, a senior, and Mr. Faust as associate city editors.

Charles Morgan, the retiring sports editor, nominated Bob Godnick to the position of leader of the sports staff. Don Klenk and Ed Berdick will serve as Mr. Godnick's associates.

Retiring Editors Acclaimed

Larry Moyer appointed James Robbins to lead next year's photographic staff. At the same time Nevin Snyder passed his duties as circulation manager on to Dick Thiel.

Hap Hasenauer will serve as next year's copy editor, replacing John Hedderick who retired to work on the feature staff.

Next year's feature staff will again be led by Pete Mourad and his associate, Lowell Druckenmiller.

After the various appointments were announced the editor-in-chief-elect called for a rising applause for the retiring editor-in-chief and the four senior members of the editorial board.

'Berg's NSA Meets To Activate; Lists Plans, Reveals Projects

Thierfelder Presides At West Hall Gathering; Levitsky Gives Group's History; Teal Sets Goals

On Monday night the National Students Association held a meeting in West Hall with the intention of forming an actual functioning body. The meeting was attended by fourteen students, five of whom were freshmen, and it was presided over by Everett Thierfelder.

Regional officer Leon Levitsky gave an account of NSA's history. He related how the idea of forming this association was conceived in August 1946, when representatives attended the International Student Conference at Prague, Czechoslovakia. Five months later three hundred college representatives held a convention. It was then that the Association was founded, and a constitution was written. Leon Levitsky went on to tell how Muhlenberg representatives have been attending "information seeking" regional meetings since December 1947, and that last year the student body voted in favor of becoming a member of N.S.A.

Committees Organized

Dick Thiel listed N.S.A.'s immediate plans, and committees were organized to begin action on many of their projects. One committee will bring cooperating Allentown merchants into the Purchase Plan. The group hopes to have purchase cards ready for sale by next term. These cards will enable students to receive reductions on merchandise purchased from member business men.

Bill Lybrand, who was present at the meeting, relinquished his job as the main proponent of the Honor System. Gene Kreider will take over that job, which is another of N.S.A.'s immediate goals.

Spur Student Voting

The N.S.A. will also publicize the importance of voting in the primary elections.

David Hoh stressed the importance of another of N.S.A.'s goals, to develop leadership in the under-classman. A step in this direction was taken when Ronnie Haggood was elected secretary-treasurer.

All those present agreed that there is a dire need for freshmen who will become active in the organization. Another meeting will be held in the West Hall Recreation Room on Wednesday, April 26, at 7:30 p.m. Interested students are requested to attend.

Group Picks Johnson To Write History Text

Faculty Member Gets Post As Qualified Historian

The Social Science Research Council this week selected Dr. Victor L. Johnson of the Muhlenberg History department to write a book based on the Revolutionary War period in Philadelphia.

Dr. Victor L. Johnson who will take a leave of absence from Muhlenberg to write a book based on the American Revolutionary War period.

Dr. Johnson, who was selected from a large group of distinguished applicants, will take leave from his post at Muhlenberg in June and return in February, 1951.

Extensive Travel Required

Research for the book, which will examine the impact of the Revolutionary period on Philadelphia and the middle Atlantic area, will require travel and investigation of sources throughout most of the Eastern States and as far west as Michigan.

Dr. Johnson has taught history at Muhlenberg since 1937. During this time he has taught courses in American Diplomatic History and Latin American History. He has contributed articles on these fields to many of the leading historical journals.

"You Can't Take It With You" Rocks Berg Stage

by Ed Berdick

"You Can't Take It With You," the New York stage success which brought laughter to a new peak in the depression years of the late thirties, returns to life on the nights of April 27, 28, and 29 with the Mask and Dagger production in the Campus Little Theatre. This three act comedy written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman brings to the local stage a mad farce centered around Grandpa Vanderhof and his equally odd relations and friends.

Jovial Family

The Vanderhof household, headed by Grandpa, whose favorite pastime is going to commencement and snake hunting, includes his daughter, Penny, who writes plays only because someone left a typewriter there by mistake; her husband, Paul, an inventor supreme; Mr. DePinna, an iceman who came one day and never left; Essie (daughter of Penny and Paul), an aspiring ballerina; her husband Ed, a printer and xylophone player; Kolenkhov, the Russian exile; and Alice, the unmarried daughter of Penny and Paul,

Relations Office To Sign Campus Events

There is a new registration system for extra-curricular events scheduled to be held on the campus or in any of the campus buildings. To be sure of reserved facilities, every such event must be entered in the official Registration Book in the Public Relations office and the time and place must also be cleared with Mr. John R. McAuley, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.

The idea is to avoid unprofitable conflicts—two or more events of wide appeal booked for the same time—and also to secure better advance publicity for your particular feature. Make your reservation as early as possible. Use good judgment about avoiding conflicts. If your organization has regular stated meetings over long periods without sending out notices of individual meetings, be sure to get your full schedule entered in the book for the rest of the year.

Student Council Not Only Representative, But Also Responsibility of Muhlenbergers

At the Student Body meeting held in the Science Auditorium last Thursday, nominations were presented for next year's Student Council members. About forty members of the student body were present at this meeting. These few short lines are not to be taken by the remaining members of the student body that failed to attend the meeting as an admonishment. A little reflection by any student who fancies himself a serious thinker on that deplorable situation, should provide that individual with a chide as effective as any this editorial can supply.

This is to remind each and every student that on Monday, April 24, balloting will take place in the Student Center for the election of the governing body. This body will govern a very large area of your activities while you are at Muhlenberg College. Among many other things, the Student Council controls about $22,000 of your money every year. It seems prudent that you should take more than a cursory interest in the coming elections.

More than this, Muhlenberg College has a student government structure that is one of the very best in the country. This is a fact drawn from comparisons with other student government set-ups at National Student Association conventions. Unfortunately, the student government here is the same as everywhere else in one aspect—it needs an élan vitale to be effective. This vital force is the participation by those governed.

If for some reason, logical or otherwise, you as a student choose to sit around and gripe about student affairs rather than participate in a constructive, critical fashion, at least take the time on Monday, April 24, to cast a ballot for your choices for next year's Student Council. Write-in spaces will be provided so that you may vote for a candidate that was not nominated at the Student Body meeting. Exercise your privilege to vote; accept your responsibility to vote; at least take part in your student government on this level.

Widely Known Jack-of-all Trades Makes Prognostications

The Muhlenberg of Future Years Features No East Hall and a Colorful "Red" Investigation

by Bob Yerby

Dr. Morgan Crabbone, the noted forecaster of business trends, economic stability and Russian inventions, recently compiled a mass of information into a book which he calls "An Anthology of Anthologies" or "Where Are We Going?" Some of the numerous subjects covered in his book are The Development of Music from 1800 to the Trumans, The Decline in Number of Active Hoop Rollers in America, and The Lowering of College Standards Since the Loss of the Nickel Beer. Dr. Crabbone's comments on these subjects range from dull to boring and it is doubtful whether anyone will wish to waste his time reading them. The work is stretched out into 98 volumes, all handwritten, and is beautifully bound in canvas from old gym shoes.

Doctor Procrastinates

Under the vague heading of "State Institutions in Pennsylvania and Abroad," Dr. Crabbone lists Muhlenberg College and gives an accurate prediction of conditions there in 2000 A.D. In March of that year, he says, the Alumni will demand action on the proposed field house. President Tyson and the Board of Trustees will cleverly sidetrack this minority group and refer them to the Ladies' Auxiliary. These two groups will then collaborate on furnishing the Muhlenberg campus with lights to guide the faltering steps of tipsy undergrads. Dr. Crabbone hastens to add that there will be several tuition raises accompanying these changes.

Hoopsters Will Shine

In the field of sports Dr. Crabbone predicts a successful basketball team which upon graduation will form a pro team second to none in "Bull" Ritter's intramural league. The intramural league itself will end in a 6-way tie for Crabbone hopes this will so frustrate Mr. Ritter that he will resign from the Allentown School Board to concentrate on coaching.

In the year 2000 the incoming Freshman class will consist of three students, two of which will later be declared "Reds" by a Student Council investigating committee. The third will transfer to Millersville State Teachers College in less than a week. In that short time he will have stolen 3 sweat shirts, two pairs of sneakers, 6 dozen chapel slips, and the Library dome. "Haps" Benfer will beg him to come back.

East Hall Gets It

Sometime in December, 2000, East Hall will be burned to the ground for the insurance money. The blame will be placed on either Lehigh or Lafayette, depending upon which team beats Muhlenberg in football that year. In case of a tie the Science building will also be burned. The Commons will

Plenty Of Stuff On The Ball Needed For Modern Ingratiation

Students Are Forced To Avoid Mere Polishing Of The Apple, Which Went Out With Buttoned Shoes

Dave Long pays off Dr. Brandes with some of that green stuff Uncle Sam puts out while the good Dr. chews on a freshly polished apple.

by Bill Charlesworth

Some people claim that days of the polished apple passed out long ago. It might have passed out materially but the old apple is still here in spirit! "It's too obvious to bring little favors to the professor nowadays," maintains the student steeped in practical psychology, "it takes plenty of skill to get the scholar behind the desk on your side." A few students say they use cold cash as a last resort when all other methods fail. Underpaid professors are liable to forget principles when they see a crisp fin nestled in the blue test book, and know there's only pocket dirt nestling in their wallets.

Excellent Suggestions

One student, gives these verbal gems for the benefit of others: "Every prof is teaching his course mainly because it's his pet subject. So, even if the course is stagnant, look interested. Nod in approval when he says something that sounds intelligent or correct, and ask questions which he can answer. Laugh at his jokes. Feign knowledge of his course. And, when you see him on the street, greet him with a smile and make him feel he's making a big hit with the students."

It takes more than mere subtle cajolery to influence professors who are as complex as their courses and as different as black and white. Various procedures are used on various types of profs, and most of the procedures prove to be successful. For instance, some professors like to be treated as serious scholars, well versed in their subject, not too prone to laugh at any humorous incident, but still friendly enough to win the deep admiration of the student. They like to be admired so it doesn't take too many slyly placed flattering remarks and glances to win them over. Going to the other extreme, there are a few professors who like to be called "one of the boys." They like to hear the student say, "Professor Bderndern is a good Joe. He drinks with us and uses the same comb we do without getting squeamish. He knows his stuff too." The way to please him is to kid him about

Worker-Scholars Gain Knowledge and Cash By Use of Muhlenberg's Work-Grant System

by Bob Wilde

"As long as I've known Muhlenberg," said Dr. Shankweiler, "there has always been a work grant system." The system of administration has varied from time to time in order to meet changing needs, but the fundamental purpose of aid to students has remained unchanged. Before 1939, work grants were correlated with a government-sponsored program called NYA (National Youth Administration). In that year, government help ceased, and the College took over in full the task of providing assistance to the men of Muhlenberg. Under the administration of NYA, the principal purpose was to aid needy students; under the present system, while those men who need help are considered first, there is an additional factor, that of the budget and needs of the various College departments.

Many Employed

At present, sixty men are employed under the work grant system all over the campus, in the Library, Art Department, Chapel, Science Departments, Testing Bureau, and as proctors. Many must have the money to meet college obligations. Others work to help finance their social life. Then there are those who want to utilize their special training in a particular field of work, and who are needed to fill skilled positions. For example, Dr. Shankweiler has a student helping him with his photography work. This assistant must have a thorough knowledge of cameras, other photographic equipment, and developing solutions. This illustrates the requirements necessary for some work, and helps to explain the dual purpose of the work grant administration. However, whether a position requires special training or not, a student cannot earn more than fifty cents an hour, or over one hundred dollars in any semester.

Contains Info

Let's follow a work grant application and see how it is handled by the committee. Bill Jones gets his in early. It contains, among other things, information about his need, recommendations, and qualifications. If Bill lands a job, he must fill in another form at the beginning of the second term. The committee reviews each application individually. Dr. Shankweiler is the present chairman, and the other members are Messrs. Lawson, McGregor, Mercer, and Davidson. Each student's need, abilities, and special training are stacked up against the positions open and the necessary qualifications for each.

Committee Chooses

Every effort is made to place the men who have the greatest need, but from the above example, one can understand that this is not always possible. Another limiting factor of the work grant system is the budget of each department. Perhaps some departments would like to have more help, but there may not be enough money available for this purpose. The committee, as it reviews Bill's and every one else's application, tries its level best to place as many fellows as possible, and to meet the general and special needs of the various departments.

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

Yessir, this roundelay has got class . . . It's lousy with it! Just like the New Yawk papers, according to last week's Mule Kicks. Well, c'est la vie, as the French say, and it's one heckuva "vie."

One of our alumni was caught up in the draft a couple of weeks ago, and became a census taker. He stopped in at a house along his route in Lower Macungie Twp. (pronounced Twip) and rang the doorbell. A worn-looking woman answered the door, whereupon our census taker pointed the question, "How many in your family?" "Five," snapped back the answer. "Me, the old man, kid, cow and cat." "And the politics of your family?" asked the ex-Mule. "Mixed," the lady countered; "I'm a Republican, the old man's a Democrat, the kid's wet, the cow's dry, and the cat's a Populist!"

How's YOUR Libido? The Right Honorable Pete Gorgone was actually gypped out of some gold last week. The ex-Giant quarterback had an Easter egg left over from the candy sale, and was trying to get rid of it. Turtzo and Bruno, who never stop fooling around, worked up a conspiracy of coin flipping and won the thing. The next day, one of them approached Gorgone on the sly and asked him if he wanted revenge. He did, so the three flipped coins again, and guess who came out loser of another Easter egg? Unknown to Gorgone, the two irrepressibles had it all planned before hand, the rigadooners.

Wound-up English instructor: "If this lecture has gone overtime it's only because I haven't my watch and the bells don't ring on time around here."

Bored Senior: (his eyes mere pin points in his head) "There's a calendar in back of you."

The green convertible with the black top was parked by the side of the road under the sheltering shadow of one of Cedar Beach's great oaks. Slowly over the rim of the hill rose an orange moon, great and grinning, and seeming as if full of desirable things. Suddenly she slid slowly into his arms with a little sigh.

"Kisto, dear," she whispered in a way that was enough to melt the amber on a man's palette, "Do you love me?"

"No," came the halting reply, "but I certainly admire your taste." Back Door Stuff: We hear that Dr. Wood, German professor, got slightly mixed up the other morning at eight o'clock. He walked into class, opened his book, started to call the roll, and found, strangely enough, that it was Economics class.

If all the women in the world who didn't neck gathered in one room, what would we do with her?

SAYS LIGHTING BAD

Dear Editor,

Two years ago I graduated from my high school a clean, healthy, bright-eyed, young man—then I came to Muhlenberg. Naturally I am still clean and healthy, however my eyesight is a mess. Twice a week I go to chapel and try my darndest to help in the singing and the responses, but the ten-watt bulbs they have in those dirty lamp shades prevent me from seeing the book, let alone the words. I think it's a crime for a Christian college, riding a wave of opulence, to be so negligent as not to provide light for their worshipping students.

Some students welcome the darkness to catch forty winks, however, a few of us would like to participate in the service if we could only see! I'm in the bifocal stage already, please help.

Yours truly,
Four Eyes.

... Student Council Reports ...

At the regular meeting of Student Council held Thursday, April 13, 1950, the following business was transacted.

Plans are under way to have a telephone installed in the Student Union Building.

The northern exit of West Hall has been locked for many months. Since this is a fire hazard, steps will be taken to have it opened again.

An Intramural Board will be set up consisting of five faculty and administrative members and four student councilmen. These nine men's chief purpose will be to supervise all intramural and some interclass activities. However, this does not take any power from the Freshman Tribunal which will still govern all Soph-Frosh events.

The new paths that will lead to and from the Chapel building will probably be laid soon. The expense of this endeavor will be included in Mr. MacGregor's new budget.

Dick Teal, president of the Sophomore Class, submitted a list of men who will enter apprenticeship on the Ciarla staff, in preparation for positions on the editorial and business staffs of the 1952 edition of the yearbook. These men are James Robbins, George Pfautz, Richard Becker, John Turtzo, Everett Thierfelder, and Guenther Jansen. Teal will also meet with the Athletic Director of the college regarding the Freshman athletes of 1948-1949 who had not received either jackets or sweaters for their efforts.

Student Council recommended that Ascension Day on May 18 be declared a religious holiday on the campus. A committee to plan for this day consists of Joel Skidmore, Dick Teal, and Bill Witmer, who is chairman.

last night's drinking orgy or to pat him on the back and tell him his course is O.K. but you've seen better.

Through a carefully taken poll of professors and their methods of applying the principle of fair play in handing out the marks, it has been proved that professors are undoubtedly influenced by the students' actions in class. When the professor sees a certain name in his little black book he associates the name with the speech and mannerisms of the student. If the student's mannerisms are parallel or suited to the tastes and likes of the professor, the old boy will naturally look through rose-colored glasses when he puts the mark in the book.

lunches and books on the shelves right outside of the lab on the second floor of the Science Building. There is almost always someone in the hall, either smoking or gossiping, but during the space of three hours someone's lunch disappears. My lunch has been taken twice, and several other fellows have had their's taken. Most of the commuters eat their breakfast before campus students ever think of getting up, and we get very hungry by lunch time.

It is very disheartening to find that someone else is enjoying your lunch when you are so hungry that you could "eat a horse." The least the culprit could do would be to leave half a sandwich; but no, he takes every single crumb.

Why couldn't lockers be installed in the basement of the Science Building or the Administration Building so that commuters would have a place to keep their lunches and books? Maybe this wouldn't be possible, but I am sure something can be done if Student Council and the Faculty work together. I and all the other commuting students would appreciate it very much if this matter would be brought before Student Council, so that something may be done to correct the disgraceful lunch stealing situation.

Muhlenberg has become a national power in collegiate basketball, and now seems threatened to lose its high standing because of a lack of new men to replace the veterans. Let's keep our standing as a power in one sport, even if it results in minimizing others.

Capt. Paul Buskey, Middlebury, '38 Air Intelligence, U.S. Air Force

An excellent student at Middlebury College, Vermont, Paul found time to win the coveted All Sports Trophy in his senior year. He graduated in June, 1938.

He then joined a coated paper mill firm as research and control man. Pearl Harbor changed all that—Paul went to Maxwell Field to begin Aviation Cadet training.

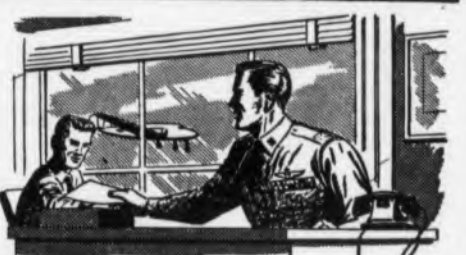

An outstanding Cadet, 2nd Lt. Paul Buskey was held over as an instructor after graduation. Then he was assigned as a pilot in the Air Transport Command.

His big plane education was topped with 23 missions over the far-famed "Hump," flying C-54 transports. After V-J Day, he stayed on in the Far East until March of 1948—specializing in Air Intelligence.

Back home, after accepting a Regular Air Force Commission, Captain Buskey went to Air Tactical school, was there rated an outstanding student, and won assignment to Command and Staff school.

Today, Captain Buskey is an Air Intelligence Officer on MATS Headquarters Staff at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington, D. C. He looks forward to a rewarding future in the U. S. Air Force.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attn: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

Moravian and Bucknell Defeat Mule Nine

OVER... THE LINE

by Bob Godnick

Charlie Morgan, sports editor of the WEEKLY sports staff this past year has selected this writer to succeed him in the above mentioned capacity. While deeply happy over the selection, speaking for the entire staff, I feel that all of us are going to miss that smiling face and happy-go-lucky personality which Charley possesses.

It has been a distinct pleasure having worked with him this year and I sincerely hope that I will be able to carry on in the same competent and unassuming manner as the past editor.

The responsibilities of a sports editor of a college publication are numerous, and if handled in an intelligent and national manner, can gain the maximum advantage from power in the print.

Primarily, the sport page should provide authoritative information for the consumption of its readers. Yet, in a larger sense the primary objective, in the eyes of this writer is to attempt to make or at least suggest constructive criticism towards the betterment of athletics at the college, in accordance with the general opinion of students on campus.

It is my hope that the sport page of the Muhlenberg WEEKLY will be a page belonging solely to the student body of Muhlenberg College. Therefore, in addition to the general sports staff, I will welcome contributions from any and all sources of the student body.

As an added feature I hope to present stories by Dr. Bill Brandt concerning his varied exploits in a "Once in a Life Time" Series.

Mules Scrimmage At F & M; Impress Coach

Coach Howie Baughman and his staff got their first look at the 1950 edition of the Mule grid machine while running their charges through a scrimmage session with the Franklin and Marshall footballers at Lancaster, Pa. Coach Baughman was very favorably impressed with the Mules' showing and is confident that they will give a good account of themselves during their regular schedule next fall. No score was kept and the teams alternated in carrying the ball for ten consecutive plays regardless of the touchdowns tallied.

All Newcomers On Offensive

Since the main purpose of the scrimmage was to give Coach Baughman an opportunity to watch the new men and those coming up from the freshman squad in action, the offensive eleven was comprised entirely of newcomers to the varsity squad. This team consisted of Reed and Stianchi at the ends; Sipser and Schindler at the tackles; Schindler and McKane at the guards; Lewin at the pivot spot.

Defense Shines

Mills, Wescoe, Wolf, and Dolly were mainstays in the backfield. Woodworth and Ingold also alternated in the backfield posts throughout the contest. On the defense last season's varsity men and a few defensive specialists up from the freshman squad made F. and M. yardage very scarce. They included Peifly, Bohs, Deitz, Berman, Lubin, Ruyak, Stefkovich, Batt, Mulooly, Wood, Pietella, Rubbert, and Williams.

These spring grid drills will be terminated with a scrimmage against Temple's Owls at Philadelphia on May 5.

'Rip' Boyer Goes Over The Top

Pulley and Boyer Each Take Two Events As Mule Track Team Captures Second Triumph

With "Rip" Boyer and Bill Pulley capturing top honors of the day, the Muhlenberg College track team defeated the University of Delaware by the score of 67½ to 58½. Pulley won the high and low hurdles with ease, while Boyer in turn captured the high jump and broad jump.

Captain Don Albert, whose main desire is to establish a new school record for the mile run, placed first in the mile, while teammate Herm Michaels tossed the shot-put for a winning throw of 42 ft. "Little" Dick Acker ran a smooth two mile race, and won it in 10:50. George England won his specialty with a distance of 186 ft. 4 inches.

Sprinters Weak

Coach Fellows was well pleased with the outcome of the meet, however, his main desire is to develop more sprinters. At the present time, Harry Kreutzberg is carrying the burden of the sprints alone.

The summaries:

Broad Jump: Boyer, M.; Pulley, M.; Baker, M.; 20 ft. 5½ inches.
Pole Vault: Turner, D.; Murray, D.; Miller, D.; 10 ft. 4 inches.
High Jump: Boyer, M.; Masten, D.; Baker, M.; 5 ft. 10 inches.

440 Yard: Baylis, D.; Kreutzberg, M.; Loose, D.; 54:3.
2 Mile: Acker, M.; Bradley, D.; Moore, M.; 10:58.
220 Yard Hurdles: Pulley, M.; Wells, D.; Loose, D.; 25:6.
220 Yard Dash: Lanza, D.; Bayhs, D.; Kreutzberg, M.; 23:5.
880 Yard Dash: McKenna, D.; Albert, M.; Sampson, D.; 2:05.5.
Javelin: England, M.; Stalone, D.; Lank, D.; 186 ft. 4 inches.
Discus Throw: Lank, D.; Michaels, M.; Pulley, M.; 121 feet, 5¼ inches.

Bisons Three In Tenth Tops 'Berg

After a nip and tuck nine innings with the Cardinal and Grey the Bucknell University nine went hog wild in the top of the tenth to net themselves four hits and three runs to defeat the battling 'Bergmen 4-1.

Dick Roush, right handed pitcher for the Bisons, did himself proud by pitching three-hit ball to the Mules, walking none, and striking out eight. Dick Schaad pitching for 'Berg was able to strike out two and walk seven. Contrary to the old saying that pitchers can't hit, the versatile Roush got a piece of the ball in the fifth to score the first Bison tally with a home run.

Striking back for Muhlenberg in the eighth, Licursi, who made two of the three 'Berg hits, drove the ball out of the park for the tying run.

After holding Bucknell down to a tie game for nine innings Schaad yielded two singles and a run in the top of the tenth. He was relieved by Ruppert, who was forced to give two hits and two runs before the Bisons were retired.

Governing Board Set Up to Supervise I-M's

At the meeting of Student Council on Thursday, April 13, 1950, plans were made to have an Intramural Board formed whose purpose will be to supervise all intramural and some interclass affairs.

The Student Council stated that the board will consist of nine members; five of these will be either members of the faculty or of the administration, and the remaining four men will be Student Councilmen.

Valley Foe Mars Cardinal Debut

Muhlenberg College's baseball team launched its 1950 season last Thursday under its new coach, Lou Cardinal, and lost an 8-2 decision to the Moravian College Greyhounds at Bethlehem. The game was finally halted after seven innings because of intermittent snow flurries and a freezing temperature.

Mules Tie Score

After Moravian took a one run lead in the first, 'Berg tied it up in the second when Tolosky singled, advanced to second on an out, and scored with a fine hook slide on Tanguay's infield hit. In the third 'Berg went ahead when Rollo walked, stole second, scored on Swartley's single to right. Moravian scored three times in the sixth and added four more in the seventh to ice the contest.

Limited To Four Hits

Don Laauwe started for 'Berg and pitched good ball for five innings, but the weather slowed up his deliveries and Moravian finally got to him in the sixth. Gordon Latzko, called upon for a quick relief job in the seventh, was a victim of two errors and a misjudged ball that went for a triple.

Howie Obergfell, Moravian righthander, was very effective, going the full seven innings and limiting the Mules to four singles, three of the infield variety.

Cardinal Nine Loses; Bow To Lions By 11-4

Lou Cardinal's Muhlenberg Mule nine dropped its third straight game of the season, bowing to Albright College, 11-4 at Reading on Tuesday afternoon.

Although the Mules outthrew their rivals 6-5, sloppy fielding and wildness on the part of the Mule moundsmen proved the difference in the contest.

Martone's homer with one aboard in the first inning started the Lions on the right path. The Lions added one more in the third, three in the fourth, and blasted five more across in the sixth.

Mazzucca Homers

The Mules first hit the scoring column in the 6th when shortstop Fred Mazzucca smashed out a home run with no one on. Adding a three run rally in the ninth was the total extent of the Mule offensive. In that frame, with one away, Tolosky drew a base on balls, and Licursi was safe on first with Tolosky on second as an Albright fielder's choice backfired. Tanquay fanned, but leftfielder Johnny Rollo tripled the two runners across. Bob Dikon then singled in Rollo. Rollo also made a sparkling catch in the previous inning.

Martzell Starter

Marty Martzell started for the Mules, but failed to get past the first frame. Gordon Latzko came on at this point, with Don Laauwe coming on in the sixth to finish. Rog Tolosky did the receiving.

The score by innings:
Batteries: Martzell, Latzko (1), Laauwe, (6) and Tolosky Martone and Krahfo.
Muhlenberg 000 001 003—4
Albright 201 305 00x—11

Temple Tennis Owls Defeat 'Berg Netmen

The 1950 edition of the Muhlenberg College netmen opened the current season by dropping a lopsided match to Temple University by an 8-1 tally at the Oakmont Tennis Club Courts last Saturday afternoon.

Muhlenberg's lone winner was Bob Parker, who triumphed in his singles match against Dave Mudrick of the Owls, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3. In other singles matches: Ed Ferguson of Temple stopped Bill Dougherty of the Mules, 6-2 and 6-4; Mal Eckstrand topped El Vozella, 6-2 and 6-1; Al Horstein defeated Bob Kantra, 6-3, 6-1; Dave Vogt stymied Bob Tooker by 6-0, 6-0.

Shutout In Doubles

Coach Shankweiler's men did even less in the doubles competition, dropping all three contests. Ferguson and Eckstrand stopped Dougherty and Vozella, 6-2 and 6-1. Reid Coreitr and Mudrick combined to stop the Mule's Parker and Kantra 6-0 and 6-3. In the final match, Temple completed the rout as Seabourne and Hornstein had little trouble disposing of John Kaelberer and George Wall 6-0 and 6-1.

from the powers of the Freshman Tribunal, which handles all the Soph-Fresh events, but they will have charge of other interclass and all intramural events.

The formation of the Intramural Board will be delayed until the new Student Council is elected and in office since four members of this group will be members of the Council.

HAVE YOU DONATED?

The WSSF drive is still in progress. Contributions so far total $765.00, slightly more than half of the $1500.00 quota. The average donation has been about $1.46 per individual. A total of 443 people have donated to the fund, and 392 of these have been campus residents. Only 51 town students have given. Jack Kaelbehrer, general chairman of the drive, said, "It is hoped that more town students will give, since it is only through them that we can reach our goal."

the persons of Revenue Inspector Henderson and three J-men.

From these characters develops the web of comedy which leads not only Grandpa Vanderhof and his household, but also the Kirby's and the United States Government into a whirlpool of laughter.

Paul Bosch Plays Lead

The task of portraying the philosophical Grandpa Vanderhof falls to Paul Bosch, who acquired the lead through one of the unusual quirks of the theatrical world. Filling in temporarily the first night in reading the part of Grandpa, Paul proved so successful in adapting himself to the part that he was immediately chosen for the role.

Paul, a sophomore, comes from Buffalo, New York, where his first interest in the stage developed during his high school days. In his first year at Muhlenberg, he was caught in the whirl of Mask and Dagger life in his roles in "John Loves Mary" and "Golden Boy." More recently he portrayed one of the Priests in the ICL Week production of "Murder in the Cathedral." Paul, an English major, is active in the choir, the WEEKLY, and station WMUH as well as in Mask and Dagger.

Veterans Fill Other Roles

Familiar Mask and Dagger performers will fill out several of the remaining parts. Included in this group is Marcella Hilbert, Cedar Crest graduate whose theatrical interests have led her to the Civic Little Theatre and the WSN drama workshop, besides the M & D production of Golden Boy. Another favorite, Marv Berger remembered for his part in Golden Boy, takes on the role of DePinna, Italian accent and all. Joe Bayly (Inspector Stack in the fall production of Laburnum Grove) returns to the Muhlenberg stage as Mr. Kirby. Finally, two old veterans, Don Markley, an active member of Mask and Dagger, Civic Little Theatre, and Cedar Crest Theatre productions, portrays the role of Ed Carmichael, while Mask and Dagger president Murray Stahl fills the role of Government Agent Henderson.

Junior Father's Day Has Varied Program

A Junior Father's Day will be held Saturday, April 29, 1950 on the College campus. It will be the first such event to take place here in the history of the College. Heading this committee is Ernest Dreeman, who together with his staff has informed all the members of the Junior Class.

The list of events for the day follows:

1. Registration on arrival for all fathers.
  2. 12:00 Noon-Luncheon at the College Commons.
  3. 2 p.m. — softball game between the faculty and the juniors.
  4. 3:00-5:00 p.m.—visits and conferences with the president, dean, and faculty members.
  5. 5:30 p.m.—dinner at the College Commons.
  6. 8:00 p.m.—Mask and Dagger's Production, "You Can't Take It With You."
  7. 11:00 p.m.—Coffee and cake party in the Union Building.
- On Sunday morning at 11:00, a chapel service will be held to terminate the first annual Junior Father's Day activities.

Phi Alpha Theta

The April meeting of Kappa chapter, Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history fraternity, was held on Wednesday evening, April 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meredith.

After a brief business meeting, Mr. Dennis Kurjack, historian in charge of the restoration at Hopewell Village, Berks County, addressed the group. He spoke on the work of the National Park Service, told of his own experiences in restoring old buildings, and discussed the problem involved in finding accounts and complete sources of material.

Phi Alpha Theta's next meeting will be a banquet at the Howard Johnson restaurant. The guest speaker will be Prof. George D. Harmon, head of the Department of History at Lehigh University.

Commuter Fraternity

Fraternities Set For I. F. Weekend

be given under the direction of Jacques Rasser.

Phi Epsilon Pi's social chairman, Jerry Roth, has arranged for a formal dinner to be held at the Shrine Club preceding the Ball on Friday evening. A picnic will be given on Saturday afternoon at the Lehigh Parkway. In the evening, a house party at the chapter house will feature a treasure hunt. At three on Sunday, an early morning breakfast will be served.

Alumni Expected

Sigma Phi Epsilon will also have a picnic on Saturday afternoon at the Lehigh Parkway. Their house will be decorated in the motif of a hobo camp, and all members will take part in a scavenger hunt. Robert Morris is in charge of the weekend's activities.

Phi Kappa Tau's social chairman stated that their house would be decorated like a huge tent, similar to the ones one might read about in the "Arabian Nights."

Recently graduated alumni are expected to be present for this all important weekend for fraternity men.

Area Colleges To Hold Rally Here

On Saturday, April 22, 1950 at 2:00 p.m. the Lutheran students from Albright, Kutztown State Teachers College, Lehigh, Lafayette, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, Moravian College for Men and Women, Cedar Crest, the Allentown Hospital, St. Lukes in Bethlehem, and Muhlenberg will meet in the Recreation Room of West Hall to organize the Muhlenberg area of the Lutheran Students Association. The Rev. Samuel Jaxheimer and the Rev. Robert Horn will be the speakers for the event.

Kaelberer Presides

For over ten years the Muhlenberg area has been inactive. Therefore, Jack Kaelberer, President of the area, urges all students who are interested in Christian fellowship to attend the meeting.

On Wednesday evening, April 12, the Allentown group held their first regular organizational meeting and elected officers. The meeting was held in the auditorium of St. John's Lutheran Church.

The Chowline

A reading must for all: on the library "For Sale" shelf, we found a handsome weighty tome entitled "Who's Who Along the North Shore, or A Register of Interesting, Fashionable, and Wealthy Residents on the North Shore of Massachusetts Bay for the Summer of 1920." Any customers?

Last week the campus looked like Republican National Headquarters. Dozens of men could be seen walking around with that solemn "this is the year" look, and wearing some sort of campaign streamer. Closer examination, however, disclosed that the conspicuous students were not seeking to discredit Harry, but were only the newly elected members of O.D.K.

Speaking of Harry brings to mind a story we heard while we were home over the Easter holidays. President Truman, while driving through the streets of Washington recently, took a ten dollar bill and threw it out of the window. Bess, who was sitting next to the Prexy, said, "Now Harry, why did you do that?" "To make the person who finds it happy," was the quick reply. "Well why didn't you throw out two fives and make two people happy?" Margaret, who was also in the car chimed in with, "Well why not throw out ten ones to make ten people happy?" A secret service man, who was riding on the running board, poked his head in the window and said, "Why not throw out twenty halves and make twenty people happy?" Thereupon the chauffeur turned around and said, "Why not throw Truman out and make everybody happy?"

Campus CHEY Day Sets Contribution Appeal

CHEY Funds Aid Building Of Field House And Assist Committee Of East Hall Quadrangle

by Paul Sittler

On Wednesday, May 3, the Student Body at Muhlenberg will observe CHEY day. This day has been set aside for the collection of contributions by the Student Body for the Christian Higher Education Year Appeal, which is being at present conducted among the various congregations and educational institutions of the United Lutheran Church in America. Bill Laird is in charge of the CHEY drive here on campus.

Some twenty years ago the U.L.C.A. planned to meet the needs of its colleges and seminaries, but action was delayed until October 1948, when the U.L.C.A. Convention in Philadelphia designated 1950 as Christian Higher Education Year. A goal of $6,000,000 was set to meet the needs of the fourteen colleges and nine seminaries of the U.L.C.A. throughout the United States and Canada.

Muhlenberg To Receive Cut

Muhlenberg is one of these colleges. From the $6,000,000 total we hope to receive $780,000 to be used here at Muhlenberg. All funds received for Muhlenberg above $780,000 are to go into the Field House Fund.

Throughout the country many of these colleges and seminaries have started campaigns for CHEY funds to be used on their campuses. The Ministerium of Pennsylvania has as its goal $1,150,000.

Funds Improve Buildings

If the Christian Higher Education Year is successfully completed, Muhlenberg College will be able to make many improvements. The Boiler House will be rebuilt to the tune of $150,000. The first allocation of funds will be used here and will include one new

M & D Show Promises Action and Laughs As "Sneak Preview" Delights Audience

The WEEKLY camera catches a bit of slapstick comedy from an action packed scene of M & D's "You Can't Take It With You."

by Ed Berdick

Tonight in the Campus Little Theatre at 8:30 and in the succeeding two nights, the curtain will rise on the Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman Broadway success, "You Can't Take It With You." This Pulitzer Prize winner brings to the local stage three acts of rich American humor, as only the pens of Hart and Kaufman can write it.

The Mask and Dagger production of this Broadway success has been in rehearsal for the past month. Under the direction of Mr. Erskine, the show has been built around the wealth of laughs found in the play. Marty Weisman has again done a commendable job in handling the scenery and backstage work. The difficult task of properties has fallen to the hands of Paul Sittler and Joe Cannon who have had to find everything from a printing press to a jar of flies.

Majority of Cast New

The cast is comparatively new to the campus stage, with twelve of the nineteen roles being filled by newcomers. The lead role of Grandpa Vanderhof is in the hands of Paul Bosch. Penny Sycamore is played by Florence McHale; Paul Sycamore by Marty Briner; Essie Carmichael by Jane Clair Cuddy; and Don Markley is Ed Carmichael. The lovers are portrayed by Marcella Hilbert as Alice Sycamore and Evan Kranzley as Tony Kirby.

NSA Committee Outlines Year's Final Program

Opening Of Library Stacks And Honor System Studied

The NSA Reorganization Committee headed by David Hoh, and members Harold Iverson, Leon Levitsky, Richard Teal, Everett Thierfelder, John Turtzo, and William Lybrand, have drawn up a basic statement of organization for the NSA Committee, naming the general proposals and program for the rest of the school year.

The proposed program includes: establishment of a purchase card system to be started by John Turtzo; study of the honor system proposal by Eugene Kreider; co-operation with the Intercollegiate Conference on Government in an effort to encourage voting in the primary elections this year; and also, an effort to open the Library stacks to the students.

The total membership now includes twelve men with Everett Thierfelder named to the chairmanship. The other officers are John Turtzo, vice-chairman to work on the Purchase Card System, Eugene Kreider, vice-chairman to investigate the Honor System, Ronald Haggood, Secretary-Treasurer, and Harold Iverson, Publicity Director.

The Student Council at their regular business meeting on Wednesday, April 19, 1950 voted on and approved the organization as the NSA Committee of the Student Council.

Social Plans Feature Movie, Spring Dance

Sports Films, Barn Dance Enliven Campus Calendar

A combined Cedar Crest-Muhlenberg informal dance will be held in Curtis Hall on the Cedar Crest campus on Friday, May 12, 1950, at 8:00 p.m. Sal Berg's combo from Newark, New Jersey will provide music for the evening. Buses will leave from the Student Union Building to take Muhlenberg men to the dance.

On Friday, May 5, 1950 at 7:30 p.m., movies will be shown in the Science Auditorium. The N.C.A.A. basketball playoffs of 1947 and 1948, together with swimming and diving films, and three cartoons will be included in the show.

On Friday, May 19, 1950, at 8:30 p.m., a barn dance will be

Vacancies Available In Veterans Housing

According to Dr. Shankweiler, chairman of the Veterans' Housing Committee, there will be some vacancies in the Veterans' Apartments after June 1st.

All persons who are interested in securing apartments are requested to report to Miss Kuntz in the Biology Department. All men who have applied and who are still interested in securing an apartment must check their applications with Miss Kuntz and bring it up to date. Men who have not applied but wish to be considered for an apartment must fill in an application blank before May 15th.

Veterans will still have first choice for these apartments but if there are not enough veterans to fill them other married students will be considered.

Only applications dated or re-dated after May 1st will be considered by the Committee.

McAuley Announces Plans For Renovating Dormitory Rooms

East Hall Repairs Top Summer Remodeling Program; Lists New Plumbing, Lighting Systems And Flooring

by Vince Nardone

Mr. John McAuley, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds of Muhlenberg College, announced today the plans of the College for renovating the campus dormitories. Work is to begin immediately after graduation and is to be completed before the opening of the 1950-1951 school year.

East Hall Receives Most

According to Mr. McAuley, the biggest part of the program will be in East Hall. There will be a complete renovating program. A complete new plumbing system throughout the building will be installed. The bathrooms will be re-arranged for more efficiency. All bathrooms will have tile floors and walls, marble toilet partitions and shower stalls. The present wiring system will be discontinued for a complete new wiring system which will include new overhead lights and an adequate number of outlets in each room. All floors are to be fastened firmly and then the corridors will be renewed with magasite and asphalt tile. The bedrooms and study rooms will also have asphalt tile floors. The stairs will be tipped with either steel or rubber to make them quiet. A fire alarm system and emergency lighting system which will meet with state regulations will be installed. The wooden entries will be replaced by brick. The walks will be made wider. The building will also be redecorated exteriorly and interiorly with the exterior being made waterproof.

West Hall Improvements

In West Hall, Mr. McAuley announces that the major part of the repairs will be done in the dorm rooms. If the budget permits, work will also be done on the classrooms. The walls of the dorm rooms, the bad areas of the corridors and the lobby, and some of the classrooms will be refinished. In the wings, door frames will be reset and door checks will be installed to prevent door-slamming. All exterior stone work will be caulked to prevent water seepage. The interiors of North Hall, Liberty Hall, and South Hall will be painted.

New Lighting System

Many minor repairs will be made also. There will be an installation of new lighting and the painting of the Science Building Auditorium. The Commons will

Forty-three Percent Of Voters Elects 1950-51 Student Council

Returns Of This Week's Balloting Establish Nine Members For Next Year's Student Government

On Monday, April 24, four hundred sixty members of the Student Body cast ballots to choose nine men from a slate of twenty-four for the 1950-51 Student Council. The men who were elected by 43.8% of the Student Body are: Jerry Albert, Theodore Argeson, William Baker, Laverne Etshman, John Kaelberer, David Long, Claude Schmitt, John Stadlander, and Edward Teter.

Albert, an Allentonian, is a member of Alpha Tau Omega, the Cardinal Key Society, and the Mask and Dagger Club. He has served as track manager and class treasurer.

Members Active In Many Fields

Argeson, whose home is in Paterson, N. J., is a member of the WEEKLY staff and of Lambda Chi Alpha. Another member of Lambda Chi is Baker, who has been elected captain of next year's basketball team. This native of Tyrone, Pa., is also a member of the track team.

Etshman, who hails from Sayre, Pa., is a member of Phi Kappa Tau. He has played for the college track and soccer team. Kaelberer, also a member of Phi Tau, is general chairman of the WSSF drive on campus. By earning letters in soccer and tennis he has become a member of the M Club. He is also active in Lutheran Student Association.

Represent Varied College Interests

Long, who comes from Shamokin, Pa., has been president and vice-president of his class. A member of the Cardinal Key Society, MCA, NSA and ODK, he was also active as Student Chairman of ICL week. Schmitt is a town student from Bethlehem who has taken part in various intramural sports.

Stadlander, a Brooklynite, is active in MCA, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and the Pre-theological Club. He was a member of the "Murder in the Cathedral" cast during ICL week. Teter, a transfer student from Temple University, is a member of the Forensic Council.

Muhlenberg Physicist Wins Oak Ridge Prize

Williams Passes Series Of Scholastic And FBI Exams

Mr. George A. Frounfelker, Jr., head of the Test Bureau, recently announced that Richard G. Williams was awarded the Radiological Physics Scholarship. This award is a part of the physics program conducted under the auspices of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Atomic Energy Commission.

Richard C. Williams is the senior who won the Radiological Physics Scholarship to the University of Rochester from the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies.

Williams, a senior physics major from West Catasauqua, Pa., was notified by Dr. Russel S. Poor, chairman of the University Rela-

Fraternity Choristers Sing Tomorrow Night

An Inter-Fraternity songfest will be held Friday, April 28, 1950, 8:30 p.m., at the New Pioneer Band Headquarters on North 10th Street. Each fraternity will have both a group chorus and a quartet. The group singers will give one of their respective fraternity songs, and the best group will receive a cup. The quartets will sing something other than a fraternity related song, and the best singing quartet will receive a plaque.

Jacques Rasser of Lambda Chi Alpha is chairman of the program and Glen Bowersox, a faculty member and also a Phi Sigma Kappa will be Master of Ceremonies. The other committee members are: Robert Wiener, Alpha Tau Omega; William Dougherty, Phi Kappa Tau; John Bankosky, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Robert Bieber, Phi Sigma Kappa; and Sidney Levine, Phi Epsilon Pi.

Judging the choral groups will be members of the faculty.

Our "Music-Deficient" Muhlenberg College Termed Incommensurate by Culture-Seeker

The student at Muhlenberg is confronted daily with notices on the bulletin boards which pertain to the rehearsals of the Choir, the Band, the Glee Club and other musical organizations. This proves that Muhlenberg men are definitely interested in music. There are two, and only two, courses offered to musically inclined students: History and Appreciation of Music, and the Science of Sacred Music. Couldn't something be done so there would be more opportunity for the musically inclined at Muhlenberg?

There are at least as many men on campus, if not more, who are as interested in music as in art. Yet, at Muhlenberg, art may be studied in seventeen different courses, while music is offered only in two courses.

The contribution to the education of a well rounded student is one of the aims of a liberal arts college. Music is an art, and if it is repressed on campus, the resulting condition is not conducive to the versatility of the Muhlenberg graduate.

Among the divisions of musical study which could be offered without transforming a college into a Music School are courses in Harmony, Choral Arranging, and Instrumental Arranging and Playing. Innovations of this type would improve greatly the present inadequate status of music at Muhlenberg.

Still an easier and more practical method of furthering music at Muhlenberg would be to give credit for participation in those musical activities already present at Muhlenberg. If this were done, the already excellent quality of Muhlenberg music could be improved. In addition to this, it is a mark of a well versed liberal arts student not only to be exposed to a few beneficial music courses, but to have them recorded on his transcript as well.

C.M.

From Where I Sit

Increasing Complexity of Modern Education Entails A Patterning of College Activities

As is true every spring, we are again having a period when the seniors are watchfully waiting and hoping. Many have already made arrangements for their post-graduation activity; most have not. There is the usual amount of remorse about opportunities not seized, advice disregarded and foresight neglected.

Planning Needed

There is in this a lesson for men who will be continuing college next year. Namely, never has there been greater need for careful planning of educational careers. As society becomes increasingly complex, it is easier for it and its component parts to get out of adjustment. This means that the individual in this complex, free society must pay more and more systematic attention to his place in it and to his capacity to adjust to unexpected changes.

Seek Own Assistance

This points up and emphasizes the importance of a student's initiative in seeking assistance in his planning. The counseling service is available at Muhlenberg and, as I see it, if a man comes up to his senior year still floundering, he has himself largely to blame. Furthermore, in spite of the fact that competition has increased, so have opportunities—for example Fulbright scholarships, industrial fellowships and specialized business opportunities. With careful planning and good work Muhlenberg men can ready themselves to grasp the opportunities they seek. Muhlenberg can help them but it must have something with which to work.—SRM.

MULE KICKS

Afraid To Show Faces

Dear Editor:

I doubt if there is a student on the Muhlenberg Campus who will deny that one of the most important factors towards developing good "school spirit" is an active cheerleading squad. It seems that certain unfortunate conditions have led the student body to feel that the development of such a group is an impossibility. Well, this interested student begs to differ with the consensus of opinion. I feel that a little cooperation on the part of several interested students would do miracles to alleviate this situation. So what do you say gang? Let's get hot on this deal. I know there are good men available, but it seems that they are afraid to show their faces. We've got to beat this thing; and we will.

Dick Benter

Cheers For Spring Green

Dear Editor:

After enduring years of soggy socks and sloppy shoes I bow in reverence to the wizard supervisor of the grounds, Mr. McAuley, who is responsible for the recent grading of the paths. This year for the first time I do not have to change shoes every two hours, and I deftly avoid the few remaining puddles left in the paths.

In Profile—A Modest Female Soda-Jerkess Who Likes Piano

Reticent, Good-natured, "Dotty" Balks, Blushes At Questions Pertaining To Her "Male-interests"

"Dotty" Clemens, (no relation to Samuel Clemens) Snack Bar soda-seller, smiles and makes a professional-like head on a milk shake.

Born in Sellersville, Pennsylvania, "Dotty," as she is called by all who know her, moved to Dublin, Pennsylvania, and spent the earlier years of her life there. A few years later, Mr. Clemens, having the true pioneer spirit, packed up and moved to Center Valley. Dotty attended Allentown High School and there became interested in music and choir work. After high school she entered Westminster Choir College at Princeton, New Jersey. She was graduated four years later with sufficient knowledge and experience in the field of music to instruct pupils on the organ and to organize choirs for church groups. Dotty is an ardent church enthusiast and she hopes to enter the social missions field to work, particularly in the slum areas. At present she is waiting for her call into church work with the hope of satisfying her yearning to help others enjoy music.

Finding her hobbies of reading and painting insufficient to while away her period of watchful waiting, Dotty found work in the Commons. After a few months she quit and found a job working for a church organization. Finding the work not quite in her line she went back to her old job in the Commons. Scotty Wood needed extra help in the Student Center Building so Dotty was promoted to the position of "only female behind the snack bar on the campus."

When we asked Dotty if she had any male prospects in sight she just laughed and kept it nebulous by saying, "Is this necessary?" We said yes, and she laughed again. So, who knows? Maybe she has a secret crush on some unwary young professor and doesn't want anyone to know who he is until the time is ripe for her to make her catch.

Lecture Types Are Many And Varied At True Arts Colleges

Hapless Scholar Experiments With Different Ways of Listening as He Runs Gamut of Classes

by Bud Creveling

It is time for the eight o'clock class. Very eagerly Julius Spearfinger takes his seat, opens his notebook. He is ready to begin. Finally, somnambulistically, the professor saunters in. Methodically he opens his book and with exaction adjusts his chair. Then, with a gleam of satisfaction, he seats himself and begins his lecture. "Now (pause, and then very slowly) I would like to (pause) explain to you (longer pause, yawn) the hundred and sixty-seven (pause again) points to the Kartoberman Slaberation. Poor Julius, before point forty-nine is reached he feels as if he had just sat through a hygiene lecture, and by 8:50 he is fast asleep.

Head Appears At Door

A kind classmate awakens him and somehow he manages to get to his next class. He sits there, half-asleep, waiting for the instructor. Suddenly the door bursts open, and a head pops through the crack. Said head glares about menacingly, and then the body too slithers craftily into the room. The teacher cocks himself on the very edge of the chair, as if he were about to spring out at the students, and he begins the lecture. "Today, do you understand, today we will study the cause and effects, I say, of Slurgerism in Blaberonia. Blaberonia, do you all know where that is?" Speculatively, he gazes around. "Speak up!" Bang, bang, bang, he pounds his fist upon the table. He leaps up and grabs poor Julius by the collar and shakes him vigorously. "You don't know where Blaberonia is, Spearfinger? Why don't you speak up?" After an hour of this Julius is completely awakened and retires to the Library so that he can calm himself enough to take notes for the rest of the day.

This One Delicate

Finally it is 11:30 and time for his next class. This time he decides to be dispassionate and unemotional, prepared for anything. The professor commences. His voice is thick and husky, and demands unfaltering attention. He smooths his hand delicately and finely around the edge of the table, then down one of its legs, and a few minutes later over one of his books. A piece of chalk is his next victim. So very gently he runs the tips of his fingers over it, and around it. Every now and then a spasm of ecstasy lights up his face, but no one sees it, for all eyes are glued hypnotically to those ever-roaming, hypersensual hands. By the time the period is over, Julius wants to go somewhere and wax his skis.

Feet Are Prominent

After a bowl of cold bean soup and a raw hamburger Julius hustles to his next class. He is late, but sneaks in unnoticed. When he is seated he discovers that he cannot find the professor. All he can see are two immense feet propped up on the table. Being a logical college student, however, he concludes that in the shoes must be feet, and connected to the feet legs, and to the legs the professor. His conclusion is verified when he discerns a voice, which sounds as if it were coming from a great distance. Occasionally, he is able to pick up a word or two for his notes.

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

After a succulent repast consisting of skimmed yak milk and cobra cutlets, and, as we sat there watching the smoke rings paying lazy obeisance to the ceiling awhile, it came to us like an "F" that the athletes of the "M" Club deserve a plug. Muhlenberg will be sans an "M" club show this year, unfortunately but to " . . . bolster up the treasury so's we can have a little brawl," the boys are hawking tickets to the Earle. Just between you and me and the compost the tickets are valid any time.

"I'm sorry," apologized the elevator gal at Hess's. "Did I stop too fast?" "Oh, no," seethed the East Haller, "I ALWAYS wear my underwear down around my ankles."

From bed to hearse: The perturbed language instructor demanded, "Why don't you answer when I call your name?" The sleepy M'Berger yawned and said matter-of-factly, "I nodded my head." The instructor, seeing his chance for his periodic coup de grace issued (with a vigor and bounce unmatched even in Freud), "You don't expect me to hear the rattle all the way up here, do you?"

Noteworthy: It took a heap of resourcefulness for WMUH's Harry Bradley to keep from walking around campus half nude last week. Reckon as how harassed Harry left his suitcase containing his unmentionables, (and his mentionables also) on the train from New York.

Huzzah, Huzzah . . . speaking of resourcefulness, some "mind" finally erected a febrile looking sign on the Student Center Building (not pretty you understand, but functional, functional!) proclaiming to all the official title of our boarded Taj Mahal. It's a good thing, we never would have known it otherwise.

Which reminds us of the widely known Englishman (was it Andrew Erskine?) who, when asked by one of the usual of the creepy constabulary found at tea parties, why he was born in England instead of America, replied: "I wanted to be near my mother."

Mr. Anthonymourad's advice to the lovelorn: Remember, your girl still enjoys candy and flowers. Be a spender. Let her know that you remember—speak of them occasionally.

Sauce for the gander: The Reverend Mr. Glen Bowersox has found a new group of analogies with which to illustrate his chapel sermons . . . a book of cartoons. Lee hats of the week go to Ranny Lewin and Ray Boomhower. Ranny snagged himself a squaw in the form of Shane Beshkin, from Allentown. Boomhower already has a wife and some dependents. In order to keep all mouths fed until the teaching job he was trained for comes through, Ray is doing what a lot of us wouldn't think of "lowering ourselves" to do. He is working as a laborer on campus with the ground crew. We all admire you, Ray!

Critic Hails Double Issue Of Arcade As Best Ever Put Forth By M'Berg Literati

The state of the arts today is a healthy one judging by the current issue of ARCADE, Muhlenberg College's student publication. The issue itself is a handsome one from its new permanent cover by Martin Weisman to its exciting contents.

The editors have, wisely, presented on introduction for the issue, "A Clarification," that is well-needed. Such a clarification should lay a strong foundation, critically, for future editors of ARCADE.

Best Issue Yet

So far, only the finest compliments have been heard concerning the new number, most students and faculty members going so far as to say it is the best issue of the magazine yet published. Mr. Cole, the editor of ARCADE this year had previously stated that he held off bringing out two issues this year because not enough good material was available for two numbers. Thus this one double number of such a high quality.

Most of the art is easily understood in this issue. It is Donald Nowers', "They Who Have Walked in Darkness Have Seen a Great Light" which has puzzled some, but if the picture is given a chance there will be no trouble seeing the motif of hands in the abstraction—the symbolism being prayer.

Much favorable comment has been heard regarding Richard Dorfman's short story The Idylls of Kane, and Edward Burnett's sensitive study The Weakest Link. Richard Swavely's familiar essay The American Dilemma is a smart and sharply written bit of humor.

MULE KICKS

The grounds are beginning to show traces of spring green again and the grounds men are doing a fine job of covering it up. Seriously though, the lawns of this College are something we should be proud of. Although some students are doing their level best to ruin this delicious green blanket. I am sure these men are in the minority. Let's all support Mr. McAuley in his campaign to "make our campus green."

Yours truly,
Dry Socks

Recipient of Letter

Dear Editor:
Recently I received a letter from Muhlenberg College on a #1 Bond paper telling me to stay off the lawns. This is perhaps a great waste of money . . . I suggest macadamizing the entire campus.

Yours truly,
Thrifty

More Space Wanted

Dear Editor:
I think that the senior ball should be held at the "Owl's Nest" in Emmaus. At least it's not much bigger than the Frolic Ballroom in Allentown where it will be held. The Frolic is too small for such a gala affair. We will have to push people out of the way to get to the dance floor because the floor will be so crowded.

It is too late now, no doubt, but in the future I would like to see big dances held at a big place. Everybody and his sister goes to the proms and everybody and his sister too wants a seat.

Disgruntled

The Muhlenberg Band will meet in order to hold nominations for officers for the next semester on Tuesday, May 2, at 4:30 p.m. in the Band Room.

Corbiere Installs New PSI Fraternity Chapter

Dr. Anthony S. Corbiere, head of the Romance Language Department, will install the Phi Omicron Chapter of Phi Sigma Iota at the Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia, in Fredericksburg, Virginia, on Friday, April 28, 1950.

Phi Omicron will be the forty-second chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, which is the National Honor Romance Language fraternity which was recently admitted into the association of college honor societies.

Dr. Corbiere, national historian for the fraternity and editor of its "Newsletter" for the past twenty-one years, has stated that he considers this award a great honor to PSI, since this society was the only one admitted of the twenty which applied for membership at the Association's annual meeting, held in Chicago.

In 1925, six honor societies joined to form the ACHS in order to consider problems of mutual interest. Today the association has grown to include twenty-one members, four of which have chapters on the Muhlenberg campus: Omicron Delta Kappa, student leadership and activities; Phi Alpha Theta, history; Tau Kappa Alpha, forensics; and Phi Sigma Iota classics.

Due to a lack of reservations for the weekend, the Junior Class has decided to cancel its Junior Dad's Weekend which was scheduled for April 29 and 30.

Arcade Is A Success

A highlight of the issue is the seven poems by Thomas Cole, a few of which have been found difficult by several readers. Luckily, the artistic integrity of the poems has not been questioned. This is a healthy sign.

Lecture Types At True Arts College

By now poor Julius is very tired; he wishes that he could attend just one interesting lecture. Finally he struggles into his last class. At 2:29 on the nose the professor storms in. Like a madman he unfastens his brief-case and arranges everything on the table. Intently watching the second-hand of his watch he raises his right arm slowly. All the students are alert with pens and pencils poised. "Ready, get set," and at exactly 2:30, "Go," and he vigorously swings his arm down. He's off—"Bla, bla, bla, bla, bla . . ." for fifty minutes straight. The leaves of the notebooks fly, and the students are in a wild sweat. At the end of the period Julius is so beat he doesn't even have enough strength to zip his notebook. However, he mutters oaths under his breath and vows to quit school and look for a job first thing the next morning.

All veterans' charge accounts will be closed after Friday, April 28.

... Student Council Reports ...

At the regular meeting of Student Council held Wednesday, April 19, 1950, the following business was transacted.

John Mangini reported that he would attempt to acquire a mule costume, which will be worn by two students during the coming football season, to replace our live mule, Judy.

Social Chairman Louis Colombo reported the rest of the semester's social activities. On Friday, May 5, sports movies featuring the N.C.A.A. basketball playoffs of 1947 and 1948 will be shown in the Science Auditorium. A barn dance will take place on the College Mall on Friday, May 19, 1950.

Jack Crider reported that the Student Council will hold their banquet at Howard Johnson's Restaurant on Saturday, June 3, 1950 at 6:30 p.m.

Chairman of the NSA Reorganization Committee, David Hoh, reported on the reorganization of the NSA on the Muhlenberg campus, to be headed by Everett Thierfelder. The Organization was accepted by Student Council as the NSA Committee of the Student Council.

President William Lybrand reported that the College cannot charge rental fees to outside organizations for the use of College property because this is a tax free institution, and such action would necessitate a heavy tax to be imposed on the College. Lybrand also reported that the Administration is organizing a Committee on Academic Dishonesty, consisting of five faculty members and the four chair officers of Student Council.

Mules Defeat Swarthmore, Lose To Lehigh In Two Weekend Contests

Conway Hurls One-Hitter For 3-0 Win

Hal Conway's one-hit pitching for Lehigh coupled with Muhlenberg's inept fielding were responsible for the Mules' 6 to 0 defeat on the Muhlenberg field last Saturday afternoon. This was the fourth setback in five games this season for the Mule nine, who last year were Middle Atlantic Champions.

Marty Martzell, the Cardinal and Grey's "Monty Stratton," pitched the first eight innings, and any other time his performance would have been good enough to win. With any luck and better fielding, the courageous Martzell would have held the Engineers scoreless until the eighth inning, and with any kind of hitting by 'Berg, the outcome could have been entirely different.

Errors Lead To Score

As it was, Lehigh jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning with the help of two Muhlenberg errors and one base knock.

Gigon, the lead-off hitter, reached first on an error by third baseman Swartley. Kennedy singled to center where Rollo fumbled the ball, permitting both runners to advance an extra base. Gabriel popped out to Swartley, and then Borofski hit a charge grounder to Mazzucca who threw out the batter as Gigon scored on the play.

Tanguay Gets Only Hit

The score remained 1-0 as both pitchers hand-cuffed the sluggers. Bill Tanguay, 'Berg's veteran first-sacker spoiled Conway's bid for a no-hitter by lining a single into right field in the fifth inning.

In the sixth inning, the Mule nine made its greatest bid to break into the scoring column when they loaded the sacks on three walks with two down, but Conway forced Rog Tolosky to ground out to the shortstop.

Gabriel Blasts Triple

The duel lasted until Lehigh came to bat in the top of the eighth. Martzell, who was tiring and having trouble with his left leg in his follow through, was greeted with a booming triple by Dick Gabriel into left-center. He tagged up a moment later to score on Borofski's fly to Roveda in right field. The Brown and White diamond-men scored their third and final run off Marty on Epel's single, a stolen base, and Ven Vertloh's one-baser.

Martzell was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the last half of the inning. Any other day he would probably have been a winner, but Conway pitched magnificently to beat him.

Buehrle, Rubbert Finish

Paul Buehrle and Al Rubbert finished the game in the ninth as

Rain and Wet Ground Cancels Hen Contest

Lou Cardinal's Muhlenberg Mule nine was held inactive when the Delaware game scheduled for Tuesday was called off due to wet grounds caused by a steady Monday evening rain. The Mules will resume on Saturday against Temple at Philadelphia.

Due to the heavy schedule ahead and the lack of open dates, Mr. Lawson of the Athletic Association has announced that the postponed baseball games between Muhlenberg and Lafayette, Delaware and Villanova respectively, have been cancelled.

Tolosky Homer In 9th Proves Margin

Muhlenberg's Mules copped their first win of the new diamond season after having dropped three close decisions by nosing out the Swarthmore College nine, 7-6, in a Friday afternoon battle on the Muhlenberg field. The margin of victory was provided by a rousing ninth inning homerun clout by Mule catcher Roger Tolosky with Don Laauwe on base.

Schaadt Winner

Dalton Schaadt, after a rocky start during which he gave up five runs in the first three innings, settled down to strike out eight Swarthmore batsmen. The Mule righthander, who went the entire route, was backed by good, steady fielding and an eight hit attack. Johnny Rollo, Hal Swartley, Bill Tanguay, and Tolosky smashed two hits each for the Bergmen, while Miller, Cusano and Palaro led the Swarthmore assault.

Jones Proves Puzzle

The Cardinal and Grey nine was behind throughout and could not solve the slants of Jones, the visitors' clever hurler, until Tolosky poled his game winning drive in the last half of the ninth. Coach Lou Cardinal inserted two pinch hitters in the ninth, Lou Hoffman and Laauwe, in a last effort to cop

Powerful St. Josephs Tracksters Give First Defeat to Fellowmen

Ernie Fellows' crack track team lost its first meet in four this season as a powerful St. Joseph's College crew topped the Cardinal and Grey cindermen by a 78½-47½ score on Tuesday in the Muhlenberg Stadium. The Hawks took eight first places to six for the Mules. Their overwhelming power in the running events more than compensated for the Mules' superiority in the field events.

Pulley, England Star

Muhlenberg was not without its share of outstanding performances, however. Bill Pulley, stellar Mule field man, took top individual honors by scoring a triple, emerging victorious in both the high and low hurdles, in addition to a first in the discus. Pulley's achievements marked the first time this season that any performer in a Muhlenberg meet had scored wins in three separate events. Not to be outdone, George England broke the school record for the javelin throw by heaving the rod 193 feet, 9¼ inches.

Strait and Boyer Win

Russ Strait and "Rip" Boyer were the other two Mule winners. Strait was victorious in the shotput with a heave of 42 feet, 2½ inches, while Boyer retained his unbeaten status in the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, 8½ inches. The Mules had one casualty in the meet, when "Tex" Williams pulled a muscle in one of the hurdle events. He is expected to be sidelined for about 2 weeks.

Mule Netmen Drop 2 Matches as Bucknell and Lehigh Gain Wins

The Cardinal and Grey netmen fell to their third Straight defeat in as many outings last Saturday when the Bisons of Bucknell swamped the Mules 8 to 1 on the Lewistown courts.

Bill Dougherty was the only Mule able to salvage a victory as he went the limit to down Bucknell's Graydon Rogers in a three set match, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3. The doubles teams are still seeking their first victory of the season as they again went down to defeat in three straight sets.

The Summary:

Bill Reitz (B) defeated Ed Vozella, 6-2, 6-2; Jack Koch (B) defeated Bob Kantra, 6-1, 6-3; Andy Mathieson (B) defeated John Kaelberer, 6-0, 6-1; Nick Schloeder (B) defeated Dick Acker 6-1, 6-1; and Jack Burnell (B) defeated George Wall, 6-0, 6-0.

Koch-Mathieson (B) defeated Dougherty-Vozella, 6-1, 6-2; Reitz-Parnell defeated Kaelberer-Kantra; Derfenderfer-Schloeder (B) defeated Acker-Wall, 6-3, 6-3.

Muhlenberg netmen dropped their second consecutive match of the 1950 season, as the Lehigh racquetballers shut out Dr. Shankweiler's Cardinal and Grey crew by a 9-0 count. The contest was held at the Oakmont Courts here in Allentown last Wednesday afternoon.

Despite the lopsided count, the Mule team's play was a decided improvement over its previous defeat by Temple, 8-1, since six of the nine matches went to the three set limit.

Summary:

On the Informal Side

By Bob Godnick

An Hour With The Coaches

Football Coach Howie Baughmann was emphasizing the fact that his returning gridiron veterans would play a prominent role in the 1950 edition of the Cardinal and Grey eleven.

"We've got three of our starting four backfield men back from last season in England, Kreutzberg, and Jackson, who operated alongside Jack Crider. All of these boys will be mainstays once again. We've been giving a lot of attention to the newcomers, but these three are still the backbone of my attack."

"Same thing in the line, though there are only four regulars back. Dietz and Berman along with Dikon and Piefly will see plenty of action. All of the newcomers will need the veterans to backbone the club. Other veterans are going to see a lot of action—the Woodworths, Wescoe, Rubbert, Ruyak, Reed, Yanuzzi, Muloney, Stefkovitch."

"What about this Mills?" I asked, referring to the freshman quarterback of the past campaign. "You've got England and Rubbert . . ."

"Mills will see a lot of action. England is still my number one man, and we've been trying to switch Rubbert to end."

"Say, where's Ernie?" this reporter inquired.

"Oh, you mean the successful coach?" quipped Tom Triplett. "He must just stepped out for a minute; he oughta' be back any second."

"He's certainly had a great start this year, hasn't he?" Ernie Fellows walked into the office.

"Hiya Ernie. How's the successful coach getting along?"

"O, I see you've been talking to these guys. What have they been telling you?"

"Hey, Ernie! Try that big seat behind the desk," Baughman joked.

"All good coaches sit in easy chairs."

"I wonder what you guys are gonna' say when I lost a meet. We've got a tough one tomorrow." (St. Josephs)

"What about tomorrow?" I asked, addressing Ernie. St. Joe's is loaded again this year, I guess."

"You guess? Come here a minute. Look at these times. Kelly 4:25 in the mile, and 2:00 in the half. Duffy, 9:50 in the two mile!" Ernie went on with a long list of names and times of the St. Joe's team while Baughman was inviting Triplett to a trip downtown to a steam bath.

"You're pretty strong in the field events, aren't you? You've got Pulley, England, Boyer, Strait . . ."

"Oh yeah. I'm not worried about the field events, with the exception of the pole vault. And I think with some support from the runners, we might take 'em."

"Getting past St. Joe's might mean a championship season, don't you think?"

"Very possible. Of course Lafayette will be tough. Right now though, I'm looking to St. Joe. I promise you one thing. We'll make a meet of it."

Ernie went on about his cindermen, in the course of which he answered Baughman's query that the track would be in good shape.

With that, I got up, and thanking the three coaches, left with the material I needed. I do go to school too, you know.

Ernie Fellows' Mule track team continues to hold the spotlight in the Cardinal and Grey spring sports activity as they won their third meet of the year in as many starts, defeating Gettysburg and Lehigh in a triangular meet at Gettysburg last Saturday afternoon. The Mules garnered ten first places out of the fourteen events in the meet. The tally was Muhlenberg 69, Gettysburg 54, Lehigh 31.

Sportorial . . . .

Muhlenberg College advertises itself as a liberal arts institution, offering to the students a cultural education and a well-rounded program including recreational and athletic facilities. It is one phase of the latter that we wish to discuss the so-called tennis courts, located, to the unknowing, near West Hall between the baseball field and 26th Street. It is this corner's complaint that it is almost the end of April and the three clay courts have not been touched or put into condition. True, there is a macadam court which has a net (in name only) up the year 'round, is permanently lined, and can be played on! But one court can't take care of Muhlenberg's students, the townspeople, and the neighborhood kids.

This deplorable condition might be excused as a "late start in fixing the courts, etc."—except that these courts have not been in playing shape, or any other kind of condition since the spring of 1948, and at the rate they are being prepared now, it will be many springs before students will be able to use them for tennis.

We are not trying to be "nasty" or "otherwise," we just want to know why this situation prevails or if any steps are being taken to remedy it. Granted, we didn't come to Muhlenberg to play tennis, but without a doubt the College recognizes the need for physical exercise, as can be seen in their intra-mural program, compulsory physical education course for students, and participation in intercollegiate sports.

An even better question is "Where is the College's pride?" We think that this institution would be ashamed to have visitors come to the campus, see the tennis courts, and then ask why they were not kept up. The only answer suggests to the visitor a lackadaisical, careless, and inefficient attitude on the part of the Administration. We must realize that in order for Muhlenberg to keep its high standards, good name, and to appeal to prospective students and supporters, it must keep its existing physical plant in tip-top shape, instead of dreaming only of things to come.

D.K.

Coast-To-Coast Network Will Salute Muhlenberg's Martzall

Muhlenberg's number one baseball headliner so far this year is Marty Martzall, from Denver, Pa., war veteran with an artificial left leg whose story and picture have already appeared in sports pages around the East, notably the Philadelphia Bulletin, the New York Herald-Tribune, the New York Mirror, and the Lancaster Intelligencer Journal, as well as our own Call-Chronicle.

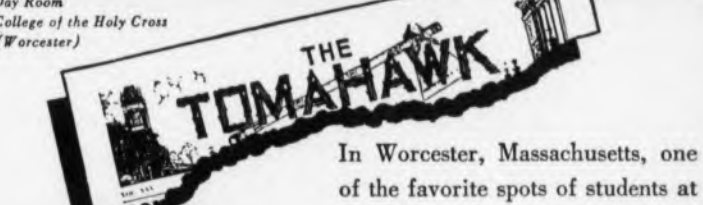

Marty's next move is radio—Coast-to-Coast over the Mutual Network (WIP, to you here in Allentown.) Bill Brandt, our public relations expert, cut a 5-minute interview with Marty on a WMUH platter Tuesday, and if it works, you will be hearing Muhlenberg's "Stratton Story" on Stoney McLinn's "Sports Parade," either this Saturday, or next about half past four in the afternoon.

That's WIP, Philadelphia, 4:30 p.m., but they'll also be hearing about "Martzall of Muhlenberg" in Boston, Chicago, and Los Angeles if that recording by Marty and Bill passes the examination test in Stoney McLinn's studio.

The CIARLA Office will be open next week, Monday thru Friday from 11:00-12:30 p.m. daily, for men who have not picked up their copy of the 1950 Ciarla.

boiler, complete reconditioning of one old boiler and installation of additional boiler house equipment. Long needed repairs to East Hall Dormitory will be made for approximately $60,000. This upper classmen's dormitory is one of the original buildings on the campus and is in dire need of renovations on bath, floors, stairways, wiring and entrances. The bonded indebtedness can be reduced by $100,000. The present sum of bonded indebtedness stands at $597,000 and it could be reduced to $497,000. Interest and carrying charges will drop approximately $3,000. The Quadrangle of East Hall Dormitory can be completed for about $435,000. The College needs additional housing facilities in order to properly care for the resident student body. Construction of the new addition, approximately 347,000 cubic feet, should double the number of accommodations available.

Not only will Muhlenberg College be benefitted by this drive, but also the Seminary in Philadelphia, since this also is in definite need of repairs.

Tyson Attends Pocono Confab

Dr. Levering Tyson is in Sky Top, (Poconos), Pennsylvania, today where he is attending the meeting of the Middle States Association. The meeting is from April 26 to 29.

Dr. Tyson is on the Commission of Institution of Higher Education Committee. The main function at the present meeting will be to evaluate thirty colleges and universities.

Last year, Dr. Tyson was President of the entire association. He has also held the position of chairman on inspection parties who have evaluated such widely-known schools as West Point, United States Maritime College, Coast Guard Academy, Annapolis, and the United States Merchant Marine Academy.

Spanish Club Plans Farewell Dinner

A meeting of the Spanish Club was held at the home of Dr. Anthony S. Corbiere on Monday, April 17, 1950. A short informal meeting was followed by musical entertainment. James Perez, the club's president, played colorful Latin and Spanish melodies on his accordion, and Clement Heverly played the piano. All the members then took part in a song-fest. Mrs. Corbiere served the group refreshments.

The Club will have their farewell banquet on Friday, April 28, 1950, at the Astor Restaurant in Allentown. A sixty minute film in Spanish, titled "The Adventures of Chico," will be shown Wednesday, May 3, 1950 in West Hall.

M&D Sneak Preview

The role of Boris Kolenkhov is capably handled by Joe Best. Kolenkhov's ally in exile is Olga Katrina, played by Alice Smith. The wealthy Kirby's are Joe Bayly and Jean Miller. The maid, Rheba, is Marion Fekte, while the role of her boyfriend Donald will be shared by Ed Berdick and Jim McCauley.

The Iceman, DePinna, is portrayed by Marv Berger, while Norma Lewis plays the drunken actress, Gay Wellington. Filling out the remaining roles are Murray Stahl as Government Agent Henderson and Lou Soper and Parker Grow as the G-Men.

Sneak Preview a Success

Some twenty individuals were present last night, when the dress rehearsal was performed. This audience reaction test proved quite successful as the comments at the end of the show were favorable. Each person of the sneak preview audience was given a slip of paper on which they placed their comments which ranged from "the funniest thing I have seen on the stage in a long time," to "a fine performance of one of Hart & Kaufman's best." With this praise, the M & D performers hope that the student reaction these next three nights will be the same.

be caulked and made waterproof. The Science Building and Library towers will be waterproofed.

There will be a complete new electrical distribution system which will bring in a new 12,000 volt primary service to campus. All wiring to the dorms will be in underground ducts thus eliminating the present overhead wiring system. A new transformer vault will be built in the Boiler House Building. Penna. Power and Light Company is planning on building new transformers in the new vault thus eliminating the present overhead transformers. By making this change to 12,000 volt 3-phase wiring, much better and more efficient lighting can be expected.

Mr. McCauley also plans to install eighteen lamp posts which will be placed at strategic points on driveways and walks. New hard-surface walks and resurfacing of present walks and drives is also planned.

tions Division of the Oak Ridge Institute, that he won the scholarship, valued at $2500.

Williams will study at the University of Rochester. There is only one other school, Vanderbilt, which takes winners of these scholarships.

In order to win this award, Williams not only had to pass a stiff set of tests, but he had to also be approved by an F.B.I. investigating committee. This probe into an applicant's life is necessary to preserve the secrecy of the United States' Atomic experiments. The winner of this award must not only be proficient in science, but must also have "a clean slate" as to behavior on national secrecy.

The Chowline

What, no panties? An ex-Muhlenberg student (who had the ill fortune to run into both Smoyer and Hagelman in his first year), off to the Army camp, paid a final call to his dowager aunt the other afternoon. With him he had three or four packages containing a few little toilet articles he had purchased at the last minute, and, proud of his foresight, he brought them out and showed them to her.

"And this," he explained, coming to the last, "is extra razor blades and Foot-Ease."

"Now nice," said the old lady, but there was a shadow of perplexity on her face.

"Just what are footies, dear?" she asked timidly, at length.

Accuracy: Dr. Preston A. Barba, Professor of German now on a year's leave of absence, recently asked the express company to call around and pick up some trunks in preparation for his tour of Europe. When the driver arrived, he asked how much the trunks weighed. "I don't know," Dr. Barba said. "Haven't you got scales in your truck?" "No sir," the driver said. "The Bureau of Weights and Measures won't let us. They say the scales would get inaccurate from bouncing around." "Well, how do you know how much to charge, then?" Professor Barba asked. "Pick up the stuff and guess," the driver said cheerfully, picking up the trunks and guessing.

A new gem from the pen of Dr. Weaber: "Directions for treatment in the case of poison: Put your finger down the victim's throat and stand aside."—Whistling a gay little tune of course.

Campus Donations Boost CHEY

George Rothlein is seen presenting a $100 check to Campus CHEY Day director, William Laird, as Student Council president, William Lybrand looks on.

Rothlein Contributes $100 To Campus CHEY Appeal Drive

College Solicitations Continue Throughout Entire Year According To Chairman Laird

In conjunction with the Campus CHEY Day Appeal held yesterday, May 3, George Rothlein, a member of the Freshman Class, contributed a check for one hundred dollars to the drive.

Rothlein, a resident of Lawrence, Long Island, N. Y., plans to major in business administration and, upon graduation, enter the field of textiles. In a personal interview with a WEEKLY reporter, Rothlein said of the CHEY appeal, "I believe that in supporting the CHEY drive I am helping to rebuild Muhlenberg, so that it may continue its educational program without a financial handicap."

Drive Hits Peak

The drive reached its peak on campus when the student pledges became due yesterday. All students should be familiar with the drive since all received literature which shows how this drive will benefit Muhlenberg.

Bill Laird, chairman of the drive on campus, has set no goal for the Muhlenberg Appeal because he feels that the Muhlenberg student should donate as much as he is able, since all the money collected will help achieve the $780,000 which is needed by the College in order to rebuild the boiler house, repair the various dormitories, finish the East Hall Quadrangle, and work on the Field House.

Any student who has not yet contributed, but who wishes to, may do so by sending his contribution to Bill Laird, Campus Box 48.

Cardinal Key Society Initiates New Men

Mid-Week Chapel Ceremony, Banquet Highlight Affair

At 11 a.m. on Wednesday, May 3, the initiation ceremony of the new Cardinal Key members was held in the College Chapel. A special Cardinal Key Society ceremony was conducted by Martin Weisman, President; David Long, Vice-president; William Keiter, Secretary-Treasurer; and Paul Tudor.

Dean Sherwood R. Mercer was initiated as an honorary member of the Society.

Also initiated into the Society, after having served their apprenticeships in the Fall Term were: John Bankosky, Paul Edleman, William Hetrick and Robert Tooker.

The Spring initiates were: Arthur Altman, William Broad and Andrew Jaros.

That evening, the Cardinal Key Society held its annual banquet at Spurgeons' Hotel. Present at the banquet were the twenty-eight members of the Society and the seven honorary members.

CLT Produces British Drama On 'Berg Stage

Freed Leads Noted Cast As Burns Directs Production

Two Muhlenberg seniors will play important roles in the forthcoming Civic Little Theater production of "Payment Deferred" in the Science auditorium on May 11, 12 and 13. Warren Burns will direct the play and Paul Freed will play the leading role of Will Marble.

Burns, who directed T. S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral" during I.C.T. week, was selected to take over the direction of the production when the regular director, W. Butler Hixson was taken ill.

Freed is a veteran of the Muhlenberg stage and starred as Papa Bonaparte in last year's Mask and Dagger presentation of "Golden Boy."

Mrs. Dorothy Campbell, another familiar face to the Muhlenberg stage, will take the role of Marble's wife, Annie Marble, and their

Group Discusses Farm Policy of Government

Newly-Formed Group Will Discuss Governmental Issues

Farm Policy will be the subject for the second meeting of the newly formed Political Discussion group which will meet at 7:00 p.m., Monday, May 8 in the Chapel Lounge.

The farm policy of the present national administration, including the controversial Brannon Plan and its basic philosophy, will be included in this informal discussion to which all members of the Student Body are invited.

This discussion group is forming in order to discuss vital issues of the current political scene, to stimulate a measure of interest in political activity, and to articulate all political views.

The first meeting of the group took place last month and included a discussion on the foreign policy in the Far East. About thirty persons attended.

Mr. Edgar Teter is chairman pro-tem of the group.

Phi Ep's Stage Sweetheart Ball

On Saturday evening, May 13, Alpha Nu chapter of Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity will sponsor its fourth annual Sweetheart Ball at the Jewish Community Center, Sixth and Chew Streets, Allentown. The dress for this affair will be informal. Hal Romig will provide music for the continuous dancing from nine until twelve.

Sweetheart To Be Chosen

The dance, now an annual event on the Muhlenberg social agenda, will once again feature the choosing of the "Sweetheart of Phi Epsilon Pi." Last year's winner was Miss Judy Farmer of Cedar Crest College.

Invitations have been sent to all other fraternities on campus, and all members of the student body are also invited to attend this affair. Tickets may be secured from any Phi Ep man on campus, or may be purchased at the door at a dollar each.

Alpha Nu chapter has been busily preparing for this gala affair and hopes that all who attend will find a grand evening of entertainment.

Trustees OK Student Members On Administrative Committees

Council Appointees Allowed Voice But No Vote During Policy-Making Confabs In Attempt To Gain Cooperation

A system giving students representation on some of the highest policy making committees in the administration of the College has been approved by the Board of Trustees.

The Student Activities Committee of the Board of Trustees approved a list of students submitted by Student Council who are to sit with the various Trustee Committees, if invited, as representatives of the student body. The recently elected Student Council will have to select new students early in the Fall Term before the system can function effectively, since most of those just chosen are seniors who will have little opportunities to take part in meetings this spring.

Council Selects Names

The approval by the Student Activities Committee was the final step in a series of actions by campus bodies. The Board of Trustees approved the system at its meeting in December, 1949. The Executive Committee of the Student Council selected the names of the representatives. Student Council and its faculty adviser, Mr. Lorish, approved the list on March 9, 1950, and submitted it to the Student Activities Committee. This Committee, composed of three members from the Board of Trustees, three alumni, and three faculty members, with Dr. Perry F. Kendig as the Committee chairman, granted its approval on the list of representatives on April 19, 1950.

Voice But No Vote

These men, who will have a voice but no vote, will sit with the Trustee Committees at the request of the Committee chairman. They customarily meet during October, November, and December in preparation for the Board of Trustee meeting in December.

The students and committees are: William J. Palmer, Religious Interest; Harold B. Humphrey, Jr., Building and Grounds; Norman H. Graff, Student Health and Refractory; Henry D. Northington, Academic Standards; Irvin E. Fry, Student Activities; George H. Sutton, Scholarship; Harold C. Ro-

Local Sig Eps Host District Convention

Dance And Initiation Will Climax Three-Day Conclave

Delegates from six colleges will attend the annual District Three Convention of Sigma Phi Epsilon on May 5, 6 and 7 at the Pennsylvania Iota Chapter House, 2215 Gordon Street.

Guest speakers at the three day affair will be Dean Sherwood R. Mercer and J. Bedford Wooley. Wooley, an architect from Philadelphia, will speak on "Fraternity Idealism," and Dean Mercer will speak on the "Importance of Scholarship in Fraternity Life."

District Governor H. Denton Kriebel of Allentown will direct the discussion during the convention.

Delegates from Johns Hopkins, Lehigh, Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Temple, will take part in the discussion. The weekend will be climaxed by a dance Saturday night and a model initiation Sunday morning.

N.S.A. Displays Art In Student Center

The Muhlenberg Campus Committee of the National Student's Association will sponsor the N.S.A. National Student Art Tour from May 1 to 8. These paintings represent the work of students in N.S.A. affiliated schools throughout the country. The display is located in the Student Lounge.

First prize was given to "The Street" by Charles Annam of the University of Colorado. Mona June Pierce of Allegheny College received honorable mention for her painting, "Seated Figure."

The N.S.A. has been holding short informal orientation meetings at which times different phases of N.S.A. are explained and discussed. All students are urged to attend these meetings and find out what N.S.A. is; what it is doing; and what it can do for Muhlenberg.

Zoole Talks To Science Majors

On Monday evening, May 8, at 7:30 p.m. Leonard Zoole, a physical scientist, will speak to the Science Club on "Research Work in the development of Naval Materials."

Mr. Zoole's talk will deal with research and investigative work in the development of materials for naval use as well as the specifications and test work involved in the laboratory inspection of such materials. It will also cover the use of instrumentals, spectroscopy and the Ray defraction in this work.

Election of officers for the coming term will also be held at this meeting.

Gebert Reveals New Class Selection Rules

Mr. Paul Gebert, Registrar, has announced the dates for course selections by the various classes. They are:

First Semester Seniors and Juniors: May 10, 11.

Sophomores: May 12, 13, 15.

Freshmen: May 16, 17, 18.

All students are to secure instructions and trial schedule blanks in the Registrar's Office on or after May 8. The student must then report to his Adviser (Department Head) and have his course selections approved. On the days designated, he must return the Adviser-approved course selection sheet to the Registrar's Office. At that time he will be placed in sections.

This is a tentative schedule, which the student will get from the Registrar's Office at the beginning of the Fall Term. Provided he has no schedule changes, the student will go through a simplified registration procedure.

Freshmen Attention

During the course selection period, the freshmen should report to the Department Head of the subject in which they intend to major. This choice will be confirmed at the end of their sophomore year.

Benter Leads 1950-51 Cheerleading Squad

At the elections held Thursday, April 27, 1950, Richard Benter was chosen head cheerleader for the school year 1950-1951. Dick is not only captain of the new squad, but he is solely responsible for recruiting and training an entirely new team.

Dick was born in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania in 1930, and he attended Penn School, Nitschmann Junior High School, and Bethlehem High School, from which he graduated with the class of 1948. Benter was very active in high school, serving three years as a cheerleader, and in his senior year in the capacity of co-captain. He also sang in the A Capella Choir, Hi-Y Chorus, and Glee Club, and he took one of the lead parts in the operetta, "Martha." Dick managed the Bethlehem High School baseball team in his last two years.

A major in English, Dick expects to graduate in June, 1952.

Dick Benter, recently elected head cheerleader, has gained his experience at both Muhlenberg and Liberty High School in his hometown, Bethlehem.

Student Council Is Major Obligation, Yet Recent Ballot Indicates Electee Disinterest

A short review of the election week recently passed allows one to draw a few rather important conclusions. Roughly 48% of the student body voted in the Student Council elections—this in itself is hardly what may be termed commendable, one of every two students voted—but the percentage does compare favorably with other colleges. This means that at least in voting participation in student government, Muhlenberg is no more lethargic than most other educational communities.

In the Student Council Offices election, approximately 60% of the student body cast ballots. This is good—and one may find an answer for this larger percentage in the fact that a closely contested race evolved for the chair position in Student Council. One might validly say then, that more active campaigning on the campus for the various student government positions and class offices will do more than can be imagined to arouse the student body from its semi-dormant state politically.

The reluctance of the elected members of Student Council to run for Student Council office does not auger well for the future. When a student allows himself to be nominated for Student Council, his acceptance of the nomination should carry with it an awareness of the responsibilities that are concomitant with being a member of Student Council. One of these responsibilities is to realize that Student Council membership is more than an honor which requires only a cursory interest and passive effort. Student Council membership is a privilege which demands an intensive interest, and active participation, as the primary extra-curricular activity and an attitude of responsibility to the student body and the entire College community.

It is difficult to understand how a member of Student Council can refuse to run for an office if he has achieved the above realization. W.L.

M & D Offering Starts Slowly Finishes Like A Jet-Rocket

Kaufman and Hart's "You Can't Take It With You," directed by Andrew Erskine is about the best thing that's hit the College Little Theater's boards in many a moon. One would expect that this play, motivated by the depression for depression audiences, have worn itself out by its many jaunts around the summer stock and college theaters. However, this is no common lead balloon; situation after situation is molded and the play builds itself up to driving, pounding, noisy climaxes. Like Cinderella's glass slipper, "You Can't Take It With You" is a snug fit on the entertainment palate of college audiences. It's a sure fire kind of thing, and it's destined to be around for a long time.

Starts Slowly

With such excellent material to work with, M & D could have sat back on its cauda and let the dialogue deliver its own goods. Almost nobody could ruin that script. But from this corner it seemed in the beginning of the first act as if M & D was going to try. The pace resembled that of the 8:30 milk run to Macungie until someone thoughtfully blew off some firecrackers back stage, startling both cast and gallery out of the lethargy. Things then began to look up. Lines were executed with more snap and verve than previously, producing a like effect on the response of the audience.

Audience Pleased

The second act started out pleasantly and calmly with a pre-dinner scene, no indication of the bedlam soon to come. Each new arrival on stage displayed his wares to the delight of the audience. Every "character" did something peculiar so as to set up the semi-climax which occurred when the very persons least expected (and least wanted) barged in. The play here turned from comedy of dialogue to comedy of situation—embarrassment hung heavy. Cops, and the antics of a half lit has-been-actress added to the confusion. The old standby, the firecracker, plus general pandemonium and fun rang down the second curtain leaving the audience startled, but amused.

The third act offered nothing more bizarre than the conventional romantic ending: "God's in his heaven's and all's right with the world."

Set Adequate

The set was used advantageously for the specific purpose of portraying the rather odd, sloppy, but happy modes of life that the Sycamores lead. The blanket strewn varesly over a sofa, pictures hanging crookedly on the grotesquely papered walls, nude statues, snakes and the overall "pushed together" quality were all part of the conscious artistry.

Although each performer muffed his share of lines (on Saturday eve.) and projected them at the back wall instead of to the house, acting on the whole was above par. Paul Bosch starred as the crisp New England kind of

In Profile—Retired Sports Writer Fills Berg Publicity Post

Dr. William Brandt Caps Years Of Zealous Civic Work As Muhlenberg's Assistant To The President

Bill Brandt takes time out between News Releases to show a contented attitude in his new job as Public Relations man.

by Lowell Druckenmiller

Not wishing any high school seniors to miss out on the opportunities Muhlenberg College offers an entering student, the administration several years ago incorporated an office of Public Relations. First under the direction of Gordon Fister, Class of '33, the office performed its job splendidly, and when Mr. Fister left the College staff to become assistant managing editor of the Allentown Evening Chronicle, the Board of Trustees nominated Dr. William E. Brandt to take over.

All Churches Concerned

In addition to its information service to newspapers, radio, magazines, and all the means of public communication, the new Public Relations program calls for the coordination through one office of every phase of the College activity. This service concerns particularly the Churches of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, the alumni groups in all the areas where "M" men get together after graduation for mutual enjoyment and civic work, and the community of Allentown, to which the College and its students are closely affiliated.

Dr. Brandt moved in on March 15, so his program is in its incipient stages at this point. He brings to the job a record of work in public relations, journalism, and radio, reaching back many years. Born in Philadelphia, he returned to his native city after graduation from Muhlenberg.

Class of '11, and became a reporter on the Philadelphia Evening Star. He later worked for The Record, The Bulletin, and the Public Ledger before joining the staff of the New York Times in 1929.

Writes Baseball Copy

From the field of sports reporting Dr. Brandt entered the field of sports public relations. In December of 1934 he was appointed public relations manager of the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs in its Radio City Offices in New York, and held that position for the next ten years. During this time as public relations manager, Dr. Brandt organized and produced "The Sixtieth Birthday Pageant" of the National League in 1936, a reproduction of the game of baseball as played in 1876, with authentic uniforms and equipment of the period. Three years later, he represented the National League in promoting the nation-wide "Centennial" celebration of baseball's invention in 1839.

Starting in 1945 Dr. Brandt wrote, produced, and delivered a radio-coast-to-coast sports commentary for three years, five nights a week, over the Mutual Network. It was on this program that he immortalized the Muhlenberg-Delaware football game of 1910 and the Muhlenberg-St. Bonaventure game of 1926 in his

A Marked Difference in Attitude Noted in Scholar on Progress from Frosh to Senior

by Ed Keller

The WEEKLY has procured from the personal effects of one Joseph Stallion, alias "Studs", Class of '49, a diary which shows conclusively the marked difference between the life of the freshman and senior at Muhlenberg. Mr. Stallion is now vacationing at Ossining, N. Y. He was apprehended in the act of pawing off a forged Muhlenberg transcript to the Dean of Admissions at Harvard Graduate School. This semi-secret document was taken from Mr. Stallion along with his pocket flask and other personal items when he exchanged his civvies for prison grays. The following are entries for a typical week!

Freshman year:

Monday—Haven't missed a class since the semester started. Studied this afternoon and tonight. Turned down a date for Saturday night because I have to study.

Tuesday—Studied all afternoon. Called home at night to see if Mom and Dad miss me. I guess I miss them a little bit. Spent evening working on term paper. Went to bed at 11:30.

Wednesday—Was sick this A.M. Went over to Doc Weaber's office. He told me to spend the day in bed. Went to class anyway.

Studied for three hours and retired at 10:00.

Thursday—Received a letter from home with check for ten dollars. Have managed to save up seventy-five dollars so far this semester toward my Encyclopedia Britannica. Worked on English theme at night.

Friday—Studied all afternoon. Listened to radio tonight. First time since I've been at school. Read my first newspaper in a while, too. Congratulations, Harry!

Saturday—Got up at 6:30. Overslept. Worked on term paper all day. Went to movie at night. Back at 10:00.

Sunday—Up at 9:00 Went to church. Parents came up this afternoon. (Hooray) Was I glad to see them. I'm homesick. They left at 5:00. Studied from 7:00 to 10:30. Early to bed to get a fresh start on the new week.

The following are excerpts from Mr. Stallion's senior year diary.

Note development of the Christian World Outlook in Mr. Stallion.

Monday—Got back from weekend at noon. Missed three classes. (Hah!) Cut for the rest of the day. Double dated with Monty at nite.

You Name It . . .

by Pete Mourad

We were sitting around the hearth playing Idiot's delite ("Canasta") is the proper name if you will allow us to take the liberty of translating this rather difficult argot into current idiom, for clarity) with the lounge lizard, trying to elicit some information from him. It's like getting a "B" in economics, believe us, but he did mention that at houseparty weekend a guy by the name of Lenny Glazier, and a frail by the name of Rhoda sneaked out of the Phi Ep house. Ten minutes later, Glazier et Gal walked into the house. He was bloody and beaten, she, triumphant and smiling like a cheshire cat, and with his coveted pin in her hand.

Gleanings from the wastebasket of the CHOWLINE:

Finals, finals everywhere.

With drops and drops of ink.

And never a prof who'll leave the room.

And allow a guy to think!

It happened earlier this year. We withheld it to protect the innocent. And he WAS eager. He was the tenderest of frosh we ever saw. He was down at Wickies talking with upperclassmen trying to get the scoop. The conversation reached a new low ebb when tests were brought up. "What do you mean by slinging the bull?" the frosh asked. Here are the answers he received.

SOPHOMORE: "To sling the bull is to prevent the professor from realizing that you are saying nothing in a great many words."

JUNIOR: "To sling the bull is to say what you mean in a great many words so as to give the impression that you are familiar with what the test is covering, when you really don't know your head from your elbow."

SENIOR: "To sling the bull is to discourse on as much as is humanly possible in the most well chosen words so as to convey the important impression that you are completely familiar with the material under examination in spite of the ominous fact that you have been unable to devote sufficient efforts to study adequately an unduly difficult assignment."

"So you see clearly, dear Father, that your $575 isn't completely wasted in sending me to school. Look what I learned in only three years!"

GREEK LETTER DECISION

Dear Editor:

On Thursday evening, April 27, a group of forty-four commuters met and, after approximately one hour's debate, decided, on their own volition, to organize as a Greek-letter club under the name of Alpha Lambda Omega. Upon the direction of the chairman-pro-tempore, the necessary changes were made to the constitution which will be submitted, in the near future, to the Student Council and the Faculty for approval.

An article appeared in the April 20 issue of the WEEKLY, which stated that the Alpha Lambda Omega commuter's fraternity was to hold an initiation meeting. The planning of this meeting was a bit precipitous, and therefore, the leaders of the organization wish to clarify their purpose. Since the organization did not have the Faculty's official approval, this meeting was held simply in order to mould the members into a compact group and to facilitate the organizing of the Club in preparation for faculty approval. If this act was too hasty, the club hopes that its action did not create any difficulties or embarrassment among the members of the Faculty or the Administration.

Yours truly,
Walter Kirschman,
Chairman Pro-tem

A VERBOSE LACHRYMATORY Dear Editor:

It has recently come into the scope of my circumspection that the Student Center is being desecrated by the bibliophiles of this educational institution. Appendages on daises, cheroots cauterizing the tables, and ebullient java being emeted, all coalesce to engender the general mien of this "kiosk" a bit of an imbroglia opening of its one year's efficacy.

The billiard room evinces the attestation of frustrated billiarders who lanced their pool cues through the double walls in an infantile candor of irrescibility. Either this evinces the perpetration of a diabolical field destined to lower the general felicitous decorum of our campus, or this cataclysmic condi-

... Student Council Reports ...

At the regular meeting of Student Council held Wednesday, April 26, 1950, the following business was transacted.

Irwin Lessel stated that he would like to organize a golf team to represent Muhlenberg in intercollegiate competition. It was moved that Dean Mercer and the administration be petitioned for long range consideration of the matter.

President of the Freshman Class, Lee Shortridge, reported that the class party to be held in Schmoyer's barn on May 13 has been called off.

Lou Colombo made a report on the plans for the Graduation Ball which will be held Saturday, June 3, 1950, at the Frolics Ballroom.

Student Council was contemplating reactivating May Day on the Muhlenberg College campus. It was an old tradition here a few years ago with the whole community participating. No classes were held on that day, but students attended Chapel services. The matter is being referred to the new student council.

Mr. Howard MacGregor has included in his new budget, a sum to cover the cost to recondition the Science Auditorium, lay new paths, and resurface the old ones.

A student body meeting will be held Thursday, May 11, 1950 at 11:00 a.m. in the Science Auditorium. Amendments to the constitution will be voted on. Immediately thereafter, the respective classes will go to meeting rooms, and nominate class officers for next year.

On May 9, 1950, the Lehigh Valley Student Government Conference will be held at Lehigh. The new Student Council president, David Long, will attend with Muhlenberg's chairman.

Alpha Lambda Omega, the new commuter's organization has decided that they want to become a club rather than a social fraternity. Student Council is planning to give the commuters a club room on the campus.

On Sunday, June 4, 1950, a benefit repeat performance of "Murder In The Cathedral" will be given for the graduating seniors and their families.

Whatever the fountain-head may be, it seems to me that it is the onus of every Muhlenberg student to prevent this super-numerary destruction. "Humanum est errare," however, the error has been continued for too long a time, and now is the time to arrest it.

What a gold digger my date turned out to be. Cost me three bucks. She chug-a-lugged me under the table.

Tuesday—Got in so late last night that I slept through my 11:30 class. Went over to the Library this afternoon. Couldn't make time with the librarians. Left early. Checked with Registrar. Only forty-five quality points behind. Spent the evening at Mother Kerns. High again.

Wednesday—Finally made my 8:00 class. First time in two weeks. Got a 50 in Ethics. Ten points better than the previous one. I'm improving. Well, the weekend is here again. Bowling at nite. Wrote home for more money.

Thursday—Met Jim on the way to class. He's fixing me up with a blonde for Saturday nite. Found out that I need only 110 more chapel credits to graduate. Went to Marie's house tonite. It's 4:00 a.m. Just got back. Studied a little while this afternoon. (Ugh!)

Friday—Received check from home for ten bucks. Paid my debts—Broke again. Ma Kerns at nite. Wrote home for more money.

Saturday—Slept until noon.

STARTS TODAY AT MIDWAY—Beautiful film star, Elizabeth Taylor enacts the part of a frightened young bride in MGM's "The Conspirator", co-starring Robert Taylor.

Went downtown this afternoon with Bill. Met Kate and Marge. Cost me 3 bucks again. Should've stood in bed. Went out with Jim and met the blonde. What a hog! I knew I couldn't trust Jim. I should have picked up a babe downtown.

Sunday—Slept until one. Spent afternoon reading funnies and comic books. Movie at nite. Thunderation! Another week has started.

Golf Team, Student-Organized To Face Rider College Today

Through the supreme efforts of a group of interested students, Muhlenberg College will be represented on the golf links this year. The initiative of the movement must be credited to Erv Lessel, a student at the College who will act as captain of the Mule linkmen.

Baltimore Colts Sign Mules' Sisto Averno To Gridiron Contract

Veteran Mule lineman Sisto Averno, for four years one of the College's biggest assets on the gridiron, has signed a contract to play professional football with the Baltimore Colts of the newly formed combination National-All America Conference. The disclosure was made by Mr. Abe Watner, president of the Baltimore club.

Outstanding Performer

Averno, a native of Paterson, N. J., has played an outstanding brand of ball, both offensively and defensively, since he came to Muhlenberg in 1945. Sisto was a member of "Maj" Schwartzwalder's powerhouse clubs of '46, '47 and '48, when this institution witnessed its greatest years on the gridiron.

In addition to his varied talents as a lineman, Coach Howie Baughman found another job for the burly 225 pound Averno. Sisto was employed last season as the point-after-touchdown kicker, which he performed with a great degree of success. Incidentally, one of the "Maj's" greatest weaknesses was the lack of an adequate place kicker, and here was Averno right under his nose.

Nineteenth To Sign

Averno was the nineteenth player to be signed by the Baltimore Colts.

Ritter Announces Setup For Intramural Softball Leagues

by Jim McCauley

After cornering the transient B. Ritter this reporter found that the intramural softball schedule had been made out and the opening games for May first had been washed out. All such games which are cancelled will be played on field four as described below. Mr. Ritter gave me to believe that there are two leagues participating in this branch of intramurals consisting of eight teams to each league. The point system will be plus ten for winning, plus five for losing, and an undisclosed penalty for not appearing for a scheduled game. These points will be tallied and the best teams will appear in the playoffs, yet to be decided. Softball points will be included in the tallying for the intramural trophy.

The games will be played on four fields about the campus; Field I, rear of Ad Building, Field II, R. F. of Baseball diamond, Field III, L. F. of Baseball diamond, Field IV, east end of Arcade.

Football Is To Ref

The officials for the game will be, Bodgiewicz, Strait, Miller, Crider, Tolosky.

All games are scheduled for 4:30 and 6:30 p.m. Games scheduled for Monday evening openers were postponed because of wet grounds.

Owls Hand Mules 6th Loss; Ursinus Game Off

by John Rollo

Traveling to Philadelphia last Saturday, the baseball nine suffered its sixth defeat in seven contests, losing to the Temple Owls 7-3. With the teams tied at 3-3 the Owls broke the contest wide open with a three run spurge in the sixth and added another insurance marker in the eighth.

Tennis Men Humbled, Drop Fourth Straight To Albright Lions

The Muhlenberg tennis crew, under the direction of Coach Shankweiler, dropped its fourth consecutive match of the year as they bowed to Albright College at the victor's courts in Reading last Wednesday afternoon. The final tally was 9-0.

Gain Two Wins

In the four matches played thus far, the Mule team has yet to garner its first win, and has been victorious in only two individual matches.

The summary:

Singles

Bob Ruoff (A) defeated Bill Dougherty (M), 6-1, 6-2.
Jim Mengall (A) defeated Ed Vozella (M), 6-3, 6-4.

A Note To Video Producers

Leo Durocher stalked toward home plate fuming over the fact that the chief arbiter had not called a balk on Dodger pitcher Don Bankhead. The Giants were trailing 5-2, but had two men on in the ninth.

Leo protested vigorously using hands and head to gesture his supreme displeasure. This observer wondered just what the fiery field leader had said. From what information could be gathered the next day, this reporter needed only to have been at a television set to hear what appeared to be the word for word verbal protest of the New York manager. It sounded something like this:

How do you expect my boys to win the _____ game if you let their _____ pitcher get away with that kind of thing?

A similar situation occurred last year when Dodger second baseman Jackie Robinson stole home against Frankie Frisch's Chicago Cubs. After Robinson had been declared safe at the plate on the close play, Frisch came out of the dugout with the speed of a modern jet and directed some very uncomplimentary remarks at the umpire. For this, Frittle Frank was disposed to pay $100 and ordered to take a three day holiday.

Durocher, regardless of what he may have said, is not subject to a fine, since he did not address any unsavory language toward the umpire.

When television of ball games began, the telecasters hooked up a sound-catcher, concavely shaped, in order to let the viewing public feel closer to the game. This sound catcher often picks up the chatter of the fielders shouting encouragement to their pitcher; this of course is an enjoyable sidelight to the game.

Had the writer been viewing the game over video, he doubtless would have chuckled over the untimely remark which hits the airwaves. But there is one phase of thought resulting from this little episode, and this is it:

Television today may be adequately termed a family institution, a medium of entertainment which is viewed by all members of the family, from grade schoolers to Grandma. Young children find the telecasting of sporting events one of their daily delights. Youngsters are such that they idealize their baseball heroes and the game of baseball in general.

American youths are indeed fortunate that they may hold in so serious a light the great American pastime, in preference of the heartaches and devastation of a war-torn world. We encourage their love for the game from the standpoint of clean play and wholesome entertainment.

The tendency to idolize the leaders of the game is natural enough, but when a youth is subject to obscene language from baseball leaders, a bad influence is obvious.

You cannot actually blame men like Durocher and Frisch, because baseball is more than just a game to them; it is a livelihood. True, they are in the public's eye, but in combat they should not be in the public's ear.

The general opinion is that video will have to adjust itself to situation like those mentioned previously. The youth of America will undoubtedly form many adverse habits from environmental influences, but let's not allow television to create an evil which can in any way dim the high standard which baseball holds in the eyes of the younger set.

Courageous Martzall Proves He Can Pitch Collegiate Baseball

By Ed Berdick

A booming triple to left center, a flyout to right, a single, followed by a stolen base and another hit, and two runs were across. The score now read 3 to 0 in favor of Lehigh. The Mules' hurler for eight innings had matched the offerings of the Brown and White's moundsman, but now he was tiring. His left leg was giving him trouble on the follow-through after each pitch, but still he gamely pitched and retired the side. That was all for that day, as he was lifted for a pinch hitter and his first collegiate appearance went down in the books as a loss.

But that is not all the story, for that pitcher who battled through eight innings of tough collegiate ball, performed under circumstances that would have been said to be impossible. Yes, that is the story of Marty Martzall, the game Cardinal and Grey hurler, who waged through the Lehigh game with an artificial leg.

Marty, who has been tagged as Muhlenberg's "Monty" Stratton, has become a legend here in the East, as his game fight to win a place on the Mule's ball club has been featured on the sport pages of several of the leading eastern papers.

Martzall, who is twenty-five years old, is a product of Denver, Pennsylvania, where he first got his desire to pitch in American Legion Ball. When war came, Marty ended up in the Army, where he continued his pitching career by hurling for various army units.

Then near disaster came to Marty, when he lost his left leg in action during the European campaign. Not content to sit back and forget about his seemingly lost baseball career, Marty waited patiently until he was fitted with an artificial leg and was able to readjust himself to his new limb. It was only eight days later that he began his long trip back to the athletic summit by pitching in a softball game.

Discharge came and school at Muhlenberg followed. Through the succeeding years, Marty picked up the loose pieces of his hardball pitching career until finally in 1950, his senior year, he was 73. Captain Lesel turned in an 80, while Ralph Hunsinger, club champion at the Saucon Valley Club in Bethlehem had a 81. Other qualifying scores included Dick Schadt, 85; Chuck Rimmell, 89; and Allie Saemmer, 93.

The original move was backed wholeheartedly by the Student Council. The members of the team are merely trying to organize the venture this season, looking forward to a full schedule, backed completely by the school next season.

Editor's Note: This venture on the part of the students at the College is certainly a wonderful move on their part, and I believe that it certainly merits the complete support of the Muhlenberg College Athletic Association.

Phi Sigma Kappa "Moonlight" Formal

On Friday, May 5, 1950, between the hours of 9 and 12 p.m., at the Brookside Country Club, the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity of Muhlenberg will hold their first annual Spring Formal which will be in the motif of Moonlight Ball. Chet Warren and his Orchestra will provide the music.

A Phi Sigma Kappa sweetheart will be chosen, and she will reign as the "Moonlight Girl." The young lady will be chosen from the dates of the local chapter. Together with the campus social fraternities, local Phi Sigs and the Lehigh chapter are extended invitations.

George Whitner is chairman of the social committee, with George Dunn, Dick Howell, and Bob Bieber assisting him.

grandfather, kept things rolling when sags threatened. Joe Best, cast as the Russian Ballet teacher with the penchant for the generalization "SCHTINKS," got the most laughs, although he is funnier in the classroom. On the distaff side, Norma Lewis, cast as the tipsy actress, drew the only mid-act applause. Flo McHale (Penelope) was as refreshing as Helen Hayes but toward the end she became irritating as she repeated, blithely and without variation, her limp wrist, hand-like coiled-snake gesture.

To sum up, the play was well worth the time and effort that must have been consumed to produce it: ditto for the watching it. "You Can't Take It With You" "Bubbled like the turgid eddy of the Sargasso Sea," and what is more important the audience loved it, left the theater exhausted, but in a corking good frame of mind.

daughter Winnie will be played by Mary Backhaus. Two local announcers, Paul Mitchell, from WAEB, and Jim Chambers, from WHOL, have the respective parts of a real estate agent and a prospective buyer for a house involved in a murder.

The play, written by British playwright Jeffrey Dell, is unique in that it has an epilogue and a prologue, narrated by the agent and the buyer. The body of the drama is a flash-back into the history of the house and the events which happened in it.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Stadtlander Heads MCA

On April 29, at 4:30 p.m. the Muhlenberg Christian Association held the annual election of officers in the M.C.A. room of the Student Center Building. The new officers for the coming term are: President, John Stadtlander, who previously had served on the I.C.L. Membership and Publicity Committee; Vice President, Truman Koehler, who served on the I.C.L. as chairman of the Classroom Assignments Committee; Secretary, Richard Cowen, previous chairman of the I.C.L. Hospitality Committee, and Treasurer, Harold Weiss, Vice President of the Pretheological Club and member of the Social Action Committee of the M.C.A.

At this meeting several additions were made to the bylaws of the M.C.A. regarding the relationship of I.C.L. and M.C.A. The Executive Committee of the I.C.L. was approved by the Cabinets.

His performance against Lehigh, his only start this year, proved Coach Lou Cardinal's confidence in Martzall's ability, when he installed him as his number two hurler at the beginning of this season. There will be a lot more cuttings on the mound for this game 'Berg athlete, and even in years to come, the legend of Marty Martzall will haunt the collegiate athletic trail, as the story of a likeable guy who overcame a physical handicap to win his place on a varsity team.

Oh yes, we almost forgot, the Marty Martzall story takes to the air this Saturday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. over WIP, Philadelphia during the coast to coast mutual network program, Stoney Mc-Linn's "Sports Parade". Won't you listen?

The Chowline

After the hectic explosions on the M & D stage last weekend, the college is having a little trouble getting back to normal. It is rumored that even Tom Cole enjoyed the show. Especial plaudits should go to Martin Weisman for his settings. Marty, throughout the years, has done such a consistently wonderful job, that we are prone to overlook his efforts.

Overheard in the chowline: First student—Look there goes Dr. Swain. He certainly is a remarkable man.

Second student—Yes. Who else can revise a book by adding one picture?

Sight of the week: Dr. Tyson walking on the GRASS!

We want to congratulate the newly elected members of Student Council, which is to be headed by Dave Long. May you carry on the work of the Lybrand administration and give us better and more assembly programs. We hope that the 13 votes by which Mr. Long won the presidential election will not bring him bad luck.

We finally found out why Pete Mourad, the junior humorist on this rag, does not like to be called by his real first name, Pierre. It seems that many jokes about a certain "lucky" Pierre have been circulated of late. Those of our devoted readers who do not understand, are requested to see Mr. Mourad for an explanation should they desire one.

Alumni Organize Plan For Class Screening

Graduate Field Committee Works With College In Selecting Candidates For Matriculation

Twenty-two prominent and active alumni from key areas in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York will be on the campus Sunday to organize a comprehensive screening plan for Muhlenberg's entering class of next fall and for future years.

This Alumni Field Committee will meet with Dr. Tyson, Director of Admissions Benfer, Dean Mercer, Alumni Secretary Wagner, and Public Relations Chief Brandt in a two-hour session at which Mr. Benfer and his assistant field workers, Bill Laird and Bob Miers, will chart the outlines of a summer campaign in which the faculty and administrative offices will coordinate with the Alumni Field men in their respective territories.

Through the AF Committee the working forces of the College will have accurate checks on candidates for matriculation. Muhlenberg men prominent in school, civic and community affairs in their local areas have signified their interest in the new Field set-up which includes fourteen unable to be present Sunday, but available to the field workers in the course of the survey.

H. Tyler Christman, president of the Wilkes-Barre Alumni Club, Arthur McTighe and Valentine Burkhauser, from Trenton, Randolph Grimmett and Calvin Loew, from Philadelphia, Dr. John Wotring from Reading, Carl Troutman, from Pottstown, William Chapman, from Belleville, N. J., Jack Regua, from Baldwin, N. Y.; William Gantert, from Lancaster, Charles A. Gebert, from Tamaqua, Rev. P. N. Wohlsen, from Stroudsburg, J. Russell Edwards, from Harrisburg, and George Gerner, from Haddon Heights, N. J., are among the alumni members who will do considerable traveling to be here for the business organization meeting, as well as alumni leaders from Allentown, Bethlehem, Easton, and Nazareth.

As a result of Dean Benfer's visits to cities and towns in the areas from which Muhlenberg's student body is mainly derived, the prospective enrollment for the fall has reached the point where an intensive screening process is in order and it is for this work that the alumni associations in the various key areas have been enlisted to cooperate with the College representatives.

Juniors Vie In Oratory Contest

Speakers Discuss Music In West Hall Auditorium

The annual Jeanie Kramer Krause Oratorical Contest will be held in the West Hall Auditorium on Thursday evening, May 18 at 7:30 p.m. The contest will be open to any member of the Junior Class who is in good academic standing. The topic of discussion must be about some phase of music, either popular, classical, religious, jazz or combinations of the group. Three awards are given annually from the income of a fund of $1,000, established by bequest of the late George Derr Krause in memory of his wife.

The income is paid in the ratio of fifty per cent for the first prize, thirty percent for the second, and twenty percent for the third prize. All juniors interested should contact Mr. Andrew Erskine in the English Department office, on or before Monday, May 15. The winners of the 1949 prizes were: first, William Laird; second, Thomas Calnan; and third, Bruce Stirzel.

Berg Guest Star

Ralph Flanagan, one of America's greater band leaders, will speak over WMUH tonight at six.

WMUH Voices Ralph Flanagan

Glenn Miller Stylist Makes Personal Debut

Ralph Flanagan, who has been hailed by many critics as the man who revived the dance band industry, will be interviewed this evening, Thursday, May 12, at six p.m. by Station Manager Warren Burns and James McCauley.

Flanagan is perhaps the only man in the recent history of music to be called on by public acclaim to form a band of his own. A month after he began recording for RCA's Bluebird Records with a studio orchestra, his records were such a hit that he formed his now famous orchestra.

So many colleges and ballrooms have been bidding for his services that Flanagan decided to travel about the country on personal appearances.

Tonight A. J. Perry is presenting Flanagan and his orchestra in the Rainbow Room at Central Park, along Hanover Avenue between Allentown and Bethlehem.

Berg-Crest Informal Set For Friday Nite

Dance Lists Newark Combo; Dorm Date Bureau Forms

A combined Cedar Crest-Muhlenberg informal dance will be held Friday, May 12, 1950, between 8:00 and 12:00 p.m. in Curtis Hall lounge of Cedar Crest College. Sal Bert and combo will provide musical entertainment. Bert is a native of Newark, New Jersey.

Date bureaus have been organized in both West and East Halls, and Muhlenberg men have been requested to submit their names and heights on a list provided. The purpose of this is to facilitate the initial act of getting-acquainted and no one is expected to remain with the partner first assigned to him. This will reduce the formality and create an atmosphere where everyone will get acquainted.

Pat Unsworth of Cedar Crest and Lou Colombo of Muhlenberg are co-chairmen, and Cedar Crest will provide the chaperones.

A bus will leave from the Student Center to carry the 'Berg men to the dance.

Schlessinger, Neibuhr Speak At College Graduation Exercises

Harvard Historian Delivers Commencement Oration; Noted Theologian Addresses Baccalaureate Service

Two of the most noted men in their respective fields, Professor Arthur Meier Schlessinger, Jr., and the Reverend Reinhold Neibuhr, D.D., will be the main speakers at the most important occasions of Muhlenberg's one-hundred second annual Graduation Weekend, the Commencement Exercises on Monday morning, June 5 and the Baccalaureate Service on Sunday afternoon, June 4.

Professor Schlessinger will speak to an anticipated audience of about 2,500 persons including the 370 degree candidates, their relatives, and friends from the rostrum which will be erected along the north side of the Gideon F. Egner Memorial Chapel. The exercises are scheduled to begin at 10:00 a.m. with a colorful academic procession.

An associate professor of History at Harvard University, Professor Schlessinger is known as "Schlessinger the Younger," in comparison to his father who is Frances Lee Higginson, Professor of History at Harvard. He has come into the limelight for his searching articles on the international developments and critical trends in our foreign relations in "Life," "The New York Times Magazine," "The Atlantic Monthly," "Fortune," and many national newspapers.

His book, "The Age of Jackson," received the Newspaper Guild Award in 1945 for the Best Book of the Year. That same year he won the Pulitzer Prize for History, and in 1946 the Guggenheim Fellowship. He was with the Office of War Information, the Office of Strategic Services, and the United States Army during the war.

Professor Schlessinger is perhaps one of the youngest Com-

IFC Picks Officers; Albert New President

Jerry Albert, of Alpha Tau Omega, will be the Inter-fraternity Council President for next year. Albert was picked by ATO to fill the top IFC position. This position will be held by an ATO representative in accordance with the council's system of rotation of officers among the six campus fraternities.

Gerry Levine, Phi Epsilon Pi; and Bill Papa, Sigma Phi Epsilon, will serve as secretary, and treasurer, respectively, under Albert. Lambda Chi Alpha has not as yet selected a man to fill the Vice President's chair.

Phi Sigma Kappa was formally accepted into membership in IFC at its last meeting held May 8. The council also moved to submit to its constitutional committee a suggested change in the method of electing representatives to IFC. This proposal would enable each fraternity to start the school year with a man who had been on council at least a semester previously.

The men who were chosen to represent each fraternity during the coming year are: Alpha Tau Omega: Jerry Albert, Jack Phillips, and Ray Swish; Lambda Chi Alpha: Ronnie Seilheimer. Phi Epsilon Pi: Chester Miller, Gerry Levine, and Charles Friedman; Phi Kappa Tau: LaVerne Etshman, Jack Lauer, and John Laurie; Phi Sigma Kappa: James Early, George Dunn, and Charles Schmidt; and Sigma Phi Epsilon: Walter Schray, Marvin Berger, and Bill Papa.

AKA Elects Officers At Final Gathering

Doering Wins Presidency; Group Inducts Neophytes

The last meeting for the current school year of Alpha Kappa Alpha, honorary fraternity in philosophy, was held Thursday evening, May 4th at the home of Dr. Russell Stine. Earlier in the Chapel lounge, three neophytes, Fred Erb, Donald Heiney, and George Leedom, were initiated into the Alpha Chapter.

At the business meeting new officers for the coming year were elected. They are Paul Doering, president; Kenneth Ensminger, vice-president; Donald Heiney, treasurer; and George Leedom, secretary.

The speaker for the evening, Dr. Heinrich Meyer of the German Department, was introduced by the retiring president Thomas Cole. Dr. Meyer's subject was the perplexing problem of Symbolism. Refreshments were served by Dr. Stine.

Veterans Announce G. I. Bill Ruling

July 25, 1951, is a critical date for all men who are studying under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act. This date affects all men who are eligible for educational benefits under the law, whether or not they have begun their study.

The law provides that a course of education or training shall be begun before the termination of four years after the date of discharge or by July 25, 1951, whichever is the later, and that such education can not be afforded beyond July 25, 1956, except for those veterans who enlisted under the voluntary Recruitment Act of October 5, 1945.

Therefore, a veteran otherwise eligible must have commenced and actually be pursuing his course of education or training on July 15, 1951, or the date four years after discharge, whichever is later, except where his attendance is interrupted because of the normal interruptions for summer vacations or other reasons beyond the control of the veteran.

Any veterans studying under this act and who have questions concerning this date should stop in at the office of Mr. George Frounfelker.

Local Artists Display Talent

Library Show Features New Methods In Art

At the tea held on Sunday afternoon, May 7, in the Art Gallery, third floor of the Library, the Lehigh Art Alliance officially opened its annual exhibition of work by its various members. This exhibition will run through Sunday, May 28.

A special wall showing experimental painting by various members of the Alliance will be the feature of the exhibition. These experimental paintings were made at the Alliance's two workshop sessions during the winter here at Muhlenberg, and at the two sessions which were held at Jerry Quier's Studio in Bethlehem.

Besides the Alliance Show, Mr. Joseph F. Cantieni, head of the Art Department, announced that a showing of the work of students is on display in the Studio.

ATO Initiates Class Of Sixteen Pledges

In conjunction with the sixty-ninth anniversary of Pennsylvania Alpha Iota Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega, the local chapter announced its newly elected officers for the year 1950-51. They are: Worthy Master: John Phillips; Worthy Chaplain: Robert Weinert; Worthy Scribe: Gene Angstadt; Worthy Keeper of the Exchequer: William Keiter; Worthy Keeper of Annals: Joseph Bailey; Worthy Usher: G. Louis Soper; Worthy Sentinel: Donald Markley; and Palm Reporter: Robert Weinert.

A group of sixteen pledges was initiated during this Founder's Day Weekend. They are: Harry Ambrose, '53; Walter Bordan, '52; Bernard Bowman, '53; Joseph Copeland, '51; Bruce Dunlop, '53; Parker Grow, Jr., '53; Ralph Hassler, '53; William Ingold, '52; Joseph Jorda, '53; Luther Kistler, '53; Evan Kranzley, '53; George Mills, '53; Ralph Reiley, '53; Alex Sochacki, '52; Richard Stevens, '53; and Donald Wood, '53.

The weekend was closed with the annual Founder's Day banquet at the Hotel Traylor. Mr. John Vann, chairman of the high council of A.T.O., spoke on the great men and the nearly great men of A.T.O. and the Muhlenberg Chapter. Alpha Iota was formed in 1881.

Phi Sigma Kappa Purchases Fraternity House

After several months of searching and planning, the Upsilon Triton Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa has announced the purchase of the home and property located at the north corner of 23rd and Gordon Streets. The purchase of this property was made through the efforts of Lincoln Jarrett, Allentown real estate agent and President of the Allentown Phi Sig Alumni. This Alumni group purchased the home through the financial aid given by the Board of Trustees of Muhlenberg College, and thus the newest of the Muhlenberg's social fraternities has a home.

House Redecorated

The house itself is a solid brick structure located on property which measures 130 feet in depth.

The first floor of the structure contains three large rooms and a foyer. The second floor has three good size bedrooms and bath, while the third floor contains four finished rooms. The basement is suitable for finishing and may be eventually used as a game room or dining room, while the back porch on the second floor could be enclosed to make possible another sleeping room.

This white stucco home at Twenty-third and Gordon Streets, has just been bought by Upsilon Triton Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa.

Under the guidance of the House Manager, Adolph "Dutch" Koenig the house will be redecorated and furnished over the summer to make it more suitable for the fraternity use, and to provide shelter for eighteen of the brothers who will live there at the opening of school in the fall.

A Year of Growth

Buildings Endangered By Smoking Fiends Who Litter Campus With Cigarette Butts

We don't have carpets on the floors, but—there are many reasons for not littering the campus with trash. When we see people scattering their butts and candy papers on the floors and grounds, we wonder how students can be careful to get their money's worth in some phases of college life, and yet be willing to cheat themselves by marring what should be a point of pride to every student. We like to show the campus to our friends, and we like that feeling of pride. Can you be proud of walks that look like Atlantic City after a Legion Convention?

Cigarette butts are not just unbeautiful; they can be dangerous. In 1946 the Administration Building burned to the ground. The insurance was insufficient to cover the full cost of replacement. In addition to the monetary burden placed on the backs of the College's friends, valuable records were lost, and the campus was scarred by the ugly reminder of someone's possible carelessness.

We as students have not received a full education from from college if we have merely acquired a veneer of bookish knowledge. The acquisition of personal habits of thoughtfulness and consideration for others is an important phase in our development.

Let us do more than pay mere lip service to the neatness and appearance of our campus. Good habits, school appearance, and the prevention of needless fires come from the simple expedient of putting matches, lit cigarettes, and papers where they belong—in the trash cans and sand pails provided for that purpose. If you see your buddy throw a cigarette or a scrap of paper on the floor or on the walks, remind him that it's his College; and remember, it's your College, too.

P.D.M.

From Where I Sit

The Prudent Choice Of College Electives Reveals Intellectual Qualities Of Student

I have been impressed recently with the judgment which Muhlenberg men are showing in the use of their elective course privileges. It has occurred to me that how a man uses this privilege is a good touchstone of his insight into his own development and aptitudes, and into what, to my mind, is one of the great attributes of a college like Muhlenberg, namely, the privilege of selecting the personalities and minds with whom one wishes to adventure into intellectual fields.

One is, of course, bound by the characteristics of one's major subject and one must meet these demands forcefully, if the greatest return is going to be achieved. In electives, however, one has a freer hand. Here one may choose to study in an area where one has had little experience, or one may be just curious, or a course may be chosen for no other reason than the personality and intellectual qualities of the instructor. As in social life so is it in intellectual life, one is known—and judged—by the company one keeps. The elective privilege is a precious one and should be treated as such.

Student Vote Improves

Dear Editor:

As reported in the WEEKLY

last week, student participation in the important Student Council election is on the upgrade. This is the most heartening news I have heard in a long time. The potentialities of such a group as Student Council is tremendous, and since this potential will affect each student, it should bring the whole-hearted support of each student.

Viewing the achievements of the past year accomplished by the present Council, one readily sees why a Student Council post is such an important one. All clubs and organizations work through the Council and also the non-organized student is affected by such Student Council decisions as im-

In Profile—Berg's Versatile Popular Man-about-campus

Many Schools Of Higher Education Are Among Highlights In The Busy Life Of Mr. William Kinter

A day in the life of Chaucer is brought to the fore by Mr. William Kinter, English Department Instructor who has become a campus authority on Medieval knowledge.

by Bill Charlesworth

English instructor William Kinter will realize his life-long desire this summer. After a few years of teaching the poetry of the greatest medieval writer, Chaucer, and the famous English poet, Milton, "Bill" is going to visit England for the first time to see the birth places and burial grounds of English writers. Never able to stay away from his work, he will most likely do some research and study enroute to the various English literary shrines. He plans to spend the greater part of the summer abroad and then return a few days prior to the Fall Term.

Attended Many Schools

"Bill" was born in the small Franklin County village of Ft. Thomas in 1915. He moved to Chambersburg, Penna., and was graduated from the local high school. Shortly thereafter he attended Lafayette where he was enrolled as a pre-law student majoring in English. At Lafayette he was assistant organist and a member of the college newspaper staff. After receiving his Bachelor's Degree, he went to Yale and received his Masters in 1941. From Yale, he entered Columbia University to spend a year specializing in Medieval Literature.

In 1942 the war interrupted Bill's scholastic endeavors. He enlisted in the Navy. After his discharge he taught English and Latin in a small private school in New England. Mr. Kinter came to Muhlenberg in 1947 and has been a prominent figure in both scholastic and extra-curricular activities. He is a member of the M.C.A., O.D.K., A.K.A., and is active in the Classics Club and I.C.G.

Likes Books and Dogs

Over a period of about fifteen years, "Bill" has constantly been collecting books to add to his private library. He now has approximately 2,000 books and hopes to keep this interesting hobby growing. Besides collecting books, Mr. Kinter ardently follows the stock market and keeps himself up to date and well-versed in the game of politics. Like many other English professors, with their pipes, slippers, and wooly sweaters, he has a fond interest in dogs. He owns quite a few and keeps them at his present home in Chambersburg.

As for his future plans, after his return from England, "Bill" would like to teach for a while and then proceed farther up the academic ladder.

The Inevitability Of Our Death Intensifies A Christian's Belief

Proper Answer To Unknown Which Plagues Us All Is Found In The Teachings Of Our Christ

by Bob Wilde

Listen to that clock! Each tick brings death a second closer. Time and life are slipping away before our very eyes, and there is no force on earth that can stop their passing. Only death seems timeless; only eternity is beyond time. The coldness and stillness of a lifeless form have a way of shocking us into the realization of the brevity of life and the certainty of death, no matter how hard we try to shake it off.

Brings Attention

Advancing years may increase our concern, but even in youth, world shaking events, a fear of another war, the loss of a young friend, all forcefully bring our minds to focus on this all-important, vital issue. The recent global war has brought many of the world's peoples face to face with hell, destruction, and death. For all people everywhere, there can be no true peace of mind or soul until the burning question is answered in each individual heart, "What I do believe about death?"

As far back as history can scan man's experience, and doubtlessly further beyond, men have thought and wondered about the grave. Men have always hoped that there is something beyond death. The Egyptians were very much concerned. Osiris and Ra both offered hope of a life to come. Great pyramids were outfitted to provide the living soul with the things it would need for its journey to the other world. The Jews were never sure of what lay in the great unknown. A man lived on through his children; that was eternal life to them. The Greeks and Romans were searching for the key that could unlock the mystery too. Great were their thinkers; intricate was their religion, but neither could bring them real security or peace. Men had to be sure in order that their souls might rest. Soon the world would know, soon the world would be turned upside down by the power of that knowledge! For the time of Jesus Christ was at hand.

He Is The Key

Only three years He spent teaching and preaching publicly; He never wrote a book. Yet, today His life is acclaimed the greatest that any man has ever lived, and His teachings are the truest man has ever heard. But His words were not His greatest gift to mankind. He, himself, was the key which unlocked the door of eternity. His teachings were opposed, and evil men finally were OPEN LETTER TO THE CHOWLINE: "Of course you know, anonymous buddy, that this can only mean total war! Your 'junior humorist' dig of last week was dastardly, libelous and uncalled for. We will say, however, that your informer, Splinter, Sprinter, Canter, or whatever his name is, will get his (if we don't get ours first).

The following terse-verse is a long way from Lycides, but:

I like an exam;
I think they're fun;
I never cram
I never flunk one.
I'M THE PROFESSOR.

Speaking of injustices and "arbitrariness," it is with moist palm that we record the following: There is a Bergdale pre-theo. He is conscientious and bright as any pre-theo and having trouble only with this one subject. He stays up all night, cramming. He is worried about it, a lot hinges on the result. He happens to meet a gimoke in the Library with a test given several years ago. Bergdale boy et Friend go over the test and make sure they know it cold. At exam in the afternoon . . . you guessed it . . . THE SAME TEST! With great misgivings Bergdale takes the test, and, of course, knocks it up real proper. His pre-theological conscience bothers him, but he figures since the passing of this course means so much, he'll have to let it go this once. Results of exams come out and Bergdale boy, strangely enough, is way out in left field. Bergdale boy angrily visits prof only to have prof say sadly, "Boy, you just don't work hard enough that's all there is to it!"

Verily their lies a virtual den of knowledge in the themes and the term papers and book reports, etc., that we turn in around here. The instructors get a million laughs from our muffs. Here are two that they laughed hardest at. From a character sketch, about an exceedingly virtuous student by a buddy wishing to eulogize him: "He had a girl at home and although being tempted by his unscrupulous roommate three or four times, he remained true to her." From a term paper: "A morality play is one in which the characters are goblins, ghosts, virgins, and other supernatural characters."

The Second In A Series Of Surveys Proves M'Berg Student Views Not Representative

What does the average college male think about sex? That is the question the Gallup pollsters have asked us to present to a large number of Muhlenberg students. It seems that these disillusioned nose-counters believe that Muhlenberg represents the ideal cross-section of American college students—that the views held by Muhlenberg men are universal, eternal, and indestructible.

Lapping Up Soup

Well, Muhlenberg men, and the survey we took, has either proven them to be wrong, or else all schools are composed of a flock of maladjusted perverts. The first man we approached was sucking up a bowl of soup. We told him who we represented, and then put the question right to him, "What do you think of sex?" Immediately, upon hearing that magic word his eyes lit up, and we could almost hear the sirens and bells whining and clanging in his head. "I'm in favor of it!" was his quick reply. Then he grabbed hold of one of our sleeves, and panted huskily, "Do you have any prospects?"

"No, no!" we explained that we had no prospects, and that we were merely taking a survey. He was very persistent, however, as we fought our way to the door, he clung to us, bawling, "You must know someone, you must."

We agreed that our next victim should be more sedate. We found just what we were looking for in the Library, reading an ethics book. We pulled up chairs along side of him, explained who we were, and asked the question. As far as he was concerned we might as well not have been there, for he never looked up out of his book. "Sir," we said, "We asked you a question. Would you be kind enough to answer it?"

Gnashes Ivories

He looked up at us menacingly, took a deep breath, ground his teeth and snarled, "I don't believe in it."

Amazed, we answered, "Don't believe in it! What do you mean by that?"

... Student Council Reports ...

At the regular meeting of Student Council held Wednesday, May 3, 1950, the following business was transacted:

CHEY Appeal Chairman, William Laird, reported that a total of about $600 had been received in cash and pledges on Wednesday, May 3, which represented CHEY Day on the Muhlenberg campus.

The Sophomore Class is proposing to build a pagoda with the center of attraction the old victory bell that was formerly in the Administration Building.

Recommendations were made that the Graduation ceremony be broadcast to the Science Auditorium so friends of graduates may hear the proceedings.

Alpha Lambda Omega, the newly formed commuters' club, may decide whether their club room will be open to all commuters or just to club members.

The drive for Red Cross contributions on the campus has been relatively unsuccessful, and Student Council recommends that another method of collection be instituted to replace the old method of Student Center collection.

The Athletic Committee of Muhlenberg College acted favorably on Student Council's recommendations for a golf team, and they will be backed financially beginning next year. The team, under the captaincy of Irwin Lessel, has scheduled a few matches for the remainder of this school year, and all expenses incurred will be covered by the members of the team.

The newly-elected Student Council will appoint members of next year's Senior Class to serve on the Student Activity Committees of the Board of Trustees.

Present at the meeting were members of next year's Student Council. The present Student Councilmen individually read their list of recommendations to be acted upon by the new Student Council. A few of these recommendations were: 1. A speaker system to cover all points of the campus, with the central address system situated in the Student Center; 2. Unlimited cuts for sophomores in good standing; 3. An all-out effort to have work begun on the Field House.

Inevitability Of Death

able to bring about His death on a cross. But death had no power over Him! The Resurrection is the greatest event in history. His words of promise were now words of certainty. All He had done and said as He walked the roads of Palestine were stamped with the authority of the Living God. Men now know that the answer to death is eternal life for all who believe.

MULE KICKS

provements on campus, or vacation time, etc.

With the importance of the Council so evident, it is quite amazing that we do not have 100% election returns. However the improvement in student voting participation is a good beginning for bigger and better Student Council elections to come.

Yours truly,

Hopeful

Next week's publication of the WEEKLY will be the last issue for this semester. Subscriptions for 1950-51 copies of the paper may be had by calling the office in the Student Center.

Free T. B. Tests In WH Rec Room

From Monday, May 15 until Friday, May 19, the Lehigh County Tuberculosis Society X-ray Unit will be set up in the West Hall Reception Rooms. This unit has been set up here for the convenience of the citizens of the West End, especially those who will vote in the Pennsylvania primaries on Tuesday.

One of Five Units

This unit is one of the Society's five units which have been in operation throughout Allentown. At the beginning of the second week of the five week drive to X-ray Allentown, one-fifth of the Society's goal of fifty thousand has been achieved.

Any students wishing to avail themselves of this free service may do so at any time.

Please contact the Veterans' Service Office, Room 213, Administration Building, and complete the necessary V.A. forms for re-entrance into training for the Summer and/or Fall Term, 1950. Failure to do so will be interpreted as your not wanting Veteran's Training status at Muhlenberg College after June 5, 1950.

Recent Poll Proves Student Views Wrong

"Just what I said; that's what I mean," was his sullen reply. "I don't believe in it. The whole thing's impossible."

We were abashed; we didn't know what to say. "What's impossible?" we finally probed further.

Stupid Reaction

He slammed his book down angrily, "The whole stupid thing about man and woman and all that stuff, that's what's impossible. Sex is here today, but it'll be gone tomorrow; it can never last."

As he was thus raging, we slipped out of the Library, beginning to doubt if anyone on the campus had a sane, healthy attitude toward sex. We spied a tall, handsome fellow sitting on the Ad Building steps, and felt assured he was the answer. "It'll never be replaced by night baseball," was all he could add.

Give Up Trying

That was enough for us. We made a quick bee-line for the WEEKLY office, uncovered a typewriter, and wrote: "Dear Mr. Gallup: In regard to the survey you requested us to conduct, we are very honored, but have decided to proceed no further. We suggest that you find another more 'representative' school."

Phi Eps Hold Dance This Saturday Eve

The annual Sweetheart Dance of Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity will be held this Saturday evening at the Jewish Community Center here in Allentown, and will feature continuous dancing to the music of Hal Romig and his orchestra between the hours of nine and twelve. The fraternity has issued an invitation to all students and the public to attend the gala affair. The admission fee will be one dollar.

The highlight of the evening will be the selection of the Phi Ep Sweetheart. The affair will be chaperoned by Dean and Mrs. Sherwood M. Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. John Reed of the faculty, and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Perkin.

Miss Judy Farmer, a student at Cedar Crest College and last year's Phi Ep Sweetheart, will be on hand to make the presentation.

Five new members were admitted to the Alpha Nu Chapter over the past weekend, with Frater Superior Chester M. Miller officiating at the ceremony. The five new fraters raise the total active members on campus to twenty-six.

Major Nathan Adams, Auburn '40 Personnel Manager, U.S. Air Force

Following a three month course, Lt. Adams decided the Air Force was the place for him. He applied for pilot training, was accepted, proceeded to Maxwell Field.

He won his wings and reported to the 36th Fighter Group in Puerto Rico. The group soon returned to the States, giving Adams a chance to marry his college sweetheart.

Within months Adams was overseas, flying "rhubarbs" (missions against enemy transport). He flew 63 P-47 missions within seven months, returned to the States late in 1944 for rest and recuperation.

V-J Day came, and Adams decided to make the service a career. He chose personnel work as his career field, was assigned for training to the Adjutant General's School at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

Now a regular Air Force Major, he heads a 32-man section at Bolling Air Force Base. He advises his Commanding Officer on selection, assignment and promotion of all officers and airmen in the command.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attn: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

Mules Tripped By Lehigh 12-5 As Taylor Loses His First Start

Muhlenberg College's baseball fortunes reached four consecutive defeats for the second time this season as Lehigh University gained a 12-5 decision over the Mules last Thursday at Bethlehem.

Bucknell Takes Cinder Meet As Seconds Decide

by Hank Folkman

A well balanced Bucknell University track team defeated Ernie Fellows' speedsters, by the score of 73 to 53. However, the Mules were able to capture eight first places to Bucknell's six. Muhlenberg lacked sufficient power in the dashes, since Harry Kreutzberg was 'Berg's lone representative in the three sprints.

The summaries:

POLE VAULT—1, Stumbough, (B); 2, Tangburn, (B); 3, Charlesworth, (M). 10:6.
BROAD JUMP—1, Boyer, (M); 2, Schamburg, (B); 3, Walsh, (B). 30 ft. 5 in.
DISCUS—1, Pulley, (M); 2, Schamburg, (B); 3, Szabo, (B). 123 ft. 11½ inches.
MILE—1, Shupp, (M); 2, Albert, (M); 3, Mighall, (B). 5:03.9.
100—1, McAnn, (B); 2, Steward, (B); 3, Kreutzberg, (M). 10:5.
880—1, Shupp, (M); 2, Gallagher, (B); 3, Albert, (M). 2:09.3.
TWO MILE—1, Acker, (M); 2, Hall, (B); 3, Mighall, (B). 10:41.4.
HIGH JUMP—1, Stumbough, (B); 2, Gallagher, (B); 3, Boyer, (M). 5ft. 10 ins.
SHOT PUT—1, Woodcock, (B); 2, Strait, (M); 3, Schmauch, (M). 42 ft. 4½ inches.
JAVELIN—England, (M); Schamburg, (B); Leach, (B). 186 ft. 2 inches.

120 HIGH HURDLES—Pulley, (M); Walte, (B); Tangburn, (B). 18:1.
220—Leopard, (B); McAnn, (B); Steward, (B). 22:5.
220 LOW—Pulley, (M); Turnell, (B); Boyer, (M). 27.

Registration for the first six weeks of the Summer Term will be held on June 9, 10, and 12, and for the second six weeks on July 24. Tuition will be $200.00, and fees will be $22.50.

The Brown and White got away to a fast start scoring five unearned runs in the first inning. Errors by Mazzucca and Rollo, sandwiched in between three hits and a walk, were responsible for the runs. In the second inning the South Mountain boys found the range of southpaw Doug Taylor's slants and added four more tallies.

Mules Tally Twice

'Berg dented the run column in the third. Rollo walked, advanced to second on an infield out, and went to third on a wild pitch. Mazzucca walked, and Rollo scored on Swartley's fly to right. Mazzucca stole second and scored on Licursi's single to center.

Not content with nine runs Lehigh drove Taylor from the mound in the third and Whitaker, diminutive 'Berg righthander, put the fire out after a shaky start. Whitaker pitched shut-out ball the rest of the way, giving up only three hits in five and two-thirds innings.

Swartley, Licursi Double

The Mules registered two more counters in the seventh and announced their victory.

LaSalle Takes First Over Mules and Owls

The Muhlenberg College Track team placed second in a triangular meet with Temple and LaSalle. LaSalle placed first with 73 points, Muhlenberg second with 44½ points and Temple third with 36½ points.

Muhlenberg had to be satisfied with four first places. Bill Pulley remained undefeated in the discus with a throw of 121 ft. 4½ inches. Russ Strait captured the shotput event with a heave of 42 ft. 2¾ inches, while Floyd Shupp and George England won the half-mile and javelin respectively.

If you have a news service for the WEEK-LY please call 4-5843.

Netmen Top 'Hounds 6-3 In First Victory

Muhlenberg's netmen copped their first victory of the young season by trouncing the neighboring Moravian College tennis team 6-3 on Tuesday at the Bethlehem courts.

Acting Mule captain, Bill Dougherty, gained an early lead for the 'Bergmen, by downing Joe Connell, Moravian's number one man, in the opening sets.

SINGLES

Bill Dougherty, Muhlenberg, defeated Joe Connell, 6-0, 6-3.
Fritz Toner, Moravian, defeated Ed Vozella, 6-4, 7-5.
Bob Parker, Muhlenberg, defeated Harry Newcomb, 8-6, 6-4.
Bob Kantra, Muhlenberg, defeated Bill Kilpatrick, 6-1, 6-4.
Bob Tooker, Muhlenberg, defeated Howard Davis, 6-0, 6-1.
Dave Dimmig, Muhlenberg, defeated Bill Cummings, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2.
DOUBLES
Connell and Toner, Moravian defeated Parker and Vozella, 6-2, 7-5.
Newcomb and Kilpatrick, Moravian, defeated Parker and Kaelberer, 6-3, 6-3.
Wall and Acker, Muhlenberg, defeated Stradling and Ulrich, 6-3, 6-1.

Fellows Bases Hopes On Ten To Win Title

A record field of entries representing twenty-two colleges and universities is expected for the 38th annual Middle Atlantic Track and Field Association Championships to be held May 12 and 13 on the University of Delaware's Frazer Field.

Rains Stop, Softball Teams Begin Play

Perhaps it's that guy up there in his plane who's dropping dry ice, or perhaps it's not, but whoever, or whatever is causing all the rain, has forced William "Bull" Ritter, czar of intra-mural athletics, to dig down, and come up with this new schedule. At the time of this writing only one league has played two games.

In League I, Sigma Phi Epsilon looks like the team to beat. Cary Smith is Sig Ep's star twirler, and from early indications he is going to be hard to beat. So far Sig Ep has won a forfeit from the Corkers (this may not be official), and then trounced Lambda Chi Alpha 12-5. Phi Sigma Kappa also looks very strong.

Pre-Theos Surprise

In League II, the Pre-Theos have been an early surprise, showing good hitting, and above average pitching by Ken Shirk. They defeated Phi Tau 10-7 in their last outing.

In League III, Phi Epsilon Pi looks strong, with Jerry Roth on mound and long-ball-hitting Ell Finkelstein, but the Black Cats and Ma's Boys are also undefeated. It should be a really fine race.

Softball Ends Season

With the closing of the softball season the intra-mural program will be wound up for another year.

Teams from Albright, Alfred, Bucknell, Dickinson, Drexel, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, Haverford, Johns Hopkins, Juniata, Lafayette, LaSalle, Lebanon Valley, Lehigh, Muhlenberg, P.M.C., St. Joseph's, Swarthmore, Ursinus, Wagner, Washington College, and the host school will vie for the Conference crown, with medals going to the first five places in each event.

Fifteen Events Held

The two-day program will include the fourteen collegiate dual meet events in addition to a freshman medley relay. St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia, winner of the conference trophy in 1948 and 1949, is again expected to provide the biggest threat, and the Hawks are strong again this year in the sprint and middle-distance events. LaSalle College of Philadelphia, Lafayette College, and Alfred College should all furnish plenty of opposition to St. Joseph's bid for a third consecutive win.

Trials on Friday

Trials and semi-finals in the dashes and hurdles will be held on Friday afternoon, with the remaining track events and all field events scheduled for Saturday.

Coach Ernie Fellows has announced that he will enter ten men in the Middle Atlantic Championships. On Friday, Bill Pulley will be among the starters in both the high and low hurdles, while Floyd Schupp and Don Albert will be entrants in the 880. Harry Kreutzberg will run in the 440, and may try the 220, if he fares well in the former.

Busy Saturday For Mules

On Saturday, Coach Fellows will have three men entered in the (Continued on Page Five)

Harry May Desert Pro Ranks

Harry Donovan is in town visiting his many friends, and renewing the happy years the former Muhlenberg Ace enjoyed in his undergraduate days. Harry has recently concluded his first year of pro basketball, which proved to be rather disappointing to both him and his many followers.

Your reporter spoke to Harry last week, and can tell you that the New Jersey lad is a mighty unhappy boy. In his first year with the Knickerbockers, to say that Harry did not set the world on fire is a gross understatement. For him, the season was a very long one, with some time spent on the hospital list and much more on the bench, a most unfamiliar spot for one who had been used to rugged court action.

Allentown can well remember the night last year when the Knicks played the Philadelphia Warriors at Rockne Hall. Though it was only an exhibition contest, Coach Joe Lapchick scheduled the game to get a good look at the personnel on his club in action against another N.B.A. team. Everyone in the arena was pulling for Harry, after a slow start, he rewarded the fans with a stellar performance, netting 21 points.

Many of us were doubtful whether Harry would stick with the Knicks, considering he was not a big man as far as professional basketball players go, and because of the great wealth of material which Ned Irish's club possessed. After the contest in Allentown, however, we were all very hopeful.

Harry played only sparingly during the early season, but managed to hit double figures on a couple of occasions. An injury in Minneapolis shelved him for about two weeks, and then his name disappeared from the box scores.

Toward the end of the season, articles began to appear in New York papers about the forgotten Harry Donovan. Not once or twice, mind you, but almost every other day for about two weeks. It was all very confusing. Here was a man wasting away on the bench who suddenly became very important. But why? What were they doing, saving him for a key game, trying to quell any chance of Donovan's quitting, or maybe trying to build up a player with a good college reputation for a trade?

Whatever the purpose, nothing developed. Harry saw even less action, and the articles stopped. Donovan left New York, hopeful that maybe next year his fate might be better.

Harry is undecided as to whether he will continue in the professional ranks. At present, he is trying to line up a position in the business world. Should he return to pro basketball, Harry would like a trade in preference to returning to New York, where he was not given sufficient opportunity to perform. He feels he did not get a fair deal.

Coaches Pleased With Grid Prospects In Temple Scrimmage

Muhlenberg's footballers ended spring practice with a scrimmage with Temple last Friday on the Templers home field. For the last six weeks, next year's aspirants for varsity berths on the Cardinal and Grey eleven have been re-familiarizing themselves with the fundamentals of the game of football and Coach Baughman's version of the T-formation.

other in the ninth to end the scoring for the day. Doubles by Swartley and Licursi were the big blows.

Again it was 'Berg's inability to hit in the clutches and poor fielding that spelled defeat. Leidheiser, Brown and White tosser, was hit hard and gave up eight passes, but was tough in the pinches.

Hal Swartley, Carm Licursi, and Lorin Hoffman led the 'Berg offensive with two hits apiece. The fielding gem was pulled by Buc Dikon, Mule center fielder, who made a brilliant catch of Kennedy's long drive to deep center-field.

Bonacci Gets Double Win, Topping Adams And Rothlein In Pool, Ping Pong Tourney

"Haps" Benfer renewed his annual West Hall Table Tennis and Pool tournaments this year, and little Joe Bonacci, one of the stalwarts of last season's Freshman basketball team, came through with a double victory.

shot put. They are Russ Strait, Herm Michels, and George Schmauch. George England will wield the javelin, while "Rip" Boyer will give the high and broad jumps a try. Dick Acker is entered in the two mile, while Schupp and Albert will go in the mile.

There is a possibility that Bill Pulley will try his hand in the discus, but should he gain a final spot in a hurdle event, Coach Fellows will probably scratch him in the discus.

The tournament was sponsored by "Haps." He supplied trophies for the winners, and runner-ups, but the important job of scheduling the matches was handled by Johnny Adams, who did a fine job. Johnny was eliminated in the finals of the pool tournament after a see-saw battle, which saw the lead change hands four times. The final score was 75 to 74, Bonacci copping the match. Bill Schick, and Jim Willwerth were eliminated in the semi-finals, after playing fine games of pool throughout the tournament.

Rothlein Beaten

Anyone who thinks ping pong is a sissy game, should have seen this tournament. George Rothlein, the favorite at the start of the tournament, lost in the finals, two games to one. George gained the finals by eliminating the same Johnny Adams who finished second in the pool tournament.

mencement orators in Muhlenberg history, as well as one of the youngest men ever to achieve an assistant professorship at Harvard. He was born in 1917 and graduated Summa Cum Laude at Harvard with the Class of 1938.

Dr. Neibuhr will speak to the graduating seniors, together with their relatives and friends who will be both in the Chapel itself and outside on the campus lawn, where they will hear his message by means of an amplifying system, at the annual Baccalaureate service which will begin at 3:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

As Professor of Applied Christianity at Union Theological Seminary in New York City, Dr. Neibuhr has become one of the world's most distinguished theologians. He has reached every zone of human life with his numerous articles in such magazines as "Christianity and Crisis," "Christianity and Society," both of which he edits, and "Christian Century." He has also written many books, the greatest of which, in the mind of most critics, is his two-volume "Nature and the Destiny of Man."

A native of Missouri, he graduated from Elmhurst College and Edon Theological Seminary, St. Louis, 1913; received his M.A. at Yale in 1914, and his B.D. there in 1915. In the same year he was ordained by the Evangelical Synod of North America and received the first of his twelve Doctor of Divinity degrees. He also received an LL.D. from Occidental College in 1945.

In 1928 he became Associate Professor of Religion at Union Theological Seminary.

Civic Little Theatre Opens Play Tonight

At 8:30 tonight and on the next two evenings, the curtain will rise on the Civic Little Theatre production of "Payment Deferred" in the Science Auditorium.

Warren Burns, in addition to directing the production and playing a bit part, is helping with the set. Jerry Adler has charge of the lighting effects. Paul Freed fills the lead role, Will Marble. His wife Annie and his daughter Winnie are played by two familiar faces on the Muhlenberg stage, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell and Mary Backhaus, respectively. Jim Chambers and Paul Mitchell, two local announcers who play the parts of a prospective buyer and a real estate agent, narrate the prologue and epilogue.

When Jeffery Dell's "Payment Deferred" opened at St. James Theatre in London in 1931, it brought fame to its leading character, Charles Laughton. Later in the same year the play came in the Lyceum in New York, where Laughton made his first appearance in America.

The Chowline

The furor which we caused by last week's Chowline made us very happy. At last we are able to prove to our editor that someone does read our column.

Mr. Mourad's "Gleanings from the waste-basket of the Chowline" item, last week, is an absolute fake. Such utter trash we do not relegate, even to our waste-basket. At best, it is fit for the garbage pail. As a matter of fact, we think that it might be a good idea for Mr. Mourad to rename his column "The Garbage Pail," although "The Slop Bucket" sounds more romantic.

Enough of this degrading ourselves, however; on with the humor. The results of tapping the East Hall telephone. A certain Muhlenberg student called a certain Cedar Crest dormitory the other evening and asked to speak to Cynthia M. Cynthia finally got to the phone and said in a very sweet voice. "Hello." "Hi!" came the reply. "This is Bill W. of Muhlenberg." "Oh, Bill, how are you?" "Fine. You do know who I am, don't you?" "Why certainly, silly. Now let's see. You're about six feet tall, have blonde hair and a crew cut,---uh-h you played on the Freshman Basketball Team, anyuowna Buick." "No," came the poignant reply, "I see you don't know me, not really. Good night."

Coming next week: Faker Mourad will be exposed. Watch for it. Pierre won't be so "lucky" when we get through with him.

Seniors Donate Sign; Establish Frosh Fund

Class Votes For Hertzog-Lapp Memorial Fund As Graduation Gift For Freshman Scholars

by A. R. Rosamilia

The Senior Class has voted to use the class funds on hand to purchase a lighted sign for the campus, and to establish a memorial prize for freshmen as its gifts to the College.

The decision calls for erection of a sign at the south walk leading to the Chapel, from Chew Street. The sign is to be lighted; it will bear the name of the College and carry other pertinent information, the Gift Committee stated.

In addition, each member of the class will be assigned two dollars ($2.00) for the establishment of a freshman prize to be known as The Carl Hertzog-Foster Lapp Memorial Freshman Prize. The contribution of this amount is voluntary for the members of the class, but the committee declares that it hopes "that every member of the Class of 1950 will find it convenient to give so that this prize will be a memorial equal to the memory of these two men, and also worthy of the efforts of the members of the Freshman Class."

The terms of the prize are: "that the income from funds established by the Class of 1950 fund to be called the Carl Hertzog-Foster Lapp Memorial Freshman Prize, be used to award a cash prize to the freshman showing the greatest academic improvement. This fact to be ascertained on the basis of mid-term Fall, end-of-term Fall, and mid-term Spring, and end-of-term Spring grades combined. The candidates for the prize must have at least a "C" average at the time the prize is awarded. In the event of a tie, the decision of award shall lie with the Dean of Freshman, and the Dean of Students."

Irvin Fry also announced that seniors can pick up their graduation announcements in Dean Mercer's office.

Keiler Leads Next Year's Cardinal Key

Elections of the 1950-1951 officers of the Cardinal Key Society were held at the regular meeting on Monday, May 8, 1950.

The newly elected officers are: President, William Keiler; Vice-President, Robert Hagemeyer; and Secretary-Treasurer, William Herick.

The meeting was adjourned when retiring president, Martin Weisman, congratulated and welcomed the newly elected officers.

Alumni Reunion Includes Party, Pep Field House

Group Attends Baccalaureate And Commencement Services

The General Alumni Association has planned a series of events for the graduates who will return to their Alma Mater for its 102nd annual Graduation Weekend.

The weekend will open on Friday, June 2, with individual class meetings. At 9:00 p.m. the annual General Alumni Reunion Party will be held at the Hotel Traylor. After a luncheon at noon, Saturday, in the Commons, the General Alumni will meet in the Science Auditorium in order to discuss the results of elections, the Field House, and other pertinent subjects.

In the meantime, the wives and children of the alumni will be entertained by movies in the Student Center.

After the general meeting, the alumni will attend the Baccalaureate Service on Sunday afternoon and the Commencement Exercises on Monday morning.

Shankweiler Speaks At Pre-Med Banquet

Officers Named And Stories Are Told At Informal Party

The Pre-Medical Society held its annual banquet last Friday evening in the Cedar Crest Room of Spurgeon's Restaurant, 11th and Hamilton Streets. Dr. John V. Shankweiler of the Biology Department was the main speaker.

The program, under the chairmanship of George Marino, consisted of dinner, an informal talk by Dr. Shankweiler, and a social get-together following the dinner. Faculty adviser, Dr. John Trainer, and Mr. William Green of the Biology staff also contributed brief remarks. Richard Rosamilia, retiring president of the Society, presided.

Dr. Shankweiler's talk was light and informal, and was brightened by numerous jokes and anecdotes.

The group has elected the following men to next year's Executive Committee: President, Joseph Morrow; Vice-President, Robert Felty; Secretary, John Siegfried; Treasurer, Ted Offner.

Faculty OK's Newly Formed A.L.O. Club

After two months of organizational work, Alpha Lambda Omega, Commuters' Club, received official faculty approval on Thursday evening, May 11. Working with a charter membership of forty-six, the club drew up its constitution several weeks ago and submitted it to Student Council. After a necessary revision, the Council approved it and forwarded it to the faculty for its okay.

On Saturday evening, May 13, the club held its first social event at Wood's Barn in Alburtis. Fifty or more people attended the affair, and the committee reported the party a complete success.

Chairman pro-tem, Walter Kirschman, urges commuters who desire to join the organization to contact any ALO member.

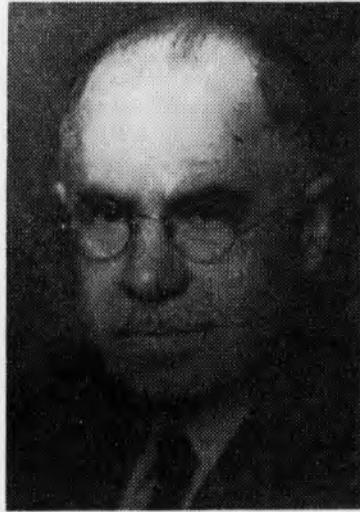

The elections held Wednesday, May 17 for officers for the 1950-51 academic year were invalidated because only one man received a majority vote. A re-vote will be necessary. Lowell Druckenmiller was elected recording secretary.

Muhlenberg Confers Honorary Doctorates At Commencement

Graduation Exercises Will Take Place Before Chapel As Muhlenberg Degrees Its Largest Class In History

The Reverend William R. Seaman and Doctor Paul A. W. Wallace are two of the seven men who will receive honorary doctorates from Muhlenberg. Rev. Seaman is Chaplain of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania and Dr. Wallace the author of "The Muhlenberg's of Pennsylvania."

Two Lutheran pastors and a professor at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, will receive honorary degrees at the Muhlenberg College Commencement Exercises on the College campus Monday morning, June 5.

The other four men receiving doctorates are Dr. Paul A. W. Wallace, Author of "The Muhlenberg's of Pennsylvania"; Charles E. Oakes, President of the Pennsylvania Power & Light Company; Dr. Karl G. Miller, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts for Women at the University of Pennsylvania; and the Commencement speaker, Professor Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr. of Harvard University.

The pastors who will receive the Doctor of Divinity honor are The Reverend Luther A. Krouse, Emmanuel Church, Pottstown, Pa., and The Reverend William R. Seaman, Emmanuel Church, Souderton, Pa., Chaplain of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania for the past five years.

The Baccalaureate preacher, Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, Professor of Applied Christianity at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, will receive the degree of L.H.D., Doctor of Humane Letters. Mr. Oakes and Dr. Miller will receive the degree of Doctor of Laws, LL.D. Mr. Oakes is one of the leading industrialists in the field of public utilities. Dean Miller has held the rank of Professor of Psychology at the U. of Penna. since 1927.

Commencement Exercises will start at 10:00 a.m. on the College campus. The rostrum will be placed near the north wall of the Gideon F. Egner Memorial Chapel with seating facilities for about 2,500 relatives and friends of the 370 graduates. In event of rain, the ceremonies will be held in the Lyric Theatre. The array of graduates, together with the Muhlenberg faculty and staff of about 125 in academic garb will make the conferring of degrees by President Tyson an impressive and memorable scene.

Mangini, Teal And Cowen Gain Presidencies In Class Votes

Prexies Maintain Dual Posts As Representatives To Student Council And Individual Classes

At elections held on Monday, May 15, the Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman classes chose the men who will serve as class officers during the fall 1950 semester.

The class of 1951, while returning John Mangini and Jerry Albert to the presidency and treasurership respectively, elected John Kaelberer and Donald Markley as vice president and secretary replacing Albert Rubbert and Walter Schray.

The Sophomore class reelected Richard Teal and Floyd DeCheser to the two top positions in the class as John Delissio and Donald Hohe wrested the secretary and treasurer posts from Ted Drach and Truman Koehler.

The lower class elevated former vice-president, Richard Cowen, to the presidency, replacing Lee Shortridge, and former treasurer, David Noble, to the vice-presidency. Sidney Franzblau and James Wagner coped the two remaining class offices.

A total of 401 votes were cast by the three classes with the Sophomores first with 170, the

ODK Elects Markley To Top Circle Post

Dean Mercer Invites Group To Sunday Breakfast Party

Donald Markley is the new president of the Muhlenberg chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa. At the group's last official meeting, Markley was selected to lead O.D.K. in the 1950-51 year.

Bill Baker and Jack Kaelberer were selected to serve as next year's vice-president and secretary respectively. The new officers were given the oath of office by Dr. E. T. Horn.

Donald Markley will preside over the ODK activities in the coming school year.

At this meeting the circle received a suggestion from Student Council that it investigate the general area of student registration and the faculty adviser system. This is in line with Student Council's policy of referring campus problems to O.D.K. for recommendations and possible solutions. However, no action will be taken on this question until next year.

Dean Mercer extended an invitation to all of the brothers of O.D.K. to attend a breakfast at the Mercer residence on Saturday, June 4 at 10:00 a.m.

Marine Corps Offers Leadership Courses

Captain Richard L. Sullivan, United States Marine Corps, will be in the Student Center Lounge tomorrow, Friday, May 19, from 10:00 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. in order to present the full particulars on the Marine Corps' Reserve Officer Training program to any interested sophomores or freshmen.

This program, which is open only to men of the two lower classes, offers two courses known as Platoon Leaders Classes. In addition to room, board, medical care, and transportation, the student receives about $135 for his first six week period and approximately $155 for his time during the second year.

Two Muhlenberg men have already completed some of these courses at the Marine Corps base at Quantico, Va. Chandler L. Mahnken '50 has completed both years training while John J. Auman '52 has completed the junior course. George A. Dunn '52 and Karl E. Ringer '52 have signed up to take advantage of this opportunity during the coming summer.

Bradley, Mourad, Gearhart Win Top Radio Station Positions

Sturm, McNally, Creveling Attain Leading Jobs; Committee Reelects Albert, Godnick And Rowe

At a recent meeting of the Executive Council of the Radio Station Club, WMUH, the Council elected the men who will fill the various positions on the staff. The elections were conducted in accordance with the club's constitution.

Harry Bradley, this year's chief engineer, received the post of Radio Station manager for the 1950-51 school year. Pete Mourad will be promoted from chief announcer to program director. These men will replace Warren Burns, who during the past year has held both positions. The growth of the station has caused the creation of these positions.

Assistant chief announcer, Ray Sturm, was elevated to chief announcer, with Gerald Hertz as his assistant. James McNally will direct special features. William Creveling will replace Thomas Calnan as business manager. Lee Gearhart will control the chief engineer position.

Jerry Albert, Robert Godnick, and William Rowe will retain their positions as dramatic director, sports director, and news director, respectively.

The council also discussed plans for partitioning the studio, needed rewiring, and a new system of money requisition.

N.S.A. Adopts Future Program

On Tuesday afternoon, May 16, the National Students Association held its last meeting for the Spring 1950 term. The group decided to formulate a five point program for the coming year. The program includes:

1. The adoption of the Honor System.
2. The erection of a Student Employment Bureau.
3. The adoption of a Purchase Saving System.
4. The opening of the Library Stacks to the use of the students.
5. An evaluation of the Student Government.

The meeting closed with the election of officers for the coming year. Everett Thierfelder, temporary chairman, received the presidency, Donald Habgood, the secretaryship, Richard Thiel, the treasurership and Leonard Friedman, the position of publicity director.

OUR FACES ARE RED!

Last issue the WEEKLY committed the unpardonable sin of misspelling the names of our graduation speakers Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr and Professor Arthur M. Schlesinger. Please note the correction.

Exceptional Command of English Language Necessary, Desirable In and Out of Classes

If you didn't have a clear understanding of arabic numerals how could you hope to pass mathematics? How, then, could you hope to pass ANY subject in college without the ability to express yourself in clear concise English?

Not many students on campus did well on the verbal tests on the G.R.E.'s. This proves more than meets the eye. It shows that we students aren't taking our English I and II courses seriously. We pass them (most of us) and then take a mental laxative after the final exam and purge ourselves of a major part of the predigested material.

You ask, perhaps, "So What?" This is what. English is a tool subject. We speak it in this country and we write it. Most of our communication, oral, or written is done in English. To bring it closer to home, we take most of our tests in English. If we don't retain what we learn in those important Freshman subjects, our other marks are liable to suffer in a direct proportion to what we have not retained.

Suppose that a student goes through college for four years, and is graduated thinking he is cultured, or at least educated. He sends in his application for the job he's wanted for months. He has a better chance of getting the job if his letter is clear, coherent, and grammatical. If the letter is poor and if he doesn't get the job, he'll most likely wonder why, and blame his failure on Muhlenberg. We are prone to blame almost everything adverse that happens to us here, on Muhlenberg.

For those of us in the upper classes, it is too late for us to do anything other than to kick ourselves for the mistake we made in not paying attention to the Freshman English professor. There is still time for the freshman to get the jump on the upperclassman if he will take the advice of one who regrets. Get all you can out of your Freshman English. "You get out of something exactly what you put in it," some sage has said. In our estimation, there is little in our college curriculum more important than acquisition of a solid foundation of the bases of the English language.

P.D.M.

From Where I Sit

Grads And Dean Developed Concurrently With College's Recent Progressive Years

In view of the fact that this is the last opportunity I will have this year to express in the WEEKLY my appreciation and thanks to the seniors, I hope I will be pardoned if I address myself directly to them.

I feel a close attachment to the Class of 1950. We came to Muhlenberg together in 1946. You have helped me in more ways than I can express. You have taught me much. I hope I have been a good pupil. We have seen Muhlenberg pass through several severe crises. You had a major part in the College's successful survival. The faculty has instituted a number of innovations.

Their successful execution has been to a great degree due to your cooperation and help.

You have helped us plan for Muhlenberg's coming years. My sincere hope is that you will, as alumni, continue to have a close and active association with your Alma Mater. We of Muhlenberg are dedicated to an idea and ideal in education. That spirit which is the heart of our College needs you now and it will need you year after year in the future.

My thanks and congratulations to the Class of 1950. The best of luck to you.

SHERWOOD R. MERCER

MULE KICKS

NOTE OF IRONY

To the Editor of the WEEKLY:

The WEEKLY struck a note of irony last week in its lead story on the Commencement speakers; for both Professor Schlesinger and Dr. Niebuhr are very significant leaders in an organization which in recent months on this campus has been called all kinds of names, has been painted all kinds of colors, and has been peremptorily dismissed as an organization unworthy of Muhlenberg College. Both of these men three years ago helped founding Americans for Democratic Action, of which SDA is the student expression; both have been active members of the National Board of ADA ever since it was formed; both were elected only a month ago as Vice-Chairmen of that Board.

Yet, in spite of this foul activity, as some would have us believe, Professor Schlesinger has been honored all over America for his Pulitzer Prize book, The Age of Jackson (Ask any of the men in the History Dept., what they think of it), and has written what is generally acknowledged as the sanest analysis of contemporary

Science Club Offers Activity To All Interested Persons

Contrary To Popular Belief, Science Club Is Open To All Campus Men Regardless Of Major Study Field

The Science Club in action: Vice President Elliot Valkenburg and Ernest Wurst work with a Geiger Counter to check absorption of gamma rays for aluminum.

There are several important functions on campus which really deserve more attention and publicity than they are given. The type of activity to which we refer is represented by the Science Club.

The Science Club has, of late, been composed mostly of the natural and physical science majors and the mathematics majors. This effect resulted in gross misconception prevailing on the Muhlenberg campus, a faulty impression characterized by the expression "for a select group." This is not so. The very existence of cliques is contradictory to the purpose of science and its efforts to examine the principles of nature. Physics, chemistry, biology, psychology, mathematics et. al. cannot be said to be independent of one another, for they all have, in some aspects of their systems, borrowed from the neighboring sciences. However, this effect does not deny the individuality of any one science.

Diversity of Ideas

With the cooperative effort in mind, it is important to recognize that a science club should be composed of members of the political sciences as well as of the natural and physical sciences. Interchange of ideas and methods is healthy to any scientist or any group of scientists.

A science club which will admit into its realm those parties who are interested in promoting the welfare of humanity is the first step in undergraduate life toward a concerted effort to eliminate the ills of society. Ideas which are expounded will be carried into the lives of the near-professional man and will undoubtedly form some of his basic tenets.

That type of science club we have here on campus. Its main purpose is to bring together the minds of each science. To enlighten another in the progress of his individual science will lend toward a greater unification of all sciences.

Support Desired

It is the responsibility of all men, theologians, political scientists, natural and physical scientists, men of business who are interested in the world affairs, to support this movement as it is evidenced in the Science Club of Muhlenberg College.

At Last . . Reporter Brings To Fore Reasons Students Cut

Explanations Range From Ridiculous To Sublime As Cornered Scholars Vie To Define Truancies

Writ by Quille

"I'll be hornswoggled if I'll go to that class today," is a familiar sound around campus. College professors, administrators and scholars have always wondered why students express such unacademic views. This reporter has wondered too. We did some research on the subject, and have discovered that there are many reasons why students deliberately skip classes. Before we started on the project we decided to break down the cutting problem and divide it into its component parts. We find that the problem necessarily presents two facets, the morning class cut and the afternoon cutters.

Of one hundred representative students plagued with morning classes, fifteen percent asserted that they deliberately cut one group of morning classes because they just didn't like the teachers faces. Of this group eleven percent said that they could stand anything in the afternoons, but the other four per cent claimed that strong aesthetic sense prevented them from going under any conditions.

Couldn't Get Up

A significant twenty-five per cent of the students queried maintained that they didn't go to morning classes because they couldn't get up, but in the words of one interviewee, "... however, this covers a multitude of sins." Some students ascertained that their studies tired them out to the extent that they just couldn't see their way clear to wake up. Another group claimed that dates on weekday nights so exhausted them that they lacked the strength to draw back the covers, much less climb out of the bunk.

Ten percent of the interviewed said they skip because sometimes they aren't prepared for the morning lesson. Of this ten percent, eight percent were English majors, one percent were business majors, and nine tenths of one percent consisted of science majors. One tenth of one percent admitted that sheer laziness was the prime cause of their dereliction.

Not At All

Fifty per cent interviewed said that they cut because they don't feel like going to class, any class, under any circumstances.

Most of the boys were very sincere in their answering, and when we put the question of afternoon class cutting before them their excuses came only after deep thought and scratching of the head. Their excuses appear weak, but we use them merely to make the report complete.

Five per cent answered that, "Since I cut the morning classes, I can't very well slight the afternoon classes, so I might as well cut them too."

Twenty-five per cent claimed that, "In the summer, it is the heat of the day that prevents us from getting to classes. In the winter

YES, LUCKY PIERRE IS IN THE MIDDLE! Due to the policy of this paper, scandal cannot be printed. Consequently our Chowlinian friend is safe from revelation of certain facts. Mr. Chowline, however, is not restricted by any such policy. As a paid advertisement, anything he prints is his own business. The quality of his thinking is evident in his column. He stoops to the unethical practice of snooping: "The results of tapping the East Hall phone . . ." his purported exposé ad nauseum. Vilification is not below him; he calls YOU NAME IT a "Garbage Pail." The pot calling the kettle black! Anyone who has ever been around a restaurant knows what the garbage pail is found nowhere else but in BACK OF THE CHOWLINE.

ALL KIDDING ASIDE! It is unfortunate that this is the last WEEKLY of the year, but if you like it, we're sure that Mr. Chowline, bless his flat, pink, little bottom, will agree to continue this "literary" war early next year.

HOT ZEGUMA! It's a dog eat dog world, and that sucker of a mutt doesn't stop eating at the bounds of our campus. Relaxation time's comin' though, and it's time out for a little maudlin retrospection. It's been fun putting out this roundelay, and most of the guys took things in the spirit with which said things were written. Others didn't, and apologies were properly given when we felt toes were being stepped on. Some admit they like it. Others spit in our eye and tell us they could do . . . "twice as better vince." We got a communique from one recently who said we were SINISTER. We couldn't help drooling. It's a wonderful feeling to be SINISTER. It makes us feel real cozy and we are tempted to look at ourselves out of the corner of our eye sneakily and wish we had a moustache to twirl. Yeah, we're so cold blooded we make the aesthetes want to vomit green.

"SERIOUSLY" AGAIN: We had legitimate problems here, this year: If we printed corny jokes, we had people running out to see a man about a dog. If we didn't, they said we were too serious. If we clipped things from other papers, they said we were lazy. If we wrote our own stuff, we were too fond of ourself. If we didn't print the contributions as they came in, we didn't appreciate true genius. If we did, oftentimes the paper was filled with junk. Now "Sinister" will tell us we stole this from someone else . . . We did.

The visiting father looking into the foyer of ----Hall: "Does Johnny Sexdrive live here?" The voice from the inside, unconcernedly: "Yeah, just lay him there on the couch."

The Lounge Lizard and I wish to extend our heartfelt thanx to our informers. "Saloon, and we'll see you liquor, and remember—What's good enough for the goose is good enough for-----, but you finish that one, pal, and spare us the trouble of putting the last word to this blurb.

Many Job Leads Furnished for All Students By Active Muhlenberg Placement Bureau

by Lowell Druckenmiller

The day of graduation is as inevitable as Dean Mercer's smile, and that day of glory dampens the spirits of many a man who suddenly realizes he's "out." Faced with the problem that Adam bequeathed to us, the bewildered job-seeker fares well if he puts his Muhlenberg Placement System to work. This Placement System, under the direction of Mr. John Wagner, is incorporated by the College for student use, and owing to the complexities of modern employers it's a wise student who places his fate in the capable hands of Mr. Wagner.

Various Ways Ready

The Placement System acts as the agency between the student and the employer. Under the System's mechanics students can be recommended to employers, can be given tests of aptitude, and can be channeled into the various jobs suited for them. Employers contact Mr. Wagner and inform him about positions they have open. Mr. Wagner then usually posts a notice of same and the students are free to apply for the position. If the job is taken or if it doesn't suit the student, perhaps a lead arising from that contact will help the student procure another job.

Teaching Percentage

In securing teaching positions, Mr. Wagner has almost 100% success. The prospective teacher compiles a report on himself listing his former jobs, hobbies, serv-

... Student Council Reports ...

At the regular meeting of the Student Council held Wednesday, May 10, 1950, the following business was transacted. President of the Senior Class, Irvin Fry, stated that Mr. McAuley will have the commencement program aired into the Science Auditorium for the benefit of those who can not attend the ceremony.

John Mangini reported that the Mule costume can be brought from a Philadelphia costumer. This will be used in the fall football season to replace Judy, the live mule.

According to Richard Teal, President of the Sophomore Class, the old victory bell will probably be erected behind the Library, sometime before the commencement exercises.

Lou Colombo, social chairman, has contracted Sam Donahue and his orchestra, and vocalist Rosemary Cluny for the Graduation Ball.

William Lybrand read the minutes of the Academic Dishonesty Committee's meeting held Tuesday, May 9, 1950.

The constitution of the commuters' club, Alpha Lambda Omega, has been accepted.

William Lybrand and William Laird will meet with Deans Sherwood Mercer and H. A. Benfer concerning the Freshman Orientation Program for next year's class. The two Student Councilmen will inquire about the possibility of instituting a minor field of study.

The constitution of the Cardinal Key Society is being withheld for acceptance for further clarification on eligibility.

politics yet published (The Vital Center. Read it!). Dr. Niebuhr is recognized as the first of American theologians, bar none. He has written one of the great philosophies of history of our day, Faith and History. These two men, because of their outstanding services in the fields of religion, politics, and education (remember our slogan—"For God, country, and Muhlenberg"?), are probably the most distinguished pair of Commencement speakers Muhlenberg seniors have ever been privileged to hear. The loose charges which have been made on this campus against the organization in which these men are so influential will be hard-pressed to stand in the light of what we know these men to be.

It is unfortunate that we are unwilling that Muhlenberg students have the opportunity to follow the leadership and broad interests of men of this caliber.

ice time, semester hours, references, etc. This report is given to Mr. Wagner, who contacts the references, receives recommendations from them and then affixes these recommendations to the teacher's report. This entire compilation is then sent to certain school districts which are looking for beginning teachers.

For any student interested in a part-time position, Mr. Wagner will make contacts for that student in the field he desires. This part time job service has been 50% successful. Alumni are also helped, regardless of how long ago they may have graduated. All these services are given to Muhlenberg students and alumni absolutely free, a fact hard to duplicate on other college campuses.

Must Help Self

Although Mr. Wagner never guarantees he will get a job for a student his services are usually compensated for in some way. Mr. Wagner stressed the fact that he cannot help students who never come in and apply for a job. It's up to the student to show the initiative in wanting a job, but once this initiative is shown, Mr. Wagner does his best to see that the ambitious student is aided.

Student Loan Fund Provides the Man With Alleviation from Financial Embarrassment

"What's the matter, Bill?"

"My Government check didn't come in yet. I guess it's been delayed for a while. What worries me is that I'm broke and I don't even have enough money to eat."

"Bill, you're not as bad off as you think. Why don't you check the Student Loan Fund? Maybe they can help you."

"Student Loan Fund—what's that?"

Swain and Johnson

The Student Loan Fund was organized in 1931 by Dr. Henry R. Mueller, who was then professor of history, and Dr. James E. Swain, at that time an associate of Dr. Mueller in the History Department. Attorney George B. Balmer of Reading, a member of the Board of Trustees of the College, and the Rev. Harvey Snyder of Nazareth, formed the original committee. The present committee consists of Attorney Balmer, Dr. Swain and Dr. Johnson.

The original funds of this organization were second from the Faculty and from College contributions—$150.00 from the Faculty and about $100.00 from other sources comprised the original fund. Contributions from the Alumni Loyalty Fund were added to this fund for one year. In 1933 the Student Loan Fund took over operation of the Muhlenberg College Cooperative Store under the direction of Dr. Mueller and Dr. Swain. When Dr. Mueller died in 1937, Mr. Roland T. Hartman worked with Dr. Swain in operating the store until 1941. From 1941 to 1949, when the College assumed responsibility of operating the store, it was operated under the direction of Dr. Swain. All profits gained from the store were put into the Loan Fund which now has assets of $30,000.00.

Many Loans Made

Two types of loans are available for the eligible student. The first type loan is made by a local bank, with a trust fund deposited by the Student Loan Fund acting as security. No interest is charged while the student is in College, but 6% is collected if payment is not made until after graduation. The second type is a short term loan, generally small in size, which is negotiated by the Committee, and not through the bank.

Reporter Discovers Why Students Cut Class

it is the cold of the day that is the inhibiting factor."

Has Other Duties

Fifteen per cent explained that they might cut afternoon classes to prepare for a big date that evening. One student commented further on this; "Naa. Never go to afternoon classes before a big date. Why, I got to wash my only pair of socks, wax the mustache, not to mention the sweating up my tux would receive if I had to climb up the stairs to my third floor class."

Twenty per cent claimed that they couldn't get to afternoon classes because they had to type out their notes from the morning lectures, and they couldn't afford to cut down on their leisure time.

Twenty per cent claimed that in the spring time and early fall, classes in the afternoon take a back seat to the baseball game (college games in spring and World Series in fall).

Giggled Evilily

The other five per cent were uncooperative; they felt that this report might be in the nature of a betrayal. This group snickered cynically when we assured them that we didn't even ask for names. The answer from these people, went like this, "Shove off; I won't be bought." (In a rival survey concluded by Dr. Gallup on the same question, the conclusion was reached that Dewey would receive fifty-five percent of the popular vote in 1952.)

Compilation of the results shows that of one hundred students interviewed, one hundred per cent cut.

Due to the fact that work is to be done in all dormitories during the summer months, we must request that all personal belongings be removed from dormitory rooms at the close of school, particularly in East and West Hall where extensive repairs and improvements are planned.

Hot Corner Specialist Carmen Licursi Steps Into Spotlight

One of the bright spots in this year's rather unsuccessful baseball season has been the heads-up playing of the Cardinal and Grey's third sacker, Carm Licursi. Carm's dependable fielding at the hot corner has outwardly strengthened the

Cardinal Nine Beaten By 9-7 At Gettysburg

Traveling to Gettysburg for their second game in as many days, the Mule nine came away second best for the ninth time this season. Errors again proved to be the team's downfall as the Bullets garnered a 9-7 decision.

Berg outhit their rivals 13 to 10, but at three different times during the game potential runs were nullified as runners were tagged out trying to stretch their hits.

Taylor Victim

Southpaw Doug Taylor went the route for Muhlenberg, and with better support would have come out victorious. Instead, he was tagged for his third loss. He held the Bullets scoreless until the fourth when three unearned runs put Gettysburg out in front to stay.

Fred Mazzucca led the Mule hitting attack with three hits, including a double. Tanguay, Swartley, Hoffman, and Buehrle each collected two bingles.

England Takes First In Conference Meet; LaSalle Team Victor

A well-balanced LaSalle College Track team won its first Middle Atlantic Collegiate Track and Field Championship by capturing five first places. The "Explorers" won the high jump, broad jump, quarter-mile, 220-yard low hurdles, and pole vault. They also won the Freshman Medley Relay, but this event did not add to the team score.

Muhlenberg was well represented as George England dethroned Albert Harnley of Albright, and won the javelin with a distance of 192 feet 8 inches. Bill Pulley and Russ Strait, who were last year's high hurdles and shot put champions, respectively, were both dethroned from their titles. Strait managed to place fourth, while Pulley went unplaced. Floyd Shupp placed fifth in the 880 yard run, while "Rip" Boyer tied for second in the high jump.

One Record Falls

One new record was established in the two mile, while the record for the high hurdles was equalled. John Kelley of St. Joseph's set a new Middle Atlantic record for the two mile in the fast time of 9:37.5. The old record was 9:40.2, set by Irving Totton of Union College in 1928. Charles Brown of Lafayette equalled the Middle Atlantic record by winning his event in the fast time of 0:15.

Golf News . .

Muhlenberg College's newest athletic venture, the golf team, was forced to postpone its return match with Rider College, because of a rainstorm. The linksmen had to retire before the contest was completed.

Efforts are being made to reschedule the match for sometime next week.

1949-50 Sports Year Proves Only Fair Under New Coaches

General Decline Of Muhlenberg Sports Activities Is Normal For Transition To Different Coaching Systems

The overall record garnered by 'Berg athletes in eight competitive sports in the school year of 1949-50 was 29 victories, 45 defeats, and three ties, not including six athletic events to take place before graduation.

This is by no means an impressive record, in fact, it is very disappointing, and compared to the three previous years, quite dismal; but the athletic teams that Muhlenberg put into competition in 1949-50 gave their followers many thrills and interesting moments.

On the gridiron, 'Berg suffered its worst record since the war, one win, seven losses, and one tie. A new staff of coaches headed by Howie Baughman had taken over the fortunes of the Cardinal and Grey eleven and big things were expected of the team by the students. But the combination of too few reserves, injuries, learning a new system, plus other factors deterred the footballers from the win column and by season's end, the football fortunes of Muhlenberg were at a low ebb.

But the students took heart and were ready to forget their woes in the promise of a glorious basketball campaign. A veteran cage squad was back, Benny Borgmann, a former pro-hardwood star had taken over the coaching reins, and the Mules looked better than ever.

And it looked like this was the year, as the Mules got away to an 8-2 start, including a terrific showing in the Garden. But then disaster struck in the form of Villanova and C.C.N.Y. and the Mules went down to two crushing defeats. The season record? Seventeen triumphs against six reverses, definitely nothing to be ashamed of, considering the schedule, and the height and injury handicaps that plagued the squad.

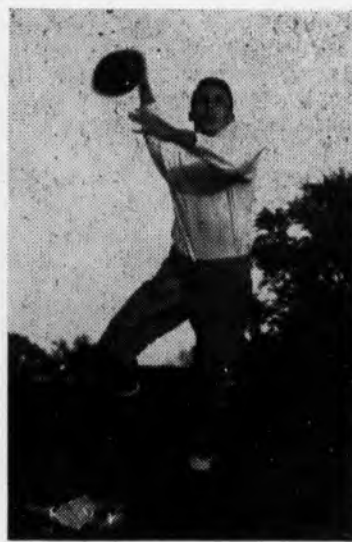

But basketball and football aren't the only sports at Muhlenberg.

The Mule soccerers compiled a log of 3-4-1, which was good enough to tie for their division crown in Middle Atlantic competition. On the mats, the grapplers found themselves facing the lights

Mules Outslug LaSalle Diamond Crew, 15-8 To Annex Second Victory of 1950 Season

Steadily moving towards what may be termed a defeatist complex, Lou Cardinal's Muhlenberg

Mules hit the victory column for the second time this season as they outslugged LaSalle College of Philadelphia last week at Philadelphia. The victory broke a four game skein of defeats for the Mules.

The Cardinal and Grey exploded for two six-run innings to tally the brunt of their runs. After scoring a single counter in the first, the Mules crossed the plate half a dozen times in the second stanza, benefitting by six hits and several opponents' errors.

The seven run lead failed to prove sufficient for the wobbling Dalton Schaadt, and at the end of three, the Mule lead was reduced to 7-6. The winners added two more in the fourth, and another six in the sixth inning to ice the contest. The high spot in the sixth was a home run by relief pitcher Hal Roveda. The latter had taken over for Schaadt in fourth, and pitched steadily thereafter to gain his first win of the season.

Sports— On the Informal Side

By Bob Godnick

Today's issue of the Muhlenberg WEEKLY rings down another year for the College publication. It is the hope of all those connected with the Sports Staff of the WEEKLY that the coverage of all things pertinent to the sports scene here at the College have been satisfactory to its readers. The writer believes that many of the students at Muhlenberg do not fully appreciate the long and tedious hours of work which the various staffs put in to give the student body a good newspaper. All of the work which the staff members accomplish means just that much less time devoted to other phases of college life which are naturally appearing.

Individuals are very quick to criticize the work of others. They pick out bad excerpts and overemphasize them, while minimizing the better points. Many of the readers do not realize that staff editors must devote more than twenty hours per week to the organization. Tuesday nights are spent at the printers, often after midnight, so that the student body is able to have a College publication.

The writer is not making explanations so that the student body will feel sorry for those who contribute to the publication. This could not be further from the truth. All of us on the staff do feel, however, that in preference to storing up criticism, you will attempt to help us realize and correct whatever shortcomings may exist. Next year will provide numerous opportunities for those students who desire to take on active part on the WEEKLY.

The work of all the writers on this staff is deeply appreciated by the editor. The help of past editor Chuck Morgan and associates Don Klenk and Ed Berdick has been Grade A. Too few readers know of the valuable work done by the staff writers who get little or no mention for their unselfish efforts, and it is the opinion of this observer that they surely deserve mention in this column. To John Rollo, Al Leitner, Hank Folkman, Jim McCauley, Larry McClafferty, Bill Lewis, Paul Sittler, and Ed Martin, thanks for all your great support.

Next September we will start all over again. The WEEKLY will once again sponsor its most valuable player awards to the standout performers on the gridiron and basketball court. From the journalistic standpoint, we will add the vast sports knowledge and experience of over Public Relations head, Dr. Bill Brandt, to the pages of the WEEKLY. His spectacular stories of highlights in sports doubtless will lend itself to good reading for all the students.

In conclusion, the cooperation of Mr. Lawson, Dr. Brandt and the entire coaching staff has made our job here much more pleasant. We'll see you all again next September.

Versatile Rog Tolosky Shows Talents On Gridiron, Diamond

by Ed Berdick

The shadows of darkness began to fall on the diamond as the Cardinal and Grey nine came in to bat for the last time in the ninth inning. For eight and a half innings, the Mules had battled Swarthmore until only one run separated the two teams. The crowd which remained to see if 'Berg could pull the game out of the fire grew tense as Coach Lou Cardinal inserted two pinch hitters. One of the pinch hitters, Don Laawe, got on base and the Cardinal and Gray catcher, Rog Tolosky, strode to the plate. The crowd began to call for the big boy to clout one. The Swarthmore pitcher let one go right down the alley. Tolosky swung and connected solidly. With tremendous speed, the spheroid shot past the Swarthmore fielders. Closely on the heels of Laawe, Tolosky crossed the plate with the winning run and the first victory for the Mules this year.

All Around Performer

Lyon Mountain, New York, is the Tolosky homestead, but for the present Rog is situated in the Vet's housing with his pretty wife and young offspring. This twenty-seven-year-old athlete was an all around competitor in his high school days, doing his share on the football, basketball and baseball fields.

During the war years, Rog was attached to the 82nd Airborne Division, and while on duty with Uncle Sam, he was able to get in one summer of ball with his unit in the European Theater. While participating with his unit team, Rog held down the third base position, which was a far cry from his days as a catcher in high school.

Gridiron Star Here

Muhlenberg was Tolosky's next stop, as he played varsity ball with the Mule nine in his Freshman year. The following fall, he donned football togs, and for the succeeding three years aided the Cardinal and Gray forward wall, playing at left end.

His baseball prowess is perhaps the best known of his athletic feats. This marks his fourth year on the varsity nine, and for each of those years he has been a key asset to the team's success. Last year, while alternating between the plate, third and right field, Rog was able to clout the ball over the three hundred mark and end up as the number two hitter for the Mules. To supplement that average are his four round trippers, (Continued on Page Six) play in Sunday leagues, alternating between short and third.

Muhlenberg provided Carm's next outlet to athletic achievement as he was absorbed in Freshmen football in his first term on campus. Repeated injuries, however, ended his short gridiron career and Carm turned to the diamond sport and a tour with the Cardinal and Grey nine.

Second Year on Diamond

This is the second year of varsity ball for the Mule's peppery third sacker, as last year he held down the number one shortstop position on Muhlenberg's championship nine.

With two good years of collegiate ball under his belt, Carm Licursi will be one of those heavily counted on to bring the Mules through to a good 1950 season, and perhaps a championship in 1951.

Forensic Council Picks New Officers

At the Spring Banquet of the Forensic Council, the following officers were elected to serve during the school year 1950-51: Ed Teter, president; Richard Koch, vice president; Gene Angstadt, secretary; and Guenther Jansen, treasurer. Retiring president Ted Haas commended the men on the work they have done during the past year, and plans for the next year were discussed.

The banquet was held at the Shrine Club on Friday evening, April 28. The guest speaker was Professor Ephraim Everett of the faculty of Lehigh University, former debate coach at Muhlenberg and founder of the Forensic Council here. Professor Everett delivered an interesting talk on the principles of debating and told of his various experiences in the field of public speaking.

Mule Courtmen Lose To G'burg

On May 13, Muhlenberg's net team moved to Gettysburg only to suffer defeat at the hands of the Gettysburg Courtsters by a 5-4 tally. According to Dr. Shankweiler the match should have been taken by the Mules, but for the unexpected loss of three singles.

The Mules held Gettysburg in the Doubles taking two of the three matches, but were significantly routed in the singles by dropping four out of the six.

Winners for the Mules in the singles were Ed Vozella and Bob Kantra, while in the doubles the Kantra-Parker, and Tooker-Dimmig combines were victorious.

I-M Lists Sig Eps Undeclared

As of Tuesday, May 16

Except for a few games called off due to rain, the intramural season is running along right on schedule.

In League I, Sigma Phi Epsilon still shows the way with a 3-0 record. Sig-Ep looks like they have the best chance to cop the title, but Phi Sigma Kappa cannot be counted out. The Phi Sigs have a 2-1 record. It will be a real battle when these two teams meet.

Clowns Unbeaten

Over in League II, the Clowns (2-0) seem to be the class of the League, but there is a four way tie for second place between the Pre-Theos, Phi Kappa Tau, Alpha Tau Omega, and the Bombers. All of these teams have a good chance for first place.

In League III, Phi Epsilon Pi, league leaders all the way so far, continue to hold the first place spot, although this time they have three "roommates," Nu Epsilon Jokers, The Black Cats, and the West Hall Boys. All these teams have identical 2-1 records.

Racqueteers Bow To Lafayette Netmen 9-0

Muhlenberg's hapless tennis team dropped a nine-love decision to a classy Lafayette College net team on the Oakmont courts last Wednesday. The Mules were unable to garner a single match win against the strong Easton collegians, who have compiled an outstanding record this spring. The 'Bergmen came closest to gaining a set win when Bob Tooker extended Lafayette's Robert Pitofsky to a 7-5 score, only to tire and lose the second set 6-1.

SINGLES:
John Pidecock, Lafayette, downed Bill Dougherty, Muhlenberg, 6-2, 6-2.
Robert McManigal, Lafayette, clipped Ed Vozella, Muhlenberg, 6-0, 6-3.
Mark Stern, Lafayette, defeated Bob Parker, Muhlenberg, 6-4, 6-3.
Donald Ziegler, Lafayette overcame Bob Kantra, Muhlenberg, 6-2, 6-2.
Bob Pitofsky, Lafayette, nosed out Robert Tooker, Muhlenberg, 7-5, 6-1.
Edward Crane, Lafayette subdued Dave Dimmig, Muhlenberg, 6-1, 6-2.

DOUBLES:
McManigal and Pidecock, Lafayette vanquished Dougherty and Vozella, Muhlenberg, 6-0, 6-0.

six times while taking only two matches, Bucknell and Lafayette. But George Schmauch took the 165-crown at the Middle Atlantics held at Delaware to bring honor to 'Berg in wrestling.

On the cinder paths, the track and field men have taken two, lost three, in dual and triple competition, with one dual meet remaining on the schedule. In the Middle Atlantics, George Englund, took first in the javelin, but otherwise, the Mule trackmen did not fare so well. And still speaking of runners, the Cardinal and Grey harriers compiled a Fall record of but one win in four meets, and placed ninth out of a field of twelve in the Middle Atlantics cross-country championship.

In two spring sports this year, the Mules were again behind the eight ball. Last year's Middle Atlantic baseball champions have been able to win but two out of eleven games on the schedule, with three contests still to be played. As for the tennis team, the netmen have won but one match while losing seven with two matches remaining on the agenda.

On the whole, the sport picture at Muhlenberg was not too bright during 1949-50, but the thing to do is write it off in the past and look to the future. Just wait till next year-----!

Phi Alpha Theta Initiates New Men

On Friday evening, May 12, Kappa chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history fraternity, heard Professor George D. Harmon, head of the Department of History and Government at Lehigh University at its annual Spring banquet, held at Howard Johnson's Restaurant.

On Thursday evening, May 11, Kappa chapter initiated four new men into the brotherhood. They were Walter Schray, Donald Klenk, Richard Shadinger, and John Stadlander.

tying him with Hal Swartley for the leadership in that department.

The homer against Swarthmore has been Rog's only four-baser this year, but in the other games he has been a hitting asset in Lou Cardinal's attack. Tolosky ran into a little bad luck last week against LaSalle when he injured his foot. This injury shelved him for the two games against Moravian and Gettysburg, but from all reports he will be back in the lineup this Saturday against St. Joe's.

Graduates In June

With the end of the current season in June, Rog Tolosky will hang up his shoes for the last time as a Cardinal and Grey performer, but his fame on the diamond will be remembered by all those who have watched him play.

Phi Kappa Tau's Initiation And Prom

Eta Chapter of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity initiated nine men into its circle on Friday, May 5, 1950. The initiates, who began their pledgship in December, are all freshmen.

They are: Karleton Batt, David Black, Robert Druckenmiller, John Fessman, Ronald Habgood, Grant Luddes, Vincent Nardone, Otto Teuffel, and James Wagner, who was also the Pledge Class President.

On Friday, May 12, the fraternity held its Annual Spring Formal at the Brookside Country Club.

On Saturday, a dinner-hayride-banquet and dance was held.

John Lauer was chairman of the Social Committee of the week-end.

College Band

On Thursday morning, May 18, the Muhlenberg College Band presented its annual concert to a body of musically minded students. The band played several marches, waltzes, and some popular music. Under the leadership of Mr. Ray Houston, the band has just completed another successful season, both in the marching and concert bands.

At a band meeting held on Thursday, May 11, the election of officers took place for the 1950-51 season. The following men were elected: President — Donald B. Kuntz; Vice-President — Edwin Frantz; Secretary — Clarence C. Moore; Treasurer — Charles Holenbach; Corresponding Secretary — George Dunn. Early in the Fall Semester, Mr. Houston will appoint a band manager.

Mr. Houston has also requested that any band member who has not returned his uniform should do so immediately. If you know of anybody who has a uniform and has not as yet returned it, please urge them to do so.

Freshmen second with 141, and the Juniors last with 90.

Mangini, who hails from Fort Lee, N. J., Kaelberer and Teal, who are both Philadelphians, belong to Phi Kappa Tau. Kaelberer has been director of WSSF on campus and a member of the soccer team.

Markley and Albert are both Alpha Tau Omega men and members of the Mask and Dagger Club. Albert has served as class treasurer ever since his freshman year. He calls Allentown home while Markley travels from Emmaus. Hohe is another Emmausian who is active in the newly-formed Alpha Lambda Omega, Commuters' Club.

Cowen, who graduated from Jamaica, N. Y. High School, and Wagner are both residents of Long Island.

DeMolay's Fete Retiring Officers

In conjunction with its first annual banquet held at the Keystone Trail Inn on Saturday evening, May 13, the Muhlenberg DeMolay Club feted its retiring president, Donald Leaman.

The newly elected officers of the club were announced. Adolph Koenig, former vice-president will serve as president, while Donald Wenzel, former secretary, will assume Koenig's old duties. Edwin Frantz received the secretary position as Clarence Moore retained his post as chaplain.

The club is open to all DeMolays on campus.

The Chowline

Problem of the week: What well-known Muhlenberg "poet (?) submitted to what well-known operation last week-end? (Hint—the poet is also Editor of the Arcade, and the operation is generally performed shortly after birth.)

Scene at the Mask and Dagger Club meeting last Monday: Warren Burns was sitting next to Dramatic Coach Andrew Erskine, who was as usual puffing vigorously on a pipe. After half an hour of being almost completely enveloped in smoke, Warren began to protest quite vigorously. Another M. & D. member mentioned that he thought that Andy was puffing a little harder than usual tonight. Therefore Andy turned around, pointed at Warren and said, "Yes. I want this ham to be well smoked before he leaves 'Berg."

Before we go any further, we want to remind our faithful readers that this column is sponsored by "The Commons," a building mostly made of wood where you can buy heaps of good food.

Through a highly authoritative source, we were able to find out that "junior humorist" Mourad is seriously considering changing the name of his column. "You Name It" is too risky. After our suggestions of last week, he is afraid someone will. Be on the look-out for it, and remember, you first saw it here!
